Subchapter B—Claims and Accounts

PART 536—CLAIMS AGAINST THE UNITED STATES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. In § 536.3, paragraph (c) is amended to read as follows:

§ 536.3 Determination of compensation for personal injury or death. • • •

(c) Proof of damage. The allowable compensation may be established as to:

(1) Medical, hospital, or burial expenses, by itemized bills.

(2) Loss of time, earnings, diminution of earning capacity and anticipated medical expenses, by a written statement of claimant's employer stating claimant's age, occupation, wage or salary, time lost from work as a result of the incident, whether the person injured was a full time employee, and his actual period of employment by dates. If the claimant is self-employed, written statements or other evidence showing the amount of earnings actually lost may be considered. A written statement by the attending physician should set forth the nature and extent of the injury and the treatment, the duration and extent of the disability involved, the prognosis, and the period of hospitalization or incapacity. When the personal injury appears to be more than slight, the claimant may, with his consent, be examined by a medical officer or other disinterested physician or surgeon to provide independent medical evidence against which to evaluate the statement of the claimant's physician.

Chapter XI—National Guard and State Guard, Department of the Army

PART 1101—NATIONAL GUARD REGULATIONS

FEDERAL RECOGNITION

Section 1101.3 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1101.3 Federal recognition—(a) Purpose. The regulations in this section prescribe policies and procedures relative to, and qualifications and requirements for Federal recognition of those officers appointed or promoted in the National Guard under the provisions of §§ 1101.2 and 1101.4.

(b) Authority. The National Defense Act, as amended, the Armed Forces Reserve Act of 1952 (Pub. Law 476, 82d Cong.), and the Reserve Officer Personnel Act of 1954 (Pub. Law 773, 83d Cong.).

(c) Federal recognition—(1) Definition. Federal recognition means acknowledgement by the Federal Government that a person appointed to an authorized grade and position vacancy in the National Guard meets the prescribed Federal standards for such grade and position.

(2) Policy—(i) Appointment. The appointment of officers in the National Guard is a function of the State.

(ii) Effective date. The effective date of Federal recognition is that date on which the individual meets the requirements for Federal recognition. The instrument for Federal recognition is NGB Form 3a issued by the Chief, National Guard Bureau.

(iii) Duration of recognition. Recognition will continue in effect as long as the officer continues to meet requirements of his grade and position, or until recognition is withdrawn in accordance with the provisions of this section, or as otherwise provided by law.

(3) Limitations. Federal recognition will not be extended to those former officers in the grades of first lieutenant, captain, or major who were separated from the service by reason of having been passed over twice for promotion.

(d) Temporary Federal recognition. Temporary Federal recognition may be extended to an officer pending final determination of his eligibility for, and his appointment as, a Reserve commissioned officer of the Army. Temporary Federal recognition may be withdrawn at any time and if not sooner withdrawn or replaced by permanent recognition, it shall automatically terminate 6 months after its effective date. (Section 704, Armed Forces Reserve Act, 1952.) The provisions of this paragraph are not applicable to the following:

(1) Applicants for Federal recognition as general officers.

(2) Applicants federally recognized as commissioned officers in the National Guard.

(3) Officers of the Army Reserve seeking Federal recognition in the same or lower grade and in the same branch.

(4) Officers of the Army Reserve above the grade of second lieutenant seeking Federal recognition in a higher grade to which he has been previously recommended and in the same branch.

(e) Automatic Federal recognition—To whom granted. Individuals shown below, if otherwise qualified, may be extended Federal recognition automatically and are exempt from examination by a Federal Recognition Board:

(1) A member of the National Guard of one State appointed to an authorized position vacancy in the National Guard of another State in the same grade or lower grade and in the same branch in which he holds an appointment as a Reserve officer of the Army.

(2) Officers of the Army Reserve applying for Federal recognition in the same or lower grade and in the same branch in the National Guard.

(3) Second lieutenants who are promoted to fill authorized position vacancies, on the date they complete three years of promotion services; and

(4) Officers of the Army Reserve in grades above second lieutenant who are appointed in the next higher grade to fill an authorized position vacancy, provided that they have been recommended for promotion to the higher grade, and have remained in an active status since being recommended, and further provided that they are appointed in the same branch as that held in the Army Reserve. (Sec. 320, Reserve Officer Personnel Act, Pub. Law 773, 83d Cong.).

(f) Certificates of eligibility—(1) Purpose. In order that individuals of the National Guard for whom there is no position vacancy may be examined to determine their fitness for future appointments or promotions, the State adjutant general may entertain applications for certificates of eligibility. Such applicants will be required to execute NGB Form 62, Standard Forms 88 and 89, and all allied papers prescribed for Federal recognition, except the oath of office and appointment orders, and will be ordered to appear before a Federal recognition board. If found qualified in all respects except position vacancy for a particular grade and branch, the report of board proceedings and allied papers will be forwarded with appropriate indorsement on NGB Form 62 by the State adjutant general to the Chief, National Guard Bureau. If approved, NGB Form 89a (Certificate of Eligibility) will be issued to the person concerned.

(2) Effective for 2 years. A Certificate of eligibility is effective for 2 years provided the holder thereof remains otherwise qualified. If, during this period, the State adjutant general should appoint the holder of the certificate to a position vacancy of the same grade and branch in which qualified, a letter requesting Federal recognition, accompanied by an appointment and assignment order and oath of office (NGB Form 337) will be forwarded by the State adjutant general to the Chief, National Guard Bureau. If the original physical examination recorded on Standard Forms 88 and 89 is more than 6 months old, a new physical examination will be required. The Chief, National Guard Bureau will issue NGB Form 3a effective when each of the requirements have been fulfilled.

(3) Renewal. Upon expiration, a certificate of eligibility may be renewed through the same procedure as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(g) Appointment as Reserve commissioned officer of the Army. Upon being federally recognized, an officer who does not hold an appointment as a Reserve commissioned officer of the Army shall be appointed a Reserve officer of the Army in the same grade in which he holds a federally recognized appointment in the National Guard and concurrently shall become a member of the National Guard of the United States. Term of a Reserve appointment is for an indefinite period, and is not contingent upon continued Federal recognition. (Reference: Sections 224 and 703 (b) Armed Forces Reserve Act, 1952.)

(h) Requirements—(1) General. The following requirements are a prerequisite for Federal recognition:

(i) Residence. The residence of the candidate must be accessible to the unit to which he is assigned.

(ii) Assignment. The candidate must be assigned to an existing vacancy in a federally recognized unit or headquarters or an element thereof. (See § 1101.2.)

(iii) Age—(a) General. No candidate will be examined for Federal recognition who is less than 21 years of age, except that, when State laws so permit, the minimum age of 18 will apply to the following:

(1) Graduates of accredited officer candidate schools who also have completed an accredited 6 months active duty for training program with the Armed Forces.

(2) Commissioned officers of the Army Reserve who apply for Federal recognition in the National Guard.

(b) Maximum ages—(1) Appointment. Applicants for Federal recognition must not have attained the birthday shown below prior to appointment in grade indicated, except that age limits may be increased by an amount not to exceed length of previous service in the grade in which appointment is desired. Previous service includes service in an active status in any component of the Armed Forces in the same grade. An applicant's age must be such that he can serve at least 1 year before recognition will be terminated under age limitations as set forth in § 1101.5. Any applicant to be assigned to the State headquarters and headquarters detachment of a State, Territory, Puerto Rico, or the District of Columbia, may not be more than 59 years old. Provisions of this paragraph are not applicable to applicants for promotion, transfer in branch, and Army Reserve officers seeking Federal recognition in the same (or lower) grade or in higher recommended grade and same branch.

Grade:	Age
2d lieutenant	28
1st lieutenant	33
Captain	39
Major	48
Lieutenant colonel	51

(2) Termination. See § 1101.5.

(c) Minimum ages. The following minimum ages will apply for original appointment or promotion of officers to the grade indicated (except as provided in subparagraph (1) (iii) (a) of this paragraph).

Grade:	Age
2d lieutenant	21
1st lieutenant	22
Captain	24
Major	26
Lieutenant colonel	30
Colonel	34

(iv) Citizenship. The candidate must be a citizen of the United States.

(v) Educational requirements for certain applicants. Applicants not previously commissioned in the Armed Forces of the United States must have completed a minimum of high school or an accredited preparatory school of equal educational level, or in lieu thereof, have passed the General Educational Development Test (high school level or above) given under the authority of the United States Armed Forces Institute. Each applicant must attain a standard score of 110 or higher on the Armed Forces Qualification Test 1 and 2 or equivalent test.

(vi) Examination. Each individual, except those listed in paragraph (e) of this section, who submits an application for Federal recognition in the National Guard must undergo an examination as to his physical, moral, and professional qualifications as determined by a Federal Recognition Board.

(vii) Oath of office. Applicants not previously commissioned in the National Guard must complete an oath of office by executing either the NGB Form 337 or NGB Form 337A, as appropriate. Thereafter, no further oaths are required by the National Guard Bureau for personal actions.

(viii) Security check. A favorable security check will be required prior to the granting of Federal recognition.

(2) Persons eligible. Individuals will be selected from the following sources:

(i) General. (a) Army and Air Force Reserve Officers and other qualified officers and former officers, with previous honorable and creditable service in any component of the Armed Forces, who have demonstrated their qualifications by service in the grade contemplated, or by the satisfactory discharge of equal and corresponding responsibilities for a period of not less than six (6) months while on active duty.

(b) Those who hold a Certificate of Eligibility (NGB Form 89a), as provided in paragraph (f) of this section, may be appointed to the grade for which qualified as stated in the certificate, provided prescribed physical and age in grade requirements are met at the time of the appointment.

(c) A civilian official or employee of the United States or the District of Columbia, who is appointed an officer of the National Guard, will not be federally recognized without the consent of the head of the department or branch in which he is employed.

(ii) Initial appointment of second lieutenant. (a) Graduates of accredited senior ROTC units.

(c) Warrant officers and enlisted men of the upper three enlisted grades with previous honorable and creditable active Federal service of not less than six (6) months in those grades in any component of the Armed Forces, when in the opinion of the examining board their experience clearly satisfies the required standards.

(d) Warrant officers and enlisted men who have completed a minimum of one year's service with the Armed Forces, or in the National Guard since 14 August 1945, or a combination of the two, prior to the date of appointment, have successfully completed an appropriate 10-series of the Army Extension Course, or an equivalent course of instruction approved by the Department of the Army, and are otherwise qualified.

(e) Warrant officers, former warrant officers and enlisted men who have received a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and who have completed one year of honorable and creditable service in an active duty status with any of the Armed Forces of the United States, in active reserve status in a National Guard or Army Reserve unit that requires satisfactory participation in 48 drills per year, or any combination thereof.

(iii) Special. (a) Wartime service or previous military training is not required for appointment and Federal recognition in the National Guard of:

(1) Chaplains, medical officers, dental officers, and judge advocates general provided that no person in this category will be federally recognized in a grade higher than the grade of major. Grade determination will be based on the professional accreditation and professional experience as outlined in Army Special Regulations of the SR 140–105 series.

(2) State adjutants general, for their tenure of office, in the grade authorized by the respective State code, but not to exceed the grade of major general.

(b) Former officers who were discharged from the Reserve of the Army in the grade of second lieutenant by reason of failure to qualify for promotion if otherwise qualified will be eligible for Federal recognition in the grade of second lieutenant, and on the effective date of their Federal recognition will be credited with two years of promotion service. (See paragraph (i) (5) (xii) of this section.)

(i) Procedures Required to Initiate Federal Recognition; actions required by individual. The following actions will be taken by individual to initiate Federal recognition. Records and documents required herein will become a part of the record of proceedings by the board, except those indicated otherwise.

(1) Application for Federal recognition. Complete NGB Form 62 (Application for Federal Recognition) in the number of copies prescribed by the State adjutant general so as to insure that three (3) copies reach the National Guard Bureau.

(2) Physical examination. Undergo a standard final type physical examination or a physical examination for flying, as applicable, as prescribed by National Guard regulations. In the event the applicant for recognition has successfully undergone a standard final type physical examination or a physical examination for flying within a period of 90 days prior to appearance before the examining board, a certified true copy of such examination may be accepted in lieu of undergoing a new physical examination. Submit copy of Report of Medical Examination and Report of Medical History (Standard Forms 88 and 89) or three copies of Report of Medical Examination and Medical History for flying, as applicable.

(3) Loyalty certificate. Complete DD Form 98 (Loyalty Certificate for Personnel of the Armed Forces), in duplicate, the duplicate copy to be retained in unit 201 file.

(4) Security check. Complete DD Form 398 (Statement of Personal History) in quintuplicate, and FBI fingerprint card, one copy only. (A copy of DD Form 398, properly endorsed in "Record of Prior Clearances" section by the Army Area commander will become a part of the board proceedings. However, the FBI fingerprint card will not become a part of the board proceedings but is furnished by the applicant for his security check.)

(5) Other personal records and documents. Assemble such personal records and documents listed below under the circumstances prescribed therein:

(i) Copy of birth certificate. Each applicant not previously commissioned in the Armed Forces of the United States will provide a copy of his birth certificate or other documentary evidence which will satisfy the requirements of Army Regulations, to substantiate the date of birth and name shown on application.

(ii) Copy of discharge certificate or certificate of service. (a) A candidate with prior service in the Armed Forces of the United States will present copies of his discharge certificates or certificates of service to the board or copy of conditional release.

(b) In the case of an applicant who has not been previously commissioned in the National Guard, photostatic copies of these documents will become a part of the record of proceedings.

(iii) Evidence of satisfactory completion of extension courses. Each applicant for commission under the provisions of paragraph (h) (2) (ii) (d) of this section will provide a photostatic copy of evidence indicating satisfactory completion of the 10-series, Army Extension Courses.

(iv) Evidence of citizenship. Documentary evidence of citizenship, if a naturalized citizen, in all cases where applicant was not formerly commissioned in the Armed Forces of the United States. This evidence will be in the form of a certificate executed by an officer in the active Army or by a notary public, as follows:

I certify that I have this date seen the original certificate of citizenship, Number ------, (or certified copy of the court order establishing citizenship) stating that ---------- was admitted to United States citizenship by the court of ---------- at ---------- on ---------- or if citizenship is claimed through naturalization of parent,

I certify that I have this date seen the original certificate of citizenship number ---- issued by the Immigration and Naturalization Service, Department of Justice, stating that ---------- acquired citizenship on ----------.
(Date)

(v) Evidence of completion of courses of instruction. (a) If applicant has not been previously commissioned in the Armed Forces of the United States, he must have documentary evidence to establish minimum educational requirements as prescribed in paragraph (h) (1) (v) of this section.

(b) If applicant has attended a prescribed course of instruction of any Army service school or graduate from an accredited senior division ROTC unit, diploma or certificate of graduation will be submitted.

(c) If applicant has completed a course in an accredited officer candidate school, diploma, or certificate of completion will be submitted.

(vi) Chaplains. Each candidate for Federal recognition as a chaplain will submit:

(a) An ecclesiastical indorsement of his appropriate denominational indorsing agency and

(b) Formal transcripts of college and seminary credits.

(vii) Medical and dental licenses. License to practice or evidence that applicant is an intern in a hospital, approved by the Council of Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association or a medical officer in Government service, for medical officers; and license to practice or certificate of completion of dental course approved by the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association for dental officers.

(viii) Law licenses or bar admissions. Applicants for the Judge Advocate General's Corps will submit a certificate from the highest court of the States, Territory, Puerto Rico, or the District of Columbia, as appropriate, or of a United States District Court, that the applicant is a member in good standing of the bar and is entitled to engage in the practice of law.

(ix) Army aviators. A candidate for Federal recognition who previously has had flying status will make available to the board his individual flight records.

(x) Release from other Reserve components. If applicant is a member of any other reserve component in a commissioned or enlisted status, he must furnish the board with a written conditional release from such membership. The release will be obtained by the applicant in advance of appearance before the examining board when such appearance is required. This release will be made a part of the record of proceedings.

(xi) Waivers of requirements. Waivers will be obtained prior to the appearance of the candidate before the board. The State adjutant general is charged with furnishing the examining board with the evidence of such waiver prior to the appearance of the candidate.

(xii) Other certificates. Applicant for Federal recognition under the provisions of paragraph (h) (2) (iii) (b) of this section will execute a certificate to indicate that he understands he will not be eligible for promotion until he has completed one year of creditable promotion service subsequent to Federal recognition.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

Subchapter B—Carriers by Motor Vehicle

[Ex Parte No. MC-37]

PART 170—COMMERCIAL ZONES AND TERMINAL AREAS

CHARLESTON, W. VA., COMMERCIAL ZONE

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 1, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of July A. D. 1956.

It appearing that on November 26, 1946, the Commission, division 5, made and entered its report, 46 M. C. C. 665, and order in this proceeding establishing a mileage-population formula for the definition of the limits of the zone adjacent to and commercially a part of every municipality in the United States, with certain exceptions which did not include Charleston, W. Va.;

It further appearing that upon consideration of the record and a petition of certain motor carriers for reconsideration and reply by others, by order of division 5 dated April 15, 1954, the matter of modification of the limits of commercial zone Charleston, W. Va., was assigned for oral hearing;

It further appearing that investigation of the matters and things involved has been made, and division 1, on the date hereof, having made and filed a report herein containing its findings of fact and conclusions thereon, which report is hereby made a part hereof; and that proposed rulemaking procedure in accordance with section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act is deemed unnecessary.

It is ordered, That said proceeding insofar as it relates to the zone adjacent to and commercially a part of Charleston, W. Va., be, and it is hereby reopened for further consideration.

It is further ordered, That Part 170 be, and it is hereby, amended by adding thereto the following paragraph:

§ 170.32 Charleston, W. Va. That zone adjacent to and commercially a part of Charleston, W. Va., within which transportation by motor vehicle, in interstate or foreign commerce, not under a common control, management, or arrangement for a continuous carriage or shipment to or from a point beyond the zone, is partially exempt, under section 203 (b) (8) of the Interstate Commerce Act (49 U. S. C. 303 (b) (8)), from regulation, includes, and is comprised of, all points and places as follows:

(a) The municipality of Charleston, W. Va., itself.

(b) All points within a line drawn 4 miles beyond the corporate limits of Charleston, W. Va.

(e) All of any municipality any part of which is within the limits of the combined areas defined in (b), (c), and (d) above.

And it is further ordered, That this order shall become effective on September 6, 1956, and shall continue in effect until the further order of the Commission.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Internal Revenue Service

[26 CFR (1954) Part 1]

INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1953

CHARITABLE, ETC. CONTRIBUTIONS AND GIFTS

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form in the attached appendix are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing, in duplicate, to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Attention: T:P, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in sections 170 and 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 58, 917; 26 U. S. C. 170, 7805).

[SEAL] O. GORDON DELK,
Acting Commissioner, of Internal Revenue.

The following regulations relating to charitable, etc., contributions and gifts are hereby prescribed under section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and, except as otherwise provided in such regulations, are effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1953, and ending after August 16, 1954:

§ 1.170 Statutory provisions; charitable, etc., contributions and gifts.

SEC. 170. Charitable, etc., contributions and gifts—(a) Allowance of deduction—(1) General rule. There shall be allowed as a deduction any charitable contribution (as defined in subsection (c)) payment of which is made within the taxable year. A charitable contribution shall be allowable as a deduction only if verified under regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate.

(2) Corporations on accrual basis. In the case of a corporation reporting its taxable income on the accrual basis, if—

(A) The board of directors authorizes a charitable contribution during any taxable year, and

(B) Payment of such contribution is made after the close of such taxable year and on or before the 15th day of the third month following the close of such taxable year, then the taxpayer may elect to treat such contribution as paid during such taxable year. The election may be made only at the time of the filing of the return for such taxable year, and shall be signified in such manner as the Secretary or his delegate shall by regulations prescribe.

(b) Limitations—(1) Individuals. In the case of an individual the deduction provided in subsection (a) shall be limited as provided in subparagraphs (A), (B), (C), and (D).

(A) Special rule. Any charitable contribution to—

(i) A church or a convention or association of churches,

(ii) An educational organization referred to in section 503 (b) (2), or

(iii) A hospital referred to in section 503 (b) (5), shall be allowed to the extent that the aggregate of such contributions does not exceed 10 percent of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income computed without regard to any net operating loss carryback to the taxable year under section 172.

(B) General limitation. The total deductions under subsection (a) for any taxable year shall not exceed 20 percent of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income computed without regard to any net operating loss carryback to the taxable year under section 172. For purposes of this subparagraph, the deduction under subsection (a) shall be computed without regard to any deduction allowed under subparagraph (A) but shall take into account any charitable contributions to the organizations described in clauses (i), (ii), and (iii) which are in excess of the amount allowable as a deduction under subparagraph (A).

(C) Unlimited deduction for certain individuals. The limitation in subparagraph (B) shall not apply in the case of an individual if, in the taxable year and in 8 of the 10 preceding taxable years, the amount of the charitable contributions, plus the amount of income tax (determined without regard to chapter 2, relating to tax on self-employment income) paid during such year in respect of such year or preceding taxable years, exceeds 90 percent of the taxpayer's taxable income for such year, computed without regard to—

(i) This section,

(ii) Section 151 (allowance of deductions for personal exemptions), and

(iii) Any net operating loss carryback to the taxable year under section 172.

(D) Denial of deduction in case of certain transfers in trust. No deduction shall be allowed under this section for the value of any interest in property transferred after March 9, 1954, to a trust if—

(i) The grantor has a reversionary interest in the corpus or income of that portion of the trust with respect to which a deduction would (but for this subparagraph) be allowable under this section; and

(ii) At the time of the transfer the value of such reversionary interest exceeds 5 percent of the value of the property constituting such portion of the trust.

For purposes of this subparagraph, a power exercisable by the grantor or a nonadverse party (within the meaning of section 672 (b)), or both, to revest in the grantor property or income therefrom shall be treated as a reversionary interest.

(2) Corporations. In the case of a corporation, the total deductions under subsection (a) for any taxable year shall not exceed 5 percent of the taxpayer's taxable income computed without regard to—

(A) This section,

(B) Part VIII (except section 248),

(C) Any net operating loss carryback to the taxable year under section 172, and

(D) Section 922 (special deduction for Western Hemisphere trade corporations).

Any contribution made by a corporation in a taxable year to which this section applies in excess of the amount deductible in such year under the foregoing limitation shall be deductible in each of the two succeeding taxable years in order of time, but only to the extent of the lesser of the two following amounts: (i) the excess of the maximum amount deductible for such succeeding taxable year under the foregoing limitation over the contributions made in such year and (ii) in the case of the first succeeding taxable year the amount of such excess contribution, and in the case of the second succeeding taxable year the portion of such excess contribution not deductible in the first succeeding taxable year.

(c) Charitable contribution defined. For purposes of this section, the term "charitable contribution" means a contribution or gift to or for the use of—

(1) A State, a Territory, a possession of the United States, or any political subdivision of any of the foregoing, or the United States or the District of Columbia, but only if the contribution or gift is made for exclusively public purposes.

(2) A corporation, trust, or community chest, fund, or foundation—

(A) Created or organized in the United States or in any possession thereof, or under the law of the United States, any State or Territory, the District of Columbia, or any possession of the United States;

(B) Organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals;

(C) No part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual; and

(D) No substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting, to influence legislation.

A contribution or gift by a corporation to a trust, chest, fund, or foundation shall be deductible by reason of this paragraph only if it is to be used within the United States or any of its possessions exclusively for purposes specified in subparagraph (B).

(3) A post or organization of war veterans, or an auxiliary unit or society of, or trust or foundation for, any such post or organization—

(A) Organized in the United States or any of its possessions, and

(B) No part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual.

(5) A cemetery company owned and operated exclusively for the benefit of its members, or any corporation chartered solely for burial purposes as a cemetery corporation and not permitted by its charter to engage in any business not necessarily incident to that purpose, if such company or corporation is not operated for profit and no part of the net earnings of such company or corporation inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual.

(d) Disallowance of deductions in certain cases. (1) For disallowance of deductions in case of contributions or gifts to charitable organizations engaging in prohibited transactions, see section 503 (e).

(2) For disallowance of deductions for contributions to or for the use of communist controlled organizations, see section 11 (a) of the Internal Security Act of 1950 (64 Stat. 996; 50 U. S. C. 790).

(e) Other cross references. (1) For charitable contributions of estates and trusts, see section 642 (c).

(2) For nondeductibility of contributions by common trust funds, see section 584.

(3) For charitable contributions of partners, see section 702.

(4) For charitable contributions of nonresident aliens, see section 873.

(5) For treatment of gifts for benefit of or use in connection with the Naval Academy as gifts to or for the use of the United States, see section 3 of the Act of March 31, 1944 (58 Stat. 135; 34 U. S. C. 1115b).

(6) For treatment of gifts for benefit of the library of the Post Office Department as gifts to or for the use of the United States, see section 2 of the Act of August 8, 1946 (60 Stat. 924; 5 U. S. C. 393).

(7) For treatment of gifts accepted by the Secretary of State under the Foreign Service Act of 1946 as gifts to or for the use of the United States, see section 1021 (e) of that act (60 Stat. 1032; 22 U. S. C. 809 (e)).

(8) For treatment of gifts of money accepted by the Attorney General for credit to the "Commissary Funds Federal Prisons" as gifts to or for the use of the United States, see section 2 of the Act of May 15, 1952 (66 Stat. 73, as amended by the Act of July 9, 1952, 66 Stat. 479, 31 U. S. C. 725s–4).

§ 1.170–1 Charitable, etc., contributions and gifts; allowance of deduction—(a) General rule. Any charitable contribution (as defined in section 170 (c)) actually paid during the taxable year is allowable as a deduction in computing taxable income, regardless of the method of accounting employed or when pledged. The deduction is subject to the limitations of section 170 (b) (see §§ 1.170–2 and 1.170–3 below) and subject to verification by the district director. In addition, contributions of corporations may under certain circumstances be deductible even though not paid during the year (see § 1.170–3). In connection with claims for deductions for charitable contributions, taxpayers shall state in their income tax returns the name and address of each organization to which a contribution was made and the amount and the approximate date of the actual payment of each contribution. A Claim for a deduction for a charitable contribution must be substantiated, when required by the district director, by a statement from the organization to which the contribution was made, indicating whether the organization is a domestic organization, the name and address of the contributor, the amount of the contribution, and the date of its actual payment, and by such other information as the district director may deem necessary.

(b) Contribution in property. (1) If a contribution is made in property other than money, the amount of the deduction is determined by the fair market value of the property at the time of the contribution. The fair market value is the price at which the property would change hands between a willing buyer and a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or sell and both having reasonable knowledge of relevant facts. If the contribution is made in property of a type which the taxpayer sells in the course of his business, the fair market value is the price which the taxpayer would have received if he had sold the contributed property in the lowest usual market in which he customarily sells at the time and place of the contribution (and in the case of a contribution of goods in quantity, in the quantity contributed). The usual market of a manufacturer or other producer consists of the wholesalers or other distributors to or through whom he customarily sells, unless he sells only at retail in which event it is his retail customers. If a donor makes a charitable contribution of, for example, stock in trade at a time when he could not reasonably have been expected to realize its usual selling price, the value of the gift is not the usual selling price but is the amount for which the quantity of merchandise contributed would have been sold by the donor at the time of the contribution.

(2) Since the market value of the contributed property is being allowed as a charitable deduction, costs and expenses incurred in the year of contribution in producing or acquiring the contributed property are not deductible and are not a part of the cost of goods sold. Moreover, the application of this principle requires that the deduction under section 170 for the market value of the contributed property be reduced by any portion of the market value of such property for which a reduction in income has been allowed in earlier taxable years either as a part of the cost of goods sold or as an expense deduction.

(c) Exceptions. (1) This section does not apply to contributions by estates and trusts (see section 642 (c)). For disallowance of certain charitable deductions otherwise allowable under section 170, see sections 503 (e) and 681 (b) (5) (relating to disallowance of deductions for contributions to organizations engaging in prohibited transactions). For disallowance of deductions for contributions to or for the use of communist controlled organizations, see section (11) (a) of the Internal Security Act of 1950 (64 Stat. 996; 50 U. S. C. 790). For denial of deduction for charitable contributions as trade or business expenses, see section 162 (b) and regulations thereunder.

§ 1.170–2 Charitable deductions by individuals; limitations—(a) In general. (1) A deduction is allowable to an individual under section 170 only for charitable contributions actually paid during the taxable year, regardless of when pledged and regardless of the method of accounting employed by the taxpayer in keeping his books and records. A contribution to an organization described in section 170 (c) is deductible even though some portion or all of the funds of the organization may be used in foreign countries for charitable and educational purposes. The deduction by an individual for charitable contributions under section 170 is limited generally to 20 percent of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income (computed without regard to any net operating loss carryback to the taxable year under section 172). If a husband and wife make a joint return, the deduction for contributions is the aggregate of the contributions made by the spouses, and the limitation in section 170 (b) is based on the aggregate adjusted gross income of the spouses. The 20 percent limitation applies to amounts contributed during the taxable year "to or for the use of" those recipients described in section 170 (c). The limitation is computed without regard to contributions qualifying for the additional 10 percent deduction. For examples of the application of the 10 and 20 percent limitation, see paragraph (b) (5) of this section.

(2) No deduction is allowable for contribution of services. However, unreimbursed expenditures made incident to the rendition of services to an organization contributions to which are deductible may constitute a deductible contribution. For example, the cost of a uniform without general utility which is required to be worn in performing donated services is deductible. Similarly, out-of-pocket transportation expenses necessarily incurred in rendering donated services are deductible. Reasonable expenditures for meals and lodging necessarily incurred while away from home in the course of rendering donated services also are deductible. For the purposes of this section, the phrase "while away from home" has the same meaning as that phrase is used for purposes of section 162.

(3) (i) In the case of an annuity or portion thereof purchased from an organization described in section 170 (c), there shall be allowed as a deduction the difference between the amount paid and the value of the annuity or portion purchased.

(ii) The value of the annuity or portion is the value of the annuity determined in accordance with section 101 (b) and the principles stated in § 1.101–2 (e) (1) (iii) (b).

(b) Additional 10-percent deduction—(1) In general. In addition to the deduction which may be allowed for contributions subject to the general 20-percent limitation, an individual may deduct contributions made during the taxable year "to", but not merely "for the use of", a church or a convention or association of churches, an educational organization referred to in section 503 (b) (2), or a hospital, to the extent that such contributions in the aggregate do not exceed 10 percent of his adjusted gross income (computed without regard to any net operating loss carryback to the taxable year under section 172). A contribution made to a trust, community chest, or other organization referred to in section 170 (c), which in turn makes the contribution available to a church, school, or hospital, will not qualify under the 10 percent limitation. The computation of this additional deduction is not necessary unless the total contributions paid during the taxable year are in excess of the general 20 percent limitation. Where the total contributions exceed the 20 percent limitation, the taxpayer should first ascertain the amount of charitable contributions subject to the 10 percent limitation, and any excess over the 10 percent limitation should then be added to all other contributions and limited by the 20 percent limitation.

(2) Church. For definition of "church", see the regulations under section 511.

(3) Educational organization. An "educational organization" with the meaning of section 170 (b) (1) (A) is one whose primary function is the presentation of formal instruction and which normally maintains a regular faculty and curriculum and normally has a regularly enrolled body of pupils or students in attendance at the place where its educational activities are regularly carried on. The term, therefore, includes institutions such as primary, secondary, preparatory, or high schools, and colleges and universities. It includes Federal, State, and other public-supported schools which otherwise come within the definition. It does not include organizations engaged in both educational and non-educational activities unless the latter are merely incidental to and growing out of the educational activities. A recognized university which incidentally operates a museum or sponsors concerts is an educational organization. However, the operation of a school by a museum does not qualify the museum as an educational organization. A gift to an educational institution through an alumni association or a class organization, which acts simply as a fund-raising or collection, agency through which gifts may be made currently to the institution, is a gift to the educational organization if the entire gift inures to its benefit, but not if any part of it inures to the general or operating fund of the agency. Similarly, a gift to one or more educational institutions through an association of educational institutions will be considered a gift to the institutions if it inures entirely to their benefit.

(4) Hospital. The term "hospital" as used in section 170 (b) (1) (A) means an oragnization the principal function of which is providing hospital and medical care. The term includes Federal and State hospitals otherwise coming within the definition but does not include medical education or research organizations (or organizations for medical care without hospitalization (referred to in section 503 (b) (5). Thus, it does not include outpatient clinics not a part of a regular hospital, convalescent or rehabilitation institutions, or homes for children or the aged.

(5) Examples. The application of the special 10 percent limitation and the general 20 percent limitation on contributions by individuals may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). A, an individual, reports his income on the calendar year basis and for the year 1954 has an adjusted gross income of $10,000. During 1954 he made the following charitable contributions:

1. Contributions qualifying for the additional 10 percent deduction under section 170 (b) (1) (A)	$2,400
2. Other charitable contributions	700
3. Total contributions paid	3,100
		Deductible contributions
4. Contributions qualifying for the additional 10 percent deduction under section 170 (b) (1) (A)	$2,400
5. Special limitation under section 170 (b) (1) (A): 10 percent of adjusted gross income	1,000
6. Deductible amount: line 4 or line 5, whichever is the lesser		$1,000
7. Excess of line 4 over line 5	1,400
8. Add: Other charitable contributions	700
9. Contributions subject to the general 20 percent limitation under section 170 (b) (1) (B)	2,100
10. Limitation under section 170 (b) (1) (B): 20 percent of the adjusted gross income	2,000
11. Deductible amount: line 9 or line 10, whichever is the lesser		2,000
12. Contributions not deductible	100
13. Total deduction for contributions		3,000

Example (2). B, an individual, reports his income on the calendar year basis and for the year 1954 has an adjusted gross income of $10,000. During 1954 he made the following charitable contributions:

1. Contributions qualifying for the additional 10 percent deduction under section 170 (b) (1) (A)	$700
2. Other charitable contributions	2,400
3. Total contributions paid	3,100
		Deductible contributions
4. Contributions qualifying for the additional 10 percent deduction under section 170 (b) (1) (A)	$700
5. Limitation described in section 170 (b) (1) (A): 10 percent of the adjusted gross income	1,000
6. Deductible amount: line 4 or line 5, whichever is the lesser		$700
7. Excess of line 4 over line 5	0
8. Add: Other charitable contributions	2,400
9. Contributions subject to the general 20 percent limitation under section 170 (b) (1) (B)	2,400
10. Limitation under section 170 (b) (1) (B): 20 percent of the adjusted gross income	2,000
11. Deductible amount: line 9 or line 10, whichever is the lesser		2,000
12. Contributions not deductible	400
13. Total deduction for contributions		2,700

(c) Unlimited deduction for individuals—(1) In general. The deduction for charitable contributions made by an individual is not subject to the 10 and 20 percent limitations of section 170 (b) if in the taxable year and each of 8 of the 10 preceding taxable years the sum of his charitable contributions paid during the year, plus his payments during the year on account of Federal income taxes, is more than 90 percent of his taxable income for the year (or net income, in years governed by the Internal Revenue Code of 1939). For the purpose of the preceding sentence, taxable income under the 1954 Code is determined without regard to the deductions for charitable contributions under section 170, for personal exemptions under section 151, or for a net operating loss carryback under section 172. On the other hand, for this purpose net income under the 1939 Code is computed without the benefit only of the deduction for charitable contributions. See section 120 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939. The phrase "income tax" as used in section 170 (b) (1) (C) means only Federal Income Taxes, and does not include the taxes imposed on self-employment income, on employees under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or on railroad employees and their representatives under the Railroad Retirement Tax Act by chapters 2, 21, and 22, respectively, or corresponding provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939. However, all payments on account of Federal income taxes made by a taxpayer during a taxable year are included, whether for the taxable year or for preceding taxable years. For example, the amount paid during the taxable year as estimated tax for that year is included, to the extent it does not exceed the tax for the taxable year. A payment of the final installment of estimated tax for the preceding year, a final payment for the preceding year, and the payment of a deficiency for an earlier year are also included.

(2) Joint returns. If a husband and wife make a joint return for any taxable year, their deduction for charitable contributions is not subject to the 10 and 20 percent limitations of section 170 (b), if under the rules of the preceding subparagraph, in the taxable year and in each of 8 of the preceding 10 taxable years (regardless of whether separate or joint returns were filed) the aggregate charitable contributions of both spouses paid during the year, plus their aggregate payments during the year on account of Federal income taxes, exceeds 90 percent of their aggregate taxable incomes for the year. Similarly, if a spouse, or the unremarried widow or widower of a deceased spouse, makes a separate return for any taxable year, his deduction for charitable contributions is not subject to the 10 percent and 20 percent limitations of section 170 (b) if under the rules of the preceding subparagraph in the taxable year and each of 8 of the 10 preceding taxable years

(i) For which the taxpayer filed a joint return with his spouse, their aggregate charitable contributions and payments of Federal income taxes made during the year exceed 90 percent of their aggregate taxable income for the year, and

(ii) For which the taxpayer did not file a joint return with his spouse, his charitable contributions and payments on account of Federal income taxes exceed 90 percent of his taxable income for the year.

For the purpose of the preceding sentence, the word "spouse" does not include a spouse from whom the taxpayer has been divorced.

(d) Transfers in trust. The value of property transferred to an express or implied trust, the corpus or income of which is certain to be paid over to a charitable organization or used for charitable purposes as described in section 170 (c), would constitute a charitable contribution under section 170 (a). However, no charitable deduction will be allowed for the value of property transferred in trust after March 9, 1954, if the grantor at the time of transfer has a reversionary interest in the property or its income worth more than 5 percent of the total value on which the charitable deduction would otherwise be determined. For purposes of this paragraph, the term "reversionary interest" means a possibility that after the possession or enjoyment of property or its income has been obtained by a charitable donee, the property or its income may return to the grantor or his estate, or may be subject to a power exercisable by the grantor or a nonadverse party (within the meaning of section 672 (b)), or both, to return the property or income to or for the benefit of the grantor or his estate. An interest of the grantor which, in any event, will terminate before the ripening of the assured charitable gift for which a deduction is claimed is not considered a reversionary interest for purposes of this section. For example, assume that a taxpayer conveyed property to a trust under the terms of which the income is payable to the taxpayer's wife for her life, and, if she predeceases him, to him for his life, and after the death of both the property is to be transferred to a charitable organization. The present value of the remainder interest in the property, taking into account the value of the life estates reserved to the taxpayer and his wife, may be allowed as a charitable deduction. Where the corpus of the trust is to return to the grantor after a number of years certain, the value of the reversionary interest at the time of the transfer may be computed by the use of tables showing the present value at 3½ percent a year, compounded annually, of $1 payable at the end of a number of years certain. (See Table II of § 81.10 (i) of Regulations 105 (26 CFR (1939) Part 81).) Where the value of a reversionary interest is dependent upon the continuation or termination of the life of one or more persons, it must be determined on the basis of Table 38 of United States Life Tables and Actuarial Tables 1939–1941, published by the United States Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, and interest at the rate of 3½ percent a year, compounded annually. See Table I of § 81.10 (i) of Regulations 105 (26 CFR (1939) 81.10 (i)) for valuations based on one life, and Internal Revenue Service Publication No. 11 (1955) actuarial values for Estate and Gift Tax for values based on more than one life. In an actual case (not merely proposed or hypothetical), the grantor or his legal representative may, upon request, obtain the information necessary to determine such a value from the district director with whom the grantor files his return. The request must be accompanied by a statement showing the date of birth of each person the duration of whose life may affect the value of the reversionary interest and by copies of the instruments relevant to the transfer.

(e) Fiscal years and short taxable years ending after March 9, 1954, subject to the Internal Revenue Code of 1939. Pursuant to section 7851 (a) (1) (C), the regulations prescribed in paragraph (d) of this section, to the extent that they relate to transfers in trust occurring after March 9, 1954, shall apply to all taxable years ending after March 9, 1954, even though those years may be subject to the Internal Revenue Code of 1939.

§ 1.170–3 Contributions or gifts by corporations. (a) The deduction by a corporation in any taxable year for charitable contributions, as defined in section 170 (c), is limited to 5 percent of its taxable income for the year, computed without regard to:

(1) The deduction for charitable contributions,

(2) The special deductions for corporations allowed under sections 241 through 247,

(3) Any net operating loss carryback to the taxable year under section 172, and

(4) The special deduction for Western Hemisphere Trade Corporations under section 922.

A contribution by a corporation to a trust, chest, fund, or foundation organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals is deductible only if the contribution is to be used in the United States or its possessions for those purposes. See section 170 (c) (2). For the purposes of section 170, amounts excluded from the gross income of a corporation under section 114 (relating to sports programs conducted for the American National Red Cross) are not to be considered contributions or gifts. For disallowance of certain charitable, etc., deductions, see § 1.170–1 (c).

(b) A corporation reporting its taxable income on the accrual method may elect to have a charitable contribution (as defined in section 170 (c)) considered as paid during the taxable year, if payment is actually made on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of the year and if, during the year, the board of directors authorized the contribution. The election must be made at the time the return for the taxable year is filed, by reporting the contribution on the return. There shall be attached to the return a written declaration that the resolution authorizing the contribution was adopted by the board of directors during the taxable year, and the declaration shall be verified by a statement signed by an officer authorized to sign the return that it is made under the penalties of perjury. There shall also be attached to the return a copy of the resolution of the board of directors authorizing the contribution.

(c) (1) Any contributions made by a corporation in a taxable year subject to the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 in excess of the amount deductible in that year under the 5 percent limitation of section 170 (b) (2) are deductible in each of the two succeeding taxable years in order of time, but only to the extent of the lesser of the two following amounts:

(i) The excess of the maximum amount deductible for the succeeding year under the 5 percent limitation of section 170 (b) (2) over the contributions made in that year; and

(ii) In the case of the first succeeding taxable year, the amount of the excess contributions; and, in the case of the second succeeding taxable year, the portion of the excess contributions not deductible in the first succeeding taxable year.

(2) The application of the rule in subparagraph (1) is illustrated by the following example:

Example. A corporation which reports its income on the calendar year basis makes a charitable contribution of $10,000 in June 1954, anticipating taxable income for 1954 of $200,000. Its actual taxable income for 1954 is only $50,000 and the charitable deduction for that year is limited to $2,500 (5 percent of $50,000). The excess charitable contribution not deductible in 1954 ($7,500) represents a carryover potentially available as a deduction in the two succeeding taxable years. The corporation has taxable income of $150,000 in 1955 and makes a charitable contribution of $2,500 in that year. For 1955, the corporation may deduct as a charitable contribution the amount of $7,500 (5 percent of $150,000). This amount consists first of the $2,500 contribution made in 1955, and $5,000 of the $7,500 carried over from 1954. The remaining $2,500 carried over from 1954 and not allowable as a deduction in 1955 because of the 5 percent limitation may be carried over to 1956. The corporation has taxable income of $100,000 in 1956 and makes a charitable contribution of $3,000. For 1956, the corporation may deduct under section 170 the amount of $5,000 (5 percent of $100,000). This amount consists first of the $3,000 contributed in 1956, and $2,000 of the $2,500 carried over from 1954 to 1956. The remaining $500 of the carryover from 1954 is not allowable as a deduction in any year because of the 2-year limitation provision of section 170 (b) (2).

[Docket No. AO–240–A2]

MILK IN MUSKEGON, MICH., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVELY APPROVED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK

Pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held in the Occidental Hotel, Muskegon, Michigan, August 28, 1956, at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to marketing conditions and proposed amendments hereinafter set forth, or appropriate modifications thereof, to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Muskegon, Michigan, marketing area. These proposed amendments have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Proposed by the Holland Local of Michigan Milk Producers' Association:

1. Amend § 985.5 Marketing area by adding all of the area in Ottawa County not now included in the marketing area and the Townships of Casco, Clyde, Fillmore, Ganges, Laketown, Manlus, Overisel, and Saugatuck in Allegan County.

Proposed by Farr View Dairy, Inc., Highland Park Dairy Co., and Sanitary Dairy Co., and the Michigan Milk Producers' Association:

2. Amend § 985.5 Marketing area by adding all of the area in Oceana County and the Townships of Bridgeton, Ashland, Grant, Ensley, Sheridan, Garfield, Denver, Wilcox, Brooks, Croton, Dayton, Sherman, Everett, Big Prairie, and Lincoln in Newaygo County.

Proposed by the Michigan Milk Producers' Association.

3. Amend the order so that Class I milk sold by handlers within the marketing area, governed by another Federal order, shall be priced at the higher of the prices paid for Class I milk in the two areas involved; providing that this section shall not be effective unless there is a corresponding provision in the Federal order regulating prices in the other area.

4. Amend § 985.51 in such a manner as to properly realign the Class I price in the Muskegon order with the Class I price in Detroit and other Michigan markets by increasing the differential that is added to the basic formula.

5. Amend § 985.53 so that the butterfat differential will be more realistic.

6. Amend § 985.70 so that the base rules will more nearly conform to present day market conditions.

Proposed by the Dairy Division:

7. Review all other provisions of Order No. 85 in light of the above stated proposals to extend the marketing area and to consider suggestions for changes in the order language which may be appropriate in redrafting and reissuance of the entire order.

Copies of this notice of hearing and the order now in effect, may be procured from the market administrator, 156 W. Sherman Blvd., Muskegon Heights, Michigan, or from the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 112, Administration Building, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Dated: August 2, 1956.

I concur. The records of the Bureau of Land Management will be noted accordingly.

1. Approximately 112,352 acres are patented lands with no mineral reserved to the United States, or are Indian lands. Approximately 3,360 acres are State school lands.

2. The lands restored by this order are located in Riverside County, near the communities of Indio, Coachella, and Mecca, California. The topography varies from level to steep and mountainous.

3. No application for the restored lands may be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract, or any other nonmineral public-land law unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon the consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

4. Subject to any valid existing rights and the requirements of applicable law, the restored lands are hereby opened to filing of applications, selections, and locations in accordance with the following:

a. Applications and selections under the nonmineral public-land laws may be presented to the Manager mentioned below, beginning on the date of this order. Such applications and selections will be considered as filed on the hour and respective dates shown for the various classes enumerated in the following paragraphs:

(1) Applications by persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing laws, or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation will be adjudicated on the facts presented in support of each claim or right. All applications presented by persons other than those referred to in this paragraph will be subject to the applications and claims mentioned in this paragraph.

(2) All valid applications under the Homestead, Desert Land, and Small Tract Laws by qualified veterans of World War II or of the Korean Conflict, and by others entitled to preference rights under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284 as amended), presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on September 6, 1956, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such preference right applications filed after that hour and before 10:00 a. m. on December 6, 1956, will be governed by the time of filing.

(3) All valid applications and selections under the nonmineral public-land laws, other than those coming under paragraphs (1) and (2) above, presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on December 6, 1956, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such applications and selections filed after that hour will be governed by the time of filing.

5. Persons claiming veterans preference rights must enclose with their applications proper evidence of military or naval service, preferably a complete photostatic copy of the certificate of honorable discharge. Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims must enclose properly corroborated statements in support of their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

b. The lands have been open to applications and offers under the mineral-leasing laws. They will be open to location under the United States mining laws beginning at 10:00 a. m. on December 6, 1956.

6. Inquiries concerning the lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Los Angeles, California.

DEPUE FALCK,
Acting Director
Bureau of Land Management.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Bureau of Foreign Commerce

[Case 217]

HENRY ELAERTS

ORDER REVOKING EXPORT LICENSES AND DENYING EXPORT PRIVILEGES

In the matter of a compliance proceeding against Henry Elaerts doing business under the firm name of Etablissements Henry Elaerts, 38 Rue du Beguinage, Brussels, Belgium, respondent, Case 217.

Henry Elaerts, doing business under the firm name and style of Etablissements Henry Elaerts, in Brussels, Belgium, hereinafter referred to as the respondent, was charged by the Director, Investigation Staff, Bureau of Foreign Commerce of the Department of Commerce, with having violated the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended, in that, as alleged, (a) he made false representations and concealed material facts as to end use and ultimate destination of borax which originated in the United States; (b) he diverted and transshiped borax to countries other than those permitted in export licenses under which it was shipped from the United States; and (c) he diverted and transshipped such borax to countries other than those which he represented as the places of end use and ultimate destination. He duly answered the charges and interposed numerous defenses, alleging, (a) that he obtained assurances from his customers in England that the borax would be consumed there; (b) that he, himself, had not signed end-use statements and so was not bound by the representations in the end-use statements submitted; and (c) that he did not know that some of the borax was from the United States and that he believed the representations as to end use which his vendor demanded from him were demanded because of commercial restrictions as to distribution and not because of governmental requirements. He denies that the borax purchased from one of his vendors was transshipped to Communist China.

In accordance with the practice, this case was referred to the Compliance Commissioner. After the evidence was submitted, the Compliance Commissioner in due course made his report and recommendation, which, upon the facts as hereinafter found, appears to be fair and just and is therefore adopted.

Now, after considering the entire record consisting of the charges, the answers of the respondent, the evidence submitted in support of the charges and the report and recommendation of the Compliance Commissioner, I hereby make the following findings of fact:

1. At all times hereinafter mentioned, Henry Elaerts was and now is engaged in the pharmaceutical and chemical business, under the firm name and style of Etablissements Henry Elaerts, in Brussels, Belgium.

2. At all times hereinafter mentioned, he knew that borax delivered to him by vendors in Belgium was so delivered to him solely upon his representations and agreements that the same would be consumed only in Belgium or other countries specifically certified by him as countries of ultimate destination.

3. Beginning in October 1954 and continuing until January 1955, with knowledge that borax to be exported from the United States could be exported only upon the granting of a validated export license restricting its exportation to the particular country or countries therein specified, Elaerts entered into a series of purchase and sale contracts with a supplier in Belgium, in each of which he represented and stated that the borax being purchased by him was destined for Belgium, there to be consumed.

4. Such statements and representations were made to induce the sales to him and with knowledge that the borax so being purchased by him was to be exported from the United States pursuant to export licenses issued upon the condition and representations that the said borax would be consumed in Belgium.

5. Export licenses were thereupon granted by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce authorizing the exportation of said borax and the same was thereafter exported from the United States pursuant to such licenses which restricted the ultimate destination to Belgium.

6. In connection with such exportations, Elaerts' vendor obtained bills of lading on which were endorsed destination control notices saying, "These commodities licensed by U. S. for ultimate destination Belgium. Diversion contrary to U. S. law prohibited," and, for the purpose of effecting delivery of the said borax to Elaerts, his vendor handed said bills of lading to Elaerts' agent, who thereupon became aware of the express United States prohibition against transshipment to a destination other than Belgium.

7. Despite the representations and statements theretofore made by Elaerts to induce the sales to him and the exportations from the United States of the said borax, and despite the warning against transshipment contained in the bills of lading, of which Elaerts is deemed to have had notice, Elaerts did thereafter transship the said borax to countries other than Belgium, the country for which the export licenses had been issued on the basis of the representations made by him to his vendor.

8. At the times when Elaerts made the representations to his vendor that the borax was to be consumed in Belgium, Elaerts was negotiating for the sale of the borax in each instance to a purchaser in a country other than Belgium and, in each instance, at about that time or shortly thereafter, he entered into a contract for the sale thereof to such alien purchaser.

9. In another series of purchases of borax from another supplier, Elaerts was required by that supplier to certify with respect to each purchase the country of ultimate destination of the borax and, to induce the sales to him of the borax sought by him, Elaerts certified to such supplier that the said borax being purchased by him was to be consumed in West Germany or Holland.

10. When making such certifications, Elaerts had knowledge that the terms and conditions of the sales to him required that the borax so sold to him be delivered only to the countries so named by him and to no other countries.

11. The supplier of this borax had obtained it from the United States under the terms of an export license which restricted its ultimate destinations to countries expressly mentioned therein, among which West Germany and Holland were included, and the purpose for which the supplier exacted from Elaerts the representations and statements as to ultimate destination was to assure compliance with the terms of said export license.

12. Nevertheless and in breach of his said representations and certifications, Elaerts did, thereafter, receive and subsequently ship and divert quantities of said borax to Poland and China.

13. By so diverting and shipping said borax to Poland and China, Elaerts did thereby cause the breach and contravention of the regulations and license under which the same had been exported from the United States.

And, from the foregoing, it is my conclusion:

A. That Elaerts knowingly made false representations and concealed material facts for the purpose of or in connection with the reexportation, transshipment or diversion of borax in violation of § 381.5 of the export control regulations;

B. That Elaerts knowingly and without authorization by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce diverted and transshipped and caused to be diverted and transshipped borax to countries of ultimate destination other than the countries of ultimate destination authorized by the export licenses under which such borax had been exported from the United States, in violation of § § 381.4 and 381.6 of the export control regulations;

C. That Elaerts knowingly diverted and transshipped borax to unauthorized countries contrary to prior representations made by him and contrary to notice that such conduct was prohibited, in violation of § 379.10 (c) (2), 381.4 and 381.6 of the export control regulations.

In his report the Compliance Commissioner said,

> A primary issue in this case is whether a foreign national should be held in violation of export control regulations when actual knowledge of the regulations and actual knowledge that the commodity is exported from the United States are not brought home to him. It seems to me that, being charged with the responsibility of achieving effective enforcement of the Act, it is the function of this Department to make sure that goods exported from the United States do not go to prohibited destinations and, if it be found that, under the circumstances of any particular case, a person has sufficient knowledge or understanding of export control laws in general and, with such knowledge, intentionally commits acts which are violations of our export control regulations, then he violates such regulations and should not be permitted to receive goods exported from this country. The result is simply a remedial measure to make certain that our goods do not go to prohibited destinations; it is a result necessary to achieve effective enforcement of the law.
> Elaerts explains his disregard of the contract provisions providing for disposition in particular countries by saying he regarded them as mere commercial restrictions. Normally, it would not be too important an element in a proceeding of this nature that a respondent disregarded or breached his contract obligations. However, when the breach of the contract involves or causes, at the same time, a breach of our regulations, then the conduct becomes cognizable here.
> . . . . . .
> In considering what remedial action ought to be taken in this case, I am taking note of the fact that Elaerts has been denied export privileges since July 28, 1955, that he has lost for the time being and may irretrievably lose a valuable contract with an American firm which he had represented for ten years prior to the entry of the temporary order and that he seems now to be well aware of the importance of complying with our export regulations affecting American commodities coming within his control. Opposed to this is his misguided failure to provide information properly requested by American agents, which failure he attributes to commercial ethics but seeks to counterbalance with assurances of full disclosure in those cases where he will provide end-use statements for direct submission to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce. It is my recommendation that Elaerts be denied export privileges for a total period of two years, retroactive to the date of the temporary denial order and, of which, the last six months shall be suspended conditioned upon his full compliance with all U. S. export control regulations.

Having concluded that the recommended action is fair, just, and necessary to achieve effective enforcement of the law: It is hereby ordered:

I. All outstanding validated export licenses in which Henry Elaerts or his firm Etablissements Henry Elaerts appears or participates as purchaser, intermediate or ultimate consignee, or otherwise, are hereby revoked and shall be returned forthwith to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce for cancellation.

II. Henceforth, and for a period of two years commencing or retroactive to July 28, 1955, the said respondent be, and he hereby is suspended from and denied all privileges of participating, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, in an exportation of any commodity or technical data from the United States to any foreign destination, including Canada, whether such exportation has heretofore or hereafter been completed. Without limitation of the generality of the foregoing denial of export privileges, participation in an exportation is deemed to include and prohibit participation by the respondent, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, (a) as a party or as a representative of a party to any validated export license application, (b) in the obtaining or using of any validated or general export license or other export control documents, (c) in the receiving, ordering, buying, selling, using, or disposing in any foreign country of any commodities in whole or in part exported or to be exported from the United States, and (d) in storing, financing, forwarding, transporting, or other servicing of such exports from the United States.

III. Such denial of export privileges shall extend not only to the respondent, but also to any person, firm, corporation, or business organization with which he may be now or hereafter related by ownership, control, position of responsibility, or other connection in the conduct of trade in which may be involved exports from the United States or services connected therewith.

IV. Upon condition that the respondent complies in all respects with this order, and with all other requirements of the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended, and all regulations promulgated thereunder, commencing January 28, 1957, he may engage in and enjoy all export privileges permitted by United States laws and regulations.

V. The privileges conditionally restored to the respondent under Part IV hereof, may be revoked summarily and without notice upon a finding by the Director of the Office of Export Supply, or such other official as may at that time be exercising the duties now exercised by him, that the respondent has, at any time following the date hereof, knowingly failed to comply with any of the conditions or provisions upon which or whereby, by Part IV hereof, he has been permitted to engage in any phase of the export business otherwise denied to him under Part II hereof, without prejudice to any other action which may be taken by reason of any such new or additional violation. In the event that it be so determined that the respondent has breached the conditions of Part IV hereof, such suspension and denial of his export privileges shall be deemed to commence on the day of such determination and shall continue thereafter for a period of six months or until July 28, 1957, whichever shall be later.

VI. No person, firm, corporation, partnership, or other business organization, whether in the United States or elsewhere, during any time when the respondent is prohibited under the terms hereof from engaging in any activity within the scope of Part II hereof, shall, without prior disclosure to, and specific authorization from the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, (a) apply for, obtain, or use any license, shipper's export declaration, bill of lading, or other export control document relating to any such prohibited activity, (b) order, receive, buy, use, dispose of, finance, transport or forward, any commodity on behalf of or in any association with the respondent, or (c) do any of the foregoing acts with respect to any commodity or exportation in which the respondent may have any interest of any kind or nature, direct or indirect.

Dated: August 2, 1956.

Director,
Office of Export Supply.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

AUGUST 1, 1956.

Take notice that United Fuel Gas Company (Applicant), a West Virginia Corporation and a subsidiary of The Columbia Gas System, Inc., having its principal place of business at 1033 Quarrier Street, Charleston, West Virginia, filed on June 28, 1956, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity under section 7 of the Natural Gas Act authorizing it to construct and operate certain proposed facilities for the transmission of natural gas, as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

For the purpose of serving the increased natural gas requirements of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, an existing direct interruptible industrial customer, Applicant proposes to construct and operate approximately 17.7 miles of 12¾ inch gas transmission pipe line (Line SM-88), together with the necessary measuring and regulating facilities at the terminus thereof, extending in a southwesterly direction from a point of interconnection at Applicant's Coco Compressor Station, Kanawha County, West Virginia, to a point of interconnection with du Pont's plant at Belle, Kanawha County, West Virginia.

In order to re-establish the thirty-year old plant's competitive position in the chemical industry, du Pont plans to modernize the plant by replacing process coal used for synthesis gas (carbon monoxide and hydrogen) with natural gas while still using coal for steam production. The synthesis gas is used as a raw material in manfacturing ammonia, ethylene glycol and other chemical products.

Applicant's existing distribution facilities in the Belle area lack capacity to serve du Pont's expanded gas demand. The plant is now supplied from local production of limited volume in the Belle area.

The Coco Compressor Station and nearby storage reservoir (X-52) is the closest large source available to the du Pont plant. These facilities handle interstate gas which United receives from Tennessee Gas Transmission Company and Gulf Interstate Gas Company.

The Applicant's proposed line will have a designed capacity of 78,000 Mcf per day, but only 31,000 Mcf per day is contracted for initially with du Pont.

Annual and peak day gas requirements of du Pont for the first three years, assuming the line is completed by December 1, 1956, are estimated as follows:

Annual requirements, Mcf

1956	1957	1958	1959
279,000	3,932,251	6,434,411	11,032,990

Peak day requirements, Mcf

1956	1957	1958	1959
5,560	11,870	28,050	31,000

The cost of the proposed facilities is estimated at $845,853 which will be financed by the Columbia Gas System, Inc.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on September 6, 1956, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a noncontested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of §1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before August 20, 1956. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of the concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made. Under the procedure herein provided for unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

[SEAL] J. H. GUTRIDE,
Acting Secretary.

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

[Declaration of Disaster Area 110]

NEVADA

DECLARATION OF DISASTER AREA

Whereas it has been reported that on or about July 21, 1956, because of the disastrous effects of a flood, damage resulted to residence and business property located in certain areas in the State of Nevada;

Whereas the Small Business Administration has investigated and has received other reports of investigations of conditions in the areas affected; and

Whereas after reading and evaluating reports of such conditions, I find that the conditions in such areas constitute a catastrophe within the purview of the Small Business Act of 1953, as amended:

Now, therefore, as Administrator of the Small Business Administration, I hereby determine that:

1. Applications for disaster loans under the provisions of section 207 (b) (1) of the Small Business Act of 1953, as amended, may be received and considered by the Office below indicated from persons or firms whose property situated in Washoe County (including any areas adjacent to said county) suffered damage or other destruction as a result of the catastrophe above referred to:

Small Business Administration Regional Office, 870 Market Street, Flood Building, Room 952, San Francisco 2, California.

2. No special field office will be established at this time.

3. Applications for disaster loans under the authority of this Declaration will not be accepted subsequent to January 31, 1957.

Dated: July 26, 1956.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-3499]

UTAH POWER & LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF CERTIFICATE OF ORGANIZATION AND BY-LAWS CHANGING COMMON STOCK FROM NO-PAR TO PAR, SPLITTING EACH PRESENT SHARE INTO TWO SHARES, AND INCREASING AUTHORIZED NUMBER OF SHARES

AUGUST 1, 1956.

Notice is hereby given that Utah Power & Light Company ("Company"), a registered holding company which is also a utility company operating in the States of Utah, Wyoming and Idaho, has filed with this Commission a declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), designating sections 6 (a) and 7 of the act as applicable to the proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

Pursuant to its Certificate of Organization and By-Laws, as amended, the Company is authorized to issue 2,500,000 shares of Common Stock without par value, of which there are issued and outstanding 2,220,000 shares having a stated value of $56,771,563.38, or approximately $25.58 per share. The Company proposes: (1) to transfer $60,436.62 from its earned surplus to its capital stock account, resulting in a stated value of $25.60 per share for each share of its Common Stock presently outstanding; and thereupon (2) to amend its Certificate of Organization and By-Laws so as (a) to increase the authorized Common Stock from 2,500,000 shares without par value to 7,500,000 shares with a par value of $12.80 per share, (b) to change the outstanding Common Stock from 2,220,000 shares without par value to 4,440,000 shares with a par value of $12.80 per share, and (c) to authorize its Board of Directors to fix the consideration, not less than the par value, at which the Company may issue and dispose of its par value stock.

The Company anticipates that the proposed change from no-par to par value stock and the issuance of two shares for one, with the resulting lower unit price per share, will broaden the public interest in and market for the Company's Common Stock and other securities, with a wider distribution of the shares, an increase in the number of shareholders and a greater availability of shares for purchase or sale. It is stated that the proposed changes are advisable to enable the Company to expand and meet its load requirements. The Company expects during the summer or early fall of 1957 to issue and sell securities, including Common Stock, to provide funds to pay off its bank loans (heretofore authorized to an aggregate amount of $25,000,000) and to carry forward its construction program during 1958.

The Company proposes to hold a special meeting of its stockholders on October 8, 1956, to consider and act upon the proposals aforesaid. When the proposed charter amendment becomes effective, the old no-par common shares will represent an equal number of new $12.80 par value shares; and certificates representing an additional share of new $12.80 par value Common Stock for each outstanding share of no-par value stock will be mailed to holders of record.

The Company states that it will apply for listing the par value Common Stock on the New York Stock Exchange so that trading may continue uninterrupted.

Applications for approval of the proposed transactions have also been filed with the Idaho Public Utilities Commission and the Public Service commission of Wyoming, the only other regulatory commissions which, in the opinion of the Company's counsel, have jurisdiction in the matter.

The fees and expenses to be incurred by the Company in connection herewith are estimated as follows:

Proxy solicitation	$2,500
Printing stock certificates	8,000
Special meeting of stockholders	3,000
New York Stock Exchange fee	5,800
State and Federal taxes	200
Transfer agent's fee	5,000
Registrar's fees and expenses	2,000
Legal fees	2,500
Miscellaneous	1,000
Total	30,000

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 20, 1956, at 5:30 p. m., request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law, if any, raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, said declaration, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may grant exemption from its rules as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100, or take such other action as it may deem appropriate.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

(b) The coverage per acre for each insured crop except corn and soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), all other insured crops upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier or (1) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any threshed production of barley, flax, oats or rye and any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any harvested production of soybeans which will not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be similarly evaluated. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price. Provided, when the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation, shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

5. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee; except in any case where a tenant rents land for a share of the crop and rents other land owned by the same person for cash, or for a fixed commodity payment, or for other consideration, all such land which is insurable and planted to insured crops shall constitute an insurance unit.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

7. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: February 28.

8. Definitions. "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of barley, flax, oats, rye, soybeans or wheat means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Weakley County, Tenn., Beginning With the 1956 Crop year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, in rows far enough apart to permit intertilling with a row cultivator. The contract will not provide insurance for soybeans planted for development of hybrid seed or planted in the same row or interplanted in rows with corn.

(d) Sweet potatoes, excluding acreage of less than one acre on an insurance unit.

(e) Tobacco, types 23 and 35.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and sweet potatoes shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and sweet potatoes shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for cotton shall be reduced as follows: (1) 75 percent for any acreage which is released by the Corporation or destroyed after it is too late to plant cotton but before the first cultivation, (2) 60 percent for any acreage which is released by the Corporation or destroyed after first cultivation but prior to laying by the crop and (3) 25 percent for any acreage on which the crop is laid by and not harvested.

(d) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

(e) The coverage per acre for tobacco shall be reduced 35 percent for any acreage not harvested.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to (a) any portion of the tobacco crop upon weighing in at the tobacco warehouse, transfer of interest in the tobacco after harvest, removal of the tobacco from the insurance unit (except for curing, packing or immediate delivery to the tobacco warehouse), or weighing of the tobacco for casing, (b) any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting, the cotton crop upon picking the sweet potato crop upon digging, the soybean crop upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop (except tobacco) upon removal from the

(b) Corn normally regarded as field corn. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(c) Flax planted for harvest as seed, excluding flax planted with any other crop except perennial grasses or legumes.

(d) Oats planted for harvest as grain.

(e) Winter rye planted for harvest as grain. (Insurance not to attach the first crop year of the contract.)

(f) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, in rows far enough apart to permit intertilling with a row cultivator. The contract will not provide insurance for soybeans planted for development of hybrid seed or planted in the same row or interplanted in rows with corn.

(g) Spring wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding all durum wheat except red durum and excluding wheat planted with flax or other small grains.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop except soybeans shall be reduced 50 percent of any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop, field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to tobacco later than March 31 following harvest unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, (b) with respect to any other crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year or (ii) October 31 in the case of sweet potatoes and in the case of corn and soybeans December 10 and in the case of cotton December 31 of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (c) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop except tobacco, shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any harvested production of soybeans which will not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be similarly evaluated.

Notwithstanding any other provision(s) of the contract in determining any loss, the value of tobacco production to be counted shall be the value of all tobacco, including (a) the gross returns (less warehouse charges) from the tobacco sold on the warehouse floor, (b) the fair market value, as determined by the Corporation, of the tobacco sold other than on the warehouse floor, (c) the fair market value, as determined by the Corporation, of the tobacco harvested and not sold, and (d) the fair market value (if harvested and cured), as determined by the Corporation, of any unharvested tobacco.

5. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, plus any acreage owned by him and worked for him by a sharecropper(s), or (b) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting or worked by the insured as a sharecropper, or (c) all the insurable acreage of all incured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee; except in any case where a tenant rents land for a share of the crop and rents other land owned by the same person for cash, for a fixed commodity payment, or for other consideration, all such land which is insurable and planted to insured crops shall constitute an insurance unit.

6. Claims for loss. (a) Any claim for loss on an insurance unit shall be submitted to the Corporation, on a form prescribed by the Corporation, not later than 60 days after the time of loss.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

7. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: February 28.

8. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of cotton means the removal (by manual or mechanical means) of an amount of cotton from the stalk which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the coverage for such acreage.

(c) "Harvest" for any acreage of tobacco means cutting or priming an amount of tobacco which equals or exceeds the pounds obtained by dividing 10 percent of the harvested coverage for such acreage by a price stated on the county actuarial table for the purpose of making this determination.

(d) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of soybeans means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

(e) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of sweet potatoes means digging the potatoes (by manual or mechanical means) where the crop has not been destroyed.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Arkansas County, Ark., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Oats (fall only) planted for harvest as grain, excluding oats planted with other small grain. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

(b) Rice planted for harvest as grain.

(c) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, in rows far enough apart to permit intertilling with a row cultivator. The contract will not provide insurance for soybeans planted for development of hybrid seed or planted in the same row or interplanted in rows with corn.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for oats and rice shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for rice shall be reduced 25 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for oats shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(d) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of any insured crop upon threshing or upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of oats, and December 10 in the case of rice and soybeans of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

threshed production of oats and rice which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. Any harvested production of soybeans which will not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be similarly evaluated.

5. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, plus any acreage owned by him and worked for him by a sharecropper(s), or (b) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting or worked by the insured as a sharecropper, or (c) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop. Where vetch is grown with an insured small grain crop all production of vetch shall be counted as production of such grain crop on a weight basis. An appraisal of not less than the applicable coverage, minus the value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) of any insured crop harvested, shall be made for acreage with a reduced yield due solely to any cause(s) not insured against or acreage abandoned or put to another use without being released by the Corporation.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Morgan and Weld Counties, Colo., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Barley (spring only) planted for harvest as grain, excluding barley planted with other small grain.

(b) Corn planted for grain, silage or fodder but not including sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, or corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn. However, corn for fodder will not be insured unless it is planted in time reasonably to expect the corn to mature as grain as determined by the Corporation.

(c) Dry edible beans (Pinto).

(d) Wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance on winter wheat to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before August 31 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except dry edible beans, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except dry edible beans, shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach (subject to the provisions of section 7 (a) of this rider) at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting, all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of barley and wheat, December 10 in the case of corn, and December 15 in the case of dry edible beans of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of the submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any threshed production of barley and any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. In order for corn to be evaluated for poor quality it must be a variety of corn adapted to the production of corn for grain and must be harvested as grain or fodder. Any threshed production of beans which will not meet any U. S. Grade for which a fixed price is shown on the county actuarial table because of poor quality due to insured causes occurring within the insurance period and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be valued at the lesser of the lowest price shown on the county actuarial table for that class of beans or the market value of such beans as determined by the Corporation. Any potential or unthreshed production of beans to be counted shall be valued at the fixed price shown on the county actuarial table for this purpose. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price; Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation, shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

5. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

6. Claims for loss. (a) Any claim for loss on an insurance unit shall be submitted to the Corporation on a form prescribed by the Corporation, not later than 60 days after the time of loss.

7. Irrigated acreage. (a) In addition to the provisions of section 2 of the policy, where insurance is written on the basis of irrigated coverage, the following provisions shall apply: (1) The acreage of insurable crops which shall be insured on an irrigated basis in any year shall not exceed the smaller of (i) that acreage which can be irrigated adequately with the facilities available and with a supply of irrigation water which reasonably could be expected, taking into consideration the amount of water required to irrigate the acreage of all irrigated crops on the farm, or (ii) that acreage on which one irrigation is carried out in accordance with good farming practices as determined by the Corporation, either before the crop is planted or during the growing season, and (2) insurance shall not attach with respect to acreage planted to insurable crops (i) the first year after being leveled or (ii) the first year such acreage is irrigated.

(b) In addition to the causes of loss insured against as shown on the first page of the policy, the contract shall cover loss due to failure of the water supply from natural causes that could not be foreseen and prevented by the insured.

(c) The contract shall not cover loss caused by (1) failure properly to apply irrigation water to any insurable crop in accordance with good farming practices, as determined by the Corporation, and (2) shortage of irrigation water on any farm where the Corporation determines that the total acreage of all irrigated crops on the farm is in excess of that which could be irrigated properly with the facilities available and with the supply of irrigation water which reasonably could be expected.

8. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: June 30.

Date by which county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: August 31 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

9. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of barley or wheat means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

(c) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of dry edible beans means pulling or cutting matured beans for threshing where the bean crop has not been destroyed.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Jasper County, Ill., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, in rows far enough apart to permit intertilling with a row cultivator. The contract will not provide insurance for soybeans planted for development of hybrid seed or planted in the same row or interplanted in rows with corn.

(c) Winter wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding, the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of wheat, and December 10 in the case of corn and soybeans, of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any harvested production of soybeans which will not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be similarly evaluated. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, when the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

5. Election of type of insurance protection. The insured may elect to have insurance protection provided on the basis of (a) separate crop protection under which insurance units are determined separately for each insured crop, or (b) combined crop protection under which insurance units include a combination of all insured crops. The insured coverage, the premium, and any indemnity will be determined separately for each insurance unit. For the first crop year of a contract the election must be made at the time the application for insurance is filed. For any subsequent crop year such election may be made or changed by the insured notifying the county office in writing prior to the cancellation date for the crop year the change is to become effective. If no election is made by the insured, insurance will be provided on the basis of combined crop protection.

6. Insurance unit. (a) If combined crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means (1) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (2) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (3) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(b) If separate crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means the same as in (a) above except that insurance units will be determined separately for each insured crop.

7. Claims for loss. (a) Any claim for loss on an insurance unit shall be submitted to the Corporation, on a form prescribed by the Corporation, not later than 60 days after the time of loss.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

8. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which the county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: September 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

9. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of soybeans or wheat means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

Approved: Beginning with the 1957 crop year.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. 5. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

from the total thereof, the insured interest in the value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) of the total production to be counted for such acreage of all insured crops on the insurance unit. However, if for the insurance unit, the premium computed for the planted acreage exceeds the premium computed for the acreage and interest shown on the acreage report, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced proportionately. The total production to be counted for an insurance unit shall include all harvested production (including any harvested production of wheat from acreage initially planted for purposes other than for harvest as grain) except harvested production of corn from acreage not qualifying as harvested under the definition in section 8. In addition the production to be counted shall include any appraisals which the Corporation determines should be made for potential or unharvested production, poor farming practices, uninsured causes of loss, or acreage abandoned or put to another use without being released by the Corporation. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop. An appraisal of not less than the applicable coverage, minus the value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) of any insured crop harvested, shall be made for acreage with a reduced yield due solely to any cause(s) not insured against or acreage abandoned or put to another use without being released by the Corporation.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Bond, Christian, Clinton, Effingham, Fayette, Jersey, Madison, Morgan, Pike, Scott, and Schuyler Counties, Ill., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the contract, for the first crop year of the contract, the insurable crop(s) shall be those of the following designated by name on the application for insurance:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, in rows far enough apart to permit intertilling with a row cultivator. The contract will not provide insurance for soybeans planted for development of hybrid seed or planted in the same row or interplanted in rows with corn.

(c) Winter wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

For any subsequent crop year the designation of insurable crop(s) may be changed by the insured notifying the county office in writing prior to the cancellation date for the crop year the change is to become effective. Provided, however, corn, soybeans or wheat may be added as an insurable crop(s) under the contract by the insured notifying the county office in writing by September 30, preceding the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested in the case of wheat and April 30 of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested in the case of corn and soybeans.

2. Existing crop insurance contract. If the application upon which this policy is issued is filed on or prior to September 30, 1956, the acceptance of such application shall cancel, effective beginning with the 1957 crop year, any wheat crop insurance contract between the insured and the Corporation. If such application is filed after September 30, 1956, any such wheat crop insurance contract shall remain in full force and effect for the 1957 crop year, but acceptance of such application shall cancel effective beginning with the 1958 crop year any wheat crop insurance contract between the insured and the Corporation.

3. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of wheat, and December 10 in the case of corn and soybeans of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation, shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

6. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

8. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: September 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

9. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 5 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of soybeans or wheat means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

10. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (d) of section 6 of the policy, if in any crop year a premium is earned and totals less than $20.00 the amount shall be increased to $20.00.

Approved: Beginning with the 1957 crop year.

[SEAL] FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Ripley County, Ind., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the contract, for the first crop year of the contract the insurable crop(s) shall be those of the following designated by name on the application for insurance:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, in rows far enough apart to permit intertilling with a row cultivator. The contract will not provide insurance for soybeans planted for development of hybrid seed or planted in the same row or interplanted in rows with corn.

(c) Tobacco type 31.

(d) Winter wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

For any subsequent crop year the designation of insurable crop(s) may be changed by the insured notifying the county office in writing prior to the cancellation date for the crop year the change is to become effective. Provided, however, corn, soybeans, tobacco or wheat may be added as an insurable crop(s) under the contract by the insured notifying the county office in writing by September 30 perceding the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested in the case of wheat and April 30 of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested in the case of corn, soybeans and tobacco.

2. Existing crop insurance contract. If the application upon which this policy is issued is filed on or prior to September 30, 1956, the acceptance of such application shall cancel, effective beginning with the 1957 crop year, any wheat crop insurance contract between the insured and the Corporation. If such application is filed after September 30, 1956, any such wheat crop insurance contract shall remain in full force and effect for the 1957 crop year, but acceptance of such application shall cancel effective beginning with the 1958 crop year any wheat crop insurance contract between the insured and the Corporation.

3. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

(d) The coverage per acre for tobacco shall be reduced 35 percent for any acreage not harvested.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to (a) any portion of the tobacco crop upon weighing-in at the tobacco warehouse, transfer of interest in the tobacco after harvest, or removal of the tobacco from the insurance unit (except for curing, packing or immediate delivery to the tobacco warehouse), whichever occurs first, and (b) any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop (except tobacco) upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect, unless the time is extended in writing by the Corporation, (a) with respect to tobacco later than February 28 following harvest, (b) with respect to any other crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop, or (ii) October 31 in the case of wheat and December 10 in the case of corn and soybeans of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, and (c) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop except tobacco, shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any harvested production of soybeans which will not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be similarly evaluated. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

Notwithstanding any other provision(s) of the contract in determining any loss the value of tobacco production to be counted shall be the value of all tobacco, including (a) the gross returns (less warehouse charges) from the tobacco sold on the warehouse floor, (b) the fair market value, as determined by the Corporation, of the tobacco sold other than on the warehouse floor, (c) the fair market value, as determined by the Corporation, of the tobacco harvested and not sold, and (d) the fair market value (if harvested and cured), as determined by the Corporation, of any unharvested tobacco.

6. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

7. Claims for loss. (a) Any claim for loss on an insurance unit shall be submitted to the Corporation on a form prescribed by the Corporation, not later than 60 days after the time of loss.

computed for the acreage and interest shown on the acreage report, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced proportionately. The total production to be counted for an insurance unit shall include all harvested production (including any harvested production of wheat from acreage initially planted for purposes other than for harvest as grain), except harvested production of corn or tobacco from acreage not qualifying as harvested under the definition in section 9. In addition the production to be counted shall include any appraisals which the Corporation determines should be made for potential or unharvested production, poor farming practices, uninsured causes of loss, or acreage abandoned or put to another use without being released by the Corporation. To enable the Corporation to determine the fair market value of tobacco not sold through auction warehouses, the Corporation shall be given the opportunity to inspect such tobacco before it is sold, contracted to be sold or otherwise disposed of by the insured, and if the best offer received by the insured for any such tobacco is considered by the Corporation to be inadequate, to obtain additional offers therefor on behalf of the insured. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop. An appraisal of not less than the applicable coverage, minus the value (determined in accordance with section 5 of the rider) of any insured crop harvested, shall be made for acreage with a reduced yield due solely to any cause(s) not insured against or acreage abandoned or put to another use without being released by the Corporation.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

8. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: September 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

9. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder, or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 5 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of soybeans or wheat means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

(c) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of tobacco means cutting or priming an amount of tobacco which equals or exceeds the pounds obtained by dividing 10 percent of the harvested coverage for such acreage by a price stated on the county actuarial table for the purpose of making this determination.

10. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (d) of section 6 of the policy, if in any crop year a premium is earned and totals less than $20.00 the amount shall be increased to $20.00.

Approved: Beginning with the 1957 crop year.

§ 420.62–6 Boone, Shelby, Sullivan, Wells, and Whitley Counties.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Boone, Shelby, Sullivan, Wells, and Whitley Counties, Ind., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the contract, for the first crop year of the contract, the insurable crop(s) shall be those of the following designated by name on the application for insurance:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, in rows far enough apart to permit intertilling with a row cultivator. The contract will not provide insurance for soybeans planted for development of hybrid seed or planted in the same row or interplanted in rows with corn.

(c) Winter wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

For any subsequent crop year the designation of insurable crop(s) may be changed by the insured notifying the county office in writing prior to the cancellation date for the crop year the change is to become effective. Provided, however, corn, soybeans, or wheat may be added as an insurable crop(s) under the contract by the insured notifying the county office in writing by September 30, preceding the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested in the case of wheat and April 30 of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested in the case of corn and soybeans.

2. Existing crop insurance contract. If the application upon which this policy is issued is filed on or prior to September 30, 1956, the acceptance of such application shall cancel, effective beginning with the 1957 crop year, any wheat crop insurance contract between the insured and the Corporation. If such application is filed after September 30, 1956, any such wheat crop insurance contract shall remain in full force and effect for the 1957 crop year, but acceptance of such application shall cancel effective beginning with the 1958 crop year any wheat crop insurance contract between the insured and the Corporation.

3. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of wheat, and December 10 in the case of corn and soybeans of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation, shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

6. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

8. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: September 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

9. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 5 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of soybeans or wheat means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

10. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (d) of section 6 of the policy, if in any crop year a premium is earned and totals less than $20.00 the amount shall be increased to $20.00.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Bourbon, Cherokee, Franklin, Linn, and Montgomery Counties, Kans., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, in rows far enough apart to permit intertilling with a row cultivator. The contract will not provide insurance for soybeans planted for development of hybrid seed or planted in the same row or interplanted in rows with corn.

(c) Winter wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of wheat, and December 10 in the case of corn and soybeans of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any harvested production of soybeans which will not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be similarly evaluated. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

5. Election of type of insurance protection. The insured may elect to have insurance protection provided on the basis of (a) separate crop protection under which insurance units are determined separately for each insured crop, or (b) combined crop protection under which insurance units include a combination of all insured crops. The insured coverage, the premium and any indemnity will be determined separately for each insurance unit. For the first crop year of a contract the election must be made at the time the application for insurance is filed. For any subsequent crop year such election may be made or changed by the insured notifying the county office in writing prior to the cancellation date for the crop year the change is to become effective. If no election is made by the insured, insurance will be provided on the basis of combined crop protection.

6. Insurance unit. (a) If combined crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means (1) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (2) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (3) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(b) If separate crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means the same as in (a) above except that insurance units will be determined separately for each insured crop.

7. Claims for loss. (a) Any claim for loss on an insurance unit shall be submitted to the Corporation, on a form prescribed by the Corporation, not later than 60 days after the time of loss.

production (including any harvested production of wheat from acreage initially planted for purposes other than for harvest as grain) except harvested production of corn from acreage not qualifying as harvested under the definition of section 9. In addition the production to be counted shall include any appraisals which the Corporation determines should be made for potential or unharvested production, poor farming practices, uninsured causes of loss, or acreage abandoned or put to another use without being released by the Corporation. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight basis. In the case of a volunteer crop, produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop. An appraisal of not less than the applicable coverage, minus the value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) of any insured crop harvested, shall be made for acreage with a reduced yield due solely to any cause(s) not insured against or acreage abandoned or put to another use without being released by the Corporation.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in St. Martin Parish, La., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Rice planted for harvest as grain.

(d) Sugarcane, including acreage harvested for seed, and excluding (1) acreage of less than one acre on an insurance unit and (ii) acreage on which three successive crops have been harvested from one planting. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before November 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

(e) Sweet potatoes (excluding acreage of less than one acre on an insurance unit).

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for sugarcane, sweet potatoes and rice shall be reduced 25 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(d) The coverage per acre for cotton shall be reduced as follows: (1) 75 percent for any acreage which is destroyed after it is too late to plant cotton but before the first cultivation, (2) 60 percent for any acreage which is destroyed after first cultivation but prior to laying by the crop and (3) 25 percent for any acreage on which the crop is laid by and not harvested.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any acreage of any insured crop, except for the second and third year crop of sugarcane in which case insurance shall attach on December 1 provided there is a stand at that time sufficient that farmers in the area generally would leave it for harvest the following harvest season. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting, the cotton crop upon picking, the rice crop upon threshing, the sugarcane crop upon cutting, the sweet potato crop upon digging or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (1) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) November 30 in the case of cotton, rice and sweet potatoes and December 10 in the case of corn of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested and January 31 in the case of sugarcane following the normal time of harvest, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any production of corn or rice which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation.

5. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, plus any acreage owned by him and worked for him by a sharecropper(s), or (b) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting or worked by the insured as a sharecropper or (c) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

6. Claims for loss. (a) Any claim for loss on an insurance unit shall be submitted to the Corporation, on a form prescribed by the Corporation, not later than 60 days after the time of loss.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

7. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which the county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: November 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

8. Definitions. (a) For all purposes under the contract sugarcane for harvest within the crop year shall be considered to have been planted as follows: (1) the first crop from seed, on the date the planting operation is actually accomplished, and (2) the second and third year crops on December 1 preceding the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(c) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of cotton means the removal (by manual or mechanical means) of an amount of cotton from the stalk which is equal in value (based on the fixed price) to 10 percent or more of the coverage for such acreage.

(d) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of rice means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

(e) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of sugarcane means cutting the cane (by manual or mechanical means) where the crop has not been destroyed.

(f) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of sweet potatoes means digging the potatoes (by manual or mechanical means) where the crop has not been destroyed.

9. Irrigation. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 5 of this rider, any share of an insured crop paid or to be paid for irrigation water shall be considered for the purpose of determining insurance units only, as a part of the share of the insured.

(b) The contract will not cover loss of the rice crop due to a shortage of irrigation water where the acreage planted to rice is in excess of the acreage which could be irrigated properly with the irrigation facilities available and with a supply of irrigation water which reasonably could be expected.

(c) Sugarcane, including acreage harvested for seed, and excluding (1) acreage of less than one acre on an insurance unit and (ii) acreage on which three successive crops have been harvested from one planting. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before November 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for sugarcane and rice shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for sugarcane and rice shall be reduced 25 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for cotton shall be reduced as follows: (1) 75 percent for any acreage which is destroyed after it is too late to plant cotton but before the first cultivation. (2) 60 percent for any acreage which is destroyed after first cultivation but prior to laying by the crop and (3) 25 percent for any acreage on which the crop is laid by and not harvested.

4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any threshed production of rice which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation.

5. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, plus any acreage owned by him and worked for him by a sharecropper(s), or (b) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting or worked by the insured as a sharecropper, or (c) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreage involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

7. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which the county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: November 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

8. Definitions. (a) For all purposes under the contract sugarcane for harvest within the crop year shall be considered to have been planted as follows: (1) the first crop from seed, on the date the planting operation is actually accomplished, and (2) the second and third year crops on December 1 preceding the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of cotton means the removal (by manual or mechanical means) of an amount of cotton from the stalk which is equal in value (based on the fixed price) to 10 percent or more of the coverage for such acreage.

(c) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of rice means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

(d) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of sugarcane means cutting the cane (by manual or mechanical means) where the crop has not been destroyed.

9. Irrigation. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 5 of this rider, any share of an insured crop paid or to be paid for irrigation water shall be considered for the purpose of determining insurance units only, as a part of the share of the insured. The contract will not cover loss of the rice crop due to a shortage of irrigation water where the acreage planted to rice is in excess of the acreage which could be irrigated properly with the irrigation facilities available and with a supply of irrigation water which reasonably could be expected.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Gratiot County, Mich., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Dry edible beans (pea and medium white).

(c) Oats planted for harvest as grain, excluding oats planted with other small grain.

(d) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, in rows far enough apart to permit intertilling with a row cultivator. The contract will not provide insurance for soybeans planted for development of hybrid seed or planted in the same row or interplanted in rows with corn.

(e) Winter wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn, oats and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn, oats and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

(d) The coverage per acre for dry edible beans shall be reduced as follows: (1) 35 percent for any acreage which is not pulled or cut, and (2) 15 percent for any acreage which is pulled or cut but not threshed.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting, all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of oats or wheat, December 10 in the case of corn or soybeans and December 15 in the case of dry edible beans of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any threshed production of oats and any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any harvested production of soybeans which will not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be similarly evaluated. Any threshed production of dry edible beans which will not meet any U. S. Grade or pick shown on the county actuarial table because of poor quality due to insurable causes occurring within the insurance period and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be valued at the lesser of the lowest price shown on the county actuarial table for that class of beans or the market value of such beans as determined by the Corporation. Any potential or unthreshed production of dry edible beans to be counted shall be valued at the fixed price shown on the county actuarial table for this purpose. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, when the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation, shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

5. Election of type of insurance protection. The insured may elect to have insurance protection provided on the basis of (a) separate crop protection under which insurance units are determined separately for each insured crop, or (b) combined crop protection under which insurance units include a combination of all insured crops. The insured coverage, the premium, and any indemnity will be determined separately for each insurance unit. For the first crop year of a contract the election must be made at the time the application for insurance is filed. For any subsequent crop year such election may be made or changed by the insured notifying the county office in writing prior to the cancellation date for the crop year the change is to become effective. If no election is made by the insured, insurance will be provided on the basis of combined crop protection.

6. Insurance unit. (a) If combined crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means (1) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (2) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (3) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(b) If separate crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means the same as in (a) above except that insurance units will be determined separately for each insured crop.

7. Claims for loss. (a) Any claim for loss on an insurance unit shall be submitted to the Corporation, on a form prescribed by the Corporation, not later than 60 days after the time of loss.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

8. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: September 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

9. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of oats, soybeans or wheat means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

(c) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of dry edible beans means pulling or cutting matured beans for threshing where the bean crop has not been destroyed.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Jackson County, Mich., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Oats planted for harvest as grain, excluding oats planted with other small grains.

(c) Winter wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting and all other insured crops upon the threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. § 420.73–3 Cass and Cooper Counties.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Cass and Cooper Counties, Mo., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the contract, for the first crop year of the contract, the insurable crop(s) shall be those of the following designated by name on the application for insurance:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Winter wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

For any subsequent crop year the designation of insurable crop(s) may be changed by the insured notifying the county office in writing prior to the cancellation date for the crop year the change is to become effective. Provided, however, wheat or corn may be added as an insurable crop under the contract by the insured notifying the county office in writing by September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested in the case of wheat and April 30 of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested in the case of corn.

2. Existing crop insurance contract. If the application upon which this policy is issued is filed on or prior to September 30, 1956, the acceptance of such application shall cancel, effective beginning with the 1957 crop year, any wheat crop insurance contract between the insured and the Corporation. If such application is filed after September 30, 1956, any such wheat crop insurance contract shall remain in full force and effect for the 1957 crop year, but acceptance of such application shall cancel effective beginning with the 1958 crop year any wheat crop insurance contract between the insured and the Corporation.

3. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting and the wheat crop upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31, in the case of wheat, and December 10 in the case of corn of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

6. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

8. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: September 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

9. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 5 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of wheat means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

10. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (d) of section 6 of the policy, if in any crop year a premium is earned and totals less than $20.00 the amount shall be increased to $20.00.

§ 420.73–4 Audrain County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Audrain County, Mo., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, in rows far enough apart to permit intertilling with a row cultivator. The contract will not provide insurance for soybeans planted for development of hybrid seed or planted in the same row or interplanted in rows with corn.

(c) Winter wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. 4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any harvested production of soybeans which will not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be similarly evaluated. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

5. Election of type of insurance protection. The insured may elect to have insurance provided by the Corporation for the crop year in which the insured has elected to have insurance under the provisions of the Commodity Credit Corporation Act, as amended, or (b) to have insurance under the provisions of the Act of February 16, 1938, as amended. Such election shall be made on or before the cancellation date for the crop year. Failure to make such election shall be deemed an election to have insurance under the provisions of the Commodity Credit Corporation Act, as amended.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Dawson County, Nebr., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, in rows far enough apart to permit intertilling with a row cultivator. The contract will not provide insurance for soybeans planted for development of hybrid seed or planted in the same row or interplanted in rows with corn.

(c) Winter wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any harvested production of soybeans which will not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be similarly evaluated. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

5. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

5. Election of type of insurance protection. The insured may elect to have insurance protection provided on the basis of (a) separate crop protection under which insurance units are determined separately for each insured crop, or (b) combined crop protection under which insurance units include a combination of all insured crops. The insured coverage, the premium, and any indemnity will be determined separately for each insurance unit. For the first crop year of a contract the election must be made at the time the application for insurance is filed. For any subsequent crop year such election may be made or changed by the insured notifying the county office in writing prior to the cancellation date for the crop year the change is to become effective. If no election is made by the insured, insurance will be provided on the basis of combined crop protection.

6. Insurance unit. (a) If combined crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means (1) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (2) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (3) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(b) If separate crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means the same as in (a) above except that insurance units will be determined separately for each insured crop.

7. Claims for loss. (a) Any claim for loss on an insurance unit shall be submitted to the Corporation, on a form prescribed by the Corporation, not later than 60 days after the time of loss.

abandoned or put to another use without being released by the Corporation.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

8. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which the county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: September 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

9. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of wheat means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Washington County, Nebr., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, in rows far enough apart to permit intertilling with a row cultivator. The contract will not provide insurance for soybeans planted for development of hybrid seed or planted in the same row or interplanted in rows with corn.

(c) Winter wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested).

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent of any acreage not harvested.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of wheat, and December 10 in the case of corn and soybeans, of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county acturial table. However, any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any harvested production of soybeans which will not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be similarly evaluated. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

5. Election of type of insurance protection. The insured may elect to have insurance protection provided on the basis of (a) separate crop protection under which insurance units are determined separately for each insured crop, or (b) combined crop protection under which insurance units include a combination of all insured crops. 6. Insurance unit. (a) If combined crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means (1) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (2) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (3) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(b) If separate crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means the same as in (a) above except that insurance units will be determined separately for each insured crop.

7. Claims for loss. (a) Any claim for loss on an insurance unit shall be submitted to the Corporation, on a form prescribed by the Corporation, not later than 60 days after the time of loss.

§ 420.83–1 Union County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Union County, Ohio, Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the contract, for the first crop year of the contract the insurable crop(s) shall be those of the following designated by name on the application for insurance:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans. The contract will not provide insurance for soybeans planted for development of hybrid seed or planted in the same row or interplanted in rows with corn.

(c) Winter wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

Provided, however, That for contracts in force during the 1956 crop year, corn, soybeans and wheat shall be considered the designated insurable crops unless the insured notifies the county office in writing prior to September 30, 1956, of a designation of insurable crop(s) other than corn, soybeans and wheat.

For any subsequent crop year the designation of insurable crop(s) may be changed by the insured notifying the county office in writing prior to the cancellation date for the crop year the change is to become effective. Provided, however, corn, soybeans or wheat may be added as an insurable crop(s) under the contract by the insured notifying the county office in writing by September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested in the case of wheat and April 30 of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested in the case of corn and soybeans.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. 4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any harvested production of soybeans which will not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be similarly evaluated. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation shall be adjusted dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

5. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. However, if for the insurance unit, the premium computed for the planted acreage exceeds the premium computed for the acreage and interest shown on the acreage report, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced proportionately. The total production to be counted for an insurance unit shall include all harvested production (including any harvested production of wheat from acreage initially planted for purposes other than for harvest as grain), except harvested production of corn from acreage not qualifying as harvested under the definition in section 8. In addition the production to be counted shall include any appraisals which the Corporation determines should be made for potential or unharvested production, poor farming practices, uninsured causes of loss, or acreage abandoned or put to another use without being released by the Corporation. Where any small gains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop. An appraisal of not less than the applicable coverage, minus the value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) of any insured crop harvested, shall be made for acreage with a reduced yield due solely to any cause(s) not insured against or acreage abandoned or put to another use without being released by the Corporation.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

(c) Winter wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

For any subsequent crop year the designation of insurable crop(s) may be changed by the insured notifying the county office in writing prior to the cancellation date for the crop year the change is to become effective. Provided, however, corn, soybeans or wheat may be added as an insurable crop(s) under the contract by the insured notifying the county office in writing by September 30, preceding the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested in the case of wheat and April 30 of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested in the case of corn and soybeans.

2. Existing crop insurance contract. If the application upon which this policy is issued is filed on or prior to September 30, 1956, the acceptance of such application shall cancel, effective beginning with the 1957 crop year, any wheat crop insurance contract between the insured and the Corporation. If such application is filed after September 30, 1956, any such wheat crop insurance contract shall remain in full force and effect for the 1957 crop year, but acceptance of such application shall cancel effective beginning with the 1958 crop year any wheat crop insurance contract between the insured and the Corporation.

3. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for soybeans shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of wheat, and December 10 in the case of corn and soybeans in the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation, shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

6. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all insurable acreage of any one insured crop in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such a manner as it determines appropriate.

8. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: September 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

9. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 5 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of soybeans or wheat means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

10. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (d) of section 6 of the policy, if in any crop year a premium is earned and totals less than $20.00 the amount shall be increased to $20.00.

Approved: Beginning with the 1957 crop year.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Linn County, Oreg., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Barley planted for harvest as grain.

(b) Mixtures of any two or more of the following crops planted for harvest as grain: Barley, oats, wheat.

(c) Oats planted for harvest as grain.

(d) Common rye grass planted for harvest as seed.

(e) Wheat planted for harvest as grain.

(f) Vetch hay and mixtures of oats or wheat with vetch and/or Austrian winter peas, planted for hay.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted o a substitute crop.

3. Determining coverage(s) and premium(s) of mixtures planted for harvest as grain. For determining the coverage(s) and premium(s) under the contract, a mixture of barley, oats or wheat planted for harvest as grain shall be considered as the crop in the mixture having the lowest coverage unless the mixture planted contains more than 80 percent by weight of one crop in which event the mixture shall be considered to be that crop.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop, except that for common rye grass initially planted in the spring insurance shall attach on December 1 following the planting provided there is a stand on that date sufficient that farmers in the area generally would leave it for harvest as seed the following harvest season. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the hay crops upon baling or stacking, and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of barley, oats or wheat (including insured mixtures shown in section 1 (b) of this rider) and vetch hay (including mixtures shown in section 1 (f) of this rider) and December 10 in the case of common rye grass, of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any threshed barley which (1) does not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes occurring within the insurance period and would not meet these requirements if property handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 4 barley, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 4 barley is less than the fixed price, the total value of such threshed barley, as determined by the Corporation, shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price. Any threshed production of oats or common rye grass which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation, shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price. No adjustment for quality will be made for production from insured acreage planted to the insurable mixtures shown in section 1 (b) of this rider.

6. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

8. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.
Cancellation date: July 31.

9. Definitions. (a) For all purposes under the contract common rye grass for harvest within the crop year shall be considered to have been planted as of the beginning of the insurance period for that crop year.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of barley, oats or wheat (including insured mixtures shown in section 1 (b) of this rider) and common rye grass means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

(c) "Harvest" with respect to any insured acreage of hay means mechanical severance from the land of the crop for hay where the crop has not been destroyed.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Malheur County, Oreg., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Alfalfa hay.
(b) Barley planted for harvest as grain.
(c) Dry edible beans (small reds).
(d) Mixtures of barley and wheat planted for harvest as grain.
(e) Potatoes (excluding acreages of less than one acre on an insurance unit) commonly known as Irish potatoes.
(f) Red clover planted for harvest as hay or seed.
(g) Sugar beets planted for production of sugar.
(h) Wheat planted for harvest as grain.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except dry edible beans and sugar beets, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except dry edible beans and sugar beets, shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for dry edible beans shall be reduced as follows: (1) 35 percent for any acreage which is not pulled or cut, and (2) 15 percent for any acreage which is pulled or cut but not threshed.

(d) The coverage per acre for sugar beets not lifted and topped shall be reduced as follows:

(i) 80 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation because of damage occurring prior to thinning.

(ii) 60 percent for any acreage which is released by the Corporation because of damage occurring after thinning and planted to a substitute crop.

(iii) 25 percent for any acreage which is released by the Corporation because of damage occurring after thinning and which is not planted to a substitute crop and not lifted and topped.

3. Determining coverage(s) and premium(s) of mixtures planted for harvest as grain. For determining the coverage(s) and premium(s) under the contract, a mixture of barley and wheat planted for harvest as grain shall be considered as barley unless the mixture planted contains more than 80 percent by weight of wheat, in which event the mixture shall be considered to be wheat.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop except alfalfa and red clover in which case insurance shall attach on December 1 (preceding harvest) provided there is a stand on that date sufficient that farmers in the area generally would leave the crop for harvest the following harvest season. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the alfalfa crop upon baling or stacking, the red clover crop upon baling, stacking or threshing, the potato crop upon digging, the sugar beet crop upon lifting and topping, and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of alfalfa, small grain(s) and red clover for hay or seed and December 10 in the case of potatoes and sugar beets and December 15 in the case of dry edible beans of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any threshed barley which (1) does not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes occurring within the insurance period and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 4 barley, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 4 barley is less than the fixed price, the total value of such threshed barley, as determined by the Corporation, shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price. Any potatoes which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. Any threshed production of beans which will not meet any U. S. grade or pick shown on the county actuarial table because of poor quality due to insurable causes occurring within the insurance period and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be valued at the lesser of the lowest price shown on the county actuarial table for that class of beans or the market value of such beans as determined by the Corporation. Any potential or unthreshed production of beans to be counted shall be valued at the fixed price shown on the county actuarial table for this purpose. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation, shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price. No adjustment for quality will be made for production from insured acreage planted to the insurable mixture shown in section 1 (d) of this rider.

6. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a share tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one share tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

8. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.
Cancellation date: July 31.

9. Definitions. (a) For all purposes under the contract alfalfa and red clover for harvest within the crop year shall be considered to have been planted as of the beginning of the insurance period for that crop year.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of barley, wheat or insured mixtures thereof means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

(c) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of red clover means mechanical severance from the land of the crop for hay or seed where the crop has not been destroyed.

(d) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of alfalfa means mechanical severance from the land of the crop for hay where the crop has not been destroyed.

(e) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of dry edible beans means pulling or cutting matured beans for threshing where the bean crop has not been destroyed.

(f) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of potatoes means digging the potatoes (by manual or mechanical means) where the crop has not been destroyed.

(g) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of sugar beets means lifting and topping the beets where the crop has not been destroyed.

10. Irrigated acreage. (a) In addition to the provisions of section 2 of the policy, the following provisions shall apply: (1) the acreage of insurable crops which shall be insured in any year shall not exceed that acreage which can be irrigated adequately with the facilities available and with a supply of irrigation water which reasonably could be expected, taking into consideration the amount of water required to irrigate the acreage of all irrigated crops on the farm, and (2) insurance shall not attach with respect to acreage planted to insurable crops (i) the first year after being leveled or (ii) the first year such acreage is irrigated.

(c) The contract shall not cover loss caused by (1) failure properly to apply irrigation water to any insurable crop in accordance with good farming practices, as determined by the Corporation, and (2) shortage of irrigation water on any farm where the Corporation determines that the total acreage of all irrigated crops on the farm is in excess of that which could be irrigated properly with the facilities available and with the supply of irrigation water which reasonably could be expected.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Lebanon County, Pa., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Barley planted in the fall for harvest as grain, excluding barley planted with other small grain. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

(b) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(c) Tobacco, type 41. (Insurance to attach for that crop year only if an election is in effect for that crop year to have Separate Crop Protection.)

(d) Wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grain. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except tobacco, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except tobacco, shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for tobacco shall be reduced 5 percent for each full 5 percent that the market price is less than a price designated for this purpose on the county actuarial table.

(d) In addition to any reduction made under (c) of this section, the coverage per acre for tobacco shall be reduced 35 percent for any acreage which is not harvested.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to (a) any portion of the tobacco crop upon weighing-in at the tobacco warehouse, transfer of interest in the tobacco after harvest, or removal of the tobacco from the insurance unit (except for curing, packing or immediate delivery to the tobacco warehouse), whichever occurs first, and (b) any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop (except tobacco) upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect, unless the time is extended in writing by the Corporation, (a) with respect to tobacco later than March 31 following harvest, (b) with respect to any other crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of barley or wheat and December 10 in the case of corn of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, and (c) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

Notwithstanding any other provision(s) of the contract, in determining any loss the value of any harvested roduption of tobacco shall be the fair market value as determined by the Corporation. To enable the Corporation to determine the fair market value of tobacco harvested, the Corporation shall be given the opportunity to inspect such tobacco before it is sold, contracted to be sold or otherwise disposed of by the insured, and, if the best offer received by the insured for any such tobacco is considered by the Corporation to be inadequate, to obtain additional offers therefor on behalf of the insured. Any appraised production of tobacco shall be evaluated at the market price as defined in section 10 (c) of this rider.

5. Election of type of insurance protection. The insured may elect to have insurance protection provided on the basis of (a) separate crop protection under which insurance units are determined separately for each insured crop, or (b) combined crop protection under which insurance units include a combination of all insured crops. The insured coverage, the premium, and any indemnity will be determined separately for each insurance unit. For the first crop year of a contract the election must be made at the time the application for insurance is filed. For any subsequent crop year such election may be made or changed by the insured notifying the county office in writing prior to the cancellation date for the crop year the change is to become effective. If no election is made by the insured, insurance will be provided on the basis of combined crop protection.

6. Insurance unit. (a) If combined crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means (1) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (2) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a share tenant at the time of planting, or (3) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one share tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(b) If separate crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means the same as in (a) above except that insurance units will be determined separately for each insured crop.

7. Claims for loss. (a) Any claim for loss on an insurance unit shall be submitted to the Corporation, on a form prescribed by the Corporation, not later than 60 days after the time of loss.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

8. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which the county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: September 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

9. Notice of loss or damage (applicable to tobacco only). In addition to any other notice of loss or damage required by section 7 of the policy, (a) if after curing the tobacco it appears probable that a loss on any insurance unit under the contract will be sustained, notice in writing shall be given to the Corporation at the county office to allow the Corporation time to make an inspection before the crop is sold, contracted to be sold, or otherwise disposed of and (b) in any case if, at the completion of selling or otherwise disposing of the insured tobacco on an insurance unit, a loss on such insurance unit under the contract is probable, notice in writing shall be given within 15 days to the Corporation at the county office.

10. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of tobacco means cutting an amount of tobacco which equals or exceeds the pounds obtained by dividing 10 percent of the harvested coverage for such acreage by a price stated on the county actuarial table for the purpose of making this determination.

(c) "Market price" in the case of tobacco means the average price for the applicable type in the belt or area as determined by the Corporation. The market price when determined by the Corporation shall be filed in the county office.

(d) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of barley or wheat means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

Approved: Beginning with the 1957 crop year.

[SEAL] FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION.

§ 420.86–2 Somerset County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Somerset County, Pa., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Oats planted for harvest as grain, excluding oats planted with other small grain.

(c) Potatoes (excluding acreage of less than one acre on an insurance unit) commonly known as Irish potatoes.

(d) Wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grains. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except potatoes, shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for potatoes shall be reduced 25 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting, the potato crop upon digging, and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of oats, potatoes and wheat and December 10 in the case of corn of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of the submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any threshed production of oats and any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation, shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

5. Election of type of insurance protection. The insured may elect to have insurance protection provided on the basis of (a) separate crop protection under which insurance units are determined separately for each insured crop, or (b) combined crop protection under which insurance units include a combination of all insured crops. The insured coverage, the premium, and any indemnity will be determined separately for each insurance unit. For the first crop year of a contract the election must be made at the time the application for insurance is filed. For any subsequent crop year such election may be made or changed by the insured notifying the county office in writing prior to the cancellation date for the crop year the change is to become effective. If no election is made by the insured, insurance will be provided on the basis of combined crop protection.

6. Insurance unit. (a) If combined crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means (1) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (2) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a share tenant at the time of planting, or (3) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one share tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(b) If separate crop protection is provided under the contract an insurance unit means the same as in (a) above except that insurance units will be determined separately for each insured crop.

7. Claims for loss. (a) Any claim for loss on an insurance unit shall be submitted to the Corporation, on a form prescribed by the Coporation, not later than 60 days after the time of loss.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

8. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: September 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

9. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of oats or wheat means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

(c) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of potatoes means digging the potatoes (by manual or mechanical means) where the crop has not been destroyed.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Franklin County, Tenn., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn planted for harvest as grain, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Tobacco, type 31.

(d) Wheat planted for harvest as grain, excluding wheat planted with other small grain. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for corn and wheat shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

(c) The coverage per acre for cotton shall be reduced as follows: (1) 75 percent for any acreage which is destroyed after it is too late to plant cotton but before the first cultivation, (2) 60 percent for any acreage which is destroyed after first cultivation but prior to laying by the crop and (3) 25 percent for any acreage on which the crop is laid by and not harvested.

(d) The coverage per acre for tobacco shall be reduced 35 percent for any acreage not harvested.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to (a) any portion of the tobacco crop upon weighing-in at the tobacco warehouse, transfer of interest in the tobacco after harvest, or removal of the tobacco from the insurance unit (except for curing, packing or immediate delivery to the tobacco warehouse), and (b) any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting the cotton crop upon picking, and the wheat crop upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop (except tobacco) upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to tobacco later than February 28 following harvest unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, (b) with respect to any other crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of wheat, December 10 in the case of corn and December 31 in the case of cotton of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (c) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop except tobacco, shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

Notwithstanding any other provision(s) of the contract in determining any loss the value of tobacco production to be counted shall be the value of all tobacco, including (a) the gross returns (less warehouse charges) from the tobacco sold on the warehouse floor, (b) the fair market value, as determined by the Corporation, of the tobacco sold other than on the warehouse floor, (c) the fair market value, as determined by the Corporation, of the tobacco harvested and not sold, and (d) the fair market value (if harvested and cured), as determined by the Corporation, of any unharvested tobacco.

5. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting plus any acreage owned by him and worked for him by a sharecropper(s) or (b) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant or worked by the insured as a sharecropper at the time of planting, or (c) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

6. Claims for loss. (a) Any claim for loss on an insurance unit shall be submitted to the Corporation, on a form prescribed by the Corporation, not later than 60 days after the time of loss.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

7. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which the county minimum participation must be met for any crop year: September 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

8. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of cotton means the removal (by manual or mechanical means) of an amount of cotton from the stalk which is equal in value (based on the fixed price) to 10 percent or more of the coverage for such acreage.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 4 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(c) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of tobacco means cutting an amount of tobacco which equals or exceeds the pounds obtained by dividing 10 percent of the harvested coverage for such acreage by a price stated on the county actuarial table for the purpose of making this determination.

(d) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of wheat means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

Approved: Beginning with the 1957 crop year.

[SEAL] FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Emery County, Utah, Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Alfalfa hay. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

(b) Barley planted for harvest as grain.

(c) Corn planted for silage.

(d) Oats planted for harvest as grain.

(e) Wheat planted for harvest as grain. (Insurance on winter wheat to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before September 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

(f) Mixtures of any two or more of the following crops: Barley, oats, and wheat, as defined in this section.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Determining coverage(s) and premium rate(s) for mixtures. (a) If a mixture of barley and wheat is seeded, the barley coverage shall apply. If any insurable mixture containing oats is seeded the oats coverage shall apply.

(b) For the purpose of determining the amount of premium, a mixture of barley and wheat shall be considered as barley and any insurable mixture containing oats shall be considered as oats.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop except alfalfa in which case insurance shall attach on October 1 (preceding harvest) provided there is a stand on that date sufficient that farmers in the area generally would leave it for harvest the following harvest season. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the hay crop upon baling or stacking, the corn crop upon harvesting, and all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of alfalfa, barley, oats, or wheat (including insured mixtures shown in section 1 (f) of this rider) December 10 in the case of corn of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any threshed barley which (1) does not grade No. 4 or better (determined in accordance with Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes occurring within the insurance period and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 4 barley, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 4 barley is less than the fixed price, the total value of such threshed barley, as determined by the Corporation shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price. Any threshed production of oats which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. Any threshed production of wheat which (1) does not grade No. 3 or better and does not grade No. 4 or 5 on the basis of test weight only (determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States) because of poor quality due to insurable causes and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, and (2) has a value per bushel which is less than the lower of the fixed price or the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight, shall be valued by the Corporation at a price not in excess of the fixed price: Provided, When the Commodity Credit Corporation county loan rate for No. 5 wheat on the basis of test weight is less than the fixed price, the total value of such production, as determined by the Corporation, shall be adjusted by dividing it by such loan rate and multiplying the result by the fixed price.

No adjustment for quality will be made for production from insured acreage planted to the insurable mixtures shown in section 1 (f) of this rider.

6. Insurance unit. An insurance unit means (a) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a share tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one share tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

7. Claims for loss. (a) Any claim for loss on an insurance unit shall be submitted to the Corporation, on a form prescribed by the Corporation, not later than 60 days after the time of loss.

8. Irrigated acreage. (a) In addition to the provisions of section 2 of the policy, the following provisions shall apply: (1) The acreage of insurable crops which shall be insured in any year shall not exceed the smaller of (i) that acreage which can be irrigated adequately with the facilities available and with a supply of irrigation water which reasonably could be expected, taking into consideration the amount of water required to irrigate the acreage of all irrigated crops on the farm, or (ii) that acreage on which one irrigation is carried out in accordance with good farming practices as determined by the Corporation, either before the crop is seeded or during the growing season, and (2) insurance shall not attach with respect to acreage planted to insurable crops (i) the first year after being leveled or (ii) the first year such acreage is irrigated.

(b) In addition to the causes of loss insured against as shown on the first page of the policy, the contract shall cover loss due to failure of the water supply from natural causes that could not be foreseen and prevented by the insured.

(c) The contract shall not cover loss caused by (1) failure properly to apply irrigation water to any insurable crop in accordance with good farming practices, as determined by the Corporation, and (2) shortage of irrigation water on any farm where the Corporation determined that the total acreage of all irrigated crops on the farm is in excess of that which could be irrigated properly with the facilities available and with the supply of irrigation water which reasonably could be expected.

9. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: July 31.

Date by which the county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: September 30 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

10. Definitions. (a) For all purposes under the contract alfalfa for harvest within the crop year shall be considered to have been planted as of the beginning of the insurance period for that crop year.

(b) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means cutting the corn for fodder or silage where the crop has not been destroyed.

(c) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of barley, oats, or wheat (including insured mixtures shown in section 1 (f) of this rider) means the mechanical severance from the land of the matured crop for threshing where the crop has not been destroyed.

(d) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of alfalfa means mechanical severance from the land of the crop for hay where the crop has not been destroyed.

Approved: Beginning with the 1957 crop year.

[SEAL] FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Platte County, Wyo., Beginning With the 1957 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Alfalfa hay. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before August 31 preceding the calendar year in which the crop for that crop year is normally harvested.)

(b) Corn planted for grain, silage or fodder but not including sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, or corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn. However, corn for fodder will not be insured unless it is planted in time reasonably to expect the corn to mature as grain as determined by the Corporation.

(c) Dry edible beans (Pinto and Great Northern).

2. Existing crop insurance contract. The acceptance by the Corporation of a multiple crop insurance application shall not cancel any existing wheat crop insurance contract between the insured and the Corporation.

3. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except dry edible beans, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except dry edible beans, shall be reduced 10 percent for any acreage not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach (subject to the provisions of section 8 (a) of this rider) at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop except hay on which insurance shall attach on November 1 (preceding harvest) provided there is a stand on that date sufficient that farmers in the area generally would leave it for harvest the following harvest season. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting, the hay crop upon baling or stacking, and the dry edible bean crop upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) when harvest of such crop is generally complete for the crop year, or (ii) October 31 in the case of alfalfa, December 10 in the case of corn and December 15 in the case of dry edible beans of the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit not later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Fixed price used for valuing production. In determining any loss under the contract, production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the fixed price established by the Corporation for that crop and shown on the county actuarial table. However, any corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. In order for corn to be evaluated for poor quality it must be a variety of corn adapted to the production of corn for grain and must be harvested as grain or fodder. Any threshed production of beans which will not meet any U. S. Grade or pick for which a fixed price is shown on the county actuarial table because of poor quality due to insurable causes occurring within the insurance period and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be valued at the lesser of the lowest price shown on the county actuarial table for that class of beans or the market value of such beans as determined by the Corporation. Any potential or unthreshed production of beans to be counted shall be valued at the fixed price shown on the county actuarial table for this purpose.

6. Insurance unit. An insurance unit consists of (a) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county in which the insured has 100 percent interest at the time of planting, or (b) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by one person and is operated by the insured as a tenant at the time of planting, or (c) all the insurable acreage of all insured crops in the county which is owned by the insured and is rented to one tenant at the time of planting. Land rented for cash or for a fixed commodity payment shall be considered as owned by the lessee.

(d) If the production from an insurance unit is commingled with the production from any other acreage and the insured fails to keep records satisfactory to the Corporation of the acreages involved and the production from each, the Corporation may (1) deny liability with respect to all insurance units involved for the crop year without affecting the insured's liability for premium(s), or (2) allocate the commingled production in such manner as it determines appropriate.

8. Irrigated acreage. (a) In addition to the provisions of section 2 of the policy, the following provisions shall apply: (1) The acreage of insurable crops which shall be insured in any year shall not exceed the smaller of (i) that acreage which can be irrigated adequately with the facilities available and with a supply of irrigation water which reasonably could be expected, taking into consideration the amount of water required to irrigate the acreage of all irrigated crops on the farm, or (ii) that acreage on which one irrigation is carried out in accordance with good farming practices as determined by the Corporation, either before the crop is seeded or during the growing season, and (2) insurance shall not attach with respect to acreage planted to insurable crops (i) the first year after being leveled or (ii) the first year such acreage is irrigated.

(b) In addition to the causes of loss insured against as shown on the first page of the policy, the contract shall cover loss due to failure of the water supply from natural causes that could not be foreseen and prevented by the insured.

(c) The contract shall not cover loss caused by (1) failure properly to apply irrigation water to any insurable crop in accordance with good farming practices, as determined by the Corporation, and (2) shortage of irrigation water on any farm where the Corporation determines that the total acreage of all irrigated crops on the farm is in excess of that which could be irrigated properly with the facilities available and with the supply of irrigation water which reasonably could be expected.

9. Date table.

Discount date: November 30.

Cancellation date: June 30.

Date by which county minimum participation requirement must be met for any crop year: August 31 following the cancellation date for the crop year.

10. Definitions. (a) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of corn means picking from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting for fodder or silage an amount of corn which is equal in value (determined in accordance with section 5 of this rider) to 10 percent or more of the harvested coverage for such acreage.

(b) For all purposes under the contract alfalfa for harvest within the crop year shall be considered to have been planted as of the beginning of the insurance period for that crop year.

(c) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of alfalfa means mechanical severance from the land of the crop for hay where the crop has not been destroyed.

(d) "Harvest" with respect to any acreage of dry edible beans means pulling or cutting matured beans for threshing where the bean crop has not been destroyed.

Approved: Beginning with the 1957 crop year.

Chapter VII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Farm Marketing Quotas and Acreage Allotments), Department of Agriculture

PART 728—WHEAT

SUBPART—1956–57 MARKETING YEAR

COUNTY ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS FOR 1956 CROP OF WHEAT

§ 728.606 Basis and purpose. The county acreage allotments for 1956 crop wheat contained herein have been determined under section 334 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended. The purpose is to apportion among the counties of each State the respective State wheat acreage allotments for 1956 as established by the proclamation dated May 13, 1955 (20 F. R. 3494), and to add thereto the increases required by section 1 of Public Law 117, 83d Congress. Prior to determinations of county acreage allotments for 1956 crop wheat, public notice (20 F. R. 655) was given in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003). The data, views, and recommendations pertaining to the determination of county acreage allotments for 1956 crop wheat which were submitted have been duly considered within the limits permitted by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, including the provisions of section 1 of Public Law 117, 83d Congress.

PART 22—DRAWBACK

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

In furtherance of the Department's policy of delegating appropriate administrative functions to collectors of customs, to facilitate the prompt and orderly handling of drawback statements filed by manufacturers and producers who may operate under general drawback rates prescribed in § 22.6, and to establish such rates on two additional classes of articles, the Customs Regulations are amended as follows:

1. Section 22.4 is amended as follows:

a. Paragraph (e) is amended by substituting "Where it appears to the satisfaction of the Bureau, or of the collector in cases within the provisions of § 22.6," for "In cases where it appears to the satisfaction of the Bureau".

b. Paragraph (h) is amended by inserting in the first sentence ", except those operating under § 22.6," after the word "producer".

c. Paragraph (j) is amended by changing the period at the end thereof to a comma and adding "except that in cases under § 22.6 the procedure in paragraphs (a) and (b) of that section shall be followed."

d. Paragraph (l) is amended by deleting the period at the end thereof and adding "or in cases under § 22.6 the statement has been approved."

e. Paragraph (m) is amended by inserting "or the statement approved under § 22.6," after the word "established".

f. Paragraph (n) is amended by deleting "provided for in a rate of drawback", and by inserting "or collector's letter of approval" before the words "was based".

g. Paragraph (o) is amended by inserting in the first sentence "or to change his statement filed under § 22.6" after the word "amended"; and by changing the period at the end of the final sentence to a comma and adding "or by the collector in cases within the provisions of § 22.6."

2. Section 22.6 is amended as follows:

a. The headnote is amended to read "General drawback rates in effect; approval of drawback statements by collectors."; paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) are redesignated (e), (f), and (g), respectively; and new paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (h), and (i) are added reading as follows:

(a) Drawback statements; filing and approval at one port. Each manufacturer or producer of articles covered by a drawback rate in this section shall submit through the supervising customs agents to the collector of customs at the port where drawback entries will be filed a statement in duplicate describing the methods used in the manufacture or production of the products involved and setting forth the records it agrees to keep for the purpose of complying with the drawback law and regulations and for providing all the data required for the proper liquidation of certificates of manufacture and drawback entries filed hereunder. If the statement shows that the methods and records described therein enable the manufacturer or producer to comply with the law and regulations and if the facts developed by the investigation so warrant, the collector shall approve the statement and promptly notify the applicant, in writing, of such action.

(b) Drawback statements; filing and approval at more than one port. In cases where the statement provides for the filing of drawback entries at two or more ports, the statement in duplicate shall be submitted through the supervising customs agents to the collector at each of the ports named. In such case the collector at the port first listed in the statement shall approve the statement, if that action is warranted and is concurred in by the collectors at the other ports named, and shall promptly notify the applicant, in writing, of such action.

(c) Drawback statements; supplemental. Supplemental statements covering changes in statements filed under this section shall be handled in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(d) Applicability of other drawback provisions to general rates. The allowance of drawback on articles covered by a drawback rate in this section shall be subject to compliance with the applicable provisions of this part.

* * * * *

(h) Piece goods. Drawback may be allowed under the provisions of section 313 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, upon the exportation of bleached, mercerized, printed, dyed, or redyed piece goods manufactured or produced by any one or a combination of the foregoing processes with the use of imported or drawback woven piece goods, subject to the following special regulations:

(1) The records of the manufacturer or producer shall show, as to each lot of piece goods manufactured or produced for exportation with benefit of drawback, the lot number and the date or inclusive dates of manufacture or production, the quantity, identity, and value of the imported or drawback piece goods used, the condition in which imported or received (whether in the gray, bleached, dyed, or mercerized), the working allowance specified in the contract under which they are received, the process or processes applied thereto, and the quantity and description of the piece goods obtained.

(2) The records also shall show the yardage lost by shrinkage or gained by stretching during manufacture, and the quantity of remnants resulting and of spoilage incurred.

(3) Further, the records shall show the quantity of rag waste incurred and its value. In instances where it is impracticable to account for the actual quantity of rag waste incurred, it shall be assumed in liquidation that such rag waste constituted 2 percent of the piece goods put into process.

(4) The piece goods manufactured or produced hereunder may also be subjected to one or more finishing processes.

(5) An abstract of the manufacturing or production records shall be filed with the drawback entry.

(6) The quantity of piece goods upon which drawback may be allowed shall be computed as follows: Deduct from the quantity of piece goods received the quantity of remnants and spoilage, if any, incurred, the proper allowance to be made for shrinkage or stretch, of any, occurring during manufacture or production. Reduce the remaining quantity by the quantity thereof which the value of the rag waste will replace. When necessary for the purposes of liquidation, the value of the imported or drawback piece goods used shall be furnished by the owner.

(7) The drawback allowance shall not exceed the duty paid, less 1 per centum thereof, on the net quantity of finished piece goods exported, determined as above, as shown by the abstract of the manufacturing or production records; or, in the case of piece goods manufactured or produced hereunder with the use of drawback piece goods, the drawback accruing to such net quantity, as established by the abstract of the manufacturing or production records and the certificates of manufacture and delivery covering the drawback piece goods concerned.

(8) Drawback shall not be allowed hereunder when the process performed results only in the restoration of the articles to their condition at the time of importation.

(i) Fur skins and fur skin articles. Drawback may be allowed under the provisions of section 313 (a), Tariff Act of 1930, upon the exportation of dressed, redressed, dyed, redyed, bleached, blended, or striped fur skins or fur skin articles manufactured or produced by any one or a combination of the foregoing processes with the use of fur skins or fur skin articles, such as plates, mats, sacs, strips, and crosses, imported in a raw, dressed, or dyed condition, subject to the following special regulations:

(1) The records of the manufacturer or producer shall show, as to each lot of fur skins and fur skin articles manufactured or produced for exportation with benefit of drawback, the lot number and the date or inclusive dates of manufacture or production, the quantity, identity, and description of the imported merchandise used, the condition in which imported, the process or processes applied thereto, the quantity and description of the finished articles obtained, and the quantity of imported pieces rejected, if any, or spoiled in manufacture or production.

(2) An abstract of the manufacturing or production records shall be filed with the drawback entry.

(3) The drawback allowance shall not exceed the duty paid, less 1 per centum thereof, on the quantity of imported merchandise used in the manufacture or production of the exported articles, as shown by the abstract of the manufacturing or production records. The quantity of imported merchandise used shall be determined by deducting from the quantity of fur skins or fur skin articles put into manufacture or production the quantity of rejects and spoilage incurred, if any.

(4) Drawback shall not be allowed hereunder when the process performed results only in the restoration of the articles to their condition at the time of importation.

b. Redesignated paragraph (f) is amended by deleting subparagraph (3); renumbering subparagraphs (4) through (23) as (3) through (22), respectively; changing "§ 22.6 (b)" where it appears in renumbered subparagraphs (14) and (19) to "§ 22.6 (f)"; and substituting in the first sentence of renumbered subparagraph (14) "unless a different period shall have been authorized" for "unless the Bureau shall have authorized a different period".

c. Redesignated paragraph (g) is amended by inserting after the word "allowed" in the first sentence thereof "under the provisions of section 313 (a), Tariff Act of 1930,"; deleting subparagraph (2); renumbering subparagraphs (3) through (18) as (2) through (17); changing "(4)" and "(5)" where they appear in renumbered subparagraph (2) to "(3)" and "(4)", respectively; and changing "(12)" where it appears in renumbered subparagraph (13) to "(11)".

These amendments shall be effective as to drawback statements which have not been transmitted to the Bureau by supervising customs agents prior to the date of publication of the amendments in the weekly Treasury Decisions.

12.41 Photocopies.
12.70 Partial compliance not deemed compliance.

AUTHORITY: §§ 12.1 to 12.70 issued under sec. 5, Pub. Law 893, 84th Cong.

§ 12.1 Definitions. As used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) The term "act" means the act of August 1, 1956, Public Law 893, 84th Congress, 2d Session, requiring the registration of certain persons who have knowledge of, or have received instruction or assignment in the espionage, counterespionage, or sabotage service or tactics of a foreign government or foreign political party.

(b) The term "Attorney General" means the Attorney General of the United States.

(c) The term "rules and regulations" refers to all rules, regulations, registration forms, and instruction to forms made and prescribed by the Attorney General pursuant to the act.

(d) The term "registration statement" means the registration required to be filed with the Attorney General under section 2 of the act.

(e) The term "registrant" means the person by whom a registration statement is filed pursuant to the provisions of the act.

§ 12.2 Administration of act. The administration of the act is assigned to the Registration Section of the Internal Security Division, Department of Justice. Communications with respect to the act shall be addressed to the Registration Section, Department of Justice, Washington 25, D. C. Copies of the act, the regulations contained in this part, including the forms mentioned therein, may be obtained upon request without charge.

§ 12.4 Inquiries concerning application of act. Inquiries concerning the application of the act must be accompanied by a detailed statement of all facts necessary for a determination of the question submitted, including the identity of the person on whose behalf the inquiry is made, the facts which may bring such person within the registration provisions of the act, and the identity of the foreign government or foreign political party concerned.

§ 12.20 Filing of registration statement. Registration statements shall be filed in duplicate with the Registration Section, Department of Justice, Washington, D. C. Filing may be made in person or by mail, and shall be deemed to have taken place upon the receipt thereof by the Registration Section.

§ 12.21 Time within which registration statement must be filed. Every person who is or becomes subject to the registration provisions of the act after its effective date shall file a registration statement within fifteen days after the obligation to register arises.

§ 12.22 Material contents of registration statement. The registration statement shall include the following, all of which shall be regarded as material for the purposes of the act:

(a) The registrant's name, principal business address, and all other business addresses in the United States or elsewhere, and all residence addresses.

(b) The registrant's citizenship status and how such status was acquired.

(c) A detailed statement setting forth the nature of the registrant's knowledge of the espionage, counterespionage, or sabotage service or tactics of a foreign government or foreign political party, and the manner in which, place where, and date when such knowledge was obtained.

(d) A detailed statement as to any instruction or training received by the registrant in the espionage, counterespionage, or sabotage service or tactics of a foreign government or foreign political party, including a description of the type of instruction or training received, a description of any courses taken, the dates when such courses commenced and when they ceased, and the name and official title of the instructor or instructors under whose supervision the courses were received as well as the name and location of schools and other institutions attended, the dates of such attendance, and the names of the directors of the schools and institutions attended.

(e) A detailed statement describing any assignment received in the espionage, counterespionage, or sabotage service or tactics of a foreign government or foreign political party, including the type of assignment, the date when each assignment began, the date of completion of each assignment, name and title of the person or persons under whose supervision the assignment was executed, and a complete description of the nature of the assignment and the execution thereof.

(f) A detailed statement of any relationship which may exist at the time of registration, other than through employment, between the registrant and any foreign government or foreign political party.

(g) Such other statements, information, or documents pertinent to the purposes and objectives of the act as the Attorney General, having due regard for the national security and the public interest, may require by this part or amendments thereto.

§ 12.23 Deficient registration statement. A registration statement which is determined to be incomplete, inaccurate, misleading, or false, by the Chief Registration Section, may be returned by him to the registrant as being unacceptable for filing under the terms of the act.

§ 12.24 Forms. (a) Every person required to register under the act shall file a registration statement on Form GA-1, and such other forms as may from time to time be prescribed by the Attorney General.

(b) Matter contained in any part of the registration statement or other document may not be incorporated by reference as answer, or partial answer, to any other item in the registration statement required to be filed under the act.

(c) Except as specifically provided otherwise, if any item on the form is inapplicable, or the answer is "None," an express statement to such effect shall be made.

(d) Every statement, amendment, and every duplicate thereof, shall be executed under oath and shall be sworn to before a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths.

(e) A registration statement or amendment thereof required to be filed shall, if possible, be typewritten, but will be regarded as in substantial compliance with this regulation if written legibly in black ink.

(f) Riders shall not be used. If the space on the registration statement or other form is insufficient for any answer, reference shall be made in the appropriate space to a full insert page or pages on which the item number and item shall be restated and the complete answer given.

§ 12.25 Amended registration statement. (a) An amended registration statement may be required by the Chief, Registration Section, of any person subject to the registration provisions of the act whose original registration statement filed pursuant thereto is deemed to be incomplete, inaccurate, false, or misleading.

(b) Amendments shall conform in all respects to the regulations herein prescribed governing execution and filing of original registration statements.

(c) Amendments shall in every case make appropriate reference by number or otherwise to the items in original registration statements to which they relate.

(d) Amendments shall be deemed to have been filed upon the receipt thereof by the Registration Section.

(e) Failure of the Chief, Registration Section, to request any person described in section 2 of the act to file an amended registration statement shall not preclude prosecution of such person for a wilfully false statement of a material fact, the wilful omission of a material fact, or the wilful omission of a material fact necessary to make the statements therein not misleading, in an original registration statement.

§ 12.30 Burden of establishing availability of exemptions. In all matters pertaining to exemptions, the burden of establishing the availability of the exemption shall rest with the person for whose benefit the exemption is claimed.

§ 12.40 Public examination. Registration statements shall be available for public examination at the offices of the Registration Section, Department of Justice, Tenth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington 25, D. C., from 10:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. on each official business day, except to the extent that the Attorney General, having due regard for the national security and public interest, may withdraw such statements from public examination.

§ 12.41 Photocopies. (a) Photocopies of registration statements filed in accordance with section 2 of the act are available to the public upon payment of fifty cents per photocopy of each page, whether several copies of a single original page or one or more copies of several original pages are ordered.

(b) Estimates as to prices for photocopies and the time required for their preparation will be furnished upon request addressed to the Registration Section, Department of Justice, Washington 25, D. C.

(c) Payment shall accompany the order for photocopies and shall be made in cash, or by United States money order, or by certified bank check payable to the Treasurer of the United States. Postage stamps will not be accepted.

§ 12.70 Partial compliance not deemed compliance. The fact that a registration statement has been filed shall not necessarily be deemed a full compliance with the act on the part of the registrant; nor shall it preclude prosecution, as provided for in the act, for wilful failure to file a registration statement, or for a wilfully false statement of a material fact therein, or for the wilful omission of a material fact required to be stated therein.

This order shall become effective upon its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Compliance with the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C. 1003) relative to notice of proposed rule making and delayed effective date is impracticable and contrary to the public interest in this instance, for the reason that such compliance would unduly delay and impede the implementation and administration of the act of August 1, 1956, Public Law 893, 84th Congress, 2d session.

Dated: August 6, 1956.

HERBERT BROWNELL, Jr.,
Attorney General.

TITLE 43—PUBLIC LANDS: INTERIOR

Chapter I—Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior

Subchapter C—Areas Subject to Special Laws

[Circular 1956]

PART 119—CHOCTAW-CHICKASAW LANDS, OKLAHOMA

On pages 1799, 1800, and 1801 of the FEDERAL REGISTER for March 23, 1956, there was published a notice of proposed rule making to implement the act of August 3, 1955 (69 Stat. 445). Interested persons were given 30 days in which to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections with respect to the proposed regulations. No comments adverse to the proposed provisions of the regulations having been received, the regulations as proposed are hereby adopted without change and are set forth below.

FRED A. SEATON,
Secretary of the Interior.

AUGUST 1, 1956.

PART 119—CHOCTAW-CHICKASAW LANDS, OKLAHOMA

Sec.
119.1 Statutory authority.
119.2 Minerals.
119.3 Disposal of materials.
119.4 Rights-of-way.
119.5 Leases and permits for nonmineral resources.
119.6 Disposal of surface fee.
119.7 Sales to persons claiming a legal or equitable interest.
119.8 Sales to occupants.
119.9 Public and subsequent private sales.
119.10 Tracts set apart for street, alleys, or other public purposes.
119.11 Reservations in deeds.
119.12 Contributions and donations of money, services, and property.
119.13 Appeals.

AUTHORITY: §§ 119.1 to 119.13 issued under sec. 1, 69 Stat. 445; 43 U. S. C. 1102.

§ 119.1 Statutory authority. The act of August 3, 1955 (69 Stat. 445), authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to provide for the management and disposition of any interest of the United States in those lands which were reconveyed to the United States by deeds of conveyance executed on November 29, 1950 by the principal chief of the Choctaw Nation and the Governor of the Chickasaw Nation or which have been or may be reconveyed to the United States by any further or supplemental conveyances made under the authority of the Interior Department Appropriation Act of June 28, 1944 (58 Stat. 463, 483), the joint resolution of June 24, 1948 (62 Stat. 596), and the First Deficiency Appropriation Act of May 24, 1949 (63 Stat. 76, 84). Such reconveyed lands are referred to in this Part as "Choctaw-Chickasaw lands" and the act of August 3, 1955 is referred to as "the act".

(b) The act of June 28, 1944 (58 Stat. 463, 483), declared the Choctaw-Chickasaw lands to be part of the public domain subject to the applicable public land mining and mineral leasing laws.

§ 119.2 Minerals. (a) All deeds for lands disposed of under the act of August 3, 1955 (69 Stat. 445) will contain a reservation to the United States of all its rights to mineral deposits in the lands, together with the right to prospect for, mine, and remove them. Any minerals subject to the public land leasing laws so reserved to the United States may be disposed of to any qualified person under applicable laws and regulations, subject to such conditions as the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management deems necessary for the protection of the surface and other nonmineral values of the lands. Until rules and regulations are issued, reserved minerals other than those subject to the public land leasing laws are not subject to disposition or, except by an authorized Federal agency, to prospecting.

(b) All minerals in the Choctaw-Chickasaw lands, subject to the exception and qualifications in paragraph (a) of this section, are subject to the applicable public land mining and mineral leasing laws and the regulations thereunder (Parts 185, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196 and 197 of this chapter).

§ 119.3 Disposal of materials. Materials on the Choctaw-Chickasaw lands, other than minerals subject to disposal under the public land mining and mineral leasing laws, are subject to disposal under the regulations of Part 259 of this chapter.

§ 119.4 Rights-of-way. Easements and permits for rights-of-way over the Choctaw-Chickasaw lands may be secured under the regulations of Part 244 of this chapter.

§ 119.5 Leases and permits for nonmineral resources. (a) Unless otherwise provided for by the regulations in this part, the Choctaw-Chickasaw lands will not be subject to lease or permit for the development and use of nonmineral resources except (1) where disposal of fee title to the tract, in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management, is not in the public interest, (2) where the public interest will be served by the issuance of a lease or permit having a term of not to exceed one year, or (3) where the public interest will be served by the issuance of a lease under the regulations of Part 254 of this chapter.

(b) Leases and permits issued under paragraph (a) (2) of this section will be renewable in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management for periods not exceeding one year for each renewal.

(c) The authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management, in his discretion, may specify the terms and conditions of leases and permits issued under paragraph (a) (1) and (2) of this section consistent with the policies and procedures of the Department of the Interior.

(d) Except for applications to lease under the regulations of Part 254 of this chapter, no particular form of application is required. The applicant, however, must describe the lands desired and the purpose for which he desires them. Every application must be accompanied by a filing fee of $10 which will not be returnable.

§ 119.6 Disposal of surface fee. Subject to the reservation of all rights of the United States to minerals in the lands and to the payment of the proportionate cost of any survey which may be necessary to describe properly any lands to be disposed of under the act, Choctaw-Chickasaw lands are subject to disposal as follows:

(a) Private sale of tracts to any person having a legal or equitable interest therein under the regulations of §119.7.

(b) Private sales to occupants under the regulations of § 119.8.

(c) Public sale of tracts and private sale of tracts unsold after offer at public auction, under the regulations of § 119.8.

(d) Private sale of tracts under the provisions of the act of June 4, 1954 (68 Stat. 173; 42 U. S. C. 869) and the regulations thereunder (Part 254 of this chapter).

(e) Conveyance to local governing bodies of tracts set apart for streets, alleys, or other public purposes under the regulations of § 119.10.

§ 119.7 Sales to persons claiming a legal or equitable interest. (a) Subparagraph 2 (a) (2) of the act authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to relinquish any tract of Choctaw-Chickasaw lands to any person having a legal or equitable interest therein.

(b) To qualify under subparagraph 2 (a) (2) of the act, a claim of legal or equitable interest must rest on uncertainty as to the title to the tract applied for, resulting from such things as inadequate surveys, judgments, decrees, or orders of condemnation in court proceedings in which the United States did not consent to be a party to the suit, or otherwise. No such claim will be recognized if it is based solely on a lease or permit from the Bureau of Land Management or its predecessors in interest to the lands.

(c) Any individual, group, or corporation which believes it has a legal or equitable interest in one or more tracts of Choctaw-Chickasaw lands may make an application therefor by filing, in duplicate, an application captioned "Claim of legal or equitable interest in Choctaw-Chickasaw lands" with the Manager of the land office at Santa Fe, New Mexico. No particular form of application is required but it must be typewritten or in legible handwriting and signed by the applicant. Every application must be accompanied by a filing fee of $10 which will be nonreturnable. The application must contain a description of the land claimed sufficiently complete to identify the location, boundary, and area of the land and, if possible, the approximate description or location of the land by section, township, and range. It must contain the full name and full post-office address of the claimant. It must also contain a full statement showing the basis for the claim of legal or equitable interest in the lands. The applicant may be called upon to submit documentary or other evidence in support of his claim. Valuable documents submitted by the applicant will be returned to him.

(d) The applicant will be required to publish once a week for four consecutive weeks, at his expense, in a designated newspaper and in a designated form, a notice allowing all persons claiming the land adversely to file with the land office at Santa Fe, New Mexico, their objections to the issuance of a relinquishment under the application. A protestant must serve on the applicant a copy of the objections and furnish evidence of such service. The applicant must file a statement of the publisher, accompanied by a copy of the notice published, showing that publication had been had for the required time.

(e) The land applied for will be appraised on the basis of its fair market value at the time of appraisal. However, in determination of the price payable by the applicant, value resulting from improvements by the applicant or his predecessors in interest will be deducted from the appraised price, and consideration will be given to the equities of the applicant. In no case will the land be sold for less than a total of $10.

(f) Applicants will be required to make payment of the sale price of the land and for the cost of survey, if any, within the time stated in the request for payment.

§ 119.8 Sales to occupants. (a) Subparagraph 2 (b) of the act authorizes the Secretary of the Interior, in selling any tract of Choctaw-Chickasaw lands, to grant a preference right of purchase to any occupant of the tract who has, or whose predecessors in interest have, lawfully and continuously occupied the tract for home, business, or school purposes since April 30, 1949 or earlier.

(b) Before offering any tract at public sale, the land office manager at Santa Fe, New Mexico, will give any such occupant an opportunity to purchase the tract at its fair market value as appraised by the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management. In the event the occupant elects to purchase the tract, he will be required to comply with the requirements of § 119.7 (d) and (f). In the event the occupant elects not to purchase the tract, the land office manager will give the occupant an appropriate period within which the occupant, in the occupant's discretion, may remove improvements on the tract constructed by him or his predecessors in interest or elect to receive compensation for such improvements from the successful purchaser of the tract in an amount equal to the appraised value of the improvements as determined by the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management.

§ 119.9 Public and subsequent private sales. (a) Subparagraph 2 (a) (1) of the act authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to sell tracts of Choctaw-Chickasaw lands at public sale to the highest responsible bidder, or at private sale.

(b) Upon request of any interested party or upon his own motion, the manager of the land office at Santa Fe, New Mexico, may subject to the regulations in this Part, expose to sale at public auction tracts of Choctaw-Chickasaw lands at not less than their fair market value as appraised by the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management.

(c) The manager will cause a notice of sale to be published and posted consistent with the requirements of Part 250 of this chapter. The successful purchaser of a tract will be required to reimburse the Government for the cost of publication of such notices, or if more than one successful purchaser is involved, the several purchasers will be required to pay their proportionate share of such costs determined on an acreage basis.

(d) The land will be offered for sale at public auction, at not less than its appraised value, at the time and place fixed in the public notice. Bids may be made by the principal or his agent, either personally at the sale or by mail. Bids sent by mail will be considered only if received at the place and prior to the hour fixed in the notice of the sale. Sealed bids must be accompanied by certified checks, post office money orders, bank drafts, or cashiers' checks for the amounts of the bids and must be enclosed in sealed envelopes which must be marked as prescribed in the notice of sale. In the event that two or more bids sent by mail are identical in amount, they will be considered in the award of the lands in the order of their receipt as shown by the hour and date noted on the envelope.

(e) At the close of bidding, owners in fee simple of lands contiguous to the offered tract, providing that they or their agents are present at the sale, will be granted a preference right of purchase by offering at the sale to meet the highest bid for such tract. In the event two or more preference claimants offer to meet the highest bid and in the absence of an agreement among them as to the award of the lands, the award will be determined through drawing.

(f) An awardee of a tract at public sale will be granted a reasonable time in which to pay the purchase price of the lands, the cost of publication, the cost of survey, if any, and the value of the improvements of the former occupant of the lands, if any, and if he is a preference claimant, to submit proof of his ownership in fee simple of lands adjoining the offered tract. Such proof must consist of (1) a certificate of the local recorder of deeds or an authorized abstracter, or (2) an abstract of title or a certificate of title prepared and certified by a title company or by an abstracting company, showing that the claimant owns adjoining land in fee simple at the date of the sale. After a case has been closed, the data filed pursuant to this section may be returned. In the event that the awardee does not submit within the time specified the amounts requested or the proof of ownership, the lands will be awarded under the same conditions to the drawee next in order, if any, or to the next highest bidder, if any.

(g) Lands remaining unsold after offer at public sale, for a period of one year after date of sale, will be available, at the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management and at not less than the price at which they were appraised for the public sale, for purchase by the first qualified applicant who tenders to the Manager, Santa Fe Land Office, an amount equal to the price specified by the manager, the cost of publication, and if any, the cost of survey and the value of the improvements of the former occupant.

§ 119.10 Tracts set apart for streets, alleys, or other public purposes. (a) Subsection 3 (b) of the act provides that upon the filing of an application by an appropriate local governing body within two years after the date of this part, the Secretary of the Interior may relinquish or convey by quit claim deed to such body, without compensation, the surface rights to any tract of the Choctaw-Chickasaw lands which, prior to the transfer of title to the United States, was set apart for streets, alleys, or public purposes, even though not legally dedicated for such purposes.

(b) No particular form of application is required. Applications, however, must be filed, in duplicate, and must contain the following:

(1) An accurate description of the lands requested to be conveyed.

(2) A reference to the action by means of which the lands were set apart for streets, alleys, or public purposes.

(3) A statement showing the authority of the applicant to act on behalf of the local governing body.

(c) Every application must be accompanied by a $10 filing fee which will be nonreturnable.

(d) No conveyance will be made under Subsection 3 (b) of the act unless the local governing body pays within the period specified by the Manager of the Land Office at Santa Fe, New Mexico, the cost of the survey of the lands, if any.

§ 119.11 Reservations in deeds. Deeds for Choctaw-Chickasaw lands disposed of under the regulations in this Part will contain any provision the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management deems necessary in order to protect the rights of the holders of existing interests in the lands, or to permit access to any of the lands in which the Federal Government retains an interest.

§ 119.12 Contributions and donations of money, services, and property. (a) Section 6 of the act authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to accept contributions or donations of money, services, and property to further the provisions of the act.

(b) Contributions and donations may be offered to the Manager of the Land Office at Santa Fe, New Mexico.

(c) Amounts of money contributed in excess of their appropriate share of expenses as determined by the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management, will be refunded to contributors.

§ 119.13 Appeals. An appeal pursuant to the rules of practice, Part 221 of this chapter, may be taken from the decision of any officer of the Bureau of Land Management.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

Chapter I—Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior

PART 32—SOUTHWESTERN REGION

SUBPART—NATIONAL ELK REFUGE, WYOMING

FISHING

Basis and purpose. On the basis of observations and reports of field representatives of the Fish and Wildlife Service, it has been determined that fishing can be permitted at certain times and in certain additional areas of the National Elk Refuge, Wyoming, without interfering with the primary purpose of the refuge.

Inasmuch as the following regulation is a relaxation of existing restrictions applicable to the National Elk Refuge, notice and public procedure thereon are not required (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.).

Effective immediately upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, § 32.112 is revised to read as follows:

§ 32.112 Waters open to fishing. The waters of the Gros Ventre River within the refuge boundary and the waters of the tributary streams of the said river in Sections 16, 17, and 18, T. 42 N., R. 115 W., 6th P. M., as posted by the refuge officer in charge shall be open to noncommercial fishing at the times and for the species permitted by State law and regulation.

(b) The waters of Flat Creek, from approximately the center of the SE¼ of Sec. 15, T. 41 N., R. 116 W., northward and eastward with the creek to the boundary line of the refuge at the SE¼ of Sec. 34, T. 42 N., R. 115 W., shall be open to hook-and-line fishing as defined by State law during the period August 1 to September 30, inclusive, of each year for such species as may be legally taken under State law and regulation.

(c) No other waters of the refuge are open to fishing.

(Sec. 10, 45 Stat. 1224; 16 U. S. C. 715i)

Dated: August 2, 1956.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Indian Affairs

[25 CFR Part 130]

OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGES

SAN CARLOS INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, ARIZONA

Pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act of June 11, 1946 (60 Stat. 238), and by virtue of authority delegated by the Secretary of the Interior to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, September 14, 1946 (11 F. R. 10297), and by virtue of the authority delegated by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs to the Area Director (Bureau Order No. 551, Amendment No. 1; 16 F. R. 5456–7), notice is hereby given of the intention to modify paragraph (a) of § 130.63 Assessments, joint works of Title 25, Code of Federal Regulations, dealing with operation and maintenance assessments against the irrigable lands of the San Carlos Irrigation Project, Arizona, by increasing the annual basic assessment from $120,000 to $135,000 per annum and the rate of assessment from $1.20 per acre to $1.35 per acre for each acre of land. The revised paragraph will read as follows:

§ 130.63 Assessments, joint works. (a) Pursuant to the act of Congress approved June 7, 1924 (43 Stat. 476), and supplementary acts, and the repayment contracts of June 8, 1931, as amended, between the United States and the San Carlos Irrigation and Drainage District, and in accordance with applicable provisions of the order of the Secretary of the Interior of June 15, 1938 (§§ 130.69a to 130.69m), the cost of the operation and maintenance of the Joint Works of the San Carlos Indian Irrigation Project for the fiscal year 1953 is estimated to be $135,000 and the rate of assessment for the said fiscal year and subsequent fiscal years until further order, is hereby fixed at $1.35 for each acre of land.

The foregoing changes are to become effective for the fiscal year 1958 and continue thereafter until further notice; the assessment for that part payable by the San Carlos Irrigation and Drainage District being due in advance of such fiscal year on March 1; for that part payable for the 50,000 acres of Indian land will be as provided in §§ 130.110 to 130.116 inclusive of 25 CFR.

Interested persons are hereby given opportunity to participate in preparing the proposed amendments by submitting their views and data or argument in writing to F. M. Haverland, Area Director, Phoenix Area Office, P. O. Box 7007, Phoenix, Arizona, within twenty (20) days from date of publication of this notice of intention in the daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER.

F. M. HAVERLAND,
Area Director.

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER AMENDING THE ORDER

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the act and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of the recommended decision of the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order amending the order, regulating the handling of milk in the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area. Interested parties may file written exceptions to the decision with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 10th day after publication of this decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. The hearing on the record of which the proposed marketing agreement and order was formulated, was conducted at Louisville, Kentucky on February 27–28, 1956, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued on February 7, 1956 (21 F. R. 955):

The material issues relate to:

1. A change in the classification and pricing of skim milk and butterfat used for cottage cheese, aerated cream, ice cream, ice cream mix, frozen desserts, in fluid milk products disposed of to soda fountains, restaurants and food manufacturing establishments and in inventory of fluid milk products at the end of the month.

2. A change in the time of announcement of basic and Class I milk prices, and the Class I butterfat differential and in the list of condenseries used in computing the basic formula price.

3. Revision of the dates for filing reports by handlers, payments, and for announcement of the uniform price by the market administrator.

4. A provision for partial payments to producers for milk delivered during the first 15 days of the month.

5. Provision for written authorization by producer relative to hauling deductions.

6. Revision and clarification of certain definitions and of other provisions relating to the classification, reporting and accounting for milk.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on the material issues are based upon the evidence in the record:

(1) The provisions of the order relative to the classification and pricing of milk should be revised.

Producers proposed to change the classification from Class II milk to Class I milk all skim milk and butterfat used to produce cottage cheese, aerated cream and cream mixtures and fluid milk products disposed of to soda fountains, restaurants, bakeries, candy and soup manufacturers. They also proposed that skim milk and butterfat used to produce ice cream and ice cream mix be priced on a year-round basis by the butter-nonfat solids pricing formula which now determines prices for Class II milk during the months of September through December. Handlers on the other hand, argued that no change should be made in the present classification scheme and proposed that the Class II price be lowered by determining such price on the basis of the average paying price of seven local manufacturing plants each month of the year.

It is concluded that the pricing of skim milk and butterfat used to produce products presently included in the Class II milk classification should be refined. This should be accomplished by providing for Class II, Class III–A and Class III milk. Class II milk should include skim milk and butterfat (1) used to produce cottage cheese and aerated cream; and (2) contained in inventory of fluid milk products on hand at the end of the month. Class III–A milk should include skim milk and butterfat used to produce ice cream, ice cream mix, eggnog and frozen desserts. Class III milk should include all skim milk and butterfat (1) used to produce any dairy product not specified in Class I, Class II or Class III–A milk; (2) disposed of in bulk to food manufacturing establishments which do not dispose of fluid milk products; (3) disposed of for livestock feed and (4) plant shrinkage. No change should be made in the present Class I definition, however, the proposed change in the other classes will result in classifying as Class I milk all fluid milk products disposed of by handlers to soda fountains, restaurants and other food establishments which use or dispose of fluid milk products for fluid consumption.

The method of pricing skim milk and butterfat in the new Class III–A classification (ice cream, eggnog and frozen desserts) in each month of the year should be the same as is now used in pricing milk in such uses during the September–December period. The Class II price which applies to milk used for cottage cheese and aerated cream should be the Class III–A price plus 30 cents with a butterfat differential equal to .125 times the Chicago butter price. The present method of pricing skim milk and butterfat in other manufacturing uses, for livestock feed and shrinkage should continue to apply to such uses (redefined as Class III milk).

All fluid milk products disposed of by handlers to soda fountains, restaurants and other food establishments which dispose of fluid milk products to consumers should be priced at the Class I price the same as other fluid products disposed of on retail or wholesale routes. Such milk for fluid consumption must meet the "Grade A" health requirements. It is not administratively feasible to verify classification of milk in accordance with the use of particular lots of milk at such establishments which may be permitted by health regulations to use both Grade A and ungraded milk. Milk disposed of to food processing establishments which are permitted to use ungraded milk in their operations and from which no milk is disposed of for fluid consumption, should be classified as Class III milk.

Class II and Class III–A milk as herein proposed is comprised of milk and milk products which have common characteristics from the standpoints of perishability and competitive factors which are somewhat different from the products included in either Class I milk or Class III milk. Most of the Class II and III–A milk products may be stored somewhat longer than the items which constitute Class I milk but are more perishable than the products included in Class III milk. The products included in these classes provide preferred, or higher valued outlets for milk than the products and uses in Class III milk. A high quality raw milk or milk product is necessary for all Class II and III–A uses and is more essential than in the case of most Class III uses.

After July 1956, the Jefferson County, Kentucky, Health Department will require that cottage cheese and aerated cream mixtures be made from inspected milk. Effective January 1957, this will also be true for cottage cheese for sale in the New Albany and Jeffersonville, Indiana, communities of the marketing area. It is important, therefore, that these Class II milk products should contribute, with other fluid milk products to the extent that competitive conditions will permit, to the increased cost of getting the year-round supply of inspected milk produced for the market.

A Class I classification and pricing, as proposed by producers, for milk used for cottage cheese, however, is not justified on the basis of the record evidence. Although inspected milk generally is being used for this product and will be required by the health departments, it has to compete with the use of nonfat dry milk solids or cheese curd from more distant Grade A sources. Because of the concentrated nature of cottage cheese as compared with milk supplied for fluid use, outlying plants that are qualified from a health standpoint to supply inspected milk to the marketing area can ship cottage cheese into the market at a considerable saving under the cost of shipping whole milk which would be required for the processing of such product. The classification and pricing of milk used in cottage cheese as Class I milk would increase the price appreciably above the level at which it can be, and sometimes is, obtained elsewhere in processed form. To do so would place an undue burden upon the marketing of producer milk at this time with possible disruptive effects upon the market.

Handlers need a reserve supply of Grade A milk to meet day to day fluctuations in receipts of milk and sales of fluid milk products. This necessary reserve supply which normally must be transported to the market is used by handlers in their city plants in products requiring high quality milk, primarily cottage cheese and ice cream.

Except for the inspected milk requirement applying to skim milk and butterfat used for cottage cheese and aerated cream, similar factors relating to competitive conditions, requirement of high quality milk, and a preferred or high valued outlet for milk on a year-round basis, also applies to skim milk and butterfat used for ice cream, eggnog and frozen desserts.

For the foregoing reasons it is concluded that skim milk and butterfat used for these products should be priced somewhat higher than Class III milk, which is considered primarily outlets for unneeded seasonal reserve or distress milk. The butter-nonfat dry milk formula of the basic formula price should be applied on a year-round basis for Class III–A milk. This will result in reasonable and more economic pricing of skim milk and butterfat used in ice cream and related products. Further, it is concluded that the Class II price should be 30 cents higher than Class III–A price with a butterfat differential the same as for Class I milk. This change in pricing milk used for cottage cheese and aerated cream will reflect the recent changes in inspection requirements and will contribute to the increased cost of getting inspected milk produced. It also will result in reasonable prices to handlers for milk for such uses in view of competitive sales conditions and costs of such products from alternative sources.

Based upon prices in the record for the year 1955, the change in pricing of milk in products in Class III–A milk will result in an increase of about 30 cents per hundredweight for milk of 3.8 percent butterfat during the period January through August. Since the butterfat differential is increased from 1.15 to 1.20 during this period, the proposed change will result in increasing the price of skim milk in such uses approximately 19 cents per hundredweight and butterfat 3 cents per pound. During the period September through December there will be no change.

Based upon 1955 prices, the proposed method of pricing Class II milk at 30 cents above the Class III–A price will result in increasing the price of 3.8 percent milk used in cottage cheese and aerated cream 30 cents per hundredweight September through December and 60 cents per hundredweight January through August. When considering the proposed butterfat differential, the price for skim milk will be increased approximately 19 cents per hundredweight during September through December and butterfat approximately 3 cents per pound. During other months of the year the price of skim milk will be increased approximately 37 cents per hundredweight and the price of butterfat approximately 6 cents per pound:

A proposal by handlers to apply the average of prices paid by seven local manufacturing plants as the basis for pricing milk in all manufacturing uses on a year-round basis should be denied.

This would result in reducing the price for Class III milk as proposed herein approximately 30 cents per hundredweight during the months of September through December. The record fails to support a reduction in the prices paid for milk for manufacturing purposes during this period.

Under the proposed classification structure, Class III milk products are essentially outlets for seasonal reserve or "distress" supplies of milk. To promote the most efficient utilization of the over-all market supply of inspected milk, the monthly prices for milk used in the various manufacturing products should be as high as is economically feasible and yet make it possible for handlers to purchase the year-round output of producer milk. Too low a Class III price throughout the year will encourage the procurement of Grade A milk by handlers to engage in such manufacturing operations at the expense of the marketwide pool. The recommended method of pricing Class III milk at the butter nonfat dry milk solids formula price identical with the Class III–A price during the months of September through December, the months of lowest milk production, will encourage producers and handlers to make milk available to those handlers who may need the milk for Class I disposition. This method of pricing will also reflect the preferred outlets which are available for reserve milk when such milk is in short supply during this season of the year.

The proposed changes in the pricing of producer's milk will tend to promote more efficient utilization of the market supply, provide reasonable prices to handlers for milk in accordance with its use and provide returns to producers which more nearly reflect the utilization value of their milk.

2. The time for announcement of the Class I milk price and butterfat differential should be advanced one month and the list of condenseries used in computing the basic formula price should be revised.

Handlers proposed that Class I milk prices should be based on the basic formula price for the preceding month. This would permit the announcement of the minimum Class I milk price early in the month and handlers would know what their Class I milk would cost a month earlier than under the current order provision. Producers, likewise, would have advance information on Class I milk prices. This procedure of announcing Class I prices is followed in a large number of the markets under Federal orders. It is concluded, therefore, that the price for Class I milk per hundredweight should be the basic formula price for the preceding month plus the present differential of $1.25.

The list of condenseries used in determining the basic formula price should be revised to include prices reported for those plants currently operating. Since the order was last amended, operations at two of the plants previously listed have been terminated. The following plants, therefore, should be eliminated from the list in § 946.50 (c): Carnation Company, Berlin, Wisconsin and Carnation Company, Chilton, Wisconsin.

3. The date for filing reports by handlers and the dates for announcement of the uniform price and for notifying handlers of their pool obligations should be delayed two days.

Handlers proposed changing the dates for the filing of reports from the "5th" to the "7th" of the month. Corresponding changes were also proposed in the dates for announcement of the uniform price by the market administrator, for notification to handlers of their pool obligations and for the payment of handler obligations under the order. Handlers now have difficulty in completing and filing their reports with the market administrator by the 5th of the month, particularly for those months when the last day falls on a week-end. The market administrator likewise has difficulty in computing the pool and announcing the uniform price and in notifying handlers of their pool obligations by the 10th and 11th of the month, respectively. It is concluded that handlers' suggestions with respect to reports, announcement of the uniform price, and notification of pool obligations be adopted. These changes are necessary to accommodate the problems which now are being encountered. The other changes proposed and adopted herein are primarily conforming changes, and are necessary to provide a workable schedule for price announcements, reports and payments under the order.

4. Provision should be made for partial payment to producers for their deliveries of milk during the first 15 days of the month. Producers proposed that handlers be required to make partial payments by the end of the month for milk received from producers during the first 15 days of the month. At present, many producers do not get paid for their deliveries of milk until as much as six weeks later. One handler opposed the proposal for partial payments on the basis that more capital would be required to conduct his business. His testimony showed that other suppliers of goods and services such as his labor force are paid weekly. A number of his producers are presently advanced money prior to the final payment for their milk. Producers of ungraded milk in the Louisville area generally are paid for their milk twice a month. It is not unreasonable to expect handlers to pay producers of Grade A milk twice a month. Dairying is becoming more specialized in the Louisville area. The average production per farm has continued upward for a number of years. This trend calls for the use of additional capital in financing production and marketing operations. A provision for partial payments would provide uniform payment methods for all producers and would assist producers in meeting their current obligations.

It is concluded, therefore, that handlers should make partial payments by the end of the month for receipts of producer milk during the first 15 days of the month. To provide a relatively simple and efficient method of payment, such partial payments should be made at the Class III price for the preceding month with no adjustment for butterfat differentials or for the cost of hauling the milk. Partial payments should not be required on milk received from producers who discontinue shipments during the month. Such accounts should be determined at the time of final payment.

5. Specific provision should be made for written authorization in the case of deductions for hauling.

Hauling costs properly chargeable to a producer include only the cost of transporting the producer's milk from his farm to the pool plant of the handler at which the minimum class prices apply. It has been a common practice for handlers to deduct such charges from amounts otherwise payable to the producer and to remit amounts so deducted to the hauler for the account of the producer. This is a voluntary service done by the handler irrespective of whether it is done because the producer so requests or whether he acquiesces in the practice. Since the obligation is that of the individual producer and the payment when made to the hauler is for the account of the producer and not of the handler, this practice, to the extent that it continues, should be strictly in accord with authorization of the person having the obligation, i. e., the producer. And if there should be a disagreement as to the amount to be paid for hauling or whether the hauler will continue to haul the milk, it is a matter to be worked out between the producer or his agent, and the hauler.

A necessary corollary to the sanction of such a practice under a milk order is that the obligation of the handler to the producer in the amount of any and all deductions made from payments at the uniform price pursuant to a producer's authorization is that the sums so deducted are actually paid over to the person in whose favor the authorization is made. A deduction made without proper remittance to the assignee would constitute an underpayment by the handler.

Producers proposed that the rate per hundredweight, or other method of computing hauling charges, should be authorized in writing by each producer, and all other charges should be supported by records in such form as to permit proper verification thereof. Producers testified that changes in hauling rates of deduction had been made to which producers had never agreed. They stated that provision for a signed authorization by each producer would eliminate changes in the hauling rate without prior approval of the producer. It also would assist the market administrator in verifying authorized hauling deductions in connection with payments to producers under the terms of the order.

It is concluded that to facilitate verification of authorized hauling deductions and assure proper payments to producers, provision should be made to require each handler to have, and make available to the market administrator for audit purposes, written authorizations from his producers regarding the rate per hundredweight or other method for computing hauling charges on such producer milk.

6. In view of the proposed changes heretofore discussed and the need for a number of additional definitions and other changes in order language to set forth more explicitly the reporting and accounting techniques of the order, it is concluded that the entire order should be redrafted and reissued. This will involve the inclusion of a new definition of "fluid milk product", and "route", and changes in the definitions of "producer", "producer milk" and "other source milk".

"Fluid milk product" should be defined to mean milk, skim milk, buttermilk, milk drinks (plain or flavored), cream, or any mixture in fluid form of skim milk and cream (except eggnog, storage cream, aerated cream products, ice cream mix, evaporated or condensed milk, and sterilized products packaged in hermetically sealed containers). Such definition is useful in defining other categories of milk and is a short, convenient term for referring to a category of milk in drafting other definitions and the classification, allocation, and transfer provisions of the order.

The definition of "producer" and "producer milk" should be clarified to set forth explicitly the intent of these definitions to exclude the milk of a producer-handler and to limit the term "producer milk", only to milk received directly from a producer at a pool plant or diverted by the operator of a pool plant or a cooperative association for their own accounts.

A "route" definition should be included in the order to facilitate the drafting of other definitions and to make it clear that the term refers not only to disposition of milk from fluid milk plants directly through retail and wholesale outlets, but also includes sales by milk distributors through vendors.

"Other source milk" should be defined as all skim milk and butterfat contained in fluid milk products utilized by the handler in his pool plant operation, except producer milk and fluid milk products and Class II milk products received from other pool plants. Thus, other source milk as such would represent skim milk and butterfat which is not subject to the pricing provisions of the order. It will include all fluid milk products and all manufactured dairy products from plants other than pool plants which are repackaged, reprocessed or converted into another product during the month. It will include also those Class III manufactured products from another pool plant or from the pool plant's own production which are made and are reprocessed or converted into another product in the plant during the same or a later month. It will not include transfers of fluid milk products or Class II milk and milk products between pool plants. The proposed change in the definition of other source milk is necessary to set forth more specifically in the order the milk products which handlers are required to report each month and enters into the accounting and classification of current receipts of producer milk. This method of defining other source milk will clarify the application of the transfer and allocation provisions of the order so as to insure the intent of the order to allocate current receipts of producer milk to the highest valued class usage available at the pool plant(s) of the handler during the month.

By incorporating the above definitions and some minor changes in the reporting sections of the order, the order will be clear in providing categories of milk which are required to be reported and handled separately to arrive at the classification and pricing of current receipts of producer milk. Thus, milk will be dealt with in the following four categories: producer milk, other source milk, milk from other handlers, and inventories of fluid milk products.

Inventories of fluid milk products must be taken into account in establishing the classification of producer milk. The present order makes no reference to inventories in the classification provisions. Inventories on hand at the end of the month should be classified in Class II milk as heretofore stated. It would make no difference in costs to handlers or returns to producers under the provisions of the proposed order if inventory were handled in some other class; however, the accounting and reclassification procedure will be simplified by accounting for inventory in Class II milk. Inventory should be limited to stocks on hand of fluid milk products such as bulk milk, skim milk and cream, and bottled milk and other fluid milk products which are finally disposed of as Class I milk. Processed products in Class II, III-A and Class III milk should not be included in inventory since the milk used to produce such products will have been accounted for in the proper class when such products were made. Handlers, however, will need to maintain adequate records on the stocks of such products and make such reports as are required by the market administrator to verify their use by the handler and to facilitate the market administrator's auditing program.

Because inventories of fluid items are to be accounted for in Class II, as a temporary classification, it is necessary to provide a method for handling milk from inventory which is utilized in the current month for Class I purposes, but which the handler accounted for in Class II at the end of the preceding month. Handlers frequently use other source milk in their operations. The procedure for accounting for inventories should provide that producer milk from inventory should have prior claim on Class I milk over receipts of other source milk in the same manner as current receipts of producer milk. This should be accomplished through the accounting procedure by considering the opening inventory of a month as a receipt in the same month and subtracting such receipt (under allocation procedure), in series, starting with Class II milk, following the subtraction of other source milk. To the extent that the opening inventory is allocated to Class I and there was an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat in producer milk classified in Class II milk in the previous month (after allocating other source milk) a reclassification charge should be made at the difference between the Class II price in the previous month and the Class I price in the current month. Handled in this manner, milk from inventory will be priced to handlers identically with milk derived from current receipts of producer milk during the month. Other source milk from inventory allocated to Class I milk should be subject to the reclassification charge at the same rate as the compensatory payment on current receipts of other source milk allocated to Class I milk. These inventory provisions will result in equality of cost of milk among handlers and returns to producers irrespective of whether or not such milk is from opening inventory or is a current receipt.

Producers proposed that classification of shrinkage on other source milk in the lowest priced class be limited to two percent. They contended that the present provisions of the order result in an unjustified amount of shrinkage in the lowest priced class and is inconsistent with the method of determining allowable shrinkage on producer milk. To allow unlimited shrinkage on other source milk and limit shrinkage on producer milk, provides a basis for inequality in the cost of milk among handlers who use other source milk and those who do not. Under the present accounting procedure, the use of other source milk may result in a lower classification of some producer milk under circumstances where substantial amounts of milk are unaccounted for and the handler has received other source milk. For these reasons, the provisions for shrinkage and unaccounted for skim milk and butterfat should be revised to limit shrinkage on other source milk that may be classified as Class III milk to two percent of receipts of other source fluid milk products consistent with that pertaining to producer milk. The entire unaccounted for milk provision also should be rewritten to clarify and simplify the order language.

The present order, under § 946.22 (j), provides authorization for the market administrator to report to each cooperative association the percentage in each class of the producer milk caused to be delivered by the cooperative association or by its members to each handler during the month. To accomplish such reports, provision is made for assigning such milk in each class in the same ratio as milk received from all producers by such handler during the month. The producers proposed that the present report provisions be expanded to include the relationship of total producer receipts in each handler's plant(s) to his total Class I sales, excluding transfers or diversions of milk to other pool plants and to nonpool plants.

Handlers stated on the record that they had no objections to the inclusion of such additional information.

It is concluded that § 946.22 (j) should be revised to provide for the additional information requested by the producers' association. Such a provision is needed to provide the producers' association more information on the utilization of producer milk in particular plants and will assist the association in supplying producer milk to the plants which are in need of additional milk to supply the Class I needs of the market. This will promote the orderly marketing of producer milk.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, amending the order, as amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices for milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order amending the order, as amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed order amending the order, as amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs were filed on behalf of interested parties in the market. The briefs contained suggested findings of fact, conclusions, and argument with respect to the proposals discussed at the hearing. Every point covered in the briefs was carefully considered along with the evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. To the extent that such suggested findings and conclusions contained in the briefs are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein, the request to make such findings or to reach such conclusions is denied.

Recommended marketing agreement and order. The following amended order is recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which these conclusions may be carried out. The proposed marketing agreement is not included in this decision because the regulatory provisions thereof would be the same as those contained in the order, as amended, and as proposed here to be further amended.

DEFINITIONS

§ 946.1. Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.).

§ 946.2 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture or any other officer or employee of the United States authorized to exercise the powers or to perform the duties pursuant to the act of the said Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 946.3 Department. "Department" means the United States Department of Agriculture or other Federal agency authorized to perform the price reporting functions specified in this subpart.

§ 946.4 Person. "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

§ 946.5 Cooperative association. "Cooperative association" means any cooperative marketing association of producers which the Secretary determines:

(a) To be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act"; and

(b) To have full authority in the sale of milk of its members and to be engaged in making collective sales of or marketing milk or its products for its members.

§ 946.6 Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area. "Louisville, Kentucky marketing area," hereinafter called the "marketing area," means the territory within Jefferson County, Kentucky, including but not being limited to the City of Louisville, the Fort Knox Military Reservation; the territory within Floyd County, Indiana, including but not being limited to all municipal corporations in said county; and the territory within the townships of Jeffersonville, Utica, Silver Creek, Union, and Charleston, in Clark County, Indiana.

§ 946.7 City plant. "City plant" means the building and facilities, except those of a producer-handler, which are used during the month in the processing and packaging of producer milk and from which not less than 10 percent of such milk is distributed in the container in which packaged from delivery routes or plant stores as Class I milk in the marketing area: Provided, That such building and facilities shall include any portion thereof which is used during the month in the processing of producer milk for any use.

§ 946.8 Country plant. "Country plant" means the building and facilities, except those of a city plant, which are used during the month in the receipt of milk from dairy farmers who held dairy farm inspection permits issued by the appropriate health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area and which are approved by such health authority to furnish milk to a city plant for use as Class I milk: Provided, That such building and facilities shall include any portion thereof which is used during the month in the processing of producer milk for any use.

§ 946.9 Pool plant. "Pool plant" means:

(a) A city plant;

(b) A country plant during the period of October through March for each month in which not less than 10 percent of its receipts from dairy farmers who hold dairy farm inspection permits issued by the appropriate health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area is delivered to a city plant in the form of milk, skim milk, or cream; or

(c) A country plant during the months of April through September from which more than 50 percent of its combined receipts from dairy farmers, who held dairy farm inspection permits issued by the appropriate health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area, during the preceding period of October through February were delivered to one or more city plants in the form of milk, skim milk or cream, unless the operator of such plant notifies the market administrator in writing on or before March 15th of withdrawal of the plan from the pool for the months of April through September next following.

§ 946.10 Nonpool plant. "Nonpool plant" means any milk manufacturing, processing or bottling plant other than a pool plant.

§ 946.11 Handler. "Handler" means:

(a) Any person in his capacity as the operator of one or more pool plants;

(b) A producer-handler;

(c) Any cooperative association with respect to milk of producers which it causes to be diverted to a nonpool plant for the account of such cooperative association; or

(d) Any person, other than a producer-handler, in his capacity as operator of a nonpool plant used during the month for the processing and packaging of milk any portion of which is disposed of in the marketing area as Class I milk from delivery routes or plant stores.

§ 946.12 Producer. "Producer" means any person, except a producer-handler, who produces, under a dairy farm inspection permit issued to such person by the appropriate health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area (as used in this subpart, "dairy farm inspection permit" shall include approval of milk by the authority to administer regulations governing the quality of milk acceptable to agencies of the United States Government for fluid consumption in its institutions or bases located in the marketing area), which is received at a plant from which any portion of such milk is disposed of to such institutions or bases in the container in which packaged as Class I milk), milk which is:

(a) Delivered from his farm to a pool plant;

(b) Diverted from a pool plant to another pool plant or a nonpool plant: Provided, That such milk so diverted shall be deemed to have been received at the pool plant from which it was diverted: And provided further, That this definition shall not include during any of the months of October through February, any person whose milk was diverted to a nonpool plant for more than one-half of the days of such month; or

(c) Diverted by a cooperative association to a nonpool plant for the account of the cooperative association: Provided, That any such milk so diverted shall be deemed to have been received by the cooperative association.

§ 946.13 Producer milk. "Producer milk" means all skim milk and butterfat contained in milk (a) received at the pool plant directly from producers, or (b) diverted from a pool plant in accordance with the conditions set forth in § 946.12.

§ 946.14 Other source milk. "Other source milk" means all skim milk and butterfat contained in:

(a) Receipts during the month in the form of fluid milk products except (1) fluid milk products received from pool plants, or (2) producer milk; and

(b) Products other than fluid milk products from any source (including those produced at the plant) except Class II and Class III–A products from pool plants, which are repackaged, reprocessed or converted to another product in the plant during the month.

§ 946.15 Producer-handler. "Producer-handler" means any person who processes and packages milk from his own farm production, distributing any portion of such milk within the marketing area as Class I milk and who receives no milk from producers.

§ 946.16 Chicago butter price. "Chicago butter price" means the simple average as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) per pound of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamy butter at Chicago as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month.

§ 946.17 Fluid milk product. "Fluid milk product" means milk, skim milk, buttermilk, milk drinks (plain or flavored), cream, or any mixture in fluid form of skim milk and cream (except storage cream, aerated cream products, ice cream mix, evaporated or condensed milk, and sterilized products packaged in hermetically sealed containers).

§ 946.18 Route. "Route" means the operation of a plant store or a vehicle (including that operated by a vendor) through the means of which fluid milk products are disposed of to retail or wholesale stops in the marketing area other than to a milk plant.

MARKET ADMINISTRATOR

§ 946.20 Designation. The agency for the administration of this subpart shall be a market administrator, selected by the Secretary, who shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by, and shall be subject to removal at the discretion of, the Secretary.

§ 946.21 Powers. The market administrator shall have the following powers with respect to this subpart:

(a) To administer its terms and provisions;

(b) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations;

(c) To make rules and regulations to effectuate its terms and provisions; and

(d) To recommend amendments to the Secretary.

§ 946.22 Duties. The market administrator shall perform all duties necessary to administer the terms and provisions of this subpart, including but not limited to the following:

(a) Within 45 days following the date on which he enters upon his duties, or such lesser period as may be prescribed by the Secretary, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond, effective as of the date on which he enters upon such duties and conditioned upon the faithful performance of such duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary;

(b) Employ and fix the compensation of such persons as may be necessary to enable him to administer its terms and provisions;

(c) Obtain a bond in a reasonable amount and with reasonable surety thereon covering each employee who handles funds entrusted to the market administrator;

(d) Pay out of the funds provided by § 946.88 the cost of his bond and of the bonds of his employees, his own compensation, and all other expenses (except those incurred under § 946.87) necessarily incurred by him in the maintenance and functioning of his office and in the performance of his duties;

(e) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for in this subpart, and upon request by the Secretary, surrender the same to such other person as the Secretary may designate;

(f) Submit his books and records to examination and furnish such information and reports as may be requested by the Secretary;

(g) Verify all reports and payments of each handler by audit of such handler's records and of the records of any other handler or person upon whose utilization the classification of skim milk or butterfat for such handler depends, or by such investigation as the market administrator deems necessary;

(h) Prepare and disseminate to the public such statistics and such information as he deems advisable and as do not reveal confidential information;

(i) Publicly announce, at his discretion, unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, by posting in a conspicious place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate, the name of any person who, within 5 days after the date upon which he is required to perform such acts has not made reports pursuant to §§ 946.30 through 946.32, or payments pursuant to §§ 946.80 through 946.86;

(j) On or before the 15th day after the end of each month, report to each cooperative association, which so requests, with respect to producer milk caused to be delivered by such association or by its members to each handler during the month: (1) the percentage of such receipts classified in each class; and (2) the percentage relationship of such receipts to the total pounds of Class I milk available to assign to such receipts exclusive of other source milk and exclusive of the Class I milk disposed of by such handler to the pool plant(s) of other handlers and to nonpool plants. For the purpose of these reports, the milk received from such association shall be treated on a pro rata basis of the total producer milk received by such handler during the month;

(k) Publicly announce, by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate, and notify each handler in writing the prices and butterfat differentials determined for each month as follows:

(1) On or before the 12th day after the end of each month, the minimum prices for each class of milk computed pursuant to § 946.51, and the butterfat differentials for each class computed pursuant to § 946.52; and

(2) On or before the 12th day after the end of each month, the uniform price computed pursuant to § 946.71, and the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 946.81;

(l) On or before the 13th day after the end of each month, the market administrator shall mail to each handler, at his last known address, a statement showing:

(1) The net obligation computed for such handler pursuant to § 946.70; and

(2) The amounts to be paid by such handler pursuant to §§ 946.61, 946.84, 946.87, and 946.88.

REPORTS, RECORDS, AND FACILITIES

§ 946.30 Reports of receipts and utilization. On or before the 7th day after the end of each month, each handler, except a producer handler, shall report for such month to the market administrator for each of his pool plants in the detail and on forms prescribed by the market administrator:

(a) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in receipts of producer milk (including such handler's own farm production);

(b) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in fluid milk products received from other pool plants;

(c) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in other source milk;

(d) Inventories of fluid milk products on hand at the beginning and end of the month;

(e) The utilization of all skim milk and butterfat required to be reported pursuant to this section, including a separate statement of the disposition of Class I milk other than on routes operated wholly or partially within the marketing area; and

(f) Such other information with respect to his receipts and utilization of butterfat and skim milk as the market administrator may prescribe.

§ 946.31 Payroll reports. On or before the 20th day after the end of each month, each handler shall submit to the market administrator his producer payroll for deliveries during the month which shall show (a) the total pounds of milk received from each producer and the average butterfat content of such milk, (b) the prices paid and the amount of payment to each producer, and (c) the nature and amount of any credits, deductions, or charges involved in such payments.

§ 946.32 Other reports. (a) Each producer-handler shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may prescribe.

(b) Each handler shall report to the market administrator, as soon as possible after first receiving milk from any producer, the name and address of such producer, the date upon which such milk was first received, and the plant at which such milk was received: Provided, That milk diverted to a pool plant as described in § 946.12 (b) need not be reported pursuant to this paragraph.

(c) On or before the 10th day after the request of the market administrator, such handler shall submit a schedule of rates which are charged and paid for the transportation of milk from the farm of each producer to such handler's plant. Changes in such schedule of rates and the effective dates thereof shall be reported to the market administrator within 10 days.

§ 946.33 Records and facilities. Each handler shall maintain and make available to the market administrator or to his representative during the usual hours of business such accounts, records, and reports of his operations and such facilities as are necessary for the market administrator to verify or establish the correct data with respect to:

(a) The receipts and utilization of producer milk and other source milk;

(b) The weights and tests for butterfat and other content of all milk, skim milk, cream and milk products handled;

(c) Payments to producers, including supporting records of all deductions and written authorization from each producer of the rate per hundredweight or other method for computing hauling charges on such producer milk; and

(d) The pounds of skim milk and butterfat contained in or represented by all milk, skim milk, cream and other milk products on hand at the beginning and end of each month.

§ 946.34 Retention of records. All books and records required under this subpart to be available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the calendar month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That if, within such three-year period, the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that the retention of such books and records, or of specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records, or specified records and books until further written notification from the market administrator. In either case the market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION

§ 946.40 Skim milk and butterfat to be classified. All skim milk and butterfat which is required to be reported pursuant to §§ 946.30 and 946.61 shall be classified by the market administrator pursuant to the provisions of §§ 946.41 through 946.46.

§ 946.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 946.42 through 946.44, the classes of utilization shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk. Class I milk shall be all skim milk (including concentrated or reconstituted skim milk solids) and butterfat (1) disposed of in fluid form as milk, skim milk, cream (including sour cream), buttermilk, milk drinks (plain or flavored), except skim milk and butterfat disposed of in fluid form for livestock feed; (2) disposed of as any fluid milk product which is required by the appropriate health authority in the marketing area to be made from milk, skim milk, or cream from sources approved by such authority; and (3) not accounted for as Class II, III–A or Class III milk.

(b) Class II milk. Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat the utilization of which is established as used to produce (1) cottage cheese and milk (or skim milk) and cream mixtures containing 8.0 percent or more butterfat disposed of in containers or dispensers under pressure for the purpose of dispensing a whipped or aerated product, and (2) in inventories of fluid milk products.

(c) Class III–A milk. Class III–A milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat, the utilization of which is established as used to produce ice cream, ice cream mix, eggnog and frozen desserts.

(d) Class III milk. Class III milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat, the utilization of which is established: (1) As used to produce any product other than those specified in paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, (2) as disposed of for livestock feed, (3) as disposed of in bulk to bakeries, candy or soup manufacturers, and other commercial food manufacturing establishments which do not dispose of fluid milk products, and (4) in plant shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat in receipts of producer milk and in other source milk computed pursuant to § 946.42.

§ 946.42 Unaccounted for skim milk and butterfat and plant shrinkage. Skim milk and butterfat received at a handler's pool plant(s) in excess of such handler's established utilization of skim milk and butterfat pursuant to § 946.41, except paragraphs (a) (3) and (c) (4) shall be known as unaccounted for skim milk and butterfat and classified as follows:

(a) Adjust such handler's receipts of producer milk by (1) deducting the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in producer milk diverted by such handler to a nonpool plant or to the pool plant of another handler without having been received for purposes of weighing and testing in the diverting handler's plant, (2) adding the skim milk and butterfat in producer milk received at the pool plant of such handler which was diverted from the pool plant of another handler;

(b) Prorate the quantities of unaccounted for skim milk and butterfat, respectively, between such handler's receipts of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in producer milk as computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section and in other source milk received in the form of fluid milk products in bulk;

(c) That portion of the quantities of unaccounted skim milk not to exceed five percent during the months of April through July and two percent during other months, and the quantities of butterfat not to exceed two percent in each month, of the skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in receipts of producer milk and other source milk applied pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section shall be known as "shrinkage" and classified as Class III milk: Provided, That if the quantities of skim milk and butterfat utilized and disposed of in milk and all milk products are not established by such handler all unaccounted for skim milk and butterfat prorated to receipts of producer milk pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section shall be classified as Class I milk;

(d) That portion of the quantities of unaccounted for skim milk and butterfat which is in excess of the quantities of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, classified pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section shall be classified as Class I milk.

§ 946.43 Responsibility for classification of milk. (a) All skim milk and butterfat shall be Class I milk unless the handler who first receives such skim milk or butterfat can prove to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should be classified otherwise.

(b) Any skim milk or butterfat shall be reclassified if verification by the market administrator discloses that the original classification was incorrect.

§ 946.44 Transfers. Skim milk or butterfat disposed of by a handler from a pool plant either by transfer or diversion shall be classified as follows:

(a) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of a fluid milk product to a pool plant of another handler, unless utilization in another class is mutually indicated in the reports submitted to the market administrator by both handlers pursuant to § 946.30 on or before the 7th day after the end of the month: Provided, That if upon inspection of the records of the transferee-handler it is found that an equivalent amount of skim milk or butterfat, respectively, was not actually used in such indicated use the remaining quantity shall be classified as Class I milk: And provided further, That if either or both handlers received other source milk, the skim milk or butterfat so transferred or diverted shall be classified at both plants so as to allocate the highest-priced possible class utilization to the producer milk of both handlers;

(b) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted to a producer-handler in the form of a fluid milk product;

(c) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk or skim milk in bulk to a nonpool plant located less than 185 miles from the City Hall at Louisville, Kentucky, by the shortest hard surface highway distance as determined by the market administrator, and as Class I milk if transferred in the form of fluid cream to such a plant, wherever located, unless the following conditions are met:

(1) The handler claims classification in another class on the basis of a utilization indicated in his report submitted to the market administrator pursuant to § 946.30 on or before the 7th day after the end of the month;

(2) The market administrator is permitted to audit the books and records showing the utilization of all skim milk and butterfat received at such nonpool plant; and

(3) An amount of skim milk or butterfat, respectively, not less than that so transferred or diverted was used in the indicated use: Provided, That if upon inspection of the records of the nonpool plant it is found that an equivalent amount of skim milk or butterfat, respectively, was not actually used in such indicated use the remainder shall be classified in the highest valued use classification (as described in § 946.41) in the nonpool plant; and

(d) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk or skim milk in bulk to a nonpool plant located 185 miles or more from the City Hall at Louisville, Kentucky, by shortest hard surface highway distance as determined by the market administrator.

§ 946.45 Computation of the skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each month, the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and for other obvious errors the report of receipts and utilization submitted by each handler and shall compute the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class for such handler: Provided, That if all of the water contained in the milk from which a product is made is removed before such product is disposed of by a handler, the hundredweight of skim milk disposed of in such product shall be considered to be an amount equivalent to the nonfat solids contained in such product, plus all of the water originally associated with such solids.

§ 946.46 Allocation of skim milk and butterfat classified. After making the computations pursuant to § 946.45 the market administrator shall determine the classification of producer milk received at the pool plant(s) of each handler each month as follows:

(a) Skim milk shall be allocated in the following manner:

(1) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class III milk the pounds of skim milk assigned to producer milk shrinkage pursuant to § 946.42 (c);

(2) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class, in series beginning with Class III milk, the pounds of skim milk in other source milk which are not subject to the Class I pricing provisions of an order issued pursuant to the act;

(3) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class III milk an amount equal to such remainder, or the product obtained by multiplying the pounds of skim milk in producer milk by 0.05, whichever is less;

(4) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class, in series beginning with Class III milk, the pounds of skim milk in other source milk which are subject to the Class I pricing provisions of another order issued pursuant to the act;

(5) Add to the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class III milk the pounds of skim milk subtracted pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (3) of this paragraph;

(6) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II and Class I milk, in series beginning with Class II milk, the pounds of skim milk contained in inventory of fluid milk products on hand at the beginning of the month;

(7) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class the skim milk in fluid milk products received from the pool plants of other handlers according to the classification of such products as determined pursuant to § 946.44 (a);

(8) If the remaining pounds of skim milk in all classes exceed the pounds of skim milk received in producer milk, subtract such excess from the remaining pounds of skim milk in series beginning with Class III. Any amount of excess so subtracted shall be called "overage".

(b) Butterfat shall be allocated in accordance with the same procedure prescribed for skim milk in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Determine the weighted average butterfat content of producer milk remaining in each class computed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 946.50 Basic formula price. The basic formula price to be used in determining the price per hundredweight of Class I milk shall be the highest of the prices computed pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section and subparagraph (1) of § 946.51 (b).

(a) The price per hundredweight computed by adding together the plus values pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) Add 20 percent to the Chicago butter price for the month and multiply by 3.8.

(2) From the simple average as computed by the market administrator of the weighted averages of carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk solids, spray and roller process, respectively, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area as published for the period from the 26th day of the preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the Department, deduct 5.5 cents, and multiply by 8.2.

(b) The price per hundredweight resulting from the following formula:

(1) Multiply by 8.53 the average of the daily prices per pound of cheese at Wisconsin Primary Markets ("cheddars," f. o. b. Wisconsin assembling points, cars or truckloads) as reported by the Department during the month;

(2) Add 0.902 times the Chicago butter price for the month;

(3) Subtract 34.3 cents; and

(4) Add an amount computed by multiplying the Chicago butter price for the month by 0.12 and then by 3.

(c) To the average of the basic or field prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid or to be paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department:

Companies and Location

Borden Co., Mount Pleasant, Mich.
Borden Co., New London, Wis.
Borden Co., Orfordville, Wis.
Carnation Co., Oconomowoc, Wis.
Carnation Co., Richland Center, Wis.
Carnation Co., Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Belleville, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Coopersville, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., New Glarus, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Wayland, Mich.

White House Milk Co., Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

Add an amount computed by multiplying the Chicago butter price for the month by 0.12 and then by 3.

§ 946.51 Class prices. Subject to the provisions of §§ 946.52 and 946.53, the minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler for milk of 3.8 percent butterfat content received at his pool plant(s) from producers during the month shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk. The price of Class I milk per hundredweight shall be the basic formula price for the preceding month rounded to the nearest tenth of a cent plus $1.25.

(b) Class II milk. The price for Class II milk shall be the higher of the prices computed pursuant to § 946.50 (a) and § 946.51 (d), rounded to the nearest tenth of a cent, plus 30 cents.

(c) Class III–A milk. The price for Class III–A milk shall be the higher of the prices computed pursuant to § 946.50 (a) and § 946.51 (d), rounded to the nearest tenth of a cent.

(d) Class III milk. The price of Class III milk for the months of September through December shall be the price per hundredweight computed pursuant to § 946.50 (a), or that pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, whichever is higher; and for the months of January through August the higher of the prices computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, rounded to the nearest tenth of a cent.

(1) From the average of the basic or field prices per hundredweight reported to the market administrator to have been paid or to be paid for ungraded milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at plants at the following locations:

Operator and Location

Armour Creameries, Elizabethtown, Ky.
Armour Creameries, Springfield, Ky.
Kraft Foods Co., Lawrenceburg, Ky.
Kraft Foods Co., Paoli, Ind.
Salem Cheese and Milk Co., Salem, Ind.
Red 73 Creameries, Madison, Ind.
Producers Dairy Marketing Association, Orleans, Ind.

Subtract the amount computed by multiplying the Chicago butter price for the month by 0.12 and then by 2.

(2) The price per hundredweight computed by adding together the plus values pursuant to subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph:

(i) Add 15 percent to the Chicago butter price for the month and multiply by 3.8.

(ii) From the simple average as computed by the market administrator of the weighted averages of carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk solids, roller process, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in Chicago area as published for the period from the 26th day of the preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the Department deduct 6.5 cents and multiply by 8.2.

§ 946.52 Price adjustments to handlers—(a) Butter differentials. If the weighted average butterfat content of milk received from producers allocated to Class I, Class II, Class III–A, or Class III, respectively, pursuant to § 946.46, for a handler is more or less than 3.8 percent, there shall be added to or subtracted from, as the case may be, the price for such class, for each one-tenth of one percent that such weighted average butterfat test is above or below 3.8 percent, a butterfat differential (computed to the nearest tenth of a cent), calculated for each class as follows:

(1) Class I milk and Class II milk. Multiply by 0.125 the Chicago butter price for the preceding month.

(2) Class III–A milk. Multiply the Chicago butter price for the month by 0.120.

(3) Class III milk. For the months of September through December multiply the Chicago butter price for the month by 0.12, and for the months of January through August, multiply the Chicago butter price for the month by 0.115.

§ 946.53 Transportation differential. With respect to milk received from producers at a country plant, which is moved as milk from such plant directly to a plant in the marketing area or which is disposed of as milk for Class I use outside the marketing area, the class prices per hundredweight shall be reduced at the rates set forth in the following schedule based on the shortest distance via hard surfaced highway, as determined by the market administrator, from the plant where the milk is first received from producers to City Hall in Louisville:

Mileage zone:	Rate (cents per cwt.)
Not more than 25 miles	0
More than 25 but not more than 35 miles	13
More than 35 but not more than 45 miles	15
More than 45 but not more than 55 miles	17
For each additional 10 miles or fraction thereof an additional	1

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 946.60 Producer-handlers. Sections 946.40 through 946.46, 946.50 through 946.53, 946.61, 946.70, 946.71, and 946.80 through 946.89 shall not apply to a producer-handler.

§ 946.61 Handlers operating nonpool plants. Sections 946.30 through 946.32, 946.50 through 946.53, 946.70, 946.71, 946.80 through 946.85, 946.87, and 946.88 shall not apply to a handler in his capacity as the operator of a nonpool plant described in § 946.11 (d), except that such handler shall:

(a) On or before the 7th day after the end of the month, make reports to the market administrator in such manner as he may request with respect to such handler's total receipts and utilization of skim milk and butterfat;

(b) On or before the 15th day after the end of each month, pay to the market administrator for deposit in the producer-settlement fund an amount of money computed by multiplying the quantity of Class I milk disposed of in the manner described in § 946.11 (d) by the price arrived at by subtracting from the Class I price adjusted by the Class I butterfat and transportation differentials:

(1) For the months of January through September, the Class III price adjusted by the Class III butterfat differentials; or

(2) For the months of October through December, the uniform price computed pursuant to § 946.71 adjusted by the Class I transportation differential and by a butterfat differential calculated by multiplying the total volume of producer butterfat in each class during the month by the butterfat differential for each class, dividing the resulting figure by the total butterfat in producer milk and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest one-tenth cent.

(c) On or before the 15th day after the end of the month, pay to the market administrator, as such handler's pro rata share of the expense of administration of this subpart, 3.0 cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as the Secretary may prescribe with respect to all Class I milk and all milk, skim milk, and cream used to produce Class II, Class III–A, and Class III products disposed of during the month in the marketing area in the manner described in § 946.11 (d).

§ 946.62 Plants subject to other orders. In the case of any plant from which a greater volume of Class I milk is disposed of in another marketing area regulated by another order or a marketing agreement issued pursuant to the act, than in the Louisville marketing area, the provisions of this subpart shall not apply except the handler operating such plant shall, with respect to his total receipts of skim milk and butterfat at such plant, make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require and allow verification of such reports by the market administrator.

DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICE

§ 946.70 Net obligation of each handler. The net obligation of each handler for milk received during each month from producers shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator as follows:

(a) Multiply the quantity of producer milk in each class computed pursuant to § 946.46 by the applicable class price;

(b) Add together the resulting amounts;

(c) Add the amounts computed by multiplying the pounds of overage deducted from each class pursuant to § 946.46 by the applicable class prices;

(d) Add the amount computed by multiplying the difference between the Class II price for the preceding month and the Class I price for the current month by the hundredweight of producer milk classified as Class II milk during the preceding month or the hundredweight of milk subtracted from Class I milk pursuant to § 946.46 (a) (6) and the corresponding step of § 946.46 (b), whichever is less; and

(e) Add the amount computed by multiplying the pounds of skim milk and butterfat subtracted from Class I milk pursuant to § 946.46 (a) (2) and the corresponding step of § 946.46 (b) and pursuant to § 946.46 (a) (6) and the corresponding step of § 946.46 (b) which is in excess of the skim milk and butterfat applied pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section by the price arrived at by subtracting from the Class I price adjusted by the Class I butterfat and transportation differentials;

(1) For the months of January through September, the Class III price adjusted by the Class III butterfat differential; and

(2) For the months of October through December the uniform price computed pursuant to § 946.71 adjusted by the Class I transportation differential and by a butterfat differential calculated by multiplying the total volume of producer butterfat in each class during the month by the butterfat differential for each class, dividing the resultant figure by the total butterfat in producer milk and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest one-tenth cent.

§ 946.71 Computation of uniform price. For each month the market administrator shall compute the uniform price per hundredweight of milk of 3.8 percent butterfat content received from producers as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the net obligations computed for all handlers who made the reports prescribed in § 946.30 for the month and who are not in default of payments pursuant to § 946.84 for the preceding month;

(b) Subtract, if the average butterfat content of the producer milk included in these computations is greater than 3.8 percent, or add, if such average butterfat content is less than 3.8 percent an amount computed by multiplying the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 3.8 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 946.81 and multiply the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(c) Add an amount computed by multiplying the hundredweight of milk received from producers at each country plant by the appropriate zone differential provided in § 946.53.

(d) Subtract for each of the months of April, May, June, and July an amount computed by multiplying the total hundredweight of producer milk included in these computations by 12 percent of the simple average of the basic formula prices, computed to the nearest cent, for the 12 months of the preceding calendar year;

(e) Add an amount representing the cash balance on hand in the producer-settlement fund, less the total amount of contingent obligations to handlers pursuant to § 946.85 (a), and less the aggregate of the amounts held pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section for payment pursuant to § 946.85 (b);

(f) Divide the resulting total by the total hundredweight of producer milk included in these computations; and

(g) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (f) of this section. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for milk of 3.8 percent butterfat content received from producers at a handler's pool plant.

PAYMENTS

§ 946.80 Time and method of payment for producer milk. Each handler shall make payment to each producer for milk received from such producer as follows:

(a) On or before the last day of each month, for milk received during the first 15 days of the month from such producer who has not discontinued delivery of milk to such handler at not less than the Class III price for 3.8 percent milk for the preceding month without deduction for hauling;

(b) On or before the 17th day after the end of each month for milk received during such month, an amount computed at not less than the uniform price per hundredweight pursuant to § 946.71 subject to the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 946.81 plus or minus adjustments for errors made in previous payments to such producer; and less (1) payment made pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, (2) location differential deductions pursuant to § 946.82, (3) marketing service deductions pursuant to § 946.87 and (4) proper deductions authorized by such producer which, in the case of a deduction for hauling, shall be in writing and signed either by such producer or by the cooperative association marketing the producer's milk: Provided, That if such handler has not received full payment for such month pursuant to § 946.85 he may reduce uniformly per hundredweight for all producers his payments pursuant to this paragraph by an amount not in excess of the per hundredweight reduction in payment from the market administrator. The handler shall make such balance of payment to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments pursuant to this paragraph next following that on which such balance of payment is received from the market administrator;

(c) In making the payments to producers pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, each handler shall furnish each producer from whom he has received milk with a supporting statement in such form that it may be retained by the producer, which shall show:

(1) The month and identity of the handler and of the producer;

(2) The total pounds and the average butterfat content of milk received from such producer;

(3) The minimum rate or rates at which payment to the producer is required pursuant to the order;

(4) The rate which is used in making the payment, if such rate is other than the applicable minimum rate;

(5) The amount of the rate per hundredweight and nature of each deduction claimed by the handler; and

(6) The net amount of payment to such producer.

§ 946.81 Producer butterfat differential. In making payment to producers pursuant to § 946.80 (b) each handler shall add to the uniform price not less than, or subtract from the uniform price not more than, as the case may be, for each one-tenth of one percent that the average butterfat content of the milk received from the producer is above or below 3.8 percent, the amount set forth in the following schedule for the price range in which falls the Chicago butter price for the month during which such milk was received.

Butter price range (cents):	Butterfat differential (cents)
17.499 or less	2
17.50 to 22.499	2½
22.50 to 27.499	3

82.50 to 87.499	9
87.50 to 92.499	9½
92.50 and over	10

§ 946.82 Location differential. In making payments to producers pursuant to § 946.80 (b) a handler shall deduct from the uniform price, with respect to all milk received from producers at a country plant, not more than the appropriate zone differential provided in § 946.53.

§ 946.83 Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to § 946.61, 946.84, and 946.86 and out of which he shall make all payments pursuant to §§ 946.85 and 946.86: Provided, That payments due any handler shall be offset by payments due from such handler.

§ 946.84 Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 15th day after the end of each month, each handler shall pay to the market administrator any amount by which the net obligation of such handler for the month is greater than an amount computed by multiplying the hundredweight of milk received by him from producers during the month by the uniform price adjusted for the producer butterfat and location differentials.

§ 946.85 Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. (a) On or before the 16th day after the end of each month, the market administrator shall pay to each handler for payment to producers any amount by which the net obligation of such handler for the month is less than an amount computed by multiplying the hundredweight of milk received by him from producers during the month by the uniform price adjusted for the producer butterfat differential: Provided, That if the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available.

(b) On or before the 16th day after the end of each of the months of September, October, November, and December, the market administrator shall pay out of the producer-settlement fund to each producer from whom milk was received by all handlers during the month an amount computed as follows: Divide one-fourth of the aggregate amount held pursuant to § 946.71 (d) by the hundredweight of milk received from producers by all handlers during the month and multiply the resulting amount (computed to the nearest cent per hundredweight) by the milk received from such producers during the month: Provided, That payment under this paragraph to any producer who has given authority to a cooperative association to receive payment for his milk shall be distributed to such cooperative association if the cooperative association requests receipt of such payments.

§ 946.87 Marketing services. (a) Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler, in making payments to producers pursuant to § 946.80, shall deduct 5 cents per hundredweight, or such amount not in excess thereof as the Secretary may prescribe with respect to all milk received by such handler from producers (other than such handler's own farm production) during the month and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of such month. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to verify weights, samples, and tests of milk received from such producers and to provide such producers with market information. Such services shall be performed in whole or in part by the market administrator or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

(b) In the case of producers for whom the Secretary determines a cooperative association is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deduction specified in paragraph (a) of this section, such deductions from the payments to be made directly to such producers pursuant to § 946.80 as are authorized by such producers and on or before the 15th day after the end of each month, pay such deductions to the cooperative association rendering such services.

§ 946.88 Expense of administration. As his pro rata share of the expense of administration of this subpart, each handler shall pay to the market administrator, on or before the 15th day after the end of the month, 3.0 cents per hundredweight, or such amount to be not in excess thereof as the Secretary may prescribe with respect to all receipts by such handler during the month of (a) milk from producers (including such handler's own farm production), and (b) other source milk classified as Class I milk pursuant to § 946.46. Each cooperative association which is a handler shall pay such pro rata share of expense on only that milk of producers caused to be diverted by such cooperative association to a nonpool plant and milk received from producers at a pool plant of such cooperative association.

§ 946.89 Termination of obligations. The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligation under this subpart for the payment of money irrespective of when such obligation arose.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this subpart shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the calendar month during which the market administrator receives the handler's utilization report of the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two-year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain, but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to a cooperative association, the name of such producer(s) or cooperative association, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this subpart, to make available to the market administrator or his representatives all books and records required by this subpart to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two-year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler the said two-year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the calendar month following the month during which all such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representatives.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this subpart to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this subpart shall terminate two years after the end of the calender month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the calendar month during which the payment (including deductions or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8c (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION, OR TERMINATION

§ 946.90 Effective time. The provisions of this subpart, or any amendment to this subpart, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated, pursuant to § 936.91.

§ 946.91 Suspension or termination. Any or all provisions of this subpart, or any amendment to this subpart, shall be suspended or terminated as to any or all handlers after such reasonable notice as the Secretary may give and shall in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

§ 946.92 Continuing power and duty. (a) If upon the suspension of termination of any or all provisions of this subpart, there are any obligations arising under this subpart the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate.

(b) The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate, shall (1) continue in such capacity until discharged, (2) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and, if so directed by the Secretary, deliver all funds or property on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person, to such person as the Secretary shall direct, and (3) if so directed by the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant to this subpart.

§ 946.93 Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this subpart, except §§ 946.34, 946.89, 946.91 through 946.93, the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid and owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions of this subpart, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 946.100 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this subpart.

§ 946.101 Separability of provisions. If any provision of this subpart, or its application to any person, or circumstances, is held invalid, the application of such provision and of the remaining provisions of this subpart to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

[7 CFR Part 993]

HANDLING OF DRIED PRUNES PRODUCED IN CALIFORNIA

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING WITH RESPECT TO SPECIAL REGULATION OF PRUNES FOR 1956–57 CROP YEAR

Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of Agriculture is considering the making of a finding and determination that the estimated seasonal average price of prunes for the crop year which began on August 1, 1956, would be in excess of the price level contemplated by the provisions of section 2 (1) of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), if the below-parity regulatory provisions of Marketing Agreement No. 110, as amended, and Marketing Order No. 93, as amended (19 F. R. 1301), regulating the handling of dried prunes and produced in California, effective under said act, were made operative for said crop year. In conjunction with said proposed finding and determination, it is intended that the Secretary of Agriculture will order that the provisions of paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of § 993.50 of said marketing agreement and order shall apply to all handling of prunes during the said crop year. The invoking of such provisions on the basis of the aforementioned proposed finding and determination would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act for said crop year and would be in accordance with the authorization contained in paragraph (a) of said § 993.50 in such an event.

While an above-average prune production is indicated in 1956, trading conditions in the 1956–57 crop year are expected to be such as will encourage a greater disappearance of prunes in domestic and export markets than occurred in 1955–56. The outlook for commercial exports is particularly favorable. Handlers report that they are presently quoting and selling prunes in export at prices reflecting producer returns closely approaching parity. The prospective supply and demand situation is such as to make it appear that regulation of prunes pursuant to the below-parity regulatory provisions of this marketing program would result in the seasonal average price for prunes for the 1956–57 crop year exceeding the price level contemplated by section 2 (1) of the act. However, the act authorizes no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to farmers above parity.

This proposed special regulation of prunes is considered to be necessary to assure the marketing of only those prunes which are of a quality reasonably satisfactory to consumers, to promote the interests of the dried prune industry, and to establish such orderly marketing of prunes as will be in the public interest.

Consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining to the proposed finding, determination, and special regulation filed in triplicate with the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., and received not later than the close of business on the fifth day after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, except that, if said fifth day after publication should fall on a legal holiday, Saturday or Sunday, such submission must be received by the Director not later than the close of business on the next following business day.

Dated: August 3, 1956.

Director,
Fruit and Vegetable Division.

OPERATIONS

INTEREST RATES ON CERTAIN LOANS

AUGUST 2, 1956.

Resolved that, pursuant to Part 108 of the general regulations of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board (24 CFR Part 108) and § 142.1 of the rules and regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System (24 CFR 142.1), it is proposed that Part 145 of the rules and regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System (24 CFR Part 145) be amended by an amendment the substance of which is as follows:

Amend § 145.8 by adding thereto, immediately before the period at the end thereof, a colon and the following: "And provided further, That any Federal association may charge any rate of interest, discount, and fees and make any other charges with respect to loans covered by this section which a state-chartered savings and loan association may charge or make with respect to such loans or similar loans under the laws of the state where the loan is made, but this proviso shall not authorize any Federal association to exceed, with respect to any loan to which the provisions of section 5 of the Federal Home Loan Bank Act are applicable, the charges permitted by the provisions of said section 5".

Resolved further, that all interested persons are hereby given the opportunity to submit written data, views, or arguments as to whether said proposed amendment should be adopted, should be modified and adopted as modified, or should be rejected. All such written data, views, or arguments must be received through the mail or otherwise at the office of the Secretary, Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Federal Home Loan Bank Board Building, 101 Indiana Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., not later than the close of business on September 10, 1956, to be entitled to be considered, but any received later may be considered in the discretion of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

(Sec. 5, 48 Stat. 132, as amended; 12 U. S. C. 1464)

By the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

AUGUST 2, 1956.

I concur. The records of the Bureau of Land Management will be noted accordingly.

1. The lands are in proposed Water Power Project No. 334 as to which application for preliminary permit has been rejected by the Federal Power Commission. They are also withdrawn in Power Site Reserve No. 201, and were the subject of the Commission's favorable action of July 18, 1950 in DA–743–California.

2. The lands are hereby restored to disposition under the public land laws, subject to the provisions of section 24 of the Federal Power Act of June 10, 1920 (41 Stat. 1075; 16 U. S. C. 818) as amended.

3. No application for the restored lands may be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract, or any other nonmineral public-land law unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon the consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

4. Subject to any valid existing rights and the requirements of applicable law, the lands are hereby opened to filing of applications, selections, and locations in accordance with the following:

a. Applications and selections under the nonmineral public-land laws may be presented to the Manager mentioned below, beginning on the date of this order. Such applications and selections will be considered as filed on the hour and respective dates shown for the various classes enumerated in the following paragraphs:

(1) Applications by persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing laws, or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation will be adjudicated on the facts presented in support of each claim or right. All applications presented by persons other than those referred to in this paragraph will be subject to the applications and claims mentioned in this paragraph.

(2) All valid applications under the Homestead, Desert Land, and Small Tract Laws by qualified veterans of World War II or of the Korean conflict, and by others entitled to preference rights under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284 as amended), presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on September 7, 1956, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such preference right applications filed after that hour and before 10:00 a. m. on December 7, 1956, will be governed by the time of filing.

(3) All valid applications and selections under the nonmineral public-land laws, other than those coming under paragraphs (1) and (2) above, presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on December 7, 1956, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such applications and selections filed after that hour will be governed by the time of filing.

Persons claiming veterans preference rights must enclose with their applications proper evidence of military or naval service, preferably a complete photostatic copy of the certificate of honorable discharge. Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims must enclose properly corroborated statements in support of their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

b. The lands shall be opened to mining location subject to the provisions of the act of August 11, 1955 (69 Stat. 681; 30 U. S. C. 621) at 10:00 a. m. on December 7, 1956.

6. The lands shall be subject until 10:00 a. m. on November 1, 1956, to application by the State of Oregon for rights-of-way for public highways, or as a source of material for the construction and maintenance of such highways pursuant to section 24 of the Federal Power Act of June 10, 1920 (41 Stat. 1075; 16 U. S. C. 818) as amended.

7. Inquiries concerning the lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Sacramento, California.

FRESH CALIFORNIA PLUMS

NOTICE OF PURCHASE PROGRAM XMP 96A

In order to encourage the domestic consumption of plums by diverting them from the normal channels of trade and commerce in accordance with section 32, Public Law 320, 74th Congress, approved August 24, 1935, as amended, the Agricultural Marketing Service offers to purchase fresh California plums during the period beginning not earlier than August 3 and ending not later than September 1, 1956, inclusive, in instances where surpluses have created serious marketing problems, subject, for the most part, to marketing conditions at the time of purchase and limitations imposed by the capacity of available outlets to utilize plums without waste. The grade and other specifications, and the purchase price, will be contained in purchase announcements which will be issued by Mr. Oscar H. Chapin, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, 701 K Street, Room 302, Sacramento, California. Information as to this purchase program may be obtained from Mr. Chapin or the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

[Case No. 215]

ADOLF DUHME AND ERNST A. FRICK

ORDER REVOKING EXPORT LICENSES AND DENYING EXPORT PRIVILEGES

In the matter of Adolf Duhme, 43 Schleifmuehle, P. O. B. 1135, Bremen, Germany, and Ernst A. Frick, Obernstr. 18, Bremen, Germany, respondents, Case No. 215.

The respondents, Adolf Duhme and Ernst A. Frick of Bremen, Germany, were charged by the Director, Investigation Staff, Bureau of Foreign Commerce of the Department of Commerce, (a) with making false representations to and concealing material facts from the Office of International Trade (now the Bureau of Foreign Commerce), in connection with goods exported from or sought to be exported from the United States; (b) with using export control documents in an unauthorized manner; (c) with unauthorized diversion and transshipment of commodities exported from the United States and (d) with failure to notify the United States exporter of changes in facts or intentions as they were set forth in an end-use statement submitted to support an application for an export license, all violations of the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended. The charging letter was duly served on both respondents and both appeared in this proceeding.

In accordance with the practice, this case was referred to the Compliance Commissioner. After the evidence was submitted, the Compliance Commissioner in due course made his report and recommendation, which, upon the facts as hereinafter found, appears to be fair and just and is therefore adopted. He has found that Frick violated only to the extent that false representations were made to and facts concealed from the Office of International Trade. He has sustained all the charges against Duhme.

Now, after considering the entire record consisting of the charges, the defenses, the evidence submitted in support of and in opposition to the charges and the report and recommendation of the Compliance Commissioner, I hereby make the following findings of fact.

1. At all times hereinafter mentioned, Adolf Duhme was and still is engaged in the import and export business in Bremen, Germany, and Ernst Frick, his assistant or employee at the times mentioned, participated in the representations made by Duhme and performed many acts on behalf of Duhme.

2. Heretofore, on the 5th day of November 1951, for the purpose of supporting an application for an export license to the Office of International Trade (now the Bureau of Foreign Commerce), of the U. S. Department of Commerce, Duhme, by Frick, executed and submitted to an exporter in the United States an end-use statement in which he certified and represented that certain caustic soda ordered by him from the American exporter was to be sold to two stated firms in Western Germany for use there in the manufacture of soap and cleaning products and, in the said statement, he further stated that the material would not be transshipped or reexported to other countries and that he would promptly send to the American exporter a supplemental statement in the event of any change of facts or intentions as set forth therein.

3. At the time of the execution of said end-use statement Duhme was negotiating with the persons to whom reference is made in Finding 6, which persons were other than the persons named in the end-use statement as the persons to whom the caustic soda was to be sold, and he, at the said time, had made no arrangements with nor had he had any negotiations concerning such caustic soda with the persons named therein. All this was known to Frick.

4. The American exporter, as intended by Duhme and Frick, did thereafter, on or about the 15th day of November 1951, apply to the Office of International Trade, using the said end-use statement as a supporting document, for a license to export to Duhme, in Western Germany, 365 metric tons of caustic soda to be used in Western Germany.

5. Said license was duly granted on November 16, 1951, and, on the basis thereof, the American exporter exported to Duhme 725 drums of caustic soda on about January 17, 1952, and 270 drums of caustic soda on about January 24, 1952. In connection with such exportation, the American exporter had authenticated two export declarations and obtained two bills of lading, in all of which were set forth legends warning that the ultimate destination of the goods was Western Germany and that diversion contrary to U. S. law was prohibited. Both bills of lading were order bills of lading and a forwarding agent in Rotterdam, the first port of discharge, was designated as the party to be notified of the arrival of the goods. Negotiability of the bills of lading was directed by Duhme and the American exporter sent him copies thereof.

6. In the meantime, on November 30, 1951, Duhme, with the knowledge of Frick, had contracted to sell 725 drums of caustic soda to a firm in Basel, Switzerland, and on December 12, 1951, he had contracted to sell 270 drums of caustic soda to another firm in Basel, Switzerland, but neither he nor Frick ever notified the American exporter of these contracts. Duhme was informed by one of the Swiss purchasers that the caustic soda purchased by that purchaser was destined for Eastern Germany.

7. In accordance with Duhme's contracts with the Swiss firms, the negotiable bills of lading had to be delivered to their agents, designees or purchasers and, in February 1952, after the two lots of caustic soda aforementioned arrived at Rotterdam, they were transshipped to Eastern Germany.

8. In February 1952, Duhme entered into arrangements with the same American exporter for the intended purchase of an additional 500 or 550 tons of caustic soda and, in connection with such arrangements and for the purpose of supporting an application for an export license, Duhme executed and delivered to the American exporter another end-use statement. In the said end-use statement he stated and represented that 500 tons of caustic soda ordered by him from the American exporter were for Western Germany as the ultimate destination to be used in textile factories there and not to be reexported.

9. The American exporter used said end-use statement to support an application for a license to export to Duhme 550 tons of caustic soda, to be used in Western Germany in the textile factories there. Said license was duly granted but, after discovery of the facts hereinafter set forth, was revoked before any exportation thereunder could be effected.

10. At the time that Duhme executed and delivered the said end-use statement to his American supplier, Duhme had no arrangements or intentions to sell the caustic soda therein mentioned to any factory in Western Germany but, on the contrary, was negotiating for the sale thereof to a firm in Zurich, Switzerland.

And, from the foregoing, the following are my conclusions:

A. Duhme and Frick knowingly made and caused to be made false statements, representations, and certifications to, and concealed material facts from, the BFC, in violation of § 381.1 (b) of the export control regulations;

B. Duhme permitted the use of export control documents, namely, bills of lading, for the purpose of facilitating and effecting exportations not in accord with all the terms, provisions, and conditions of such documents, in violation of § 381.3 (a) of the export control regulations;

C. Duhme, without authorization from the Department of Commerce, caused to be diverted 343 metric tons of caustic soda to unauthorized consignees and destinations, (1) contrary to the representations in his statement of November 5, 1951, (2) contrary to the notification of the prohibition against diversion contained in the bill of lading, copy of which was received by him, and (3) contrary to the terms, provisions, and conditions of the validated export license and the export declarations pursuant to which the said caustic soda was exported from the United States, in violation of §§ 381.4 (b)–(e) and 381.1 (b) (3) of the export control regulations; and

D. Duhme failed to notify the U. S. exporter of the changes of fact and intention from the facts and intention as set forth in his statement of November 5, 1951, contrary to his representation that he would give such notice and as required by § 372.3 (d) of the export control regulations.

In his report, the Compliance Commissioner said,

> In making the conclusions above set forth, it should be noted that I concluded that Frick violated only to the extent that false statements, etc. were made and facts concealed from the OIT but I have not made any conclusion that he had anything to do either with the transshipment or the failure to notify the U. S. exporter of the changes of fact and intention. As to the transshipment and diversion, the evidence is not sufficient to make a conclusion linking him therewith. It may be that his activity in the firm was so great as to make it probable that he did so participate. As to the failure to notify OIT of the change of facts and intention, I believe that the commitment contained in the end-use statement was a commitment made on behalf of Duhme and, such being the case, in the absence of a greater identification with the facts which transpired after the making of the commitment, there is insufficient basis to hold that Frick, the agent, was bound thereby. Duhme, of course, as the principal, and as the person on whose behalf the commitment was made in the regular course of his business, was bound thereby.
> With respect to the transshipments, in making the conclusion that Duhme caused them to be made, I have taken into consideration the facts that he was informed by one of his vendees that the caustic soda sold to that vendee was destined for Eastern Germany; that he, although charged with responsibility for importing the goods into Germany, nevertheless released negotiable documents of title to others not under his control, thereby providing them with the means whereby they accomplished the unlawful transshipments and diversions; and that, for no apparent reason, assuming that he could have had a bona fide sale to persons in Switzerland, he concealed the fact of such alleged sale to Switzerland, a probably approvable destination, and falsely represented that the caustic soda was destined for Western Germany.

Having concluded that the action recommended by the Compliance Commissioner is fair, just, and necessary to achieve effective enforcement of the law: It is hereby ordered:

I. All outstanding validated export licenses in which Adolf Duhme and Ernst A. Frick appear or participate as purchaser, intermediate or ultimate consignee, or otherwise, are hereby revoked and shall be returned forthwith to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce for cancellation.

II. Henceforth, and for a period of three years, retroactive to February 21, 1955, the date when his export privileges were temporarily revoked (20 F. R. 1188), the respondent Adolf Duhme be and he hereby is suspended from and denied all privileges of participating, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, in an exportation of any commodity or technical data from the United States to any foreign destination, including Canada, whether such exportation has heretofore or hereafter been completed. Without limitation of the generality of the foregoing denial of export privileges, participation in an exportation is deemed to include and prohibit participation by the respondent, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, (a) as a party or as a representative of a party to any validated export license application, (b) in the obtaining or using of any validated or general export license or other export control documents, (c) in the receiving, ordering, buying, selling, using, or disposing in any foreign country of any commodities in whole or in part exported or to be exported from the United States, and (d) in storing, financing, forwarding, transporting, or other servicing of such exports from the United States.

III. The respondent Ernst A. Frick, for a period of one year from the date hereof, be and he hereby is suspended from and denied all privileges of participating, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, in an exportation of any commodity or technical data from the United States to any foreign destination, including Canada, whether such exportation has heretofore or hereafter been completed. Without limitation of the generality of the foregoing denial of export privileges, participation in an exportation is deemed to include and prohibit participation by the respondent, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, (a) as a party or as a representative of a party to any validated export license application, (b) in the obtaining or using of any validated or general export license or other export control documents, (c) in the receiving, ordering, buying, selling, using, or disposing in any foreign country of any commodities in whole or in part exported or to be exported from the United States, and (d) in storing, financing, forwarding, transporting, or other servicing of such exports from the United States.

IV. Such denial of export privileges shall extend not only to the respondents but also to any person, firm, corporation, or business organization with which they may be now or hereafter related by ownership, control, position of responsibility, or other connection in the conduct of trade in which may be involved exports from the United States or services connected therewith.

V. No person, firm, corporation, partnership, or other business organization, whether in the United States or elsewhere, during any time when either respondent is prohibited under the terms hereof from engaging in any activity within the scope of Parts II, III, and IV hereof, shall, without prior disclosure to, and specific authorization from the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, (a) apply for, obtain, or use any license, shipper's export declaration, bill of lading, or other export control document relating to any such prohibited activity, (b) order, receive, buy, use, dispose of, finance, transport or forward, any commodity on behalf of or in any association with the respondent, or (c) do any of the foregoing acts with respect to any commodity or exportation in which the respondent may have any interest of any kind or nature, direct or indirect.

[Docket Nos. G-9470, G-9471]

NATURAL GAS PIPELINE COMPANY OF AMERICA AND R. H. FULTON

NOTICE OF APPLICATIONS AND DATE OF HEARING

AUGUST 1, 1956.

Take notice that Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America (Natural), a Delaware corporation with principal place of business at 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago 6, Illinois, filed, on October 12, 1955, as supplemented November 29, 1955, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing Natural to acquire and operate certain natural gas facilities as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Concurrently therewith, R. H. Fulton (Fulton), an individual with principal place of business at Box 1526, Lubbock, Texas, filed, on October 12, 1955, an application for permission to abandon the aforesaid natural gas facilities by sale thereof to Natural as hereinafter described, pursuant to section 7 (b) of the Natural Gas Act, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Natural proposes to acquire by purchase from Fulton certain facilities described below and to operate the same as an integral part of its pipeline system and Fulton proposes to abandon said facilities upon sale thereof to Natural, all in accordance with a letter agreement between the parties dated August 30, 1954, and for a total consideration of $51,727.29. There will be no change in the service presently being rendered by means of these facilities.

The facilities involved consist of approximately 17,000 feet of 6⅝-inch O. D. pipeline, extending from a point of connection with Natural's 24 inch main transmission pipeline on the south line of Section 59, Block 4-T, T. & N. O. R. R. Co. Survey, northwesterly to a point in the NE/4 of the SW/4 of Section 115, Block 45, H. & T. C. R. R. Co. Survey, all in Hansford County, Texas.

These related matters should be heard on a consolidated record and disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on Monday, August 27, 1956, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such applications: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a noncontested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicants to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before August 21, 1956. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[Notice 124]

MOTOR CARRIER APPLICATIONS

AUGUST 3, 1956.

Protests consisting of an original and six (6) copies to the granting of an application must be filed with the Commission within 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER and a copy of such protest served on the applicant. Each protest must clearly state the name and street number, city and street address of each protestant on behalf of whom the protest is field (49 CFR 1.240 and 1.241). Failure to seasonably file a protest will be construed as a waiver of opposition and participation in the proceeding unless an oral hearing is held. In addition to other requirements of Rule 40 of the general rules of practice of the Commission (49 CFR 1.40), protests shall include a request for a public hearing, if one is desired, and shall notify with particularity the facts, matters, and things relied upon, but shall not include issues or allegations phrased generally. Protests containing general allegations may be rejected. Requests for an oral hearing must be supported by an explanation as to why the evidence cannot be submitted in forms of affidavits. Any interested person not a protestant, desiring to receive notice of the time and place of any hearing, pre-hearing conference, taking of depositions, or other proceeding shall notify the Commission by letter or telegram within 30 days of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Except when circumstances require immediate action, an application for approval, under section 210a (b) of the Act, of the temporary operations of Motor Carrier properties sought to be acquired in an application under section 5 (2) will not be disposed of sooner than 10 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. If a protest is received prior to action being taken, it will be considered.

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter IV—Commodity Stabilization Service and Commodity Credit Corporation, Department of Agriculture

Subchapter D—Regulations Under Soil Bank Act

PART 485—SOIL BANK

SUBPART—ACREAGE RESERVE PROGRAM

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The regulations governing the 1956 acreage reserve part of the Soil Bank Program, 21 F. R. 4379, as amended in 21 F. R. 5205 and 21 F. R. 5685, are hereby further amended as follows:

1. Paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 485.110 are amended by deleting the date "July 20, 1956" wherever it appears and inserting in lieu thereof the date "July 27, 1956."

2. Paragraph (b) of § 485.111 is amended by deleting the date "July 31, 1956" in the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the date "August 3, 1956."

3. Paragraphs (c) and (d) of § 485.112 are amended to read as follows:

(c) No crop shall be planted on the acreage reserve after the agreement is signed and prior to January 1, 1957, except that:

(1) Crops approved by the county committee for protective cover may be planted on the acreage reserve: Provided, That if a crop approved for protective cover is one which would mature as grain or seed in 1956 such crop must be plowed under or otherwise physically incorporated into the soil, clipped, mowed or cut to prevent maturing, except that a grass or legume need not be disposed of unless it is one which, if left standing on the acreage reserve, would be in such condition that it could be harvested after December 31, 1956. Disposition of grain or seed crops, other than grasses and legumes, must be accomplished not later than a date fixed by the State Committee, which date shall not be later than thirty days before harvest of the crop begins in the area. Disposition of grasses and legumes must be accomplished not later than November 30, 1956. Information as to the approved cover crops which must be disposed of as provided above, and the final date fixed for the area for disposition of grain and seed crops other than grasses and legumes, may be obtained from the county committee.

(2) Crops may be planted on the acreage reserve for harvest during 1957 or later in areas where such crops would normally be planted in the fall of 1956 for such later harvest.

(d) In the event that, at the time the agreement is executed, there is growing on the acreage reserve any crop, such crop must be plowed under or otherwise physically incorporated into the soil, or clipped, mowed, or cut to prevent maturing: Provided, That the foregoing shall not apply to (1) an approved cover crop which need not be disposed of under the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section, or (2) crops which require more than one season to reach maturity and which cannot be harvested in 1956. In the case of one of the eligible commodities, the crop must be disposed of not later than the date provided for in § 485.111. In the case of approved cover crops which must be disposed of, the disposition must be accomplished not later than the date indicated in paragraph (c) of this section. In the case of other crops, disposal must be accomplished on or before the date fixed by the State Committee which shall be not later than 15 days before harvest of the crop begins in the area, except that the date fixed shall not be earlier than July 27, 1956, or later than August 3, 1956. Information as to the date fixed for the area may be obtained from the county committee.

4. Appendix 1 to the regulations is amended by adding a base unit rate of $1.13 for wheat in Teller County, Colorado.

(Sec. 124, Public Law 540, 84th Cong.)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of August 1956.

AUTHORITY: §§ 502.200 to 502.217 issued under sec. 4, 62 Stat. 1070, 15 U. S. C. 714b. Interpret or apply sec. 201, 63 Stat. 1052, as amended, 70 Stat. 596; 7 U. S. C. 1446.

§ 502.200 General purpose and scope. This part announces the policies and prescribes the general regulations with respect to the operaton of the Special Milk Program under section 201 (c) of the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, and sets forth the general requirements for participation in the program. The pertinent part of 201 (c), as amended, reads as follows:

• • • for each of the two fiscal years in the period beginning July 1, 1956, and ending June 30, 1958, not to exceed $75,000,000, of the funds of the Commodity Credit Corporation shall be used to increase the consumption of fluid milk by children in (1) nonprofit schools of high-school grade and under; and (2) nonprofit nursery schools, child-care centers, settlement houses, summer camps, and similar nonprofit institutions devoted to the care and training of children.

§ 502.201 Administration. (a) Within the United States Department of Agriculture, the Agricultural Marketing Service (hereinafter referred to as AMS) shall act for and on behalf of the Commodity Credit Corporation (hereinafter referred to as CCC) in connection with the operation of this program. Within AMS, and under the general supervision of the Administrator of AMS, the Food Distribution Division (hereinafter referred to as FDD–AMS) shall be responsible for program administration.

(b) To the extent practicable and permissible under State law, responsibility for the administration of this program in schools and child-care institutions within the States shall be in the respective educational agency of the State: Provided, however, That another agency of the State upon request by an appropriate State official, may be approved by FDD–AMS to administer the program in child-care institutions.

(c) FDD–AMS shall administer the program in any class of schools (hereinafter referred to as private schools) and in child-care institutions in which the program is not administered by the State.

§ 502.202 Advance of funds to State agencies. (a) For each Federal fiscal year FDD–AMS shall initially reserve for advance to a State educational agency entering into agreement with CCC an amount equal to 115 percent of the expenditures of that agency under the program in the Federal fiscal year ending June 30, 1956. Expenditures in that year shall be determined by FDD–AMS on the basis of the latest information available to FDD–AMS at the time the initial annual reserve for each State is developed.

(b) This initial reserve shall be advanced to the State educational agency on a quarterly basis. FDD–AMS reserves the right to request any State educational agency to justify its need for any scheduled quarterly payment prior to its advancement. In the event that a State educational agency does not justify the need for the full amount of any scheduled quarterly payment, FDD–AMS shall withhold from such payment the amount determined to be in excess of program needs.

(c) In the event that a State educational agency justifies the need for funds in excess of the amount of its initial reserve, additional funds shall be made available, at such times as needed, up to an amount that will provide a total payment for the year equal to 130 percent of its expenditures in the Federal fiscal year ending June 30, 1956. Any needed funds in excess of 130 percent of its expenditures in that Federal fiscal year, when justified, will be provided to the extent funds are available for such purpose.

(d) For each Federal fiscal year FDD–AMS shall initially reserve for advance to a State agency, other than the State educational agency, entering into an agreement with CCC an amount equal to one hundred dollars for each one thousand children between the ages of 5 and 17 years residing in the State. This initial reserve shall be advanced quarterly to such State agency in an amount estimated to meet anticipated quarterly reimbursement obligations. In the event that such State agency justifies the need for funds in excess of its initial annual reserve, such funds will be provided to the extent funds are available for such purpose.

(e) Following the close of the Federal fiscal year, any funds advanced under this program to an educational or other agency of a State that remain unobligated under the program shall be returned to AMS within 30 days after a demand is made by FDD–AMS. The State shall also pay to AMS any interest paid or credited to it by reason of the deposit of any funds advanced to it under this program.

§ 502.203 Accounting for program funds by State agencies. Each State agency entering into an agreement with CCC shall maintain a separate account of all Federal funds advanced to it under the program and shall maintain a current record of payments made to schools and child-care institutions and of the unexpended balance remaining on hand. All payments made from such funds shall be made only upon properly certified vouchers.

§ 502.204 Use of funds. Funds made available under this program shall be used to encourage the increased consumption of milk through reimbursement payments to schools and child-care institutions in connection with the purchase of milk for service to children.

§ 502.205 Agreements between CCC and State agencies. CCC shall enter into written agreements with State agencies for the administration of the program within the States. The agreement shall show the class or classes of schools and child-care institutions for which the State agency is assuming responsibility.

§ 502.206 Agreements between State agencies and schools and child-care institutions. State agencies shall enter into written agreements with schools and child-care institutions setting forth the terms and conditions under which the State agencies will reimburse the schools and child-care institutions in connection with the purchase of milk for service to children. Such agreements shall contain, as a minimum, the requirements of § 502.209.

§ 502.207 Agreements between CCC and private schools and child-care institutions. In those States in which FDD–AMS will administer the program in private schools and child-care institutions, CCC shall enter into written agreements with such private schools and child-care institutions setting forth the terms and conditions under which AMS will reimburse the schools and child-care institutions in connection with the purchase of milk for service to children.

§ 502.208 Reimbursement. (a) Reimbursement payments shall be made for milk purchased for service to children by participating schools and child-care institutions, except that reimbursement shall not be made for the first half pint of milk served as part of a Type A or Type B lunch by schools participating in the National School Lunch Program. The maximum rate of reimbursement shall be 4 cents per half pint for schools serving Type A or Type B meals under the National School Lunch Program. For all other schools and for child-care institutions, the maximum reimbursement rate shall be 3 cents per half pint.

(b) Less-than-maximum rates of reimbursement shall be assigned, or assigned rates shall be adjusted, if circumstances indicate such action is advisable.

(c) In child-care institutions, and in schools operating a food service outside the National School Lunch Program or serving more than one meal a day, a portion of the milk served to children may be excluded from reimbursement if such action is deemed advisable in order to encourage the continued expansion of the service of complete school lunches or to accomplish the objectives of this program.

(d) Schools operating the program in more than one school attendance unit may be regarded as a single school or as individual schools for reimbursement purposes. If regarded as a single school, reimbursement shall not be made at a rate in excess of 3 cents per half pint unless all units are serving Type A or Type B meals under the National School Lunch Program.

(e) Schools and child-care institutions offering milk as a separately priced item shall make maximum use of the reimbursement payments received under this program to reduce the price of milk

AUTHORITY: §§ 502.200 to 502.217 issued under sec. 4, 62 Stat. 1070, 15 U. S. C. 714b. Interpret or apply sec. 201, 63 Stat. 1052, as amended, 70 Stat. 596; 7 U. S. C. 1446.

§ 502.200 General purpose and scope. This part announces the policies and prescribes the general regulations with respect to the operaton of the Special Milk Program under section 201 (c) of the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, and sets forth the general requirements for participation in the program. The pertinent part of 201 (c), as amended, reads as follows:

• • • for each of the two fiscal years in the period beginning July 1, 1956, and ending June 30, 1958, not to exceed $75,000,000, of the funds of the Commodity Credit Corporation shall be used to increase the consumption of fluid milk by children in (1) nonprofit schools of high-school grade and under; and (2) nonprofit nursery schools, child-care centers, settlement houses, summer camps, and similar nonprofit institutions devoted to the care and training of children.

§ 502.201 Administration. (a) Within the United States Department of Agriculture, the Agricultural Marketing Service (hereinafter referred to as AMS) shall act for and on behalf of the Commodity Credit Corporation (hereinafter referred to as CCC) in connection with the operation of this program. Within AMS, and under the general supervision of the Administrator of AMS, the Food Distribution Division (hereinafter referred to as FDD–AMS) shall be responsible for program administration.

(b) To the extent practicable and permissible under State law, responsibility for the administration of this program in schools and child-care institutions within the States shall be in the respective educational agency of the State: Provided, however, That another agency of the State upon request by an appropriate State official, may be approved by FDD–AMS to administer the program in child-care institutions.

(c) FDD–AMS shall administer the program in any class of schools (hereinafter referred to as private schools) and in child-care institutions in which the program is not administered by the State.

§ 502.202 Advance of funds to State agencies. (a) For each Federal fiscal year FDD–AMS shall initially reserve for advance to a State educational agency entering into agreement with CCC an amount equal to 115 percent of the expenditures of that agency under the program in the Federal fiscal year ending June 30, 1956. Expenditures in that year shall be determined by FDD–AMS on the basis of the latest information available to FDD–AMS at the time the initial annual reserve for each State is developed.

(b) This initial reserve shall be advanced to the State educational agency on a quarterly basis. FDD–AMS reserves the right to request any State educational agency to justify its need for any scheduled quarterly payment prior to its advancement. In the event that a State educational agency does not justify the need for the full amount of any scheduled quarterly payment, FDD–AMS shall withhold from such payment the amount determined to be in excess of program needs.

(c) In the event that a State educational agency justifies the need for funds in excess of the amount of its initial reserve, additional funds shall be made available, at such times as needed, up to an amount that will provide a total payment for the year equal to 130 percent of its expenditures in the Federal fiscal year ending June 30, 1956. Any needed funds in excess of 130 percent of its expenditures in that Federal fiscal year, when justified, will be provided to the extent funds are available for such purpose.

(d) For each Federal fiscal year FDD–AMS shall initially reserve for advance to a State agency, other than the State educational agency, entering into an agreement with CCC an amount equal to one hundred dollars for each one thousand children between the ages of 5 and 17 years residing in the State. This initial reserve shall be advanced quarterly to such State agency in an amount estimated to meet anticipated quarterly reimbursement obligations. In the event that such State agency justifies the need for funds in excess of its initial annual reserve, such funds will be provided to the extent funds are available for such purpose.

(e) Following the close of the Federal fiscal year, any funds advanced under this program to an educational or other agency of a State that remain unobligated under the program shall be returned to AMS within 30 days after a demand is made by FDD–AMS. The State shall also pay to AMS any interest paid or credited to it by reason of the deposit of any funds advanced to it under this program.

§ 502.203 Accounting for program funds by State agencies. Each State agency entering into an agreement with CCC shall maintain a separate account of all Federal funds advanced to it under the program and shall maintain a current record of payments made to schools and child-care institutions and of the unexpended balance remaining on hand. All payments made from such funds shall be made only upon properly certified vouchers.

§ 502.204 Use of funds. Funds made available under this program shall be used to encourage the increased consumption of milk through reimbursement payments to schools and child-care institutions in connection with the purchase of milk for service to children.

§ 502.205 Agreements between CCC and State agencies. CCC shall enter into written agreements with State agencies for the administration of the program within the States. The agreement shall show the class or classes of schools and child-care institutions for which the State agency is assuming responsibility.

§ 502.206 Agreements between State agencies and schools and child-care institutions. State agencies shall enter into written agreements with schools and child-care institutions setting forth the terms and conditions under which the State agencies will reimburse the schools and child-care institutions in connection with the purchase of milk for service to children. Such agreements shall contain, as a minimum, the requirements of § 502.209.

§ 502.207 Agreements between CCC and private schools and child-care institutions. In those States in which FDD–AMS will administer the program in private schools and child-care institutions, CCC shall enter into written agreements with such private schools and child-care institutions setting forth the terms and conditions under which AMS will reimburse the schools and child-care institutions in connection with the purchase of milk for service to children.

§ 502.208 Reimbursement. (a) Reimbursement payments shall be made for milk purchased for service to children by participating schools and child-care institutions, except that reimbursement shall not be made for the first half pint of milk served as part of a Type A or Type B lunch by schools participating in the National School Lunch Program. The maximum rate of reimbursement shall be 4 cents per half pint for schools serving Type A or Type B meals under the National School Lunch Program. For all other schools and for child-care institutions, the maximum reimbursement rate shall be 3 cents per half pint.

(b) Less-than-maximum rates of reimbursement shall be assigned, or assigned rates shall be adjusted, if circumstances indicate such action is advisable.

(c) In child-care institutions, and in schools operating a food service outside the National School Lunch Program or serving more than one meal a day, a portion of the milk served to children may be excluded from reimbursement if such action is deemed advisable in order to encourage the continued expansion of the service of complete school lunches or to accomplish the objectives of this program.

(d) Schools operating the program in more than one school attendance unit may be regarded as a single school or as individual schools for reimbursement purposes. If regarded as a single school, reimbursement shall not be made at a rate in excess of 3 cents per half pint unless all units are serving Type A or Type B meals under the National School Lunch Program.

(e) Schools and child-care institutions offering milk as a separately priced item shall make maximum use of the reimbursement payments received under this program to reduce the price of milk to children. The full amount of such payments shall be reflected in reduced prices to children, except that such payments may be used by schools or child-care institutions to defray distribution costs. Distribution costs shall not exceed one cent per half pint. Exceptions to this provision may be granted in instances where the situation in a school or child-care institution justifies a distribution cost margin fractionally above one cent, and such exceptions shall be subject to periodic reviews.

(f) A school or child-care center which does not offer milk to children as a separately-priced item shall, at the time it applies for participation, submit for approval the methods and practices under which it plans to encourage increased consumption of milk by children. Assigned rates of reimbursement shall be subject to adjustment if there is a substantial variation between actual and planned performance with respect to increased milk consumption by children.

§ 502.209 Requirements for participation. (a) Schools and child-care institutions shall make written application for participation to the State agency, except that in those States in which FDD–AMS administers the program in private schools or child-care institutions, application shall be made to FDD–AMS. In approving the application, the State agency or FDD–AMS shall determine that the applicant is a school or child-care institution as defined in § 502.215 and shall designate the effective date on which the school or child-care institution may begin operations. Schools and child-care institutions whose applications are approved shall execute agreements with the State agency or CCC.

(b) Schools and child-care institutions participating in the program shall meet the following minimum requirements, which requirements shall be included in the agreements entered into between the schools and child-care institutions and State agencies and between the private schools and child-care institutions and CCC:

(1) Conduct a nonprofit food service or, in the event no other food service is maintained, conduct a nonprofit milk service;

(2) Claim reimbursement only for milk as defined in this part and in accordance with the provisions of § 502.208;

(3) Submit claims for reimbursement in accordance with procedural requirements established by FDD–AMS; and

(4) Maintain such records and furnish such reports and documents as are prescribed by the State agency or by FDD–AMS. All invoices, receipts and records pertaining to the program shall be maintained for a period of three years after the end of each Federal fiscal year's operations. Records shall be made available for audit purposes to the State agency and AMS, or to AMS in the case of a private school or child-care institution which contracts directly with CCC.

§ 502.210 Effective dates for reimbursement. A State agency or AMS may grant written approval to begin operations under this program prior to the processing of the application from a school or child-care institution. Such approval shall be attached to the subsequently filed application and the agreement executed by the school or child-care institution. Reimbursement shall be made for any milk served in accordance with the requirements of this part from the date upon which the school or child-care institution was authorized to begin operations: Provided, however, That no reimbursement shall be made for milk that was served more than 30 days prior to the receipt of the application by the State agency or AMS: Provided, further, That in no event shall reimbursement be made by any State agency for milk served prior to the effective date of the State agency's agreement with CCC.

§ 502.211 Administrative analyses and audits. The State agency shall provide AMS with full opportunity to conduct administrative analyses and audits of all operations of the State agency under this program. The State agency shall make available its records, including the receipts and expenditure of funds under the program, upon reasonable request by AMS. AMS shall also have the right to make audits of the records and operations of any participating school or child-care institution.

§ 502.212 State agency reports and records. Within 30 days after the end of each calendar month, the State agency shall make a report to FDD–AMS concerning the operation of the program for that month, on a form provided by FDD–AMS. The State agency shall maintain for a period of three years after the end of each Federal fiscal year's operations, all records pertaining to the program.

§ 502.213 Investigations. The State agency shall promptly investigate all complaints received or irregularities noted in connection with the operation of the program in participating schools and child-care institutions and shall take appropriate action to correct any irregularities.

§ 502.214 Overclaims. (a) Excess payments resulting from overclaims made by schools or child-care institutions which are discovered by the State agency during audits, administrative visits or by other means, shall be collected by the State agency either by direct refund or by deduction from subsequently filed claims. Any amounts thus recovered by the State agency may be used to pay other claims of the same Federal fiscal year.

(b) The State agency shall likewise recover all excess payments made by it to schools and child-care institutions discovered by AMS administrative analyses or audits of State agency operations or during AMS audits of participating schools and child-care institutions. However, before a final determination is made in such cases, the State agency shall have full opportunity to submit additional information, explanation or information concerning such excess payments.

(c) Excess payments resulting from overclaims made by schools or child-care institutions in which the program is administered by FDD–AMS, discovered by AMS during audits, administrative visits or by other means, shall be collected by AMS either by direct refund or by deduction from subsequently filed claims.

§ 502.215 Definitions—(a) State. The 48 States, the District of Columbia, the Territory of Hawaii, and such other Territories as may be designated by the Secretary from time to time.

(b) School. (1) Any school which is a public school of high school grade and under within the definition of the statutes of the State, and

(2) Any private school of high school grade and under exempt from income tax under the Internal Revenue Code, as amended. The term "school" as used in this part includes, where applicable, the authorized sponsoring agency which has entered into an agreement under this program for the school.

(c) Child-care institution. Any nonprofit nursery school (other than nursery schools falling within the definition of school in this section), child-care center, settlement house, summer camp, or similar nonprofit institution devoted to the care and training of children.

(d) Nonprofit food or milk service. Food or milk service maintained by or on behalf of the school or child-care institution for the benefit of the children, all of the income from which is used solely for the operation or improvement of such food or milk service.

(e) Milk. Fluid whole milk, flavored or unflavored, which meets the State and local standards for unflavored whole milk as to butterfat content and sanitation.

(f) Cost of milk. The purchase price paid by the school or child-care institution to the milk distributor for milk delivered to the school. This does not include any amount paid to the milk distributor for the rental of or installment purchase of milk service equipment.

(g) Distribution costs. Direct expenses incurred by the school or child-care institution in connection with the sale, handling and service of milk. This may include expenses incident to acquisition or rental of necessary milk service equipment.

§ 502.216 Miscellaneous provisions—(a) Disqualifications and compliance clause. Any State agency or any school or child-care institution may be disqualified from future participation if it fails to comply with the provisions of the regulations in this part, its agreement with CCC or the State agency, or other pertinent rules, regulations or instructions. This does not preclude the possibility of other action being taken through other means available where considered necessary. Fraud in the payment of, or claiming for, reimbursement under the program will be prosecuted under applicable Federal statutes. If any part of the money received by the State agency in connection with the program, by any improper or negligent action, is diminished, lost, misapplied, or diverted from the program by the State agency, or by any school or child-care institution to which funds are disbursed, FDD–AMS may order such money to be replaced with funds from sources within the State and, until replaced, may direct that no subsequent payments shall be made to the State agency or to such school or child-care institution. The State agency shall have full opportunity to submit additional evidence, explanation or information concerning instances of noncompliance or diversion of funds, before a final determination is made in such cases.

(b) Saving clause. Any or all of the provisions of this part may be waived, withdrawn, or amended, at any time by AMS: Provided, however, That such action shall not be taken without prior notice to State agencies having agreements with CCC.

§ 502.217 Program information. Schools and child-care institutions desiring information concerning the program should write to their State educational agency or to the appropriate Area Office of FDD–AMS as indicated below:

(a) In the States of Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, and West Virginia:

Food Distribution Division, AMS, United States Department of Agriculture, 139 Centre Street, Room 506, New York 13, New York.

(b) In the States of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia:

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter VII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Farm Marketing Quotas and Acreage Allotments), Department of Agriculture

[Amdt. I]

PART 730—RICE

SUBPART—REGULATIONS PERTAINING TO FARM MARKETING QUOTAS FOR 1956 CROP OF RICE

The purpose of this amendment is to establish the monetary rate of penalty for any farm marketing excess determined in connection with the 1956 rice marketing quota program at 50 per centum of the June 15, 1956 parity price of rice as required by section 356 (a) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended.

Since the only purpose of this amendment is to announce the penalty in cents per pound calculated in accordance with a mathematical formula prescribed by statute, it is hereby found and determined that compliance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act with respect to notice, public procedure thereon, and effective date is unnecessary, and the amendment herein shall become effective upon the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Section 730.776 of the 1956 rice marketing quota regulations is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 730.776 Rate of penalty. The rate of penalty applicable to 1956 crop rice shall be 2.76 cents per pound, which is 50 per centum of the parity price per pound of rice as of June 15, 1956 which is determined to be 5.52 cents per pound.

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Docket No. AO–210–A7]

PART 906—MILK IN TULSA-MUSKOGEE, OKLA., MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING OF MILK IN TULSA-MUSKOGEE, OKLAHOMA, MARKETING AREA

§ 906.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Tulsa-Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the Tulsa-Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period (June 1956), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Tulsa-Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the following terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order is hereby further amended as follows:

Amend the proviso appearing at the end of § 906.53 to read as follows: "Provided, That for the purposes of calculating such adjustment transfers between approved plants shall be assigned to Class I milk in a volume not in excess of that by which 105 percent of Class I disposition at the transferee plant exceeds the receipts from producers at such plant, such assignment to transferor plants to be made first to plants at which no adjustment credit is applicable and then in the sequence at which the lowest location adjustment credit would apply."

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of August 1956, to be effective on and after the 1st day of October 1956.

Assistant Secretary.

[Pear Order 8]

PART 939—BEURRE D'ANJOU, BEURRE BOSC, WINTER NELIS, DOYENNE DU COMICE, BEURRE EASTER, AND BEURRE CLAIRGEAU VARIETIES OF PEARS GROWN IN OREGON, WASHINGTON AND CALIFORNIA

REGULATION BY GRADES AND SIZES

§ 939.308 Pear Order 8—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 39, as amended (7 CFR Part 939), regulating the handling of the Beurre d'Anjou, Beurre Bosc, Winter Nelis, Doyenne du Comice, Beurre Easter, and Beurre Clairgeau varieties of pears grown in Oregon, Washington and California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the Control Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of such pears, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this regulation until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this regulation is based became available and the time when this regulation must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than August 12, 1956. A reasonable determination as to the composition of the available supplies of such pears, and therefore the extent of grade and size regulation warranted, must await the development of the crop; recommendation as to the need for, and the extent of, regulation of shipments of such pears were made by said committee on July 25, 1956, after consideration of all information then available relative to the supply and demand conditions for such pears, at which time such recommendations and supporting information were submitted to the Department and notice thereof given to handlers and growers; necessary supplemental information was not available to the Department until August 1, 1956; shipments of the current crop of such pears are expected to begin on or about August 15, 1956, and this regulation should be applicable to all shipments of such pears in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; and compliance with this regulation will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., August 12, 1956, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., July 1, 1957, no handler shall ship:

(i) Any Beurre D'Anjou pears unless such pears grade at least U. S. No. 2 and are of a size not smaller than the 180 size: Provided, That, Beurre D'Anjou pears may be shipped when bearing unhealed broken skin punctures measuring not to exceed three-sixteenths of one inch in diameter or depth, as the case may be, if they otherwise grade at least U. S. No. 1, and are of a size not smaller than the 135 size;

(ii) Any Beurre Bosc pears unless such pears grade at least U. S. No. 2 and are of a size not smaller than the 165 size: Provided, That, Beurre Bosc pears which grade at least U. S. No. 1 may be shipped in sizes smaller than the 165 size but not smaller than the 180 size: Provided further, That, Beurre Bosc pears grown in the Placerville District which fail to meet the requirement with respect to shape specified in the U. S. No. 2 grade, only because of healed hail marks, may be shipped if such pears are not very seriously misshapen and are of a size not smaller than the 150 size;

(iii) Any Doyenne du Comice pears unless such pears grade at least U. S. No. 2 and are of a size not smaller than the 165 size;

(iv) Any Winter Nelis pears unless such pears grade at least U. S. No. 2 and are of a size not smaller than the 210 size: Provided, That, Winter Nelis pears which grade at least U. S. No. 1 may be shipped in sizes smaller than the 210 size but not smaller than the 225 size;

(v) Any Beurre Easter pears unless such pears grade at least U. S. No. 2 and are of a size not smaller than the 165 size: or

(vi) Any Beurre Clairgeau pears unless such pears grade at least U. S. No. 1 and are of a size not smaller than the 165 size.

(2) As used in this section, "pears," "handler," "ship," "shipped," and "Placerville District" shall have the same meaning as when used in the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order; "U. S. No. 1," "U. S. No. 2," "hail marks," and "very seriously misshapen" shall have the same meaning as when used in the United States Standards for Winter Pears such as Anjou, Bosc, Winter Nelis, Comice, and other similar varieties (7 CFR 51.1300–51.1321), and "135 size," "150 size," "165 size," "180 size," "210 size," and "225 size" shall mean that the pears are of a size which, as indicated by the size number, will pack, in accordance with the sizing and packing specifications of a standard pack, as specified in said United States Standards, 135, 150, 165, 180, 210, or 225 pears, respectively, in a standard western pear box (inside dimensions, 18 inches long by 11½ inches wide by 8½ inches deep).

PART 958—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN COLORADO

APPROVAL OF EXPENSES AND RATE OF ASSESSMENT

Notice of rule making regarding proposed expenses and rate of assessment, to be made effective under Marketing Agreement No. 97 and Order No. 58 (7 CFR Part 958; 19 F. R. 9368), regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in Colorado, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER June 29, 1956 (21 F. R. 4831). This regulatory program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, which proposals were adopted and submitted for approval by the area committee for Area No. 3, established pursuant to said marketing agreement and order, it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 958.221 Expenses and rate of assessment. (a) The reasonable expenses that are likely to be incurred by the area committee for Area No. 3, established pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 97 and Order No. 58, to enable such committee to perform its functions pursuant to the provisions of the aforesaid marketing agreement and order, during the fiscal period ending May 31, 1957, will amount to $2,660.

(b) The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler, pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 97 and Order No. 58, shall be $0.00095 per hundredweight of potatoes handled by him as the first handler thereof during said fiscal period.

(c) The terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in Marketing Agreement No. 97 and Order No. 58.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 3d day of August 1956, to become effective 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PART 114—MISCELLANEOUS REQUIREMENTS FOR LICENSED ESTABLISHMENTS

PART 118—HOG-CHOLERA VIRUS

PART 119—ANTI-HOG-CHOLERA SERUM

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

On June 16, 1956, there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (21 F. R. 4259) a notice of rule making with respect to proposed amendments of §§ 114.2, 118.3, and 119.25 of the regulations relating to viruses, serums, toxins, and analogous products, and to certain organisms and vectors (9 CFR 114.2, 118.3, and 119.25, as amended) under the Virus-Serum-Toxin provisions of the Act of March 4, 1913, (21 U. S. C. 151 et seq.). No comments on the proposed amendments were received. After due consideration of the proposal and pursuant to the authority cited above, said regulations are hereby amended as follows:

1. After the first sentence in § 114.2 (b) a new sentence is added to read: "An outline with respect to the preparation of hog-cholera virus for inoculating purposes shall also be submitted to the Branch in accordance with § 118.3."

2. Section 118.3 is amended to read:

§ 118.3 Virus for inoculating purposes. (a) Pigs for the production of inoculating virus at a licensed establishment shall weigh not less than 40 pounds nor more than 125 pounds each and shall be inoculated only with highly virulent hog-cholera virus. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, no hog-cholera virus shall be used for inoculating pigs for the production of inoculating virus, hyperimmunizing virus, or simultaneous virus, or for inoculating pigs in serum or vaccine tests, unless it has been produced, processed, tested and held in the frozen state by a licensee in accordance with an outline acceptable to the Chief. Virus for such use shall be held under Branch lock or seal and shall be released by the inspector as needed for such use.

(b) Hog-cholera virus obtained from the Animal Disease and Parasite Research Branch of the Department, simultaneous virus produced by a licensee and purchased on the open market, and hog-cholera virus from outbreaks on farms which is admitted to a licensed establishment and passed through pigs as provided in § 121.3 of this subchapter, may be prepared thereafter in accordance with an acceptable outline as provided in paragraph (a) of this section and may then be used for the purposes specified in paragraph (a) of this section. The virus produced in the course of passage through pigs inoculated with the virus from such sources, except that needed for further passage to meet the requirements of an outline under paragraph (a) of this section may be used as hyperimmunizing virus, if the pigs so inoculated reacted as prescribed in § 118.4.

(c) Frozen virus for inoculating purposes under paragraph (a) of this section must be held in containers acceptable to the Chief. When glass containers are used, they shall be of borosilicate type of high resistance and low alkalinity, shall meet the tests developed by the Branch for determining these qualities, shall be properly marked for identification, and shall be guaranteed by the manufacturer to be acceptable to the Branch.

3. The heading of § 119.25 is amended to read: "§ 119.25 Preservatives."

4. Paragraph (c) of § 119.25 is amended to read:

(c) Phenolization of anti-hog-cholera serum must be accomplished with accuracy, and in a manner which will prevent occurrence of undesirable changes in the product.

5. A new paragraph (d) is added to § 119.25 to read:

(d) Merthiolate may also be added to anti-hog-cholera serum in a solution in such proportions that the merthiolate will equal a 1–10,000 concentration of the serum recovered gross. Such addition must be compensated for by using a higher concentration of phenol solution as prescribed in this section. The quantity of product obtained by the addition of phenol solution plus the merthiolate shall not exceed the maximum amount permissible by the use of seven and one-half percent phenol solution alone or 83 percent of the defibrinated blood, whichever is less.

6. A new paragraph (e) is added to § 119.25 to read:

(e) In every case the concentration and quantity of each solution used in preserving the serum shall be recorded by the licensee.

The purposes of the amendments are to improve the procedures in producing, processing, testing, and storing hog-cholera virus used for inoculating purposes in the production of anti-hog-cholera serum and hog-cholera virus and vaccine and to permit the addition of merthiolate to anti-hog-cholera serum as an aid in maintaining the purity of the product.

(37 Stat. 832, 21 U. S. C. 154)

Effective date. The foregoing amendments shall become effective 90 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of August 1956.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Reg. No. ER-214]

PART 295—CLASSIFICATION AND EXEMPTION OF NONCERTIFICATED CARGO CARRIERS

REPEAL OF PART

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 3d day of August 1956.

Part 295 of the Economic Regulations established a classification of interstate and overseas air carriers designated as "non-certificated cargo carriers". This classification embraced all direct air carriers engaged in interstate or overseas air transportation of property only for compensation or hire on May 5, 1947, who had previously filed applications for certificates of public convenience and necessity authorizing such scheduled air cargo operations. This class of carriers was specifically exempted, pursuant to an exercise of the Board's powers under section 416 (b) of the act, from the statutory requirement that air transportation be furnished only in accordance with certificates of public convenience and necessity. Pursuant to the provisions of § 295.5, the exemption granted to each non-certificated cargo carrier expired 60 days after final disposition by the Board of all or part of its application for certification. As a consequence of recent actions taken by the Board in various route proceedings, all of the exemptions granted by Part 295 have been terminated. Accordingly, it is necessary to repeal the provisions of this part.

Since this amendment does not affect the rights of any party and serves only to eliminate an obsolete rule, notice and publication procedure hereon are unnecessary and the amendment may be made effective on less than 30 days notice.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby repeals Part 295 of the Economic Regulations effective August 10, 1956.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425)

PART 16—LIQUIDATION OF DUTIES

BULLETIN NOTICES OF LIQUIDATION

As an additional measure to help expedite the liquidation of entries, it has been decided to permit the liquidation of unconditionally free entries filed at ports of entry other than headquarters ports to be performed at such ports of entry in cases where the collector of customs deems it advisable. In such cases, it is believed that the bulletin notice of liquidation of such entries should be prepared at the port of liquidation. Therefore, § 16.2 (g) of the Customs Regulations is amended by deleting the words "prepared at the headquarters port."

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

Subchapter B—Food and Food Products

PART 120—TOLERANCES AND EXEMPTIONS FROM TOLERANCES FOR PESTICIDE CHEMICALS IN OR ON RAW AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

TOLERANCES FOR RESIDUES OF PIPERONYL BUTOXIDE, PYRETHRINS, AND ALLETHRIN

Petitions were filed with the Food and Drug Administration requesting exemptions from the necessity of tolerances for residues of piperonyl butoxide, pyrethrins, and allethrin in or on certain raw agricultural commodities from postharvest use.

The Food and Drug Administration has determined that for public-health reasons appropriate tolerances rather than exemptions from tolerances should be established for these postharvest uses.

The tolerances already established for piperonyl butoxide and pyrethrins for protective use on certain grains after harvest have been found adequate to permit surface treatment of these same grains.

The tolerances established in this order are adequate to permit useful postharvest application of the pesticide chemicals piperonyl butoxide, pyrethrins, and allethrin. The Secretary of Agriculture has certified that they are useful for the purposes for which tolerances are being established.

After consideration of the data submitted in the petitions and other relevant material which show that the tolerances established in this order will protect the public health, and by virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 408 (d) (2), 68 Stat. 512; 21 U. S. C. 346a (d) (2)) and delegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs by the Secretary (21 CFR 120.7 (g)), the regulations for tolerances and exemptions from tolerances for pesticide chemicals in or on raw agricultural commodities (21 CFR Part 120; 21 F. R. 1047) are amended by changing §§ 120.113, 120.127, and 120.128 to read as follows:

§ 120.113 Tolerances and exemptions from the requirement of a tolerance for residues of allethrin (allyl homolog of cinerin I). (a) Allethrin is exempted from the requirement of a tolerance for residues when used before harvest in the production of beans, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, collards, horseradish, kale, kohlrabi, lettuce, mushrooms, mustard greens, radishes, rutabagas, turnips.

(b) Tolerances of 4 parts per million for residues of allethrin from postharvest use of such pesticide chemical are established in or on the following raw agricultural commodities: Apples, blackberries, blueberries (huckleberries), boysenberries, cherries, crabapples, currants, dewberries, figs, gooseberries, grapes, guavas, loganberries, mangoes, muskmelons, oranges, peaches, pears, pineapples, plums (fresh prunes), raspberries, tomatoes.

§ 120.127 Tolerances for residues of piperonyl butoxide. Tolerances for residues of piperonyl butoxide ((butyl carbityl) (6-propyl piperonyl) ether) from postharvest use of such pesticide chemical are established in or on raw agricultural commodities, as follows:

(a) 20 parts per million in or on barley, buckwheat, corn (including popcorn), rice, rye, wheat.

(b) 8 parts per million in or on almonds, apples, beans, blackberries, blueberries (huckleberries), boysenberries, cherries, cocoa beans, copra, cottonseed, crabapples, currants, dewberries, figs, flaxseed, gooseberries, grain sorghum, grapes, guavas, loganberries, mangoes, muskmelons, oats, oranges, peaches, peanuts, pears, peas, pineapples, plums (fresh prunes), raspberries, tomatoes, walnuts.

§ 120.128 Tolerances for residues of pyrethrins. Tolerances for residues of pyrethrins (insecticidally active principles of Chrysanthemum cinerariaefolium) from postharvest use of such pesticide chemical are established in or on raw agricultural commodities, as follows:

(a) 3 parts per million in or on barley, buckwheat, corn (including popcorn), rice, rye, wheat.

(b) 1 part per million in or on almonds, apples, beans, blackberries, blueberries (huckleberries), boysenberries, cherries, cocoa beans, copra, cottonseed, crabapples, currants, dewberries, figs, flaxseed, gooseberries, grain sorghum, grapes, guavas, loganberries, mangoes, muskmelons, oats, oranges, peaches, peanuts, pears, peas, pineapples, plums (fresh prunes), raspberries, tomatoes, walnuts.

Any person who will be adversely affected by the foregoing order may, at any time prior to the thirtieth day from the effective date thereof, file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 5440, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington 25, D. C., written objections thereto. Objections shall show wherein the person filing will be adversely affected by this order, specify with particularity the provisions of the order deemed objectionable and reasonable grounds for the objections, and request a public hearing upon the objections. Objections may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof. All documents shall be filed in quintuplicate.

Effective date. This order shall be effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter I—Office of the Secretary of Defense

PART 55—WELFARE, MORALS, HEALTH, AND SAFETY OF MEMBERS OF THE READY RESERVE UNDERGOING ACTIVE DUTY FOR TRAINING FOR BASIC TRAINING

Sec.
55.1 Purpose.
55.2 Scope and applicability.
55.3 Welfare.
55.4 Morals.
55.5 Health.
55.6 Safety.
55.7 Cooperation with the National Security Training Commission.

AUTHORITY: §§ 55.1 to 55.7 issued under sec. 262, 69 Stat. 600; 50 U. S. C. 1013.

§ 55.1 Purpose. The purpose of this part is to prescribe policy guidance with respect to the welfare, morals, health, and safety of members of the Ready Reserve who are receiving active duty for training for basic training. Such persons are referred to herein as trainees.

§ 55.2 Scope and applicability. This part is applicable to those military departments conducting active duty for training programs pursuant to Part 54 of this subchapter.

§ 55.3 Welfare—(a) Community Relations. Wherever practicable and appropriate, installation commanders shall make every effort to form local Citizens Advisory Committees at stations where active duty for training for basic training is conducted, for the following purposes:

(1) To encourage, by community influence, the operators of establishments serving military personnel to employ proper practices or be declared off-limits.

(2) To insure that commercial establishments in the vicinity of training installations comply with local laws governing the sale of alcoholic beverages to minors.

(3) To encourage local communities to provide wholesome off-duty recreation, entertainment, and social activities for trainees.

(4) To encourage local religious leaders to take an active interest in the welfare of the trainees and their attendance at local religious services and related activities.

(5) To provide trainees, where appropriate, with friendly counsel from local civic leaders, attorneys, clergymen, and businessmen in the solving of any problems which may arise involving the trainees.

(6) To encourage local community leaders to deliver lectures as a part of the cultural and educational activities of the program whenever practicable.

(b) Educational activities. (1) Instruction shall be given trainees in general non-military subjects, including character guidance lectures, covering but not limited to such areas as moral principles, democratic responsibility, sex education, and government. Every effort should be made to impress upon the trainees knowledge of their obligation to protect the institutions which give to American life its distinctive qualities and their own importance to the nation in that supreme task.

(2) Trainees shall be accorded opportunities to improve their educational status and to inquire into fields which interest them. The facilities of the United States Armed Forces Institute shall be available to trainees. Any trainee whose attainments do not include a fourth-grade education should be offered courses to raise his educational level toward that grade to the extent possible in light of the required military training.

(3) Installation commanders shall cooperate with local citizens committees in seeking arrangements for the extension of city library loan privileges to trainees. The customary library facilities of military installations shall also be available to trainees.

(c) Athletics. Each of the services' training programs shall include athletics and body building programs comparable to those offered to basic trainees of the Active Forces.

(d) Social recreation. Social activities, adequate lounge facilities, snack bars, informal game facilities, and motion picture facilities shall be made available to trainees during their off-duty hours. Recreational assistance may be sought at the installation level from local USO Committees, civic groups, and other related associations.

(e) Hobbies. Hobby shops shall be made available to trainees to the greatest practicable extent, and opportunities will be accorded trainees to take part in extra curricular activities such as dramatics, band, orchestra, and glee club.

(f) Legal processes. (1) Commanding officers, courts martial, and appropriate reviewing and appellate authorities shall give full regard to the youth and inexperience of the trainees in imposing punishment or in approving or affirming such punishment.

(2) The trainee's rights and duties under applicable laws and regulations, including State and local laws regarding behavior, should be carefully explained to the trainees as soon as possible after their arrival at an installation.

(g) Compensation. Trainees shall be permitted to continue to receive compensation from any person, firm, or corporation while in training on the same basis as other persons of the reserve components undergoing active duty for training.

(h) Trainers and instructors. Necessary action will be taken to insure that trainers and instructors have the highest moral and ethical standards. Such personnel should exercise a 24-hour-day responsibility and example, taking an interest in everything the trainees do, visiting their mess halls, barracks, and clubs regularly.

(i) Facilities. (1) Installation facilities such as soda fountains; snack bars; filling stations; laundries; barber, tailor and shoe repair shops; photographic studies; and news stands should be available to trainees.

(2) Guest houses for visiting parents should be provided whenever possible.

§ 55.4 Morals—(a) Religious activities. (1) Chaplains of the Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish faiths shall be available for personal counseling and regular services. In the event that a particular faith has no chaplain available when needed by a trainee, a local minister, priest, or rabbi should be called upon for help.

(2) Services and instructions such as those available to regular military and civilian personnel shall be made available to trainees. All sacraments and rites shall be made available to trainees.

(3) Chaplains should:

(i) Extend to the trainees a word of welcome upon arrival at training stations, explain to them what a chaplain does in the Armed Forces and invite them to come at any time to talk with him as friend and counselor.

(ii) Interview each trainee as soon as possible after he enters training. Based on this interview, a religious data and interview card can be prepared for the chaplain's guidance during the training period.

(iii) Be available for counsel at all times.

(iv) Give opportunities to church-related trainees to share voluntarily in choirs and in Bible and religious education classes.

(v) Make available to trainees of no church relationship voluntary instruction in religious principles or preparatory classes for baptism and church membership.

(vi) Visit and be available to hospital patients for counsel, personal conferences, or any other services they can render.

(b) Associates. To protect the trainees against undesirable associates, no person who has been convicted of any felony shall be permitted to enlist into the program.

(c) Control of alcoholic beverages. (1) Regulations pertaining to the sale of alcoholic beverages to trainees, including the prohibition of sales to minors, will be in conformity with applicable Federal, State, Territorial, or local laws or regulations.

(2) Establishments which do not comply with local laws governing the sale of alcoholic beverages to minors shall be placed off-limits.

(3) To facilitate compliance with such laws the identification cards of trainees will show clearly date of birth, age, or otherwise indicate that the trainee is a minor when such is the case.

(4) Soft drinks and other such refreshments will be within easy access of trainees in enlisted men's clubs.

§ 55.5 Health—(a) Equality of treatment. Medical treatment, including hospitalization and surgical care, shall be furnished to trainees in the same manner as furnished to members of the Armed Forces in general.

(b) Medical care. Trainees are entitled to be retained beyond their training period for the purpose of receiving hospitalization, or medical, surgical, or dental care occasioned by accidents or illness.

(c) Inspections. Quarters, food, and sanitary facilities shall be inspected frequently and regularly by the proper authorities to insure adequacy.

§ 55.6 Safety—(a) Vehicle registration. All motor vehicles belonging to trainees and operated on military installations shall be registered and their use thereon strictly supervised.

(b) Supervision of recreational activities. Recreational activities, such as swimming, shall be closely supervised. The opportunity to learn to swim should be afforded to all trainees.

§ 55.7 Cooperation with the National Security Training Commission—(a) Visitations. Subsection 262 (e), 69 Stat. 601, 50 U. S. C. 1013 charges the National Security Training Commission with advising the President and the Secretary of Defense and reporting annually to the Congress with respect to the welfare of persons enlisted under section 262, 69 Stat. 600, 50 U. S. C. 1013 while performing the initial period of active duty for training. In order to carry out its statutory responsibilities:

(1) The Commission has established procedures under which Commissioners, or other qualified persons designated by them, will conduct periodic visitations to the training installations. While the Commission has no responsibility for military training itself, it will inquire into all other aspects of the program, including such matters as food, housing, recreation, health, safety, religious activity, morals, welfare, character guidance, information, and education.

(2) The Commission and its authorized representatives shall have access to all matters relating to the welfare of trainees in each of the training installations and should be authorized to talk freely to commanding officers, training personnel, and trainees.

(b) Access to Commission. No trainee shall be denied the right of direct and private access to the Commission and its representatives.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

Subchapter B—Carriers by Motor Vehicle

PART 179—TRANSFER OF OPERATING RIGHTS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 5, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of June A. D. 1952.

The matter of reprinting the rules and regulations governing transfers, under sections 206, 209, and 212 (b) of the Interstate Commerce Act (49 U. S. C. 306, 309, and 312 (b)), of rights to operate as a motor carrier, in interstate or foreign commerce, being under consideration:

It appearing that by order entered August 7, 1943, the Commission approved rules and regulations governing the transfer of rights to operate as a motor carrier in interstate or foreign commerce effective December 1, 1943,

It further appearing that since the effective date of the said rules and regulations, the Commission issued supplemental orders dated August 4, 1949, December 12, 1949, September 27, 1950, July 20, 1951, and April 7, 1952, approving amendments to said rules and regulations;

It is ordered That, effective on the date hereof, rules 1 to 5, inclusive, of the rules and regulations prescribed August 7, 1943, as revised by supplemental orders, be, and they are hereby adopted and promulgated in revised form as follows:

Sec.
179.1 Definitions.
179.2 Applications.
179.3 Operations by fiduciaries.
179.4 Transfers and contracts to operate for limited periods, considerations.
179.5 Orders of Court.

AUTHORITY: §§ 179.1 to 179.5 issued under 49 Stat. 546, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 304. Interpret or apply 49 Stat. 551, as amended, 552, as amended, 555, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 306, 309, 312.

§ 179.1 Definitions. As used in this part, the following words and terms are construed to mean:

(a) Transfer. All transactions, not included within sections 5[1] and 210a (b) of the Interstate Commerce Act, whether by purchase, lease, contract to operate, or otherwise, whereby an operating right as a motor carrier arising out of the Interstate Commerce Act is acquired by one person from another.

(b) Operating right. The right to operate as a motor carrier in interstate or foreign commerce over a route or routes or within a specified territory, as authorized by a certificate of public convenience and necessity or a permit issued by this Commission under the provisions of the Interstate Commerce Act, or as authorized by those provisions of said act under which a motor carrier may continue operations pending consideration of its application to the Commission for a certificate or permit. The term does not include the right to operate under the second proviso of section 206 (a).[2]

(c) Duplicating rights. Operating rights which authorize the transportation of passengers or of the same commodities from and to, or between, the same points.

(d) Control. The same meaning as that contained in section 1 (3) (b) of the Interstate Commerce Act (49 U. S. C. 1 (3) (b)).

(e) Holder. The record holder of the operating rights, including a lessor.

(f) Person. Same as defined in section 203 (a) (1) of the Interstate Commerce Act (49 U. S. C. 303 (a) (1)).

§ 179.2 Applications—(a) Form. Applications for approval of the transfer of operating rights shall be made in writing to the Commission and shall be in such form and contain such information as the Commission shall prescribe.

(b) Filing. The verified original of such application and four copies thereof shall be filed with the Commission at Washington, D. C., one copy thereof shall be delivered, in person or by mail, to the District Director in each district of the Bureau of Motor Carriers in which headquarters of the parties signing such application are located, and one copy thereof shall be delivered, in person or by mail, to the board, commission, or official (or to the Governor where there is no board, commission, or official) having authority to regulate the business of transportation by motor vehicle, of each State in which either of the applicants operates. Proof of delivery of copies of the application to each of such persons shall be made as a part of the original verified application filed with the Commission.

(c) General basis for approval. (1) Except as may be otherwise provided in this part, the proposed transfer described in any such application shall be approved if it appears that the proposed transaction is one which is not subject to the provisions of section 5, Interstate Commerce Act; that the proposed transfer, if approved, will not result in unlawful ownership or control of a motor carrier; and that the proposed transferee is fit, willing, and able properly to perform the service authorized by the operating rights sought to be transferred, and to conform to the provisions of the Interstate Commerce Act and the requirements, rules, and regulations of the Commission thereunder. Otherwise the application shall be denied.

(2) The transfer of any operating rights under which operations are not being conducted at the time of the proposed transfer and have not been performed for a substantial period will be approved only upon a showing that the cessation of operations was caused by circumstances over which the holder of such operating rights had no control.

(d) General basis for disapproval. (1) No attempted tranfer of any operating right shall be effective except upon full compliance with these rules and regulations and until after the Interstate Commerce Commission has approved such transfer as herein provided. The mere execution of a chattel mortgage, deed of trust, or other similar document, does not constitute a transfer within the meaning of the rules in this part, and does not require the approval of the Commission, unless it embraces the conduct of the operation by a person other than the holder of the operating right. A proposed transfer of operating rights by means of the foreclosure of a mortgage or deed of trust or other lien upon such rights, or by an execution in satisfaction of any judgment or claim against the holder thereof, shall not be effective without compliance with these rules and regulations and the prior approval of the Commission.

(2) A proposed transfer of operating rights will not be approved if the Commission finds that the transferee does not intend to, or would not, engage in bona fide motor carrier operations under such operating rights, or if the Commission finds that the transferor acquired such operating rights for the purpose of profiting therefrom and has not engaged in bona fide motor carrier operations under such operating rights.

(3) An application for transfer of operating rights by sale and purchase thereof will not be approved if the Commission considers and determines that the purchase price to be paid would be excessive and contrary to the public interest.

(4) The Commission will not approve a transfer of operating rights to a person who controls or who is controlled by, or who is under common control with another person who is the holder of operating rights with duplicate, in whole or in part, except to an immaterial extent, those proposed to be transferred.

(5) The Commission will not approve a transfer of operating rights for a limited period, whether by lease, operating contract, or otherwise, to a person who is the holder of operating rights which duplicate, in whole or in part, except to an immaterial extent, those proposed to be transferred.

CONDITION: The rules set forth in paragraph (d) (4) and (5) of this section may be suspended, in the discretion of the Commission, with respect to transfers which are proposed because of conditions resulting from national emergency.

(e) Division of rights. An operating right may be divided as to routes or territories, and part thereof transferred, provided such routes or territories are clearly severable and the division thereof does not permit the creation of duplicate operating rights. No division of operating rights based upon the class or classes of property authorized to be transported will be approved, unless it appears to the satisfaction of the Commission that the part of the operating rights sought to be transferred is, because of a difference in the nature or type of the service rendered, clearly distinguishable and severable from the remaining operating rights.

§ 179.3 Operations by fiduciaries. (a) Unless or until otherwise ordered by the Commission, administrators and executors of the estates of deceased holders of operating rights, guardians of incapacitated holders of operating rights, persons having custody of the business of dissolved partnerships the members of which held operating rights as partners, and trustees, receivers, conservators, assignees, or other persons authorized by law to collect and preserve property of financially disabled, bankrupt, or deceased holders of operating rights may continue the operations authorized by such operating rights without approval by the Commission of a transfer thereof but shall, within 30 days after assuming control of such operations, give notice thereof by a letter, properly enclosed in a stamped envelope addressed to the Secretary of the Commission, Washington, D. C., describing such operations, identifying the operating rights under authority of which they are conducted, stating the full name and address of the person or persons who are continuing the operations, and stating the date on which and the circumstances under which such person or persons assumed control of such operations.

(b) Operations referred to in paragraph (a) of this section shall be continued in the name or names of the record holder of the certificate, permit, or other operating rights, followed also by the name or names of the person or persons conducting the operations and a designation of his or their capacity.[3] Compliance with this rule with respect to all tariffs, schedules, reports, or other documents filed in accordance with the Interstate Commerce Act or the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder, shall be sufficient compliance with any requirement, rule, or regulation that such tariffs, schedules, reports, or documents be filed in the name of the holder of the operating rights.

[1] Sec. 5 (10) provides as follows:

"Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the approval or authorization of the Commission in the case of a transaction within the scope of paragraph (2) where the only parties to the transaction are motor carriers subject to part II (but not including a motor carrier controlled by or affiliated with a carrier as defined in sec. 1 (3)), and where the aggregate number of motor vehicles owned, leased, controlled, or operated by such parties, for purposes of transportation subject to part II, does not exceed twenty.

"Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the approval or authorization of the Commission in the case of a transaction within the scope of paragraph (2) where the only parties to the transaction are street, suburban, or interurban electric railways none of which is controlled by or under common control with any carrier which is operated as part of a general steam railroad system of transportation."

[2] A transferee of a State certificate of public convenience and necessity who engages in operations in interstate or foreign commerce under the second proviso of sec. 206 (a) is required to file properly executed Form B. M. C. 75, regardless of whether the transferor of such State certificate previously engaged in operations under said proviso.

§ 179.4 Transfers and contracts to operate for limited periods, considerations. (a) Applicants who seek approval of a transfer of operating rights for a limited period, whether by lease, operating contract, or otherwise, shall state in their application the specific period for which such transfer is sought, the consideration for such transfer, the time and method of payment thereof, and that the applicants have agreed in writing that all operating rights involved in the transaction shall revert to the transferor at the expiration of said term, or upon a discontinuance of operations thereunder by the transferee at any time prior to the expiration of said term. In case of reversion, the transferor shall give immediate notice thereof to the Commission.

(b) Unless unsual circumstances are involved, an application for the transfer of operating rights for a limited period of time will not be approved for a period longer than one year, during which time the parties will be expected to consider and determine whether they want to enter into a permanent transaction of sale and purchase of the rights: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed as approving a sale and purchase of operating rights in advance of application therefor.

(c) An application for the transfer of operating rights for a limited period of time will not be approved unless the terms of such transfer provide for a maximum rental stated in dollars.

(d) An application for the transfer of operating rights for a limited period of time which might otherwise be approved for a period of one year will not be so approved if the Commission considers and determines that the rental charge resulting from the transfer for the one-year period would be excessive and contrary to the public interest.

§ 179.5 Orders of Court. If any proposed transfer presented to the Commission for approval shall also require the authority or approval of any court, applicants shall file with the Commission, at the time of filing their application, a certified copy of the order of the court authorizing the transfer of the operating rights involved, or applicants shall file with the Commission, within 30 days after such transfer has been approved by the Commission, a certified copy of the order of Court approving such transfer.

By the Commission, division 5.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 964]

DRIED FIGS PRODUCED IN CALIFORNIA

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING REGARDING THE ESTABLISHMENT OF SALABLE AND SURPLUS PERCENTAGES FOR DRIED FIGS FOR THE 1956–57 CROP YEAR

Notice is hereby given that a proposed rule is being considered to establish a salable percentage of 80 percent and a surplus percentage of 20 percent in connection with dried figs which are produced in California and such percentages shall be applicable to each variety separately and acquired by handlers during the 1956-57 crop year. These percentages were recommended by the Dried Fig Administrative Committee in accordance with the applicable provisions of Marketing Agreement No. 123 and Order No. 64 (20 F. R. 1685), regulating the handling of dried figs produced in California, effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.).

Consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining to the proposed rule which are filed in triplicate with the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., and received not later than the close of business on the tenth day after the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, except that, if said tenth day after publication should fall on a legal holiday, Saturday, or Sunday, such submission must be received by the Director, not later than the close of business on the next following business day.

The proposed percentages are based on the following estimates pertaining to California dried figs, which were submitted by the Dried Fig Administrative Committee and accepted by the Department: (1) Carry-in of about 9,400 tons of dried figs (all varieties) on August 1, 1956; (2) a total merchantable production of approximately 21,000 tons of dried figs in 1956; (3) a total available supply of 30,400 tons (item 1 plus item 2); (4) an expected disappearance of approximately 23,500 tons in normal trade channels; (5) a desirable carry-out of 2,500 tons on July 31, 1957; and (6) a surplus of about 4,400 tons in the 1956–57 crop year.

Although the surplus reflected by the above estimates is approximately 21 percent of the 1956 production, it is desirable to round the surplus percentage to the 20 percent and the salable percentage to the 80 percent recommended by the committee in view of the tentative nature of the supply and disposition estimates at this time. Since each of the four major varieties of dried figs have some degree of interchangeability of use, and since the grower income earned by a surplus pool should be maximized in holding each variety separate and selling each in terms of their respective demand, the application of this percentage should be to each variety, and the proposed rule so provides.

On the basis of the information now available to the Department, it appears that the estimated average price of dried figs to producers for the crop year beginning August 1, 1956, will not exceed the price level contemplated in § 2 (1) of the aforesaid act.

The proposed percentage rule is as follows:

§ 964.200 Dried fig salable tonnage and surplus tonnage regulation for the 1956–57 crop year. The salable percentage of natural condition dried figs acquired by handlers during the crop year beginning August 1, 1956, and ending July 31, 1957, shall be 80 percent, and the surplus percentage of such dried figs for the said crop year shall be 20 percent, and such percentages shall be applicable to each variety separately.

Dated: August 3, 1956.

MILK IN SOUTH BEND-LA PORTE, IND., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held in the Oliver Hotel, South Bend, Indiana, beginning at 10:00 a. m., c. d. t., Tuesday, August 14, 1956, for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to the proposed amendments hereinafter set forth, or appropriate modification thereof, to the tentative marketing agreement heretofore approved by the Secretary of Agriculture and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the South Bend-La Porte, Indiana, marketing area (7 CFR 967 et seq.). The proposed amendments have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

The proposed amendments to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the South Bend-La Porte, Indiana, milk marketing area are as follows:

Proposed by Pure Milk Association, Chicago, Illinois:

1. Amend § 967.41 to establish a new Class (Class I–A) for milk used in cottage cheese.

2. Amend § 967.44 (c) to read as follows:

(c) As Class I milk if received by transfer or diversion at a plant not an approved plant in the form of any item named in § 967.41 (a) (1), (2), or (3), unless (1) the transferor handler claims Class II classification on the basis of utilization in the unapproved plant in his report submitted to the market administrator pursuant to § 967.30 for the month in which such transaction occurred, (2) the receiver maintains books and records showing the utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at his plant, and which are made available to the market administrator, and (3) in such receiver's plant there actually had been used during the delivery period in the use indicated in such report not less than an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat derived by him from milk or cream with which such receipts were commingled: Provided, That if upon inspection of such receiver's records there had not been used in such indicated use an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat so derived, the remaining pounds shall be classified as Class I milk.

3. Reconsider the allocation of Class I and Class II milk values to skim milk and butterfat as now provided in § 967.46.

4. Delete the following firms listed in § 967.50 (a):

Borden Co., Black Creek, Wis.
Borden Co., Greenville, Wis.
Carnation Co., Berlin, Wis.
Carnation Co., Jefferson, Wis.
Carnation Co., Chilton, Wis.

5. Delete § 967.50 (b) in its entirety.

6. Amend § 967.51 to provide a special price for Class I–A milk as follows: "From the price of spray process nonfat dry milk (Chicago area manufacturing plants) deduct two cents per pound, multiply the resultant figure by 8.5. The result shall be known as the price per hundredweight of skim milk used in cottage cheese."

7. Amend § 967.51 (a) to read:

(a) Add to the basic formula price (3.5 percent butterfat milk) $1.30 per hundredweight for each delivery period of the year: Provided, That such Class I price shall be increased or decreased respectively, by the supply-demand adjustment computed under Federal Order No. 41 regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area.

8. Amend § 967.61 to read:

§ 967.61 Diverted Milk. (a) Except for the months of September, October, November and December, producer milk diverted from a handler's plant to a plant not an approved plant shall be deemed to have been received by the handler for whose account such milk was diverted.

(b) During the months of September, October, November and December, milk diverted to a non-approved plant shall not be considered as producer milk.

9. Add a new § 967.46 (f) as follows:

(f) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat any amount in excess of 20 percent of receipts from producers. The resultant amount shall be the amount of Class III skim milk and butterfat.

10. Add a new § 967.53 to read:

§ 967.53 Class III milk prices. The minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler for skim milk and butterfat in producer milk received and classified as Class III milk for each delivery period shall be the marketwide uniform price for the respective delivery period.

Proposed by South Bend-Mishawaka Handlers:

11. Amend § 967.41 to establish a new class (Class II–A) for butterfat used in churning butter.

12. Amend § 967.51 to provide a special price for butterfat used in churning as follows:

§ 967.51 Class I milk prices. The minimum price per hundredweight for all butterfat which is used by a handler to churn butter or which may be sold to a non-handler or transferred to a handler and is actually used for the churning of butter shall be computed as follows:

(a) Multiply by 100 the simple average of the daily average wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound as reported by the Department during the delivery period.

Proposed by the Dairy Division, Agricultural Marketing Service:

13. Make such changes as may be required to make the entire marketing agreement and order conform with any amendments thereto which may result from this hearing.

Copies of this notice of hearing and of the order now in effect may be procured from the Market Administrator, 116 South William Street, P. O. Box 216, South Bend 24, Indiana, or from the Hearing Clerk, Room 112, Administration Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Dated: August 6, 1956.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[17 CFR Part 240]

GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934

UNLISTED TRADING

Notice is hereby given that the Commission has under consideration a proposed amendment to paragraph (a) of § 240.12f–2 (Rule X-12F–2) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Section 12 (f) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 provides that a national securities exchange, upon application to and approval of such application by the Commission under certain conditions, may continue unlisted trading privileges to which a security has been admitted on such exchange prior to March 1, 1934, or may extend unlisted trading privileges to any security duly listed and registered on another national securities exchange, or any security for which there is available from data filed with the Commission pursuant to its rules under the Federal securities laws information substantially equivalent to that available in case of a security duly listed and registered.

Rule X-12F–2 deals with the continuation of unlisted trading privileges granted to a security pursuant to section 12 (f) when changes occur with respect to the security. Paragraph (a) of Rule X-12F–2 provides that a security admitted to unlisted trading privileges shall be deemed to be the security theretofore admitted to such privileges notwithstanding specified changes including changes in the par value, the number of shares authorized, or the number of shares outstanding. The proposed amendment would clarify this paragraph to make it clear that a security will not be deemed to be the security theretofore admitted to unlisted trading privileges if the change occurs in connection with a merger, a sale or acquisition of assets, or under circumstances which involve a substantial change in the identity or business of the issuer. If in such cases the exchange believes that, notwithstanding the change, the security is substantially equivalent to the security previously admitted to unlisted trading privileges and it wants to be able to continue unlisted trading privileges on this basis, it would be necessary for the exchange to file an application, under paragraph (b) of the rule, requesting the Commission to determine whether the security is substantially equivalent to the security previously admitted to unlisted trading privileges.

The proposed amendment would be adopted pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly sections 12 (f) and 23 (a) thereof.

The text of paragraph (a) of § 240.12f–2 as proposed to be amended is as follows:

§ 240.12f–2 Changes in securities admitted to unlisted trading privileges. (a) Unless the changes enumerated in subparagraphs (1), (2) or (3) of this paragraph occur in connection with a merger, a sale or acquisition of assets, or under any circumstances which involve a substantial change in the identity or business of the issuer, a security admitted to unlisted trading privileges on a national securities exchange shall be deemed to be the security theretofore admitted to such privileges on such exchange although changed in one or more of the following respects:

(1) Title of such security or the name of the issuer;

(2) The maturity, interest rate, and/or outstanding aggregate principal amount of an issue of bonds, debentures or notes;

(3) The par value, dividend rate, number of shares authorized and/or the outstanding number of shares of a stock.

Such exchange shall notify the Commission in writing of any change promptly after learning thereof, except that such notification need not be filed if such security is also listed and registered on another national securities exchange.

All interested persons are invited to submit views and comments on the proposal in writing to the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C., on or before August 31, 1956. Views and comments received will be available for public inspection unless in any case a person requests that his comments shall not be made public.

By the Commission.

UTAH

NOTICE OF FILING OF PLAT OF SURVEY AND ORDER PROVIDING FOR OPENING OF PUBLIC LANDS

A plat of survey of each township as described below will be officially filed in the Land Office, Salt Lake City, Utah, effective at 10:00 a. m. September 6, 1956

SALT LAKE MERIDIAN

T. 21 S., R. 11 E.,
Sections 1, 2, 3, 16, 31, 32, 33, 36.

Area surveyed: 5,787.52 acres.
Plat of survey accepted June 11, 1956.

The land is principally broken, rolling benches with scattered mesas lying on the San Rafael Swell. The soil is of a shallow sandy clay and rocky, lying on limestone and sandstone bedrock. The township is covered with a scattered growth of juniper and pinon pine, many types of bushes and grasses.

T. 24 S., R. 10 E.,
Sections 2, 16, 31, 32 and 36.

Area surveyed: 3,433.88 acres.
Plat of survey accepted June 26, 1956.

The land is composed of broken rolling benches with scattered mesas. The soil is shallow sandy clay and rocky, lying on limestone and sandstone bedrock. The township is covered with a scattered growth of juniper and pinon pine, many types of bushes and grasses.

T. 24 S., R. 12 E.,
Sections 2, 16, 31, 32 and 36.

Area surveyed: 2,913.64 acres.
Plat of survey accepted June 26, 1956.

The land in this township is principally rough and broken sandstone slopes with scattered pinon and juniper.

T. 25 S., R. 10 E.,
Sections 2, 16, 31, 32 and 36.

Area surveyed: 3,199.72 acres.
Plat of survey accepted June 26, 1956.

The land is composed of shale and limestone. The township is drained by a number of canyons beginning on the San Rafael Swell and draining southerly. There is a medium growth of scrub juniper and pinon over most of the township. There is a lack of water.

T. 29 S., R. 14 E.,
Sections 31, 32, 33, 34, 35 and 36.

Area surveyed: 3,832.01 acres.
Plat of survey accepted June 11, 1956.

In general, the terrain is rough and mountainous with a few scattered juniper and pinon; with a sparse undergrowth of scrub sagebrush, salt brush and bunch grass.

T. 33 S., R. 8 E.,
Sections 1, 2, 3, 16, 32, 33, and 36.

Area surveyed: 4,188.16 acres.
Plat of survey accepted June 11, 1956.

In general, the terrain is characterized by steep sandstone slopes, cut by box canyons, and clay badlands. The soil is poor, mostly a shallow sand to rocky clay loam. The timber is a dwarf juniper and stunted pinon, with very little undergrowth.

T. 33 S., R. 9 E.,
Sections 1, 2, 3, 16, 32, and 36.

Area surveyed: 3,837.76 acres.
Plat of survey accepted June 11, 1956.

The township is principally high mesas cut by deep, steep-sided box canyons. The soil is poor, mostly clay. The timber is dwarf juniper and pinon, with very little undergrowth. The canyons have intermittent streams of alkaline water during the wet season.

T. 34 S., R. 8 E.,
Sections 1, 2, 3, 16, 32, 33, and 36.

Area surveyed: 4,480.92 acres.
Plat of survey accepted June 11, 1956.

The township is mountainous country cut by deep canyons draining in a southwesterly direction. The soil is mostly sand on top of a sandstone strata. There is a medium dense growth of juniper and pinon. The undergrowth is mostly brush with very little grass.

T. 34 S., R. 9 E.,
Sections 1, 2, 3, 16, 31, 32, 33, and 36.

Area surveyed: 4,813.64 acres.
Plat of survey accepted June 11, 1956.

The township is mountainous, cut by numerous steep-sided canyons. The soil is mainly a deep blue clay but on some is a shallow sandy clay. There is a very widely scattered growth of dwarf juniper. The undergrowth consists of various brushes and some grama grass.

T. 35 S., R. 8 E.,
Sections 1, 2, 3, 16, 31, 32, 33, and 36.

Area surveyed: 5,119.52 acres.
Plat of survey accepted June 11, 1956.

The township is composed of high mesas, broken away by erosion. The soil is loose sandy to rocky clay loam. The timber is mainly juniper and stunted pinon. The undergrowth in the sandy part is principally grama grass and in the clay areas brushes and weeds.

T. 35 S., R. 9 E.,
Sections 1, 2, 3, 16, 32, 33, and 36.

Area surveyed: 4,477.52 acres.
Plat of survey accepted June 11, 1956.

The land is mainly broken sandstone slopes, cut by numerous box canyons and gulches. The soil is a poor grade of sand and clay, and is very rocky. The only timber is dwarf juniper and stunted pinon. The underbrush consists mainly of shadscale, rabbit brush, weeds and very little grass.

It is presumed that the right of the State of Utah attaches to sections 2, 16, 32, 36, of the above-described townships on the date of acceptance of plats of survey, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals. Therefore, preference rights of veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict, and others, as provided for by the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284) as amended, do not attach to these sections.

No application for these lands will be allowed under the homestead, desert-land small-tract, or any other non-mineral public-land law, unless the lands have already been classified as valuable, or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

Subject to any existing valid rights and the requirements of applicable law, the lands in the foregoing townships are hereby opened for filing of applications in accordance with the following:

a. Applications under the non-mineral public land laws may be presented to the Manager mentioned below, beginning on the date of this order. Such applications will be considered as filed on the hour and respective dates shown for the various classes enumerated in the following paragraphs:

2. All valid applications under the Homestead, Desert Land, and Small Tract Laws by qualified veterans of World War II or of the Korean conflict, and others entitled to preference rights under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284 as amended), presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on September 6, 1956, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such preference right applications filed after that hour and before 10:00 a. m. on December 6, 1956, will be governed by the time of filing.

3. All valid applications under the non-mineral public land laws, other than those coming under paragraphs (1) and (2) above, presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on December 6, 1956, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such applications filed after that hour will be governed by the time of filing.

Persons claiming veteran's preference rights under paragraph (2) above must enclose with their applications proper evidence of military or naval service, preferably a complete photostatic copy of the certificate of honorable discharge. Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims, must enclose properly corroborated statements in support of their applications, setting forth all facts relevant to their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to Manager, Land Office, Room 312, Federal Building, P. O. Box 777, Salt Lake City 10, Utah.

ORDER DESIGNATING THE CHIMNEY ROCK NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE, BAYARD, NEBRASKA

Whereas the Congress of the United States has declared it to be a national policy to preserve for the public use historic sites, buildings, and objects of national significance for the inspiration and benefit of the people of the United States; and

Whereas Chimney Rock, located in the vicinity of the City of Bayard in the County of Morrill, and State of Nebraska, is recognized by the Advisory Board on National Parks, Historic Sites, Buildings, and Monuments, as possessing national significance as a unique and celebrated landmark on the Oregon trail, the great transcontinental route of the covered wagon migration during the mid-nineteenth century; and

Whereas the State of Nebraska, through the Nebraska State Historical Society, holds title to the land containing this historic landmark; and

Whereas a cooperative agreement has been made between the Nebraska State Historical Society, the City of Bayard, and the United States of America, providing for the designation, preservation, and use of Chimney Rock as a national historic site:

Now, therefore, under and by virtue of the authority conferred by section 2 of the act of Congress approved August 21, 1935 (49 Stat. 666), I do hereby designate the following described lands to be a national historic site, having the name "Chimney Rock National Historic Site":

A tract of land in the Southwest Quarter of Section 17, Township 20 North, Range 52 West, of the 6th P. M., Morrill County, Nebraska, more particularly described as follows:

80.2 acres, more or less, in the Southwest Quarter (SW¼) of Section Seventeen (17), Township Twenty (20) North, Range Fifty-two (52) West of the 6th P. M., Morrill County, Nebraska, more particularly described as follows: Beginning at the southwest corner of said Section 17, running thence north on the section line a distance of 34.00 chains, running thence at right angles and east a distance of 23.50 chains, running thence south a distance of 34.14 chains to a point on the south line of said Section 17, said point being 16.50 chains west of the south quarter corner of said Section 17, running thence west along the south line of said Section 17 to the southwest corner thereof, the point of beginning; and

A tract of land described as follows:

Beginning at a point which is on the North line of the NW¼ of Section 20 T. 20 N., R. 52 W. and 40 feet West of the North one quarter corner thereof: Thence turning an angle of 60 degrees and 00 minutes to the left from the said North line of the NW¼ of Section 20 and running Southwesterly a distance of 244.00 feet to a point; thence turning an angle of 67 degrees and 50 minutes to the right from the last course and running Northwesterly a distance of 935.00 feet to a point; thence turning an angle of 35 degrees and 40 minutes to the right from the last course and running North and Westerly a distance of 113.00 more or less to intersect the North line of the said NW¼ of Section 20 at a point 1169.00 feet West of the North one quarter corner of the said Section 20; thence running east along the North line of the said NW¼ of Section 20 a distance of 1129.00 feet more or less to the point of beginning of the tract being described. The above-described tract lies wholly within the NW¼ of Section 20 T. 20 N., R. 52 W. and contains 3.50 acres of land more or less, but excepting .34 of an acre, more or less, which was formerly included within the area of a cemetery surveyed and platted July 31, 1896, by the Chimney Rock Cemetery Association.

The administration, protection, and development of this national historic site shall be exercised in accordance with the provisions of the above-mentioned cooperative agreement and the act of August 21, 1935, supra.

Warning is expressly given to all unauthorized persons not to appropriate, injure, destroy, deface, or remove any feature of this historic site.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the Department of the Interior to be affixed, in the City of Washington, this 2d day of August 1956.

FRED A. SEATON,
Secretary of the Interior.

Federal Maritime Board

MATSON NAVIGATION CO. AND MITSUI STEAMSHIP CO.

NOTICE OF AGREEMENT FILED WITH THE BOARD FOR APPROVAL

Notice is hereby given that the following described agreement has been filed with the Board for approval pursuant to section 15 of the Shipping Act, 1916, 39 Stat. 733, 46 U. S. C. 814.

Agreement No. 8104, between Matson Navigation Company and Mitsui Steamship Company, Limited (Mitsui Line), covers the transportation of canned pineapple and canned pineapple juice under through bills of lading from Hawaii to European Continental sea ports, with transhipment at U. S. Pacific Coast ports.

Interested parties may inspect this agreement and obtain copies thereof at the Regulation Office, Federal Maritime Board, Washington, D. C., and may submit, within 20 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, written statements with reference to the agreement and their position as to approval, disapproval, or modification, together with request for hearing should such hearing be desired.

Dated: August 3, 1956.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION

[Docket No. F 16]

POWER REACTOR DEVELOPMENT CO.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF CONSTRUCTION PERMIT

Please take notice that the Atomic Energy Commission has issued the construction permit set forth below to the Power Reactor Development Company. In accordance with the procedures set forth in the Commission's rules of practice (10 CFR Part 2), the Commission will direct the holding of a formal hearing upon timely receipt of a request therefor from the applicant or an intervenor.

Construction permit. Power Reactor Development Company of Detroit, Michigan (hereinafter "PRDC") on January 7, 1956, filed its application for license under section 104b of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (hereinafter "the act") to construct and operate a nuclear reactor (hereinafter "the reactor"). Amendments to the application were filed on June 6, 1956, July 12, 1956, July 20, 1956, and July 23, 1956. The original application together with said amendments is hereinafter referred to as "the application".

In its application PRDC has presented information on the general design of the reactor and its program for carrying out further investigations leading to a final design of the reactor. Based on the information submitted by PRDC, the Atomic Energy Commission (hereinafter "the Commission") has found that:

A. The reactor will be a utilization facility as defined in the Commission's regulations contained in Title 10, Chapter I, CFR Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities".

B. The reactor will be a utilization facility involved in the conduct of research and development activities leading to the demonstration of the practical value of that type of facility for industrial or commercial purposes.

C. PRDC, Atomic Power Development Associates, Commonwealth Associates, Inc., and United Engineers and Constructors, Inc., are technically qualified to design and construct said reactor.

D. (1) There are identified areas of uncertainty regarding the hazards potential of fast neutron breeder reactors that must be investigated and resolved. From the current state of the tecnology applicable to such reactors it can reasonably be inferred that there may be other areas of uncertaintly not yet identified and requiring investigation and resolution. Of primary importance among the identified areas of uncertainty are:

(a) Whether there exists in the PRDC reactor a positive component of the temperature coefficient similar to that exhibited in the Commission's experimental breeder reactor (EBR–I). The source of the positive component of the temperature coefficient exhibited by EBR–I (presently believed to be caused by dimensional distortion of the core structure) must be identified and its effect, if any, in the PRDC reactor must be eliminated.

(b) Whether there is a credible condition of meltdown and reassembly of the fuel of the PRDC reactor which could result in an explosion that would breach the gas-tight building surrounding the reactor. Further investigations must be carried out to establish that a credible condition of meltdown with consequent U–235 accumulation of critical dimensions cannot result in such an explosion.

(2) On the basis of information presently available, the Commission believes that the problems relating to the safety of operation of the PRDC reactor will prove to be of a kind that can be satisfactorily resolved within a reasonable time. There is some doubt whether they can be resolved in time to meet the schedule proposed by PRDC in its application and it may turn out that further investigations beyond the program of investigation outlined by PRDC in its application will be needed.

E. Although PRDC has submitted evidence of a commitment from certain banks for a loan of $15,000,000 and has described its plan for obtaining additional financing from its member companies, the evidence submitted to date does not justify a finding with respect to the financial qualifications of PRDC and accordingly the continued effectiveness of this permit will be conditioned upon a further showing in this regard as stated below.

Pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 and Title 10, CFR, Chapter I, Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities," the Commission hereby issues a conditional construction permit to PRDC to construct the reactor as a utilization facility. This permit shall be deemed to contain and be subject to the conditions specified in §§ 50.54 and 50.55 of said regulations; is subject to all applicable provisions of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 and rules, regulations and orders of the Atomic Energy Commission now or hereafter in effect; and is subject to the conditions specified below:

A. The earliest date for the completion of the reactor is December 15, 1959. The latest date for completion of the reactor is December 15, 1960. The term "completion date" as used herein means the date on which construction of the reactor is completed except for the introduction of the fuel material.

B. The site proposed for the location of the reactor is the location known as Lagoona Beach, Monroe County, Michigan, specified in the application.

C. The general type of facility authorized for construction is a fast neutron breeder reactor, more fully described in Report APDA–108, designed to operate at 300,000 KW equivalent of thermal energy and furnish approximately 100,000 kilowatts of electrical energy, and which will use uranium enriched in the isotope uranium 235 as fuel.

D. Unless, within twelve months from the date of this construction permit, PRDC submits sufficient information relating to its financial resources to enable the Commission to make a finding that the Company has adequate financial resources to meet the requirements of the law and the regulations, this permit shall expire; provided that the Commission may for good cause shown extend the time for the submission of such data.

The conversion of this permit to a license is subject to submittal by PRDC to the Commission (by amendment of the application) of the complete, final Hazards Summary Report (portions of which may be submitted and evaluated from time to time). The final Hazards Summary Report must show that the final design provides reasonable assurance to the satisfaction of the Commission that the health and safety of the public will not be endangered by operation of the reactor in accordance with the specified procedures.

Upon completion (as defined in Paragraph A above) of the construction of the facility in accordance with the terms and conditions of this permit, upon the filing of any additional information needed to bring the original application up to date, upon finding that the final design provides reasonable assurance that the health and safety of the public will not be endangered by operation of the reactor in accordance with the specified procedures, and upon finding that the facility authorized has been constructed in conformity with the application as amended and in conformity with the provisions of the act and of the rules and regulations of the Commission, and in the absence of any good cause being shown to the Commission why the granting of a license would not be in accordance with the provisions of the act, the Commission will issue a Class 104 license to PRDC pursuant to section 104b of the act, which license shall expire twenty-five (25) years after the date of this construction permit.

From time to time PRDC may submit to the Commission, in writing, reports upon the progress being made in experimental and developmental work. Following the submission of each such report the Commission will review the data included therein to determine whether the results of such work can be incorporated as technical specifications by appropriate amendment to this permit.

Pursuant to § 50.60 of the regulations in Title 10, Chapter I, CFR, Part 50, the Commisison has allocated to PRDC, for use in connection with the operation of the reactor, 3,929 kilograms of uranium 235 contained in uranium at the isotopic ratios specified in PRDC's application for license. Shipments by the Commission to PRDC in accordance with Schedule 1 of the Appendix hereto will be conditioned upon PRDC's return to the Commisison of material substantially in accordance with Schedule 2 of the Appendix.

Dated at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of August 1956.

Date of issuance: August 4, 1956.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

H. L. PRICE, Director,
Division of Civilian Application.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70–3494]

ARKANSAS POWER & LIGHT CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION REGARDING ISSUANCE AND SALE OF NOTES TO BANK

AUGUST 3, 1956.

Arkansas Power & Light Company ("Arkansas"), a public-utility subsidiary of Middle South Utilities, Inc., a registered holding company, has filed an application and an amendment thereto with this Commission pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") regarding the following proposed transactions:

Arkansas has entered into a credit agreement with The Hanover Bank of New York City, pursuant to which Arkansas proposes to borrow from time to time up to November 30, 1956, an aggregate of not more than $8,000,000. The loans are to be evidenced by notes payable on or before two years from the date of the first of such borrowings and are to bear interest from their respective dates of issuance at the rate of 3¾ percent per annum to and including December 31, 1957, and thereafter at the rate of 3⅞ percent per annum.

The notes are to be prepayable in whole or in part without premium unless the prepayment is made from the proceeds of, or in anticipation of, bank borrowings at an interest rate lower than that then accruing on the notes to be prepaid, in which case Arkansas will pay a premium at the rate of ¼ of 1 percent per annum on the unpaid principal of the notes to be prepaid.

The proceeds from the proposed borrowings together with treasury funds will be used to make refunds to customers of about $8,500,000.

The fees and expenses incurred or to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions are estimated to be as follows:

Fee of Arkansas Public Service Commission	$4,500.00
Printing	300.00
Expenses of The Hanover Bank	1,000.00
Miscellaneous expenses (telephone tolls)	50.00
Total	5,850.00

The Arkansas Public Service Commission has issued an order authorizing the proposed transactions. It is represented that no other State or Federal agency, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Notice of the filing of the application having been duly given in the manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated under the Act, and no hearing having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and

It appearing that the fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions are not unreasonable if they do not exceed the estimates set forth above; and the Commission observing no basis for adverse findings, or for the imposition of terms and conditions, other than those contained in Rule U-24, and finding that the applicable provisions of the act and of the rules thereunder are satisfied, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that the application as amended be granted forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that the application as amended, be, and it hereby is, granted effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

Chapter III—Farmers Home Administration, Department of Agriculture

[Administration Letters 447 (440) and 433 (400)]

PART 390—ASSISTANCE IN THE GREAT PLAINS AREA

Chapter II, Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations, is amended to add a new Part 390 in Subchapter G, entitled, "Part 390—Assistance in the Great Plains Area," with a Subpart A entitled, "Great Plains Emergency loans," and a Subpart B entitled, "Voluntary Debt Adjustment Program," and to read as follows:

SUBPART A—GREAT PLAINS EMERGENCY LOANS

Sec.
390.1 General.
390.2 Types of credit assistance authorized.
390.3 Relationships with other sources of credit.
390.4 Making and servicing non-supervised loans.
390.5 Making and servicing supervised loans.

SUBPART B—VOLUNTARY DEBT ADJUSTMENT PROGRAM

390.21 General.
390.22 Policy.
390.23 Methods of adjustment.
390.24 Processing adjustments.

SUBPART A—GREAT PLAINS EMERGENCY LOANS

AUTHORITY: §§ 390.1 to 390.5 issued under R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22. Interpret or apply sec. 2 (a), (e), (f), 63 Stat. 44, as amended; 12 U. S. C. 1148a–2 (a), (e), (f).

§ 390.1 General. This subpart provides the policies, procedures and authorities for a broader emergency credit program to meet the special problems in certain counties of the Great Plains area. The objective of this lending program is to supplement the credit now available through private and Governmental sources in assisting farmers and stockmen in (a) making adjustments in their operations and in otherwise developing sound farm management programs that are consistent with the long-range agricultural program for proper land use in the area, and (b) meeting operating expenses and other obligations, which must be met if they are to continue in business. Loans under this program will be made under authority of section 2 (a) of Public Law 38, 81st Congress, as amended, and only in counties designated for that purpose by the Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 390.2 Types of credit assistance authorized. Loans will be made under this subpart only when it is determined, in each individual case, that there is a sound basis for credit and it is expected that the loan will be repaid. Each applicant will be required to obtain a land capability map for his farm or ranch, prepared by the Soil Conservation Service, which will become a part of the loan docket. However, when such maps cannot be furnished by the Soil Conservation Service so that loans can be processed by the time the funds will be needed by the applicants, State Directors are authorized to make exceptions to this requirement with respect to present borrowers and in other clearly justifiable cases, with the understanding that maps will be obtained as soon as possible. The land capability map (including any supplementary information available from the Soil Conservation Service necessary for a proper interpretation and use of the map) will be considered along with other information, such as acreage allotments, availability of Federal Crop Insurance, minimum resource guides, past production record of the farm, the applicant's experience and demonstrated ability, and other available information, as a basis for determining the soundness of the proposed operations. Two types of credit assistance are authorized, as follows:

(a) Supervised. Loans made to assist applicants in making needed adjustments in their farming or ranching operations will be considered as "supervised" loans. In addition to the credit extended under the authority contained herein, these borrowers will receive the same type of supervision and service, including planning and year-end analysis, as now required in connection with Production and Subsistence adjustment loan cases. Loans of this type will be based on farm and home plans developed on Form FHA–14, "Farm and Home Plan," and Form FHA–14A, "Long-Time Farm and Home Plan."

(b) Non-supervised. Loans made to assist applicants whose credit needs are only for operating expenses will be considered as "non-supervised" loans. Relatively small amounts may be included in these loans for machinery replacements; however, where substantial credit is needed for this purpose, repayable over several crop years, such loans shall be handled as supervised loans. Form FHA–197A, "Operating Budget and Financial Statement," will be used for documenting these loans, and they will be made and serviced as indicated under § 390.4.

§ 390.3 Relationship with other sources of credit. The assistance authorized in this subpart is intended to supplement and not replace the credit available to farmers and stockmen in the area through banks, cooperative lending agencies and other established sources, including other programs of the Farmers Home Administration.

(a) Loans will not be made under this subpart to any applicant whose credit needs can be met with a Production and Subsistence adjustment loan, Farm Ownership loan, Soil and Water Conservation loan, or a combination of such loans. However, if an eligible applicant's total need for credit of a type that is available under one or more of those regular lending programs cannot be met thereunder, an Emergency loan as authorized in this subpart will be made to meet the entire need for that particular type of credit.

(b) Loans will not be made under this subpart to any applicant who is predominantly a livestock operator and whose need for operating credit in connection with his livestock operations (including the purchase of livestock and replacement machinery) can be met with a Special Livestock loan under Part 384 of this chapter.

§ 390.4 Making and servicing non-supervised loans. All non-supervised loans will be made and serviced in accordance with Part 381 of this chapter except as follows:

(a) It will not be necessary for an applicant to establish that he has suffered a substantial production loss.

(b) When a real estate lien is to be taken as additional security, title evidence will be obtained in the same manner as outlined in § 390.5 (f) (4) (vi).

§ 390.5 Making and servicing supervised loans. All supervised loans will be made and serviced in accordance with the following policies and procedures:

(a) Eligibility. Any farm owner, farm operator, or stockman, including a partnership or corporation, is eligible for an Emergency loan under this subpart if it is determined that the applicant:

(1) Possesses legal capacity to contract for the loan.

(2) Is an established operator with a good past record of operations under normal conditions.

(3) Is primarily engaged in farming or livestock operations.

(4) Is unable to obtain from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies, or other responsible sources, or through other programs of the Farmers Home Administration, the credit required to meet his needs, or if the applicant is a partnership or corporation the partners or stockholders are not in a position to finance the operations involved.

(5) Will own or have available under satisfactory tenure arrangements a farm suitable for carrying on successful farming operations.

(6) Can be expected to endeavor honestly to carry out the undertakings and obligations required of him under the loan.

(b) Loan purposes. Loans may be made for any agricultural purposes consistent with the objectives of the program as outlined in § 390.1, such as the following:

(1) The purchase of livestock, farm equipment, farm equipment repairs, seed, fertilizer, feed, insecticides, and farm supplies. These purposes do not include the purchase of passenger automobiles.

(2) To meet family living expenses, including premiums on reasonable amounts of health and life insurance and expenses for medical care.

(3) The payment of a year's interest on debts secured by liens on livestock and farm machinery at a rate not in excess of that which is reasonable and customary for the area.

(4) The payment of cash rent for not more than one year in advance where no other satisfactory rental arrangements can be effected, provided (i) the applicant is obligated under a written lease to pay in advance the amount to be loaned for such purpose, and (ii) the terms of the lease provide the applicant with reasonable secure and satisfactory tenure.

(5) The payment of bills that were incurred for annual recurring operating expenses in connection with the production of livestock, livestock products, and crops that are to be harvested or marketed during the crop year for which the loan is being made. This does not authorize the payment of bills incurred in connection with crops or livestock that have been lost, destroyed or disposed of prior to loan approval.

(6) The payment of taxes and insurance premiums on real and personal property owned by the applicant and essential to his farming operations. However, loan funds will not be used to pay insurance premiums or taxes, either current or delinquent, on Farm Ownership, Farm Housing, or Soil and Water Conservation loan farms.

(7) To finance basic land and soil improvements as may be necessary to develop farms in accordance with approved conservation and land use practices for the area, including the reseeding of grasslands, fencing, brush removal, and soil and water erosion control measures.

(8) The development and improvement of domestic and irrigation water supplies and the repair and installation of water facilities, including the purchase of stock in water companies or associations when necessary.

(9) To make essential repairs and improvements to existing farm buildings or to erect new farm buildings in exceptional cases when needed in connection with a reorganization of the farm business.

(10) The purchase of additional land to enable applicants owning inadequate farms to enlarge their farms so they will constitute economic family-type units.

cant's anticipated repayment ability or the balance of the indebtedness is reamortized on that basis. Under similar conditions, loans may be made also for the payment of interest and principal due on farm real estate purchase contracts provided the applicant owns a mortgageable interest in the purchase contract or it is converted to a deed and mortgage prior to the time the loan is closed.

(12) The refinancing of debts secured by liens on livestock and farm machinery that are essential to a continuation of the farming operations under the farm and home plan developed, when such action is necessary in order for the applicant to retain possession of such property. The amount advanced for this purpose will not exceed the value of the chattels as determined by a current appraisal. All liens against the chattels must be satisfied of record.

(13) The payment of fees and expenses incident to the making of loans which are required to be paid by the applicant.

(c) Loan limitations. Loans will not be made to enable applicants to expand their operations beyond those considered to be family-type for the area.

(d) Terms of loans. (1) Interest will be charged at the rate of 3 percent per annum and will accrue from the date of the loan check on outstanding principal only.

(2) Loans will be scheduled to be repaid in accordance with the borrower's reasonable repayment ability, determined by an analysis of his farm and home operations. Except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, installments on such loans will be scheduled for repayment from each year's income, subject to the following:

(i) Advances for annual recurring expenses, including amounts advanced for the payment of bills as authorized in paragraph (b) (5) of this section, will be scheduled for repayment when the principal income from the year's operations normally would be received. Advances for such purposes as seeding permanent-type legumes and grasses and for basic soil treatment are not considered annual recurring expenses.

(ii) Advances to purchase or produce feed for productive livestock or livestock to be fed for the market will be scheduled for repayment when the principal income from the sale of such livestock or the livestock products normally can be expected.

(iii) Amounts advanced for other operating purposes, including the purchase of livestock and equipment and the refinancing of debts secured by liens on chattels only, or by liens on chattels with liens on real estate as additional security, will be scheduled for repayment over the shortest period consistent with the applicant's repayment ability but not in excess of seven years or the useful life of the chattel security, whichever is the shorter period. In addition, amounts advanced for real estate and water facilities purposes which are to be secured by liens on crops and chattels, as authorized in paragraph (e) (3) of this section will be scheduled for repayment as prescribed in this subpart.

(iv) Amounts advanced for land development, farm enlargement, building improvements, and other real estate purposes, the payment of interest and principal installments on real estate debts, and fees in connection with such advances will be scheduled for repayment over the shortest period consistent with the applicant's repayment ability but not in excess of 20 years from the date of the advance. It is recognized that it may be necessary to schedule smaller payments during the first few years of the loan because of the larger interest payments which will be due during those years, and because several years may be required for the applicant to realize sufficient income from his farming operations as reorganized to make larger payments during those years. At the same time, it is not expected that mere token payments will be scheduled. With the authority to defer payments until the end of the second full crop year, it is expected that installments generally will be approximately equal, taking into consideration the accrued interest that will be due each year.

(4) In some states original notes evidencing loans secured by liens on chattels cannot be scheduled for repayment over the entire repayment period agreed upon with the applicant because crop and chattel mortgage liens in those states are not valid for that length of time. In such states, when the repayment period agreed upon with the applicant extends beyond the period for which such security instruments are valid, Form FHA–258, "Agreement to Extend Payment Period," will be used to reflect the agreement and serve as a basis for taking the original notes and security instruments, as well as for taking additional notes and security instruments to extend the debt and lien. In states where the use of Form FHA–258 is required, the use thereof will be in accordance with State Instructions which have been issued by the State Director supplementing § 341.4 (d) of this chapter.

(e) Security policies. Each loan will be secured in a manner that will protect adequately the interest of the Government. In no event will the amount advanced, exclusive of funds for annual recurring expenses, exceed the applicant's equity in the real estate and chattels offered as security. The applicant's equity will be determined by deducting from the value (normal market value for real estate—current market value for chattels) of such property any liens not to be refinanced. When a lien on real estate must be taken to meet the security requirements specified herein, an appraisal of the property will be made as required in paragraph (f) (5) (ii) of this section. An appraisal of the real estate is not necessary if the loan approval official merely required a lien on the real estate as additional security. Subject to these policies each loan will be secured as follows:

(1) Amounts advanced for operating purposes as outlined in paragraph (d) (2) (i), and (iii) of this section will be secured by the following:

(i) A first lien on the crops growing or to be grown by the applicant, except:

(a) When a loan is being made to a tenant the Government's lien may be subject to the landlord's claim for a reasonable share of the crops for rent for the current year.

(b) When a loan is made to an applicant whose crops are subject to a lien contained in a purchase contract or a real estate mortgage, the Government's lien may be taken subject to the existing lien for the current year's installment on the real estate debt, provided the amount of such installment is reasonable when related to the normal rental charges for similar farms in the area.

(c) If a particular crop of the applicant is under lien as security for advances made by another creditor to produce that crop, or is to be financed by another creditor, the Government's lien may be subject to the lien of the other creditor, provided no advance will be made by the Farmers Home Administration in connection with such crops.

(ii) A first lien on all livestock and farm equipment purchased or refinanced with proceeds of the loan, except no lien will be taken on small tools and equipment of negligible value.

(iii) A first lien on all livestock being fed for market and productive livestock, other than that to be used for subsistence purposes, when advances are made to purchase or produce feed for such livestock. When it is not possible to obtain a first lien, however, a second lien will be acceptable provided the applicant has sufficient equity in the property to justify such action and prior lienholders execute Form FHA–916, "Agreement—Special Livestock Loan," agreeing to a definite non-disturbance period and to a division of the income to be received from the livestock which will permit the borrower to pay his loan in accordance with the policies expressed herein. When Form FHA–916 is used, the words "Special Livestock" will be changed to "Emergency" whenever it appears.

(iv) The best lien obtainable on as much of the livestock and farm equipment of security value owned by the applicant at the time the loan is made as is necessary to protect the interest of the Government. However, when a loan is made to a tenant, the landlord will be required to subordinate any interest or lien which he may have on such livestock and equipment that resulted from advances made for supplies, supplies furnished, or past-due rent.

(v) Written assignments of the proceeds of crop insurance when borrowers have insurance on crops from which payments are expected. If such insurance is to be obtained after the loan is made, an agreement will be reached with the borrower to give an assignment when the insurance is obtained.

(vi) Assignments of milk income when loans are made to finance dairy enterprises from which payments are expected and assignments of water stock when loans are made for the purchase thereof. Assignments of the proceeds from the sale of other agricultural products will be required when necessary to protect the interest of the Government.

(vii) The best lien obtainable on real estate when there is insufficient equity in the chattels to secure the amount advanced or the loan approval official determines that such security is necessary for other reasons.

(2) Except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, amounts advanced for land development, or any of the other purposes outlined in paragraph (d) (2) (iv), of this section, will be secured by the following:

(i) A first lien on all real estate purchased with the proceeds of the loan.

(ii) The best lien obtainable on real estate when funds are advanced for the payment of interest and principal on the debt secured by a lien on such property in order to bring the account current.

(iii) The best lien obtainable on all other farm real estate owned by the applicant and on any other real estate owned by the applicant when necessary to adequately secure the loan.

(3) Amounts not in excess of $1,000 advanced for any of the purposes outlined in paragraph (d) (2) (iv) of this section, may be secured as prescribed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, if the loan approving official determines that the loan can be secured adequately in that manner.

(f) Loan processing. (1) Applications for loans will be received and processed for consideration by County Committees under the provisions of Subpart A of Part 301 of this chapter, except that Form FHA–197, "Application for Farmers Home Administration Services," will be used for both initial and subsequent loans.

(2) When the loan will be made to a tenant and the proposed operations involve adjustments or practices that are not permissible under the terms of the lease, or when it appears necessary for other reasons, the landlord must agree in writing for the tenant to carry out the planned operations. This agreement may be obtained through a revision of the lease, by letter, the signature of the landlord on the farm plan, or any other satisfactory method. In addition, when the loan will include funds for land development or other improvements to the real estate, the tenant must have a written lease for a sufficient period and under terms that will enable him to obtain reasonable returns on his investment. Furthermore, the lease must provide for compensating the tenant for any unexhausted value of the improvements upon termination of the lease.

(3) Applications for loans which are to be secured primarily by crop and chattel mortgages, even though real estate liens may be taken as additional security, will be processed in accordance with Part 342 of this chapter, except as follows:

(i) Sections 342.1, 342.2, 342.3 (a) and (b) of this chapter are not applicable.

(ii) Form FHA–910B, "County Committee Certification (Emergency Loans—Great Plains)," will be used in lieu of Form FHA–49, "Certifications—Production and Subsistence Loans." Before a loan is approved, the County Committee must make the necessary certifications on Form FHA–910B which will be executed in an original only.

(iii) Form FHA–203, "Promissory Note," will be used instead of Form FHA–31, "Promissory Note," as required by § 342.3 (f) of this chapter, and any reference to Form FHA–31 in Part 342 of this chapter will be interpreted to mean Form FHA–203. Section 342.3 (f) of this chapter is otherwise applicable except that repayments will be scheduled in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section. The rate of interest will be shown on Form FHA–203 as 3 percent. When the applicant is a corporation, Form FHA–203 will be executed by the appropriate officials of the corporation, and in order to evidence their personal liability, by the principal stockholders. When the applicant operates as a partnership, Form FHA–203 will be executed by all members as partners and also as individuals.

(iv) Section 342.3 (h) of this chapter is not applicable. Instead, Form FHA–5, "Loan Authorization," will be prepared in accordance with § 381.9 (c) of this chapter.

(v) Section 342.3 (i) of this chapter is modified hereby to provide that loans may not be disbursed in more than four advances and the last advance must be disbursed not later than 12 months from the date of the first advance.

(vi) When a real estate lien is to be taken as security, title evidence will be obtained in the same manner as outlined for Soil and Water Conservation loans in § 352.1 (d) of this chapter and the lien will be taken on Form FHA–76 —, "Real Estate Mortgage."

(4) Loans made for farm enlargement, farm development, and similar purposes that will be secured by liens on real estate will, in general, be processed in accordance with the procedures applicable to processing direct Farm Ownership loans subject to the following:

(i) Where funds are being advanced for farm enlargement purposes, options will be obtained in accordance with the provisions of Subpart B of Part 321 of this chapter.

(ii) An appraisal of the farm will be made and reported on Form FHA–596, "Appraisal Report," by an employee authorized to make appraisals.

(iii) Title evidence will be obtained in the same manner as outlined for Soil and Water Conservation loans in § 352.1 (d) of this chapter. Loan dockets will be developed in accordance with Part 332 of this chapter except as follows:

(a) Sections 332.2, 332.3 and 332.4 of this chapter are not applicable.

(b) Section 332.6 of this chapter is amended hereby by substituting Form FHA–910B for Form FHA–491.

(c) Section 332.7 of this chapter is not applicable. Instead, loans will be reviewed and acted upon by the loan approval official in accordance with § 342.4 of this chapter. If the loan is approved, the title evidence required will be obtained and when it is determined that the necessary security requirements can be met, Forms FHA–5 and FHA–203 will be forwarded to the Finance Office for issuance of the loan check.

(d) Section 332.8 of this chapter is not applicable. However, when farm enlargement is involved, the option will be accepted following loan approval on Form FHA–191, "Acceptance of Option (Vendor to Furnish Abstract)," or FHA–191B, "Acceptance of Option (Vendor to Furnish Title Insurance)," whichever is applicable.

(e) Sections 332.9 and 332.12 of this chapter are not applicable and § 332.13 of this chapter is not applicable unless title insurance is used, in which case only those portions of this section dealing with title insurance and closing instructions are applicable.

(iv) The borrower will keep the buildings on the property insured against loss or damage by fire, lightning, windstorm, hail, and other hazards and natural catastrophies as required by the Farmers Home Administration.

(g) Loan approval authority. The loan approval authority delegated pursuant to § 381.10 of this chapter is applicable.

(h) Servicing. Supervised loans made under this subpart will be serviced in accordance with the authorities, policies, and procedures applicable to the servicing of adjustment Production and Subsistence loans, except that Part 364 of this chapter is not applicable. Non-supervised loans will be serviced as indicated under § 390.4.

SUBPART B—VOLUNTARY DEBT ADJUSTMENT PROGRAM

AUTHORITY: §§ 390.21 to 390.24 issued under sec. 41 (1), 60 Stat. 1066; 7 U. S. C. 1015 (1). Interpret or apply sec. 22, 60 Stat. 1071; 7 U. S. C. 1008.

§ 390.21 General. This subpart provides the policies, procedures, and authorities for the administration of a program of assistance in the voluntary adjustment of debts, pursuant to section 22 of Public Law 731, 79th Congress, between farm debtors and their creditors in counties in the Great Plains area in which the credit program under Subpart A of this part has been authorized by the Secretary of Agriculture. Because of the extended drought and wind erosion in some counties in the Great Plains area, many farmers and stockmen have been unable to meet their obligations for several years. As a result, some are indebted beyond their ability to pay, even over an extended period. Many of these farmers and stockmen will find it impossible to continue in business unless they are able to effect a satisfactory adjustment of their debts. It is the intent of this program to assist farm debtors and their creditors in working out voluntary adjustment of such debts.

the debtor for a Farmers Home Administration loan. It is not the policy, however, to assist any farmer or stockman in avoiding the payment of bona fide obligations within his reasonable ability to pay. It is expected that adjustments will be made on the basis that each debtor will meet his obligations to the full extent of his ability to pay, considering his resources and the demands upon his income.

§ 390.23 Methods of adjustments. The adjustment of debts under this program will be accomplished by rearrangement of terms, reduction in amount or interest rate, refinancing, conveyance of property, a combination of the above, or any other equitable means.

§ 390.24 Processing adjustments. All requests for assistance under this program will be made to the County Supervisor.

(a) Any farm debtor requesting assistance hereunder will be required to furnish complete information concerning his debts, financial condition, and farming or livestock operations. If the debtor is applying for loan assistance from the Farmers Home Administration, or recently has applied for such assistance, the information on Form FHA–14, "Farm and Home Plan," should be sufficient for this purpose. If the debtor is not applying for loan assistance and has not so applied recently, he will be required to complete and execute Form FHA–197A and the title of the form will be changed to read: "Request for Debt Adjustment Assistance." When a creditor of a farm debtor requests debt adjustment assistance, the debtor will be advised and asked to furnish the necessary information about his situation, as indicated above, if it is not already available.

(b) If the information developed on Form FHA–14 or Form FHA–197A shows a need for an adjustment of debts, the information will be made known to the creditors involved, who will be invited to make proposals for the adjustment of the debts they hold. This preliminary contact with creditors may be made by the debtor, the County Supervisor, or a member or members of the Farmers Home Administration County Committee. If the proposals made in response to this contact are adequate for reasonable and equitable adjustment, the proposals will be formalized into written agreements in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section.

(c) When a satisfactory adjustment cannot be reached in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, all creditors involved will be invited to attend a meeting of the County Committee for the purpose of discussing the debtor's situation and attempting to arrive at adjustments within the debtor's ability to pay. Any satisfactory agreements reached at such a meeting will be formalized into written agreements in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) Each satisfactory agreement reached for the adjustment of a debt within the debtor's ability to pay will be documented on Form FHA–241, "Debt Adjustment Agreement," and executed by both parties. Form FHA–241 will be prepared and executed in an original and two copies. The original will be delivered to the debtor, one copy will be delivered to the creditor, and the copy will be filed in the County Office.

AUTHORITY: §§ 446.801 to 446.832 issued under sec. 4, 62 Stat. 1070, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 714b. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 62 Stat. 1072, secs. 101, 401, 63 Stat. 1051, 1054; sec. 201, 68 Stat. 899; 15 U. S. C. 714c, 7 U. S. C. 1441, 1421.

§ 446.801 Administration. (a) The program will be administered by the Oils and Peanut Division, CSS, under the general direction and supervision of the Executive Vice President, CCC. In the field the program will be carried out by Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State committees and by Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committees (hereinafter called State and county committees) and the Dallas CSS Commodity Office (hereinafter called the commodity office). State and county committees and the commodity office do not have authority to modify or waive any of the provisions of this subpart or any amendments or supplements thereto.

(b) Associations operating under an Association Loan Agreement, CCC Peanut Form 27 (1956) with CCC (hereinafter referred to as an Agreement with CCC), may receive, arrange for storage, and handle eligible peanuts for and on behalf of eligible producers, using such peanuts as collateral for a loan made available by CCC.

§ 446.802 Availability—(a) Areas. The program will be available in the following areas:

(1) The Southeastern area consisting of the States of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Florida, and that part of South Carolina south and west of the Santee-Congaree-Broad Rivers.

(2) The Southwestern area consisting of the States of Arizona, Arkansas, California, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas.

(3) The Virginia-Carolina area consisting of the States of Missouri, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and that part of South Carolina north and east of the Santee-Congaree-Broad Rivers.

(b) Time. Loans will be made through January 31, 1957 and will mature on May 31, 1957, or such earlier date as may be specified by CCC: Provided, however, That CCC may extend the maturity date beyond May 31, 1957. All farm storage loan documents must be dated and delivered to the county office on or before January 31, 1957. Warehouse receipts for peanuts delivered to an association operating under an agreement with CCC must be dated not later than January 31, 1957, and must have been issued within two business days after the peanuts were received in the warehouse.

§ 446.803 Methods of price support. CCC will support the price of eligible 1956 crop quota peanuts through non-recourse farm storage loans to eligible producers and non-recourse warehouse storage loans to associations operating under an agreement with CCC.

§ 446.804 Definitions. As used in this subpart and in instructions and documents in connection therewith, the words and phrases defined in this section shall have the meanings herein assigned to them unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires.

(a) Association. A group of producers organized in accordance with the provisions of the Capper-Volstead Act, for the purpose of handling peanuts for and on behalf of its producer members, which qualifies as a cooperative in the State(s) in which it functions, is approved by CCC; and meets the following requirements:

(1) The major portion of the peanuts handled by the association is delivered to the association by producer members;

(2) The members and any non-members for whom the association handles peanuts have a right to share pro rata in the profits made from handling peanuts;

(3) The association has the legal right to pledge or mortgage the peanuts which it receives from producers who have no right to redeem or obtain possession of their peanuts after delivery to the association;

(4) The manager of the association must not be engaged in the business of buying, selling, storing, or dealing in peanuts, other than in his capacity as manager of the association or as a producer; and

(5) The association shall maintain such accounts and records as CCC may prescribe.

(b) County office. The office of the ASC county committee where records for the farm are kept.

(c) Farm. A farm as defined in the marketing quota regulations which in general defines a farm as all adjacent or nearby farmland which is operated as one farming unit.

(d) Farm allotment. The farm peanut acreage allotment for the 1956 crop of peanuts established pursuant to the marketing quota regulations.

(e) Farmers' stock peanuts. Picked or threshed peanuts produced in the continental United States during the calendar year 1956, which have not been shelled, crushed, cleaned (except for removal of foreign material), or otherwise changed from the State in which picked or threshed peanuts are customarily marketed by producers.

(f) Farm peanut acreage. The 1956 farm peanut acreage determined in accordance with the marketing quota regulations which in general defines such acreage as the total acreage of peanuts on the farm which is picked or threshed.

(g) Lot. That quantity of peanuts for which one inspection memorandum is issued.

(h) Marketing quota regulations. The Marketing Quota Regulations for peanuts of 1956 crop issued by the Acting Secretary of Agriculture, including any amendments or supplements thereto (20 F. R. 6033 and 21 F. R. 3867).

(i) Net weight. That weight obtained by multiplying the gross weight by a percentage equal to 100 percent minus the sum of the percentages of (1) foreign material and (2) moisture in excess of 7 percent in the Southeastern and Southwestern areas or 8 percent in the Virginia-Carolina area.

(j) Operator. The person who is in charge of the supervision and conduct of the farming operations on the entire farm.

(k) Producer. A person who, as landlord, tenant, or sharecropper, is entitled to share in the peanuts produced on the farm or in the proceeds thereof.

(l) Quota peanuts. Peanuts which are within the amount of the farm marketing quota determined pursuant to the marketing quota regulations.

(m) Type. The generally known types of peanuts (i. e. Runner, Spanish, Valencia, and Virginia) as defined in § 729.704 of the proclamation "Determination With Respect to Types of Peanuts in Insufficient Supply for the 1956-57 Marketing Year" issued February 21, 1956, by the Acting Secretary of Agriculture (21 F. R. 1259), except that any peanuts which would otherwise be considered Virginia type but which contain less than 30% "Fancy" size (peanuts riding a 34/64 x 3 inch slotted screen) will be considered Runner type peanuts.

(n) Within quota card. MQ–76 Peanuts (1956) or MQ–76–VC Peanuts (1956), 1956 Peanut Within Quota Marketing Card issued pursuant to the marketing quota regulations.

§ 446.805 Support prices. The national average support price is $227.04 per ton. The support prices and loan rates by types, and the premiums and discounts with respect thereto, are contained in § 446.806.

§ 446.806 Price support schedule. The following price support schedule applies to net weight merchantable farmers stock peanuts in bulk or in bags, eligible for loans pursuant to the terms of the CCC peanut program.

(a) Average support prices. The support price by type per average ton of 1956 crop quota peanuts will be:

	Per ton
Virginia	$242.98
Runner type	212.56
Southeastern Spanish type	230.30
Southwestern Spanish type	223.43
Valencia type suitable for cleaning and roasting	231.83

(b) Calculation of support prices. The support price per ton for each type of peanuts shall be calculated on the basis of the following rates, premiums and discounts:

(1) Kernel values.

(i) Price for each percent of sound mature kernels:
Virginia type	$3.28
Runner type	3.15
Southeastern Spanish type	3.25
Southwestern Spanish type	3.20
Valencia type:
A. Southwestern area:
(aa) Suitable for cleaning and roasting	3.42
(bb) Not suitable for cleaning and roasting	3.20
B. Areas other than Southwest	3.25
(ii) Price for each percent of kernels other than sound mature kernels	1.50
(iii) Premiums for Virginia type extra large kernels for each one percent above 15 percent	1.25

(2) Damaged kernel discount. The discount for damaged kernels riding the prescribed screen for determination of sound mature kernels for each type in excess of 1 percent shall be as follows per ton for all types.

Peanuts containing damaged kernels of:	Discount
2 percent	$3.50
3 percent	7.00
4 percent	12.25
5 percent	19.25
6 percent	26.25
7 percent	36.75

Peanuts with damaged kernels riding the prescribed screen of 8 percent and over shall not be eligible for price support.

(3) Foreign material discount. The discount for each full one percent foreign material in excess of 4 percent and not over 10 percent shall be $1.00 per ton. Peanuts with more than 10 percent foreign material shall not be eligible for price support.

(4) Discount for Florispan peanuts. Peanuts of Florispan variety will be discounted 35 percent in addition to other discounts.

(c) Definitions—(1) Sound mature kernels. The term "sound mature kernels" means kernels which are free from damage as defined in the U. S. Standards for farmers stock (i) white Spanish peanuts in the case of Spanish and Valencia peanuts, and (ii) Runner and Virginia peanuts, respectively, in the case of Runner and Virginia peanuts; and which will not pass through a screen having:

(a) $15/64$ x $3/4$ inch perforations in the case of Spanish and Valencia peanuts,

(b) $15/64$ x 1 inch perforations in the case of Virginia peanuts,

(c) $16/64$ x $3/4$ inch perforations in the case of Runner peanuts.

(2) Extra large kernels. "Extra large kernels" means any shelled Virginia peanuts which are whole and which are free from noticeably discolored or damaged peanuts as defined in the U. S. Standards for Shelled Virginia Peanuts (effective November 1, 1939) and which will not pass through a screen having $21.5/64$ x 1 inch perforations.

(3) Virginia type peanuts. Any lot or load of peanuts which would normally be considered Virginia type and which contains not less than 30 percent "fancy" size (peanuts riding a $3^{1}/_{64}$ x 3 inch slotted screen). Any lot or load of peanuts normally considered Virginia type but which contains less than 30 percent "fancy" size will be considered Runner type peanuts.

(4) Valencia type peanuts, suitable for cleaning and roasting. Valencia type peanuts suitable for cleaning and roasting shall be those containing less than 25 percent discoloration and damage caused by cracked and broken shells.

(d) Producer advance values. The association shall advance to the producer on eligible peanuts delivered to the association an amount equal to the support price of the peanuts less $9.00 per ton for payment of inspection and storage costs and part of the association's operating expenses in connection with the loan program.

§ 446.807 Eligible peanuts. Peanuts eligible for price support are 1956 crop farmers stock peanuts which:

(a) Contain 10 percent or less foreign material, 7 percent or less damaged kernels, 10 percent or less moisture when placed under a farm storage loan, or a percentage of moisture, when received in the warehouse, within the minimum and maximum limitations specified by the association for peanuts which are to be pledged as collateral for a loan to the association; except that peanuts which have been mechanically dried must contain at least 5 percent moisture when placed under a farm storage loan or when received in the warehouse and must not show evidence of damage from drying process, including (but not limited to) slippage of the skin.

(b) Are identified by a within quota marketing card in accordance with the marketing quota regulations.

(c) Are produced by an eligible producer on a farm on which the 1956 farm peanut acreage does not exceed the larger of the 1956 farm allotment or one acre, or for which a within quota marketing card is issued to the producer or operator upon the execution of Form MQ–92—Peanuts (1956) "Agreement by Operator of Overplanted Farm, 1956 Peanut Program", in which he agrees that the farm peanut acreage will not exceed the larger of the farm allotment or one acre, and if such undertaking is breached to pay liquidated damages to CCC, determined in accordance with the terms of such agreement, and to pay any marketing penalties determined to be due the Secretary of Agriculture.

(1) The liquidated damages payable to CCC under such agreement may be waived to such extent as the Executive Vice President of CCC or his designated representative may determine appropriate in any case where he determines that the breach of such agreement was unintentional and occurred despite a bona fide effort by the operator and other producers on the farm to comply with the agreement and that the amount by which the farm peanut acreage exceeded the acreage specified in the agreement was so small, in relation to the acreage so specified, that it did not materially impair CCC's price support operations.

(2) Copies of Form MQ–92—Peanuts (1956) may be obtained from the county committee. The county committee may decline to execute Form MQ–92—Peanuts (1956) in any case where it finds reasonable grounds to believe that such agreement will be used as a device to evade the requirements of this program or the collection of marketing penalty.

(d) Are free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, including landlord's liens, or if liens or encumbrances exist on the peanuts, acceptable waivers are obtained: Provided, however, That peanuts under a loan to an association may be subject to liens for warehouse charges specified in the warehouse contract, CCC Peanut Form 28 (1956), or CCC Peanut Form 28A (1956).

(e) If bagged, are in bags made of material weighing ten ounces or less per square yard and containing no sisal fibers.

§ 446.808 Eligible producer. A producer will be eligible for price support with respect to all eligible peanuts in which the beneficial interest is in him and has always been in him or in him and a former producer whom he succeeded before the peanuts were harvested.

§ 446.809 Type and grade. Federal or Federal-State inspectors shall determine the type and grade of each lot of peanuts:

(a) To be mortgaged as security for a farm storage loan, such type and grade to be determined on the basis of a sample taken by the county committee before the loan is made.

(b) When delivered in settlement of a farm storage loan.

(c) When received in a warehouse under contract CCC Peanut Form 28 (1956) or CCC Peanut Form 28A (1956); and

(d) When delivered to CCC from a warehouse under contract CCC Peanut Form 28 (1956) or CCC Peanut Form 28A (1956).

The grade shall be expressed in terms of the percentages of sound mature kernels, damaged kernels, other kernels, loose shelled kernels, foreign material, moisture, and extra large kernels in Virginia type peanuts.

§ 446.810 Approved lending agencies. An approved lending agency shall be a bank or other financial organization with which CCC has entered into a lending agency agreement on CCC Form 322 in the case of producer farm storage loans and on CCC Peanut Form 50 in the case of loans to peanut associations.

§ 446.811 Service charges and fees. (a) On the quantity of peanuts placed under a farm storage loan the producer shall pay an initial service charge in the amount of 30 cents per ton, except that the minimum charge shall be $3.00. An additional service charge at the rate of 30 cents per ton shall be paid on any additional quantity delivered to and accepted by CCC. No refund of service charges will be made. State committees may, at their option, require a deposit on farm storage loans, such deposit to be applied against the service charge when the loan is granted.

(b) The producer will pay the fee for inspecting peanuts placed under a farm storage loan and the association will pay the fee for inspecting peanuts placed under a loan to the association. CCC will pay the fee for inspecting loan collateral peanuts acquired by CCC.

(c) The association will pay the warehouse charges on peanuts redeemed. CCC will pay warehouse charges with respect to loan collateral peanuts acquired by CCC, except that the producer will be required to defray storage charges for a period of eight months.

(d) The service charges and fees specified in this section will be computed on gross weights.

§ 446.812 Interest rate. Loans shall bear interest at the rate of 3½ percent per annum from the date of disbursement of the loan, except that (a) where there is a default in satisfaction of a farm storage loan the deficiency shall bear interest at the rate of 6 percent per annum from the date of default, and (b) where there has been a fraudulent representation by the producer in the loan documents or in obtaining the loan, the loan shall bear interest at the rate of 6 percent per annum from the date of disbursement of the loan.

§ 446.813 Personal liability of the borrower. The making of any fraudulent representation in obtaining a loan or the conversion or unlawful disposition of any portion of the peanuts by the borrower may render such borrower subject to criminal prosecution under Federal law and shall render him personally liable for the amount received (plus interest) and for any resulting expense incurred by any holder of the note.

§ 446.814 Payments and collections; amounts not exceeding $3. To avoid administrative costs of making small payments and handling small accounts, amounts of $3 or less due a producer will be paid only upon request; and a deficiency of $3 or less, including interest, may be disregarded by a producer unless demand for payment is made by CCC.

§ 446.815 Set-offs. (a) If a producer who obtains a loan is indebted to CCC on any accrued obligation, or if any installment or installments on any loan made available by CCC on farm-storage facilities or mobile drying equipment are past due, or are payable under the provisions of the note evidencing such loan out of the proceeds of the price support loan, such producer must designate CCC or the lending agency holding such note as the payee of the proceeds of the price support loan to the extent of such indebtedness or installments, plus interest if any, but not to exceed that portion of the proceeds remaining after deduction of loan service charges and amounts due prior lienholders. If the producer is indebted to any other agency of the United States and such indebtedness is listed on the county debt register, he must designate such agency as the payee of the proceeds as provided in this section. Indebtedness owing to CCC or to a lending agency as provided in this section shall be given first consideration after claims of prior lienholders.

(b) Associations shall deduct from their advance payments to producers and remit in accordance with procedure approved by CSS, the amount of indebtedness as shown on the marketing cards presented at the time the peanuts are received, plus interest.

(c) Compliance with the provisions of this section shall not constitute a waiver of any right of the producer to contest the justness of the indebtedness involved either by administrative appeal or by legal action.

§ 446.816 Purchase of notes. (a) The county committee, acting on behalf of CCC, will purchase from approved lending agencies notes evidencing approved farm storage loans. The purchase price will be the principal sums remaining due on such notes plus interest computed according to the lending agency agreement. Lending agencies shall submit notes and reports to the county office where the loan documents were approved.

(b) Approved lending agencies making loans to associations may assign all or part of such loans to CCC and obtain payment for the amounts assigned by means of sight drafts drawn on CCC payable through a designated Federal Reserve Bank or Branch Bank. Lending agencies may act as agents for CCC in servicing the loan or portion thereof assigned to CCC.

§ 446.817 Foreclosure. If the loan is not satisfied upon maturity by payment, or by delivery of the peanuts from farm storage, the holder of the note is authorized to remove the peanuts and sell them. Any sum due the borrower as a result of the sale of the peanuts shall be payable only to the borrower without right of assignment.

§ 446.818 Farm storage loan provisions. Loans will be available to eligible producers on eligible peanuts in approved farm storage. Producers who want to obtain such loans will apply at the county office where the farm program records are kept, and that office will arrange for inspection of the storage facilities and for inspection, sampling and grading of the peanuts. After it is determined that the producer, the peanuts, and the storage facilities meet the requirements therefor, the county office will determine the amount of the loan and prepare and approve the loan documents. Copies of all such documents will be kept in the county office. After the loan documents are approved, the producer may obtain the loan from any approved lending agency or from CCC. The producer may deliver the peanuts to CCC upon maturity of the loan, or may redeem the peanuts at any time prior to such delivery by repaying the amount of the loan plus interest and charges.

(a) Approved farm storage. Approved farm storage shall consist of storage structures located on or off the farm (excluding public warehouses), which are determined by the county office to be so located and of such substantial and permanent construction as to afford safe storage of peanuts. Such structures shall be dry and well-ventilated.

(b) Method of determining quantity—(1) Peanuts placed under loan. The net weight of the peanuts to be placed under a farm storage loan will be calculated from an estimated gross weight determined as provided in this section. A 5 percent minimum reduction in such estimated gross weight is required in an effort to avoid underdelivery at maturity in the event the loan is not repaid.

(i) Peanuts stored in bulk. The estimated gross weight of bulk peanuts may be determined either by weight or by measurement. When the quantity is determined by measurement, the gross weight shall be computed on the number of pounds per cubic foot for the type of peanuts indicated below (such number of pounds has been reduced by approximately 5 percent from the estimated actual weight):

Type:	Weight per cu. ft. (pounds)
Runner	17.0
Spanish	19.0
Valencia	17.0
Virginia	12.0

If the estimated gross weight of bulk peanuts is determined by actual weight instead of by measurement, deduct from such weight an amount specified by the State committee which amount shall be not less than 5 percent of such gross weight.

(ii) Peanuts stored in bags. The estimated gross weight of bagged peanuts to be placed under loan shall be determined by weighing all of the bags, or by weighing a sufficient number of bags to estimate the gross weight of all the bags and then by deducting an amount not less than 5 percent of such gross weight specified by the State committee.

(2) Peanuts delivered to CCC at maturity. The net weight of peanuts delivered to CCC upon maturity of the loan shall be calculated from the gross weight determined by actual weight at the time of delivery.

(c) Forms. Loan forms shall consist of Commodity Loan Form A, Producer's Note and Supplemental Loan Agreement, secured by Commodity Loan Form AA, Commodity Chattel Mortgage, and such other forms and documents as may be required by CCC. Commodity Loan Forms A and AA must have State and documentary revenue stamps affixed thereto where required by law. Loan documents executed by an administrator, executor, or trustee, will be acceptable only where legally valid.

(d) Disbursement. Disbursement of farm storage loans will be made by approved lending agencies or by sight drafts drawn on CCC by the county office. Disbursement, regardless of where made, shall not be made after February 15, 1957, unless authorized by the Executive Vice President, CCC. Payment in cash, credit to the producer's account, or the drawing of a check or draft shall constitute disbursement. The date of such draft, check, credit, or cash payment shall be considered as the date of disbursement of the funds. The producer shall not present the loan documents for disbursement unless the peanuts are in existence and in good condition. If the peanuts are not in existence or are not in good condition at the time of disbursement, the total amount disbursed under the loan shall be promptly refunded by the producer. In the event the amount disbursed exceeds the amount authorized, the producer shall be personally liable for repayment of the amount of such excess.

(e) Insurance. CCC will not require the borrower to insure the peanuts placed under a farm-storage loan. However, if a borrower does insure such peanuts and an insurance indemnity is paid thereon, the insurance proceeds must be paid to CCC to the extent of its interest, after first satisfying the borrower's equity in the peanuts involved in the loss.

(f) Safeguarding the peanuts. The producer who obtains a farm storage loan is obligated to maintain the storage structure in good repair and to keep the peanuts in storage and in good condition until the loan is liquidated.

(g) Loss or damage to the peanuts under farm storage loan. (1) The producer is responsible for any loss in grade and for any loss in weight, except that CCC will assume uninsured physical loss or damage occurring after disbursement of the loan funds without fault, negligence or conversion on the part of the producer or of any other person having control of a storage structure not located on the farm, provided such loss or damage resulted solely from an external cause other than insect infestation, vermin or rodents and the producer gave the county committee immediate notice confirmed in writing of such loss or damage. Losses under the provisions of this subsection will be assumed by CCC to the extent of the settlement value of the quantity destroyed or in an amount equivalent to the extent of the damage, as determined by CCC, provided there has been no fraudulent misrepresentation made by the producer in the loan documents or in obtaining the loan.

(2) No physical loss or damage occurring prior to disbursement of the loan funds will be assumed by CCC.

(h) Redemption of the peanuts under farm storage loan. A producer may, at any time prior to the date on which the peanuts are delivered to or removed by CCC pursuant to paragraph (i) of this section, redeem the peanuts remaining under farm storage loan by paying to the holder of the note and supplemental loan agreement the principal amount thereof, plus charges and accrued interest. All charges in connection with the collection of the note shall be paid by the producer. Upon presentation of evidence of payment, the county office shall arrange for the release of the chattel mortgage. Partial release of the peanuts prior to maturity may be arranged with the county office after making payment to the holder of the note for the quantity of peanuts to be released, plus charges and accrued interest; however, if the quantity of peanuts contained in the bin or crib and covered by the chattel mortgage is greater than the quantity with respect to which the amount of the loan was computed, all or part of such excess may be removed without payment on the loan, but only upon prior approval of the county office. A producer who wishes to liquidate all or part of his loan by contracting for the sale of the peanuts must obtain written prior approval of the county committee on Commodity Loan Form 12 to remove the peanuts from storage when the proceeds of the sale are needed to repay all or any part of the loan. Any such approval shall be subject to the terms and conditions in Commodity Loan Form 12, copies of which may be obtained by producers or prospective purchasers at the office of the county committee.

(i) Settlement of farm storage loans. (1) The producer is required to pay off the loan on or before maturity or to deliver the peanuts in accordance with instructions issued by the county office. If the producer fails to deliver mortgaged peanuts as instructed, he will be responsible for all costs of removal incurred by the holder of the note.

(2) If, either before or after maturity, the peanuts are or are in danger of going out of condition, the producer shall so notify the county committee and confirm such notice in writing. If the county committee determines that the peanuts are or are in danger of going out of condition and that they cannot be satisfactorily conditioned by the producer, and delivery cannot be accepted within a reasonable length of time, the county office shall arrange for an inspection and grade determination to be made at the expense of CCC. When delivery is completed, settlement shall be made on the basis of such grade or the grade determined at the time of delivery, whichever is higher.

(3) In the event the farm is sold, the producer dies, or there is a change of tenancy, the peanuts may be delivered before the maturity date of the loan, upon prior approval by the county committee. Peanuts also may be delivered before the maturity date of the loan for other reasons upon authorization by the Executive Vice President, CCC.

(4) Settlement for peanuts delivered to CCC will be made, subject to the provisions of the Producers Note and Supplemental Loan Agreement, at the applicable support price, plus an allowance for shrinkage during the storage period of four-tenths of a cent ($0.004) per net weight pound delivered, for the type, grade (except as provided above for peanuts going out of condition), and quantity, of the peanuts delivered and accepted by the county committee: Provided, however, That the settlement value for peanuts delivered to CCC which do not meet the eligibility requirements with respect to moisture, damage or foreign material shall be determined at the support price for the grade placed under loan, less the difference, if any, at the time of delivery, between the market price for the grade placed under loan and the market price of the peanuts delivered, as determined by CCC. Delivery of peanuts in bulk will be accepted only from the structure(s) in which the peanuts under loan are stored. In the case of peanuts stored in bags, only the identical bags under loan may be delivered.

§ 446.819 Loans to associations. An association which desires to receive, store, or arrange for storage and handle peanuts for and on behalf of producers who have the right to share in its profits from the handling of such peanuts, may obtain a loan on all eligible peanuts handled on behalf of eligible producers, stored in approved warehouses, and represented by warehouse receipts in a form prescribed by CCC. Such loan will be made pursuant to the terms of the Association Loan Agreement, CCC Peanut Form 27 (1956) between the association and CCC, and shall be evidenced by a blanket note in form prescribed by CCC. The association may receive eligible peanuts from eligible producers who are not members of the association and use such peanuts as loan collateral. Approved storage for peanuts under loan to an association will be warehouses approved pursuant to instructions issued by CCC and operated under contract with the association or with CCC. The names and locations of such warehouses may be obtained from the association or the county office. The associaton may obtain the loan from an approved lending agency or from CCC. Each producer from whom the association receives peanuts must present his within quota card at the time he delivers the peanuts for storage. For each lot of peanuts received, the association shall make an advance payment to the producer in the amount of the price support value of such peanuts less deductions approved by CCC. At any time on or before maturity, the association may redeem peanuts for sale in accordance with policies established by CCC. The association shall distribute to the producers from whom it receives peanuts all proceeds from the handling of such peanuts under loan, less operating expenses, unless other disposition of such proceeds is approved by CCC.

§ 446.820 Purchase of No. 2 shelled peanuts. Subject to the terms and conditions of §§ 446.820 through 446.832, CCC will purchase from shellers No. 2 shelled peanuts (hereinafter referred to as "No. 2 peanuts") offered to the associations listed below, each of which is designated to accept No. 2 peanuts on behalf of CCC in the area specified. Shellers located in any such area who are interested in selling No. 2 peanuts to CCC should so notify the association within 60 days after the date this subpart is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or such later date as may be specified by CCC. Purchases will be made from only those shellers who have indicated such intention within the time prescribed.

Southeastern area: GFA Peanut Association, Camilla, Ga.

Southwestern area: Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association, Gorman, Tex.

Virginia-Carolina area: Peanut Growers Cooperative Marketing Association, Franklin, Va.

§ 446.821 Eligibility requirements for No. 2 peanuts. No. 2 peanuts of any type offered to CCC must:

(a) Meet the U. S. Standards for U. S. No. 2 shelled peanuts of such type: Provided however, That such peanuts shall contain 7 percent or less damaged kernels, 9 percent or less moisture, and 2 percent or less foreign material.

(b) Be 1956 crop peanuts, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances;

(c) Not exceed the quantity of No. 2 peanuts which CCC determines that the sheller could reasonably produce from eligible 1956 crop farmers stock peanuts purchased by the sheller direct from producers or from an association prior to the end of the period in which offers from shellers will be accepted by CCC. The type and grade of all such farmers stock peanuts must have been determined by Federal or Federal-State inspectors.

§ 446.822 Sheller's agreement to service producers and the association. Each sheller who notifies the association of his intention to offer No. 2 peanuts to CCC shall, upon request, (a) inform a producer of the amount he could obtain for his peanuts under a price support loan to the association and also inform the producer where he may deliver his peanuts to the association, and (b) make available to the association warehouse space for storage of loan peanuts under contract CCC Peanut Form 28 (1956), except that if the sheller demonstrates to the association that he needs the space for his customary business operations, he will not be required to make such space available.

§ 446.823 Period in which offers will be accepted. (a) A sheller may offer, in writing, No. 2 peanuts to CCC from October 1, 1956, through June 30, 1957, unless a later date is approved in writing by CCC: Provided, however, That CCC, may at any time prior to June 30, 1957, or such later date as is approved by CCC, terminate its obligation to accept any offers of No. 2 peanuts. The date the offer is received by the association shall be deemed to be the date of the offer. The offer, the provisions of §§ 446.820 through 446.832, and the written acceptance by the association shall constitute the contract between the sheller and CCC.

(b) At any time prior to the end of the period during which offers will be accepted, the association may send the sheller a written request for information with respect to the quantity of No. 2 peanuts in the sheller's inventory which are eligible for sale to CCC, and the sheller shall furnish such information within 5 days after the date of the request. The association may, by written notice dated not more than 10 days after receipt of such information from the sheller, request the sheller to offer a specified quantity of No. 2 peanuts, which quantity may be all or any part, but not less than 25,000 pounds, of his inventory of No. 2 peanuts which are eligible for sale to CCC. If he does not offer such quantity of No. 2 peanuts within 5 days after the date of the request for an offer, CCC shall not be obligated to buy any No. 2 peanuts from such sheller for a period of 60 days after the date of such request.

(c) If the sheller fails to furnish, within the 5-day period specified above, information with respect to the quantity of peanuts eligible for sale to CCC, CCC shall not be obligated thereafter to purchase any peanuts from such sheller.

§ 446.824 Minimum quantity and terms of offer. (a) The minimum quantity of No. 2 peanuts which may be offered at any time is 25,000 pounds. All No. 2 peanuts offered at one time for delivery at one location shall be included in one offer.

(b) Each offer shall be made in the manner prescribed by CCC and shall contain the sheller's certification and agreement that (1) the offer is made pursuant to the terms and conditions of all the provisions of this subpart relating to No. 2 peanuts, (2) the peanuts meet the eligibility requirements in § 446.821, (3) the sheller has fulfilled all the obligations of this subpart relating to No. 2 peanuts which are required to be fulfilled prior to the submission of an offer, and (4) the sheller will carry out all of the obligations which remain to be performed after the offer is made.

§ 446.825 Inspecting, grading, sealing, and rejecting No. 2 peanuts offered. (a) The type and grade of the No. 2 peanuts purchased by CCC pursuant to each offer shall be determined by Federal or Federal-State inspectors and evidenced by inspection certificates issued by such inspectors. The sheller shall pay the cost of inspection and grading.

(b) The inspection data shall be used to determine (1) that the No. 2 peanuts meet the eligibility requirements with respect to grade and quantity specified in § 446.821, (2) the net weight and (3) the price which CCC will pay for No. 2 peanuts. Any determination of grade shall be subject to appeal in accordance with the inspection agency procedure.

(c) Each bag of No. 2 peanuts purchased by CCC shall be identified with a seal furnished by CCC and affixed in accordance with instructions issued by the Federal-State Inspection Service. CCC shall have the right to re-inspect the No. 2 peanuts at its own expense within 5 days after receipt at destination.

(d) CCC may reject all or any part of the quantity offered in one offer if any bag of peanuts included in such offer at the time of the original inspection or re-inspection does not meet the eligibility requirements in § 446.821.

§ 446.826. Net weight of No. 2 peanuts. The net weight of a lot of No. 2 peanuts shall be that weight obtained by multiplying the gross weight, including bags, by a percentage equal to 100 percent minus the percentage of foreign material shown on the inspection certificate issued pursuant to § 446.825. The gross weight shall be determined by actual weight, as prescribed by CCC.

§ 446.827 Delivery and passage of title. (a) (1) The sheller shall deliver No. 2 peanuts in accordance with instructions issued by the association. Such delivery instructions, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, shall be issued within 25 days after the date of the association's written acceptance of the offer.

(2) The sheller shall deliver all No. 2 peanuts in bags of uniform size, which are packed in accordance with good commercial practice. Such bags shall be made of new burlap of not less than 10-ounce weight material. Plain unprinted bags stenciled in accordance with instructions issued by CCC may be required in some instances.

(3) If the sheller fails to exercise rodent and insect control to the extent that the No. 2 peanuts offered to CCC are subject to seizure by the Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, such peanuts shall not be eligible for delivery to CCC, and any amount paid to the sheller therefor shall be refunded to CCC.

(4) If the sheller fails to deliver, as prescribed in the delivery instructions, a quantity of No. 2 peanuts equal to at least 95 percent of the quantity offered by him and accepted by the association, or if he delivers a quantity of No. 2 peanuts in excess of the quantity eligible for delivery to CCC pursuant to § 446.821, he shall pay to CCC, as liquidated damages and not as a penalty, an amount equal to 2 cents per pound (i) for the quantity by which the quantity delivered is less than 95 percent of that offered by the sheller and accepted by CCC; or (ii) for the quantity delivered which is in excess of the quantity eligible for delivery to CCC. Because of the difficulty in ascertaining the exact damages which CCC would suffer in either situation, CCC and the sheller agree that such liquidated damages constitute a reasonable estimate of the probable actual damages.

(b) Title to the No. 2 peanuts shall pass to CCC upon delivery from the sheller's plant, f. o. b. railroad cars or trucks at CCC's option; except that in the event the association does not issue delivery instructions within 25 days after the date of its written acceptance of the offer, title shall pass to CCC on the 30th day after the date of such written acceptance if the sheller, on or before such 30th day, places the No. 2 peanuts in identity preserved storage in a facility approved by CCC and delivers to CCC a storage certificate issued by an authorized inspector showing that the peanuts meet the quality requirements for eligibility. The gross weight of the peanuts for which the storage certificate is issued shall be determined after the expiration of the 25-day period within which the association was to have issued shipping instructions, by a weighmaster and on scales approved by CCC. The sheller shall be responsible for deterioration after passage of title to CCC which is due to his fault, negligence, or failure to exercise such care in storing or handling such peanuts as a reasonably prudent owner thereof would exercise. If the sheller fails to issue the storage certificate, title shall not pass until the peanuts are delivered in accordance with instructions issued by the association, and CCC shall not pay any storage or handling charges with respect to such peanuts.

No. 2 peanuts containing damaged kernels of—	All types (cents)
1 percent	15.50
2 percent	15.25
3 percent	15.00
4 percent	14.50
5 percent	13.60
6 percent	12.50
7 percent	10.50

(b) With respect to No. 2 peanuts stored by the sheller and for which title has passed to CCC pursuant to § 446.827 (b), payment for warehouse charges shall be the sum of:

(1) $.50 per net weight ton for handling-in charges,

(2) $.50 per net weight ton for handling-out charges (delivery f. o. b. railroad cars or trucks at CCC's option), and

(3) $1.00 per net weight ton per month, fractions of ton and month in proportion, for storage charges. The storage month shall begin on the date title passes to CCC and shall run from that date to, but not including, the corresponding day of the next calendar month. The storage period shall end on the day prior to the date the peanuts are delivered from storage.

(c) (1) Payment for the No. 2 peanuts and for any warehouse charges shall be made, at the time specified below, upon presentation to the association of a proper invoice and supporting documents prescribed by CCC.

(2) Payment for the No. 2 peanuts for which title passed to CCC upon delivery shall be made, after delivery, on the net weight determined from the gross weight obtained at the time the No. 2 peanuts are loaded out of the sheller's plant.

(3) Payment for the No. 2 peanuts for which title passed to CCC while the peanuts remained in the sheller's storage facilities, as provided in § 446.827 (b), shall be made after title has passed to CCC; but payment of the warehouse charges specified in paragraph (b) of this section for such No. 2 peanuts shall be made after the peanuts are delivered. The net weight on which the amount of payment for both the No. 2 peanuts and the warehouse charges is determined, shall be the net weight of the peanuts for which the storage certificate was issued.

§ 446.829 Records and reports. (a) The records of the sheller shall at all times show (1) with respect to farmers stock peanuts purchased direct from producers and for which the type and grade were determined by Federal or Federal-State inspectors, the date and place received, the names and addresses of the producers, the types, grades, and the pounds of each such grade received from each producer, (2) the type, grade, and quantity of farmers stock peanuts purchased from an association, (3) the types, grades, and quantity of farmers stock peanuts purchased without inspection by Federal or Federal-State inspectors and (4) the types, grades, and quantity of No. 2 peanuts produced. The sheller shall keep such accounts and other records and shall furnish such information and reports relating to the No. 2 peanuts and the farmers stock peanuts from which No. 2 peanuts were produced, as may be prescribed or requested by CCC. The association or CCC may examine and audit the accounts and records of the sheller and may require the sheller to make all of his records available at his main office at any time an audit is made. All books, accounts, and records shall be retained for a period of two years after the last No. 2 peanuts are delivered to CCC.

(b) The reporting and record keeping requirements contained in this subpart have been approved by, and subsequent reporting requirements will be subject to approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

§ 446.830 Assignment. No contract, claim or payment pursuant to any of the provisions of this subpart relating to No. 2 peanuts shall be assigned in whole or in part by the sheller without the prior written approval of CCC, and any such assignment shall be in such form as may be approved or prescribed by CCC.

§ 446.831 Officials not to benefit. No Member of or Delegate to the Congress of the United States shall be admitted to any share or part of any agreement or contract between the sheller and CCC pursuant to any of the provisions of this subpart relating to No. 2 peanuts, or to any benefit to arise therefrom, but this provision shall not be construed to extend to benefits arising from such agreement or contract if accruing to a corporation.

§ 446.832 Contingent fees. The sheller shall not employ any person to solicit or secure any contract pursuant to any of the provisions of this subpart relating to No. 2 peanuts upon any stipulation for a commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fee. Breach of this provision shall give CCC the right to annul the contract, or in its discretion, to deduct from any amount due the sheller the amount of such commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fee.

Issued this 6th day of August 1956.

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Lemon Reg. 653, Amdt. 1]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 19 F. R. 7175; 20 F. R. 2913; 21 F. R. 4393), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice and engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, is insufficient, and this amendment relieves restriction on the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona.

Order, as amended. The provisions in paragraph (b) (1) (ii) of § 953.760 (Lemon Regulation 653; 21 F. R. 5821) are hereby amended to read as follows:

(ii) District 2: 325,500 cartons.

PART 201—REGULATIONS UNDER THE PACKERS AND STOCKYARDS ACT

REGISTRATION; MARKET AGENCY AND DEALER BONDS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me under the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as amended and supplemented (7 U. S. C. 181 et seq.), paragraph (d) of § 201.10 and § 201.29 of the regulations under such act (9 CFR, 1955 Supp., 201.10 (d), 201.29) are hereby amended in the respects specified below.

1. Paragraph (d) of § 201.10 is amended by striking the last sentence thereof and by inserting in lieu of such sentence the following: "No market agency engaged in selling livestock on an agency basis shall act in the capacity of clearing agency for any independently operated and separately registered dealer on and after September 1, 1956, or for any independently operated and separately registered market agency on and after September 1, 1957."

2. Section 201.29 is amended by striking "September 1, 1956" and inserting in lieu thereof "September 1, 1957."

The purpose of the amendments is to provide that on and after September 1, 1957, instead of September 1, 1956, as previously specified in the regulations, no market agency engaged in selling livestock on an agency basis shall act in the capacity of clearing agency for any independently operated and separately registered market agency and that on and after September 1, 1957, instead of September 1, 1956, as previously specified in the regulations, the only bond equivalent that may be filed, or maintained, by a market agency engaged in selling livestock on an agency basis shall be one representing a pledge of fully-negotiable bonds of the United States Government. The amendments relieve temporarily certain restrictions previously scheduled to become effective on September 1, 1956, and should be made effective prior to such date. Accordingly, pursuant to sections 4 (a) and (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003 (a) and (c)), it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to such amendments are impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and the amendments may be made effective less than thirty days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 407, 42 Stat. 169; 7 U. S. C. 228)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of August 1956, to become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Appendix—Public Land Orders

[Public Land Order 1319]

ALASKA

PARTIALLY REVOKING PUBLIC LAND ORDER 587 OF MAY 23, 1949, WHICH WITHDREW PUBLIC LANDS FOR USE OF DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY FOR MILITARY PURPOSES

By virtue of the authority vested in the President by the act of March 12, 1914 (38 Stat. 305, 307; 48 U. S. C. 304) and otherwise, and pursuant to Executive Order No. 10355 of May 26, 1952, it is ordered as follows:

Public Land Order No. 587 of May 23, 1949, reserving certain lands at Whittier, Alaska, for use of the Department of the Army for military purposes, which was partially revoked by Public Land Order No. 787 of January 10, 1952, is hereby revoked so far as it affects the following land comprising a part of Parcels No. 1 and No. 3 as described in that order:

Those parts in Parcels No. 1 and No. 3 of Public Land Order No. 587 described as follows:

Beginning at a point from which the common corner and point of beginning for said Parcels No. 1 and No. 3 bears S. 10° E., 1,100 feet, thence N. 10° W., 1,900 feet; N. 58° 30' E., 4,000 feet; East, 2,200 feet to the west shore line of Passage Canal; Southwesterly, 3,500 feet, approximately, along line of mean high water; West, 700 feet; S. 17° 30' W., 795 feet; S. 73° E., 497.11 feet; S. 8° 13' W., 721.56 feet; West, 2,550 feet to point of beginning.

The tract described contains approximately 235 acres.

The released lands are subject to the reservations made by Executive Order No. 1919½ of April 21, 1914, Public Land Orders No. 219 of March 28, 1944, and No. 396 of August 19, 1947.

TITLE 44—PUBLIC PROPERTY AND WORKS

Chapter I—General Services Administration

[Amdt. 5]

PART 99—STOCKPILING OF STRATEGIC AND CRITICAL MATERIALS

PURCHASE PROGRAM FOR DOMESTIC CHROME ORE AND CONCENTRATES AT GRANTS PASS, OREGON

The above captioned regulation, as amended (16 F. R. 8680, 8848, 8894; 17 F. R. 7125; 18 F. R. 2846; 18 F. R. 5678; 20 F. R. 740), is hereby further amended by adding thereto a new section which shall be numbered § 99.110, and by modifying the language contained in § 99.104.

Purpose. The purpose of this amendment is (1) provide a procedure under which the Government may accept chrome ore or concentrates at locations other than at the Grants Pass, Oreg. purchasing depot when the offering by a producer is of such quantity that its acceptance at the depot is impractical, and (2) extend the termination date of the program.

1. Immediately following § 99.109, add the following new section:

§ 99.110 Car-load shipments. (a) Any producer proposing to deliver to the Government under the provisions of this part, as amended, chrome ore or concentrates, in one offering, consisting of one or more railroad carloads (as used in this section carload means the quantity carried in one railroad car equalling or exceeding the minimum tonnage which can be moved at the lowest transportation rate) shall notify the Government of the intended delivery and request shipping instructions. Such notice shall state the approximate quantity proposed to be delivered, the approximate date of delivery, and the proposed shipping point (as used in this section shipping point means the location at which the producer will make delivery f. o. b. railroad cars). Producers in the States of California, Nevada, and Arizona shall address such notice of delivery to the Regional Commissioner, General Services Administration, San Francisco 3, California. Producers in the States of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, and the Territory of Alaska shall address such notice of delivery to the Regional Commissioner, General Services Administration, Seattle 4, Washington.

(b) Shipping instructions shall be issued to the producer by the Government. Offerings made pursuant to this section shall be delivered, at the expense of the producer, f. o. b., railroad cars at the shipping point designated by the Government; type of railroad car to be designated by the Government. Fractional carload will not be accepted. Charges incurred due to railway cars being loaded in excess of the maximum limit shall be for the account of the producer.

(c) Sampling and screen size determination shall be made at the shipping point. Sampling, screen size determination, moisture content determination, and chemical analysis shall be performed, at the expense of the producer, by a commercial sampler-analyst firm approved by the Government. The producer and the Government, each bearing its own expense, may have a representative at the sampling.

(d) Sampling and screen size determination shall be made at the time of loading of the railroad car or cars and the certificate of the sampler-analyst shall so recite. A representative sample shall be taken in accordance with standard and established methods. Sample preparation, moisture content determination, and chemical analysis shall be performed in accordance with methods approved by ferrochromium manufacturers. The chrome content shall be considered to be 68.4 percent of the chromic oxide content.

(e) The weight of each offering shall be, at the Government's option, the gross railroad track scale weight of the car less the actual light weight of the car unloaded or the light weight stenciled on the car, less the moisture content as determined by the sampler-analyst. The weight certificate and the certificate of the sampler-analyst as to sampling, screen size, moisture content, and chemical analysis shall be final and conclusive.

(f) Demurrage charges incurred at the shipping point shall be for the account of the producer.

(g) Title to and responsibility for the shipment shall remain vested in the producer until the producer is notified by the Government of the acceptability of the shipment. Upon receipt of the certificate of the sampler-analyst, the producer shall be notified with respect to the acceptability of the shipment. Upon notification of acceptance, the shipment shall move forward in accordance with the shipping instructions issued by the Government.

(h) Offerings made pursuant to this section, failing to meet the specifications, terms and conditions contained in this part, as amended, shall not be accepted. No offering shall be accepted on a weighted average basis. The producer shall be notified of a rejected shipment, and removal of the shipment shall be by and at the expense of the producer. The producer shall be held accountable for any expense incurred by the Government in connection with rejected shipments.

(i) Payment for accepted shipments shall be made in accordance with the price provisions contained in § 99.107.

2. Delete the date "June 30, 1957" appearing in § 99.104, and in lieu thereof, substitute the following: "June 30, 1959."

This amendment shall be effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 205, 63 Stat. 289, as amended, 40 U. S. C. 486. Interprets or applies sec. 3, 53 Stat. 811, as amended; 50 U. S. C. 98b)

Dated: August 6, 1956.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 914]

NAVEL ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

Notice is hereby given that the Department is considering the approval of proposed amendments, hereinafter set forth, to the rules and regulations (Subpart—Rules and Regulations; 7 CFR 914.100 et seq.) that are currently in effect pursuant to the applicable provisions of the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 14, as amended (7 CFR Part 914; 21 F. R. 4707), regulating the handling of navel oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California. This is a regulatory program effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). The amendments to the said rules and regulations were proposed by the Navel Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order as the agency to administer the terms and provisions thereof.

The proposed amendments are as follows:

1. Amend § 914.101 Communications by deleting therefrom the address shown as the mailing address of the Navel Orange Administrative Committee and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "117 West Ninth Street, Room 105, Los Angeles 15, California."

2. Amend § 914.102 Nomination procedure as follows:

a. Delete from the second sentence in paragraph (a) (3) the words "not less than two grower members, two alternate grower members" and insert in lieu thereof "one grower member, one alternate grower member."

b. Delete paragraph (a) (4) and substitute therefor the following:

(4) The name of the person receiving the highest total number of votes, for a particular position, at the meetings held pursuant to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph shall be submitted to the Secretary as the nominee for such position.

3. Amend § 914.110 Prorate bases and allotments by redesignating paragraphs (c) and (d) thereof as paragraphs (d) and (e), respectively, and inserting a new paragraph (c) reading as follows:

(c) Change in control of oranges occasioned by transfer of real property. In the event a change in control of oranges is occasioned by a bona fide transfer of the ownership of the real property on which such oranges were produced, the person gaining the control shall request the committee to make the adjustment prescribed in § 914.53 (e). Such request shall set forth the names of the parties to the transfer, and be accompanied by a legal description of the real property transferred, the name of the county, the book, page number, and date showing that such transfer has been duly recorded. The request shall also set forth the name of the person losing control of the oranges. Upon determination by the committee that the change in control of the oranges has been occasioned by such transfer, the quantity of oranges available for current shipment of the person gaining the control shall be adjusted by adding thereto a quantity of oranges equal to the quantity deducted from the oranges available for current shipment of the person losing control of such oranges. Such quantity shall be added during the same periods in which the deductions are effected in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section.

4. Amend § 914.111 Allotment loans by inserting immediately following paragraph (c) thereof a new paragraph (d) reading as follows:

(d) Confirmation. All allotment loans made on Saturday shall be confirmed as required by § 914.57 but not later than 5:00 p. m., Monday of the immediately succeeding week.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with said proposed amendments should do so by forwarding same to the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, Room 2077 South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the tenth day after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated: August 7, 1956.

NOTICES

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Fiscal Service, Bureau of the Public Debt

[1956 Dept. Circ. 980]

2¾ PERCENT TREASURY CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS OF SERIES B–1957; TAX ANTICIPATION SERIES

OFFERING OF CERTIFICATES

I. Offering of certificates. 1. The Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, invites subscriptions from the people of the United States for Tax Anticipation Certificates of Indebtedness of the United States, designated 2¾ percent Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness of Series B–1957. The amount of the offering is $3,000,000,000, or thereabouts. The books will be open only on August 6 for the receipt of subscriptions.

II. Description of certificates. 1. The certificates will be dated August 15, 1956, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 2¾ percent per annum, payable with the principal at maturity on March 22, 1957. They will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity.

2. The income derived from the certificates is subject to all taxes imposed under the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. The certificates are subject to estate, inheritance, gift or other excise taxes, whether Federal or State, but are exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed on the principal or interest thereof by any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

3. The certificates will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys. They will be accepted at par plus accrued interest to maturity in payment of income and profits taxes due on March 15, 1957.

4. Bearer certificates will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000, and $1,000,000. The certificates will not be issued in registered form.

5. The certificates will be subject to the general regulations of the Treasury Department, now or hereafter prescribed, governing United States certificates.

III. Subscription and allotment. 1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and at the Office of the Treasurer of the United States, Washington. Commercial banks, which for this purpose are defined as banks accepting demand deposits, may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve Banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. Others than commercial banks will not be permitted to enter subscriptions except for their own account. Subscriptions from commercial banks for their own account will be received without deposit, but will be restricted in each case to an amount not exceeding the combined capital, surplus and undivided profits, of the subscribing bank. Subscriptions from all others must be accompanied by payment of 3 percent of the amount of certificates applied for, not subject to withdrawal until after allotment. Following allotment, any portion of the 3 percent payment in excess of 3 percent of the amount of certificates allotted may be released upon the request of the subscribers.

2. Commercial banks in submitting subscriptions will be required to certify that they have no beneficial interest in any of the subscriptions they enter for the account of their customers, and that their customers have no beneficial interest in the banks' subscriptions for their own account.

3. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject or reduce any subscription, and to allot less than the amount of certificates applied for; and any action he may take in these respects shall be final. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment.

IV. Payment. 1. Payment at par and accrued interest, if any, for certificates allotted hereunder must be made or completed on or before August 15, 1956, or on later allotment. In every case where payment is not so completed, the payment with application up to 3 percent of the amount of certificates allotted shall, upon declaration made by the Secretary of the Treasury in his discretion, be forfeited to the United States. Any qualified depositary will be permitted to make payment by credit for not more than 80 percent of the amount of certificates allotted to it for itself and its customers (up to the amount for which it shall be qualified in excess of existing deposits) when so notified by the Federal Reserve Bank of its District.

V. General provisions. 1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve Banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve Banks of the respective Districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for certificates allotted, to make delivery of certificates on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive certificates.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve Banks.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 2-12409]

LEWISOHN COPPER CORP.

ORDER FIXING TIME AND PLACE OF HEARING AND DESIGNATING OFFICER TO TAKE EVIDENCE

AUGUST 6, 1956.

I. The Commission's public files disclose that Lewisohn Copper Corp. (registrant) filed on March 30, 1956, a registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 covering a proposed public offering of 100,000 shares of its 10 cent par value Common Stock at an offering price to be determined by mutual agreement by the company and the underwriter prior to the effective date of the registration statement; that said registration statement was amended on April 18, May 7, May 18, June 6, June 25, July 13, and August 1, 1956; and that said registration statement has not become effective.

II. The Commission has reasonable cause to believe that said registration statement filed by registrant includes untrue statements of material facts and omits to state material facts required to be stated therein and material facts necessary to make the statements therein not misleading, as more specifically set forth in the Statement of Matters to be considered pursuant to section 8 (d) of the Securities Act of 1933, which Statement of Matters is incorporated herein by reference and made a part hereof.

III. It is ordered, That a hearing be held in such matter, pursuant to the provisions of section 8 (d) of the Securities Act of 1933, such hearing to be commenced at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., on August 20, 1956, at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. and to continue thereafter at such time and place as the officer hereinafter designated may determine.

It is further ordered, That Sidney L. Feiler, an officer of the Commission, or such other officer as the Commission may designate, be and he hereby is designated to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

By the Commission.

[File No. 70-3498]

AMERICAN LOUISIANA PIPE LINE CO.

NOTICE OF FILING OF APPLICATION REGARDING PROPOSAL TO ISSUE AND SELL TO BANKS PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF FIVE-YEAR NOTES

AUGUST 6, 1956.

Notice is hereby given that American Louisiana Pipe Line Company ("American Louisiana"), a non public-utility subsidiary of American Natural Gas Company, a registered holding company, has filed with this Commission an application pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"). Applicant has designated section 6 (b) of the act and Rules U-50 (a) (2) and U-70 (b) (2) promulgated under the act, as applicable to the proposed transactions.

All interested persons are referred to the application on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

American Louisiana proposes to enter into a credit agreement providing for its borrowing, from time to time, prior to July 1, 1957, of up to $28,000,000 from the banks and in the respective amounts set forth below;

The First National City Bank of New York, N. Y.	$7,000,000
The Hanover Bank, New York, N. Y.	7,000,000
Mellon National Bank & Trust Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.	7,000,000
National Bank of Detroit, Mich.	7,000,000
Total	28,000,000

The amounts borrowed are to be evidenced by unsecured installment notes maturing in five equal amounts on December 15 of each of the years 1957 through 1961. The notes are to bear interest, with respect to the first two maturities, at the prime rate for commercial loans at The First National City Bank of New York on the dates of the respective borrowings, with a minimum rate of 3½ percent and a maximum rate of 4 percent. The rate with respect to the last three maturities is to be ¼ of 1 percent higher than such prime rate, with a minimum rate of 3¾ percent and a maximum rate of 4¼ percent. The notes are to be prepayable in whole, or in part pro rata, without prepayment premium, except that if prepayment is made from the proceeds from other bank borrowings a prepayment premium is to be paid in an amount equal to ¼ of 1 percent per annum of the amount prepaid for the unexpired term of the notes. The company is to pay a stand-by charge equal to ¼ of 1 percent per annum on the average daily unused balance of the commitments computed from the date of the credit agreement to the date on which the aggregate borrowings equal the total aggregate commitment, or July 1, 1957, whichever is earlier. The company may reduce the commitment at any time without penalty.

Approximately $12,000,000 of the proceeds from the proposed bank loans are to be used to complete the initial development of its natural gas pipe line from Louisiana to Michigan. The remaining proceeds are to be used to pay the costs of expansion, estimated at $16,000,000, of such pipe line capacity beyond the initial development stage by approximately 100,000 Mcf per day, authorization for which is now being sought in proceedings before the Federal Power Commission.

Applicant states that no State commission, and no Federal regulatory authority other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 20, 1956, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the application which he desires to controvert, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission orders a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date the application, as filed or as it may be amended, may be granted as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may grant exemption from its rules as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof, or take such other action as it may deem appropriate.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

[File No. 812-1006]

AMERICAN RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT CORP. AND MAGNECORD, INC.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR ORDER EXEMPTING TRANSACTIONS BETWEEN AFFILIATES

AUGUST 6, 1956.

Notice is hereby given that American Research and Development Corporation ("Research"), Boston, Massachusetts, a registered closed-end, nondiversified investment company, and Magnecord, Incorporated ("Magnecord"), Chicago, Illinois, an affiliate of Research, have filed an application and an amendment thereto pursuant to section 17 (b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("act") requesting an order exempting the transactions summarized below from the provisions of section 17 (a) of the act.

Magnecord, an Illinois corporation organized in 1946, with its subsidiary, Magne Music, Inc., is engaged in the manufacture of professional, industrial and consumer magnetic recording tape and recording equipment for recording sound or any other information which can be translated into electric impulses. Its products are widely used by radio and television stations, scientific and industrial laboratories, university language training classes, high fidelity music enthusiasts and others.

Magnecord has outstanding $324,000 face amount of 6 percent notes due 1962 (convertible into common stock at $5 per share), of which $274,000 are held by Research; $300,000 principal amount of 6 percent non-convertible subordinated notes due 1961, all held by Research; $300,000 face amount 6 percent convertible subordinated notes due 1961, and $805,247 face amount 6 percent short term notes due October 1 and November 30, 1956, of which $700,000 face amount is held by Research. Magnecord also has outstanding 142,637 shares of common stock, $3 par value, of which 55,200 shares or 38.7 percent are held by Research and which were acquired by it for an aggregate consideration of $276,000.

During the seven months ending December 31, 1955, Magnecord had an operating loss of $456,653. Magnecord has recently secured the services of Bruce Payne and Associates ("Payne"), a firm of management consultants. Payne has assumed active management of Magnecord and has reexamined its products and policies. Prior to and after assumption by Payne of the management of Magnecord, Research had advanced money to Magnecord on short term notes. During this period Magnecord's financial position was precarious, but its management now believes that the policies put into effect and the arrangements made with creditors and suppliers have put Magnecord in a position to continue in business.

As part of these changes Magnecord needs to improve its credit rating and provide funds for the arrangements made with past creditors and suppliers. Magnecord has therefore arranged to issue $800,000 principal amount of Registered Notes of the 1956 Series ("1956 Series Notes"), which have been privately offered to less than 20 offerees. The 1956 Series Notes will be dated March 19, 1956, will bear interest at the rate of 6 percent per annum and will mature April 30, 1961. They will be sold pursuant to agreements providing for the purchase, at any time on or prior to April 30, 1961, of related Registered Stock Warrants for a number of shares of Common Stock of Magnecord equal, at the exercisable price of $5.00 per share, to the principal amount of the 1956 Series Notes. The purchase price of the Warrants will be 1 cent per share covered and they may be exercised for cash or 1956 Series Notes. The 1956 Series Notes will be subordinated to any bank indebtedness heretofore or hereafter created by Magnecord.

Research has agreed, subject to obtaining an order of this Commission under section 17 (b) of the act exempting the proposed transactions from the provisions of section 17 (a) of the act, to purchase up to $100,000 principal amount of said 1956 Series Notes for cash, to exchange $400,000 principal amount of short term notes now held for an additional $400,000 principal amount of 1956 Series Notes and to purchase Registered Stock Warrants covering 100,000 shares of Common Stock of Magnecord for $1,000 in cash. In addition, it is expected that Research will extend the maturities of the balance of $300,000 face amount of short term notes due November 30, 1956, to April 30, 1961, and will subordinate that debt to the 1956 Series Notes. Under the exception of section 17 (a) (3) of the act, Research has also advanced $100,000 to Magnecord on a sixty-day note (since extended to October 1, 1956) in anticipation of its obligation to buy up to $100,000 of 1956 Series Notes for cash. The proceeds of sale of the 1956 Series Notes to Research and others will be used in part to pay off said note.

Magnecord and Research consider the refunding of Magnecord's short term notes and the acquisition of additional working capital as described above to be essential to Magnecord at this time. Applicants represent that the private sale of the 1956 Series Notes and related Warrants have been negotiated at arm's length with the purchasers, and Research will be purchasing said Notes and related Warrants on the same basis as the other purchasers except that it will substitute Magnecord notes due or about to become due for cash at the face amount (which was the purchase price) to the extent of $500,000. Applicants state that these negotiations with other purchasers insure that the considerations to be paid and received are fair and reasonable and do not involve overreaching on the part of any person concerned and that the proposed transactions are consistent with the policies of Research as recited in its Registration Statement and reports filed under the act and with the general provisions of the act.

Generally speaking, section 17 (a) of the act prohibits an affiliated person of a registered investment company from purchasing from, or selling to, such registered investment company, any security, with certain exemptions, unless the Commission upon application pursuant to section 17 (b) of the act, grants an exemption from section 17 (a) of the act after finding that the terms of the proposed transaction, including the consideration to be paid, are reasonable and fair and do not involve overreaching on the part of any person concerned, that the proposed transaction is consistent with the policy of each registered investment company concerned, as recited in its Registration Statement and reports filed under the act, and is consistent with the general purposes of the act.

Because of the holding of 38.7 percent of the Common Stock of Magnecord by Research, the two companies are affiliated persons of each other, as defined in the act, hence the transactions between them are prohibited under section 17 (a) unless the Commission grants the application pursuant to section 17 (b) of the act.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 10, 1956, at 5:30 p. m., submit to the Commission in writing any facts bearing upon the desirability of a hearing on the matter and may request that a hearing be held, such request stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application, as amended, may be granted as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act.

By the Commission.

AUGUST 6, 1956.

I. Utah Petroleum and Gas Company, a Nevada corporation with its principal office located at 1222 South Main Street, Salt Lake City, Utah, having filed with the Commission on September 7, 1954, a notification on Form 1–A and a statement required by Rule 219 (b), and subsequently having filed an amendment thereto, relating to an offering of 30,500 shares of its $1 par value common stock at $1 per share for an aggregate of $30,500, for the purpose of obtaining an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, pursuant to the provisions of section 3 (b) thereof and Regulation A promulgated thereunder; and

II. The Commission having reasonable cause to believe that the terms and conditions of Regulation A have not been complied with in that the company has failed to file reports of sales on Form 2–A as is required by Rule 224 of Regulation A, and has ignored requests by the Commission's staff for such reports;

III. It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule 223 (a) of the general rules and regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that the exemption under Regulation A be, and it hereby is, temporarily suspended.

Notice is hereby given that any person having any interest in the matter may file with the Secretary of the Commission a written request for hearing; that, within twenty days after receipt of such request, the Commission will, or at any time upon its own motion may, set the matter down for hearing at a place to be designated by the Commission for the purpose of determining whether this Order of Suspension should be vacated or made permanent, without prejudice, however, to the consideration and presentation of additional matters at the hearing; and that notice of the time and place for said hearing will be promptly given by the Commission.

By the Commission.

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

[Declaration of Disaster Area 111]

PENNSYLVANIA

DECLARATION OF DISASTER AREA

Whereas it has been reported that on or about July 26, 1956, because of the disastrous effects of a flood, damage resulted to residences and business property located in certain areas in the State of Pennsylvania;

Whereas the Small Business Administration has investigated and has received other reports of investigations of conditions in the areas affected; and

Whereas after reading and evaluating reports of such conditions, I find that the conditions in such areas constitute a catastrophe within the purview of the Small Business Act of 1953, as amended:

Now, therefore, as Administrator of the Small Business Administration, I hereby determine that:

1. Applications for disaster loans under the provisions of section 207 (b) (1) of the Small Business Act of 1953, as amended, may be received and considered by the Offices below indicated from persons or firms whose property situated in Beaver County (including any areas adjacent to said county) suffered damage or other destruction as a result of the catastrophe above referred to:

Small Business Administration Regional Office, Jefferson Building, Room 1118, 1015 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia 7, Pennsylvania.

Small Business Administration Branch Office, Fulton Building, Rooms 801–802, 107 Sixth Street, Pittsburgh 22, Pennsylvania.

2. No special field office will be established at this time.

3. Applications for disaster loans under the authority of this Declaration will not be accepted subsequent to January 31, 1957.

Dated: July 27, 1956.

PART 6—EXCEPTIONS FROM COMPETITIVE SERVICE

ENTIRE EXECUTIVE CIVIL SERVICE

Effective August 15, 1956, paragraphs (k) and (o) of § 6.101 are amended as set out below.

§ 6.101 Entire executive civil service.

(k) Subject to prior approval of the Commission, temporary, parttime, or intermittent employment on construction or repair work of employees in recognized trades and crafts or other skilled mechanical crafts and in unskilled, semiskilled, or skilled manual-labor occupations and supervisory employees in these trades, crafts, and occupations, where the activity is carried on in places where there is no local Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners to service the employing establishment and because of employment conditions there is a shortage of available candidates for the positions. Appointments under this paragraph shall not extend beyond one year, and the employment thereunder shall not exceed 180 working days a year. Seasonal employments of a recurring nature are not authorized under this paragraph.

* * * * * *

(o) Nonsupervisory positions of custodial laborer (levels 1, 2, and 3) and general laborer (levels 2 and 3) in field establishments outside central office and regional and branch office cities of the Commission where there is no local Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners to service the employing establishment, as follows:

(1) For temporary, intermittent, or seasonal employment (exclusive of positions covered by paragraph (k) of this section) not to exceed 180 working days a year in the Departments of Agriculture, Commerce, and Interior, and in the International Boundary and Water Commission.

(2) When it is specifically held by the Commission that this authority is applicable, for employment in localities that are isolated with respect to labor supply and where there is a shortage of available candidates for the positions.

(b) The following premises are added to the list, contained in such instructions, of warehouses, mills, and other premises in which infestations of the khapra beetle have been determined to exist. Such premises are thereby designated as regulated areas within the meaning of said quarantine and regulations:

ARIZONA

Attaway Ranch Market, Box 59, Coolidge.
Clark Ranch, Box 1327, Coolidge.
Ray Luster Farm, Box 246, Pima.
Mile Hi Hatchery, P. O. Box 1711, Prescott.
TK Bar Ranch, Kirkland.

CALIFORNIA

Jay Farms (John Ohanneson, owner), located at Wasco and Wildwood Avenue, T. 26 S., R. 23 E., sec. 36. Mail address 422 James Street, Shafter.

(c) The items appearing in the list, contained in such instructions under the subhead Arizona, as "Allied Grain Company, 310 South 24th Avenue, Phoenix," "Southern Feed & Hardware, 25 East Southern Avenue, Phoenix," and "Tucson Hay and Grain Co., 4734 East Speedway, Tucson," are changed to read, respectively, as Advance Seed & Grain Company, 310 South 24th Avenue, Phoenix; Norton's Used Furniture, 25 East Southern Avenue, Phoenix; and Amado's Consumers Appliance & Fritz's Meats, 4734 East Speedway, Tucson.

This amendment shall become effective August 11, 1956.

This amendment revokes the designation as regulated areas of certain premises, it having been determined by the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch that adequate sanitation measures have been practiced for a sufficient length of time to eradicate the khapra beetle in and upon such premises. It also adds additional premises to the list of premises in which khapra beetle infestations have been determined to exist, and designates such premises as regulated areas under the khapra beetle quarantine and regulations. It further corrects certain designations of presently regulated areas.

This amendment in part imposes restrictions supplementing khapra beetle quarantine regulations already effective. It also relieves restrictions insofar as it revokes the designation of presently regulated areas. It must be made effective promptly in order to carry out the purposes of the regulations and to permit unrestricted movement of regulated products from the premises being removed from designation as regulated areas. Accordingly, under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003), it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to the foregoing amendment are impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and good cause is found for making the effective date thereof less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 9, 37 Stat. 318; 7 U. S. C. 162. Interprets or applies sec. 8, 37 Stat. 318, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 161)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 7th day of August 1956.

[SEAL] E. D. BURGESS,
Chief,
Plant Pest Control Branch.

Chapter VII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Farm Marketing Quotas and Acreage Allotments), Department of Agriculture

PART 728—WHEAT

SUBPART—1957–58 MARKETING YEAR

COUNTY ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS FOR 1957 CROP OF WHEAT

§ 728.706 Basis and purpose. The county acreage allotments for 1957 crop wheat contained herein have been determined under section 334 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended. The purpose is to apportion among the counties of each State the respective State wheat acreage allotments for 1957 as established by the proclamation dated May 16, 1956 (21 F. R. 3303) and to add thereto the increases required by section 1 of Public Law 117, 83d Congress. Prior to determinations of county acreage allotments for 1957 crop wheat, public notice (20 F. R. 10062) was given in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003). The data, views, and recommendations pertaining to the determination of county acreage allotments for 1957 crop wheat which were submitted have been duly considered within the limits permitted by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, including the provisions of section 1 of Public Law 117, 83d Congress.

Chapter VIII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Sugar), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter B—Sugar Requirements and Quotas

[Sugar Reg. 811, Amdt. 4]

PART 811—CONTINENTAL SUGAR REQUIREMENTS AND AREA QUOTAS

Basis and purpose. The purpose of Sugar Regulation 811 is to determine, pursuant to section 201 of the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended (hereinafter called the "act"), the amount of sugar needed to meet the requirements of consumers in the continental United States for the calendar year 1956 and to establish, pursuant to sections 202, 204 and 411 of the act, sugar quotas for the supplying areas in terms of short tons of sugar, raw value, equal to the quantity determined by the Secretary of Agriculture to be needed in 1956. This regulation also establishes pursuant to section 207 the quantity of queta that may be filled by direct-consumption sugar and pursuant to section 208, quotas of liquid sugar which may be entered into the continental United States.

The act requires that the Secretary shall revise the determination of sugar requirements at such times during the calendar year as may be necessary. It now appears that an increase in the requirements for the calendar year 1956 is necessary. The purpose of this amendment is to make such determination conform to the requirements indicated on the basis of the factors specified in section 201 of the act and to establish quotas in accordance with the provisions of the recently amended act, and to give effect to such quotas.

The quotas established herein differ from those in effect under Sugar Regulation 811, Amendment 3 (21 F. R. 5709). To permit areas for which larger quotas or prorations are hereby established to plan to market or to market in an orderly manner the larger quantity of sugar, it is essential that this amendment be made effective immediately. Therefore, it is hereby determined and found that compliance with the notice, procedure and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001), is impracticable, unnecessary and contrary to the public interest. The amendments made herein shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended (61 Stat. 922, 65 Stat. 318, 7 U. S. C. 1100, Public Law 545, 84th Congress), and the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237), §§ 811.80, 811.81, 811.82, 811.84 (a) and 811.85 (b) (1) of Sugar Regulation 811, as amended (20 F. R. 9848; 21 F. R. 2805, 4653, 5709), are further amended to read as hereinafter set forth.

1. Section 811.80 is amended to read:

§ 811.80 Sugar requirements, 1956. The amount of sugar needed to meet the requirements of consumers in the continental United States for the calendar year 1956 is hereby determined to be 8,675,000 short tons, raw value.

2. Section 811.81 is amended to read:

§ 811.81 Basic quotas for domestic areas. There are hereby established, pursuant to subsection (a) of section 202 of the act, for domestic sugar producing areas for the calendar year 1956 the following quotas:

Area:	Quotas in terms of short tons, raw value
Domestic beet sugar	1,884,975
Mainland cane sugar	580,025
Hawaii	1,052,000
Puerto Rico	1,093,750
Virgin Islands	12,000

3. Section 811.82 is amended to read:

§ 811.82 Basic quotas for other areas. There are hereby established, pursuant to subsections (b) and (c) of section 202 of the act, for foreign countries for the calendar year 1956, the following quotas:

Area:	Quotas in terms of short tons, raw value
Republic of the Philippines	980,000
Cuba	2,949,360
Other foreign countries	122,890

4. Paragraph (a) of § 811.84 is amended to read as follows:

§ 811.84 Proration of quotas for foreign countries other than Cuba and the Republic of the Philippines—(a) Prorations. Pursuant to subsection (c) of section 202 of the act the 1956 quota for foreign countries other than Cuba and the Republic of the Philippines is hereby prorated, as adjusted to the extent required by section 411 of the act, as follows:

Country:	Prorations as adjusted, short tons, raw value
Dominican Republic	35,008
El Salvador	4,141
Haiti	3,388
Mexico	14,515
Nicaragua	7,823
Peru	51,871
Unspecified countries	6,144
Total	122,890

5. Paragraph (b) (1) of § 811.85 is amended to read as follows:

§ 811.85 Direct-consumption portion of quotas or prorations. • • •

(b) Other areas. (1) Pursuant to subsections (d), (e) and (h) of section 207 of the act, the quotas established in § 811.82 for the following listed areas may be filled by direct-consumption sugar not in excess of the following amount for each such area:

	Direct-consumption sugar, short tons, raw value
Republic of the Philippines	59,920
Cuba	375,000
Other foreign countries	41,783

Statement of bases and considerations—Requirements. In major outline the bases and considerations for this action are the same as those for the action taken on July 26, 1956, in increasing requirements to 8,625,000 short tons, raw value, except that certain features of the situation have intensified.

For the year through July 28 domestic deliveries by primary distributors amounted to 200,000 tons more than those for the corresponding period last year. Deliveries by beet processors, however, were 124,000 tons less for the period than a year earlier with the result that deliveries of cane sugar exceeded those for the corresponding period last year by 324,000 tons.

As of July 28 supplies of cane sugar remaining to be charged against all quotas were 177,000 tons less than charges after July 28, 1955, although this smaller quota balance is offset in part by larger inventories in the hands of refiners and importers.

Sugar beet processors had 202,000 tons more to deliver after July 28 than they delivered after that date in 1955. On July 1 they had approximately 140,000 tons more to deliver than they delivered during the last half of 1955.

Quotas. To give effect to the increase in total sugar requirements made effective by this order, amendments have been made to §§ 811.80, 811.81, 811.82, 811.84 and 811.85 of Sugar Regulation 811, pursuant to the respective sections of the act referred to in each of the sections of the regulation. These amendments to the regulation make the following changes: (1) the quotas for domestic areas are increased by 27,500 tons to total 4,622,750 tons, with the increase distributed 7,081 tons to the Domestic Beet Sugar Area, 6,669 tons to the Mainland Cane Sugar Area, and 13,750 tons to Puerto Rico; (2) the quotas for foreign countries other than the Republic of the Philippines are increased by 22,500 tons to 3,072,250 tons which is distributed among such foreign countries as provided in sections 202 (c) and 411 of the amended act; (3) the total direct-consumption portion of the quota for foreign countries other than Cuba and the Republic of the Philippines is increased by 306 tons.

(Sec. 403, 61 Stat. 932; 7 U. S. C. 1153)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 7th day of August 1956.

[SEAL] TRUE D. MORSE,
Acting Secretary.

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Valencia Orange Reg. 81]

PART 922—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

LIMITATION OF HANDLING

§ 922.381 Valencia Orange Regulation 81—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 22, as amended (7 CFR Part 922; 21 F. R. 4392), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such Valencia oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The Valencia Orange Administrative Committee held an open meeting on August 9, 1956, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for Valencia oranges and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such Valencia oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., August 12, 1956, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., August 19, 1956, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 785,400 cartons;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) All Valencia oranges handled during the period specified in this section are subject also to all applicable size restrictions which are in effect pursuant to this part during such period.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "District 1," "District 2," "District 3," and "carton" have the same meaning as when used in said marketing agreement and order, as amended.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Dated: August 10, 1956.

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 953.761 Lemon Regulation 654—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 20 F. R. 8451; 21 F. R. 4393), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of lemons, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Lemon Administrative Committee on August 8, 1956, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., August 12, 1956, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., August 19, 1956, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 302,250 cartons;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) As used in this section, "handled," "District 1," "District 2," "District 3," and "carton" have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

In the Matter of LeAnn Fine Furs, Inc., a Corporation, and David Sandow and Sylvia Sandow, Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation

Order modifying Commission's decision of May 24, 1956—charging a corporation and its officers, with office in East St. Louis, Ill., with violating the Fur Products Labeling Act, and the Federal Trade Commission Act, through false advertising, misbranding, and false invoicing of fur products, through failing to disclose in newspaper advertisements, on attached labels, and on invoices, the information required by the act; and in advertisements naming animals other than those specified in the Fur Products Name Guide, and misrepresenting the amount of savings possible to purchasers.

The modified order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent LeAnn Fine Furs, Inc., a corporation, and its officers, and respondent David Sandow and respondent Sylvia Sandow, individually and as officers of said corporation, and respondents' representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the introduction into commerce, or the sale, advertising, or offering for sale in commerce, or the transportation or distribution in commerce, of fur products, or in connection with the sale, advertising, offering for sale, transportation, or distribution of fur products which have been made in whole or in part of fur which has been shipped and received in commerce, as "commerce," "fur" and "fur products" are defined in the Fur Products Labeling Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

A. Falsely or deceptively advertising fur products through the use of any advertisement, representation, public announcement, or notice which is intended to aid, promote or assist, directly or indirectly, in the sale or offering for sale of fur products, and which:

1. Fails to disclose:

a. The name or names of the animal or animals producing the fur or furs contained in the fur product as set forth in the Fur Products Name Guide, and as prescribed under the rules and regulations;

b. That the fur products contain or are composed of secondhand or used fur when such is a fact;

c. That the fur products contain or are composed of bleached, dyed, or otherwise artificially colored fur when such is a fact;

d. The name of the country of origin of imported furs contained in the fur products.

2. Makes use of comparative prices or percentage saving claims unless such compared prices or claims are based upon the current market value of the fur product or upon a bona fide compared price at a designated time.

3. Contains the name or names of an animal or animals other than those producing the fur contained in the fur product.

B. Misbranding fur products by:

1. Falsely or deceptively labeling or otherwise identifying any such product as to the name or names of the animal or animals that produced the fur from which such product was manufactured;

2. Failing to affix labels to fur products showing:

a. The name or names of the animal or animals producing the fur or furs contained in the fur product as set forth in the Fur Products Name Guide and as prescribed under the rules and regulations;

b. That the fur product contains or is composed of used fur when such is a fact;

c. That the fur product contains or is composed of bleached, dyed, or artificially colored fur when such is a fact;

d. That the fur product is composed in whole or in substantial part of paws, tails, bellies or waste fur when such is a fact;

e. The name, or other identification issued and registered by the Commission, of one or more persons who manufactured such fur product for introduction into commerce, introduced it into commerce, sold it in commerce, advertised or offered it for sale in commerce, or transported or distributed it in commerce;

f. That name of the country of origin of any imported furs used in the fur product.

C. Making comparative pricing claims or representations unless there is maintained full and adequate records disclosing the facts upon which such claims or representations are based.

D. Falsely or deceptively invoicing fur products by:

1. Failing to furnish invoices showing:

a. The name or names of the animal or animals producing the fur or furs contained in the fur product as set forth in the Fur Products Name Guide and as prescribed under the rules and regulations;

b. That the fur product contains or is composed of used fur when such as a fact;

c. That the fur product contains or is composed of bleached, dyed, or artificially colored fur when such is a fact;

d. That the fur product is composed in whole or in substantial part of paws, tails, bellies, or waste fur when such is a fact;

e. The name and address of the person issuing such invoices;

f. The name of the country of origin of any imported furs contained in the fur product.

By "Order Reopening Proceeding and Modifying Initial Decision", report of compliance was required as follows:

It is further ordered, That respondents herein shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: July 27, 1956.

By the Commission.

TITLE 24—HOUSING AND HOUSING CREDIT

Chapter I—Federal Home Loan Bank Board

Subchapter C—Federal Savings and Loan System

[No. 9902]

PART 145—OPERATIONS

AMENDMENT LIBERALIZING LOAN PROVISIONS

AUGUST 7, 1956.

Resolved that, pursuant to Part 108 of the General Regulations of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board (24 CFR Part 108) and § 142.1 of the rules and regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System (24 CFR 142.1), Part 145 of the rules and regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System (24 CFR Part 145) is hereby amended as follows, effective August 7, 1956:

(1) The table of contents to Part 145 is hereby amended by striking out the language "145.6–7 Real estate loans and investments subject to 15-percent-of-assets limitation" and inserting in lieu thereof the language "145.6–7 Real estate loans and investments subject to 20-percent-of-assets limitation";

(2) The title of § 145.6–7 is hereby amended by striking out the language "15-percent-of-assets" and inserting in lieu thereof the language "20-percent-of-assets";

(3) Section 145.6–7 is hereby amended by striking out the figure "15" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "20";

(4) Section 145.8 is hereby amended by striking out in the first proviso the language "$2,500" and inserting in lieu thereof the language "$3,500".

Resolved further that, as these amendments only liberalize the terms and conditions under which Federal savings and loan associations are permitted to make or invest in certain loans, the Board hereby finds that notice and public procedure thereon are unnecessary under the provisions of § 108.12 of the general regulations of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board (24 CFR 108.12) or section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act and, as such amendments relieve restrictions, deferment of the effective date thereof is not required under section 4 (c) of said act.

(Sec. 5, 48 Stat. 132, as amended; 12 U. S. C. 1464)

By the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Chapter II—Federal Housing Administration, Housing and Home Finance Agency

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS TO CHAPTER

Subchapter B—Property Improvement Loans

PART 201—CLASS 1 AND CLASS 2 PROPERTY IMPROVEMENT LOANS

1. In § 201.1 paragraphs (l) and (p) are amended to read as follows:

§ 201.1 Definitions. • • •

(l) "Borrower" means one who applies for and receives a loan in reliance upon the provisions of the Act and whose interest in the property to be improved is:

(1) A fee title, or

(2) A life estate, or

(3) A fee title or life estate subject to a mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien securing a debt, or

(4) A mutually binding contract for the purchase of the property where the borrower is rightfully in possession and the purchase price is payable in installments, or

(5) A lease having a fixed term, expiring not less than six calendar months after the maturity of the loan.

The borrower or borrowers shall have at least one-third of one of such interests in the property to be improved.

• • • • •

(p) "Existing structure" means a residential structure completed and occupied at least 90 days prior to the application for the Title I loan or a structure for other than residential purposes which was a completed building with a distinctive functional use prior to the application for the Title I loan: Provided, That the requirement with respect to the period of occupancy and completion of a new residential structure shall not apply to loans having a principal amount, exclusive of financing charges, of $600 or less or where such residential structures have been damaged in a disaster which the President, pursuant to section 2 (a) of Public Law 875, approved September 30, 1950, has determined to be a major disaster.

2. In § 201.2 paragraphs (c) and (d) (2) (i) are amended to read as follows:

§ 201.2 Eligible notes. • • •

(c) Payments. The note shall be payable in equal monthly installments. The first installment or the final installment may be more or less than the other installments provided that it is not less than one-half or more than one and one-half times the amount of a regular installment. A note may not provide for a first payment more than two calendar months from the date of the note. However, if 51 percent or more of the income of the borrower is derived directly from the sale of agricultural crops, commodities, or livestock produced by him, a note may be made payable in installments corresponding to income periods shown on the Credit Application. In such cases, the first payment must be made within 12 months of the date of the note and at least one payment shall be made in each 12 months thereafter, provided that no two payments shall be more than 12 months apart, and the proportion of total principal to be paid in later years shall not exceed the proportion of total principal payable in earlier years.

(d) Maturity. • • •

(2) Maximum. • • •

(i) A Class 1 (a) or a Class 2 (a) loan having a principal amount, exclusive of financing charges, of $600 or less is 3 years and 32 days from the date of the note; and a Class 1 (a) or a Class 2 (a) loan having a principal amount, exclusive of financing charges, of more than $600 is 5 years and 32 days from the date of the note.

3. In § 201.3 paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) are amended to read as follows:

§ 201.3 Maximum amount of loans—(a) Class 1 (a) loan. A Class 1 (a) loan shall not involve a principal amount, exclusive of financing charges, in excess of $3,500.

(b) Class 1 (b) loan. A Class 1 (b) loan shall not involve a principal amount, exclusive of financing charges, in excess of $2,500 per dwelling unit in the improved structure and shall not exceed $15,000.

(c) Class 2 loan. A Class 2 loan shall not involve a principal amount, exclusive of financing charges, in excess of $3,500.

4. In § 201.4 paragraph (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 201.4 Financing charges—(a) Maximum charge. The maximum permissible financing charges, exclusive of fees and charges as provided by paragraph (b) of this section which may be paid or collected for interest, discount, and fees of all kinds in connection with the transaction, shall be computed as follows:

(1) Class 1 and Class 2 loans, having a principal amount, exclusive of financing charges, not in excess of $2,500 and having a maturity not in excess of 7 years and 32 days, may have a financing charge not in excess of an amount equivalent to $5.00 discount per $100 original face amount of a 1-year note, to be paid in equal monthly installments, calculated from the date of the note.

(2) Class 1 and Class 2 loans, having a principal amount, exclusive of financing charges, in excess of $2,500 and a maturity not in excess of 7 years and 32 days, may have a financing charge equivalent to the total of (i) an amount, with respect to so much of the net loan proceeds as does not exceed $2,500, equivalent to $5.00 discount per $100 original face amount of a 1-year note payable in equal monthly installments, plus (ii) an amount, with respect to any portion of the net loan proceeds in excess of $2,500, equivalent to $4.00 discount per $100 original face amount of a 1-year note to be paid in equal monthly installments, calculated from the date of the note.

(3) Class 2 (b) loans, having a maturity in excess of 7 years and 32 days, shall not have a financing charge in excess of an amount equivalent to $3.50 discount per $100 original face amount of a one year note, to be paid in equal monthly installments, calculated from the date of the note.

(4) Such charges correctly based on tables of calculations issued by the Federal Housing Commissioner are deemed to comply with this section. An increase in the ratio of the charge to the average amount outstanding on the debt over the maximum provided in this section, which increase results from the first payment falling due less than 30 days after the date of the note, shall not be deemed to be in conflict with this section.

5. In § 201.7 paragraph (a) (1) is amended to read as follows:

§ 201.7 Eligible improvements—(a) Ineligible items. • • •

(1) List of ineligible items. No part of the proceeds of a loan shall be used to finance any of the following items:

Barbecue pits.
Bathhouses.
Burglar alarms.
Burglar protection bars.
Door opening and closing devices.
Dumbwaiters.
Fire alarms or fire detecting devices.
Fire extinguishers.
Flower boxes.
Greenhouses (except commercial greenhouses).
Hangars (airplane).
Kennels.
Outdoor fireplaces or hearths.
Penthouses.
Photo murals.
Radiator covers or enclosures.
Stands.
Steam cleaning of exterior surfaces.
Swimming pools.
Television antennae.
Tennis courts.
Tree surgery.
Valance or cornice boards.

6. In § 201.9 paragraph (b) (1) is amended to read as follows:

§ 201.9 Refinancing. • • •

(b) Maximum maturity. (1) A Class 1 (a) loan or a Class 2 (a) loan having a principal amount, exclusive of financing charges, of $600 or less may be refinanced for an additional period not in excess of 3 years and 32 days from the date of the refinancing, but not to exceed 5 years from the date of the original note. A Class 1 (a) loan or a Class 2 (a) loan having a principal amount, exclusive of financing charges, of more than $600 may be refinanced for an additional period not in excess of 5 years and 32 days from the date of the refinancing, but not to exceed 7 years from the date of the original note.

7. Section 201.10 is amended to read as follows:

§ 201.10 Report of loans. Loans shall be reported on the prescribed form to the Federal Housing Administration at Washington, D. C., within 15 days from the date of the note or date upon which it was purchased. Any loan refinanced as provided in § 201.9 shall likewise be reported on the prescribed form within 15 days from date of refinancing. Any loan transferred as provided in § 201.12 (e) shall be reported on the prescribed form within 31 days from the date of such transfer. In any case, the Commissioner may, in his discretion, accept a late report.

8. In § 201.12 paragraph (c) is amended to read as follows:

§ 201.12 Insurance reserve. • • •

(c) Adjustment of general reserve. After August 1, 1956, the amount of the general insurance reserve to the credit of each insured shall be adjusted on July 1 of each year by deducting therefrom an amount equivalent to 15 percent of the amount of such insurance reserve on the records of the Commissioner as of the date of such adjustment: Provided, That no such adjustment shall reduce the insurance reserve of any insured to an amount less than $5,000: Provided further, That no such adjustment shall be made in the insurance reserve of any financial institution until the first day of July next following the expiration of a period of 30 months after the issuance of a contract of insurance to such institution by the Commissioner, and no such adjustment shall be made in the insurance reserve of any financial institution after the termination of the contract of insurance issued to such institution by the Commissioner, or after the termination of the Commissioner's authority to insure against losses pursuant to Title I of the National Housing Act.

9. In § 201.13 paragraphs (a), (b) and (d) (3) are amended to read as follows:

§ 201.13 Insurance charge—(a) Rate. The insured shall pay to the Commissioner an insurance charge equal to sixty-five one hundreds (0.65) of one percent per annum of the net proceeds of any eligible loan reported and acknowledged for insurance: Provided, That in the case of a Class 1 (b) loan in excess of $3,500, exclusive of financing charges, and in the case of a Class 2 (b) loan having a maturity in excess of 7 years and 32 days, such insurance charge shall be forty-five one-hundredths (0.45) of one percent per annum. In computing the insurance charge, no charge shall be made for the fractional period of a month of 14 days or less, and a charge for a full month shall be made for the fractional period of a month of more than 14 days.

(b) When payable. Such insurance charge for the entire term of the loan shall be paid within 5 days after the date the Commissioner acknowledges receipt to the insured institution of the report of loan; Provided, That on loans having a maturity in excess of five years and 32 days, such charge may be paid in installments, the first of which shall be equal to the charge for 3 years and be paid within said 5 days, and the second and succeeding installments, each equal to the charge for one year, shall be paid on the first and each succeeding anniversary of the first day of the month following the date of the note.

• • • • •

(d) Refund or abatement. • • •

(3) The charge paid on a loan or portion thereof found to be ineligible; but no refund shall be made unless a claim is denied by the Commissioner or the ineligibility is reported by the insured promptly upon discovery and an application for refund made. In no event shall charges be refunded where the application for refund is not made until after the loan is paid in full.

(Sec. 2, 48 Stat. 1246, as amended; 12 U. S. C. 1703)

Subchapter C—Mutual Mortgage Insurance and Servicemen's Mortgage Insurance

PART 221—MUTUAL MORTGAGE INSURANCE: ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS OF MORTGAGE COVERING ONE- TO FOUR-FAMILY DWELLINGS

1. In § 221.17 paragraphs (a) (4), (5) and (b) are amended, and paragraph (a) (6) and (7) are added to read as follows:

§ 221.17 Maximum amount of mortgage and mortgagor's minimum investment. (a) • • •

(4) 95 percent of $9,000 of the appraised value of the property, as of the date the mortgage is accepted for insurance, and 75 percent of such value in excess of $9,000, if the dwelling was approved for insurance prior to the beginning of construction, or if construction was completed more than one year preceding the date of the application for insurance; or

(5) 90 percent of $9,000 of the appraised value of the property as of the date the mortgage is accepted for insurance, and 75 percent of such value in excess of $9,000, if the dwelling was not approved for insurance prior to the beginning of construction and construction was completed within one year preceding the application for insurance.

(6) The percentages referred to in subparagraphs (4) and (5) of this paragraph shall be each reduced by 2 percent as long as this subparagraph shall remain in effect.

(7) An amount equal to 85 percent of any of the amounts computed under the provisions of this section if the mortgagor is not the occupant of the property.

(b) At the time the mortgage is insured the mortgagor shall have paid on account of the property at least five percent of the Commissioner's estimate of the cost of acquisition or such larger amount as the Commissioner may determine in cash or its equivalent: Provided, That with respect to a mortgage executed by a mortgagor who is 60 years of age or older as of the date the mortgage is accepted for insurance, the mortgagor may enter into a contract or agreement with a corporation or person satisfactory to the Commissioner, which contract may provide for the corporation or person to lend the mortgagor the payment required by this paragraph plus settlement costs including initial payments for taxes, hazard insurance, mortgage insurance premium and other prepaid expenses as determined by the Commissioner. Any such contract or agreement may require the mortgagor to give as security for the loan a note or other evidence of indebtedness which note or evidence of indebtedness may bear interest at a rate not in excess of that permitted in the insured mortgage: Provided further, That the aggregate amount of the insured mortgage and the loan referred to in this paragraph shall not exceed an amount equal to 100 percent of the Commissioner's estimate of the appraised value of the property plus an amount equal to the settlement costs.

2. Section 221.18 is amended to read as follows:

§ 221.18 Payments and maturity dates. The mortgage should come due on the first of a month and must have a maturity satisfactory to the Commissioner not to be less than 10 nor more than 30 years from the date of the insurance; or three-quarters of the Commissioner's estimate of the remaining economic life of the building improvements, whichever is the lesser. The amortization period should be either 10, 15, 20, 25, or 30 years by providing for either 120, 180, 240, 300, or 360 monthly amortization payments.

3. In § 221.22 paragraph (b) is amended to read as follows:

§ 221.22 Mortgagor's payments to include other charges. • • •

(b) Mortgages involving a principal obligation not in excess of $6,650 may contain a provision requiring the mortgagor to pay to the mortgagee an annual service charge at such rate as may be agreed upon between the mortgagee and the mortgagor, but in no case shall such service charge exceed one-half of one percent per annum. Any such service charge shall be payable in monthly installments on the principal then outstanding.

4. In § 221.42 paragraph (f) is amended by changing the proviso at the end thereof to read as follows:

§ 221.42 Eligibility of miscellaneous type mortgages. • • •

(f) • • • Provided, That the principal obligation of any such mortgage shall not be in excess of $12,000.

(Sec. 211, 52 Stat. 23; 12 U. S. C. 1715b)

Subchapter D—Multifamily and Group Housing Insurance

PART 232—MULTIFAMILY HOUSING INSURANCE; ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS OF MORTGAGE COVERING MULTIFAMILY HOUSING

1. In § 232.1 paragraph (d) is amended to read as follows:

§ 232.1 Information for preliminary examination. • • •

(d) If an application is rejected before it is assigned for processing by the Commissioner, or in such other instances as the Commissioner may determine, the entire fee or any portion thereof may be returned to the applicant.

2. Section 232.4 is amended to read as follows:

§ 232.4 Maximum mortgage amounts—(a) Mortgage amount—private mortgagors. A mortgage executed by a mortgagor of the character described in § 232.17 (a) may involve a principal obligation not in excess of the lesser of the following:

(1) $12,500,000;

(2) 90 percent of the estimated value (replacement cost if project is located in Alaska or in Guam) of the project;

(3) $2,250 per room (or $8,100 per family unit if the number of rooms in such project does not equal or exceed four per family unit) for such part of such project as may be attributable to dwelling use;

(4) The amount which the Commissioner estimates will be the cost of the completed improvements of the project exclusive of public utilities and streets and organization and legal expenses.

(b) Mortgage amount—public mortgagors. A mortgage executed by a mortgagor of the character described in § 232.17 (b) may involve a principal obligation not in excess of the lesser of the following:

(1) $50,000,000;

(2) 90 percent of the estimated value (replacement cost if project is located in Alaska or in Guam) of the project.

(3) $2,250 per room (or $8,100 per family unit if the number of rooms in such project does not equal or exceed four per family unit) for such part of such project as may be attributable to dwelling use;

(4) The amount which the Commissioner estimates will be the cost of the completed improvements of the project exclusive of public utilities and streets and organization and legal expenses.

(c) Mortgage amount—elderly persons project. A mortgage, executed by a mortgagor of the character described in § 232.17 (c), covering a project specially designed for the use and occupancy of elderly persons (as defined in § 232.20 (c)) may involve a principal obligation not in excess of the lesser of the following:

(1) $12,500,000;

(2) 90 percent of the amount which the Commissioner estimates will be the replacement cost of such project when the proposed physical improvements are completed.

(3) $8,100 per family unit for such part of such project as may be attributable to dwelling use.

(d) Increased mortgage amount—elevator-type structures. With respect to a mortgage meeting the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and covering a project consisting of elevator-type structures, the Commissioner may, in his discretion, increase the dollar amount limitation of $2,250 per room to not to exceed $2,700 per room and the dollar amount limitation of $8,100 per family unit to not to exceed $8,400 per family unit, as the case may be, to compensate for the higher costs incident to construction of elevator-type structures of sound standards of construction and design.

(e) Increased mortgage amount—high cost areas. The Commissioner may, in any geographical area where he finds cost levels so require, increase the maximum dollar amount limitations per room set out in paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section by not to exceed $1,000 per room. As to projects located in the Territory of Alaska, Guam, or Hawaii, if the Commissioner finds that because of high costs it is not feasible to construct dwellings without the sacrifice of sound standards of construction, design, and livability within the limitations of maximum mortgage amounts provided in this section, he may increase the maximum for the principal obligation of mortgages otherwise meeting the requirements of paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section in such amounts as he shall find necessary to compensate for such high costs, but not to exceed, in any event, the maximum otherwise applicable by more than one-half thereof.

(f) Adjusted mortgage amount—rehabilitaton projects. A mortgage having a principal amount computed in compliance with the applicable provisions of paragraphs (a) to (e) of this section, and which involves a project to be repaired or rehabilitated, shall be subject to the following additional limitations:

(1) Property held in fee. If the mortgagor is the fee simple owner of the project, the maximum mortgage amount shall not exceed 100 percent of the Commissioner's estimate of the cost of the proposed repairs or rehabilitation; or

(2) Property subject to existing mortgage. If the mortgagor owns the project subject to an outstanding indebtedness, which is to be refinanced with part of the insured mortgage, the maximum mortgage amount shall not exceed: (i) The Commissioner's estimate of the cost of the proposed repairs or rehabilitation; plus (ii) such portion of the outstanding indebtedness as does not exceed 90 percent of the Commissioner's estimate of the fair market value of such land and improvements prior to completion of the proposed repair or rehabilitation; or

(3) Property to be acquired. If the project is to be acquired by the mortgagor and the purchase price is to be financed with a part of the insured mortgage, the maximum mortgage amount shall not exceed: (i) The Commissioner's estimate of the cost of the proposed repairs or rehabilitation; plus (ii) the actual purchase price of the land and improvements but not in excess of the Commissioner's estimate of the fair market value of such land and improvements prior to completion of the proposed repairs and rehabilitation.

(g) Reduced mortgage amount—leaseholds. The maximum mortgage amount based upon the limitations of this section is subject to reduction by an amount equal to the capitalized value of the ground rent in the event the mortgage is on a leasehold estate rather than on a fee simple holding.

3. In § 232.17 paragraph (b) is amended, and a new paragraph (c) is added as follows:

§ 232.17 Classification. • • •

(b) Public mortgagors. A federal or state instrumentality, a municipal corporate instrumentality of one or more states, or a limited dividend or redevelopment or housing corporation formed under and restricted by federal or state laws or regulations of a state banking or insurance department as to rents, charges, capital structure, rate of return, or methods of operation; or

(c) Non-profit organizations as mortgagors. In the case of a mortgage of the character described in § 232.4 (c) a financially qualified non-profit organization acceptable to the Commissioner.

4. Section 232.18 is amended by adding a new paragraph (d) as follows:

§ 232.18 In general. • • •

(d) A mortgagor of the character described in § 232.17 (c) which cannot meet the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section shall execute a regulatory agreement or other contractual document, acceptable to the Commissioner, providing for supervision and regulation of such mortgagor.

5. Section 232.20 is amended to read as follows:

§ 232.20 Occupancy requirements—(a) Family with children. The mortgagor must certify under oath that in selecting tenants for the project covered by the mortgage, the mortgagor will not discriminate against any family by reason of the fact that there are children in the family; and that, the mortgagor will not sell the project while the mortgage insurance is in effect unless the purchaser also so certifies, such certifications to be filed with the Commissioner: Provided, That the provisions of this paragraph shall not be applicable to a mortgagor of the character described in § 232.17 (c).

(b) Transient or hotel purposes. The mortgagor must certify under oath that, so long as the mortgage is insured by the Commissioner, the mortgagor will not rent, permit the rental or permit the offering for rental, of the housing, or any part thereof, covered by such mortgage for transient or hotel purposes. For the purpose of this certificate, rental for transient or hotel purposes shall mean (1) rental for any period less than 30 days, or (2) any rental, if the occupants of the housing accommodations are provided customary hotel services such as room service for food and beverages, maid service, furnishing and laundering of linen, and bellboy service.

(c) Elderly persons. A mortgagor under a mortgage of the character described in § 232.4 (c) shall certify under oath that so long as the mortgage is insured by the Commissioner, preference or priority of opportunity to occupy will be given to elderly persons, and that the mortgagor will not sell the project while the mortgage insurance is in effect unless the purchaser also so certifies, such certifications to be filed with the Commissioner. For the purpose of this part the term elderly person shall mean a person who is 60 years of age or older as of the date such person intends to occupy the premises, or a family the head of which (or his spouse) is an elderly person as defined herein.

6. In § 232.26 paragraph (b) is amended to read as follows:

§ 232.26 Certificate of actual cost. • • •

(b) When the work has been completed under a contract as described in § 232.25 (b), the mortgagor's certification shall be on the form prescribed therefor by the Commissioner and shall indicate all amounts as required in paragraph (a) of this section, and such allocations of general overhead items as are acceptable to the Commissioner, plus a reasonable allowance for the builder's profit as established by the Commissioner. This form of certification shall be accompanied by a certification by the builder on the form prescribed therefor by the Commissioner, indicating all actual costs paid for labor, materials, and subcontract work under the general contract exclusive of the builder's fee and less any kickbacks, rebates, trade discounts, or other similar payments to the builder or mortgagor corporation or any of its officers, directors, or stockholders. The mortgagor shall keep and make available records as required in paragraph (a) of this section and shall in turn require the builder to keep available similar records.

7. Section 232.28 is amended to read as follows:

§ 232.28 Rehabilitation projects. In the event the mortgage is to finance repair or rehabilitation, the mortgagor's actual cost of such repair or rehabilitation may include the items of expense permitted for new construction in accordance with either paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) of § 232.26 and the applicable cost certification procedure described therein will be required; provided such mortgage shall be subject to the following limitations:

(a) Property held in fee. If no part of the proceeds is to be used to finance the purchase of the land or structures involved, the mortgage shall be reduced to an amount not to exceed 100 percent of the approved cost of the completed repair or rehabilitation.

(b) Property subject to existing mortgage. If the insured mortgage is to include the cost of refinancing an existing mortgage acceptable to the Commissioner, the amount of the existing mortgage or 90 percent of the Commissioner's estimate of the fair market value of the repair or rehabilitation, of land and existing improvements prior to repair or rehabilitation, whichever is the lesser, shall be added to the actual cost of the repair or rehabilitation. If the principal obligation of the insured mortgage exceeds the total amount thus obtained, the mortgage shall be reduced by the amount of such excess, prior to final endorsement for insurance.

(c) Property to be acquired. If the mortgage is to include the cost of land and improvements, and the purchase price thereof is to be financed with part of the mortgage proceeds, the purchase price, or the Commissioner's estimate of the fair market value of land and existing improvements prior to repair or rehabilitation, whichever is the lesser, shall be added to the actual cost of the repair or rehabilitation. If the principal obligation of the insured mortgage exceeds the applicable statutory percentage of the total amount thus obtained, the mortgage shall be reduced by the amount of such excess, prior to final endorsement for insurance.

8. Section 232.29 is amended to read as follows:

§ 232.29 Requisites of agreement and certification. (a) Any agreement, undertaking, statement or certification required by § 232.26 shall specifically state that it has been made, presented, and delivered for the purpose of influencing an official action of the Federal Housing Administration, and of the Federal Housing Commissioner, and may be relied upon by the Commissioner as a true statement of the facts contained therein.

(b) Upon the Commissioner's approval of the mortgagor's certification as required by § 232.26 such certification shall be final and incontestable except for fraud or material misrepresentation on the part of the mortgagor.

(Sec. 211, 52 Stat. 23; 12 U. S. C. 1715b. Interpret or apply sec. 207, 52 Stat. 16, as amended; 12 U. S. C. 1713)

PART 241—COOPERATIVE HOUSING INSURANCE; ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS FOR PROJECT MORTGAGE

1. In § 241.1 paragraph (c) is amended, and new paragraphs (f), (g) and (h) are added, to read as follows:

§ 241.1 Definitions of terms as used in this part. • • •

(c) The term "veteran" means a person who has served in the active military or naval service of the United States at any time on or after April 6, 1917 and prior to November 12, 1918, or on or after September 16, 1940 and prior to July 26, 1947, or on or after June 27, 1950, and prior to February 1, 1955.

• • • • • • •

(f) The term "veteran project" means a project, the mortgagor of which is a corporation or trust and at least 50 percent of the membership of the corporation or number of beneficiaries of the trust consists of veterans.

(g) The term "investor sponsored project" means a project, the mortgagor of which is a private corporation, association or trust entity which has certified in accordance with section 213 (a) (3) of the Act that it intends to sell such project to a nonprofit cooperative ownership housing corporation or trust qualifying as the mortgagor of a management type project.

(h) The term "approved percentage" means 85 percent in the case of an investor sponsored project; 90 percent in the case of a non-veteran project; and 95 percent in the case of a veteran project.

2. In § 241.3 paragraph (b) is amended by adding a new subparagraph (3) and paragraph (d) is amended as follows:

§ 241.3 Application and commitment fees.

(b) • • •

(3) In the case of an investor sponsored project, the application and commitment fees to be paid under this section shall be based upon the commitment amount applicable to the owner of a management type project.

• • • • • • •

(d) If an application is rejected before it is assigned for processing by the Commissioner or in such other instances as the Commissioner may determine, the entire fee or any portion thereof may be returned to the applicant.

3. Section 241.7 is amended to read as follows:

§ 241.7 Maximum mortgage amounts—(a) Management type non-veteran projects. A mortgage executed by the mortgagor of a management type non-veteran project may involve a principal obligation not in excess of the lesser of the following:

(1) $12,500,000 ($25,000,000 if the mortgage is executed by a mortgagor of the character described in § 241.20 (b));

(2) 90 percent of the amount which the Commissioner estimates will be the replacement cost of the project;

(3) $2,250 per room (or $8,100 per family unit if the number of rooms in such project averages less than four per family unit) for such part of such project as may be attributable to dwelling use, or with respect to a mortgage covering a project consisting of elevator-type structures, $2,700 per room or $8,400 per family unit.

(b) Management type veteran projects. A mortgage executed by the mortgagor of a management type veteran project may involve a principal obligation not in excess of the lesser of the following:

(1) $12,500,000 ($25,000,000 if the mortgage is executed by a mortgagor of the character described in § 241.20 (b));

(2) 95 percent of the amount which the Commissioner estimates will be the replacement cost of the project;

(3) $2,375 per room (or $8,550 per family unit if the number of rooms in such project averages less than four per family unit) for such part of such project as may be attributable to dwelling use, or with respect to a mortgage covering a project consisting of elevator-type structures, $2,850 per room or $8,900 per family unit.

(c) Investor sponsored projects. A mortgage executed by the mortgagor of an investor sponsored project may involve a principal obligation not in excess of the lesser of the following:

(1) $12,500,000 ($25,000,000 if the mortgage is executed by a mortgagor of the character described in § 241.20 (b));

(2) 85 percent of the amount which the Commissioner estimates will be the replacement cost of the project;

(3) $2,250 per room (or $8,100 per family unit if the number of rooms in such project averages less than four per family unit) for such part of such project as may be attributable to dwelling use, or with respect to a mortgage covering a project consisting of elevator-type structures, $2,700 per room or $8,400 per family unit.

(d) Sales type non-veteran projects. A mortgage executed by the mortgagor of a sales type non-veteran project may involve a principal obligation not in excess of the lesser of the following:

(1) $12,500,000;

(2) The greater of the following amounts:

(i) A sum computed on the basis of a separate mortgage for each single-family dwelling comprising the project, equal to the total of each of the maximum principal obligations of such mortgage which would meet the requirements of section 203 (b) (2) of the act if the mortgagor were the owner and occupant who had made any required payment on account of the property described in such section of the act; or

(ii) A sum equal to the maximum amount which does not exceed $2,250 per room (or $8,100 per family unit if the numer of rooms in such project averages less than four per family unit) for such part of such project as may be attributable to dwelling use but not in excess of 90 percent of the amount which the Commissioner estimates will be the replacement cost of the project.

(e) Sales type veteran projects. A mortgage executed by the mortgagor of a sales type veteran project may involve a principal obligation not in excess of the lesser of the following:

(1) $12,500,000;

(2) The greater of the following amounts:

(i) A sum computed on the basis of a separate mortgage for each single-family dwelling comprising the project, equal to the total of each of the maximum principal obligations of such mortgages which would meet the requirements of section 203 (b) (2) of the act if the mortgagor were the owner and occupant who had made any required payment on account of the property described in such section of the act; or

(ii) A sum equal to the maximum amount which does not exceed $2,375 per room (or $8,550 per family unit if the number of rooms in such project averages less than four per family unit) for such part of such project as may be attributable to dwelling use but not in excess of 95 percent of the amount which the Commissioner estimates will be the replacement cost of the project.

(f) Increased mortgage amount—high cost areas. The Commissioner may, in any geographical area where he finds cost levels so require, increase the maximum dollar amount limitations per room set out in the preceding paragraphs of this section by not to exceed $1,000 per room. As to projects located in the Territory of Alaska, Guam, or Hawaii, if the Commissioner finds that because of high costs it is not feasible to construct dwellings without the sacrifice of sound standards of construction, design, and livability within the limitations of maximum mortgage amounts provided in this section, he may increase the maximum for the principal obligation of mortgages otherwise meeting the requirements of this paragraph in such amounts as he shall find necessary to compensate for such high costs, but not to exceed, in any event, the maximum otherwise applicable by more than one-half thereof.

(g) Adjusted mortgage amount—rehabilitation projects. A mortgage having a principal amount computed in compliance with the applicable provisions of the paragraphs (a) to (f) of this section, and which involves a project to be repaired or rehabilitated, shall be subject to the following additional limitations:

(1) Property held in fee. If the mortgagor is the fee simple owner of the project, the maximum mortgage amount shall not exceed 100 percent of the Commissioner's estimate of the cost of the proposed repairs or rehabilitation; or

(2) Property subject to existing mortgage. If the mortgagor owns the project subject to an outstanding indebtedness, which is to be refinanced with part of the insured mortgage, the maximum mortgage amount shall not exceed: (i) The Commissioner's estimate of the cost of the proposed repairs or rehabilitation; plus (ii) such portion of the outstanding indebtedness which does not exceed the approved percentage of the Commissioner's estimate of the fair market value of such land and improvements prior to completion of the proposed repair or rehabilitation; or

(3) Property to be acquired. If the project is to be acquired by the mortgagor and the purchase price is to be financed with a part of the insured mortgage, the maximum mortgage amount shall not exceed: (i) The Commissioner's estimate of the cost of the proposed repairs or rehabilitation; plus (ii) the actual purchase price of the land and improvements but not in excess of the Commissioner's estimate of the fair market value of such land and improvements prior to completion of the proposed repairs and rehabilitation.

(h) Reduced mortgage amount—leaseholds. The maximum mortgage amount based upon the limitations of this section is subject to reduction by an amount equal to the capitalized value of the ground rent in the event the mortgage is on a leasehold estate rather than on a fee simple holding.

(i) Mortgagor's minimum investment—sales type projects. At the time a mortgage executed by a mortgagor of a sales type project is insured, the mortgagor shall have paid on account of the project at least 5 percent of the Commissioner's estimate of the cost of acquisition or such larger amount as the Commissioner may determine in cash or its equivalent and each member or stockholder of the mortgagor shall have paid the amount required by § 243.9 (b) of Part 243 of this subchapter. The amount required for working capital specified in § 241.26 may be included in the 5 percent payment required by this paragraph.

4. Section 241.10 is amended to read as follows:

§ 241.10 Interest rate. The mortgage shall bear interest, not exceeding 4¼ percent per annum, on the amount of the principal obligation outstanding at any time, as may be agreed upon between the mortgagor and the mortgagee.

5. In § 241.20 paragraph (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 241.20 Eligibility of mortgagors. (a) In order to be eligible as a mortgagor under this part, an applicant must be the owner of:

(1) A management type project or a sales type project formed or created with the approval of the Commissioner and regulated or restricted by the Commissioner as to rents or sales, charges, capital structure, rate of return and methods of operation; or

(2) An investor sponsored project formed or created with the approval of the Commissioner with the intention of providing housing for sale to the mortgagor of a management type project, and regulated by the Commissioner as to rents, charges, capital structure, rate of return, and methods of operation.

6. Section 241.31 is amended to read as follows:

§ 241.31 Mortgagors subject to regulation and restriction—(a) In general. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all mortgagors shall be subject to regulation and restriction by the Commissioner with respect to the matters set forth in this part. A mortgagor of the character described in § 241.20 (b) shall not be subject to regulation and restriction by the Commissioner with respect to matters set forth in §§ 241.24, 241.25, 241.29 and 241.30.

(b) Additional regulations and restrictions applicable to mortgagors of investor sponsored projects. In addition to the provisions of this part, the mortgagor of an investor sponsored project shall be subject to the provisions of § 232.19 (b) covering rate of return, § 232.19 (e) covering rents and charges, and § 232.25 covering form of contract of Part 232 of this subchapter. Such mortgagor shall not be subject to the provisions of §§ 241.30 (d) and 241.34.

7. Section 241.33 is amended to read as follows:

§ 241.33 Certification of cost requirements. Prior to initial endorsement for insurance of a mortgage executed by the mortgagor of a management type project or the mortgagor of an investor sponsored project, the mortgagor, the mortgagee, and the Commissioner shall enter into an agreement in form and content satisfactory to the Commissioner for the purpose of precluding any excess of mortgage proceeds over statutory limitations. Under this agreement the mortgagor shall disclose its relationship with the builder, including any collateral agreement, and agree to enter into a construction contract the terms of which shall depend on whether or not there exists an identity of interest between the mortgagor and the builder. The agreement shall require that upon completion of all physical improvements on the mortgaged property the mortgagor must execute a certificate of actual costs. The agreement shall further require that any excess of mortgage proceeds over statutory limitations based on actual cost shall be applied to reduction of the outstanding balance of the principal of the mortgage.

8. In § 241.34 paragraphs (a) and (b) are amended to read as follows:

§ 241.34 Form of contract. • • •

(a) Non-identity of interest. If it is found by the Commissioner that: (1) no identity of interest exists between the mortgagor or any of its officers, directors or stockholders and the general contractor, and (2) a cost plus form of contract is not required in the interests of the Commissioner; there may be used a lump sum form of contract.

(b) Identity of interest. If the Commissioner does not make the findings described in paragraph (a) of this section, the form of contract shall provide for payment of the actual cost of construction, not to exceed an upset price and may provide for payment of a specified builder's fee in addition thereto. The builder's fee shall not exceed a reasonable allowance therefor as established by the Commissioner, in accordance with customary practices in the area.

9. Section 241.35 is amended to read as follows:

§ 241.35 Certificate of actual cost. The mortgagor's certificate of actual cost shall be submitted upon completion of physical improvements to the satisfaction of the Commissioner and prior to final endorsement. Its content and requirements regarding verification are as follows:

(a) When the work has been completed under a lump sum contract the mortgagor's certification shall be on the form prescribed therefor by the Commissioner and shall indicate the amount actually paid under the construction contract after deduction of any kickbacks, rebates, trade discounts, or other similar payments to the mortgagor corporation, or to any of its officers, directors or stockholders; plus the cost to the mortgagor of architects' fees, off-site public utilities and streets not included in the general contract, organizational and legal work, and other items of expense approved by the Commissioner. For verification of these amounts the mortgagor shall keep and maintain adequate records of all costs of any construction or other cost items not representing work under the general contract and shall make available for examination such records, including any collateral agreements, upon request by the Commissioner.

(b) When the work has been completed under a cost plus contract the mortgagor's certification shall be on the form prescribed therefor by the Commissioner and shall indicate all amounts as required in paragraph (a) of this section, and such allocations of general overhead items as are acceptable to the Commissioner, plus a reasonable allowance for the builder's profit as established by the Commissioner. This form of certification shall be accompanied by a certification by the builder on the form prescribed therefor by the Commissioner, indicating all actual costs paid for labor, materials, and subcontract work under the general contract exclusive of the builder's fee and less any kickbacks, rebates, trade discounts, or other similar payments to the builder or mortgagor corporation or any of its officers, directors, or stockholders. The mortgagor shall keep and make available records as required in paragraph (a) of this section and shall in turn require the builder to keep available similar records.

(c) The certificates of actual cost shall be supported by a certificate as to accuracy by an independent Certified Public Accountant or independent public accountant, which shall include a statement that the accounts, records and supporting documents have been examined in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards to the extent deemed necessary to verify the actual costs.

10. Section 241.36 is amended to read as follows:

§ 241.36 Adjustment resulting from cost certification. Upon receipt of the mortgagor's certification of actual cost there shall be added to the total amount thereof the Commissioner's estimate of the fair market value of any land included in the mortgage security and owned by the mortgagor in fee, such value being prior to the construction of the improvements. In the event the land is held under a leasehold or other interest less than a fee, the cost, if any, of acquiring the leasehold or other interest is considered an allowable expense which may be added to actual cost, provided that in no event such amount is in excess of the fair market value of such leasehold or other interest exclusive of proposed improvements. If the principal obligation of the mortgage exceeds the approved percentage of this total amount, the mortgage shall be reduced by the amount of such excess prior to final endorsement for insurance.

11. Section 241.37 is amended to read as follows:

§ 241.37 Rehabilitation projects. In the event the mortgage is to finance repair or rehabilitation the mortgagor's actual cost of such repair or rehabilitation may include the items of expense permitted for new construction in accordance with either paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) of § 241.35 and the applicable cost certification procedure described therein will be required; provided such mortgage shall be subject to the following limitations:

(a) Property held in fee. If no part of the proceeds will be used to finance the purchase of the land or structures involved the mortgage shall be reduced to an amount not to exceed 100 percent of the approved cost of the completed repairs or rehabilitation.

(b) Property subject to existing mortgage. If the insured mortgage is to include the cost of refinancing an existing mortgage acceptable to the Commissioner, the amount of the existing mortgage or the approved percentage of the Commissioner's estimate of the fair market value, of land and existing improvements prior to repair or rehabilitation, whichever is the lesser, shall be added to the actual cost of the repair or rehabilitation. If the principal obligation of the insured mortgage exceeds the approved percentage of this amount, the mortgage shall be reduced by the amount of such excess, prior to final endorsement for insurance.

(c) Property to be acquired. If the mortgage is to include the cost of land and improvements, and the purchase price thereof is to be financed with part of the mortgage proceeds, the purchase price, or the Commissioner's estimate of the fair market value, of land and existing improvements prior to repair or rehabilitation, whichever is the lesser, shall be added to the actual cost of the repair or rehabilitation. If the principal obligation of the insured mortgage exceeds the approved percentage of this amount, the mortgage shall be reduced by the amount of such excess, prior to final endorsement for insurance.

12. Section 241.38 is amended to read as follows:

§ 241.38 Requisites of agreement and certification. (a) Any agreement, undertaking, statement or certification required by § 241.35 shall specifically state that it has been made, presented, and delivered for the purpose of influencing an official action of the Federal Housing Administration, and of the Federal Housing Commissioner, and may be relied upon by the Commissioner as a true statement of the facts contained therein.

(b) Upon the Commissioner's approval of the mortgagor's certification as required by § 241.35 such certification shall be final and incontestable except for fraud or material misrepresentation on the part of the mortgagor.

13. The centered heading immediately preceding § 241.45 is amended to read as follows: "Other Eligible Mortgages."

(Sec. 211, 52 Stat. 23; 12 U. S. C. 1715b. Interpret or apply sec. 213, 64 Stat. 54, as amended; 12 U. S. C. 1715e)

Subchapter F—Rehabilitation and Neighborhood Conservation Housing Insurance

PART 266—HOME RELOCATION INSURANCE; ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS OF MORTGAGE COVERING SINGLE FAMILY DWELLINGS

1. Section 266.5 is amended to read as follows:

§ 266.5 Maximum mortgage amount; dollar limitation. The dollar limitation on the amount of the mortgage to be insured is an amount not in excess of $9,000, except that the Commissioner may increase this amount by not to exceed $1,000 in any geographical area where he finds that cost levels so require. The dollar limitation is in addition to the loan-to-value limitation provided in § 266.6.

2. In § 266.6 paragraph (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 266.6 Maximum mortgage amount; loan-to-value limitation. • • • (a) the Commissioner's estimate of the appraised value of the property, as of the date the mortgage is accepted for insurance; or

3. Section 266.6a is amended to read as follows:

§ 266.6a Payments and maturity dates. The mortgage should come due on the first of a month and must have a maturity satisfactory to the Commissioner not to be less than 10 nor more than 40 years from the date of the insurance; or three-quarters of the Commissioner's estimate of the remaining economic life of the building improvements, whichever is the lesser. The amortization period should be either 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35, or 40 years by providing for either 120, 180, 240, 300, 360, 420, or 480 monthly amortization payments.

4. Section 266.8 is amended to read as follows:

§ 266.8 Mortgagor's minimum investment. At the time the mortgage is insured, the mortgagor shall have paid on account of the property at least $200 in cash or its equivalent, which may include amounts to cover settlement costs and initial payments for taxes, hazard insurance, mortgage insurance premium and other prepaid expenses as determined by the Commissioner.

PART 268—MULTIFAMILY RELOCATION INSURANCE; ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS OF MORTGAGE

1. In § 268.1 paragraph (a) is amended by adding to, and changing, the headings of the listed provisions as follows:

§ 268.1 Incorporation by reference.
(a) • • •

§ 232.4 Maximum mortgage amounts.
• • • • •
§ 232.17 Classification.
• • • • •
§ 232.20 Occupancy requirements.
• • • • •
§ 232.31a Eligibility of mortgages on trailer courts or parks for trailer coach mobile dwellings.
• • • • •

2. Section 268.4 is amended to read as follows:

§ 268.4 Eligible mortgagors—private nonprofit entities. The mortgagor shall be a private nonprofit corporation or association or other acceptable private nonprofit organization, regulated or supervised under Federal or State laws or by political subdivisions of States or agencies thereof, or the Federal Housing Commissioner, as to rents, charges, and methods of operation. The regulation or supervision of the mortgagor must be in such form and in such manner as, in the opinion of the Commissioner, will effectuate the purposes of this part.

3. Section 268.6 is amended to read as follows:

§ 268.6 Maximum mortgage amounts—(a) Limitation. A mortgage may involve a principal obligation not in excess of the lesser of the following:

(1) $12,500,000;

(2) The Commissioner's estimate of the value of the project;

(3) $9,000 per family unit for such part of such project as may be attributable to dwelling use.

(b) Adjusted mortgage amount—rehabilitation projects. A mortgage having a principal amount computed in compliance with this section, and which involves a project to be repaired or rehabilitated, shall be subject to the following additional limitations:

(1) Property held in fee. If the mortgagor is the fee simple owner of the project, the maximum mortgage amount shall not exceed 100 percent of the Commissioner's estimate of the cost of the proposed repairs or rehabilitation; or

(2) Property subject to existing mortgage. If the mortgagor owns the project subject to an outstanding indebtedness, which is to be refinanced with part of the insured mortgage, the maximum mortgage amount shall not exceed: (i) The Commissioner's estimate of the cost of the proposed repairs or rehabilitation; and (ii) such portion of the outstanding indebtedness which does not exceed 90 percent of the Commissioner's estimate of the fair market value of such land and improvements prior to completion of the proposed repair or rehabilitation; or

(3) Property to be acquired. If the project is to be acquired by the mortgagor and the purchase price is to be financed with a part of the insured mortgage, the maximum mortgage amount shall not exceed: (i) The Commissioner's estimate of the cost of the proposed repairs or rehabilitation; and (ii) the actual purchase price of the land and improvements but not in excess of the Commissioner's estimate of the fair market value of such land and improvements prior to completion of the proposed repairs and rehabilitation.

4. Section 268.9 is amended to read as follows:

§ 268.9 Increased mortgage amount—high cost areas. The Commissioner may, in any geographical area where he finds cost levels so require, increase the maximum dollar amount limitations per family unit, as set forth in § 268.6 to an amount not in excess of $10,000 per family unit. As to projects located in the Territory of Alaska, Guam, or Hawaii, if the Commissioner finds that because of high costs it is not feasible to construct dwellings without the sacrifice of sound standards of construction, design, and livability within the limitations of maximum mortgage amounts provided in this section, he may increase the maximum for the principal obligation of mortgages otherwise meeting the requirements of this section in such amounts as he shall find necessary to compensate for such high costs, but not to exceed, in any event, the maximum otherwise applicable by more than one-half thereof.

5. Part 268 is amended by adding a new § 268.9a as follows:

§ 268.9a Occupancy requirements—(a) Family with children. The mortgagor must certify under oath that in selecting tenants for the property covered by the mortgage, the mortgagor will not discriminate against any family by reason of the fact that there are children in the family, and that the mortgagor will not sell the property while the mortgage insurance is in effect unless the purchaser also so certifies, such certifications to be filed with the Commissioner.

(b) Transient or hotel purposes. The mortgagor must certify under oath that so long as the mortgage is insured by the Commissioner, the mortgagor will not rent, permit the rental, or permit the offering for rental, of the housing, or any part thereof, covered by such mortgage for transient or hotel purposes. For the purpose of this certificate, rental for transient or hotel purposes shall mean (1) rental for any period less than 30 days, or (2) any rental, if the occupants of the housing accommodations are provided customary hotel services such as room service for food and beverages, maid service, furnishing and laundering of linen, and bellboy service.

Subchapter M—Military and Armed Services Housing Mortgage Insurance

PART 292a—ARMED SERVICES HOUSING INSURANCE; ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS OF MORTGAGE

1. Section 292a.2 is amended to read as follows:

§ 292a.2 Certification by Secretary to Commissioner. Applications for mortgage insurance will not be accepted unless there has been executed an instrument by the Secretary of Defense or his designee certifying to the Commissioner that the Secretary or his designee has met the requirements of section 803 (b) (2) of the National Housing Act, as amended.

2. In § 292a.7 paragraph (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 292a.7 Maximum mortgage amount; replacement cost. (a) The mortgage shall involve a principal obligation not to exceed the amount which the Commissioner estimates will be the replacement cost of the property or project when the proposed improvements are completed including the replacement cost of ranges, refrigerators, shades, screens and fixtures. Such cost may include the cost of the land, the physical improvements, and utilities within the boundaries of the property or project.

3. In § 292a.8 paragraph (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 292a.8 Maximum mortgage amount; dollar limitation. (a) The mortgage shall involve a principal obligation in an amount not to exceed an average of $16,500 per family unit for such part of the project as may be attributable to dwelling use including ranges, refrigerators, shades, screens and fixtures, less the amount of the Commissioner's estimated value of any usable utilities within the boundaries of the project where owned by the United States and not provided for out of the proceeds of the mortgage.

4. In § 292a.9 paragraph (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 292a.9 Maximum mortgage amount; successful bid. (a) The mortgage shall involve a principal obligation not to exceed the amount of the successful bid of the eligible bidder of the project. The term "eligible bidder" means a person, partnership, firm, or corporation determined by the Secretary of Defense, after consultation with the Commissioner (1) to be qualified by experience and financial responsibility to construct housing of the type described and provided for under Title VIII of the National Housing Act, and (2) to have submitted the lowest acceptable bid.

5. Section 292a.27 is amended to read as follows:

§ 292a.27 Completion assurance. Assurance for the completion of a project shall be a performance bond and a payment bond satisfactory to the Commissioner and the Secretary of Defense or his designee with the mortgagor and mortgagee as joint obligees.

6. In § 292a.39 the introductory text is amended to read as follows:

§ 292a.39 Title evidence. Upon insurance of the mortgage, the mortgagee, without expense to the Commissioner, shall furnish to the Commissioner, a survey satisfactory to him and such evidence of title as provided in this section, as the Commissioner may require.

PART 293a—ARMED SERVICES HOUSING INSURANCE; RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS OF THE MORTGAGEE UNDER THE INSURANCE CONTRACT

In § 293a.1 paragraph (g) is amended to read as follows:

§ 293a.1 Definitions. • • •

(g) The term "State" includes the several States and Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, Guam, the Virgin Islands, the Canal Zone, and Midway Island.

In order to conform Regulations 118 (26 CFR (1939) Part 39) and Regulations 111 (26 CFR (1939) Part 29), relating to income taxes, to the decision in Philadelphia Electric Company v. The United States, 117 F. Supp. 424 (Ct. Cl. 1954), such regulations are hereby amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 39.26 (h)-1 (c) (1) is amended by striking from the first sentence the words "earnings or profits either currently or in liquidation", and inserting in lieu thereof the words "current distributions".

PAR. 2. Section 29.26-5 (a) as amended by Treasury Decision 5384, approved June 30, 1944, is further amended by striking from the first sentence of the second paragraph the words "earnings or profits either currently or in liquidation", and inserting in lieu thereof the words "current distributions".

Because this Treasury decision is liberalizing in character, it is found that it is unnecessary to issue this Treasury decision with notice and public procedure thereon under section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, or subject to the effective date limitation of section 4 (c) of said act.

PART 314—TAXES ON GASOLINE, LUBRICATING OIL, AND MATCHES

DEFINITION OF TERM "MANUFACTURER"

On September 14, 1955, notice of proposed rule making regarding amendments to Regulations 44 (1944 edition) (26 CFR (1939) Part 314), relating to the taxes on gasoline, lubricating oil, and matches, such regulations as prescribed and made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 by Treasury Decision 6091, signed August 16, 1954, and Regulations 44 (1932, 1934, and 1939 editions), was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (20 F. R. 6750). The amendments would exclude from the term "manufacturer", as used in the regulations in connection with the sale or use of lubricating oil, (1) a person who merely cleans, renovates, or refines used or waste lubricating oil, or (2) a person who merely blends or mixes one or more taxable lubricating oils with used or waste lubricating oil which has been cleaned, renovated, or refined. After consideration of all such relevant matter as was presented by interested persons regarding the rules proposed, the amendments to Regulations 44 as so published are hereby adopted for the periods therein stated.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter VI—Business and Defense Services Administration, Department of Commerce

[DMS Regulation No. 1, Direction 9 of August 10, 1956]

DMS REG. 1—BASIC RULES OF THE DEFENSE MATERIALS SYSTEM

DIR. 9—SPECIAL RULES REGARDING SHIPMENTS BY STEEL PRODUCERS AGAINST AUTHORIZED CONTROLLED MATERIAL ORDERS

This direction under DMS Regulation No. 1 is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended. In the formulation of this direction, consultation with industry representatives has been rendered impracticable due to the need for immediate action and because the direction affects many different industries.

Sec.
1. What this direction does.
2. Shipments by steel producers against certain authorized controlled material orders.
3. Applicability of other regulations and orders.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 3 issued under sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended, sec. 1, P. L. 632, 84th Cong., 70 Stat. 408; 50 U. S. C. App. 2154. Interpret or apply sec. 101, 64 Stat. 799, as amended, sec. 705, 64 Stat. 816, as amended, sec. 1, P. L. 632, 84th Cong., 70 Stat. 408; 50 U. S. C. App. 2071, 2155; E. O. 10480, 18 F. R. 4939; 3 CFR, 1953 Supp.; DMO I-7, 18 F. R. 5366, 6736; 32A CFR Ch. I; Commerce Dept. Order No. 152, 18 F. R. 6503, 6791, 20 F. R. 6263.

SECTION 1. What this direction does. The purpose of this direction is to insure, so far as practicable, that all authorized controlled material orders for August or earlier delivery placed with steel mills whose production was suspended, are shipped not later than September 30, 1956.

SEC. 2. Shipments by steel producers against certain authorized controlled material orders. (a) The provisions of this section apply only to those producers of steel controlled materials whose production was suspended during the work stoppage which began during July 1956.

(b) A steel controlled materials producer who, prior to the effective date of this direction, has accepted an authorized controlled material order for steel calling for delivery on or before August 31, 1956, shall make shipment against such order as close to the requested delivery date as is practicable. In complying with this provision he may schedule his production and shipments to fill such authorized controlled material orders in any sequence he desires: Provided, however, That shipment against all such authorized controlled material orders shall be made not later than September 30, 1956. To the extent that he is unable to make shipment by September 30, 1956, against any such authorized controlled material orders, he shall promptly notify BDSA, Iron and Steel Division, by letter or telegram, listing such orders.

SEC. 3. Applicability of other regulations and orders. The provisions of the DMS regulations, BDSA Order M-1A, and of any other BDSA regulations and orders as heretofore issued, including the directions and amendments thereto, are superseded to the extent to which they are inconsistent with the provisions of this direction. In all other respects the provisions of such regulations, orders, directions, and amendments shall remain in full force and effect.

This direction shall take effect August 10, 1956.

BUSINESS AND DEFENSE SERVICES ADMINISTRATION,
CHAS. F. HONEYWELL, Administrator.

TITLE 33—NAVIGATION AND NAVIGABLE WATERS

Chapter I—Coast Guard, Department of the Treasury

Subchapter A—General

[CGFR 56-23]

PART 8—REGULATIONS, UNITED STATES COAST GUARD RESERVE

PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS AND STANDARDS

By virtue of the authority contained in the act of July 9, 1952, (66 Stat. 481) as amended, and Title 14, U. S. Code, the following amendments are hereby prescribed and shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

1. Section 8.1401 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 8.1401 Physical standards. The physical standards for appointment, enlistment, reappointment, reenlistment, promotion and retention of members of the Coast Guard Reserve shall be as set forth in the Coast Guard Medical Manual.

2. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 8.1403 are hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 8.1403 Persons authorized to conduct physical examinations. (a) Physical examinations of Reservists and of applicants for appointment, enlistment, or reenlistment shall, if practicable, be conducted by a board of at least two medical officers of the U. S. Public Health Service. If impracticable to assemble such a board, physical examinations shall be conducted by one medical officer of the U. S. Public Health Service. If such a medical officer is unavailable, physical examinations may be conducted by one medical officer of any component of the Armed Forces. In special cases, physical examinations may be conducted by a reputable civilian physician provided that, unless otherwise authorized, no expense to the government is incurred.

(b) A Reservist whose duties involve flying shall be given a flight physical examination in accordance with the instructions and requirements contained in Chapter 3, Coast Guard Medical Manual.

3. Section 8.1404 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 8.1404 Physical examination for short periods of training duty. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of these regulations, a Reservist who is ordered or authorized to perform short periods of active duty, active duty for training or inactive duty training, with or without pay, of not more than seven days duration will establish physical qualifications incident thereto in one of the following manners:

(1) If the member indicates he has suffered injury, sickness, or disease since his last military physical examination, a physical examination complete in every respect shall be accomplished.

(2) If the member has not satisfactorily passed a military physical examination within one year, a physical examination pursuant to § 8.1407 (b) shall be accomplished.

(3) If the member has satisfactorily passed a military physical examination within one year and provided his certificate of physical condition indicates a satisfactory medical history, no physical examination will be required.

(b) Physical examination will not be required upon completion of such a period of training duty except when injury, sickness, or disease is incurred incident thereto. In such cases, a physical examination complete in every respect is required and appropriate entries shall be made in the health record and orders and required reports will be submitted.

4. Subparagraphs (2) and (7) of paragraph (a), and paragraph (b) of § 8.1406 are hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 8.1406 Reports and records of physical examinations. (a) • • •

(2) Upon notification of promotion. This subparagraph applies only to Reserve officers not on active duty and in accordance with the following:

(i) Upon appointment to a higher grade for temporary service.

(ii) Upon permanent appointment to a grade higher than that in which serving.

(iii) In the case of a permanent appointment in a grade in which the Reserve officer is already serving for temporary service, the Commandant may waive physical examination and require instead submission of a certificate of physical condition.

• • • • •

(7) When indicated under § 8.1404.

(b) Reservists on active duty shall undergo physical examinations in accordance with requirements for personnel of the Regular Coast Guard as set forth in the Coast Guard Medical Manual.

5. Paragraph (b) of § 8.1407 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 8.1407 Completeness of physical examinations. (a) • • •

(b) Physical examinations pursuant to § 8.1404 (a) (2) and, if the period of duty is not in excess of 30 days, pursuant to § 8.1406 (a) (3) and (4) will be conducted as follows:

(1) The physical examination need only be sufficiently complete for the medical examiner to determine whether or not the Reservist is qualified to perform duties assigned and is free from infectious or contagious disease. Each Reservist so examined shall be required to execute a certificate of physical condition indicating a satisfactory medical history since the last military physical examination. The result of this examination shall be entered upon the Reservist's orders and in his health record if he is found to be physically qualified. The certificate of physical condition and the result of the examination may be entered upon the same report using such forms as the Commandant may require.

(2) If the Reservist is found not physically qualified, or if injury, sickness, or disease was incurred while performing active duty or during the interval since his preceding military physical examination, or if a quadrennial examination will become due within one year, a physical examination complete in every respect shall be accomplished and required reports shall be submitted.

(Sec. 4, 62 Stat. 605, as amended, 63 Stat. 545, sec. 251, 66 Stat. 495; 50 U. S. C. app. 454, 14 U. S. C. 633, 50 U. S. C. 1002)

Approved: June 20, 1956.

[SEAL] DAVID W. KENDALL,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

Concurred in: July 18, 1956.

CHARLES S. THOMAS,
Secretary of the Navy.

TITLE 37—PATENTS, TRADEMARKS, AND COPYRIGHTS

Chapter II—Copyright Office, Library of Congress

REVISION OF CHAPTER

As amended, parts 201 and 202 read as follows, effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER:

PART 201—GENERAL PROVISIONS

Sec.
201.1 Communications with the Copyright Office.
201.2 Information given by the Copyright Office.
201.3 Catalog of Copyright Entries.
201.4 Assignments of copyright and other papers.
201.5 Amendments to completed Copyright Office registrations and other records.
201.6 Payment and refund of Copyright Office fees.
201.7 Preparation of catalog card.
201.8 Import statements.

AUTHORITY: §§ 201.1 to 201.8 issued under sec. 207, 61 Stat. 666; 17 U. S. C. 207.

§ 201.1 Communications with the Copyright Office. Mail and other communications shall be addressed to the Register of Copyrights, Library of Congress, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 201.2 Information given by the Copyright Office—(a) In general. (1) Information relative to the operations of the Copyright Office is supplied without charge. A search of the records, indexes and deposits will be made for such information as they may contain relative to copyright claims upon application and payment of the statutory fee. The Copyright Office, however, does not undertake the making of comparisons of copyright deposits to determine similarity between works, nor does it give legal opinions or advice on such matters as:

(i) The validity or status of any copyright other than the facts shown in the records of the Office;

(ii) The rights of persons, whether in connection with cases of alleged copyright infringement, contracts between authors and publishers or other matters of a similar nature;

(iii) Protection of works in foreign countries or interpretation of foreign copyright laws or court opinions;

(iv) The sufficiency, extent or scope of compliance with the copyright law.

(2) In addition, the Office cannot undertake to furnish the names of copyright attorneys, publishers, agents, or other similar information.

(b) Inspection and copying of records. Inspection of the records, indexes and deposits may be made at such times as will not result in interference with or delay in the work of the Copyright Office. In connection with matters directly relating to copyrights and the rights of an author or proprietor in copyrighted property, copies may be made of the entries in the record books, the applications for registration after they have been passed for entry and numbered, the indexes to registrations, and similar official records of the Office. The copying from the Copyright Office records of names and addresses of copyright owners for the purpose of compiling mailing lists and other similar uses is expressly prohibited.

(c) Correspondence. (1) Official correspondence between copyright claimants or their agents and the Copyright Office, and directly relating to the registration of an application or to a recorded document, is made available for inspection by persons properly and directly concerned. Such persons who desire copies of the correspondence may obtain the same upon application to the Register of Copyrights, Library of Congress, Washington 25, D. C., and payment of the duplicating fees. The request for copies should identify the specific material desired and must contain a statement enabling the Office to determine whether the writer is properly and directly concerned.

(2) Correspondence relating either to a pending or a rejected application is considered to be of a confidential nature and is not available for inspection.

(3) The Copyright Office will return unanswered any abusive or scurrilous correspondence.

(d) Requests for copies. (1) Requests for copies of copyright deposits and Copyright Office records should be sent to the Chief, Photoduplication Service, Library of Congress, Washington 25, D. C., the accompanying fees in payment of such services being made payable to that official. When the copy is to be certified by the Copyright Office, the additional certification fee should be made payable to the Register of Copyrights and both remittances together with the transmittal letter are to be sent to the Copyright Office.

(2) Requests for copies of copyright deposits will be granted when one or more of the following conditions are fulfilled:

(i) Authorization by owner. When authorized in writing by the copyright owner or his designated agent.

(ii) Request by attorney. When required in connection with litigation, actual or prospective, in which the copyrighted work is involved; but in all such cases the attorney representing the actual or prospective plaintiff or defendant for whom the request is made shall give in writing: (a) The names of the parties and the nature of the controversy; (b) the name of the court where the action is pending, or, in the case of a prospective proceeding, a full statement of the facts of the controversy in which the copyright work is involved; and (c) satisfactory assurances that the requested copy will be used only in connection with the specified litigation.

(iii) Court order. When an order to have the copy made is issued by a court having jurisdiction of a case in which the copy is to be submitted as evidence.

§ 201.3 Catalog of Copyright Entries. The current subscription price for all parts of the complete yearly Catalog of Copyright Entries is $20.00. Each part of the Catalog is published in two semiannual numbers covering, respectively, the periods January–June and July–December. The prices given in the list below are for each semiannual number. The Catalog may be obtained, upon payment of the established price, from the Register of Copyrights, Library of Congress, Washington 25, D. C., to whom requests for copies should be addressed and to whom the remittance should be made payable.

Part 1—Books and Pamphlets Including Serials and Contributions to Periodicals, $2.50.

Part 2—Periodicals, $1.00.

Parts 3–4—Dramas and Works Prepared for Oral Delivery, $1.00.

Part 5A—Published Music, $1.50.

Part 5B—Unpublished Music, $1.50.

Part 5C—Renewal Registration—Music, $1.00.

Part 6—Maps and Atlases, $0.50.

Parts 7–11A—Works of Art, Reproductions of Works of Art, Scientific and Technical Drawings, Photographic Works, Prints and Pictorial Illustrations, $1.00.

Part 11B—Commercial Prints and Labels, $1.00.

Parts 12–13—Motion Pictures and Filmstrips, $0.50.

§ 201.4 Assignments of copyright and other papers. Assignment of copyright and other papers relative to copyrights will be recorded in the Copyright Office upon payment of the statutory fee. Examples of such papers include powers of attorney, licenses to use a copyrighted work, agreements between authors and publishers covering a particular work or works and the rights thereto, mortgages, certificates of change of corporate title, wills, and decrees of distribution. The original, signed instrument should be submitted for recordation, and is returned to the sender with a certificate of record. Where the original instrument is not available, a certified or other copy may be submitted, but it shall be accompanied by a statement that the original is not available.

§ 201.5 Amendments to completed Copyright Office registrations and other records—(a) No cancellations. No correction or cancellation of a Copyright Office registration or other record will be made (other than a registration or record provisional upon receipt of fee as provided in § 201.6) after it has been completed if the facts therein stated agree with those supplied the Office for the purpose of making such record. However, it shall be within the discretion of the Register of Copyrights to determine if any particular case justifies the placing of an annotation upon any record for the purpose of clarification, explanation, or indication that there exists elsewhere in the records, indexes or correspondence files of the Office, information which has reference to the facts as stated in such record.

(b) Correction by new registration. In exceptional cases, where an applicant desires to correct, amend or amplify a registration previously made in accordance with information furnished by a claimant or his agent, a new application indicating its amendatory purpose shall be filed, accompanied by the statutory fee and the same number of copies required for a new application. Where it is satisfactorily established that copies of the original work cannot be obtained for submission, photostat or microfilm copies of the original may be submitted.

§ 201.6 Payment and refund of Copyright Office fees—(a) In general. All fees sent to the Copyright Office should be in the form of a money order, check or bank draft payable to the Register of Copyrights. Coin or currency sent to the Office in letters or packages will be at the remitter's risk. Remittances from foreign countries must be payable and immediately negotiable in the United States for the full amount of fee required. Uncertified checks are accepted subject to collection. Where the statutory fee is submitted in the form of a check, the registration of the copyright claim or other record made by the Office is provisional until payment in money is received. In the event the fee is not paid, the registration or other record shall be expunged.

(b) Deposit accounts. Persons or firms having a considerable amount of business with the Copyright Office may, for their own convenience, prepay copyright expenses by establishing a Deposit Account.

(c) Refunds. Money paid for applications which are rejected or payments made in excess of the statutory fee will be refunded, but amounts of twenty-five cents or less will not be returned unless specifically requested and such sums may be refunded in postage stamps. All larger amounts will be refunded by check.

(d) Return of deposit copies. Copies of works deposited in the Copyright Office pursuant to law are either retained in the Copyright Office, transferred for the permanent collections or other uses of the Library of Congress, or disposed of according to law. When an application is rejected, the Copyright Office reserves the right to retain the deposited copies.

§ 201.7 Preparation of catalog card. The catalog card which may accompany a work of foreign origin, as provided in section 215 of title 17, U. S. Code, as amended, may be a catalog card supplied by a library in the country of publication. In lieu of such a card the applicant may prepare his own card, or may fill out the form supplied by the Copyright Office. The catalog card should contain the full name of the author of the original work, title and description from the title page, paging, copyright claimant, the city and year of publication, and the names of all other authors, editors, etc., whom the applicant considers of sufficient importance to record. When available, the year of birth of each author named should be given. If the form furnished by the Office is not used, the size of the card should preferably be 5 inches wide by 3 inches deep or 12.5 centimeters wide by 7.5 centimeters deep. The Register of Copyrights reserves the right to accept catalog cards not complying with the above requirements.

§ 201.8 Import statements. The Copyright Office will issue import statements for books and periodicals first published abroad in the English language which are to be imported under the provisions of section 16 of title 17, U. S. Code, as amended. A statement for the importation of 1,500 copies will be issued to the person named in the application for ad interim copyright registration. The holder of this statement shall present it to the customs officer in charge at the port of entry. Upon receipt of a statement from the customs officer, showing importation of less than 1,500 copies, a new statement will be issued for the balance.

AUTHORITY: §§ 202.1 to 202.18 issued under sec. 207, 61 Stat. 666; 17 U. S. C. 207.

§ 202.1 Material not subject to copyright. The following are examples of works not subject to copyright and applications for registration of such works cannot be entertained:

(a) Words and short phrases such as names, titles, and slogans; familiar symbols or designs; mere variations of typographic ornamentation, lettering or coloring; mere listing of ingredients or contents;

(b) Ideas, plans, methods, systems, or devices, as distinguished from the particular manner in which they are expressed or described in a writing;

(c) Works designed for recording information which do not in themselves convey information, such as, time cards, graph paper, account books, diaries, bank checks, score cards, address books, report forms, order forms and the like;

(d) Works consisting entirely of information that is common property containing no original authorship, such as, for example: standard calendars, height and weight charts, tape measures and rulers, schedules of sporting events, and lists or tables taken from public documents or other common sources.

§ 202.2 Copyright notice—(a) General. (1) With respect to a published work, copyright is secured, or the right to secure it is lost, at the date of publication, i. e., the date on which copies are first placed on sale, sold, or publicly distributed, depending upon the adequacy of the notice of copyright on the work at that time.

(2) If publication occurs by distribution of copies or in some other manner, without the statutory notice or with an inadequate notice, the right to secure copyright is lost. In such cases, copyright cannot be secured by adding the notice to copies distributed at a later date.

(b) Defects in notice. Where the copyright notice does not meet the requirements of the law, the Copyright Office will reject an application for copyright registration. Common defects in the notice include, among others, the following:

(1) The notice lacks one or more of the necessary elements (i. e., the word "Copyright", the abbreviation "Copr.", or the symbol ©; the name of the copyright proprietor; or, when required, the year date of publication);

(2) The elements of the notice are dispersed;

(3) The notice is not in one of the positions prescribed by law;

(4) The notice is in a foreign language;

(5) The name in the notice is that of someone who had no authority to secure copyright in his name;

(6) Copyright was first secured by registration of a work in unpublished form, and copies of the same work as later published without change in substance bear a copyright notice containing a year date subsequent to the year date of the unpublished registration;

(7) A book published abroad, for which ad interim copyright has been obtained, is subsequently published in the United States without change in substance and contains a year date in the copyright notice subsequent to the year of first publication abroad;

(8) The year date in the copyright notice is subsequent to the date of actual publication (i. e., the work contains a post-dated notice);

(9) A notice is permanently covered so that it cannot be seen without tearing the work apart;

(10) A notice is illegible or so small that it cannot be read without the aid of a magnifying glass: Provided, however, That where the work itself requires magnification for its ordinary use (e. g., a microfilm, microcard or motion picture) a notice which will be readable when so magnified, will not constitute a reason for rejection of the claim;

(11) A notice is on a detachable tag and will eventually be detached and discarded when the work is put in use;

(12) A notice is on the wrapper or container which is not a part of the work and which will eventually be removed and discarded when the work is put in use;

(13) The notice is restricted or limited exclusively to an uncopyrightable element, either by virtue of its position on the work, by the use of asterisks, or by other means.

§ 202.3 Application forms[1]—(a) In general. Section 5 of title 17 of the U. S. Code provides thirteen classes (Class A through Class M) of works in which copyright may be claimed. Examples of certain works falling within these classes are given in §§ 202.4 to 202.15 inclusive, for the purpose of assisting persons, who desire to obtain registration of a claim to copyright, to select the correct application form.

(b) Claims of copyright. (1) All works deposited for registration shall be accompanied by a "claim of copyright" in the form of a properly executed application, together with the statutory registration fee.

(2) Where these separate elements are not received simultaneously, the Copyright Office holds the submitted elements for a reasonable time and, in default of the receipt of the missing element or elements after a request made therefor, the submitted item or items may be returned to the sender. Such action does not constitute a waiver of the right of the Register of Copyrights pursuant to section 14, title 17, U. S. Code, to demand compliance with the deposit provisions of that title.

(3) Applications for copyright registration covering published works should reflect the facts existing at the time of first publication, and should not include information concerning changes that have occurred between the time of publication and registration. The name given as copyright claimant in the application should agree with the name appearing in the copyright notice.

(4) Applications should be submitted by the copyright claimant, or by someone acting under his authority.

(c) Forms. The Copyright Office supplies without charge the following forms for use when applying for the registration of a claim to copyright in a work and for the filing of a notice of use of musical compositions on mechanical instruments.

Form A—Published book manufactured in the United States of America (Class A).

Form A-B Ad Interim—Book or periodical in the English language manufactured and first published outside the United States of America (Classes A–B).

Form A–B Foreign—Book or periodical manufactured and first published outside the United States of America, except works subject to the ad interim provisions of the copyright law of the United States of America (Classes A–B).

Form B—Periodical manufactured in the United States of America (Class B).

Form BB—Contribution to a periodical manufactured in the United States of America (Class B).

Form C—Lecture or similar production prepared for oral delivery (Class C).

Form D—Dramatic or dramatico-musical composition (Class D).

Form E—Musical composition the author of which is a citizen or domiciliary of the United States of America or which was first published in the United States of America (Class E).

Form E Foreign—Musical composition the author of which is not a citizen or domiciliary of the United States of America and which was not first published in the United States of America (Class E).

Form F—Map (Class F).

Form G—Work of art or a model or design for a work of art (Class G).

Form H—Reproduction of a work of art (Class H).

Form I—Drawing or plastic work of a scientific or technical character (Class I).

Form J—Photograph (Class J).

Form K—Print or pictorial illustration (Class K).

Form KK—Print or label used for article of merchandise (Class K).

Form L–M—Motion picture (Classes L–M).

Form R—Renewal of a copyright.

Form U—Notice of use of music on mechanical instruments.

§ 202.4 Books (Class A)—(a) Subject matter and forms. This class includes such published works as fiction and nonfiction, poems, compilations, composite works, directories, catalogs, annual publications, information in tabular form, and similar text matter, with or without illustrations, as books, either bound or in loose-leaf form, pamphlets, leaflets, cards, single pages or the like. Applications for registration of claims to copyright in published books manufactured in the United States of America are made on Form A; in books manufactured and first published outside of the United States of America, except those subject to the ad interim provisions of the copyright law, on Form A–B Foreign; and in books in the English language manufactured and first published outside the United States of America, and subject to the ad interim provisions of the copyright law, on Form A–B Ad Interim.

(b) Ad interim registrations. (1) An American edition of an English-language book or periodical identical in substance to that first published abroad will not be registered unless an ad interim registration is first made.

(2) When a book or periodical has been registered under the ad interim provisions, an American edition of the same work, to be registrable, must be manufactured and published in the United States within five years after the date of first publication abroad.

(3) Since by law ad interim copyright expires at the end of the ad interim term unless an American edition is published during that term, a renewal application covering a work registered only under the ad interim provisions will be rejected. Where both an ad interim and an American edition have been registered, the registrability of the renewal application is governed by the date of the first publication abroad.

§ 202.5 Periodicals (Class B). This class includes such works as newspapers, magazines, reviews, bulletins, and serial publications, published at intervals of less than a year. Applications for registration of claims to copyright in published periodicals manufactured in the [1] Filed as part of the original document.

United States of America are made on Form B; in periodicals, or in contributions thereto, manufactured and first published outside the United States of America, except those subject to the ad interim provision of the copyright law, on Form A–B Foreign; and in periodicals, or in contributions thereto, in the English language manufactured and first published outside of the United States of America, and subject to the ad interim provisions of the copyright law, on Form A–B Ad Interim. Applications for registration of claims to copyright in contributions to periodicals manufactured in the United States of America are made on Form BB. Application for registration of claims to copyright in contributions to periodicals, which contributions are prints published in connection with the sale or advertisement of an article or articles of merchandise, are made on Form KK.

§ 202.7 Dramatic and dramatico-musical compositions (Class D). This class includes published or unpublished works dramatic in character such as the acting version of plays for the stage, motion pictures, radio, television and the like, operas, operettas, musical comedies and similar productions, and pantomimes. Choreographic works of a dramatic character, whether the story or theme be expressed by music and action combined or by actions alone, are subject to registration in Class D. However, descriptions of dance steps and other physical gestures, including ballroom and social dances or choreographic works which do not tell a story, develop a character or emotion, or otherwise convey a dramatic concept or idea, are not subject to registration in Class D.

§ 202.8 Musical compositions (Class E). (a) This class includes published or unpublished musical compositions in the form of visible notation (other than dramatico-musical compositions), with or without words, as well as new versions of musical compositions, such as adaptations or arrangements, and editing when such editing is the writing of an author. The words of a song, when unaccompanied by music, are not registrable in Class E.

(b) A phonograph record or other sound recording is not considered a "copy" of the compositions recorded on it, and is not acceptable for copyright registration. Likewise, the Copyright Office does not register claims to exclusive rights in mechanical recordings themselves, or in the performances they reproduce.

§ 202.9 Maps (Class F). This class includes all published cartographic representations of area, such as terrestrial maps and atlases, marine charts, celestial maps and such three-dimensional works as globes and relief models.

§ 202.10 Works of art (Class G). (a) General: This class includes published or unpublished works of artistic craftsmanship, insofar as their form but not their mechanical or utilitarian aspects are concerned, such as artistic jewelry, enamels, glassware, and tapestries, as well as works belonging to the fine arts, such as paintings, drawings and sculpture.

(b) In order to be acceptable as a work of art, the work must embody some creative authorship in its delineation or form. The registrability of a work of art is not affected by the intention of the author as to the use of the work, the number of copies reproduced, or the fact that it appears on a textile material or textile product. The potential availability of protection under the design patent law will not affect the registrability of a work of art, but a copyright claim in a patented design or in the drawings or photographs in a patent application will not be registered after the patent has been issued.

(c) When the shape of an article is dictated by, or is necessarily responsive to, the requirements of its utilitarian function, its shape, though unique and attractive, cannot qualify it as a work of art. If the sole intrinsic function of an article is its utility, the fact that it is unique and attractively shaped will not qualify it as a work of art. However, where the object is clearly a work of art in itself, the fact it is also a useful article will not preclude its registration.

§ 202.11 Reproductions of works of art (Class H). This class includes published reproductions of existing works of art in the same or a different medium, such as a lithograph, photoengraving, etching or drawing of a painting, sculpture or other work of art.

§ 202.12 Drawings or plastic works of a scientific or technical character (Class I). (a) This class includes published or unpublished two-dimensional and three-dimensional works which have been designed for a scientific or technical use and which contain copyrightable graphic, pictorial, or sculptural material. Works registrable in Class I include diagrams or models illustrating scientific or technical works or formulating scientific or technical information in linear or plastic form, such as, for example: a mechanical drawing, an astronomical chart, an architect's blueprint, an anatomical model, or an engineering diagram.

(b) A work is not eligible for registration as a "plastic" work in Class I merely because it is formed from one of the commonly known synthetic chemical derivatives such as styrenes, vinyl compounds, or acrylic resins. The term "plastic work" as used in this context refers to a three-dimensional work giving the effect of that which is molded or sculptured. Examples of such works include statues of animals or plants used for scientific or educational purposes, and engineers' scale models.

§ 202.13 Photographs (Class J). This class includes published or unpublished photographic prints and filmstrips, slide films and individual slides. Photoengravings and other photomechanical reproductions of photographs are registered in Class K on Form K.

§ 202.14 Prints, pictorial illustrations and commercial prints or labels (Class K). (a) This class includes prints or pictorial illustrations, greeting cards, picture postcards and similar prints, produced by means of lithography, photoengraving or other methods of reproduction. These works when published are registered on Form K.

(b) A print or label, not a trademark, containing copyrightable pictorial matter, text, or both, published in connection with the sale or advertisement of an article or articles of merchandise is also registered in this class on Form KK. In the case of a print which is published in a periodical, use Form KK if the print is used in connection with the sale or advertisement of an article of merchandise, Form BB if it is not. Multipage works are more appropriately classified in Class A than in Class K.

(c) A claim to copyright cannot be registered in a print or label consisting solely of trademark subject matter and lacking copyrightable matter. While the Copyright Office will not investigate whether the matter has been or can be registered at the Patent Office, it will register a properly filed copyright claim in a print or label that contains the requisite qualifications for copyright even though there is a trademark on it. However, registration of a claim to copyright does not give the claimant rights available by trademark registration at the Patent Office.

§ 202.15 Motion pictures (classes L–M). A single application Form L–M is available for registration of works in Classes L (Motion Picture Photoplays) and M (Motion Pictures other than Photoplays).

(a) Photoplays (Class L). This class includes published or unpublished motion pictures that are dramatic in character and tell a connected story, such as feature films, filmed television plays, short subjects and animated cartoons having a plot.

(b) Other than photoplays (Class M). This class includes published or unpublished non-dramatic films such as newsreels, travelogs, training or promotional films, nature studies, and filmed television programs having no plot.

§ 202.16 Deposit of photographs or other identifying reproductions in lieu of copies—(a) Availability of option. In the case of a published work which is reproduced in copies for sale, classified in Classes (g), (h), (i), and (k) of section 5, title 17, U. S. Code, copies of which are considered by the Register of Copyrights to be impracticable of deposit because of their size, weight, fragility, or monetary value, photographs or other identifying reproductions may be deposited in lieu of copies as provided by section 13, title 17, U. S. Code. The deposit of such photographs or reproductions shall be made in accordance with the following criteria:

(1) The number of sets of photographs or reproductions to be submitted shall be the same as the number of copies provided by said section 13. Each set shall consist of as many photographs or reproductions in black and white, or in color, as are necessary to identify the work.

(2) All photographs or reproductions of any one work shall be of equal size, not exceeding 9 x 12 inches, but preferably 8 x 10 inches, and shall present an image of the work not smaller than 4 inches in its greatest dimension. The exact measurement of at least one dimension of the work shall be indicated on at least one photograph of reproduction.

(3) The copyright notice and its position on the work must be clearly shown on at least one photograph or reproduction. If, because of the size or location of the copyright notice, a photographic reproduction cannot be prepared, a drawing may be submitted of the same size as the photographs or reproductions, showing the exact appearance of the notice, its dimensions, and its specific position on the work.

(4) The title of the work shall appear on the front or back of each photograph or reproduction.

(5) A copy shall be considered to be impracticable of deposit if, because of its size, weight, fragility or monetary value, it is unsuited to the filing procedures of the Copyright Office.

(b) Exceptions. The provisions of this section, permitting the deposit of photographs in lieu of copies in certain cases, shall not apply to fine prints and two-dimensional art reproductions. The Register of Copyrights reserves the right in any other particular case to require as a condition precedent to registration, the deposit of copies of the work as published.

§ 202.17 Renewals. (a) Claims to renewal copyright must be registered within the last (28th) year of the original copyright term. The original term for a published work is computed from the date of first publication; the term for a work originally registered in unpublished form is computed from the date of registration in the Copyright Office. Unless the required application and fee are received in the Copyright Office during the prescribed period before the first term of copyright expires, copyright protection is lost permanently and the work enters the public domain. The Copyright Office has no discretion to extend the renewal time limits.

(b) Renewal claims may be registered only in the names of persons falling within one of the classes of renewal claimants specified in the copyright law. If the work was a new version of a previous work, renewal may be claimed only in the new matter.

§ 202.18 Notice of use. Notices of use of copyrighted musical compositions on mechanical instruments will be recorded upon payment of the prescribed fees, pursuant to section 1 (e) of title 17, U. S. Code. Notices of intention to use will be received, pursuant to section 101 (e) of title 17, U. S. Code.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

Chapter I—Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior

Subchapter F—Alaska Commercial Fisheries

PART 108—KODIAK AREA

CURTAILMENT OF FISHING

Basis and purpose. On the basis of light runs of pink salmon in the late streams of the Kodiak area, it has been determined that fishing should be curtailed.

Therefore, effective immediately upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, §§ 108.3, 108.3a, 108.3b, 108.3c, 108.4, 108.5, and 108.5a are amended in text by deleting "August 13" and substituting in lieu thereof "August 11."

Since immediate action is necessary, notice and public procedure on this amendment are impracticable (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.).

FORMS FOR REGISTRATION STATEMENTS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission has under consideration a proposed revision of Form S–3 (§ 239.13) under the Securities Act of 1933. This form is used for registration of capital stock of any mining corporation which is engaged or intends to engage primarily in the exploration, development, or exploitation of mineral deposits, other than oil or gas, where the securities being registered are to be sold to the public for cash. The form is prescribed only for such companies which have no active subsidiaries or record of succession and, if in the production stage, have had only limited gross receipts from the sale of ore.

The purpose of the proposed revision is to bring the form up to date and merge into it Form S–11 (§ 239.18) which is also prescribed for mining companies in the exploratory or development stage. A copy of the proposed revision is attached hereto.[1]

All interested persons are invited to submit views and comments on the proposed form, in writing, to the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C., on or before September 15, 1956. Except where it is requested that such communications not be disclosed, they will be considered available for public inspection.

By the Commission.

FORMS FOR REGISTRATION STATEMENTS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission has under consideration a proposed revision of Form S–4 (§ 239.14) under the Securities Act of 1933. This form is used for registration under that act of securities of closed-end management investment companies which are registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 on Form N-8B–1 (§ 274.11).

A registration statement on this form consists largely of certain of the information and documents which would be required in a registration statement under the Investment Company Act of 1940, if such a statement were currently being filed. Registrants on this form are thus permitted to base their registration statements under the 1933 Act in large part upon the information and documents filed with the Commission in the original registration statement under the 1940 Act and subsequent reports filed thereunder. This is supplemented by information and documents required for registration under the 1933 Act which have not been previously furnished under the 1940 Act.

Form S–4 is being revised at this time to bring it into line with the revised Form N-8B–1. A copy of the proposed revision is attached hereto.[1]

All interested persons are invited to submit their views and comments on the proposed form, in writing, to the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C., on or before August 31, 1956. Except where it is requested that such communications not be disclosed, they will be considered available for public inspection.

FORMULAS FOR DENATURED ALCOHOL

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULEMAKING

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate. Prior to final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing, in duplicate, to the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, Internal Revenue Service, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in section 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 917; 26 U. S. C. 7805).

Subpart F—Uses of Specially Denatured Alcohol

212.95 Listing of products and processes using specially denatured alcohol and formulas authorized therefor.

Subpart G—Denaturants Authorized for Denatured Alcohol

212.100 Listing of denaturants authorized in denatured alcohol.

Subpart H—Weights of Specially Denatured Alcohol

212.105 Weights of specially denatured alcohol.

AUTHORITY: §§ 212.1 to 212.105 issued under sec. 7805, 68A Stat. 917; 26 U. S. C. 7805. Interpret or apply sec. 5331, 68A Stat. 661; 26 U. S. C. 5331.

SUBPART A—SCOPE OF REGULATIONS

§ 212.1 Formulas for denatured alcohol. The regulations in this part, "Formulas for Denatured Alcohol" relate to formulas used for the denaturation of alcohol. The regulations give formulas for the production of specially and completely denatured alcohol, the specifications for denaturants, a listing of processes and products in which specially denatured alcohol is used and specific formulas authorized for each use, a listing of denaturants and the formulas in which used, and a table of weights of the formulas of specially denatured alcohol. The procedural and substantive requirements relative to the issuance of permits and to the production, disposition, and use of denatured alcohol are prescribed in Part 182 of this chapter.

§ 212.2 Forms prescribed. The Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, is authorized to prescribe all forms required by this part, including bonds, applications, notices, reports, returns, and records. Information called for shall be furnished in accordance with the instructions on the forms or issued in respect thereto.

§ 212.3 Stocks of discontinued formulas. Denaturers or specially denatured alcohol dealers or users having on hand stocks of formulas of specially denatured alcohol no longer authorized by this part may (a) continue to supply or use such stocks in accordance with permits until the stocks are exhausted; (b) otherwise dispose of such stocks in a manner satisfactory to the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division pursuant to an approved application; or (c) on approval by the assistant regional commissioner of an application to do so, destroy such stocks under such supervision as the assistant regional commissioner may prescribe.

SUBPART B—DEFINITIONS

§ 212.5 Meaning of terms. As used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires, terms shall have the meanings ascribed in this section.

Alcohol. "Alcohol" means that substance known as ethyl alcohol, ethanol, hydrated oxide of ethyl, or spirits of wine, from whatever source or process produced, having a proof of 160 degrees or more, but does not include the substances commonly known as whisky, brandy, rum, gin, or other spirits, produced at registered distilleries or fruit distilleries under Parts 220 and 221 of this chapter.

Assistant regional commissioner. "Assistant regional commissioner" means the assistant regional commissioner (alcohol and tobacco tax), who is responsible to, and functions under the direction and supervision of, the regional commissioner.

Commissioner. "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Completely denatured alcohol. "Completely denatured alcohol" means denatured alcohol in which the denaturants are of such a nature that such denatured alcohol may be sold and used within certain limitations without permit and bond.

Denaturant. "Denaturant" means a material which, when added to alcohol in accordance with formulas in this part, destroys its character as a beverage and renders it unfit for liquid medicinal purposes.

Denatured alcohol. "Denatured alcohol" means alcohol to which has been added denaturing material which destroys its character as a beverage and renders it unfit for liquid medicinal purposes.

Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division. "Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division" means the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, Internal Revenue Service, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

Essential oil. "Essential oil" means one of the volatile odoriferous oils found in plants and imparting to the plants odor, and often other characteristic properties, and includes imitation essential oils, aromatic substances, and synthetic oils which possess the denaturing characteristics of essential oils.

Gallon. "Gallon" or "wine gallon" means a United States gallon of liquid measure equivalent to the volume of 231 cubic inches.

Includes and including. The terms "includes" and "including" when used in this part shall not be deemed to exclude other things otherwise within the meaning.

I. R. C. "I. R. C." means the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

Manufacturer or user. "Manufacturer" or "user" means a person who holds a permit to use specially denatured alcohol in any process or in the manufacturing of any substance, preparation, or product, including the product obtained by further manufacture or by combination with other materials; who recovers completely or specially denatured alcohol; or who recovers articles containing denatured alcohol.

Proof. "Proof" means the ethyl alcohol content of a liquid at 60° Fahrenheit, stated as twice the percent of ethyl alcohol by volume.

Proprietary solvent. "Proprietary solvent" means a solvent containing more than 25 percent of alcohol by volume which is manufactured with specially denatured alcohol in accordance with a formula approved by the Director and is generally adopted for specific uses.

Regional commissioner. "Regional commissioner" means the regional commissioner of internal revenue in each of the internal revenue regions.

Rubbing alcohol compound. "Rubbing alcohol compound" means any product manufactured with specially denatured alcohol which is represented to be a "rubbing alcohol compound".

Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Treasury.

Specially denatured alcohol. "Specially denatured alcohol" means denatured alcohol in which the denaturant or denaturants are of such a nature that such denatured alcohol may be used in a greater number of specified arts and industries than completely denatured alcohol, but, except as otherwise provided in Part 182 of this chapter, may be sold, possessed, and used only pursuant to permit and bond.

SUBPART C—COMPLETELY DENATURED ALCOHOL FORMULAS

§ 212.10 General. Completely denatured alcohol will be denatured in accordance with formulas prescribed in this subpart.

§ 212.11 Formula No. 18. To every 100 gallons of ethyl alcohol of not less than 160° proof add:

2.50 gallons of methyl isobutyl ketone;
0.125 gallon of pyronate or a compound similar thereto;
0.50 gallon of acetaldol (b-hydroxybutyraldehyde); and
1.00 gallon kerosene.

§ 212.12 Formula No. 19. To every 100 gallons of ethyl alcohol of not less than 160° proof add:

4.0 gallons of methyl isobutyl ketone; and
1.0 gallon of kerosene.

SUBPART D—SPECIALLY DENATURED ALCOHOL FORMULAS AND AUTHORIZED USES

§ 212.15 General—(a) Formulas. Specially denatured alcohol will be denatured in accordance with formulas prescribed in this subpart. Alcohol of 190, 192, or 200 degrees of proof shall be used in the manufacture of all formulas of specially denatured alcohol, unless otherwise authorized by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division.

(b) Uses. Users and manufacturers holding approved Forms 1479–A covering manufacture of products or use in processes no longer authorized for a particular formula may continue such use. The Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, may authorize, in his discretion, the use of any formula of specially denatured alcohol for uses not specifically authorized in this part. The code number before each item under "authorized uses" shall be used in reporting the use of specially denatured alcohol.

§ 212.16 Formula No. 1—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Five gallons wood alcohol.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

011. Cellulose coatings.
012. Synthetic resin coatings.
013. Shellac coatings.
014. Other natural resin coatings.
016. Other coatings.
021. Cellulose plastics.
022. Non-cellulose plastics.
031. Photographic film and emulsions.
032. Transparent sheeting.
033. Explosives.
034. Cellulose intermediates and industrial collodions.
035. Soldering flux.
036. Adhesives and binders.
041. Proprietary solvents (standard formulations).
042. Other solvents and thinners.
043. Special solvents (restricted sale).
051. Polishes.
052. Inks (including meat branding inks).
053. Stains (wood, etc.).
141. Shampoos.
142. Soap and bath preparations.
311. Cellulose compounds (dehydration).
312. Sodium hydrosulphite (dehydration).
315. Other dehydration products.
320. Petroleum products.
331. Processing pectin.
332. Processing other food products.
341. Processing crude drugs.
342. Processing glandular products, vitamins, hormones and yeasts.
343. Processing antibiotics and vaccines.
344. Processing medicinal chemicals including alkaloids.
345. Processing blood and blood products.
349. Miscellaneous, drug processing (including manufacture of pills).
351. Processing dyes and intermediates.
352. Processing perfume materials and fixatives.
353. Processing photographic chemicals.
358. Processing other chemicals.
359. Processing miscellaneous products.
410. Disinfectants, insecticides, fungicides and other biocides.
420. Embalming fluids and related products.
430. Sterilizing and preserving solutions.
440. Industrial detergents and soaps.
450. Cleaning solutions (including household detergents).
481. Photo-engraving and rotogravure dyes and solutions.
482. Other dye solutions.
485. Miscellaneous solutions (including duplicating fluids).

(2) As a raw material:

521. Ethyl acetate.
522. Ethyl chloride.
523. Other ethyl esters.
530. Ethylamines (for rubber processing).
540. Dyes and intermediates (ethylamines).
551. Acetaldehyde.
552. Other aldehydes.
561. Ethyl ether.
562. Other ethers.
571. Ethylene dibromide.
572. Ethylene gas.
573. Xanthates.
574. Fulminate of mercury and other detonators.
575. Drugs and medicinal chemicals.
579. Other chemicals.

(3) As a fuel:

611. Automobile and supplementary fuels.
612. Airplane and supplementary fuels.
613. Rocket and jet fuels.
620. Proprietary heating fuels.
630. Other fuel uses.

(4) As a fluid:

710. Scientific instruments.
720. Brake fluids.
730. Cutting oil.
740. Refrigerating uses.
750. Other fluid uses.
760. Proprietary anti-freeze.

(5) Miscellaneous uses:

900. Specialized uses (unclassified).

§ 212.17 Formula No. 2–B—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

One-half gallon benzene or one-half gallon rubber hydrocarbon solvent.

(b) Authorized uses—(1) As a solvent:

021. Cellulose plastics.
022. Non-cellulose plastics.
031. Photographic film and emulsions.
032. Transparent sheeting.
033. Explosives.
311. Cellulose compounds (dehydration).
312. Sodium hydrosulfite (dehydration).
315. Other dehydration products.
320. Petroleum products.
331. Processing pectin.
332. Processing other food products.
341. Processing crude drugs.
342. Processing glandular products, vitamins, hormones and yeasts.
343. Processing antibiotics and vaccines.
344. Processing medicinal chemicals, including alkaloids.
349. Miscellaneous drug processing (including manufacture of pills).
351. Processing dyes and intermediates.
352. Processing perfume materials and fixatives.
353. Processing photographic chemicals.
358. Processing other chemicals.
359. Processing miscellaneous products.

(2) As a raw material:

521. Ethyl acetate.
522. Ethyl chloride.
523. Other ethyl esters.
524. Sodium ethylate, anhydrous (for own use only).
530. Ethylamines (for rubber processing).
540. Dyes and intermediates (ethylamines).
551. Acetaldehyde.
552. Other aldehydes.
561. Ethyl ether.
562. Other ethers.
571. Ethylene dibromide.
572. Ethylene gas.
573. Xanthates.
575. Drugs and medicinal chemicals.
579. Other chemicals.

(c) Conditions governing use. This formula must be used in a closed and continuous system unless it is shown that it is not practical to do so.

§ 212.18 Formula No. 2–C—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Thirty-three pounds, or more, of metallic sodium and either one-half gallon benzene or one-half gallon rubber hydrocarbon solvent.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

344. Processing medicinal chemicals (including alkaloids).
358. Processing other chemicals.
359. Processing miscellaneous products.

(2) As a raw material:

523. Miscellaneous ethyl esters.
524. Sodium ethylate, anhydrous (for own use only).
530. Ethylamines (for rubber processing).
540. Dyes and intermediates (ethylamines).
575. Drugs and medicinal chemicals.
579. Other chemicals.

(c) Conditions governing use. This formula must be used in a closed and continuous system unless it is shown that it is not practical to do so.

§ 212.19 Formula No. 3–A—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Five gallons methyl alcohol.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

021. Cellulose plastics.
022. Non-cellulose plastics.
031. Photographic film and emulsions.
032. Transparent sheeting.
033. Explosives.
034. Cellulose intermediates and industrial collodions.
035. Soldering flux.
036. Adhesives and binders.
051. Polishes.
052. Inks (including meat branding inks).
053. Stains (wood, etc.).
141. Shampoos.
142. Soaps and bath preparations.
311. Cellulose compounds (dehydration).
312. Sodium hydrosulfite (dehydration).
315. Other dehydration products.
320. Petroleum products.
331. Processing pectin.
332. Processing other food products.
341. Processing crude drugs.
342. Processing glandular products, vitamins, hormones and yeasts.
343. Processing antibiotics and vaccines.
344. Processing medicinal chemicals (including alkaloids).
345. Processing blood and blood products.
349. Miscellaneous (including manufacture of pills).
351. Processing dyes and intermediates.
352. Processing perfume materials and fixatives.
353. Processing photographic chemicals.
358. Processing other chemicals.
359. Processing miscellaneous products.
420. Embalming fluids and related products.
430. Sterilizing and preserving solutions.
440. Industrial detergents and soaps.
450. Cleaning solutions (including household detergents).
470. Theater sprays, incense and room deodorants.
481. Photoengraving and rotogravure dyes and solutions.
482. Other dye solutions.
485. Miscellaneous solutions (including duplicating fluids).

(2) As a raw material:

530. Ethylamines (for rubber processing).
540. Dyes and intermediates (ethylamines).
575. Drugs and medicinal chemicals.
579. Other chemicals.

(3) As a fuel:

611. Automobile and supplementary fuels.
612. Airplane and supplementary fuels.
613. Rocket and jet fuels.
620. Proprietary heating fuels.
630. Other fuel uses.

(4) As a fluid:

710. Scientific instruments.
720. Brake fluids.
730. Cutting oils.
740. Refrigerating uses.
750. Other fluid uses.

(5) Miscellaneous uses:

810. Laboratory, reagent and pilot plant uses.
900. Specialized uses (unclassified).

§ 212.20 Formula No. 3–B—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

One gallon of pine tar N. F.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

111. Hair and scalp preparations.
141. Shampoos.
142. Soap and bath preparations.
410. Disinfectants, insecticides, fungicides and other biocides.

§ 212.21 Formula No. 4—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

One gallon of the following solution: Five gallons of an aqueous solution containing 40 percent nicotine; and 3.6 av. ounces of methylene blue, N. F.; water sufficient to make 100 gallons.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

460. Tobacco sprays and flavors.

§ 212.22 Formula No. 6–B—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

One-half gallon pyridine bases.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a raw material:

523. Miscellaneous ethyl esters.
574. Fulminate of mercury and other detonators.
575. Drugs and medicinal chemicals.
579. Other chemicals.

§ 212.23 Formula No. 12–A—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Five gallons of benzene.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

021. Cellulose plastics.
022. Non-cellulose plastics.
342. Processing glandular products, vitamins, hormones and yeasts.
343. Processing antibiotics and vaccines.
344. Processing medicinal chemicals (including alkaloids).
345. Processing blood and blood products.
351. Processing dyes and intermediates.
352. Processing perfume materials and fixatives.
358. Processing other chemicals.
359. Processing miscellaneous products.
430. Sterilizing and preserving solutions.

(2) As a raw material:

523. Miscellaneous ethyl esters.
530. Ethylamines (for rubber processing).
540. Dyes and intermediates (ethylamines).
575. Drugs and medicinal chemicals.
579. Other chemicals.

§ 212.24 Formula No. 13–A—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Ten gallons of ethyl ether.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

015. Candy glazes.
021. Cellulose plastics.
022. Non-cellulose plastics.
031. Photographic film and emulsions.
032. Transparent sheeting.
034. Cellulose intermediates and industrial collodions.
052. Inks (including meat branding inks).
241. Collodion (U. S. P. or N. F.).
331. Processing pectin.
332. Processing other food products.
342. Processing glandular products, vitamins, hormones and yeasts.

343. Processing antibiotics and vaccines.
344. Processing medicinal chemicals (including alkaloids).
345. Processing blood and blood products.
349. Miscellaneous drug processing (including manufacture of pills).
352. Processing perfume materials and fixatives.
353. Processing photographic chemicals.
358. Processing other chemicals.
359. Processing miscellaneous products.
430. Sterilizing and preserving solutions.
481. Photoengraving and rotogravure solutions and dyes.

(2) As a raw material:

523. Miscellaneous ethyl esters.
561. Ethyl ether.
562. Other ethers.
575. Drugs and medicinal chemicals.
579. Other chemicals.

§ 212.25 Formula No. 17—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Five-hundredths (0.05) gallon (6.4 fluid ounces) of bone oil (Dipple's oil).

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

344. Processing medicinal chemicals (including alkaloids).
358. Processing other chemicals.
359. Processing miscellaneous products.

(2) As a raw material:

575. Drugs and medicinal chemicals.
579. Other chemicals.

§ 212.26 Formula No. 18—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

One hundred gallons of vinegar containing not less than 9 percent of acetic acid.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a raw material:

511. Vinegar.

§ 212.27 Formula No. 19—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

One hundred gallons of ethyl ether.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

031. Photographic film and emulsions.
034. Cellulose intermediates and industrial collodions.
241. Collodion (U. S. P.).

§ 212.28 Formula No. 20—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Five gallons of chloroform.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a raw material:

579. Miscellaneous chemicals (chloroform).

§ 212.29 Formula No. 22—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Ten gallons of formaldehyde solution (U. S. P.)

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

420. Embalming fluids and related products.
430. Sterilizing and preserving solutions.
470. Theater sprays, incense and room deodorants.

§ 212.30 Formula No. 23–A—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Ten gallons of acetone, N. F.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

011. Cellulose coatings.
012. Synthetic resin coatings.
013. Shellac coatings.
014. Other natural resin coatings.
015. Candy glazes.
016. Other coatings.
032. Transparent sheeting.
034. Cellulose intermediates and industrial collodions.
035. Soldering flux.
036. Adhesives and binders.
042. Solvents and thinners (other than proprietary solvents).
052. Inks (including meat branding inks).
053. Stains (wood, etc.).
111. Hair and scalp preparations.
112. Bay rum.
113. Lotions and creams (hand, face and body).
114. Body deodorants and deodorant creams.
141. Shampoos.
142. Soaps and bath preparations.
210. External pharmaceuticals (not U. S. P. or N. F.).
249. Miscellaneous external pharmaceuticals (U. S. P. or N. F.).
331. Processing pectin.
332. Processing other food products.
341. Processing crude drugs.
342. Processing glandular products, vitamins, hormones and yeasts.
343. Processing antibiotics and vaccines.
344. Processing medicinal chemicals (including alkaloids).
345. Processing blood and blood products.
349. Miscellaneous drug processing (including manufacture of pills).
358. Processing other chemicals.
359. Processing miscellaneous products.
410. Disinfectants, insecticides, fungicides and other biocides.
420. Embalming fluids and related products.
430. Sterilizing and preserving solutions.
440. Industrial detergents and soaps.
450. Cleaning solutions (including household detergents).
482. Miscellaneous dye solutions.
485. Miscellaneous solutions.

(2) As a fluid:

740. Refrigerating uses.
750. Miscellaneous fluid uses.

§ 212.31 Formula No. 23–F—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Three pounds of salicylic acid, U. S. P., 1 pound resorcin, U. S. P.; and 1 gallon bergamot oil, N. F., or bay oil, N. F.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

111. Hair and scalp preparations.
210. External pharmaceuticals (not U. S. P. or N. F.).

§ 212.32 Formula No. 23–H—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Eight gallons of acetone, N. F. and 1.5 gallons of methyl isobutyl ketone.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

111. Hair and scalp preparations.
210. External pharmaceuticals (not U. S. P. or N. F.).
220. Rubbing alcohol compounds.
410. Disinfectants, insecticides, fungicides and other biocides.
450. Cleaning solutions (including household detergents).

(c) Standard Formula for rubbing alcohol compound.

S. D. A. No. 23-H	103.3 fl. oz.
Sucrose octa-acetate	0.5 av. oz.
Water q. s	1 gal.

All rubbing alcohol compounds or preparations coming under the general classification of rubbing alcohols must be manufactured with specially denatured alcohol Formula No. 23–H according to the above formula except that manufacturers may also add to the formula other odorous or medicinal ingredients provided they are shown in the formula submitted for approval and that the finished product contains 70 percent absolute alcohol by volume.

§ 212.33 Formula No. 25—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Twenty pounds of iodine, U. S. P. and 15 pounds of either potassium or sodium iodide U. S. P.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

230. Tinctures of iodine.
249. Miscellaneous external pharmaceuticals (U. S. P. or N. F.).

(c) Formula for Strong Iodine Tincture N. F. (using S. D. A. Formula No. 25).

Iodine U. S. P	6.50 av. oz.

(d) Formula for Iodine Tincture U. S. P. (using S. D. A. Formula No. 25).

Iodine U. S. P	1.0 av. oz. 11.0 gr.
Sodium iodide U. S. P	1.0 av. oz. 431.0 gr.
Distilled water	65.0 fl. oz. 134.0 min.
S. D. A. Formula No. 25 q. s	128.0 fl. oz.

(e) N. F. and U. S. P. preparations. In preparation of N. F. and U. S. P. formulas, pursuant to paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section the quantities of iodine and potassium or sodium iodide referred to as separate items in the formula are exclusive of the denaturants in the specially denatured alcohol, and are the quantities that must be added in order that the finished products may comply with the official U. S. P. or N. F. preparations.

§ 212.34 Formula No. 25–A—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

A solution composed of 20 pounds of iodine U. S. P., 15 pounds of potassium or sodium iodide U. S. P. and 15 pounds of water.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

230. Tinctures of iodine.
249. Miscellaneous external pharmaceuticals (U. S. P. or N. F.).

(c) Formula for Strong Iodine Tincture, N. F. (using S. D. A. Formula No. 25–A).

Iodine U. S. P	6.50 av. oz.
Potassium iodide U. S. P	4.50 av. oz.
Distilled water	4.40 fl. oz.

(d) Formula for Iodine Tincture, U. S. P. (using S. D. A. Formula No. 25–A).

Iodine U. S. P	1.0 av. oz. 11.0 gr.
Sodium iodide U. S. P	1.0 av. oz. 431 gr.
Distilled water	64.0 fl. oz.
S. D. A. Formula No. 25–A q. s	128.0 fl. oz.

(e) N. F. and U. S. P. preparations. In preparation of N. F. and U. S. P. formulas, pursuant to paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section the quantities of iodine and potassium or sodium iodide referred to as separate items in the formula are exclusive of the denaturants in the specially denatured alcohol, and are the quantities that must be added in order that the finished products may comply with the official U. S. P. or N. F. preparations.

§ 212.35 Formula No. 27—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

One gallon of rosemary oil, N. F. and 30 pounds of camphor, U. S. P.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

243. Liniments, U. S. P. or N. F.

(c) Formula for Camphor and Soap Liniment N. F. (using S. D. A. Formula No. 27).

Hard soap, N. F. dried and granulated or powdered.	8.0 av. oz. 5 gr.
Camphor U. S. P. (small pieces).	2.0 av. oz. 280 gr.
Rosemary oil N. F.	185 min.
S. D. A. Formula No. 27	93.75 fl. oz.
Distilled water q. s.	128.0 fl. oz.

(d) N. F. preparation. In the preparation of N. F. formula pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section the quantities of soap, camphor and oil of rosemary referred to as separate items in the formula are exclusive of the denaturants in the specially denatured alcohol and are quantities that must be added in order that the finished produce may comply with the official N. F. preparation.

§ 212.36 Formula No. 27–A—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Thirty-five pounds of camphor, U. S. P. and 1 gallon of clove oil, U. S. P.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

210. External pharmaceuticals (not U. S. P. or N. F.).

§ 212.37 Formula No. 27–B—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

One gallon of lavender oil, U. S. P., and 100 pounds of medicinal soft soap, U. S. P.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent.

141. Shampoos.
210. External pharmaceuticals (not U. S. P. or N. F.).
243. Liniments (U. S. P. or N. F.).
410. Disinfectants, insecticides, fungicides and other biocides.

(c) Formula for medicinal soft soap liniment U. S. P. (using S. D. A. Formula No. 27–B).

Medicinal soft soap, U. S. P.	81.0 av. oz. 240 gr.
Lavender oil, U. S. P.	2.0 fl. oz. 66 min.
S. D. A. Formula No. 27–B q. s.	128.0 fl. oz.

(d) U. S. P. preparation. In the preparation of U. S. P. formula pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section the quantities of ingredients referred to as separate items in the formula are exclusive of the denaturants in the specially denatured alcohol and are necessary additions in order that the finished product may comply with the official formula.

§ 212.38 Formula No. 28–A—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

One gallon of gasoline.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a fuel:

611. Automobile and supplementary fuels.
612. Airplane and supplementary fuels.
613. Rocket and jet fuels.
620. Proprietary heating fuels.
630. Other fuel uses.

§ 212.39 Formula No. 29—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

One gallon of 100 percent acetaldehyde or 5 gallons of an alcohol solution of acetaldehyde containing not less than 20 percent acetaldehyde, or, where approved by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, as to material and quantity, not less than 6.8 pounds if solid, or 1 gallon if liquid, of any chemical. Where material other than acetaldehyde is proposed to be used the applicant will furnish the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, with specifications and duplicate 8 ounce samples.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a raw material:

512. Acetic acid.
521. Ethyl acetate.
522. Ethyl chloride.
523. Other ethyl esters.
530. Ethylamines (for rubber processing).
540. Dyes and intermediates (ethylamines).
551. Acetaldehyde.
552. Other aldehydes.
561. Ethyl ether.
562. Other ethers.
571. Ethylene dibromide.
572. Ethylene gas.
573. Xanthates.
575. Drugs and medicinal chemicals.
579. Other chemicals.
580. Synthetic rubber.

(c) Conditions governing use. This formula is restricted to processes in which the alcohol loses its identity by being converted into other chemicals.

§ 212.40 Formula No. 30—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Ten gallons of pure methyl alcohol.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

021. Cellulose plastics.
022. Non-cellulose plastics.
031. Photographic film and emulsions.
035. Soldering flux.
036. Adhesives and binders.
051. Polishes.
052. Inks.
053. Stains.
142. Soap and bath preparations.
331. Processing pectin.
332. Processing other food products.
341. Processing crude drugs.
342. Processing glandular products, vitamins, hormones and yeasts.
343. Processing antibiotics and vaccines.
344. Processing medicinal chemicals (including alkaloids).
345. Processing blood and blood products.
349. Miscellaneous drug processing (including manufacture of pills).
352. Processing perfume materials and fixatives.
353. Processing photographic chemicals.
358. Processing other chemicals.
359. Processing miscellaneous products.
410. Disinfectants, insecticides, fungicides and other biocides.
430. Sterilizing and preserving solutions.
440. Industrial detergents and soaps.
450. Cleaning solutions (including household detergents).
481. Photoengraving and rotogravure solutions and dyes.
482. Other dye solutions.
485. Miscellaneous solutions (including duplicating fluids).

(2) As a raw material:

575. Drugs and medicinal chemicals.
579. Other chemicals.

(3) As a fluid in:

740. Refrigerating uses.
750. Other fluid uses.

(4) Miscellaneous uses:

810. Laboratory use.

§ 212.41 Formula No. 31–A—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

One hundred pounds of glycerol, U. S. P. and 20 pounds of hard soap, N. F.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

113. Lotions and creams (hand, face, and body).
131. Tooth paste and tooth powder.
141. Shampoos.

§ 212.42 Formula No. 32—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Five gallons of ethyl ether.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

031. Photographic film and emulsions.
052. Inks (including meat branding inks).
241. Collodion (U. S. P.).
332. Processing miscellaneous food products.
342. Processing glandular products, vitamins, hormones and yeasts.
343. Processing antibiotics and vaccines.
430. Sterilizing and preserving solutions.
481. Photoengraving and rotogravure solutions and dyes.

(2) As a raw material:

522. Ethyl chloride.
523. Other ethyl esters.
561. Ethyl ether.
562. Other ethers.
571. Ethylene dibromide.
572. Ethylene gas.
575. Drugs and medicinal chemicals.
579. Other chemicals.
580. Synthetic rubber.

§ 212.43 Formula No. 33—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Thirty pounds of methyl violet, U. S. P.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

052. Inks.

(c) Conditions governing use. Meat branding inks made with Formula No. 33 do not meet U. S. Department of Agriculture meat inspection specifications for use in federally inspected establishments. Such inks must be made with FD&C Violet No. 1. Specially denatured alcohol Formulas No. 23–A and 32 are authorized for this purpose.

§ 212.44 Formula No. 35—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Thirty-five gallons of ethyl acetate.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

015. Candy glazes.

§ 212.45 Formula No. 35–A—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Five gallons of ethyl acetate.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

015. Candy glazes.
331. Processing pectin.
332. Processing other food products.
342. Processing glandular products, vitamins, hormones and yeasts.
343. Processing antibiotics and vaccines.
344. Processing medicinal chemicals (including alkaloids).
349. Miscellaneous drug processing (including manufacture of pills).
358. Processing miscellaneous chemicals.
359. Processing miscellaneous products.

(2) As a raw material:

511. Vinegar.
521. Ethyl acetate.
523. Other ethyl esters.

§ 212.46 Formula No. 36—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of ethyl alcohol add:

Three gallons of strong ammonia solution, U. S. P.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a raw material:

530. Ethylamines (for rubber processing).
540. Dyes and intermediates (ethylamines).

§ 212.47 Formula No. 37—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Forty-five fluid ounces of eucalyptol, U. S. P., 30 av. ounces of thymol, N. F. and 20 av. ounces of menthol, U. S. P.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

111. Hair and scalp preparations.
112. Bay rum.
113. Lotions and creams (hand, face and body).
131. Dentifrices.
132. Mouth washes.
210. External pharmaceuticals (not U. S. P. or N. F.).
244. Antiseptic solutions (U. S. P. or N. F.).
410. Disinfectants, insecticides, fungicides and other biocides.
430. Sterilizing and preserving solutions.
470. Theater sprays, incense and room deodorants.

§ 212.48 Formula No. 38–B—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Ten pounds of any one or a total of 10 pounds of two or more of the oils and substances listed below:

Anethol, U. S. P.
Anise oil, U. S. P.
Bay oil (myrcia oil), N. F.
Benzaldehyde, N. F.
Bergamot oil, N. F.
Bitter almond oil, N. F.
Camphor, U. S. P.
Cedar leaf oil, U. S. P. XIII
Chlorothymol, N. F.
Cinnamic aldehyde, N. F. IX
Cinnamon oil (cassia oil), U. S. P.
Citronella oil, natural (pure)
Clove oil, U. S. P.
Coal tar, U. S. P.
Eucalyptol, U. S. P.
Eucalyptus oil, N. F.
Eugenol, U. S. P.
Guaiacol, N. F.
Lavender oil, U. S. P.
Menthol, U. S. P.
Mustard oil, volatile (allyl isothiocyanate), U. S. P. XII.
Peppermint oil, U. S. P.
Phenol, U. S. P.
Phenyl salicylate (salol), N. F.
Pine oil, N. F.
Pine needle oil, dwarf, N. F.
Rosemary oil, N. F.
Safrol, pure
Sassafras oil, N. F.
Spearmint oil, N. F.
Spike lavender oil, natural (pure).
Storax, U. S. P.
Thyme oil, N. F.
Thymol, N. F.
Tolu balsam, U. S. P.
Turpentine oil, N. F.
Wintergreen oil (methyl salicylate), U. S. P.

Each ingredient and the amount used to make up the required 10 pounds of denaturants must be stated on Form 1479–A. Where it is shown that none of the above single denaturants or combinations can be used in the manufacture of a particular product, application may be made to use another essential oil or substance having denaturing properties satisfactory to the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division. In such case the applicant will furnish the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, with specifications and duplicate 8 ounce samples for examination.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

111. Hair and scalp preparations.
113. Lotions and creams (hand, face and body).
114. Deodorants (body).
121. Perfumes and perfume tinctures.
122. Toilet waters and colognes.
131. Dentifrices.
132. Mouth washes.
141. Shampoos.
142. Soap and bath preparations.
210. External pharmaceuticals (not U. S. P. or N. F.).
243. Liniments, U. S. P. or N. F.
244. Antiseptic solutions, U. S. P. or N. F.
249. Miscellaneous external pharmaceuticals U. S. P. or N. F.
410. Disinfectants, insecticides, fungicides and other biocides.
430. Sterilizing and preserving solutions.
470. Theater sprays, incense and room deodorants.

§ 212.49 Formula No. 38–C—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Ten pounds of menthol, U. S. P., and 1.25 gallons of Formaldehyde solution U. S. P.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

131. Dentifrices.
132. Mouth washes.

§ 212.50 Formula No. 38–D—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Two and one-half pounds of menthol, U. S. P. and 2.5 gallons of Formaldehyde Solution, U. S. P.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

131. Dentifrices.
132. Mouth washes.

§ 212.51 Formula No. 38–F—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

(1) Six pounds of boric acid, U. S. P., 1½ pounds thymol, N. F., 1½ pounds chlorothymol, N. F., and 1½ pounds menthol, U. S. P.; or

(2) Seven pounds of boric acid, U. S. P. and a total of 3 pounds of any two or more denaturing materials listed under Formula No. 38–B. The denaturants selected and the amounts must be stated on Form 1479–A.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

132. Mouth washes.
244. Antiseptic solutions (U. S. P. or N. F.).

§ 212.52 Formula No. 39—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Nine pounds of sodium salicylate or salicylic acid, U. S. P., 1.25 gallons fluid extract of quassia, N. F. VII and ⅛ gallon of tert-butyl alcohol.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

111. Hair and scalp preparations.
112. Bay rum.
121. Perfume and perfume tinctures.
122. Toilet waters and colognes.

§ 212.53 Formula No. 39–A—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of ethyl alcohol add:

Sixty av. ounces of any one of the following alkaloids or salts together with ⅛ gallon of tert-butyl alcohol:

Quinine, N. F.
Quinine bisulfate, N. F.
Quinine hydrochloride, U. S. P.
Cinchonidine, pure.
Cinchonidine sulfate, N. F. IX.

The denaturant selected must be stated on Form 1479–A.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

111. Hair and scalp preparations.
122. Toilet waters and colognes.
141. Shampoos.

§ 212.54 Formula No. 39–B—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Two and one-half gallons of diethyl phthalate and ⅛ gallon of tert-butyl alcohol.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

111. Hair and scalp preparations.
112. Bay rum.
113. Lotions and creams (hand, face and body).
114. Deodorants (body).
121. Perfumes and perfume tinctures.
122. Toilet waters and colognes.
141. Shampoos.
142. Soap and bath preparations.
210. External pharmaceuticals (not U. S. P. or N. F.).
410. Disinfectants, insecticides, fungicides and other biocides.
450. Cleaning solutions (including household detergents).
470. Theater sprays, incense and room deodorants.
485. Miscellaneous solutions.

§ 212.55 Formula No. 39–C—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

One gallon of diethyl phthalate.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

111. Hair and scalp preparations.
113. Lotions and creams (hand, face and body).
114. Deodorants (body).
121. Perfumes and perfume tinctures.
122. Toilet waters.
142. Soaps and bath preparations.
470. Theater sprays, incense and room deodorants.

432. Miscellaneous dye solutions (own use only).

(c) Conditions governing use. Preparations manufactured with Formula No. 39–C must contain in each gallon of finished product not less than 2 fluid ounces of perfume material (essential oils, isolates, aromatic chemicals, etc.) satisfactory to the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division.

§ 212.56 Formula No. 39–D—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

One gallon of bay oil, N. F. and either 50 av. ounces of quinine sulphate, U. S. P., 50 av. ounces of quinine bisulphate, N. F., or 200 av. ounces of sodium salicylate, U. S. P.

The denaturant selected must be stated on Form 1479–A.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

111. Hair and scalp preparations.
112. Bay rum.

§ 212.57 Formula No. 40—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Three av. ounces of brucine (alkaloid) or brucine sulfate, N. F. IX and ⅛ gallon of tert-butyl alcohol.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

111. Hair and scalp preparations.
112. Bay rum.
113. Lotions and creams (hand, face and body).
114. Deodorants (body).
121. Perfumes and perfume tinctures.
122. Toilet waters and colognes.
141. Shampoos.
142. Soaps and bath preparations.
210. External pharmaceuticals (not U. S. P. or N. F.).
410. Disinfectants, insecticides, fungicides and other biocides.
450. Cleaning solutions (including household detergents).
470. Theater sprays, incense and room deodorants.
482. Miscellaneous dye solutions.
485. Miscellaneous solutions.

§ 212.58 Formula No. 40–A—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Five pounds of sucrose octa-acetate and ⅛ gallon of tert-butyl alcohol.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

111. Hair and scalp preparations.
112. Bay rum.
113. Lotions and creams (hand, face and body).
114. Deodorants (body).
121. Perfumes and perfume tinctures.
122. Toilet waters and colognes.
141. Shampoos.
142. Soap and bath preparations.
210. External pharmaceuticals (not U. S. P. or N. F.).
410. Disinfectants, insecticides, fungicides and other biocides.
470. Theater sprays, incense and room deodorants.
485. Miscellaneous solutions.

§ 212.59 Formula No. 42—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

(1) Eighty grams of potassium iodide, U. S. P. and 109 grams of red mercuric iodide, N. F.;

(2) Ninety-five grams of thimerosal, N. F.; or

(3) Seventy-six grams of any of the following: phenyl mercuric nitrate, N. F.; phenyl mercuric chloride, N. F. IX or phenyl mercuric benzoate, pure.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

430. Sterilizing and preserving solutions.

§ 212.60 Formula No. 44—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Ten gallons of n-butyl alcohol.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

430. Sterilizing and preserving solutions.

§ 212.61 Formula No. 45—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Three hundred pound of refined white or orange shellac.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

015. Candy glazes.

§ 212.62 Formula No. 46—(a) Formula. To every 100 gallons of alcohol add:

Twenty-five fluid ounces of phenol, U. S. P. and 4 fluid ounces of wintergreen oil (methyl salicylate), U. S. P.

(b) Authorized uses. (1) As a solvent:

220. An antiseptic, sterilizing and bathing solution having restricted use.

(c) Conditions governing use. This formula may be used only by institutions and organizations which are of a semi-public character and engaged in charitable work.

SUBPART E—SPECIFICATIONS FOR DENATURANTS

§ 212.65 General. Denaturants prescribed in this part shall comply with the specifications set forth in this subpart: Provided, That, in order to meet requirements of national defense or for other valid reason, the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, may authorize variations from such specifications or authorize the use of substitute denaturants where such variation or substitution will not jeopardize the revenue.

§ 212.66 U. S. P. or N. F. Denaturing materials and products listed in this part as "U. S. P." or "N. F." shall meet the specifications set forth in the current United States Pharmacopea or National Formulary or the latest volume in which they appeared as official preparations. The designations "U. S. P." and "N. F." shall be considered interchangeable when preparations are transferred from one official publication to the other.

Aldehyde content (as acetaldehyde). Not less than 95.0 percent by weight.
Color. Colorless.
Odor. Characteristic pungent, fruity odor.
Specific gravity at 15.56°/15.56° C. Not less than 0.7800.

§ 212.68 Acetaldol.

Purity. Not less than 90 percent by weight acetaldol as determined by the following method:

Dissolve 15 grams of the acetaldol in distilled water and dilute to 1 liter in a volumetric flask. Transfer 5 ml. of this solution to a 250 ml. glass-stoppered flask containing 25 ml. distilled water. Add 25 ml. of a freshly prepared 1 percent sodium bisulfite solution. Prepare a blank omitting the acetaldol solution. Place the flasks in a dark place away from excessive heat or cold and allow to stand six hours. Remove flasks and titrate free bisulfite with 0.1 N. Iodine solution using starch indicator.

$$\text{Percent acetaldol by weight} = \frac{(\text{ml. blank} - \text{ml. test}) \times 200 \times 0.44}{\text{weight of sample}}$$

Titrations in excess of 100 percent may be obtained if the sample contains appreciable amounts of acetaldehyde.
Specific gravity at 20° C. 1.098 to 1.105.

§ 212.69 Benzene.

Distillation range—(A. S. T. M. D–86–53). When 100 ml. of benzene are distilled by this method, not more than 1 ml. should distill below 77° C., and not less than 95 ml. below 85° C.
Odor. Characteristic benzene odor.
Specific gravity at 15.6/15.6° C. 0.875 to 0.886.
Water solubility. When 10 ml. of benzene are shaken with an equal volume of water in a glass-stoppered cylinder, graduated to 0.1 ml., and allowed to stand 5 minutes to separate, the upper layer of liquid shall measure not less than 9.5 ml.

§ 212.70 Bone oil (Dipple's oil).

Color. The color shall be a deep brown.
Distillation range. When 100 ml. are distilled in the manner described for wood alcohol, not more than 5.0 ml. should distill below 90° C.
Pyrrol reaction. Prepare a 1.0 percent solution of bone oil in 95 percent alcohol. Prepare a second solution containing 0.025 percent bone oil by diluting 2.50 ml. of the first solution to 100 ml. with 95 percent alcohol. Dip a splinter of pine, previously moistened with concentrated hydrochloric acid, into 10 ml. of the 0.025 percent bone oil solution. After a few minutes the splinter should show a distinct red coloration.
Reaction with mercuric chloride. Add 5 ml. of the 1.0 percent bone oil solution above to 5 ml. of a 2 percent alcoholic solution of mercuric chloride. A turbidity is formed at once which separates into a flocculent precipitate on standing several minutes. Add 5.0 ml. of the 0.025 percent bone oil solution to 5.0 ml. of a 2.0 percent alcoholic solution of mercuric chloride. A faint turbidity appears after several minutes.

§ 212.71 Brucine alkaloid.

Identification test. Add a few drops of concentrated nitric acid to about 10 mg. of brucine alkaloid. A vivid red color is produced. Dilute the red solution with a few drops of water and add a few drops of freshly made dilute stannous chloride solution. A reddish purple (violet) color is produced.
Melting point. 178° C. ±1°. Dry the alkaloid in an oven for one hour at 100° C., increase the temperature to 110° and dry to a constant weight before taking melting point.
NOTE: Brucine alkaloid—4 H_2O melts at 105° C. while the anhydrous form melts at 178° C.
Strychnine test. Brucine alkaloid shall be free of strychnine when tested by the method listed under Brucine Sulfate in the National Formulary, 9th Edition.
NOTE: If the brucine contains as much as 0.05 percent strychnine, a clear distinctive violet color, characteristic of strychnine, will be obtained.
Sulfate test. No white precipitate is formed that is not dissolved by hydrochloric acid when several drops of a 1 N barium chloride solution are added to 10 ml. of a solution of the alkaloid.

§ 212.72 n-Butyl alcohol.

Acidity (as acetic acid). 0.03 percent by weight maximum.
Color. Colorless.
Dryness at 20° C. Miscible without turbidity with 10 volumes of 60° Bé. gasoline.
Odor. Characteristic odor.
Specific gravity at 20°/20° C. 0.810 to 0.815.

§ 212.73 tert.-Butyl alcohol.

Acidity (as acetic acid). 0.003 percent by weight maximum.
Color. Colorless.
Distillation range (A. S. T. M. D–1078–49–T). When 100 ml. of tertiary butyl alcohol are distilled, none should distill below 78° C. and none above 85° C. More than 95 percent should distill between 81°—83° C.
Dryness at 20° C. Miscible without turbidity with 19 volumes of 60° Bé. gasoline.
Freezing point (first needle). Above 20° C.
Identification test. Place 5 drops of a solution containing approximately 0.1 percent tertiary butyl alcohol in ethyl alcohol in a test tube. Add 2 ml. of Denige's reagent. (Dissolve 5 grams of red mercuric oxide in 20 ml. concentrated sulfuric acid. Add this solution to 80 ml. of distilled water, and filter when cool.) Heat the mixture just to the boiling point and remove from the flame. A yellow precipitate forms within a few seconds.
Non volatile matter. Less than 0.005 percent by weight.
Odor. Characteristic odor.
Residual odor after evaporation. None.
Specific gravity at 25°/25° C. 0.780 to 0.786.

§ 212.74 Chloroform.

Odor. Characteristic chloroform odor.
Specific gravity at 25°/25° C. Not less than 1.400.

§ 212.75 Diethyl phthalate.

Color. Colorless.
Distillation range (A. S. T. M. D–1078–49). When 100 ml. of diethyl phthalate are distilled by this method none should distill, below 290° C. and none above 297° C.
Ester content (as diethyl phthalate). Not less than 99 percent by weight.
NOTE: The sample taken for ester determination should be approximately 0.8 gram. The number of ml. of 0.5N KOH used in saponification multiplied by 0.05555, indicates the grams of ester in the sample taken for assay.
Odor. Practically odorless.
Solubility. Soluble in 2 parts of 60 percent alcohol.
Specific gravity at 25°/25° C. 1.115 to 1.118.

§ 212.76 Ethyl acetate.

Acidity (as acetic acid). Not more than 0.015 percent by weight.
Color. Colorless.
Distillation range (A. S. T. M. D–1078–49–T). When 100 ml. of ethyl acetate are distilled by this method none shall distill below 70° C.; not more than 10 ml. shall distill below 72° C., and none above 80° C.
Ester content. Not less than 85 percent by weight.
Odor. Characteristic ethyl acetate odor.
Specific gravity at 20°/20° C. Not less than 0.885.

§ 212.77 Ethyl ether.

Odor. Characteristic odor.
Specific gravity at 15.56°/15.56° C. Not more than 0.728.

§ 212.78 Gasoline.

Distillation range (A. S. T. M. D–86–53). When 100 ml. of gasoline are distilled none shall distill below 90° F. Not more than 5 ml. shall be collected below 140° F., and not less than 50 ml. shall distill below 230° F.

§ 212.79 Kerosene.

Distillation range (A. S. T. M. D–86–53). No distillate should come over below 340° F. and none above 570° F.
Flash point. 115° F. minimum.
Odor. Characteristic kerosene odor.

§ 212.80 Methyl alcohol.

For making Specially Denatured Alcohol Formula No. 3A.
Acetone content. 4.0 percent by weight maximum.
Purity. Commercially pure grade or better.
Specific gravity at 15.56°/15.56° C. 0.810 maximum.
For making Specially Denatured Alcohol Formula No. 30.
Acetone content. Trace or none.
Purity. Chemically pure grade.
Specific gravity at 15.56°/15.56° C. 0.799 maximum.

§ 212.81 Methyl isobutyl ketone.

Acidity (as acetic acid). 0.02 percent by weight, maximum.
Color. Colorless.
Distillation range (A. S. T. M. D–1078–49T). No distillate should come over below 111° C. and none above 117° C.
Odor. Characteristic methyl isobutyl ketone odor.
Specific gravity at 20°/20° C. 0.799 to 0.804.

§ 212.82 Nicotine solution.

Composition: Five gallons of an aqueous solution containing 40 percent nicotine; 3.6 av. oz. methylene blue N. F.; water sufficient to make 100 gallons.
Color. One ml. of the nicotine solution (previously agitated in the presence of air) is measured into 100 ml. of water and thoroughly mixed. Fifty ml. of this colored solution is compared, using Nessler tubes, with 50 ml. of a standard color solution containing 5 grams of $CuSO_4 \cdot 5H_2O$, C. P. in 100 ml. of water. The color intensity of the solution tested should be equal to or greater than that of the standard solution.
Nicotine content. The above solution must contain not less than 1.88 percent of nicotine determined by the following process: 20 ml. of the solution are measured into a 500 ml. Kjeldahl flask provided with a suitable bulb tube, 50 ml. of 0.1 N NaOH added and the mixture distilled in a current of steam until the distillate is no longer alkaline (about 500 ml.). The distillate is then titrated with 0.1 N H_2SO_4 using rosolic acid or methyl red as indicator. Not less than 23.2 ml. should be required for neutralization.

§ 212.83 Pyridine bases.

Alkalinity. One ml. of pyridine bases dissolved in 10 ml. of water is titrated with N H_2SO_4 until a drop of the mixture placed upon Congo paper shows a distinct blue border, which soon disappears. A minimum of 9.5 ml. of the acid must be required for the end point. (Congo paper: filter paper treated with 0.1 percent aqueous solution of Congo red and dried.)
Distillation range. 100 ml. of the denaturant are distilled in the same apparatus prescribed for wood alcohol. At least 50 ml. must distill at or below 140° C. and at least 90 ml. below 160° C.
Reactions. Dissolve 1 ml. of pyridine bases in 100 ml. of water. (a) 10 ml. of this solution are treated with 5 ml. of 5 percent aqueous solution of anhydrous fused $CaCl_2$ and the mixture vigorously shaken. An abundant crystalline separation should occur within 10 minutes.
(b) 10 ml. of the pyridine solution mixed with 5 ml. of Nessler's reagent must give a white precipitate.
Water content. 20 ml. of pyridine bases are shaken with 20 ml. of a caustic soda solution having a specific gravity of 1.40 (15.56°/15.56° C.) and the mixture allowed to stand until completely separated into two layers. The amount of the pyridine base layer should be 18.5 ml., minimum.

§ 212.84 Pyronate.

Pyronate is a product of the destructive distillation of hardwood meeting the following requirements:
Acidity (as acetic acid). Not more than 0.1 percent by weight, determined as follows:
Add 5.0 ml. sample to 100 ml. distilled water in an Erlenmeyer flask and titrate with 0.1 N NaOH to a bromthymol blue endpoint.
Color. The color shall be no darker than the color produced by 2.0 grams of potassium dichromate in 1 liter of water. The comparison shall be made in 4 oz. oil sample bottles viewed crosswise.
Distillation range—(A. S. T. M. D–1078–49). When 100 ml. are distilled not more than 5 ml. shall distill below 70° C., and not less than 50 ml. below 160° C., and not less than 90 ml. below 205° C.
NOTE: Any material submitted as pyronate must agree in color, odor, taste and denaturing value with a standard sample furnished by the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, Internal Revenue Service, to chemists authorized to examine samples of denaturants.

§ 212.85 Rubber hydrocarbon solvent.

Rubber hydrocarbon solvent is a petroleum derivative:
Distillation range—(A. S. T. M. D–86–53). When 10 percent of the sample has been distilled into a graduated receiver, the thermometer shall not read more than 162° F. nor less than 120° F. When 90 percent has been recovered in the receiver the thermometer shall not read more than 250° F.

§ 212.86 Shellac (refined).

Arsenic content. None as determined by the Marsh Method or Gutzeit Method.
Color. White or orange.
Rosin content. None when tested by the following method: Add 20 ml. of absolute alcohol or glacial acetic acid (m. p. 13° to 15° C.) to 2 grams of the shellac and thoroughly dissolve. Add 100 ml. of petroleum ether and mix thoroughly. Add approximately 2 liters of water and separate a portion of the ether layer (at least 50 ml.) and filter if cloudy. Evaporate the petroleum ether and test as follows: Solution A—5 ml. phenol dissolved in 10 ml. carbon tetrachloride. Solution B—1 ml. bromine dissolved in 4 ml. carbon tetrachloride. To the residue obtained above add 2 ml. of Solution A and transfer the mixture to a porcelain spot plate, filling one cavity. Immediately fill an adjacent cavity with Solution B. Cover the plate with a watch glass and observe any color formation in Solution A. A decided purple or deep indigo blue color is an indication of the presence of rosin.

§ 212.87 Sodium (metallic).

Color. Silvery-white (metallic luster) when freshly cut.
Identification test. Clean a platinum wire by dipping it in concentrated hydrochloric acid and holding it over a Bunsen burner until the flame is no longer colored. Moisten the wire loop with hydrochloric acid and dip it into the sample. Hold the wire in the Bunsen flame and note the color. Sodium produces a golden yellow flame; not observed when viewed through a cobalt glass.

Purity. Technical grade or better.

Sucrose octa-acetate is an organic acetylation product occurring as a cream-colored, nonhydroscopic powder, having an intensely bitter taste.

Free acid (as acetic acid). Maximum percentage 0.15 by weight when determined by the following procedure: Dissolve 1.0 gram of sample in 50 ml. of neutralized ethyl alcohol (or SDA No. 30) and titrate with 0.1 N sodium hydroxide using phenolphthalein indicator.

$$\text{Percent acid as acetic acid} = \frac{\text{ml. NaOH used} \times 0.6}{\text{weight of sample}}$$

Insoluble matter. 0.30 percent by weight maximum.

Melting point. Not less than 78.0° C. or more than 84.0° C.

Purity. Sucrose octa-acetate 98% minimum by weight when determined by the following procedure: Transfer a weighed 1.50 gram sample to a 500 ml. Erlenmeyer flask containing 100 ml. of neutral ethyl alcohol (or SDA No. 30) and exactly 50.0 ml. of 0.5 N sodium hydroxide. Reflux for one hour on a steam bath, cool and titrate the excess sodium hydroxide with 0.5 N sulfuric acid using phenolphthalein indicator.

$$\text{Percent sucrose octa-acetate} = \frac{(\text{ml. NaOH} - \text{ml. } H_2SO_4) \times 4.2412}{\text{weight of sample}}$$

§ 212.89 Vinegar.

Acidity (as acetic acid). 9.0 percent by weight, minimum.

§ 212.90 Wood alcohol.

The wood alcohol submitted must be a partially purified distillate from crude wood alcohol obtained only by the destructive distillation of wood. It may be a blend of those distillation fractions commonly known as the methyl acetone, methyl alcohol, and allyl fractions. This blend shall consist in its entirety of all or portions of each of the fractions.

A mere physical mixture of the essential chemical constituents will not be approved nor will the addition of water subsequent to distillation in order to make the specific gravity conform to the specifications. It is the intent of these specifications that the chemical findings outlined below shall be due only to those impurities or ingredients naturally formed in the course of the destructive distillation of wood and that the extent of the presence of such impurities or ingredients be due entirely to their natural occurrence in the fractions mentioned above.

Acetone. Not less than 10.0 grams nor more than 20.0 grams of acetone and other substances estimated as acetone per 100 ml. of sample when tested by the following method: One ml. of a mixture of 10 ml. wood alcohol and 90 ml. of water is treated with 10 ml. of 2 N sodium hydroxide solution. To this mixture is added, with shaking, 50 ml. of 0.1 N iodine solution. After standing for fifteen minutes the solution is acidified with dilute sulfuric acid. The excess iodine is titrated with 0.1 N sodium thiosulfate solution using 1–2 ml. starch indicator. From 10.3 to 20.7 ml. of 0.1 N iodine solution should be required by the sample. The test should be made at a temperature between 15° and 20° C.

Calculation:

X=grams of acetone in 100 ml. sample.
Y=ml. of 0.1 N iodine solution required.
N=ml. of sample taken for titration.

Then:

$$X = \frac{Y(0.0968)}{N}$$

It is recommended that a blank be run with each test using a solution of 16 grams of acetone, C. P., made up to 100 ml. with absolute methanol. The difference between the known value and the titrated value of the blank is added to the amount of acetone found in the sample.

Color. Not darker than a freshly prepared solution of 2 ml. of 0.1 N iodine diluted to one liter with distilled water.

Distillation range (at 760 mm.) Of a 100 ml. sample taken, 90 ml. or more distillate shall be collected at a temperature not exceeding 75° C. when distilled in the following manner: The sample is placed in a short-necked glass flask of about 200 ml. capacity which is rested on an asbestos plate having a circular opening of 30 mm. in diameter. The neck of this flask is fitted with a frationating tube 12 mm. in diameter and 170 mm. long and having a bulb just 1 cm. below the side tube which is connected with a Liebig condenser having a water jacket not less than 400 mm. in length. A standardized thermometer is placed in the fractionating tube so that the mercury bulb is suspended in the center of the fractionating bulb. Heat is applied slowly and in such manner that 5 ml. of distillate is collected per minute in a graduated cylinder.

Correction may be made for variations in barometric pressure by allowing 1° C. for each variation of 30 mm. from normal (760 mm.). Thus, at 770 mm., 90 ml. should have distilled at 75.3° C. and at 750 mm., 90 ml. should have distilled at 74.7° C.

Esters (as methyl acetate). Not less than 3 nor more than 10 grams per 100 ml. when determined as follows: Dilute 10 ml. of wood alcohol to 500 ml. with distilled water and agitate until thoroughly mixed. Transfer 100 ml. of this mixture to a 500 ml. flask, neutralize free acid, add 50 ml. excess 0.1 N sodium hydroxide (carbonate free) connect flask with air-cooled condenser about 2 feet in length, heat for two hours on a steam bath, allow to cool and titrate excess alkali with 0.1 N sulfuric acid, using phenolphthalein indicator solution.

Calculation:

M=grams of methyl acetate per 100 ml. of sample.
V=ml. of sample titrated (2 ml. in this case).
B=ml. of 0.1 N sodium hydroxide solution required.

Then

$$M = \frac{B(0.0074) \times 100}{V}$$

Miscibility with water (25° to 30° C.). No distinct separation of an oily layer shall be observed three minutes after mixing with twice its volume of water.

Pyroligneous bodies (by bromine adsorption). It must contain such a quantity of pyroligneous bodies (derived entirely from the methyl acetone, methyl alcohol and allyl fractions) that not less than 14 ml. nor more than 21 ml. shall be required to decolorize a standard solution containing 0.5 gram of bromine prepared as follows: Transfer 12.406 grams of potassium bromide and 3.481 grams of potassium bromate, C. P., (oven dried for 2 hours at 105° C.) to a liter volumetric flask and make up to volume with distilled water. Transfer 50 ml. of this solution containing 0.5 gram of bromine to a 200 ml. glass-stoppered flask, acidify with dilute sulfuric acid (1 to 4) and allow to stand for five minutes. From a burette add the sample of wood alcohol dropwise, not exceeding 5 ml. per minute, until the bromine color disappears. Record the ml. of sample required. The temperature of the mixture should be 20° C.

Specific gravity 15.56°/15.56° C. 0.8198 minimum.

In addition to the above requirements, the wood alcohol must be of such a character as to impart its characteristic odor and taste to the ethyl alcohol with which it is mixed, thereby giving an unmistakable warning of its presence.

SUBPART F—USES OF SPECIALLY DENATURED ALCOHOL

§ 212.95 Listing of products and processes using specially denatured alcohol and formulas authorized therefor. This section gives a listing, alphabetically by product or process, of formulas of specially denatured alcohol authorized for use in such products or processing, and a listing of the code numbers assigned thereto.

SUBPART G—DENATURANTS AUTHORIZED FOR DENATURED ALCOHOL

§ 212.100 Listing of denaturants authorized for denatured alcohol. Following is an alphabetical listing of denaturants authorized for use in denatured alcohol:

DENATURANTS AUTHORIZED FOR COMPLETELY DENATURED ALCOHOL (C. D.) AND SPECIALLY DENATURED ALCOHOL (S. D.)

Acetaldehyde ---------- S. D. 29
Acetone N. F. ---------- S. D. 23-A; 23-H
Acetaldol ---------- C. D. 18
Almond oil, bitter N. F. ---------- S. D. 38-B
Ammonia solution, strong U. S. P. ---- S. D. 36
Anethole U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 38-B
Anise oil U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 38-B
Bay oil (myrcia oil) N. F. ---------- S. D. 23-F; 38-B; 39-D
Benzaldehyde N. F. ---------- S. D. 38-B
Benzene ---------- S. D. 2-B; 2-C; 12-A
Bergamot oil N. F. ---------- S. D. 23-F; 38-B
Bone oil (Dipple's oil) ---------- S. D. 1[illegible]
Boric acid U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 38-F
Brucine alkaloid ---------- S. D. 40
Brucine sulfate N. F. IX ---------- S. D. 40
n-Butyl alcohol ---------- S. D. 44
tert-Butyl alcohol ---------- S. D. 39; 39-A; 39-B; 40; 40-A Camphor U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 27; 27-A; 38-B
Cedar leaf oil U. S. P. XIII ---------- S. D. 38-B
Chloroform ---------- S. D. 20
Chlorothymol N. F. ---------- S. D. 38-B; 38-F
Cinnamon oil (cassia oil) U. S. P. ---- S. D. 38-B
Citronella oil, natural (pure) ---------- S. D. 38-B
Cinchonidine (pure) ---------- S. D. 39-A Cinchonidine sulfate N. F. IX ---------- S. D. 39-A
Cinnamic aldehyde (cinnamaldehyde) N. F. IX ---------- S. D. 38-B
Clove oil U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 27-A; 38-B
Coal tar U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 38-B
Diethyl phthalate ---------- S. D. 39-B; 39-C
Ethyl acetate ---------- S. D. 35; 35-A
Ethyle ether ---------- S. D. 13-A; 19; 32
Eucalyptol U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 37; 38-B
Eucalyptus oil N. F. ---------- S. D. 38-B
Eugenol U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 38-B
Formaldehyde solution U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 22; 38-C; 38-D
Gasoline ---------- S. D. 28-A
Glycerol U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 31-A
Guaiacol N. F. ---------- S. D. 38-B
Iodine U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 25; 25-A
Kerosene ---------- C. D. 18; 19
Lavender oil U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 27-B; 38-B
Menthol, U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 37; 38-B; 38-C; 38-D; 38-F
Mercuric iodide, red N. F. ---------- S. D. 42
Methylene blue N. F. ---------- S. D. 4
Methyl alcohol ---------- S. D. 3-A; 30
Methyl isobutyl ketone ---------- C. D. 18; 19; S. D. 23-H
Methyl violet (methylrosaniline chloride) U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 33
Mustard oil, volatile (allyl isothiocyanate), U. S. P. XII ---------- S. D. 38-B
Nicotine solution ---------- S. D. 4
Peppermint oil U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 38-B
Phenol U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 38-B; 46
Phenyl mercuric benzoate (pure) ---- S. D. 42
Phenyl mercuric chloride N. F. IX ---- S. D. 42
Phenyl mercuric nitrate N. F. ---------- S. D. 42
Phenyl salicylate (salol) N. F. ---- S. D. 38-B
Pine needle oil, dwarf N. F. ---------- S. D. 38-B
Pine oil, N. F. ---------- S. D. 38-B
Pine tar, N. F. ---------- S. D. 3-B
Potassium iodide, U. S. P. ---- S. D. 25; 25-A; 42
Pyridine bases ---------- S. D. 6-B
Pyronate ---------- C. D. 18
Quassia, fluid extract of, N. F. VII ---- S. D. 39
Quinine, N. F. ---------- S. D. 39-A
Quinine bisulfate N. F. ------ S. D. 39-A; 39-D
Quinine hydrochloride U. S. P. ---- S. D. 39-A Quinine sulfate U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 39-D
Resorcin, U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 23-F
Rosemary oil, N. F. ---------- S. D. 27; 38-B
Rubber hydrocarbon solvent ---- S. D. 2-B; 2-C
Safrol, (pure) ---------- S. D. 38-B
Salicylic acid, U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 23-F; 39
Sassafras oil, N. F. ---------- S. D. 38-B
Shellac (refined) ---------- S. D. 45
Sodium iodide, U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 25; 25-A
Sodium, metallic ---------- S. D. 2-C
Sodium salicylate, U. S. P. ---- S. D. 39; 39-D
Soap, hard, N. F. ---------- S. D. 31-A
Soap, medicinal soft, U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 27-B
Spearmint oil, N. F. ---------- S. D. 38-B
Spike lavender oil, natural (pure) ---- S. D. 38-B
Storax, U. S. P. ---------- S. D. 38-B

Sucrose octa-acetate	S. D. 40–A
Thimerosal, N. F.	S. D. 42
Thyme oil, N. F.	S. D. 38–B
Thymol, N. F.	S. D. 37; 38–B; 38–F
Tolu balsam, U. S. P.	S. D. 38–B

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

[26 CFR (1954) Part 1]

INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1953

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing, in duplicate, to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Attention: T:P, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of thirty days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in section 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 917; 26 U. S. C. 7805).

[SEAL] RUSSELL C. HARRINGTON,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

The following regulations for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1953, and ending after August 16, 1954, except where otherwise specifically provided, are hereby prescribed under sections 681 and 682 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954:

Sec.

1.681 (a)	Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; limitation on charitable contributions deduction; unrelated business income.
1.681 (a)–1	Limitation on charitable contributions deduction of trusts with trade or business income.
1.681 (b)	Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; limitation on charitable contributions deduction; prohibited transactions.
1.681 (b)–1	Limitation on charitable contributions deduction of trusts engaged in prohibited transactions.
1.681 (b)–2	Disallowance to donors of certain charitable, etc., deductions for gifts made in trust.
1.681 (c)	Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; limitation on charitable contributions deductions; trusts accumulating income.
1.681 (c)–1	Limitation on charitable contributions deduction of trusts accumulating income.
1.681 (d)	Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; disallowance of certain charitable contributions deductions; cross reference.
1.681 (d)–1	Disallowance of certain charitable contributions deductions.
1.632 (a)	Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; income of an estate or trust in case of divorce; inclusion in gross income of wife.
1.682 (a)–1	Income of trust in case of divorce, etc.
1.682 (b)	Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; income of an estate or trust in case of divorce; wife considered a beneficiary.
1.682 (b)–1	Application of trust rules to alimony payments.
1.682 (c)	Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; income of an estate or trust in case of divorce; definitions of "husband" and "wife".
1.682 (c)–1	Definitions.

§ 1.681–1 Limitations on charitable contributions deduction of trust; in general. Under section 681, the unlimited charitable contributions deduction otherwise allowable to a trust under section 642 (c) is, in general, subject to percentage limitations, corresponding to those applicable to contributions by an individual under sections 170 (b) (1) (A) and (B), under the following circumstances:

(a) To the extent that the deduction is allocable to "unrelated business income";

(b) If the trust has engaged in a "prohibited transaction";

(c) If income is accumulated for a charitable purpose and the accumulation is (1) unreasonable, (2) substantially diverted to a noncharitable purpose, or (3) invested against the interests of the charitable beneficiaries.

Further, if the circumstance set forth in paragraph (a) or (c) of this section is applicable, the deduction is limited to income actually paid out for charitable purposes, and is not allowed for income only set aside or to be used for those purposes. If the circumstance set forth in paragraph (b) of this section is applicable, deductions for contributions to the trust may be disallowed. The provisions of section 681 are discussed in detail in §§ 1.681 (a)–1 through 1.681 (c)–1. For definition of the term "income" see section 643 (b) and § 1.643 (b)–1.

§ 1.681 (a) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; limitation on charitable contributions deduction; unrelated business income.

SEC. 681. Limitation on charitable deduction—(a) Trade or business income. In computing the deduction allowable under section 642 (c) to a trust, no amount otherwise allowable under section 642 (c) as a deduction shall be allowed as a deduction with respect to income of the taxable year which is allocable to its unrelated business income for such year. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the term "unrelated business income" means an amount equal to the amount which, if such trust were exempt from tax under section 501 (a) by reason of section 501 (c) (3), would be computed as its unrelated business taxable income under section 512 (relating to income derived from certain business activities and from certain leases).

§ 1.681 (a)–1 Limitation on charitable contributions deduction of trusts with trade or business income—(a) In general. No charitable contributions deduction is allowable to a trust under section 642 (c) for any taxable year for amounts allocable to the trust's unrelated business income for the taxable year. For the purpose of section 681 (a) the term "unrelated business income" of a trust means an amount which would be computed as the trust's unrelated business taxable income under section 512 and the regulations thereunder, if the trust were an organization exempt from tax under section 501 (a) by reason of section 501 (c) (3). For the purpose of the computation under section 512, the term "unrelated trade or business" includes a trade or business carried on by a partnership of which a trust is a member, as well as one carried on by the trust itself. While the charitable contributions deduction under section 642 (c) is entirely disallowed by section 681 (a) for amounts allocable to "unrelated business income", a partial deduction is nevertheless allowed for such amounts by the operation of section 512 (b) (11), as illustrated in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section. This partial deduction is subject to the percentage limitations applicable to contributions by an individual under section 170 (b) (1) (A) and (B), and is not allowed for amounts set aside or to be used for charitable purposes but not actually paid out during the taxable year. Charitable contributions deductions otherwise allowable under section 170, 542 (b) (2), or 642 (c) for contributions to a trust are not disallowed solely because the trust has unrelated business income.

(b) Determination of amounts allocable to unrelated business income. In determining the amount for which a charitable contributions deduction would otherwise be allowable under section 642 (c) which are allocable to unrelated business income, and therefore not allowable as a deduction, the following steps are taken:

(1) There is first determined the amount which would be computed as the trust's unrelated business taxable income under section 512 and the regulations thereunder if the trust were an organization exempt from tax under section 501 (a) by reason of section 501 (c) (3), but without taking the charitable contributions deduction allowed under section 512 (b) (11).

(2) The amount for which a charitable contributions deduction would otherwise be allowable under section 642 (c) is then allocated between the amount determined in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and any other income of the trust. Unless the facts clearly indicate to the contrary, the allocation to the amount determined in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph is made on the basis of the ratio (but not in excess of 100 percent) of the amount determined in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph to the taxable income of the trust, determined without the deduction for personal exemption under section 642 (b), the charitable contributions deduction under section 642 (c), or the deduction for distributions to beneficiaries under section 661 (a).

(3) The amount for which a charitable contributions deduction would otherwise be allowable under section 642 (c) which is allocable to unrelated business income as determined in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, and therefore not allowable as a deduction, is the amount determined in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph reduced by the charitable contributions deduction which would be allowed under section 512 (b) (11) if the trust were an organization exempt from tax under section 501 (a) by reason of section 501 (c) (3).

(c) Examples. (1) The application of this section may be illustrated by the following examples, in which it is assumed that the Y charity is not a church, an educational organization, or a hospital described in section 170 (b) (1) (A) (see subparagraph (2) of this paragraph):

Example (1). The X trust has income of $50,000. There is included in this amount a net profit of $31,000 from the operation of a trade or business. The trustee is required to pay half of the trust income to A, an individual, and the balance of the trust income to the Y charity, an organization described in section 170 (c) (2). The trustee pays each beneficiary $25,000. Under these facts, the unrelated business income of the trust (computed before the charitable contributions deduction which would be allowed under section 512 (b) (11)) is $30,000 ($31,000 less the deduction of $1,000 allowed by section 512 (b) (12)). The deduction otherwise allowable under section 642 (c) is $25,000, the amount paid to the Y charity. The portion allocable to the unrelated business income (computed as prescribed in paragraph (b) (2) of this section above) is $15,000, that is, an amount which bears the same ratio to $25,000 as $30,000 bears to $50,000. The portion allocable to the unrelated business income, and therefore disallowed as a deduction, is $15,000 reduced by $6,000 (the charitable contributions deduction which would be allowable under section 512 (b) (11)), or $9,000.

Example (2). Assume the same facts as in example (1), except that the trustee has discretion as to the portion of the trust income to be paid to each beneficiary, and the trustee pays $40,000 to A and $10,000 to the Y charity. The deduction otherwise allowable under section 642 (c) is $10,000. The portion allocable to the unrelated business income computed as prescribed in paragraph (b) (2) of this section is $6,000, that is, an amount which bears the same ratio to $10,000 as $30,000 bears to $50,000. Since this amount does not exceed the charitable contributions deduction which would be allowable under section 512 (b) (11) ($6,000, determined as in example (1)), no portion of it is disallowed as a deduction.

Example (3). Assume the same facts as in example (1), except that the terms of the trust instrument require the trustee to pay to the Y charity the trust income, if any, derived from the trade or business, and to pay to A all the trust income derived from other sources. The trustee pays $31,000 to the Y charity and $19,000 to A. The deduction otherwise allowable under section 642 (c) is $31,000. Since the ratio prescribed in paragraph (b) (2) of this section does not apply, the amount allocable to the unrelated business income computed before the charitable contributions deduction under section 512 (b) (11) is $30,000. The amount allocable to the unrelated business income and therefore disallowed as a deduction is $24,000.

Example (4). (i) Under the terms of the trust, the trustee is required to pay half of the trust income to A, an individual, for his life, and the balance of the trust income to the Y charity, an organization described in section 170 (c) (2). Capital gains are allocable to corpus and upon A's death the trust is to terminate and the corpus is to be distributed to the Y charity. The trust has taxable income of $50,000 computed without any deduction for specific exemption, charitable contributions, or distributions. The amount of $50,000 consists of $10,000 capital gains, $30,000 ($31,000 less the $1,000 deduction allowed under section 512 (b) (12)) unrelated business income (computed before the charitable contributions deduction which would be allowed under section 512 (b) (11)) and other income of $10,000. The trustee pays each beneficiary $20,000.

(ii) The deduction otherwise allowable under section 642 (c) is $30,000 ($20,000 paid to Y charity and $10,000 capital gains allocated to corpus and permanently set aside for charitable purposes). The portion allocable to the unrelated business income is $15,000, that is, an amount which bears the same ratio to $20,000 (the amount paid to Y charity) as $30,000 bears to $40,000 ($50,000 less $10,000 capital gains allocable to corpus). The portion allocable to the unrelated business income, and therefore disallowed as a deduction, is $15,000 reduced by $6,000 (the charitable contributions deduction which would be allowable under section 512 (b) (11)), or $9,000.

(2) If, in the examples in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the Y charity were a church, an educational organization, or a hospital described in section 170 (b) (1) (A), then the deduction allowable under section 512 (b) (11) would be computed at a rate of 30 percent.

§ 1.681 (b) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; limitation on charitable contributions deductions; prohibited transactions.

SEC. 681. Limitation on charitable deduction. • • •

(b) Operations of trusts—(1) Limitation on charitable, etc., deduction. The amount otherwise allowable under section 642 (c) as a deduction shall not exceed 20 percent of the taxable income of the trust (computed without the benefit of section 642 (c) but with the benefit of section 170 (b) (1) (A)) if the trust has engaged in a prohibited transaction, as defined in paragraph (2).

(2) Prohibited transactions. For purposes of this subsection, the term "prohibited transaction" means any transaction after July 1, 1950, in which any trust while holding income or corpus which has been permanently set aside or is to be used exclusively for charitable or other purposes described in section 642 (c)—

(A) Lends any part of such income or corpus, without receipt of adequate security and a reasonable rate of interest, to;

(B) Pays any compensation from such income or corpus, in excess of a reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal services actually rendered, to;

(C) Makes any part of its services available on a preferential basis to;

(D) Uses such income or corpus to make any substantial purchase of securities or any other property, for more than an adequate consideration in money or money's worth, from;

(E) Sells any substantial part of the securities or other property comprising such income or corpus, for less than an adequate consideration in money or money's worth, to; or

(F) Engages in any other transaction which results in a substantial diversion of such income or corpus to;

the creator of such trust; any person who has made a substantial contribution to such trust; a member of a family (as defined in section 267 (c) (4)) of an individual who is the creator of the trust or who has made a substantial contribution to the trust; or a corporation controlled by any such creator or person through the ownership, directly or indirectly, of 50 percent or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote or 50 percent or more of the total value of shares of all classes of stock of the corporation.

(3) Taxable years affected. The amount otherwise allowable under section 642 (c) as a deduction shall be limited as provided in paragraph (1) only for taxable years after the taxable year during which the trust is notified by the Secretary that it has engaged in such transaction, unless such trust entered into such prohibited transaction with the purpose of diverting such corpus or income from the purposes described in section 642 (c), and such transaction involved a substantial part of such corpus or income.

(4) Future charitable, etc., deductions of trusts denied deduction under paragraph (3). If the deduction of any trust under section 642 (c) has been limited as provided in this subsection, such trust, with respect to any taxable year following the taxable year in which notice is received of limitation of deduction under section 642 (c), may, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate, file claim for the allowance of the unlimited deduction under section 642 (c), and if the Secretary, pursuant to such regulations, is satisfied that such trust will not knowingly again engage in a prohibited transaction, the limitation provided in paragraph (1) shall not apply with respect to taxable years after the year in which such claim is filed.

(5) Disallowance of certain charitable, etc., deductions. No gift or bequest for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes (including the encouragement of art and the prevention of cruelty to children or animals), otherwise allowable as a deduction under section 170, 545 (b) (2), 642 (c), 2055, 2106 (a) (2), or 2522, shall be allowed as a deduction if made in trust and, in the taxable year of the trust in which the gift or bequest is made, the deduction allowed the trust under section 642 (c) is limited by paragraph (1). With respect to any taxable year of a trust in which such deduction has been so limited by reason of entering into a prohibited transaction with the purpose of diverting such corpus or income from the purposes described in section 642 (c), and such transaction involved a substantial part of such income or corpus, and which taxable year is the same, or before the, taxable year of the trust in which such prohibited transaction occurred, such deduction shall be disallowed the donor only if such donor or (if such donor is an individual) any member of his family (as defined in section 267 (c) (4)) was a party to such prohibited transaction.

(6) Definition. For purposes of this subsection, the term "gift or bequest" means any gift, contribution, bequest, devise, or legacy, or any transfer without adequate consideration.

§ 1.681 (b)–1 Limitation on charitable contributions deduction of trusts engaged in prohibited transactions—(a) In general. (1) If a trust has engaged in a "prohibited transaction", the charitable contributions deduction which would otherwise be allowable to the trust under section 642 (c) is limited by section 681 (b) (1) to 20 percent of the taxable income of the trust (computed without any charitable contributions deduction), except that an additional deduction of up to 10 percent of such taxable income is allowed for amounts actually paid to a church, an educational organization, or a hospital qualifying under section 170 (b) (1) (A). There is no requirement that amounts subject to the 20-percent limitation be actually paid, if they are set aside or are to be used exclusively for charitable or other purposes so that they would be deductible under section 642 (c).

(2) A "prohibited transaction" is any transaction described in section 681 (b) (2) (A) through (F), entered into after July 1, 1950, by a trust holding income or corpus permanently set aside or to be used exclusively for purposes described in section 642 (c), with (i) the creator of the trust, (ii) any substantial contributor to the trust, (iii) a member of the family (as defined in section 267 (c) (4), dealing with transactions between related taxpayers) of the creator or of a substantial contributor, or (iv) a corporation which the creator or a substantial contributor controls (within the meaning of the last portion of section 681 (b) (2)).

(3) If the trust entered into a prohibited transaction for the purpose of diverting income or corpus from the charitable or other purposes described in section 642 (c), and if the transaction involved a substantial portion of such income or corpus, the limitation of section 681 (b) (1) is applicable for the taxable year of the trust in which the transaction was commenced and for all subsequent taxable years. See examples under §§ 1.681 (b)–2 and 1.503–1. Otherwise, the limitation is only applicable for taxable years of the trust after the taxable year in which there is mailed to it, by registered or certified mail directed to the last known address of the fiduciary, a written notice by the Commissioner that it has engaged in a prohibited transaction.

(b) Restoration of unlimited deduction. A trust whose charitable contributions deduction under section 642 (c) has been limited by reason of the provisions of section 681 (b) (1) may file, in any taxable year following the taxable year in which notice of limitation of the deduction was issued, a claim for allowance of an unlimited deduction under section 642 (c). This claim shall be filed with the district director with whom the fiduciary is required to file the income tax return of the trust. The claim must contain or have attached to it a written declaration made under the penalties of perjury by the fiduciary (or fiduciaries) that he will not knowingly permit the trust again to engage in a prohibited transaction. If the district director is satisfied that the trust will not knowingly again engage in a prohibited transaction, he shall so notify the trust in writing. In such case the trust will be allowed an unlimited deduction under section 642 (c) (subject to the provisions of section 681) with respect to taxable years subsequent to the taxable year in which the claim is filed. Section 681 (b) (3) contemplates that a trust whose charitable contributions deduction has been limited as prescribed therein shall be subject to such limitation for at least one full taxable year.

§ 1.681 (b)–2 Disallowance to donors of certain charitable, etc., deductions for gifts made in trust—(a) In general. Section 681 (b) (5) provides that no contribution which would otherwise be allowable as a deduction under sections 170 (c) (2), 545 (b) (2), or 642 (c) is allowable if made to a trust whose charitable contribution deduction under section 642 (c) is limited, in the taxable year of the trust in which the contribution is made, under the provisions of section 681 (b) (1) by reason of a prohibited transaction. However, this disallowance is applicable only to contributions made in taxable years of the trust after the taxable year in which occurred the prohibited transaction causing the trust's charitable deduction to be limited, unless—

(1) The trust has been notified in a previous taxable year (in or subsequent to the year in which the transaction was commenced) by the Commissioner, pursuant to section 681 (b) (3), that it has engaged in a prohibited transaction, or

(2) The donor of the contribution or, if the donor is an individual, any member of his family (as defined in section 267 (c) (4), dealing with transactions between related taxpayers) was a party to the prohibited transaction.

(b) Subsection not exclusive. The prohibited transactions enumerated in section 681 (b) (2) are in addition to and not in limitation of the restrictions contained in section 170 (c) (2), 545 (b) (2), or 642 (c). A deduction may not be allowed in view of the general provisions of those sections, even though the trust has not engaged in any of the prohibited transactions referred to in section 681 (b) (2). Thus, if the donor or the fiduciary of the trust enters into a transaction with the trust, the transaction will be closely scrutinized to ascertain whether the contribution is in fact made for the stated exempt purposes.

(c) Example. Under the terms of an irrevocable trust established by A in 1954, the trustees were to pay half of the income of the trust to A's wife for life, and the trustees were given discretion either to accumulate the remaining half of the income for, or distribute it to, a specified charitable beneficiary. Upon the death of the wife, the entire corpus was to be paid to the named charity. The trust makes its income tax returns on the basis of the calendar year. For 1954, A takes a charitable contributions deduction for the amount of the gift in trust to the charity. In 1957, 1958, 1959, and 1960, A makes further contributions to the trust and he takes deductions for those years under section 170 (c) (2). In 1958, 1959, and 1960, B (not a member of A's family) also makes contributions to the trust for its designated charitable purpose and he takes deductions for those years. In 1958, the trust commences purposely to divert to A, the creator of the trust, income and corpus which had been set aside for its charitable purpose and a substantial amount of income and corpus is so diverted by the close of the year 1959. For 1958 and subsequent years, the deduction allowed the trust under section 642 (c) is limited by reason of the provisions of section 681 (b) (1). Both A and B are disallowed any deduction for their charitable contributions made during 1960 to the trust. Moreover, the deductions taken by A for contributions to the trust in the years 1958 and 1959 would also be disallowed since A was a party to the prohibited transaction. If the facts and surrounding circumstances indicate that the contribution in 1957 by A was for the purpose of the prohibited transaction, then A's charitable contribution deduction for the year 1957 is also disallowed since the prohibited transaction would then have commenced with the making of the contribution and the deduction allowed the trust under section 642 (c) would then be limited for 1957 by reason of the provisions of section 681 (b) (1). The deductions taken by B for 1958 and 1959 are allowed.

§ 1.681 (c) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; limitation on charitable contributions deduction; trusts accumulating income.

SEC. 681. Limitation on charitable deduction. • • •

(c) Accumulated income. If the amounts permanently set aside, or to be used exclusively for the charitable and other purposes described in section 642 (c) during the taxable year or any prior taxable year and not actually paid out by the end of the taxable year—

(1) Are unreasonable in amount or duration in order to carry out such purposes of the trust;

(2) Are used to a substantial degree for purposes other than those prescribed in section 642 (c); or

(3) Are invested in such a manner as to jeopardize the interests of the religious, charitable, scientific, etc., beneficiaries, the amount otherwise allowable under section 642 (c) as a deduction shall be limited to the amount actually paid out during the taxable year and shall not exceed 20 percent of the taxable income of the trust (computed without the benefit of section 642 (c) but with the benefit of section 170 (b) (1) (A)). Paragraph (1) shall not apply to income attributable to property of a decedent dying before January 1, 1951, which is transferred under his will to a trust created by such will. In the case of a trust created by the will of a decedent dying on or after January 1, 1951, if income is required to be accumulated pursuant to the mandatory terms of the will creating the trust, paragraph (1) shall apply only to income accumulated during a taxable year of the trust beginning more than 21 years after the date of death of the last life in being designated in the trust instrument.

§ 1.681 (c)–1 Limitation on charitable contributions deduction of trusts accumulating income—(a) In general. If income of a trust permanently set aside or to be used by a trust exclusively for charitable or other purposes described in section 642 (c) during the taxable year or any prior taxable year (including taxable years beginning before the effective date of section 681), is not actually paid out by the end of the taxable year, the charitable contributions deduction which would otherwise be allowable to the trust under section 642 (c) for the taxable year is subject to the limitations of section 681 (c), described in paragraph (b) of this section, under the following circumstances:

(1) If accumulations of income are unreasonable. (See paragraph (c) of this section.)

(2) If income accumulated for the charitable or other purposes is used to a substantial degree for purposes other than those described in section 642 (c).

(3) If income accumulated for the charitable or other purposes is invested in such a manner as to jeopardize the interests of the religious, charitable, scientific, etc., beneficiaries.

Whether the foregoing conditions are present in any case must be determined from all relevant facts. Such conditions may result from the use of a chain of two or more organizations, as well as from the use of only one trust. Charitable contributions deductions otherwise allowable under section 170, 545 (b) (2), or 642 (c) for contributions to a trust are not disallowed solely because the trust is subject to the provisions of section 681 (c).

(b) Extent of limitation. If a trust is subject to the limitations of section 681 (c) for any taxable year, the charitable deduction which would otherwise be allowable to the trust under section 642 (c) is limited to amounts actually paid out during the taxable year, and is limited to 20 percent of the taxable income of the trust (computed without any charitable deduction), except that an additional deduction of up to 10 percent of such taxable income is allowed for amounts actually paid to a church, an educational organization or a hospital qualifying under section 170 (b) (1) (A).

(c) Unreasonable accumulations. Accumulations of income for a charitable or other purpose described in section 642 (c) are unreasonable when more income is accumulated than is needed, or when the duration of the accumulation is longer than is needed, in order to carry out the charitable or other purpose for which the income was set aside. If the gain upon the sale or exchange of property held for the production of investment income, such as dividends, interest, and rents, is not within a reasonable time reinvested in property acquired and held in good faith for the production of investment income, the gain (except the gain upon the sale or exchange of a donated asset to the extent that the gain represents the excess of the fair market value of the asset when acquired by the trust over its substituted basis in the hands of the trust) will be considered income for the purposes of this section. The limitation of section 681 (c) (1) upon trusts unreasonably accumulating income does not apply to a testamentary trust created by a decedent dying before January 1, 1951, except to the extent that its income is attributable to property transferred to the trust by some one other than the decedent. Further, the limitation of section 681 (c) (1) does not apply to income accumulated pursuant to the mandatory terms of testamentary trusts created by decedents dying on or after January 1, 1951, except as to income accumulated during a taxable year beginning more than 21 years after the death of the last life in being designated in the trust instrument.

(d) Restoration of unlimited deduction. A trust whose charitable contributions deduction under section 642 (c) has been limited by reason of the provisions of section 681 (c) may file a claim for allowance of unlimited deduction under section 642 (c). This claim shall be filed with the district director with whom the fiduciary is required to file the income tax return of the trust. The claim must contain or be accompanied by information or evidence showing that the circumstances that brought about the application of section 681 (c) no longer exist, and a written declaration made under the penalties of perjury by the fiduciary (or fiduciaries) that he will not knowingly permit the trust again to violate the terms of such section. Section 681 (c) contemplates that a trust whose charitable, etc., deduction has been limited as prescribed therein shall be subject to such limitation for at least one full taxable year.

§ 1.681 (d) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; disallowance of certain charitable contributions deductions; cross reference.

SEC. 681. Limitation on charitable deduction. • • •

(d) Cross reference. For disallowance of certain charitable, etc., deductions otherwise allowable under section 642 (c), see section 503 (e).

§ 1.681 (d)–1 Disallowance of certain charitable contributions deductions. For disallowance of certain charitable contributions deductions otherwise allowable under section 642 (c), see section 503 (e) and the regulations thereunder.

§ 1.682 (a) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; income of an estate or trust in case of divorce; inclusion in gross income of wife.

SEC. 682. Income of an estate or trust in case of divorce, etc.—(a) Inclusion in gross income of wife. There shall be included in the gross income of a wife who is divorced or legally separated under a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance (or who is separated from her husband under a written separation agreement) the amount of the income of any trust which such wife is entitled to receive and which, except for this section, would be includible in the gross income of her husband, and such amount shall not, despite any other provision of this subtitle, be includible in the gross income of such husband. This subsection shall not apply to that part of any such income of the trust which the terms of the decree, written separation agreement, or trust instrument fix, in terms of an amount of money or a portion of such income, as a sum which is payable for the support of minor children of such husband. In case such income is less than the amount specified in the decree, agreement, or instrument, for the purpose of applying the preceding sentence, such income, to the extent of such sum payable for such support, shall be considered a payment for such support.

§ 1.682 (a)–1 Income of trust in case of divorce, etc.—(a) In general. (1) Section 682 (a) provides rules in certain cases for determining the taxability of income of trusts as between spouses who are divorced, or who are separated under a decree of separate maintenance or a written separation agreement. In such cases, the spouse actually entitled to receive payments from the trust is considered the beneficiary rather than the spouse in discharge of whose obligations the payments are made, except to the extent that the payments are specified to be for the support of the obligor spouse's minor children in the divorce or separate maintenance decree, the separation agreement or the governing trust instrument. For convenience, the beneficiary spouse will hereafter in this section and in § 1.682 (b)–1 be referred to as the "wife" and the obligor spouse from whom she is divorced or legally separated as the "husband". (See section 7701 (a) (17).) Thus, under section 682 (a) income of a trust—

(i) Which is paid, credited, or required to be distributed to the wife in a taxable year of the wife, and

(ii) Which, except for the provisions of section 682, would be includible in the gross income of her husband, is includible in her gross income and is not includible in his gross income.

(2) Section 682 (a) does not apply in any case to which section 71 applies. Although section 682 (a) and section 71 seemingly cover some of the same situations, there are important differences between them. Thus, section 682 (a) applies, for example, to a trust created before the divorce or separation and not in contemplation of it, while section 71 applies only if the creation of the trust or payments by a previously created trust are in discharge of an obligation imposed upon or assumed by the husband (or made specific) under the court order or decree divorcing or legally separating the husband and wife, or a written instrument incident to the divorce status or legal separation status, or a written separation agreement. If section 71 applies, it requires inclusion in the wife's income of the full amount of periodic payments received attributable to property in trust (whether or not out of trust income), while, if section 71 does not apply, section 682 (a) requires amounts paid, credited, or required to be distributed to her to be included only to the extent they are includible in the taxable income of a trust beneficiary under sections 641 through 668.

(3) Section 682 (a) is designed to produce uniformity as between cases in which, without section 682 (a), the income of a so-called alimony trust would be taxable to the husband because of his continuing obligation to support his wife or former wife, and other cases in which the income of a so-called alimony trust is taxable to the wife or former wife because of the termination of the husband's obligation. Furthermore, section 682 (a) taxes trust income to the wife in all cases in which the husband would otherwise be taxed not only because of the discharge of his alimony obligation but also because of his retention of control over the trust income or corpus. Section 682 (a) applies whether the wife is the beneficiary under the terms of the trust instrument or is an assignee of a beneficiary.

(4) The application of section 682 (a) may be illustrated by the following examples, in which it is assumed that both the husband and wife make their income tax returns on a calendar year basis:

Example (1). Upon the marriage of H and W, H irrevocably transfers property in trust to pay the income to W for her life for support, maintenance, and all other expenses. Some years later, W obtains a legal separation from H under an order of court. W, relying upon the income from the trust payable to her, does not ask for any provision for her support and the decree recites that since W is adequately provided for by the trust, no further provision is being made for her. Under these facts, section 682 (a), rather than section 71, is applicable. Under the provisions of section 682 (a), the income of the trust which becomes payable to W after the order of separation is includible in her income and is deductible by the trust. No part of the income is includible in H's income or deductible by him.

Example (2). H transfers property in trust for the benefit of W, retaining the power to revoke the trust at any time. H, however, promises that if he revokes the trust he will transfer to W property in the value of $100,000. The transfer in trust and the agreement were not incident to divorce, but some years later W divorces H. The court decree is silent as to alimony and the trust. After the divorce, income of the trust which becomes payable to W is taxable to her, and is not taxable to H or deductible by him. If H later terminates the trust and transfers $100,000 of property to W, the $100,000 is not income to W nor deductible by H.

(b) Alimony trust income designated for support of minor children. Section 682 (a) does not require the inclusion in the wife's income of trust income which the terms of the divorce or separate maintenance decree, separation agreement, or trust instrument fix in terms of an amount of money or a portion of the income as a sum which is payable for the support of minor children of the husband. The portion of the income which is payable for the support of the minor children is includible in the husband's income. If in such a case trust income fixed in terms of an amount of money is to be paid but a lesser amount becomes payable, the trust income is considered to be payable for the support of the husband's minor children to the extent of the sum which would be payable for their support out of the originally specified amount of trust income. This rule is similar to that provided in the case of periodic payments under section 71. See § 1.71–1.

§ 1.682 (b) Statutory provisions; estates and trusts; income of an estate or trust in case of divorce; wife considered a beneficiary.

SEC. 682. Income of an estate or trust in case of divorce, etc. • • •

(b) Wife considered a beneficiary. For purposes of computing the taxable income of the estate or trust and the taxable income of a wife to whom subsection (a) or section 71 applies, such wife shall be considered as the beneficiary specified in this part. A periodic payment under section 71 to any portion of which this part applies shall be included in the gross income of the beneficiary in the taxable year in which under this part such portion is required to be included.

§ 1.682 (b)–1 Application of trust rules to alimony payments. (a) For the purpose of the application of sections 641 to 668, inclusive, the wife described in section 682 or section 71 who is entitled to receive payments attributable to property in trust is considered a beneficiary of the trust, whether or not the payments are made for the benefit of the husband in discharge of his obligations.

(b) A periodic payment includible in the wife's gross income under section 71 attributable to property in trust is included in full in her gross income in her taxable year in which any part is required to be included under section 652 or 662. Assume, for example, in a case in which both the wife and the trust file income tax returns on the calendar year basis, that an annuity of $5,000 is to be paid to the wife by the trustee every December 31 (out of trust income if possible and, if not, out of corpus) pursuant to the terms of a divorce decree. Of the $5,000 distributable on December 31, 1954, $4,000 is payable out of income and $1,000 out of corpus. The actual distribution is made in 1955. Although the periodic payment is received by the wife in 1955, since under section 662 the $4,000 income distributable on December 31, 1954, is to be included in the wife's income for 1954, the $1,000 payment out of corpus is also to be included in her income for 1954.

Agricultural Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 987]

[Docket No. AO-252-A2]

MILK IN CENTRAL MISSISSIPPI MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.) and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of the recommended decision of the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to proposals to amend the tentative marketing agreement and the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Central Mississippi marketing area. Interested persons may file written exceptions to this decision with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., not later than the close of business the tenth day after publication of this decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. The hearing, on the record of which the proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, were formulated, was conducted at Jackson, Mississippi, on December 15–21, 1955 (20 F. R. 8756). The material issues of record related to:

1. Extension of the marketing area.
2. The type of pool to be provided under the order for distributing payments to producers.
3. Qualifications for market-wide pool participation.
4. Order changes to conform with market-wide pooling.
5. Compensatory payment on unpriced milk.
6. Compensatory payment on sales in the marketing area of milk subject to the pricing provisions of another Federal order.
7. A change in the level of the Class I milk price.
8. The use of a supply-demand provision for adjusting the Class I price.
9. A change in the level of the Class II milk price.
10. Rules governing the base-excess provisions.
11. The inclusion of a provision to permit a cooperative association to authorize deductions from payments made by handlers to producer members.
12. A revision of the location differential to producers and handlers.
13. A change in provision concerning adjustment of accounts to include payments due a cooperative association.
14. A revision of the marketing service provision to provide that such services may be performed by a cooperative association under the supervision of the market administrator.
15. A revision of the classification and pricing provision to include a Class III milk category.
16. The inclusion in the order of a provision directing the market administrator to notify handlers each month concerning pricing information required by the order.
17. A proviso, to be included in the provision concerning payments to the producer-settlement fund, which would require interest on overdue payments.
18. Administrative and conforming changes.

Findings and conclusions. By an expedited decision of the Assistant Secretary, issued March 15, 1956 (21 F. R. 1723), action has been taken with respect to Issues No. 2 through 6. Findings and conclusions with respect to the remaining material issues, all of which are based on the evidence introduced at the hearing, and the record thereof, are as follows:

1. A Federal milk marketing order should not be promulgated at this time for the following counties located in the State of Mississippi: Attala, Bolivar, Carroll, Coahoma, Grenada, Holmes, Humphreys, Issaquena, Leflore, Montgomery, Quitman, Sharkey, Sunflower, Tallahatchie, Washington and Yazoo.

Proponents of the order were primarily interested in justifying the inclusion of these counties, referred to at the hearing as the "Delta" area, as part of the Central Mississippi marketing area. The proposal to establish a separate order for the "Delta" area was supported as a second choice. Relatively little effort was made to justify the promulgation of a separate order for the "Delta" counties. It is concluded that evidence in the record on the character of commerce and marketing conditions in the aforementioned counties does not justify the issuance of a separate order at this time.

Nor should the present marketing area be extended to include the area comprising the aforesaid counties. Regulated handlers do not distribute milk in Attala, Carroll, Coahoma, Choctaw, Grenada, Issaquena, Montgomery, Quitman, Tallhatchie and Winston counties. Five regulated handlers distribute in the remaining ten counties. In Bolivar, Humphreys, Leake, Sharkey, Sunflower and Yazoo counties, two regulated handlers distribute seven percent or less of their Class I sales in all those counties combined. Two regulated handlers distribute in Holmes county. Testimony is lacking with respect to the extent of distribution by one of such handlers. The other regulated handler estimated that approximately ten percent of his Class I sales are distributed in Holmes county. The remaining regulated handler distributes approximately 39 and 7 percent of his Class I sales in Washington county (where the plant is located), and in Leflore county, respectively. The regulated plant located in Washington county is a considerable distance from the marketing area. It qualifies as a regulated plant mainly from the sales of a special type of milk primarily in the city of Jackson. The distribution of milk in the marketing area by this plant represents only a small portion of the total sales in the marketing area by regulated handlers.

Altogether, there are only a few regulated handlers involved in competition with unregulated handlers in these counties; and regulated handlers, with plants located in the marketing area, compete scarcely at all with local handlers in this area. The territory between this area and the present marketing area is predominantly rural. The trade in this area has little relation to the trade in the present marketing area. For this reason, extension of this regulation to this area, at this time, would not be justified.

Regulated handlers do not distribute in Wilkinson county. No evidence was presented at the hearing to justify the proposal that this county should be included in the marketing area. It is concluded that the marketing area should not be extended to include Wilkinson county at this time.

No testimony was submitted by proponents concerning the distribution of fluid milk by regulated handlers in Pike county. No testimony was submitted which would indicate the extent and significance of competition for fluid sales among regulated and unregulated handlers in Amite county. It is concluded that these counties should not be included in the marketing area.

The marketing area should be extended to include Lauderdale, Neshoba, Newton and Clarke counties.

Producers proposed that the marketing area be extended to include these four counties. This territory is located approximately northeast of the present marketing area. Regulated handlers are in substantial competition with unregulated handlers in the area recommended for inclusion. Plants located at Meridian and Newton (in Lauderdale and Newton counties, respectively) distribute fluid milk in the present marketing area and are regulated. In Newton county, regulated handlers distribute most of the Class I sales to consumers. In Lauderdale and Neshoba counties, regulated handlers distribute about 50 percent of the Class I sales in that area. Regulated handlers have experienced severe price competition from unregulated handlers. All milk sold in Clarke county is distributed by regulated handlers. No additional regulation would be involved by including this county in the marketing area. It is concluded that the marketing area should be extended to include Lauderdale, Neshoba, Newton and Clarke counties.

The marketing area should also be extended to include the counties of Adams, Jefferson, Lincoln, Franklin and the remainder of Lawrence county (Beats 1, 2 and 3).

Regulated handlers distribute fluid milk in these counties. The largest concentration of such distribution occurs in Adams and Lincoln counties where one regulated handler, among others, disposes of approximately 16 percent of his Class I sales in that area. Another regulated handler distributes approximately 12 percent of his Class I sales in an area which includes Jefferson, Lawrence and Lincoln counties. It is recommended that Franklin county be included in the marketing area, in order to establish a contiguous area, and to assure handlers, who may become regulated as a result of the area extension cited above, that their costs for milk distributed in Franklin county will be on a competitive basis.

It was also proposed that Beat 5 of Forrest county be deleted from the present marketing area. By a decision issued by the Acting Secretary of Agriculture on September 3, 1954, this area was included in the Central Mississippi marketing area. Official notice is hereby taken of said decision (19 F. R. 5820). Beat 5 is part of the regularly established trade area of regulated handlers located in Forrest county. It is located only 14 miles from the plant of a regulated handler. Marketing conditions in the area proposed for deletion have changed little if at all since the hearing held in March 1954. It is concluded that Beat 5 of Forrest county should not be deleted from the marketing area at this time.

7. The level of the Class I milk price should not be changed at this time.

The Class I milk price under the order is computed by adding to a basic formula price for the preceding month, seasonal differentials of $2.25 during each of the months of July through February and $1.85 during all other months. The order does not provide for an adjustment of the Class I price in response to changes in supply-sales relationships. During the year 1955 the average monthly Class I price was $5.62 f. o. b. market for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content.

Three proposals were submitted by regulated handlers. Each proposal would reduce the level of the Class I milk price.

One handler proposed that the Class I differentials be reduced to $2.08 during each of the months of September through February and $1.68 during the remaining months of the year. A proviso included as part of this proposal would prohibit the Class I price under Order No. 87 from exceeding the Class I price established by the Memphis, Tennessee, milk marketing Order No. 18 by more than 40 cents per hundredweight. In establishing a Class I price for Central Mississippi pursuant to this proposal, the proponent would not include any adjustment resulting from the action of the Memphis supply-demand provision. If this proposal had been in effect in 1955 it would have reduced the average monthly Class I price by approximately 26 cents per hundredweight.

One of the effects of this proposal would be to change the months during which the respective Class I differentials apply. No showing was made at the hearing by proponents as to why the lower differential should apply in July and August except to coincide with the change in seasonal differentials under the Memphis order. During the 1955 production year, the months of highest seasonal production under Order No. 87 were March through June which coincides with the present seasonal differentials for Class I milk. It is concluded that the months for which the seasonal differentials apply should not be changed at this time.

Another proposal would delete the present seasonal differentials and substitute a differential of $1.75. This differential would apply in all months of the year. If this differential had been used in computing the Central Mississippi Class I price during the year 1955, the average Class I milk price for the year would have been reduced approximately 37 cents. While daily average production per producer has increased since the inception of the order producer numbers have decreased. The proponent testified that his plan has experienced an increase of three percent more milk although the number of producers shipping to the plant has decreased eight percent. This tendency is also reflected in market-wide statistics. Since the inception of the order in November 1955, average daily production per producer increased while producer numbers decreased.

Official notice is hereby taken of the Central Mississippi market administrator's statistical reports of December 1955 through March 1956. The relationship of producer receipts expressed as a percentage of Class I sales for the period November 1954–February 1955, compared with the same period in 1955–56, has increased from 104 to 111. This change does not signify that supplies have become excessive.

Another handler proposal would base the Central Mississippi Class I price on the Class I price established under the Memphis, Tennessee, milk marketing Order No. 18, plus 30 cents per hundredweight. This proposal would include as part of the Central Mississippi price any increase or decrease in the Class I price resulting from the operation of the supply-demand provisions under the Memphis order. A rigid 30 cents margin between the Memphis and Central Mississippi markets without regard for local supply-sales conditions would be undesirable in that it might preclude economic shifts in production based on comparative advantage.

The price changes proposed were generally justified on the alleged necessity to align Central Mississippi Class I prices with those established under the Memphis order only by the amount of the transportation cost between the two markets. Such cost was estimated to be approximately 30–40 cents per hundredweight. The production areas of the Memphis and Central Mississippi orders overlap in the northern portion of the State of Mississippi. At the same time, the production area for Order No. 87 also overlaps with that of the New Orleans marketing order in the southern part of the State. There is no evidence that the difference in the Class I prices under the Memphis and Central Mississippi orders has resulted in an uneconomic shifting of producers between the two markets. In the portion of the production area which overlaps with that of the New Orleans market there has been some shifting of producers to the New Orleans market. Such shifting is of no particular significance at the present time.

Handlers regulated under the Central Mississippi order complained of a disadvantageous position in competing with Memphis handlers outside the Central Mississippi marketing area, particularly in northern Mississippi. Official notice is taken of a decision on proposed amendments to the Memphis order issued by the Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, on July 13, 1956 (21 F. R. 5419). In this decision it is proposed that the annual average Class I milk price be increased approximately 14 cents. When this is accomplished, the situation complained of by Central Mississippi handlers will be relieved. It must be pointed out, however, that class prices are established primarily to supply the marketing area with an adequate supply of pure and wholesome milk. This has been accomplished at the present price level. The present price level was originally established to take into consideration the relationship of the Central Mississippi market with the New Orleans market as well as its relationship with the Memphis market. The price relationship which has been maintained among the three markets has caused no uneconomic shifts of milk supplies. It is concluded that the Class I price level should not be changed at this time.

Producers proposed that the price for Class I milk, which is received at a fluid milk plant directly from farms on bulk tank pickup routes, or bulk tank shipments received at distributing plants from supply plants, should be 30 cents per hundredweight above the regularly established Class I milk price. While the proposal included bulk farm tanks, the evidence presented at the hearing primarily concerned receipts at distributing plants of milk in bulk tanks from supply plants.

This proposal was offered by the major milk producers' association in the area to offset a practice adopted by some handlers in the market. Such handlers closed down their receiving facilities for direct-shipped milk in producers' cans. Needed supplies were obtained in bulk tank, generally from another producers' cooperative supplying the market. Handlers operating in this manner, paying only the Class I price for milk, are relieved of the cost of receiving milk from producers in cans. The seller absorbs the cost of receiving, cooling and transporting such milk to the handler's plant. The intent of the producers' proposals would be to equalize the cost of milk to handlers whether it is received in cans or in bulk as described.

Effective April 1, 1956, a market-wide pool was provided for the Central Mississippi market. This action requires all regulated handlers (including cooperatives operating as handlers) to account to the pool at the class prices for Class I sales. The returns from Class I sales are then equalized among all producers serving the market. If the members of the cooperative elect to accept a lower blend price by absorbing the hauling and handling costs on such milk, the order does not prevent such action. Since the returns from Class I sales are equalized among all producers, as defined in the order, under a market-wide pool, and since it is recommended elsewhere herein that the Class II price be increased, an operating cooperative may not be as easily induced as under an individual-handler pool to absorb hauling and handling costs in supplying proprietary handlers with bulk milk. It should be noted that the situation described has occurred in other Federal order markets without the necessity of establishing a differential as proposed. It is concluded that the adoption of the proposal to add 30 cents per hundredweight to the Class I price for milk received at a fluid milk plant in bulk tanks would not be appropriate at this time.

8. The use of a supply-demand adjustor in conjunction with the computation of the Class I price should not be adopted at this time.

Producers proposed that the order provide for a supply-demand adjustor to increase or decrease the Class I milk price depending on the relationship of supplies to sales.

The order under which the Central Mississippi milk marketing area operates became effective in November 1954. At the time of the hearing held December 1955, the order had been in operation just over a year. Data concerning supply-sales relationships are available for this period only. This is a short period on which to base the operation of a supply-demand adjustor. For this reason a supply-demand adjustor should not be established at this time. The present method of computing the Class I milk price should be terminated 18 months after the effective date of this amendment. Before such termination is accomplished, however, a new hearing should be convened primarily for the purpose considering the level of the Class I milk price, including an appropriate supply-demand adjustor.

9. The Class II milk price should be increased by adding a differential of 10 cents in computing the Class II price during the months of March through June and 20 cents during all other months.

Producers proposed that the method of computing the price for Class II milk should be changed. At the present time, the price for Class II milk is determined by computing an average of prices reported to the market administrator for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content at five Mississippi milk manufacturing plants. During the year 1955, the average monthly Class II price under Order No. 87 was $2.96 per hundredweight for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content.

Producers proposed that the present method of computing the Class II milk price should be retained for each of the months of March through June. For all other months, it was proposed that the Class II milk price be the local milk manufacturing plant price pursuant to § 987.50 (c) of the present order, or the butter-powder portion of the present basic formula price less 20 cents, whichever is higher.

In the eight months of the order preceding the hearing the proposed change would have increased the Class II price an average of 32 cents per hundredweight. The average monthly Class II price on an annual basis would have been increased approximately 20 cents.

Producers based their proposal on evidence that handlers who diverted milk during the period March through June 1955 received a premium of 20 cents per hundredweight over the New Orleans Class II price. One Central Mississippi handler received premiums ranging from 10 to 20 cents per hundredweight on surplus milk sold to two manufacturing plants in Louisiana. A producer representative testified that at least one plant in the Central Mississippi area is willing to pay a 35 cent premium for Grade A milk procured for manufacturing purposes. Producers contend that since such milk was diverted, and not received or otherwise handled by Central Mississippi handlers, the premiums received should have accrued to producers. The major milk producers' association in the Central Mississippi market can obtain outlets for Class II milk at the proposed price level. If a regulated handler chooses to keep milk, which might otherwise be diverted, such milk is worth at least what can be obtained for it by diversion.

Unless the Class II price is increased under the market-wide pool, handlers might be encouraged to accept increased production in order to obtain whatever premium accrues to diverted milk. A higher Class II price under the market-wide pool already established as the result of this hearing would assist in shifting milk where needed among handlers regulated by Order No. 87. The present Class II price level has encouraged some handlers in the Central Mississippi area to develop increasing supplies of Grade A milk for the purpose of utilizing such milk in Class II products. Under an individual-handler pool this is a choice which a handler may make on his own initiative knowing that his blend price will be influenced accordingly. Under a market-wide pool, however, with a market-wide uniform price, a Class II price level which encouraged handlers to procure Grade A supplies for Class II use needlessly dissipates returns to producers.

It is concluded that the Class II price level recommended will reflect the additional value accruing to surplus Grade A milk in the Central Mississippi marketing area as established by the hearing record. The Class II price level recommended will also assure producers that returns computed under the recently established market-wide pool will not be needlessly reduced.

10. The base provisions of the order should be amended to clarify them and liberalize base transfers. The order presently provides that the entire base of a producer may be transferred to another person only under conditions involving death, retirement or entry into military service, and joint holdings which are terminated.

A cooperative association of milk producers proposed that the order be amended to allow a producer to transfer his entire base to another person or to the producer association. This association also proposed that all bases of members be credited in one lump sum to the cooperative association.

The primary objective of the base-excess plan in the order is to provide a means whereby each producer may share in the net proceeds from milk on the basis of his individual production record during the normal short period of production. If the base of member producers were credited to the association or transferred to the association, the base-excess plan would not function uniformly in encouraging level production and in the determination of plant prices for members and non-members.

The record indicates that the base rules on transfer of bases should be liberalized. Producers point out that many occasions have arisen in the past when a producer had to dispose of his herd on short notice due to death in the family or bad health of the operator. An amendment to the order to provide that a producer may transfer his earned base to another person by notifying the market administrator in writing on or before the last day of the month in which the transfer is to be effective would, in such hardship cases, prevent any financial loss to the producer in disposing of his herd.

Present provisions of the order provide that a daily base is computed by dividing all deliveries of a producer made to a handler by the number of days from the first day shipment was made on or after September 1st through January 31st, but not less than 120 days. A cooperative association of milk producers proposed that the daily base be computed by dividing deliveries to a handler by the total number of days in the base forming period. This proposal would unduly restrict the entrance on the market of new producers. New producers would have to enter the market during the month of August or on the first day of September to avoid being penalized in the formation of their base. The present provision of the order provides reasonable protection to producers supplying the market and also allows new producers to enter the market on an equitable basis.

A cooperative association of producers proposed a change in the computation of a producer's delivered base. The present order provides that a producer's delivered base be computed by multiplying the base of each producer by the number of days such producer's milk was received by a handler during the month. The record indicates that there is considerable producer milk delivered to handlers on an every-other-day basis or at infrequent intervals. This provision should be changed to provide that a producer's delivered base be computed by multiplying the daily base by the number of days' production delivered by a producer to such handlers.

11. The proposal to allow a cooperative association to authorized deductions from payments made by handlers to producers should not be adopted.

The Mississippi Milk Producers Association proposed that the payment provisions of the order be amended to permit a cooperative association to authorize proper deductions in writing from handlers' payments to producers. The order now provides that each handler may withhold proper deductions authorized by the producer to whom payment is made pursuant to the order.

The association justified the proposal on the basis that a provision of this nature would permit a cooperative to authorize deductions, which would cover the costs of diverting milk. In this connection it should be pointed out that this proposal was submitted in addition to a proposal which would permit diversions by cooperatives only. With the market-wide pool made effective April 1, 1956, diversion by handlers was authorized.

The payment provisions of the order now authorize a cooperative association to receive payment from handlers for its members. This would permit the cooperative, if it chose, to receive payments from handlers and reblend to its members, taking into account the transactions resulting from diversions handled by the cooperative. There is no need at this time to include in the order any additional provisions which would authorize a cooperative to deduct costs involved in diverting milk. It is concluded therefore that the proposal should not be adopted.

12. The basis for determining location adjustments to handlers and producers should be changed.

Order No. 87 presently provides a location adjustment differential to handlers in the amount of 10 cents per hundredweight of milk received from producers at a pool plant located outside the marketing area and 50 miles or more from the State Capitol Building, Jackson, Mississippi, when the milk is moved to another pool plant and assigned to Class I or otherwise classified as Class I milk at the plant first receiving the milk. A location adjustment differential of 10 cents per hundredweight applies to all producer milk received at a pool plant located outside the marketing area and 50 miles or more from the State Capitol Building.

There were two proposals offered at the hearing which would alter the present pattern of location differentials. A cooperative association proposed that the location differentials to handlers and producers be made to apply at pool plants located 60 miles or more from the edge of the marketing area. This proposal did not offer to change the present single rate of 10 cents per hundredweight.

A regulated handler proposed that location differentials to handlers and producers be allowed at pool plants located 40 miles or more from the State Capitol Building irrespective of the plant's location with respect to the marketing area. It was further proposed that the amount of the adjustment be raised from 10 to 20 cents per hundredweight.

Elsewhere in this decision certain changes in the Central Mississippi milk marketing area are recommended which would increase the size of the marketing area. The major change in this regard is the proposed addition of the Meridian, Mississippi, area to the marketing area. The marketing area would thus include three important urban areas. These are Jackson, Meridian, and Hattiesburg, Mississippi. These cities are almost equidistant and approximately 100 miles from each other. In addition, the inclusion of Adams county will establish the city of Natchez as part of the marketing area.

Location differentials should be designed so as to reflect costs of moving milk from production areas to the principal distribution areas. In a milk marketing area built around a single metropolitan area the problem is more easily resolved in an area like Central Mississippi which embraces several sales and distribution areas.

It is recommended that the points from which location differentials shall be calculated be changed from the present point (State Capitol, Jackson, Mississippi) to locations which will be equitable from the standpoint of milk moved into the Meridian and Hattiesburg areas as well as the Jackson area. This may be achieved by basing location differentials for any plant on its distance from Jackson, Meridian, or Hattiesburg, whichever is closest. In order to assure that handlers in the southwestern portion of the marketing area, notably Natchez and Brookhaven, will be on a competitive basis with other regulated handlers in the marketing area, it is recommended that the city of Meadville, in Franklin County, be included as a basing point for the purpose of determining location adjustments. This would make the location differential for any plant contingent upon its location in relation to the nearest major sales area in the marketing area. It further would give handlers in each major sales area the same opportunity to offset part or all of the cost of moving milk from a supply plant to the area in which the milk is to be processed or sold. At the present time, with the location differential based on distances from Jackson, handlers do not have the same opportunity to receive location credits on milk when it is moved comparable distances. Location differentials based on distances from Jackson, Meridian, Meadville or Hattiesburg would provide location differentials more uniformly applicable to all handlers in the market.

A market-wide pool was made effective for the Central Mississippi market on April 1, 1956. In order to allow for the cost of moving Class I milk from distant plants which may become eligible under the new pooling arrangement as regular sources of supply for the Central Mississippi market, it is necessary to establish the Class I price for milk delivered to plants in the marketing area, and then provide a schedule of deductions from the Class I milk price as location differentials or adjustments. The type of location adjustment provision included herein is comparable to those contained in Federal orders throughout the nation and in territory surrounding the Central Mississippi area. The terrain and conditions under which milk might be transported to the Central Mississippi area are such that the rates provided herein are reasonable. The recommended rate of 1.5 cents for every 10 miles beyond the base zone will permit handlers to move milk into the market by an efficient means.

13. The proposal to revise the adjustment of accounts provision so that the market administrator, as a result of audit, may notify handlers with respect to money due producers or a cooperative association was automatically made as a conforming change in the amended order effective April 1, 1956 and need not be dealt with further in this decision.

14. There should be no change in the marketing service assessment collectible by a cooperative association or in the method used in collecting the membership dues of cooperative members.

A cooperative association of producers proposed amendments to the order which would limit the amount of membership dues collectable by a cooperative to the seven cents per hundredweight specified in the order and provide that the market administrator would act as collecting agent for the membership dues of a cooperative association of milk producers.

The marketing service assessment provided in the order is on non-member milk and is limited in use by the market administrator to check testing and weighing of non-member producer milk and to providing non-members with marketing information on milk. A cooperative association of producers may collect the amount specified in their membership contract and may provide other services for their members than those specified for non-members. Any restriction on the amount of cooperative association dues would necessarily restrict the activities of a cooperative in marketing their producer milk.

The record fails to substantiate any need for a change in the order to provide that the market administrator collect dues for a cooperative association. The collection of membership dues is usually performed by cooperative associations operating in Federal order markets, and is considered by the Department to be an appropriate arrangement. The cooperative acts as the agent for its members, and operates under a membership contract with them. The collection of dues by the cooperative may be considered a routine procedure in return for the considerations specified in such contract. The proposal, if effectuated would also duplicate work involved in collection and transmission of these funds and cause delay in the cooperative association receiving the dues collected from members.

15. The provisions of the order relative to the classification of milk should not be revised.

A handler proposed to add a new classification (Class III) for any milk not utilized in Class I or in the production of Class II products, and which is transferred or diverted by a handler in bulk tanks or producer cans. It was also proposed that the price for such Class III milk should be the per hundredweight price for Class II milk as presently computed pursuant to the order, less 20 cents.

The handler stated that the purpose of this proposal was to establish a means of recovering, wholly or partially, the costs involved in receiving, cooling and handling milk which is subsequently not used in Class I, nor manufactured into Class II products in his plant. The present practice of the handler is to transfer such milk to any of a number of milk manufacturing plants within reach of the Central Mississippi marketing area.

An adequate market supply of milk for fluid use includes some supply in excess of daily Class I usage. The order provides a Class II classification for such reserve supplies. It is not the purpose of a Federal milk marketing order to encourage the production of Class II milk, beyond what is necessary to assure the market of adequate supplies of Class I milk.

The proposal to establish a new classification (Class III), and price such Grade A milk at a level below the current price for manufacturing milk in order to recover costs involved in receiving, cooling and shipping such milk to a manufacturing plant, would encourage handlers to expand Class II operations without regard to the needs of the market for Class I usage. It is concluded that the present classification provisions of the order should be maintained.

16. There should be no change in the present method of handling producer payrolls under the order. A cooperative association of producers proposed to amend the order to provide that handlers submit payrolls containing individual producer weights, tests and deductions to the market administrator's office by the 6th of each month. The market administrator would make extensions on the payroll after computing the uniform price(s) and return the completed payroll to each handler on the 10th of each month.

The present order provisions require handlers to submit a report of their receipts and utilization of milk and milk products by the 6th of each month. The market administrator is required to notify handlers of the minimum uniform prices on the 10th of each month. Handlers then are required to pay producers by the 15th of each month and furnish the market administrator's office a copy of the producer payroll by the 20th of each month.

Historically the handlers in the Central Mississippi marketing area have computed the producer payroll and paid producers. Handlers have the trained personnel and basic records readily available for computing the payroll. To furnish the market administrator a copy of the basic payroll on the 6th of the month would impose on the handler an added burden of bookkeeping. The market administrator would have added work in computing the payroll during the period of computing pool prices which could cause an added expense.

The present system of handling producer payrolls has operated satisfactorily, and should not be changed.

17. The proposal to add interest charges to overdue payments to the producer-settlement fund should not be adopted at this time.

In establishing a market-wide pool effective April 1, 1956, a section was included providing for a producer-settlement fund to effectuate the equalizing of returns from Class I sales among producers. A section was also included in the order as a conforming change specifying the payments to be made to the producer-settlement fund. No testimony appears in the record, however, to support the producers' proposal to include a proviso to charge interest on payments to the producer-settlement fund which are overdue. For this reason, the proviso should not be included in the order at this time.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. A number of briefs were filed which contained statement of fact, proposed findings and conclusions and arguments with respect to the provisions of the proposed amendments. Every point covered in the briefs was carefully considered along with the evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. To the extent that the findings and conclusions proposed in the briefs are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein, the request to make such findings or to reach such conclusions is denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with the conclusions in the recommended decision.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Recommended marketing agreement and order, amending the order, as amended. The following order amending the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Central Mississippi marketing area is recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which the foregoing conclusions may be carried out. The recommended marketing agreement is not included in this decision because the regulatory provisions thereof would be identical with those contained in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended.

1. Delete § 987.6 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 987.6 Central Mississippi marketing area. "Central Mississippi marketing area" hereinafter called the "marketing area" means all the territory within the following counties: Adams, Claiborne, Clarke, Copiah, Covington, Forrest, Franklin, Hinds, Jasper, Jefferson, Jefferson Davis, Jones, Lamar (except Beat 2 thereof), Lauderdale, Lawrence, Lincoln, Madison, Marion, Neshoba, Newton, Perry, Rankin, Scott, Simpson, Smith, Walthall, Warren and Wayne, all in the State of Mississippi.

2. Delete § 987.51 (a) and substitute the following:

(a) Class I milk price. During an 18-month period following the effective date of this subpart, the minimum price per hundredweight for Class I milk for the month shall be the basic formula price for the preceding month, plus $1.85 during the months of March, April, May and June, and plus $2.25 during all other months.

3. Delete § 987.51 (b) and substitute the following:

(b) Class II milk price. The price per hundredweight for Class II milk shall be the price determined pursuant to § 987.50 (c) plus 10 cents during each of the months of March, April, May and June plus 20 cents during all other months.

4. Amend § 987.81 by deleting all of the section following the colon and inserting in lieu thereof the following "multiply the daily base of such producer by the number of days production delivered by such producer to handlers during the month."

5. Amend § 987.82 (b) by deleting the entire paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(b) An entire base shall be transferred from a person holding such base to any other person, effective as of the end of any month during which an application for such transfer is received by the market administrator, such application to be on forms approved by the market administrator and signed by the baseholder or his heirs, and by the person to whom such base is to be transferred: Provided, That if a base is held jointly, the entire base shall be transferable only upon the receipt of such application signed by all joint holders, or their heirs, and by the person to whom such base is to be transferred.

6. Amend § 987.53 to read as follows:

§ 987.53 Location differentials to handlers. For that milk which is received from producers at a pool plant located 50 miles or more from the city limits of Hattiesburg, Jackson, Meadville or Meridian, Mississippi, whichever is closest by the shortest hard-surfaced highway distance as determined by the market administrator, and which is transferred in the form of fluid milk products to another pool plant and assigned to Class I pursuant to the proviso of this section, or otherwise classified as Class I milk, the price specified in § 987.51 (a) shall be reduced at the rate set forth in the following schedule:

Distance from the city limits of Hattiesburg, Jackson, Meadville or Meridian, Mississippi (miles):	Rates per hundredweight (cents)
50 but not more than 60	10.0
For each additional 10 miles or fraction thereof, an additional	1.5

Provided: That, for the purposes of calculating such location differential, products so designated as Class I milk which are transferred between pool plants shall be assigned to any remainder of Class II milk in the transferee-plant after making the calculations prescribed in § 987.46 (a) (1), (2), and (3), and the comparable steps in § 987.46 (b) for such plant, and after deducting from such remainder an amount equal to 0.05 times the skim milk and butterfat contained in the producer milk received at the transferee-plant, such assignment to transferor-plants to be made first to plants which the location differential is applicable.

7. Amend § 987.92 to read as follows:

§ 987.92 Location differential to producers. In making payments to producers pursuant to § 987.90, the applicable uniform prices to be paid for producer milk received at a pool plant located 50 miles or more from the city limits of Hattiesburg, Jackson, Meadville, or Meridian, Mississippi, whichever is closest by the shortest hard-surfaced highway distance, as determined by the market administrator, shall be reduced at the rate set forth in the following schedule:

Distance from the city limits of Hattiesburg, Jackson, Meadville or Meridian, Mississippi (miles):	Rate per hundredweight (cents)
50 but not more than 60	10.0
For each additional 10 miles or fraction thereof, an additional	1.5

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 8th day of August 1956.

PILOT EXAMINERS

Notice is hereby given that the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics contemplates the adoption of the following revision to Part 418 of the Regulations of the Administrator. Section 418.21 (a) would be revised by consolidating the current designations "Private Pilot Examiner" and "Commercial Pilot Examiner" into the single designation "Pilot Examiner". The experience standards for the new designation would be comparable with current requirements for a commercial examiner designation. The new designation would contain the privileges of both current designations.

All interested persons who desire to submit comments and suggestions for consideration by the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics in connection with the proposed rules should send them to the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Washington 25, D. C., within 30 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 418.21 Pilot examiners—(a) Types. The types of pilot examiner designations issued by the CAA are: Pilot Examiner, Instrument Rating Examiner, and Airline Transport Pilot Examiner.

TOLERANCES AND EXEMPTIONS FROM TOLERANCES FOR PESTICIDE CHEMICALS IN OR ON RAW AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

NOTICE OF PROPOSAL TO ESTABLISH TOLERANCES FOR RESIDUES OF INORGANIC BROMIDES IN OR ON CERTAIN RAW AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES AFTER FUMIGATION WITH ETHYLENE DIBROMIDE

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has requested that action be taken to permit the use of ethylene dibromide as a fumigant in the following programs:

1. The current Mediterranean Fruit Fly Control Program in Florida.

2. The Quarantine Program to prevent entry into the United States of several species of fruit fly from outside the continental United States.

In the Mediterranean Fruit Fly Program, ethylene dibromide is used as a fumigant at the rate of 8 ounces per 1,000 cubic feet for 2 hours at temperatures of 77° F. and above or at 10 ounces per 1,000 cubic feet for 2 hours at temperatures of 76° F. and below. The crops involved in this program are citrus, pineapples, guavas, papayas, mangoes, cucumbers, and bell peppers.

In the Quarantine Program, ethylene dibromide is used at generally the same dose on pineapples, citrus, mangoes, bitter melon, cucumbers, Cavendish bananas, papayas, Zuccini squash, and string beans. Preshipment treatments are made in Puerto Rico, Cuba, Mexico, and Hawaii. Treatments may be made when the commodities arrive at ports of entry into the United States.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture states that the residues of inorganic bromides resulting from the treatment in either program do not exceed 10 parts per million of inorganic bromide. These residues on the crops involved will not constitute a hazard to man.

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 408 (b) and (e), 68 Stat. 514; 21 U. S. C. 346a (b) and (e)) and delegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs by the Secretary (21 CFR 120.29 (a)), it is proposed by the Commissioner of Food and Drugs on his own initiative that the regulations for tolerances for pesticide chemicals in or on raw agricultural commodities (21 CFR Part 120; 21 F. R. 5620) be amended by changing § 120.146 to read as follows:

§ 120.146 Tolerances for residues of inorganic bromides resulting from fumigation with ethylene dibromide. (a) Tolerances of 50 parts per million are established for residues of inorganic bromides (calculated as Br) in or on the following grains that have been fumigated with ethylene dibromide: Barley, corn, oats, popcorn, rice, rye, sorghum (milo), wheat.

(b) Tolerances of 10 parts per million are established for residues of inorganic bromides (calculated as Br) in or on the following commodities that have been fumigated with ethylene dibromide in accordance with the Mediterranean Fruit Fly Control Program or the Quarantine Program of the U. S. Department of Agriculture: Beans (string), bitter melon (Mormodica charantia), Cavendish bananas, citrus fruits, cucumbers, guavas, mangoes, papayas, peppers (bell), pineapples, Zuccini squash.

A person who has registered or who has submitted an application for the registration of an economic poison under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act containing ethylene dibromide, may request, within 30 days from publication of this proposal, that the proposal be referred to an advisory committee in accordance with section 408 (e) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

Any interested person is invited at any time prior to the thirtieth day from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER to file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 5440, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington 25, D. C., written comments on the proposal. Comments may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof. All documents shall be filed in quintuplicate.

Dated: August 6, 1956.

Deputy Commissioner of Food and Drugs.

[Docket No. G-9707]

TEXAS EASTERN TRANSMISSION CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

AUGUST 6, 1956.

Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation (applicant) filed an application on November 28, 1955, as supplemented on January 6, 1956, and June 26, 1956, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction and operation of certain facilities and sales hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully described in applicant's application and supplements which are on file with the Federal Power Commission and open for public inspection.

Applicant requests authority to construct and operate an additional 4-inch tap and metering and regulating station to serve an existing customer at a new location.

Applicant in its original application proposed the same and delivery of up to 5100 Mcf per day of natural gas on a firm basis to joint buyers East Ohio Gas Company, The Peoples Natural Gas Company, and New York State Natural Gas Company, such delivery to be transferred from applicant's Zone C to its Zone D at a delivery point at approximately Mile Post 67.39 in Blair County, Pennsylvania, on the 24-inch Texas Eastern Penn-Jersey Transmission Corporation line leased to and operated by applicant.

In the supplement filed by applicant on June 26, 1956, applicant requested authority to deliver to The Peoples Natural Gas Company through the proposed new delivery point in Blair County, Pennsylvania, up to 7,000 Mcf of natural gas per day instead of the original request which was authorized by temporary certificate granted applicant on January 24, 1956. The Peoples Natural Gas Company is one of the operating companies of the Consolidated Natural Gas System.

Applicant states that this request to increase the quantities to be delivered to the Blair County interconnection is prompted by the necessity of providing adequate gas for more efficient operation and service in The Peoples Natural Gas Company's market area in the eastern portion of its system near Altoona, Pennsylvania.

The Peoples Natural Gas Company has requested that applicant make this additional 2,000 Mcf per day available to it at this point.

Applicant alleges that no additional deliveries to the companies of the Consolidated Natural Gas System are proposed over and above the authorized volume and applicant will encounter no difficulty in transporting and delivering the 7,000 Mcf per day to Peoples without adversely affecting its other service.

No new markets are proposed to be served by Peoples from the new delivery point.

Applicant also states that on June 5, 1956, it filed its service agreement dated May 11, 1956, with the East Ohio Gas Company, The Peoples Natural Gas Company, New York State Natural Gas Corporation, and Hope Natural Gas Company as joint buyer, providing for the delivery of a maximum daily quantity of 326,500 Mcf and an annual contract quantity of 119,172,500 Mcf at 15.025 psia under its Rate Schedule DCQ–C and DCQ–D. The maximum quantity deliverable on a firm basis under Rate Schedule DCQ–C is 319,500 Mcf and under Rate Schedule DCQ–D is 7,000 Mcf. The agreement supersedes an existing agreement providing for the same maximum daily quantity but limiting deliveries under Rate Schedule DCQ–D to 5,000 Mcf per day.

It is alleged that with the recent construction of the Texas Eastern Penn-Jersey line near Peoples' eastern markets and with the growth in load of such eastern markets, Peoples has decided it would be desirable to have a new delivery point in applicant's Zone D even though the deliveries in that zone will cost more than if such deliveries were made in Zone C as at present.

Applicant further states that its proposed facilities are estimated to cost $19,722, which will be paid out of cash on hand, and estimated sales for the year ending May 1957 in Zones C and D are 116,617,500 Mcf for $39,416,160, or 33.7 cents per Mcf, and 2,555,000 Mcf for $924,446, or 36.1 cents per Mcf, respectively.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on September 4, 1956, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application and supplements: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised it will not be necessary for applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before August 20, 1956. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

PROSPECTUS FOR PROPOSED BUILDINGS IN SOUTHWEST REDEVELOPMENT AREA OF DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA; CORRECTION

F. R. Doc. 56–5874 which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER for ten consecutive issues beginning July 18, 1956, is corrected as follows:

In the letter of approval of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget the estimated site cost parenthetically referred to in item 1 of paragraph one was shown as "$75,000"; it should have read "$750,000".

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 22–1909]

HARPENER BERGBAU-AKTIEN-GESELLSCHAFT

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

AUGUST 7, 1956.

Harpener Bergbau - Aktien - Gesellschaft, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of Germany, having filed an application pursuant to section 304 (d) of the Trust Indenture Act of 1939 for an order exempting from the provisions of section 310 (a) (3) of the act, 4½ percent Debt Adjustment Bonds, due January 1, 1970, to be issued by Harpener Bergbau - Aktien - Gesellschaft under an indenture to be dated as of January 1, 1953, between Harpener Bergbau-Aktien-Gesellschaft and The First National City Bank of New York as Trustee and Deutsche Kreditsicherung Kommanditgesellschaft Dr. Alexander Kreuter as Co-Trustee, in connection with Harpener Bergbau-Aktien-Gesellschaft's offer of settlement to be made pursuant to Annex II of the London Agreement on German External Debts of February 27, 1953, between the Government of the Federal Republic of Germany, the United States of America and other countries; and

It appearing to the Commission with respect for exemption from section 310 (a) (3) to permit certain acts to be performed by the Co-Trustee, as follows:

(1) Harpener has outstanding an issue of Gold Mortgage 6 Percent Bonds, Series of 1929, which have been in default for many years. The London Agreement provides, among other things, for the consensual settlement of foreign currency obligations of German corporate debtors by the refunding and extension of such obligations. Harpener is, however, liable only for the repayment of bonds which may be validated pursuant to the Validation Law for German Foreign Currency Bonds of August 25, 1952. The terms of the offer negotiated by Harpener for its outstanding obligations provide for the issuance by Harpener of the above described debt Adjustment Bonds, due January 1, 1970, in exchange for its outstanding validated bonds.

(2) The rights in the security of both the holders of the old and the new bonds are rights in German property, created under German mortgage law and to a large extent dependent upon the interpretation of the German Implementation Law; and such rights in the security should be adjudicated only by German courts.

(3) Vesting of title to the security in the Co-Trustee necessarily results in certain acts being performable by the Co-Trustee. The acts which are performable only by the Co-Trustee relate to the release of property, the reduction of the registered amount of the liens and the disposition of release moneys and such action is, in each case, subject to ultimate control by the institutional trustee.

Notice of filing of said application having been duly given, applicant having waived hearing thereon, the Commission not having received a request for hearing within the period specified in said notice and a hearing not appearing necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors;

It is ordered, That, insofar as the indenture permits the above described acts to be performed by the Co-Trustee, the said Debt Adjustment Bonds be, and the same hereby are, exempted from the provisions of section 310 (a) (3) of the Trust Indenture Act of 1939.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

PART 20—RETENTION PREFERENCE REGULATIONS FOR USE IN REDUCTIONS IN FORCE

REEMPLOYMENT PRIORITY

Section 20.7 (a) is amended as set out below.

§ 20.7 Reemployment priority—(a) Reemployment priority list. Each agency shall establish and maintain a reemployment priority list for each commuting area from which career or career-conditional employees have been separated in reductions in force, from competitive positions on the basis of notices as provided in § 20.6. Each of these employees shall have his name entered upon the reemployment priority list for all competitive positions in the commuting area for which he is qualified and available. The name of a career employee shall be continued on such list for a period of two (2) years, and the name of a career-conditional employee for one (1) year, from the date of such notice. His name may be deleted from such list upon his signed written request, upon his acceptance of a nontemporary position in any Federal agency, or if he declines reemployment to a nontemporary position in the competitive service equivalent in grade and salary to the position from which separated by reduction in force.

Amounts paid on direct loan accounts will be credited on the Finance Office records as of the date of Form FHA–37. Collections received from borrowers who have both initial and subsequent direct Farm Ownership loans bearing different rates of interest will be applied by the Finance Office in the following order of priority to:

(i) In the case of refunds, interest and principal on the note representing the account from which the advance was made.

(ii) Unpaid accrued interest on the initial loan.

(iii) Unpaid accrued interest on the subsequent loan(s).

(iv) Unpaid principal behind schedule on the initial loan.

(v) Unpaid principal behind schedule on the subsequent loan(s).

(vi) Unpaid principal balances on the initial and subsequent loans, prorated between such loans on the basis of the ratio between the annual installments on the initial and subsequent loans.

(2) Insured loan accounts. The Finance Office will distribute the payments between the insurance account and the note account in accordance with paragraph (a) (2) of this section.

(i) Insurance account. Amount distributed to the insurance account will be credited on the Finance Office records as of the date of Form FHA–37.

(ii) Note account. When distributing a payment to the borrower's note account, the Finance Office will apply it first to interest accrued to the date of the U. S. Treasury check issued to the holder and any remainder to principal. Form FHA–282 will be sent to the U. S. Treasury Regional Disbursing Office for inclusion in the envelope containing the check to be sent to the holder. Such amounts will be credited on the Finance Office records as of the date of the U. S. Treasury check issued to the holder.

Subchapter F—Security Servicing and Liquidations

[FHA Instruction 465.10]

PART 372—FARM OWNERSHIP LOANS

SUBPART H—ASSIGNMENT OF INSURED MORTGAGES TO THE GOVERNMENT IN TRUST

Part 372 of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations, is hereby amended to add a new Subpart H, entitled "Assignment of Insured Mortgages to the Government in Trust." Section 372.129, Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (20 F. R. 3493) is hereby superseded; the provisions thereof are revised and incorporated in Subpart H to read as follows:

Sec.
372.141 General.
372.142 Delegations of authority.
372.143 Assigning mortgages to the Government as trustee.
372.144 Assignment of notes.
372.145 Servicing actions when mortgages are held by Government as trustee.

AUTHORITY: §§ 372.141 to 372.145 issued under sec. 41 (1), 60 Stat. 1066; 7 U. S. C. 1015 (1). Statutory provisions interpreted or applied are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 372.141 General. This subpart provides for assigning insured Farm Ownership mortgages to the Government, as trustee, by the holders of the mortgages. The mortgage will be held in trust for the benefit of the holder of the note. When such an assignment has been completed, the Government will take all actions usually performed by mortgagees, including the execution of partial releases, subordinations, and satisfactions. Holders of the notes may then sell them separately by endorsement and delivery without further assignment of the mortgages. Notice of such sales, nevertheless, must be given to the Government. Assignments of insured Farm Ownership mortgages to the Government in trust may be executed by holders of such mortgages when they sell the notes to buyers who have agreed to such assignment, except when the mortgaged property is located in Louisiana or Puerto Rico. Assignments of insured Farm Ownership mortgages to the Government in trust also may be executed by holders who intend to retain the notes, except when the mortgaged property is located in Alaska, Louisiana, Nevada, Puerto Rico, or South Carolina.

(Sec. 12 (c) (6), (c) (7), (f) (1), (h), (i), 60 Stat. 1076, 1077; 7 U. S. C. 1005b (c) (6), (c) (7), (f) (1), (h), (i))

§ 372.142 Delegations of authority. Subject to the policies and procedures prescribed in this subpart:

(a) The Director, Finance Office, is authorized on behalf of the Government to execute required documents and perform other necessary actions in connection with insured Farm Ownership mortgages assigned or to be assigned to the Government in trust.

(b) The State Director and County Supervisor are authorized to take the same servicing actions for Farm Ownership mortgages which have been assigned in trust that they are authorized in §§ 372.2 to 372.8 to perform for direct Farm Ownership loans with respect to partial releases, subordinations, or consents; actions by third parties affecting security; lease of farm by or on behalf of borrower; vacated farms; securing a caretaker; and death of borrower. With respect to such servicing actions, the State Director is authorized to perform the functions assigned to the State Field Representative.

§ 372.143 Assigning mortgages to the Government as trustee. (a) The Director, Finance Office, will advise any holder or buyer of an insured Farm Ownership mortgage who is interested in a trust assignment of the procedures to be followed.

(b) When the Government holds salable notes and mortgages, either for the Insurance Fund, or as Trustee of a State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation under a section 2 (f) agreement, the mortgages may be assigned to the Government in trust in connection with the sale of the notes.

(c) The assignment of mortgages to the Government shall be accomplished by the holder executing an approved form of assignment in trust covering each mortgage. The Director, Finance Office, will provide the holder with the required number of forms and with instructions for completing and executing them. The holder, after executing a form for each loan, will return it to the Finance Office, along with the original recorded mortgage and related documents, such as previous assignments, partial releases, subordination agreements, and water stocks. Any Forms FHA–359, "Borrower-Insurer-Lender Triple Agreement," FHA–38, "Letter of Certification," and FHA–206, "Supplemental Purchase Agreement (Insured Mortgage-Fixed Period)," or FHA–207, "Supplemental Purchase Agreement (Insured Mortgage-Automatic Rewnewal)," will be transferred or retained with the note.

(d) Upon receipt of the executed form of trust assignment, the Director, Finance Office, will forward it, and any prior assignments which have not been recorded, to the appropriate County Supervisor for recording where the original mortgage was recorded. The cost of recording will be paid by the Government. After recordation, the original recorded trust assignment will be forwarded to the holder of the note. The original recorded mortgage and related documents will be kept in the County Office, except for water stock which will be kept in the State Office. The State Director will take such action as may be necessary to transfer the water stock on the books of the company, have the certificates endorsed or new certificates issued, or obtain a new pledge agreement, when required, as the case may be.

(Sec. 2 (f), 64 Stat. 99; 40 U. S. C. 440 (f))

§ 372.144 Assignment of notes—(a) Between private parties. After a trust assignment has been effected, the note may be bought and sold by private holders independently of the mortgage without disturbing the trust. The assignment of the note will be processed in accordance with § 375.5 of this chapter. The original trust assignment and any Forms FHA–359, FHA–38, FHA–206 or FHA–207 will be delivered to the buyer with the note.

(b) To the Government, (1) When a noteholder requests that the Government accept assignment of the note during the 12-month period following the expiration of a fixed period, the assignment will be handled in accordance with § 375.6 (a) of this chapter. The original trust assignment and any Forms FHA–359, FHA–38, FHA–206 or FHA–207 will be delivered to the Government with the note.

(2) When the State Director determines that action will be taken to liquidate a loan through voluntary conveyance or foreclosure, he will request the Director, Finance Office, to require the holder to endorse the note to the Government and to deliver the endorsed note, the original trust assignment and any Forms FHA–359, FHA–38, FHA–206 or FHA–207 to the Government. The Director, Finance Office, will process payment to the holder in full from the Insurance Fund, and assign the mortgage to the Government for the account of the Insurance Fund by executing an assignment from the Government as trustee on an approved form.

(c) From the Insurance Fund to a private buyer. Upon completion of negotiations for assignment to a private buyer of an insured note held by the Insurance Fund, when the mortgage is subject to a trust assignment, the assignment will be handled in accordance with § 375.7 of this chapter. The original trust assignment, any Forms FHA–359 or FHA–38, and any supplemental purchase agreement specified by the National Office, will be delivered to the buyer with the note. The buyer will be informed in the transmittal letter that the mortgage is held by the United States in trust for the noteholder.

(Secs. 12 (i), 13 (a), (d), 60 Stat. 1077, 1078, sec. 12 (j), added 62 Stat. 535; 7 U. S. C. 1005b (i), (j), 1005c (a), (d))

§ 372.145 Servicing actions when the mortgages are held by the Government as trustee. Whenever servicing actions require the consent or approval of the State Director, the County Supervisor will be responsible for informing him that the mortgage is held by the Government in trust for the noteholder.

(a) Security servicing actions will be processed as follows:

(1) Partial releases, subordinations, or consents will be processed in accordance with § 372.4.

(2) Actions by third parties affecting security will be handled in accordance with § 372.5.

(3) Lease of farm by or on behalf of borrower will be handled in accordance with § 372.6.

(4) Vacated farms will be handled in accordance with § 372.7 except that the borrower will be encouraged to sell his farm either within or outside the program for an amount sufficient to fully repay the loan, the transfer of the farm and assumption of the indebtedness by another applicant is not authorized, and the loan will be assigned to the Government before voluntary conveyance of title to the Government or institution of foreclosure action.

(5) Upon death of a borrower, the actions prescribed in § 372.8 will be taken except the transfer of the farm and assumption of the indebtedness by another applicant is not authorized. The loan will be assigned to the Government before voluntary conveyance of title to the Government or institution of foreclosure action.

(b) Any documents signed in connection with security servicing actions will be executed as follows by the authorized Farmers Home Administration official:

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter VII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Form Marketing Quotas and Acreage Allotments), Department of Agriculture

PART 728—WHEAT

SUBPART—REGULATIONS PERTAINING TO FARM ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS FOR 1957 CROP OF WHEAT

REALLOCATION OF ALLOTMENTS; PRESERVATION OF UNUSED ALLOTMENTS

The amendments herein are issued pursuant to amendments to marketing quota provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, contained in the Agricultural Act of 1956 for the purposes of providing (1) for the release and reapportionment of unused 1957 farm acreage allotments and (2) for farmers who underplant their 1957 acreage allotments to preserve their future acreage allotments by making formal request for such preservation of allotments to the county ASC committee within the prescribed period of time.

Since farmers in many areas are now preparing to seed wheat for the 1957 crop, it is imperative that they be notified of these amendments and of any revised farm acreage allotments resulting therefrom as soon as possible. Accordingly, it is hereby found that compliance with the public notice, procedure, and 30-day effective date provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act is impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and the amendments herein shall become effective upon filing of this document with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

The regulations pertaining to farm acreage allotments for the 1957 crop (21 F. R. 1895) are amended as follows:

1. Section 728.720 is revised to read as follows:

§ 728.720 Reallocation of allotments—(a) Released from farms removed from agricultural production. The allotment determined or which would have been determined for any farm which is removed from agricultural production by acquisition in 1950 or thereafter by a United States agency for national defense purposes shall be placed in a State pool and shall be available to the State committee for use in providing equitable allotments for farms owned or acquired by owners displaced because of acquisition of their farms by the United States. Upon application to the county committee, any owner so displaced shall be entitled to have an allotment for any other farm owned or acquired by him equal to an allotment which shall be comparable to the allotments established for other farms in the same area which are similar except for the past acreage of wheat.

(b) Released voluntarily to county committee. Any part of any 1957 farm wheat acreage allotment on which wheat will not be planted in 1957 and which is voluntarily released to the county committee by the closing date established by the State committee for the entire State, or for areas in the State if there is a substantial difference in planting dates for different areas in the State, which shall be the date on which the planting of wheat normally becomes general on farms in the State or area, shall be deducted from the wheat acreage allotment for such farm and may be reapportioned by the county committee not later than the date established by the State committee, which shall be the latest date on which wheat can normally be planted on farms in the State or area with reasonable expectations of producing an average crop, to other farms receiving allotments in the same county in amounts determined to be fair and reasonable on the basis of the wheat acreage for the years 1952, 1953, 1954, and 1955, tillable acres, crop-rotation practices, type of soil, and topography, but without regard to the limitations imposed under § 728.716. If all the allotted acreage voluntarily released is not needed in the county, the county committee may surrender the excess acreage to the State committee to be used for new farm allotments as provided under § 728.719, but without regard to the limitation imposed under § 728.718 with respect to the wheat acreage indicated by cropland, soil type, and topography. Any wheat acreage allotment released for 1957 only shall in determining future wheat acreage allotments be regarded as having been planted on the farm releasing such allotments if wheat was seeded on such farm for harvest as grain in at least one of the three years immediately preceding the year for which the allotment is determined. Any part of the farm acreage allotment may be permanently released in writing to the county committee by the owner and operator of the farm and reapportioned as provided in this paragraph, in which case the farm from which the allotment is released shall be considered as having no wheat on such released acreage for any of the 1954, 1955, and 1956 crops. In determining future farm wheat acreage allotments, the acreage planted for harvest as grain in 1957 of reapportioned acreage allotment under this paragraph shall not be considered. For purposes of determining future State and county acreage allotments, reapportioned acreage will be credited to the State and to the county in which such acreage was planted.

2. A new § 728.725 is added to read as follows:

§ 728.725 Preservation of unused allotments. If the owner or operator of any farm on which the 1957 acreage of wheat is less than the 1957 farm wheat acreage allotment notifies the county committee not later than May 1, 1957, on a form prescribed by the Deputy Administrator for such purpose of his desire to preserve such allotment, the entire 1957 farm wheat acreage allotment shall be considered to have been planted to wheat for purposes of future State, county, and farm acreage allotments. Where notice of preservation of allotment is given under this section the acreage by which the wheat acreage is less than the acreage allotment may not be reapportioned or otherwise transferred to any other farm. The provisions of this section shall not apply in any case in which the amount of wheat of the 1956 or any prior crop required to be stored to postpone or avoid payment of penalty has been reduced because the 1957 allotment was not fully planted.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 8th day of August 1956.

[1026 (Peanuts-56)-I, Amdt. 1]

PART 729—PEANUTS

MARKETING QUOTA REGULATIONS FOR 1956 CROP OF PEANUTS

Basis and purpose. Section 359 (a) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provides that the marketing of any peanuts in excess of the marketing quota for the farm on which such peanuts are produced, or the marketing of peanuts from any farm for which no acreage allotment was determined, shall be subject to a penalty at a rate equal to 75 per centum of the support price for peanuts for the marketing year (August 1–July 31). When the Marketing Quota Regulations for the 1956 Crop of Peanuts were issued by the Secretary of Agriculture on May 31, 1956, the support price for peanuts was not available and the exact rate of penalty could not be included in such regulations. The support price is now available and the purpose of the first amendment contained herein is to establish and include in the regulations the exact rate of the penalty per pound of peanuts for the 1956 crop. The purpose of the second amendment contained herein is to include in the regulations the rule governing the issuance of excess penalty marketing cards. The remainder of the amendment contained herein deals with the records and reports to be maintained by persons who shell farmers' stock peanuts for producers. The regulations are being amended to clarify the procedure to be followed by such persons.

Peanuts are presently being harvested in the southwesterly areas of the United States and it is necessary that the amendments set forth herein be made effective at the earliest possible date in order that the exact rate of penalty may be known to producers who desire to market peanuts, and to buyers who are charged in the regulations with the duty of collecting the penalty on peanuts marketed subject to penalty, and that excess penalty cards may be issued to producers and the records and reports required herein may be kept and made in connection with the marketing of said peanut crop which has begun. Accordingly it is hereby determined and found that compliance with the notice, public procedure and effective date requirements of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and the amendments contained herein shall be effective upon filing of this document with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Section 729.755 (a) of the Marketing Quota Regulations for the 1956 Crop of Peanuts (21 F. R. 3867), is amended to read as follows:

§ 729.755 Rate of penalty. (a) The basic penalty rate shall be equal to 75 percent of the support price for peanuts for the marketing year. The support price for peanuts of the 1956 crop is 11.35 cents per pound, and the basic penalty rate is, therefore, 8.5 cents per pound.

Section 729.748 of the Marketing Quota Regulations for the 1956 Crop of Peanuts (21 F. R. 3867) is amended by adding the following new paragraph (e):

§ 729.748 Issuance of marketing cards. * * *

(e) An excess penalty card shall be issued for a farm if the farm peanut acreage exceeds the larger of the farm allotment or one acre and the farm is not eligible for a within quota card under paragraph (d) of this section.

Section 729.754 of the Marketing Quota Regulations for the 1956 Crop of Peanuts (21 F. R. 3867) is amended by changing the form number in the fourth sentence to read MQ–93 instead of MQ–91.

Section 729.762 (c) of the Marketing Quota Regulations for the 1956 Crop of Peanuts (21 F. R. 3867) is amended to read as follows:

§ 729.762 Records and reports of buyers and others. * * *

(c) Report of shelled peanuts purchased or acquired from producers. (1) Any person who purchases shelled peanuts from a producer shall record the transaction on the marketing card, execute a sales memorandum, collect penalty and report such marketings to the State office in the same manner as purchases of farmers' stock peanuts purchased from producers are recorded and reported to the State office, unless the marketing consists of shriveled, damaged, split, and broken peanut kernels which were produced in shelling farmers' stock peanuts for a producer. Persons who shell peanuts for producers and purchase and retain a quantity of shriveled, damaged, split, and broken peanut kernels which were produced in shelling the farmers' stock peanuts for the producer shall record and report on Form MQ–93—Peanuts the following information regarding each transaction unless the peanuts are identified to the seed sheller by valid within quota marketing cards:

(i) Serial number of within quota marketing card presented by the producer;

(ii) Name and address of the producer;

(iii) Date of shelling;

(iv) Pounds of farmers' stock peanuts shelled;

(v) Pounds of shelled peanuts returned to the producer;

(vi) Pounds of shelled peanuts retained by sheller;

(vii) The penalty rate; and

(viii) Amount of penalty collected.

(2) The CSS copies of Form MQ–93—Peanuts with remittances covering the penalty due on the purchase of excess peanuts subject to penalty shall be forwarded to the State office not later than the end of two calendar weeks after the buyer has ceased the shelling operation. If the peanuts to be shelled for the producer are identified to the sheller by a valid within quota marketing card and the sheller retains a quantity of the shriveled, damaged, split, and broken peanut kernels which were produced in shelling the farmers' stock peanuts for the producer he shall keep such records as will enable him to show the following information regarding each transaction:

(i) Serial number of within quota marketing card presented by the producer;

(ii) Name and address of the producer;

(iii) Date of shelling;

(iv) Pounds of farmers' stock peanuts shelled;

(v) Pounds of shelled peanuts returned to the producer; and

(vi) Pounds of shelled peanuts retained by sheller.

(3) The record maintained by the sheller with respect to such peanuts shall be available for examination in accordance with § 729.766.

Section 729.763 of the Maketing Quota Regulations for the 1956 Crop of Peanuts (21 F. R. 3867) is amended to read as follows:

§ 729.763 Record and report of peanuts shelled for producers. (a) Any person who shells peanuts for a producer and does not retain any of the shelled peanuts shall make a record of the shelling of each lot of such peanuts by executing Form MQ–93—Peanuts showing the following information:

(1) Name and address of sheller;

(2) If known, State, county and farm serial number;

(3) Date of transaction;

(4) Net in-weight of peanuts shelled;

(5) Name and address of producer; and

(6) Pounds of peanuts shelled and pounds of peanuts returned to producer.

(b) The CSS copies of Form MQ–93 shall be forwarded to the ASC State office not later than two calendar weeks following the week in which the peanuts are shelled.

(Sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 1375. Interpret or apply sec. 373, 52 Stat. 65, as amended, sec. 359, 55 Stat. 90, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 1373, 1359)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 8th day of August 1956. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 721; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Wernet Dental Manufacturing Co., Inc., et al., Jersey City, N. J., Docket 6473, July 31, 1956]

In the Matter of Wernet Dental Manufacturing Company, Inc., a Corporation Trading as Hudson Products, and Melvin A. Block, Leonard Block, and Alfred Roberts, Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission—charging a corporation and its officers, with place of business in Jersey City, New Jersey, with falsely representing in advertising in newspapers, circulars, etc., that the drug preparation "Sentrol" was a new and different kind of pain-relieving preparation, would relieve headaches and pains which other analgesics could not relieve, was three times more effective than aspirin, could not cause stomach upset, and that its ingredient salicylamide was the most amazing pain-relieving discovery of modern medicine—and an agreement between the parties for a consent settlement disposing of all the issues.

On this basis, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on July 31 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondents, Wernet Dental Manufacturing Company, Inc., a corporation, trading as Hudson Products, or under any other trade name, and its officers, and Melvin A. Block, Leonard Block, and Alfred Roberts, individually and as officers of said corporation, and respondents' representatives, agents, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of the drug preparation "Sentrol" or of any product of similar composition or possessing similar properties, whether sold under the same name or under any other name, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated, by means of United States mails or by any means in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, any advertisement which represents directly or by implication that said preparation:

a. Is a new or different kind of analgesic;

b. Is more effective in any degree as an analgesic than aspirin;

c. Is capable of relieving severe headaches or severe pains or will have any analgesic effect in excess of affording temporary relief of minor headaches or minor pains;

d. Is capable of relieving headaches or pains which aspirin or other analgesics would be incapable of relieving;

e. Cannot cause stomach upset;

f. Contains or is composed of ingredients which are amazing or new discoveries or which are among the most effective pain-relievers yet discovered.

2. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated any advertisement by any means for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of respondents' said preparation, which advertisement contains any of the representations prohibited in paragraph 1 hereof.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondent herein shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: July 31, 1956.

By the Commission.

DEFINITION OF TERM "MANUFACTURER"

Correction

Federal Register Document 56–6493, appearing at page 6019 of the issue for Saturday, August 11, 1956, was incomplete, the text of the adopted amendments having been inadvertently omitted. This text reads as follows:

This Treasury decision amends Regulations 44, relating to the taxes on gasoline, lubricating oil, and matches, to exclude from the term "manufacturer", as used therein in connection with the sale or use of lubricating oil, (1) a person who merely cleans, renovates, or refines used or waste lubricating oil, or (2) a person who merely blends or mixes one or more taxable lubricating oils with used or waste lubricating oil which has been cleaned, renovated, or refined.

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 314.40 of Regulations 44 (1944 edition) (26 CFR (1939) Part 314) and § 314.40 of such regulations as prescribed and made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 by Treasury Decision 6091, signed August 16, 1954, are each amended as follows:

(A) Paragraph (c) (26 CFR (1939) 314.40 (c)) is amended by adding the word "and" after the comma at the end of subparagraph (1), and by changing the comma after the words "with other substances" in subparagraph (2) to a period and striking the remainder of the paragraph, so that paragraph (c) as so amended will read as follows:

(c) The term "manufacturer" includes (1) any person who produces lubricating oil by any process of manufacturing, refining, or compounding, or any manipulation involving substantially more than mere mixing of taxable oils, and (2) any person who produces lubricating oil by mixing taxable oils with other substances.

(B) Paragraph (d) (26 CFR (1939) 314.40 (d)) is amended by inserting "(1)" after the words "does not include", and by changing the period at the end of the paragraph to a comma and adding after such comma the words "(2) a person who merely cleans, renovates, or refines used or waste lubricating oil, or (3) a person who merely blends or mixes one or more taxable lubricating oils with used or waste lubricating oil which has been cleaned, renovated, or refined.", so that paragraph (d) as so amended will read as follows:

(d) The term "manufacturer" does not include (1) a person who merely blends or mixes two or more taxable lubricating oils, (2) a person who merely cleans, renovates, or refines used or waste lubricating oil, or (3) a person who merely blends or mixes one or more taxable lubricating oils with used or waste lubricating oil which has been cleaned, renovated, or refined.

PAR. 2. The amendments made by paragraph 1 of this Treasury decision to § 314.40 of Regulations 44 (1944 edition) (covering the period beginning November 7, 1944, and ending December 31, 1954, inclusive) and to § 314.40 of such regulations as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (covering the period after December 31, 1954) are hereby made applicable to the periods prior to November 7, 1944 (such periods being covered by Regulations 44 (1932, 1934, and 1939 editions)).

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE, 1954

Chapter I—Internal Revenue Service, Department of the Treasury

Subchapter A—Income Tax

[T. D. 6196]

PART 1—INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1953

TAX ON SELF-EMPLOYMENT INCOME

On February 10, 1956, notice of proposed rule making with respect to regulations under chapter 2 (relating to tax on self-employment income) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (21 F. R. 940). After consideration of all such relevant matter as was presented by interested persons regarding the rules proposed, the regulations as so published are hereby adopted, subject to the changes as set forth below:

PARAGRAPH 1. Paragraph (a) of § 1.1402 (a)–1 is revised as follows:

(A) By inserting a new sentence after the first sentence of subparagraph (2).

(B) by changing subparagraph (3) to read as set forth below.

PAR. 2. Section 1.1402 (a)–1 (d) (5) is revised to read as set forth below.

PAR. 3. Section 1.1402 (c)–1 (e) is revised as follows:

(A) By changing subparagraph (2) (ii) (d) (1) to read as set forth below.

(B) By striking "is not in the exercise of his ministry" from subparagraph (3) (iii) and inserting in lieu thereof "is not considered to be in the exercise of his ministry for purposes of the tax on self-employment income".

PAR. 4. Paragraph (d) of § 1.1402 (e)–1 is revised as follows:

(A) By changing subparagraph (2) to read as set forth below.

(B) By changing subparagraph (4) to read as set forth below.

[SEAL] C. W. STOWE,
Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Approved: August 8, 1956.

DAN THROOP SMITH,
Special Assistant to the Secretary in Charge of Tax Policy.

The regulations set forth below are hereby prescribed under chapter 2 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended by the Social Security Amendments of 1954. Except as otherwise stated in the regulations, the rules are applicable for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1953, and ending after August 16, 1954.

TAX ON SELF-EMPLOYMENT INCOME

§ 1.1401 Statutory provisions; rate of tax on self-employment income.

SEC. 1401. Rate of tax. In addition to other taxes, there shall be imposed for each taxable year, on the self-employment income of every individual, a tax as follows:

(1) In the case of any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1960, the tax shall be equal to 3 percent of the amount of the self-employment income for such taxable year;

(2) In the case of any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1959, and before January 1, 1965, the tax shall be equal to 3¾ percent of the amount of the self-employment income for such taxable year;

(3) In the case of any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1964, and before January 1, 1970, the tax shall be equal to 4½ percent of the amount of the self-employment income for such taxable year;

(4) In the case of any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1969, and before January 1, 1975, the tax shall be equal to 5¼ percent of the amount of the self-employment income for such taxable year;

(5) In the case of any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1974, the tax shall be equal to 6 percent of the amount of the self-employment income for such taxable year.

[Sec. 1401 as amended by sec. 208 (a), Social Security Amendments 1954]

§ 1.1401–1 Tax on self-employment income. (a) There is imposed, in addition to other taxes, a tax upon the self-employment income of every individual at the rates prescribed in section 1401. This tax shall be levied, assessed, and collected as part of the income tax imposed by subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code and, except as otherwise expressly provided, will be included with the tax imposed by section 1 or 3 in computing any deficiency or overpayment and in computing the interest and additions to any deficiency, overpayment, or tax. Since the tax on self-employment income is part of the income tax, it is subject to the jurisdiction of the Tax Court of the United States to the same extent and in the same manner as the other taxes under subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code. However, this tax is not required to be taken into account in computing any estimate of the taxes required to be declared under section 6015.

(b) In general, self-employment income consists of the net earnings derived by an individual (other than a nonresident alien) from a trade or business carried on by him as sole proprietor or by a partnership of which he is a member, including the net earnings of certain employee newsboys and certain employee ministers and members of religious orders. See, however, the exclusions, exceptions, and limitations set forth in §§ 1.1402 (a)–1 through 1.1402 (c)–1.

§ 1.1402 (a) Statutory provisions; definitions; net earnings from self-employment.

SEC. 1402. Definitions—(a) Net earnings from self-employment. The term "net earnings from self-employment" means the gross income derived by an individual from any trade or business carried on by such individual, less the deductions allowed by this subtitle which are attributable to such trade or business, plus his distributive share (whether or not distributed) of income or loss described in section 702 (a) (9) from any trade or business carried on by a partnership of which he is a member; except that in computing such gross income and deductions and such distributive share of partnership ordinary income or loss—

(1) There shall be excluded rentals from real estate and from personal property leased with the real estate (including such rentals paid in crop shares) together with the deductions attributable thereto, unless such rentals are received in the course of a trade or business as a real estate dealer;

(2) There shall be excluded dividends on any share of stock, and interest on any bond, debenture, note, or certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness, issued with interest coupons or in registered form by any corporation (including one issued by a government or political subdivision thereof), unless such dividends and interest (other than interest described in section 35) are received in the course of a trade or business as a dealer in stocks or securities;

(3) There shall be excluded any gain or loss—

(A) Which is considered as gain or loss from the sale or exchange of a capital asset,

(B) From the cutting of timber, or the disposal of timber or coal, if section 631 applies to such gain or loss, or

(C) From the sale, exchange, involuntary conversion, or other disposition of property if such property is neither—

(i) Stock in trade or other property of a kind which would properly be includible in inventory if on hand at the close of the taxable year, nor

(ii) Property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of the trade or business;

(4) The deduction for net operating losses provided in section 172 shall not be allowed;

(5) If—

(A) Any of the income derived from a trade or business (other than a trade or business carried on by a partnership) is community income under community property laws applicable to such income, all of the gross income and deductions attributable to such trade or business shall be treated as the gross income and deductions of the husband unless the wife exercises substantially all of the management and control of such trade or business, in which case all of such gross income and deductions shall be treated as the gross income and deductions of the wife; and

(B) Any portion of a partner's distributive share of the ordinary income or loss from a trade or business carried on by a partnership is community income or loss under the community property laws applicable to such share, all of such distributive share shall be included in computing the net earnings from self-employment of such partner, and no part of such share shall be taken into account in computing the net earnings from self-employment of the spouse of such partner;

(6) A resident of Puerto Rico shall compute his net earnings from self-employment in the same manner as a citizen of the United States but without regard to section 933;

(7) The deduction for personal exemptions provided in section 151 shall not be allowed;

(8) An individual who is—

(A) A duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church or a member of a religious order; and

(B) A citizen of the United States performing service described in subsection (c) (4) as an employee of an American employer (as defined in section 3121 (h)) shall compute his net earnings from self-employment derived from the performance of service described in subsection (c) (4) without regard to section 911 (relating to earned income from sources without the United States) and section 931 (relating to income from sources within possessions of the United States). If the taxable year of a partner is different from that of the partnership, the distributive share which he is required to include in computing his net earnings from self-employment shall be based on the ordinary income or loss of the partnership for any taxable year of the partnership ending within or with his taxable year. In the case of any trade or business which is carried on by an individual who reports his income on a cash receipts and disbursements basis, and in which, if it were carried on exclusively by employees, the major portion of the services would constitute agricultural labor as defined in section 3121 (g), (i) if the gross income derived from such trade or business by such individual is not more than $1,800, the net earnings from self-employment derived by him therefrom may, at his option, be deemed to be 50 percent of such gross income in lieu of his net earnings from self-employment from such trade or business computed as provided under the preceding provisions of this subsection, or (ii) if the gross income derived from such trade or business by such individual is more than $1,800 and the net earnings from self-employment derived by him therefrom, as computed under the preceding provisions of this subsection, are less than $900, such net earnings may instead, at the option of such individual, be deemed to be $900. For the purpose of the preceding sentence, gross income derived from such trade or business shall mean the gross receipts from such trade or business reduced by the cost or other basis of property which was purchased and sold in carrying on such trade or business, adjusted (after such reduction) in accordance with the preceding provisions of this subsection.

[Sec. 1402 (a) as amended by sec. 201 (a) and (c) (4), Social Security Amendments 1954, for taxable years ending after 1954. For taxable years ending before 1955, sec. 1402 (a), as set forth below, is applicable.

SEC. 1402. Definitions—(a) Net earnings from self-employment. The term "net earnings from self-employment" means the gross income derived by an individual from any trade or business carried on by such individual, less the deductions allowed by this subtitle which are attributable to such trade or business, plus his distributive share (whether or not distributed) of income or loss described in section 702 (a) (9) from any trade or business carried on by a partnership of which he is a member; except that in computing such gross income and deductions and such distributive share of partnership ordinary income or loss—

(1) There shall be excluded rentals from real estate (including personal property leased with the real estate) and deductions attributable thereto, unless such rentals are received in the course of a trade or business as a real estate dealer;

(2) There shall be excluded income derived from any trade or business in which, if the trade or business were carried on exclusively by employees, the major portion of the services would constitute agricultural labor as defined in section 3121 (g); and there shall be excluded all deductions attributable to such income;

(3) There shall be excluded dividends on any share of stock, and interest on any bond, debenture, note, or certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness, issued with interest coupons or in registered form by any corporation (including one issued by a government or political subdivision thereof), unless such dividends and interest (other than interest described in section 35) are received in the course of a trade or business as a dealer in stocks or securities;

(4) There shall be excluded any gain or loss—

(A) Which is considered as gain or loss from the sale or exchange of a capital asset,

(B) From the cutting of timber, or the disposal of timber or coal, if section 631 applies to such gain or loss, or

(C) From the sale, exchange, involuntary conversion, or other disposition of property if such property is neither—

(i) Stock in trade or other property of a kind which would properly be includible in inventory if on hand at the close of the taxable year, nor

(ii) Property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of the trade or business;

(5) The deduction for net operating losses provided in section 172 shall not be allowed;

(6) If—

(A) Any of the income derived from a trade or business (other than a trade or business carried on by a partnership) is community income under community property laws applicable to such income, all of the gross income and deductions attributable to such trade or business shall be treated as the gross income and deductions of the husband unless the wife exercises substantially all of the management and control of such trade or business, in which case all of such gross income and deductions of the wife; and

(B) Any portion of a partner's distributive share of the ordinary income or loss from a trade or business carried on by a partnership is community income or loss under the community property laws applicable to such share, all of such distributive share shall be included in computing the net earnings from self-employment of such partner, and no part of such share shall be taken into account in computing the net earnings from self-employment of the spouse of such partner;

(7) A resident of Puerto Rico shall compute his net earnings from self-employment in the same manner as a citizen of the United States but without regard to section 933;

(8) The deduction for personal exemptions provided in section 151 shall not be allowed.

If the taxable year of a partner is different from that of the partnership, the distributive share which he is required to include in computing his net earnings from self-employment shall be based on the ordinary income or loss of the partnership for any taxable year of the partnership ending within or with his taxable year.]

§ 1.1402 (a)–1 Net earnings from self-employment—(a) Definition. (1) Subject to the special rules set forth in paragraph (c) of this section and to the exclusions set forth in § 1.1402 (c)–1, the term "net earnings from self-employment" means—

(i) The gross income derived by an individual from any trade or business carried on by such individual, less the deductions allowed by chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code which are attributable to such trade or business, plus

(ii) His distributive share (whether or not distributed), as determined under section 704, of the income (or minus the loss), described in section 702 (a) (9) and as computed under section 703, from any trade or business carried on by any partnership of which he is a member.

(2) Gross income derived by an individual from a trade or business includes payments received by him from a partnership of which he is a member for services rendered to the partnership or for the use of capital by the partnership, to the extent the payments are determined without regard to the income of the partnership. However, such payments received from a partnership not engaged in a trade or business within the meaning of section 1402 (c) and § 1.1402 (c)–1 do not constitute gross income derived by an individual from a trade or business. See section 707 (c) and the regulations thereunder, relating to guaranteed payments to a member of a partnership for services or the use of capital. See also section 706 (a) and the regulations thereunder, relating to the taxable year of the partner in which such guaranteed payments are to be included in computing taxable income.

(3) Gross income derived by an individual from a trade or business includes gross income received (in the case of an individual reporting income on the cash receipts and disbursements method) or accrued (in the case of an individual reporting income on the accrual method) in the taxable year from a trade or business even though such income may be attributable in whole or in part to services rendered or other acts performed in a prior taxable year as to which the individual was not subject to the tax on self-employment income.

(b) Computation of net earnings—(1) General rule. In general, the gross income and deductions of an individual attributable to a trade or business (including a trade or business conducted by an employee referred to in § 1.1402 (c)–1 (c) (1) or (2)), for the purpose of ascertaining his net earnings from self-employment, are to be determined by reference to the provisions of law and regulations applicable with respect to the taxes imposed by sections 1 and 3. Thus, if an individual uses the accrual method of accounting in computing taxable income from a trade or business for the purpose of the tax imposed by section 1 or 3, he must use the same method in determining net earnings from self-employment. Likewise, if a taxpayer engaged in a trade or business of selling property on the installment plan elects, under the provisions of section 453, to use the installment method in computing income for purposes of the tax under section 1 or 3, he must use the same method in determining net earnings from self-employment. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c) (6) of this section, relating to certain residents of Puerto Rico, and in paragraph (c) (8) of this section, relating to ministers or members of religious orders, income which is excludable from gross income under any provision of subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code is not taken into account in determining net earnings from self-employment. Thus, in the case of a citizen of the United States conducting, in a foreign country, a trade or business in which both personal services and capital are material income-producing factors, any part of the income therefrom which is excluded from gross income as earned income under the provisions of section 911 and the regulations thereunder is not taken into account in determining net earnings from self-employment.

(2) Trade or business carried on. The trade or business must be carried on by the individual, either personally or through agents or employees. Accordingly, income derived from a trade or business carried on by an estate or trust is not included in determining the net earnings from self-employment of the individual beneficiaries of such estate or trust.

(3) Aggregate net earnings. Where an individual is engaged in more than one trade or business within the meaning of section 1402 (c) and § 1.1402 (c)–1, his net earnings from self-employment consist of the aggregate of the net income and losses (computed subject to the special rules provided in this section) of all such trades or businesses carried on by him. Thus, a loss sustained in one trade or business carried on by an individual will operate to offset the income derived by him from another trade or business.

(4) Partnerships. The net earnings from self-employment of an individual include, in addition to the earnings from a trade or business carried on by him, his distributive share of the income or loss, described in section 702 (a) (9), from any trade or business carried on by each partnership of which he is a member. An individual's distributive share of such income or loss of a partnership shall be determined as provided in section 704, subject to the special rules set forth in section 1402 (a) and in this section and to the exclusions provided in section 1402 (c) and in § 1.1402 (c)–1. For provisions relating to the computation of the taxable income of a partnership, see section 703.

(5) Different taxable years. If the taxable year of a partner differs from that of the partnership, the partner shall include, in computing net earnings from self-employment, his distributive share of the income or loss, described in section 702 (a) (9), of the partnership for its taxable year ending with or within the taxable year of the partner.

(6) Meaning of partnerships. For the purpose of determining net earnings from self-employment, a partnership is one which is recognized as such for income tax purposes. For income tax purposes, the term "partnership" includes not only a partnership as known at common law, but, also, a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture, or other unincorporated organization which carries on any trade or business, financial operation, or venture, and which is not, within the meaning of the Internal Revenue Code, a trust, estate, or a corporation. An organization described in the preceding sentence shall be treated as a partnership for purposes of the tax on self-employment income even though such organization has elected, pursuant to section 1361 and the regulations thereunder, to be taxed as a domestic corporation.

(7) Nature of partnership interest. The net earnings from self-employment of a partner include his distributive share of the income or loss, described in section 702 (a) (9), of the partnership of which he is a member, irrespective of the nature of his membership. Thus, in determining his net earnings from self-employment, a limited or inactive partner includes his distributive share of such partnership income or loss. In the case of a partner who is a member of a partnership with respect to which an election has been made pursuant to section 1361 and the regulations thereunder to be taxed as a domestic corporation, net earnings from self-employment include his distributive share of the income or loss, described in section 702 (a) (9), from the trade or business carried on by the partnership computed without regard to the fact that the partnership has elected to be taxed as a domestic corporation.

(8) Proprietorship taxed as domestic corporation. A proprietor of an unincorporated business enterprise with respect to which an election has been made pursuant to section 1361 and the regulations thereunder to be taxed as a domestic corporation shall compute his net earnings from self-employment without regard to the fact that such election has been made.

(c) Special rules for computing net earnings. For the purpose of computing net earnings from self-employment, the gross income derived by an individual from a trade or business carried on by him, the allowable deductions attributable to such trade or business, and the individual's distributive share of the income or loss, described in section 702 (a) (9), from any trade or business carried on by a partnership of which he is a member shall be computed in accordance with the following special rules:

(1) Rentals from real estate. (i) Rentals from real estate and from personal property leased with the real estate (including such rentals paid in crop shares) and the deductions attributable thereto, unless such rentals are received by an individual in the course of a trade or business as a real-estate dealer, are excluded. Whether or not an individual is engaged in the trade or business of a real-estate dealer is determined by the application of the principles followed in respect of the taxes imposed by sections 1 and 3. In general, an individual who is engaged in the business of selling real estate to customers with a view to the gains and profits that may be derived from such sales is a real-estate dealer. On the other hand, an individual who merely holds real estate for investment or speculation and receives rentals therefrom is not considered a real-estate dealer. Where a real-estate dealer holds real estate for investment or speculation in addition to real estate held for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business as a real-estate dealer, only the rentals from the real estate held for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business as a real-estate dealer, and the deductions attributable thereto, are included in determining net earnings from self-employment; the rentals from the real estate held for investment or speculation, and the deductions attributable thereto, are excluded. Rentals paid in crop shares include income derived by an individual as the owner or lessee of land under an agreement entered into with another person pursuant to which such other person undertakes to produce a crop or livestock on such land and pursuant to which (a) the crop or livestock, or the proceeds thereof, are to be divided between such individual and such other person, and (b) the amount of such individual's share depends on the amount of the crop or livestock produced.

(ii) Payments for the use or occupancy of entire private residences or living quarters in duplex or multiple-housing units are generally rentals from real estate. Except in the case of real-estate dealers, such payments are excluded in determining net earnings from self-employment even though such payments are in part attributable to personal property furnished under the lease.

(iii) Payments for the use or occupancy of rooms or other space where services are also rendered to the occupant, such as for the use or occupancy of rooms or other quarters in hotels, boarding houses, or apartment houses furnishing hotel services, or in tourist camps or tourist homes, or payments for the use or occupancy of space in parking lots, warehouses, or storage garages, do not constitute rentals from real estate; consequently, such payments are included in determining net earnings from self-employment. Generally, services are considered rendered to the occupant if they are primarily for his convenience and are other than those usually or customarily rendered in connection with the rental of rooms or other space for occupancy only. The supplying of maid service, for example, constitutes such service; whereas, the furnishing of heat and light, the cleaning of public entrances, exits, stairways and lobbies, the collection of trash, and so forth, are not considered as services rendered to the occupant.

(iv) Except in the case of a real-estate dealer, where an individual or a partnership is engaged in a trade or business the income of which is classifiable in part as rentals from real estate, only that portion of such income which is not classifiable as rentals from real estate, and the expenses attributable to such portion, are included in determining net earnings from self-employment.

(v) The application of this subparagraph may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. A, an individual, owns a building containing four apartments. During the taxable year, he receives $1,400 from apartments numbered 1 and 2, which are rented without services rendered to the occupants, and $3,600 from apartments numbered 3 and 4, which are rented with services rendered to the occupants. His fixed expenses for the four apartments aggregate $1,200 during the taxable year. In addition, he has $500 of expenses attributable to the services rendered to the occupants of apartments 3 and 4. In determining his net earnings from self-employment, A includes the $3,600 received from apartments 3 and 4, and the expenses of $1,100 ($500 plus ½ of $1,200) attributable thereto. The rentals and expenses attributable to apartments 1 and 2 are excluded. Therefore, A has $2,500 of net earnings from self-employment for the taxable year from the building.

(2) Dividends and interest. (i) All dividends on shares of stock are excluded unless they are received by an individual in the course of his trade or business as a dealer in stocks or securities.

(ii) Interest on any bond, debenture, note, or certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness, issued with interest coupons or in registered form by any corporation (including one issued by a government or political subdivision thereof), is excluded unless such interest is received in the course of a trade or business as a dealer in stocks or securities. However, interest with respect to which a credit against tax is allowable as provided in section 35, that is, interest on certain obligations of the United States and its instrumentalities, is not included in net earnings from self-employment even though received in the course of a trade or business as a dealer in stocks or securities. Only interest on bonds, debentures, notes, or certificates, or other evidence of indebtedness, issued with interest coupons or in registered form by a corporation, is excluded in the case of all persons other than dealers in stocks or securities; other interest received in the course of any trade or business (such as interest received by a pawnbroker on his loans or interest received by a merchant on his accounts or notes receivable) is not excluded.

(iii) Dividends and interest of the character excludable under the preceding subdivisions of this subparagraph received by an individual on stocks or securities held for speculation or investment are excluded whether or not the individual is a dealer in stocks or securities.

(iv) A dealer in stocks or securities is a merchant of stocks or securities with an established place of business, regularly engaged in the business of purchasing stocks or securities and reselling them to customers; that is, he is one who as a merchant buys stocks or securities and sells them to customers with a view to the gains and profits that may be derived therefrom. Persons who buy and sell or hold stocks or securities for investment or speculation, irrespective of whether such buying or selling constitutes the carrying on of a trade or business, are not dealers in stocks or securities.

(3) Gain or loss from disposition of property. (i) There is excluded any gain or loss: (a) Which is considered as gain or loss from the sale or exchange of a capital asset; (b) from the cutting of timber or the disposal of timber or the disposal of coal, even though held primarily for sale to customers, if section 631 is applicable to such gain or loss; and (c) from the sale, exchange, involuntary conversion, or other disposition of property if such property is neither (1) stock in trade or other property of a kind which would properly be includible in inventory if on hand at the close of the taxable year, nor (2) property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of a trade or business. For the purpose of the special rule in (c) of this subdivision, it is immaterial whether a gain or loss is treated as a capital gain or loss or as an ordinary gain or loss for purposes other than determining net earnings from self-employment. For instance, where the character of a loss is governed by the provisions of section 1231, such loss is excluded in determining net earnings from self-employment even though such loss is treated under section 1231 as an ordinary loss. For the purposes of this special rule, the term "involuntary conversion" means a compulsory or involuntary conversion of property into other property or money as a result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or an exercise of the power of requisition or condemnation or the threat or imminence thereof; and the term "other disposition" includes the destruction or loss, in whole or in part, of property by fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty, or by theft, even though there is no conversion of such property into other property or money.

(ii) The application of this subparagraph may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. During the taxable year 1954, A, who owns a grocery store, realized a net profit of $1,500 from the sale of groceries and a gain of $350 from the sale of a refrigerator case. During the same year, he sustained a loss of $2,000 as a result of damage by fire to the store building. In computing taxable income, all of these items are taken into account. In determining net earnings from self-employment, however, only the $1,500 of profit derived from the sale of groceries is included. The $350 gain and the $2,000 loss are excluded.

(4) Net operating loss deduction. The deduction provided by section 172, relating to net operating losses sustained in years other than the taxable year, is excluded.

(5) Community income—(i) In case of an individual. If any of the income derived by an individual from a trade or business (other than a trade or business carried on by a partnership) is community income under community property laws applicable to such income, all of the gross income, and the deductions attributable to such income, shall be treated as the gross income and deductions of the husband unless the wife exercises substantially all of the management and control of such trade or business, in which case all of such gross income and deductions shall be treated as the gross income and deductions of the wife. For the purpose of this special rule, the term "management and control" means management and control in fact, not the management and control imputed to the husband under the community property laws. For example, a wife who operates a beauty parlor without any appreciable collaboration on the part of her husband will be considered as having substantially all of the management and control of such business despite the provision of any community property law vesting in the husband the right of management and control of community property; and the income and deductions attributable to the operation of such beauty parlor will be considered the income and deductions of the wife.

(ii) In case of a partnership. Even though a portion of a partner's distributive share of the income or loss, described in section 702 (a) (9), from a trade or business carried on by a partnership is community income or loss under the community property laws applicable to such share, all of such distributive share shall be included in computing the net earnings from self-employment of such partner; no part of such share shall be taken into account in computing the net earnings from self-employment of the spouse of such partner. In any case in which both spouses are members of the same partnership, the distributive share of the income or loss of each spouse is included in computing the net earnings from self-employment of that spouse.

(6) Puerto Rico—(i) Residents. A resident of Puerto Rico, whether or not a bona fide resident thereof during the entire taxable year, and whether or not an alien, a citizen of the United States, or a citizen of Puerto Rico, shall compute his net earnings from self-employment in the same manner as would a citizen of the United States residing in the United States. See § 1.1402 (b)–1 (d) for rules relating to nonresident aliens. For the purpose of the tax on self-employment income, the gross income of such a resident of Puerto Rico also includes income from Puerto Rican sources. Thus, under this special rule, income from Puerto Rican sources will be included in determining net earnings from self-employment of a resident of Puerto Rico engaged in the active conduct of a trade or business in Puerto Rico despite the fact that, under section 933, such income may not be taken into account for purposes of the tax under section 1 or 3.

(ii) Nonresidents. A citizen of Puerto Rico who is also a citizen of the United States and who is not a resident of Puerto Rico will compute his net earnings from self-employment in the same manner and subject to the same provisions of law and regulations as other citizens of the United States.

(7) Personal exemption deduction. The deduction provided by section 151, relating to personal exemptions, is excluded.

(8) Ministers and members of religious orders. (i) For each taxable year ending after 1954 in which a minister or member of a religious order is engaged in a trade or business, within the meaning of section 1402 (c) and § 1.1402 (c)–1 (e), with respect to service performed in the exercise of his ministry or in the exercise of duties required by such order, net earnings from self-employment from such trade or business include the gross income derived during the taxable year from any such service, less the deductions attributable to such gross income. If a minister or member of a religious order engaged in such a trade or business is a citizen of the United States and performs service, in his capacity as a minister or member of a religious order, as an employee of an American employer, as defined in section 3121 (h) and subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, his net earnings from self-employment derived from such service shall be computed without regard to the exclusions from gross income provided in section 911, relating to earned income from sources without the United States, and section 931, relating to income from sources within possessions of the United States. Thus, even though all the income of the minister or member for service of the character to which this subparagraph is applicable was derived from sources without the United States, or from sources within possessions of the United States, and therefore may be excluded from gross income, such income is included in computing net earnings from self-employment.

(ii) For the purpose of this subparagraph, the term "American employer" means an employer which is—

(a) The United States or any instrumentality thereof,

(b) An individual who is a resident of the United States (that is, the several States, the District of Columbia, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, the Virgin Islands, and Puerto Rico),

(c) A partnership, if two-thirds or more of the partners are residents of the United States,

(d) A trust, if all of the trustees are residents of the United States, or (e) A corporation organized under the laws of the United States or of any State (including the District of Columbia, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, the Virgin Islands, and Puerto Rico).

(9) Income from agricultural activity—(i) Taxable years ending before 1955. (a) Income derived in a taxable year ending before 1955 from any trade or business in which, if the trade or business were carried on exclusively by employees, the major portion of the services would constitute agricultural labor as defined in section 3121 (g), and all deductions attributable to such income, are excluded. In case the services are in part agricultural and in part nonagricultural, the time devoted to the performance of each type of service is the test to be used to determine whether the major portion of the services would constitute agricultural labor. If more than half of the time spent in performing all the services is spent in performing services which would constitute agricultural labor under section 3121 (g), all income, and the deductions attributable to the income, shall be excluded. If only half, or less, of the time spent in performing all the services is spent in performing services which would constitute agricultural labor under section 3121 (g), all income, and the deductions attributable to the income, shall be included. In every case the time spent in performing the services will be computed by adding the time spent in the trade or business during the taxable year by every individual (including the individual carrying on such trade or business and the members of his family) in performing such services. The operation of this special rule is not affected by section 3121 (c), relating to the included-excluded rule for determining employment.

(b) The rules prescribed in (a) of this subdivision have no application where the nonagricultural services are performed in connection with an enterprise which constitutes a trade or business separate and distinct from the trade or business conducted as an agricultural enterprise. Thus, the operation of a roadside automobile service station on farm premises constitutes a trade or business separate and distinct from the agricultural enterprise, and the gross income derived from such service station, less the deductions attributable thereto, is to be taken into account in determining net earnings from self-employment.

(ii) Taxable years ending after 1954. Income derived in a taxable year ending after 1954 from agricultural activities (see subdivision (i) of this subparagraph) is includible in computing net earnings from self-employment. Income derived from agricultural activities includes income derived by an individual under an agreement entered into by such individual with another person pursuant to which such individual undertakes to produce a crop or livestock on land owned or leased by such other person and pursuant to which (a) the crop or livestock produced by such individual, or the proceeds thereof, are to be divided between such individual and such other person, and (b) the amount of such individual's share depends on the amount of the crop or livestock produced. However, the income derived under such an agreement by the owner or lessee of the land is not includible in computing net earnings from self-employment. See subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. For options relating to the computation of net earnings from self-employment, see paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) Options available to farmers in computing net earnings from self-employment for taxable years ending after 1954—(1) Computation of net earnings. In the case of any trade or business which is carried on by an individual who reports his income on the cash receipts and disbursements method, and in which, if it were carried on exclusively by employees, the major portion of the services would constitute agricultural labor as defined in section 3121 (g) (see paragraph (c) (9) (i) of this section), net earnings from self-employment may, for a taxable year ending after 1954, at the option of the taxpayer, be computed as follows:

(i) Gross income $1,800 or less. If the gross income, computed as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, from such trade or business is $1,800 or less, the taxpayer may, at his option, treat as net earnings from self-employment from such trade or business an amount equal to 50 percent of such gross income. If the taxpayer so elects, the amount equal to 50 percent of such gross income shall be used in computing his self-employment income in lieu of his actual net earnings from such trade or business, if any.

(ii) Gross income in excess of $1,800. If the gross income, computed as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, from such trade or business is more than $1,800, and the actual net earnings from self-employment from such trade or business are less than $900, the taxpayer may, at his option, treat $900 as net earnings from self-employment. If the taxpayer so elects, $900 shall be used in computing his self-employment income in lieu of his actual net earnings from such trade or business, if any. However, if the taxpayer's actual net earnings from such trade or business, as computed in accordance with paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section, are $900 or more, such actual net earnings shall be used in computing his self-employment income.

(2) Computation of gross income. For purposes of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, gross income shall consist of the gross receipts from such trade or business reduced by the cost or other basis of property which was purchased and sold in carrying on such trade or business, adjusted (after such reduction) in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section, relating to income and deductions not included in computing net earnings from self-employment.

(3) Examples. Application of the rules prescribed in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). F, a farmer, uses the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting in making his income tax returns. F's books and records show that during the calendar year 1955 he received $1,200 from the sale of produce raised on the farm, $200 from the sale of livestock raised on the farm and not held for breeding or dairy purposes, and $600 from the sale of a tractor. The income from the sale of the tractor is of a type which is excluded from net earnings from self-employment by section 1402 (a). F's actual net earnings from self-employment, computed in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section, are $450. F may report $450 as his net earnings from self-employment or he may elect to report $700 (one-half of $1,400).

Example (2). C, a cattleman, uses the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting in making his income tax returns. C had actual net earnings from self-employment, computed in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section, of $725. His gross receipts were $1,000 from the sale of produce raised on the farm and $1,200 from the sale of feeder cattle, which C bought for $500. The income from the sale of the feeder cattle is of a type which is included in computing net earnings from self-employment. Therefore, C may report $725 as his net earnings from self-employment or he may elect to report $850, one-half of $1,700 ($2,200 minus $500).

Example (3). R, a rancher, has gross income of $3,000 from the operation of his ranch, computed as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph. His actual net earnings from self-employment from farming activities are less than $900. R, nevertheless, may elect to report $900 as net earnings from self-employment from such trade or business. If R had actual net earnings from self-employment from his farming activities in the amount of $900 or more, he would be required to report such amount in computing his self-employment income.

(4) Two or more agricultural activities. If an individual is engaged in more than one agricultural trade or business within the meaning of paragraph (c) (9) (i) of this section (for example, the business of ordinary farming and the business of cotton ginning), the gross income derived from each agricultural trade or business shall be aggregated for purposes of the optional method provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph for computing net earnings from self-employment.

(5) Exercise of option. A taxpayer shall, for each taxable year with respect to which he is eligible to use the optional method provided by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, make a determination as to whether his net earnings from self-employment are to be computed in accordance with the optional method. If the taxpayer elects the optional method for a taxable year, he shall signify such election by computing net earnings from self-employment under the optional method as set forth in Schedule F (Form 1040) of the income tax return filed by the taxpayer for such taxable year. If the optional method is not elected at the time of the filing of the return for a taxable year with respect to which the taxpayer is eligible to elect such optional method, such method may be elected on an amended return (or on such other form as may be prescribed for such use) filed within the period prescribed by section 6501 and the regulations thereunder for the assessment of the tax for such taxable year. If the optional method is elected on a return for a taxable year, the taxpayer may revoke such election by filing an amended return (or such other form as may be prescribed for such use) for the taxable year within the period prescribed by section 6501 and the regulations thereunder for the assessment of the tax for such taxable year. If the taxpayer is deceased or unable to make a return, the person designated in section 6012 (b) and the regulations thereunder may, within the period prescribed in this subparagraph, elect the optional method for any taxable year with respect to which the taxpayer is eligible to use the optional method and revoke an election previously made by or for the taxpayer.

(6) Members of farm partnerships. The optional method provided by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph for computing net earnings from self-employment is not available to a member of a partnership with respect to his distributive share of the income or loss from any trade or business carried on by any partnership of which he is a member.

§ 1.1402 (b) Statutory provisions; definitions; self-employment income.

SEC. 1402. Definitions. • • •

(b) Self-employment income. The term "self-employment income" means the net earnings from self-employment derived by an individual (other than a nonresident alien individual) during any taxable year; except that such term shall not include—

(1) That part of the net earnings from self-employment which is in excess of—

(A) For any taxable year ending prior to 1955, (i) $3,600, minus (ii) the amount of the wages paid to such individual during the taxable year; and

(B) For any taxable year ending after 1954, (i) $4,200, minus (ii) the amount of the wages paid to such individual during the taxable year; or

(2) The net earnings from self-employment, if such net earnings for the taxable year are less than $400.

For purposes of clause (1), the term "wages" includes such remuneration paid to an employee for services included under an agreement entered into pursuant to the provisions of section 218 of the Social Security Act (relating to coverage of State employees), or under an agreement entered into pursuant to the provisions of section 3121 (l) (relating to coverage of citizens of the United States who are employees of foreign subsidiaries of domestic corporations), as would be wages under section 3121 (a) if such services constituted employment under section 3121 (b). An individual who is not a citizen of the United States but who is a resident of the Virgin Islands or a resident of Puerto Rico shall not, for purposes of this chapter be considered to be a nonresident alien individual.

SEC. 1402. Definitions. • • •

(b) Self-employment income. The term "self-employment income" means the net earnings from self-employment derived by an individual (other than a nonresident alien individual) during any taxable year; except that such term shall not include—

(1) That part of the net earnings from self-employment which is in excess of—

*(A) $3,600, minus

(B) The amount of the wages paid to such individual during the taxable year; or

(2) The net earnings from self-employment, if such net earnings for the taxable year are less than $400.

For purposes of clause (1), the term "wages" includes such remuneration paid to an employee for services included under an agreement entered into pursuant to the provisions of section 218 of the Social Security Act (relating to coverage of State employees) as would be wages under section 3121 (a) if such services constituted employment under section 3121 (b). An individual who is not a citizen of the United States but who is a resident of the Virgin Islands or a resident of Puerto Rico shall not, for purposes of this chapter be considered to be a nonresident alien individual.]

§ 1.1402 (b)–1 Self-employment income—(a) In general. Except for the exclusions in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section and the exception in paragraph (d) of this section, the term "self-employment income" means the net earnings from self-employment derived by an individual during a taxable year.

(b) Maximum self-employment income. (1) The maximum self-employment income of an individual for any taxable year (whether a period of 12 months or less) is $4,200, except that the maximum self-employment income for any taxable year ending before 1955 is $3,600. If an individual is paid wages as defined in section 3121 (a), the maximum self-employment income is the excess of $4,200 ($3,600 for a taxable year ending before 1955) over the amount of such wages. For example, if during the taxable year 1955 no such wages are paid and the individual has

$5,000 of net earnings from self-employment, he has $4,200 of self-employment income for such taxable year. If, in addition to having $5,000 of net earnings from self-employment, such individual is paid $1,000 of such wages, he has only $3,200 of self-employment income for the taxable year.

(2) For the purpose of the limitation prescribed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the term "wages" includes such remuneration paid to an employee for services covered by—

(i) An agreement entered into pursuant to section 218 of the Social Security Act (42 U. S. C. 418), which section provides for extension of the Federal old-age and survivors insurance system to State and local government employees under voluntary agreements between the States and the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare (Federal Security Administrator before April 11, 1953), or

(ii) An agreement entered into pursuant to the provisions of section 3121 (l), relating to coverage of citizens of the United States who are employees of foreign subsidiaries of domestic corporations, as would be wages under section 3121 (a) if such services constituted employment under section 3121 (b). For an explanation of the term "wages", see Subpart B of the Employment Tax Regulations (Part 31 of this chapter).

(c) Minimum net earnings from self-employment. Self-employment income does not include the net earnings from self-employment of an individual when the amount of such earnings for the taxable year is less than $400. Thus, an individual having only $300 of net earnings from self-employment for the taxable year would not have any self-employment income. However, an individual having net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more for the taxable year may have less than $400 of self-employment income. This would occur in a case in which the amount of the individual's net earnings from self-employment is $400 or more for a taxable year and the amount of such net earnings from self-employment plus the amount of the wages received by the individual during that taxable year exceed $4,200 ($3,600 for taxable years ending before 1955). For example, if an individual has net earnings from self-employment of $1,000 for 1955 and also receives wages of $4,000 during that taxable year, his self-employment income for that taxable year is $200.

(d) Nonresident aliens. A nonresident alien individual never has self-employment income. For the purpose of the tax on self-employment income, an individual who is not a citizen of the United States but who is a resident of the Virgin Islands or of Puerto Rico is not considered to be a nonresident alien individual. While a nonresident alien individual who derives income from a trade or business carried on within the United States, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands (whether by agents or employees, or by a partnership of which he is a member) may be subject to the applicable income tax provisions on such income, such nonresident alien individual will not be subject to the tax on self-employment income, since any net earnings which he may have from self-employment do not constitute self-employment income.

§ 1.1402 (c) Statutory provisions; definitions; trade or business.

SEC. 1402. Definitions. • • •

(c) Trade or business. The term "trade or business", when used with reference to self-employment income or net earnings from self-employment, shall have the same meaning as when used in section 162 (relating to trade or business expenses), except that such term shall not include—

(1) The performance of the functions of a public office;

(2) The performance of service by an individual as an employee (other than service described in section 3121 (b) (14) (B) performed by an individual who has attained the age of 18 and other than service described in paragraph (4) of this subsection);

(3) The performance of service by an individual as an employee or employee representative as defined in section 3231;

(4) The performance of service by a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church in the exercise of his ministry or by a member of a religious order in the exercise of duties required by such order; or

(5) The performance of service by an individual in the exercise of his profession as a physician, lawyer, dentist, osteopath, veterinarian, chiropractor, naturopath, optometrist, or Christian Science practitioner; or the performance of such service by a partnership.

The provisions of paragraph (4) shall not apply to service (other than service performed by a member of a religious order who has taken a vow of poverty as a member of such order) performed by an individual during the period for which a certificate filed by such individual under subsection (e) is in effect. The provisions of paragraph (5) shall not apply to service performed by an individual in the exercise of his profession as a Christian Science practitioner during the period for which a certificate filed by him under subsection (e) is in effect.

[Sec. 1402 (c) as amended by secs. 201 (c) and 205 (e), Social Security Amendments 1954, for taxable years ending after 1954. For taxable years ending before 1955, sec. 1402 (c), as set forth below, is applicable.

SEC. 1402. Definitions. • • •

(c) Trade or business. The term "trade or business", when used with reference to self-employment income or net earnings from self-employment, shall have the same meaning as when used in section 162 (relating to trade or business expenses), except that such term shall not include—

(1) The performance of the functions of a public office;

(2) The performance of service by an individual as an employee (other than service described in section 3121 (b) (16) (B) performed by an individual who has attained the age of 18);

(3) The performance of service by an individual as an employee or employee representative as defined in section 3231;

(4) The performance of service by a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church in the exercise of his ministry or by a member of a religious order in the exercise of duties required by such order; or

(5) The performance of service by an individual in the exercise of his profession as a physician, lawyer, dentist, osteopath, veterinarian, chiropractor, naturopath, optometrist, Christian Science practitioner, architect, certified public accountant, accountant registered or licensed as an accountant under State or municipal law, full-time practicing public accountant, funeral director, or professional engineer; or the performance of such service by a partnership.]

§ 1.1402 (c)–1 Trade or business—(a) In general. In order for an individual to have net earnings from self-employment, he must carry on a trade or business, either as an individual or as a member of a partnership. Except for the exclusions discussed in paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of this section, the term "trade or business", for the purpose of the tax on self-employment income, shall have the same meaning as when used in section 162. An individual engaged in one of the excluded activities specified in this section may also be engaged in carrying on an included trade or business. Whether or not he is also engaged in an included trade or business will be dependent upon all of the facts and circumstances in the particular case.

(b) Public office. The performance of the functions of a public office does not constitute a trade or business. The term "public office" includes any elective or appointive office of the United States or any possession thereof, or of a State or its political subdivisions, or of a wholly owned instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing. For example, the President, the Vice President, a governor, a mayor, the Secretary of State, a member of Congress, a State representative, a county commissioner, a judge, a county or city attorney, a marshal, a sheriff, a register of deeds, or a notary public performs the functions of a public office.

(c) Employees. The performance of service by an individual as an employee, as defined in the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (chapter 21 of the Internal Revenue Code), with two exceptions, does not constitute a trade or business. The exceptions are as follows:

(1) Service performed by an individual, who has attained the age of 18, in, and at the time of, the sale of newspapers or magazines to ultimate consumers, under an arrangement under which the newspapers or magazines are to be sold by him at a fixed price, his compensation being based on the retention of the excess of such price over the amount at which the newspapers or magazines are charged to him, whether or not he is guaranteed a minimum amount of compensation for such service, or is entitled to be credited with the unsold newspapers or magazines turned back, and

(2) Service described in section 1402 (c) (4) performed by an individual during taxable years for which a certificate filed in accordance with the provisions of § 1.1402 (e)–1 is in effect. See also paragraph (e) of this section.

As to when an individual is an employee, see Regulations 128 (26 CFR (1939) Part 408) and Subpart B of the Employment Tax Regulations (Part 31 of this chapter), both of which relate to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act.

(d) Individuals under Railroad Retirement System. The performance of service by an individual as an employee or employee representative as defined in section 3231 (b) and (c), respectively (see §§ 31.3231 (b)–1 and 31.3231 (c)–1 of the Employment Tax Regulations (Part 31 of this chapter)), that is, an individual covered under the railroad retirement system, does not constitute a trade or business.

(e) Ministers and members of religious orders—(1) In general. For taxable years ending before 1955, a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church or a member of a religious order is not engaged in carrying on a trade or business with respect to service performed by him in the exercise of his ministry or in the exercise of duties required by such order. However, for taxable years ending after 1954, any individual who is a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church or a member of a religious order (other than a member of a religious order who has taken a vow of poverty as a member of such order) may elect, as provided in § 1.1402 (e)–1, to have the Federal old-age and survivors insurance system established by title II of the Social Security Act extended to service performed by him in his capacity as such a minister or member. If such a minister or a member of a religious order makes an election pursuant to § 1.1402 (e)–1, he is, with respect to service performed by him in such capacity, engaged in carrying on a trade or business for each taxable year to which the election is effective. An election by a minister or member of a religious order has no application to service performed by such minister or member which is not in the exercise of his ministry or in the exercise of duties required by such order.

(2) Service by a minister in the exercise of his ministry. (i) A certificate of election filed by a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church under the provisions of § 1.1402 (e)–1 has application only to service performed by him in the exercise of his ministry.

(ii) Except as provided in subparagraph (3) (iii) of this paragraph, service performed by a minister in the exercise of his ministry includes the ministration of sacerdotal functions and the conduct of religious worship, and the control, conduct, and maintenance of religious organizations (including the religious boards, societies, and other integral agencies of such organizations), under the authority of a religious body constituting a church or church denomination. The following rules are applicable in determining whether services performed by a minister are performed in the exercise of his ministry:

(a) Whether service performed by a minister constitutes the conduct of religious worship or the ministration of sacerdotal functions depends on the tenets and practices of the particular religious body constituting his church or church denomination.

(b) Service performed by a minister in the control, conduct, and maintenance of a religious organization relates to directing, managing, or promoting the activities of such organization. Any religious organization is deemed to be under the authority of a religious body constituting a church or church denomination if it is organized and dedicated to carrying out the tenets and principles of a faith in accordance with either the requirements or sanctions governing the creation of institutions of the faith. The term "religious organization" has the same meaning and application as is given to the term for income tax purposes.

(c) (1) If a minister is performing service in the conduct of religious worship or the ministration of sacerdotal functions, such service is in the exercise of his ministry whether or not it is performed for a religious organization.

(2) The rule in (1) of this subdivision may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. M, a duly ordained minister, is engaged to perform service as chaplain at N University. M devotes his entire time to performing his duties as chaplain which include the conduct of religious worship, offering spiritual counsel to the university students, and teaching a class in religion. M is performing service in the exercise of his ministry.

(d) (1) If a minister is performing service for an organization which is operated as an integral agency of a religious organization under the authority of a religious body constituting a church or church denomination, all service performed by the minister in the conduct of religious worship, in the ministration of sacerdotal functions, or in the control, conduct, and maintenance of such organization (see subdivision (ii) (b) of this subparagraph) is in the exercise of his ministry.

(2) The rule in (1) of this subdivision may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. M, a duly ordained minister, is engaged by the N Religious Board to serve as director of one of its departments. He performs no other service. The N Religious Board is an integral agency of O, a religious organization operating under the authority of a religious body constituting a church denomination. M is performing service in the exercise of his ministry.

(e) (1) If a minister, pursuant to an assignment or designation by a religious body constituting his church, performs service for an organization which is neither a religious organization nor operated as an integral agency of a religious organization, all service performed by him, even though such service may not involve the conduct of religious worship or the ministration of sacerdotal functions, is in the exercise of his ministry.

(2) The rule in (1) of this subdivision may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. M, a duly ordained minister, is assigned by X, the religious body constituting his church, to perform advisory service to Y Company in connection with the publication of a book dealing with the history of M's church denomination. Y is neither a religious organization nor operated as an integral agency of a religious organization. M performs no other service for X or Y. M is performing service in the exercise of his ministry.

(3) Service by a minister not in the exercise of his ministry. (i) A certificate filed by a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church under the provisions of § 1.1402 (e)–1 has no application to service performed by him which is not in the exercise of his ministry.

(ii) (a) If a minister is performing service for an organization which is neither a religious organization nor operated as an integral agency of a religious organization and the service is not performed pursuant to an assignment or designation by his ecclesiastical superiors, then only the service performed by him in the conduct of religious worship or the ministration of sacerdotal functions is in the exercise of his ministry. See, however, subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph.

(b) The rule in (a) of this subdivision may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. M, a duly ordained minister, is engaged by N University to teach history and mathematics. He performs no other service for N although from time to time he performs marriages and conducts funerals for relatives and friends. N University is neither a religious organization nor operated as an integral agency of a religious organization. M is not performing the service for N pursuant to an assignment or designation by his ecclesiastical superiors. The service performed by M for N University is not in the exercise of his ministry. However, service performed by M in performing marriages and conducting funerals is in the exercise of his ministry.

(iii) Service performed by a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church as an employee of the United States, or a State, Territory, or possession of the United States, or the District of Columbia, or a foreign government, or a political subdivision of any of the foregoing, is not considered to be in the exercise of his ministry for purposes of the tax on self-employment income, even though such service may involve the ministration of sacerdotal functions or the conduct of religious worship. Thus, for example, service performed by an individual as a chaplain in the Armed Forces of the United States is considered to be performed by a commissioned officer in his capacity as such, and not by a minister in the exercise of his ministry. Similarly, service performed by an employee of a State as a chaplain in a State prison is considered to be performed by a civil servant of the State and not by a minister in the exercise of his ministry.

(4) Service in the exercise of duties required by a religious order. A certificate of election filed by a member of a religious order (other than a member of a religious order who has taken a vow of poverty as a member of such order) under the provisions of § 1.1402 (e)–1 has application to all duties required of him by such order. The nature or extent of such service is immaterial so long as it is a service which he is directed or required to perform by his ecclesiastical superiors.

(f) Members of certain professions—(1) Taxable years ending before 1955. For taxable years ending before 1955, an individual is not engaged in carrying on a trade or business with respect to the performance of service in the exercise of his profession as a physician, lawyer, dentist, osteopath, veterinarian, chiropractor, naturopath, optometrist, Christian Science practitioner, architect, certified public accountant, accountant registered or licensed as an accountant under State or municipal law, full-time practicing public accountant, funeral director, or professional engineer.

(2) Taxable years ending after 1954. (i) Except as provided in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, for taxable years ending after 1954 an individual is not engaged in carrying on a trade or business with respect to the performance of service in the exercise of his profession as a physician, lawyer, dentist, osteopath, veterinarian, chiropractor, naturopath, optometrist, or Christian Science practitioner.

(ii) For taxable years ending after 1954, a Christian Science practitioner may elect, as provided in § 1.1402 (e)–1, to have the Federal old-age and survivors insurance system established by title II of the Social Security Act extended to service performed by him in the exercise of his profession as a Christian Science practitioner. If an election is made pursuant to § 1.1402 (e)–1, the Christian Science practitioner is, with respect to the performance of service in the exercise of such profession, engaged in carrying on a trade or business for each taxable year to which the election is effective. An election by a Christian Science practitioner has no application to service performed by him which is not in the exercise of his profession as a Christian Science practitioner.

(3) Legal requirements. The exclusions specified in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph apply only if the individuals meet the legal requirements, if any, for practicing their professions in the place where they perform the service. Thus, an individual who is not licensed as a veterinarian but who is publicly engaged in the practice of veterinary medicine in a jurisdiction which requires that an individual engaged in such practice be licensed is not within the exclusion.

(4) Meaning of terms. The designations in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph are to be given their commonly accepted meaning. Thus, the term "physician" means an individual who is legally qualified to practice medicine, and the term "lawyer" means an individual who is legally qualified to practice law.

(5) Partnerships. In the case of a partnership engaged in the practice of any of the designated excluded professions, the partnership shall not be considered as carrying on a trade or business for the purpose of the tax on self-employment income, and none of the distributive shares of the income or loss, described in section 702 (a) (9), of such partnership shall be included in computing net earnings from self-employment of any member of the partnership. On the other hand, where a partnership is engaged in a trade or business not within any of the designated excluded professions, each partner must include his distributive share of the income or loss, described in section 702 (a) (9), of such partnership in computing his net earnings from self-employment, irrespective of whether such partner is engaged in the practice of one or more of such professions and contributes his professional services to the partnership.

§ 1.1402 (d) Statutory provisions; definitions; employee and wages.

SEC. 1402. Definitions. • • •

(d) Employee and wages. The term "employee" and the term "wages" shall have the same meaning as when used in chapter 21 (sec. 3101 and following, relating to Federal Insurance Contributions Act).

§ 1.1402 (d)–1 Employee and wages. For the purpose of the tax on self-employment income, the term "employee" and the term "wages" shall have the same meaning as when used in the Federal Insurance Contributions Act. For an explanation of these terms, see Regulations 128 (26 CFR (1939) Part 408) and Subpart B of the Employment Tax Regulations (Part 31 of this chapter).

§ 1.1402 (e) Statutory provisions; definitions; ministers, members of religious orders, and Christian Science practitioners.

SEC. 1402. Definitions. • • •

(e) Ministers, members of religious orders, and Christian Science practitioners—(1) Waiver certificate. Any individual who is (A) a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church or a member of a religious order (other than a member of a religious order who has taken a vow of poverty as a member of such order) or (B) a Christian Science practitioner may file a certificate (in such form and manner, and with such official, as may be prescribed by regulations made under this chapter) certifying that he elects to have the insurance system established by title II of the Social Security Act extended to service described in subsection (c) (4), or service described in subsection (c) (5) insofar as it relates to the performance of service by an individual in the exercise of his profession as a Christian Science practitioner, as the case may be, performed by him.

(2) Time for filing certificate. Any individual who desires to file a certificate pursuant to paragraph (1) must file such certificate on or before the due date of the return (including any extension thereof) for his second taxable year ending after 1954 for which he has net earnings from self-employment (computed, in the case of an individual referred to in paragraph (1) (A), without regard to subsection (c) (4), and, in the case of an individual referred to in paragraph (1) (B), without regard to subsection (c) (5) insofar as it relates to the performance of service by an individual in the exercise of his profession as a Christian Science practitioner) of $400 or more, any part of which was derived from the performance of service described in subsection (c) (4), or from the performance of service described in subsection (c) (5) insofar as it relates to the performance of service by an individual in the exercise of his profession as a Christian Science practitioner, as the case may be.

(3) Effective date of certificate. A certificate filed pursuant to this subsection shall be effective for the first taxable year with respect to which it is filed (but in no case shall the certificate be effective for a taxable year with respect to which the period for filing a return has expired, or for a taxable year ending prior to 1955) and all succeeding taxable years. An election made pursuant to this subsection shall be irrevocable.

[Sec. 1402 (e) as added by sec. 201 (c) (3), Social Security Amendments 1954]

§ 1.1402 (e)–1 Election by ministers, members of religious orders, and Christian Science practitioners for self-employment coverage—(a) In general. Any individual who is (1) a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church or a member of a religious order (other than a member of a religious order who has taken a vow of poverty as a member of such order) or (2) a Christian Science practitioner may elect to have the Federal old-age and survivors insurance system established by title II of the Social Security Act extended to service performed by him in the exercise of his ministry or in the exercise of duties required by such order, or in the exercise of his profession as a Christian Science practitioner, as the case may be. Such an election shall be made by filing a certificate on Form 2031 in the manner provided in paragraph (b) of this section and within the time specified in paragraph (c) of this section. If a minister or member to whom this paragraph has application, or a Christian Science practitioner, makes an election by filing Form 2031 such individual shall, for each taxable year to which the election is effective (see paragraph (d) of this section), be considered as carrying on a trade or business with respect to the performance of service in his capacity as such a minister or member, or as a Christian Science practitioner, as the case may be.

(b) Waiver certificate. (1) The certificate on Form 2031 shall be filed in triplicate with the district director of internal revenue for the internal revenue district in which is located the legal residence or principal place of business of the individual who executed the certificate. If such individual has no legal residence or principal place of business in the United States, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, such certificate shall be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue, Baltimore 2, Maryland. The certificate must be filed within the time prescribed in paragraph (c) of this section. If an individual to whom this section has application submits to a district director of internal revenue a dated and signed statement indicating that he desires to have the Federal old-age and survivors insurance system established by title II of the Social Security Act extended to his services, such statement will be treated as a waiver certificate, if filed within the time specified in paragraph (c) of this section, provided that without unnecessary delay such statement is supplemented by a properly executed Form 2031.

(2) An application for a social security account number filed on Form SS–5 or the filing of an income tax return showing an amount representing self-employment income or self-employment tax shall not be construed to constitute an election referred to in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Time limitation for filing waiver certificate. (1) (i) Any individual referred to in paragraph (a) of this section who desires to have the Federal old-age and survivors insurance system established by title II of the Social Security Act extended to his services must file the waiver certificate (Form 2031) prescribed by paragraph (a) of this section on or before the due date of the income tax return (see section 6072), including any extension thereof (see section 6081), for his second taxable year ending after 1954 for which he has net earnings from self-employment (computed as prescribed in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph) of $400 or more, any part of which:

(a) In the case of a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church, consists of remuneration for service performed in the exercise of his ministry,

(b) In the case of a member of a religious order who has not taken a vow of poverty as a member of such order, consists of remuneration for services performed in the exercise of duties required by such order,

(c) In the case of a Christian Science practitioner, consists of remuneration for service performed in the exercise of his profession as a Christian Science practitioner.

Thus, a minister who performs service in the exercise of his ministry and who makes his income tax returns on the basis of a calendar year and has, for each of the calendar years 1955 and 1956, net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more (computed as prescribed in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph), a portion of which was derived from such service, may not make an election with respect to his service as a minister after the due date (April 15, 1957) prescribed for filing his income tax return for 1956, or any extension thereof. If a minister, a member of a religious order, or a Christian Science practioner receives remuneration in a taxable year for service performed in such capacity and the deductions allowed by chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code, which are attributable to the portion of such remuneration which constitutes gross income, equal or exceed the amount of such gross income, no part of the net earnings from self-employment (computed as prescribed in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph) for such taxable year shall be considered to consist of remuneration for such service. See, however, paragraph (d) of this section for provisions relating to the effective period of the waiver certificate.

(ii) The application of the rule set forth in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). M, a licensed minister, has been employed as a toolmaker by the XYZ Corporation for the taxable years 1955 and 1956 and also engages in activities as a minister on week-ends. M makes his income tax returns on the basis of a calendar year. During each of the taxable years 1955 and 1956, M received wages of $4,200 from the XYZ Corporation and derived $400 (all of which constituted net earnings from self-employment computed as prescribed in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph) from his activities as a minister. In such case if M wishes to have the Federal old-age and survivors insurance system established by title II of the Social Security Act extended to his services as a minister, he must file the waiver certificate on or before the due date (April 15, 1957) prescribed for filing his income tax return for 1956, or any extension thereof. A waiver certificate filed after such date will be invalid.

Example (2). M was ordained as a minister in May 1956. During each of the taxable years 1956 and 1958, M, who makes his income tax returns on a calendar year basis, derived net earnings in excess of $400 from his activities as a minister. M had net earnings of $350 for the taxable year 1957, $200 of which was derived from service performed by him as a minister. If M wishes to have the Federal old-age and survivors insurance system established by title II of the Social Security Act extended to his service as a minister, he must file the waiver certificate on or before the due date (April 15, 1959) prescribed for filing his income tax return for 1958, or any extension thereof.

(2) The right of an individual to file a waiver certificate shall cease from his death. Thus, the surviving spouse, administrator, or executor of a decedent shall not be permitted to file a waiver certificate for such decedent.

(3) For the purpose of this paragraph, net earnings from self-employment shall be determined without regard to the fact that, without an election, the performance of services by a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church in the exercise of his ministry, or by a member of a religious order in the exercise of duties required by such order, or the performance of service by an individual in the exercise of his profession as a Christian Science practitioner, does not constitute a trade or business for purposes of the tax on self-employment income.

(d) Effective date of waiver certificate. (1) A certificate on Form 2031 filed in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be effective for the first taxable year with respect to which it is filed and all subsequent taxable years. A certificate must be made effective for either the first or second taxable year ending after 1954 in which the individual has net earnings from self-employment of $400 (determined as provided in paragraph (c) (3) of this section) from service of the character with respect to which an election may be made. However, a certificate on Form 2031 may not be effective, even though filed within the time specified in paragraph (c) (1) of this section, for any taxable year with respect to which the due date for filing the individual's income tax return (including any extension thereof) has expired at the time such certificate is filed. Further, a certificate on Form 2031 may not be effective for any taxable year ending before 1955. In order for an election to be effective for the first or second taxable year ending after 1954 in which the individual has net earnings from self-employment (determined as provided in paragraph (c) (3) of this section) from service of the character with respect to which an election may be made, the certificate on Form 2031 must be filed on or before the due date for filing the income tax return of the individual for such first or second taxable year, or of any extension thereof. Thus, if an individual makes his income tax returns on a calendar year basis and the due date of his return for the calendar year 1955 is April 15, 1956, a waiver certificate, to be effective for the calendar year 1955, must be filed on or before April 15, 1956. If such individual files a certificate after April 15, 1956, and before the due date of his income tax return for 1956, the first taxable year for which the certificate may be effective is the calendar year 1956.

(2) If an individual makes an election to become effective beginning with respect to any taxable year, such election shall be effective with respect to such taxable year unless the individual, on or before the due date for filing the income tax return for such taxable year (including any extension thereof), files, with the district director of internal revenue with whom the certificate on Form 2031 was filed, a written notice of his desire to withdraw the certificate. If the individual is deceased or unable to make a return, the written notice of withdrawal of the certificate on Form 2031 may be filed for or on behalf of the individual by the person designated in section 6012 (b) and the regulations thereunder. In the absence of a withdrawal of a certificate on or before the due date for filing the income tax return for the taxable year (including any extension thereof), the election shall be effective with respect to such taxable year and all subsequent taxable years provided all the provisions of this section are met.

(3) A certificate filed and intended to be effective for a particular taxable year which for any reason is ineffective for such taxable year shall become effective with respect to the next succeeding taxable year provided the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section are met with respect to such taxable year.

(4) An election which has become effective in accordance with the provisions of this section is irrevocable.

TITLE 33—NAVIGATION AND NAVIGABLE WATERS

Chapter II—Corps of Engineers, Department of the Army

PART 203—BRIDGE REGULATIONS

PART 207—NAVIGATION REGULATIONS

BOSTON HARBOR AND ADJACENT WATERS, MASSACHUSETTS; LUTAK INLET, ALASKA

1. Pursuant to the provisions of section 5 of the River and Harbor Act of August 18, 1894 (28 Stat. 362; 33 U. S. C. 499), § 203.75 governing the operation of drawbridges in Boston Harbor and adjacent waters, Massachusetts, is hereby amended revoking paragraph (i) (2), governing the operation of drawbridges across the portion of Fort Point Channel declared nonnavigable by act of Congress and prescribing temporary special regulations for certain bridges across Charles River, Fort Point Channels, and Reserved Channel and other minor changes, as follows:

NOTE: The temporary special regulations contained in paragraph (h) (2), and paragraphs (i) and (j), are on a trial basis and are subject to review and amendment at any time by the Department of the Army.

§ 203.75 Boston Harbor, Mass., and adjacent waters; bridges. (a) The regulations in this section shall govern the operation of all drawbridges across Boston Harbor, Massachusetts, including the following waters in and adjacent thereto:

(1) Chelsea River.
(2) Mystic River.
(3) Malden River (excluding the Massachusetts Department of Public Works highway bridge at Medford Street, Malden).
(4) Little Mystic Channel.
(5) Charles River.
(6) Fort Point Channel (excluding therefrom the portion of Fort Point Channel lying above the easterly side of the highway bridge at Dorchester Avenue).
(7) Reserved Channel.
(8) Neponset River.
(9) Weymouth Fore River.
(10) Weymouth Back River.

(b) The owners of or agencies controlling the bridges shall provide the necessary tenders and the proper mechanical appliances for the safe, prompt, and efficient opening of the draws for the passage of vessels and for assisting vessels while passing through the draws. They shall also provide and maintain in good order on the bridge piers or fenders such fixtures as may be necessary to vessels in mooring or making fast while waiting for the draws to open.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (g) to (j), inclusive, of this section, the draw of each bridge shall, upon oral request or upon receiving the prescribed call signal, be opened promptly for the passage of any vessel or other watercraft not able to pass under the closed bridge: Provided, That the draw shall not be opened when a train or vehicle is approaching so closely that it cannot safely be stopped before reaching the draw: Provided further, That when any draw shall have been open for 10 minutes or longer it may be closed to permit any waiting trains, vehicles, or persons to cross, and after being so closed for 10 minutes or for such shorter time as may be necessary it shall again be opened promptly for the passage of vessels or other watercraft if there be any such desiring to pass.

NOTE: The length of time a draw has been open shall be computed from the time that the draw begins to move in opening, and the length of time that a draw has been closed shall be computed from the time that the draw ceases to move in closing.

(d) Signals—(1) Call signal for opening of draw. Two long blasts followed immediately by two short blasts, sounded within signaling distance of the bridge: Provided, That the call signal for the City of Boston bridge across Chelsea River connecting Meridian Street, East Boston, and Pearl Street, Chelsea, shall be two long blasts followed immediately by two short blasts and one long blast: Provided further, That the call signal for those bridges across Mystic River, Charles River, and Fort Point Channel referred to in paragraphs (g), (h), and (i) of this section, to be given by vessels entitled to passage during closed periods under the provisions of paragraphs (f) to (i), inclusive, of this section, shall be four long blasts.

(2) Acknowledging signals—(i) When draw can be opened immediately. Three long blasts.

(ii) When draw cannot be opened immediately. Two long blasts.

NOTE: As used in this section, the term "long blasts" means distinct blasts of a whistle or horn of approximately three seconds' duration, and the term "short blasts" means distinct blasts of a whistle or horn of approximately one second's duration.

(e) Trains and vehicles shall not be stopped on a bridge for the purpose of delaying its opening, nor shall watercraft be handled so as to hinder or delay the operation of the draw, but all passage over or through a bridge shall be prompt to prevent delay to either land or water traffic.

(f) The general regulations contained in paragraph (a) to (e), inclusive, of this section shall apply to all bridges except as modified by the special regulations contained in paragraphs (g) to (j), inclusive, of this section, prescribed where local conditions require to govern the operation of certain bridges. The special regulations shall not apply to vessels owned or controlled by the United States Government or to vessels employed by the City of Boston of other municipality for police and fire protection. All such United States and municipal vessels shall be passed without delay through the draws of all bridges at any hour day or night.

(g) Mystic River—(1) Bridges from mouth to and including Boston and Maine Railroad bridge between Somerville and Medford. The draws of these bridges shall not be required to be opened for the passage of vessels whose draft is less than 18 feet between 7:45 and 9:00 a. m., 9:10 and 10:00 a. m., and 5:00 and 6:00 p.m., except on Sundays and on legal holidays observed in the locality: Provided, That any vessel or other watercraft proceeding either upstream or downstream which has passed any of these bridges shall be afforded continuous passage through the succeeding bridges.

(2) Metropolitan District Commission highway bridge opposite Harvard Street, Medford. (i) The owner of or agency controlling this bridge will not be required to keep a draw tender in constant attendance.

(ii) Whenever a vessel unable to pass under the closed bridge desires to pass through the draw between 8:00 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. on all days other than Sundays and legal holidays observed in the locality, notice to that effect shall be given to the Superintendent of Bridges, Metropolitan District Commission, Charles River Dam, Boston, Massachusetts, at least one hour in advance of the time passage is desired. Whenever an opening is required between 4:30 p. m. and 8:00 a. m. on all days other than Sundays and legal holidays observed in the locality, notice to that effect shall be given to the Superintendent of Bridges not later than 4:00 p. m. Whenever an opening is required on a Sunday or a legal holiday observed in the locality, notice to that effect shall be given to the Superintendent of Bridges not later than 4:00 p. m. of the day preceding the Sunday or holiday on which the opening is required. In cases of emergency, the draw shall be opened promptly upon notification.

(iii) The owner of or agency controlling the bridge shall keep conspicuously posted on both the upstream and downstream sides of the bridge, in such manner that it can easily be read at any time, a copy of the special regulations in this paragraph pertaining to the bridge together with a notice stating how the Superintendent of Bridges may be reached.

(h) Charles River—(1) Bridges from mouth to and including Metropolitan District Commission Bridge at Charles River Dam, except Charlestown Bridges. The draws of all bridges except the Charlestown Bridge, from the mouth to and including the Metropolitan District Committee bridge between Boston and Cambridge (at Charles River Dam) shall not be required to be opened for the passage of vessels between 6:15 and 9:10 a. m. and 4:15 and 7:40 p. m., except on Sundays and on legal holidays observed in the locality: Provided, That when high tide at Charlestown Navy Yard occurs between 6:15 and 9:10 a. m., the draws shall be opened within 45 minutes before or after high tide for a period of 10 minutes for the passage of all vessels or other watercraft whose draft is 12 feeet or over if there be any such desiring to pass, the exact time of opening to be prescribed by the railroad companies, due regard being had for causing minimum interference with railroad schedules, highway traffic, and the interests of navigation, and the opening time of each bridge to be so fixed as to permit continuous passage through the next and following bridges located in direction of course of the vessels or other watercraft.

(2) Charlestown Bridge. The draw of the Charlestown Bridge shall not be required to open for the passage of vessels between 4:00 p. m. and 9:30 a. m., Monday to Saturday, inclusive, except on 10 hours' advance notice. Between March 31 and November 1 the draw shall not be required to open for the passage of vessels before 9:30 a. m. and after 4:00 p. m. on Sundays, except on 10 hours' advance notice. Between November 1 and March 31 the draw shall not be required to open for the passage of vessels at any time on Sundays, except on 10 hours' advance notice.

(i) Fort Point Channel—(1) City of Boston highway bridges at Northern Avenue, Congress Street, and Summer Street. The draws of these bridges shall not be required to be opened for the passage of vessels whose draft is less than 18 feet between 7:00 and 9:00 a. m. and 4:30 and 6:30 p. m., except on Sundays and legal holidays observed in the locality: Provided, That any vessel or other watercraft preceding either upstream or downstream which has passed any of these bridges shall be afforded continuous passage through the succeeding bridges.

(2) Congress Street and Summer Strect Bridges. The draws of these bridges shall not be required to open for the passage of vessels between 4:00 p. m. and 9:30 a. m., Monday to Saturday, inclusive, except on 10 hours' advance notice. Between March 31 and November 1, the draws shall not be required to open for the passage of vessels before 9:30 a. m. and after 4:00 p. m. on Sundays, except on 10 hours' advance notice. Between November 1 and March 31, the draws shall not be required to open for the passage of vessels at any time on Sundays, except on 10 hours' advance notice.

(j) Reserved Channel. The draw of the Summer (L) Street Bridge shall not be required to be opened for the passage of vessels between 4:00 p. m. and 9:30 a. m., Monday to Saturday, inclusive, except on 10 hours' advance notice. Between March 31 and November 1, the draw shall not be required to open for the passage of vessels before 9:30 a. m. and after 4:00 p. m. on Sundays, except on 10 hours' advance notice. Between November 1 and March 31, the draw shall not be required to open for the passage of vessels at any time on Sundays, except on 10 hours' advance notice.

[Regs., July 23, 1956, 823.01 (Boston Harbor, Mass.)—ENGWO] (Sec. 5, 28 Stat. 362; 33 U. S. C. 499)

2. Pursuant to the provisions of section 7 of the River and Harbor Act of August 8, 1917 (40 Stat. 266; 33 U. S. C. 1), § 207.801 is hereby prescribed establishing and governing the use and navigation of a restricted area surrounding the Army POL dock in Lutak Inlet, Alaska, as follows:

§ 207.801 Lutak Inlet, Alaska; restricted area—(a) The area. (1) The waters of Lutak Inlet bounded as follows: Beginning at the water's edge 900 feet northwest of the centerline of the landward end of the POL dock; thence 800 feet, 51° true; thence 1,400 feet, 157° true, thence 450 feet, 211° true to the water's edge at a point approximately 720 feet from the most southwest corner of the seaward end of the POL dock; thence along the water's edge to the point of beginning.

(2) The area will be marked at points approximately 200 feet apart along the shore by white signs containing the word "Warning". The signs will not be lighted.

(b) The regulations. (1) No vessels or other craft shall enter or remain in the area when tankers are engaged in discharging oil at the POL dock.

(2) The regulations in this section shall be enforced by the District Engineer, Corps of Engineers, Anchorage, Alaska, and such agencies as he may designate.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

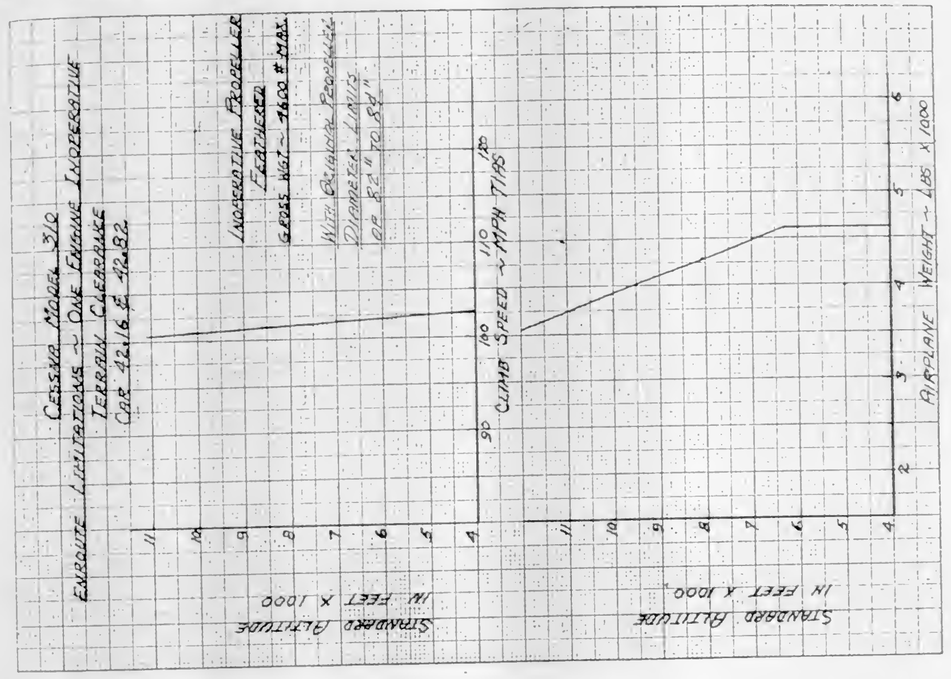
DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Commodity Stabilization Service

[7 CFR Part 718]

DETERMINATION OF ACREAGE AND PERFORMANCE

NOTICE OF REGULATIONS TO BE ISSUED



Pursuant to the authority contained in sections 374 and 375 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, section 401 of the Agricultural Act of 1949, section 403 of the Sugar Act of 1948, and section 124 of the Soil Bank Act, the Secretary of Agriculture is preparing to issue regulations governing the determination of acreage and compliance with the provisions of the programs carried out under the above-mentioned acts. The regulations will pertain to identification of farms, methods of measurement, measuring equipment and materials, farm inspection, acreage reports, determination and computation of acreages, notices of acreages to farm operators, remeasurements and redeterminations of acreages, adjustments of excess acreages, cost of measurements, and other related matters.

Prior to issuing said regulations consideration will be given to data, views and recommendations pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing to the Director, Performance and Aerial Photography Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. All written submissions must be postmarked not later than 10 days after the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER in order to be considered.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 8th day of August 1956.

[SEAL] WALTER C. BERGER,
Acting Administrator.

days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is proposed to amend the introductory paragraph of § 42.80–6 and establish, by tables and charts, the en route limitations for the Cessna Model 310 and DeHavilland Dove Series 1A, 2A, 5A, and 6A as follows:

§ 42.80–6 En route limitations on multiengine aircraft with maximum allowable takeoff weight below 12,500 pounds (CAA rules which apply to § 42.80). The following en route limitations data shall be used in determining compliance with § 42.80. These data are presented in tabular and graphic form by aircraft make and model. En route performance data on other aircraft weighing less than 12,500 pounds and operated under § 42.16 will be made available upon application to the Administrator.

OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGES

FLATHEAD INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, MONTANA

Pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act of June 11, 1946 (Public Law 404, 79th Cong., 60 Stat. 238) and authority contained in the acts of Congress approved August 1, 1914; May 18, 1916; and March 7, 1928 (38 Stat. 583, 25 U. S. C. 385; 39 Stat. 142; and 45 Stat. 210, 25 U. S. C. 387), and by virtue of authority delegated by the Secretary of the Interior to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs (Order No. 2508; 14 F. R. 258), and by virtue of authority delegated by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs to the Area Director (Bureau Order No. 551, Amendment No. 1; 16 F. R. 5454-7), notice is hereby given of the intention to modify §§ 130.24, 130.26, and 130.28 of Title 25, Code of Federal Regulations, dealing with irrigable lands of the Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, that are subject to the jurisdiction of the several irrigation districts, as follows:

Charges applicable to all irrigable lands of the Flathead Indian Irrigation Project that are included in the Irrigation District Organization and are subject to the jurisdiction of the three irrigation districts.

§ 130.24 Charges. Pursuant to a contract executed by the Flathead Irrigation District, Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, on May 12, 1928, as supplemented and amended by later contracts dated February 27, 1929; March 28, 1934; August 26, 1936, and April 5, 1950, there is hereby fixed for the season of 1957, an assessment of $213,800 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation system which serves that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Flathead Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 71,933.2 acres; does not include any land held in trust for Indians and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

§ 130.26 Charges. Pursuant to a contract executed by the Mission Irrigation District, Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, on March 7, 1931, approved by the Secretary of the Interior on April 21, 1931, as supplemented and amended by later contracts dated June 2, 1934, June 6, 1936, and May 16, 1951, there is hereby fixed, for the season of 1957, an assessment of $33,900 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation system which serves that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Mission Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 13,617.0 acres; does not include any land held in trust for Indians and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

§ 130.28 Charges. Pursuant to a contract executed by the Jocko Valley Irrigation District, Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, on November 13, 1934, approved by the Secretary of the Interior on February 26, 1935, as supplemented and amended by later contracts dated August 26, 1936, and April 18, 1950, there is hereby fixed, for the season of 1957, an assessment of $19,000 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation system which serves that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Jocko Valley Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 5,986.2 acres; does not include any lands held in trust for Indians and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

Interested persons are hereby given opportunity to participate in preparing the proposed amendments by submitting their views, data or arguments in writing to Area Director, Bureau of Indian Affairs, 804 North 29th Street, Billings, Montana, within 30 days from the date of publication of this notice of intention in the daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER.

RIGHTS-OF-WAY OTHER THAN FOR RAILROAD PURPOSES AND FOR LOGGING ROADS ON THE OREGON AND CALIFORNIA AND COOS BAY REVESTED LANDS

PROCEDURE WHEN RESERVED LAND IS INVOLVED; RIGHTS-OF-WAY OVER REVESTED AND RECONVEYED LANDS

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of the Interior by the act of August 28, 1937 (50 Stat. 874; 43 U. S. C. 1181a), and Revised Statutes 2478 (43 U. S. C. 1201), it is proposed to issue regulations governing the construction under R. S. 2477 of highways over the Revested and Reconveyed Lands in Oregon.

The proposed regulations are set forth below.

Interested persons may submit in triplicate written comments, suggestions, or objections with respect to the proposed regulations to the Bureau of Land Management, Washington 25, D. C., within 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

FRED G. AANDAHL,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

AUGUST 8, 1956.

Section 244.59 is amended to read as follows:

§ 244.59 Procedure when reserved land is involved; rights-of-way over Revested and Reconveyed Lands. (a) When a right-of-way is desired for the construction of a highway under R. S. 2477, over public land reserved for public uses, and such reserved land is under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior, and when a right-of-way is desired for the construction of a highway under R. S. 2477 over the Revested and Reconveyed Lands (see § 115.37 (d) of this chapter), an application should be made in accordance with § 244.3. Such application should be accompanied by a map, drawn on tracing linen, with two print copies thereof, showing the location of the proposed highway with relation to the smallest legal subdivisions of the lands affected.

(b) Where reserved lands are involved, no rights to establish or construct the highway will be acquired by reason of the filing of such application, unless and until the reservation shall have been revoked or modified so as to permit construction of the highway, subject to such terms and conditions, if any, as may be deemed reasonable and necessary for the adequate protection and utilization of the reserve.

(c) Where Revested and Reconveyed Lands are involved, no rights to establish or construct the highway will be acquired by reason of the filing of such application unless and until the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management shall grant permission to construct the highway, subject to such terms and conditions as he deems necessary for the adequate protection and utilization of the lands, and for the maintenance of the objectives of the act of August 28, 1937 (50 Stat. 874; 43 U. S. C. 1181a).

[Docket No. G–10512]

TRANSCONTINENTAL GAS PIPE LINE CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

AUGUST 8, 1956.

Take notice that Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation (Applicant), a Delaware corporation whose address is Houston, Texas, filed on June 1, 1956, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to sectiton 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing Applicant to sell and deliver gas to Kings County Lighting Company, New York and Richmond Gas Company, Elizabethtown Consolidated Gas Company, The Brooklyn Union Gas Company, and Atlanta Gas Light Company under its proposed WPS Rate Schedule (Winter Peaking Service) for the period of November 16, 1956, through April 15, 1957. All of the aforementioned companies are present customers of Applicant.

The volumes applicant is proposing to sell to each of the above named customers under its proposed WPS Rate Schedule are as follows:

Customer company	Mcf at 14.73 p. s. i. a.
	Maximum day	Winter volume
Kings County Lighting Co	1,022	77,169
New York & Richmond Gas Co	1,533	115,754
Elizabethtown Consolidated Gas Co	1,022	77,169
The Brooklyn Union Gas Co	1,022	77,169
Atlanta Gas Light Co	511	38,585
Total	5,110	385,846

Applicant proposes to purchase from Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation under Texas Eastern's WPS Rate Schedule equivalent quantities of natural gas as it is proposing to sell essentially on a cost-plus basis to the above companies.

No new facilities are proposed as deliveries will be made through existing connections. Applicant submits that its system is capable of delivering the additional WPS gas plus its existing obligations next winter without adverse effect on its customers.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations, and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on September 5, 1956, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before August 27, 1956. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

LYKES BROS. STEAMSHIP CO., INC., AND BLOOMFIELD STEAMSHIP CO.

NOTICE OF HEARING WITH RESPECT TO EXTENSION OF TRADE ROUTE

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held under section 605 (c) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, upon an application of Lykes Bros. Steamship Co., Inc., to extend its Trade Route No. 21—Line B–2 Service to include areas in the U. S. East Gulf (Port St. Joe—Gulfport Range, both inclusive) and an application of Bloomfield Steamship Company to include East Gulf ports, especially Mobile, in its Service on Trade Route 21.

The purpose of the hearing under section 605 (c) is to receive evidence relevant to the following: (1) Whether the applications with respect to operations from United States East Gulf ports to ports on the East Coast United Kingdom, Continental Europe and Baltic and Scandinavian ports are, with respect to a vessel or vessels to be operated on a service, route or line served by citizens of the United States, in addition to the existing service or services, and if so, whether the service already provided by vessels of United States registry in such service, route or line is inadequate, and in the accomplishment of the purpose and policy of the act, additional vessels should be operated thereon; (2) whether the applications covering the aforesaid operations are with respect to a vessel or vessels operated or to be operated in a service, route or line served by two or more citizens of the United States with vessels of United States registry, and if so, whether the effect would be to give undue advantage or be unduly prejudicial as between citizens of the United States; and (3) whether it is necessary to enter into a contract covering the aforesaid operations from United States East Gulf Coast to East Coast United Kingdom, Scandinavian and Baltic ports in order to provide adequate service by vessels of the United States registry.

The hearing will be before an Examiner at a time and place to be announced, in accordance with the Board's rules of practice and procedure, and a recommended decision will be issued.

All persons (including individuals, corporations, associations, firms, partnerships and public bodies) desiring to intervene in this proceeding are requested to notify the Secretary of the Board within fifteen (15) days from publication hereof, and should promptly file petitions for leave to intervene in accordance with said rules of practice and procedure.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

Dated: August 9, 1956.

[Docket No. S–67]

T. J. McCARTHY STEAMSHIP CO.

NOTICE OF HEARING WITH RESPECT TO APPLICATION FOR OPERATING-DIFFERENTIAL AGREEMENT

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held under sections 605 (c) and 805 (a) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, upon an application of T. J. McCarthy Steamship Company for an operating-differential subsidy agreement on the following described service:

During the Great Lakes navigation season, two sailings per month with dry-cargo vessels, until the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway and thereafter three to four sailings per month, between United States ports on the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River and the North Atlantic European ports of Antwerp, Rotterdam and Hamburg with the privilege of calling at Bremen and LeHavre (in addition, service is contemplated to the Port of London at a future date); and for written permission to engage in trade on the Great Lakes from Detroit to Cleveland, Ohio; Buffalo, New York; and Duluth, Minnesota, with owned unsubsidized vessels.

The purpose of the hearing under section 605 (c) is to receive evidence relevant to the following: (1) Whether the application with respect to operations from United States Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River ports is one with respect to a vessel or vessels to be operated on a service, route, or line served by citizens of the United States which would be in addition to the existing service or services, and, if so, whether the service already provided by vessels of United States registry in such service, route, or line is inadequate, and in the accomplishment of the purposes and policy of the Act, additional vessels should be operated thereon; (2) whether the application covering the aforesaid operations from United States Great Lake ports and St. Lawrence River ports is one with respect to a vessel operated or to be operated in a service, route, or line served by two or more citizens of the United States with vessels of United States registry, and if so, whether the effect of the subsidy would be to give undue advantage or be unduly prejudicial as between citizens of the United States, in competitive services, routes, or lines; and (3) whether it is necessary to enter into a contract covering the aforesaid operations from United States Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River ports in order to provide adequate service by vessels of the United States registry.

The purpose of the hearing under section 805 (a) is to receive evidence relevant to whether granting such application (a) will result in unfair competition to any person, firm, or corporation operating exclusively in the coastwise or intercoastal service, or (b) would be prejudicial to the objects and policy of the said act.

The hearing will be before an Examiner at a time and place to be announced, in accordance with the Board's rules of practice and procedure, and a recommended decision will be issued.

All persons (including individuals, corporations, associations, firms, partnerships and public bodies) desiring to intervene in this proceeding are requested to notify the Secretary of the Board within fifteen (15) days from publication hereof, and should promptly file petitions for leave to intervene in accordance with said rules of practice and procedure.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

Dated: August 9, 1956.

A. M. M. VAN DE LOOVEREN, N. V., AND ANTHONIUS M. M. VAN DE LOOVEREN

APPEALS BOARD DECISION

In the matter of: A. M. M. Van de Looveren, N. V. (formerly known as West Europe Associated Merchants, N. V.), and Anthonius M. M. Van de Looveren, Willemsparkweg 80, Amsterdam C, Netherlands; Appeals Board Docket No. FC–30, B. F. C. Case No. 202.

Following an oral hearing on the record before the Appeals Board the extensive record in this matter has been carefully examined and due weight has been given to the written statements of this appellant in support of his appeal.

Not finding justification for a modification of the Order Revoking Export Licenses and Denying Export Privileges, issued by the Director of Export Supply, Bureau of Foreign Commerce, dated December 12, 1955 (20 F. R. 9431), the Board finds that the order should be sustained.

Now, therefore; it is ordered, That:

1. The appeal be and hereby is denied.

FREDERIC W. OLMSTEAD,
Chairman,
Appeals Board.

TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

PROCLAMATION 3149

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, 1956

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the teaching and the practice of fire prevention are of invaluable assistance in saving lives and protecting property throughout the Nation; and

WHEREAS enormous losses can be avoided through effective fire-prevention measures; and

WHEREAS fire-prevention programs meet vital community needs and should be the concern of all our people:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate the week beginning October 7, 1956, as Fire Prevention Week.

I call upon our people to join in effective programs to promote safety in the control of fire; and I urge State and local governments, the American National Red Cross, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and business, labor, and farm organizations, as well as schools, civic groups, and public-information agencies, to share actively in observing Fire Prevention Week. I also direct the appropriate agencies of the Federal Government to assist in this national effort to reduce the loss of life and property resulting from fires.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this tenth day of August in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and [SEAL] fifty-six, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and eighty-first.

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

By the President:

JOHN FOSTER DULLES,
Secretary of State.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter VIII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Sugar), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter B—Sugar Requirements and Quotas

[Sugar Reg. 814.23, Amdt. 2]

PART 814—ALLOTMENT OF SUGAR QUOTAS

MAINLAND CANE SUGAR AREA, 1956

Basis and purpose. This amendment is issued under section 205 (a) of the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended (hereinafter called the "act"), for the purpose of further amending Sugar Regulation 814.23 (20 F. R. 9851; 21 F. R. 5343) which established allotments of the 1956 sugar quota for the Mainland Cane Sugar Area totaling 500,000 short tons, raw value. This amendment is necessary to allot the increase in quota for the area established by Sugar Regulation 811, Amendments 2, 3 and 4 (21 F. R. 4653, 5709, 6009).

Omission of recommended decision and effective date. On the basis of the finding contained in Sugar Regulation 814.23, Amendment 1 with respect to the necessity for an early effective date, and a showing in the record of the reopened hearing held in this proceeding that the same reasoning applies to this amendment (R. 126), it is hereby found that due and timely execution of the functions imposed upon the Secretary under the act imperatively and unavoidably requires omission of a recommended decision in this proceeding and that compliance with the 30-day effective date requirement of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237), is impracticable and contrary to the public interest and, consequently, this order shall be effective when published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. To the extent that findings and conclusions proposed by interested persons are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein, the specific or implied requests to make such findings and reach such conclusions are denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with the conclusions herein set forth.

Preliminary statement. Pursuant to the applicable rules of practice and procedure (7 CFR 801.1 et. seq.) allotment was made (21 F. R. 5343) of the quota for the Mainland Cane Sugar Area established in Sugar Regulation 811 for 1956 (20 F. R. 9848) amounting to 500,000 short tons, raw value. The 1956 quota for the area, in short tons, raw value, was increased to 560,019 in Sugar Regulation 811, Amendment 2, to 573,356 in Sugar Regulation 811, Amendment 3 and to 580,025 in Sugar Regulation 811, Amendment 4. Pursuant to the rules of practice and procedure, as amended (21 F. R. 4251), a notice was issued June 28, 1956 (21 F. R. 4967), reopening the hearing in this proceeding in Room 2W, Administration Building of the Department at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., on July 16, 1956, to permit presentation of evidence relating to the allotment of the increase in quota established by Sugar Regulation 811, Amendment 2, or any subsequent change arising from actions taken pursuant to sections 201 and 202 of the act, as amended. The reopened hearing was held at the place and time specified in the notice.

Basis for findings and conclusions. In the reopened hearing the Government witness proposed that the quota, as increased or subsequently changed, be allotted on the same basis as the 500,000 short tons, raw value, was allotted in Sugar Regulation 814.23, Amendment 1 (21 F. R. 5343; R. 124), without further notice or hearing (R. 126) and that paragraph (b) Restrictions on marketings in S. R. 814.23, Amendment 1, be amended so that the marketings of each allottee would be limited to 95 percent of his allotment during the first eleven months of 1956 in order to facilitate adjustments of allotments in case of a decrease in the quota during that period (R. 125).

The record reveals that the National Sugar Refining Company, on June 27, 1956, received title from Godchaux Sugars, Inc., to the sugar processing mill at Reserve, Louisiana (R. 132), and that on July 6, 1956, the name of Godchaux Sugars, Inc., was changed to Gulf States Land & Industries, Inc. (R. 133). To deal with such cases of succession of interest in allotments, which require review of facts not available in the record, the Government witness proposed that provision be made for dealing with any succession in interest in allotments without further notice or hearing (R. 126).

Findings and conclusions. In addition to the findings and conclusions made in S. R. 814.23, Amendment 1, and on the basis of the record of the hearing (including the reopened portion), I hereby further find and conclude that:

(1) Allotting any 1956 quota established for the Mainland Cane Sugar Area in the same manner as provided for the distribution of 500,000 short tons, raw value, in S. R. 814.23, Amendment 1, is fair, efficient and equitable and meets the requirements of section 205 (a) of the act.

(2) This order shall be revised without further notice or hearing to adjust allotments to take account of any change in the quota due to actions pursuant to sections 201 and 202 (a) of the act, on the same basis as the 500,000 short tons, raw value, was allotted in Sugar Regulation 814.23, Amendment 1.

(3) Marketings of each allottee during the first eleven months of 1956 shall be limited to 95 percent of the allotment established for such allottee.

(4) In order that appropriate and proper utilization of allotments may be made, it is necessary that the allotment order provide that the Director of the Sugar Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, may permit marketings to be made by one allotee, or other person, within the allotment or portion thereof established for another allottee, upon receipt of evidence satisfactory to him of a merger, consolidation, transfer of sugar processing facilities or other action of similar effect upon the allottees or persons involved, and upon relinquishment by one of the allottees of all or a portion of its allotment.

Order. Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by section 205 (a) of the act: It is hereby ordered, That § 814.23, as amended, be further amended to read as follows:

§ 814.23 Allotment of the 1956 sugar quota for the Mainland Cane Sugar Area—(a) Allotments. The 1956 sugar quota for the Mainland Cane Sugar Area of 580,025 short tons, raw value, is hereby allotted to the following processors in the quantities which appear opposite their respective names:

(b) Restrictions on marketings. Each person named in paragraph (a) of this section and any other person is hereby prohibited from marketing in interstate commerce, or in competition with sugar or liquid sugar shipped, transported or marketed in interstate or foreign commerce, any sugar or liquid sugar produced from sugarcane grown in the Mainland Cane Sugar Area in excess of his allotment established in paragraph (a) of this section during the calendar year 1956 or in excess of 95 percentum of such allotment during the first 11 months of such calendar year.

(c) Transfer of allotments. The Director of the Sugar Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, of the Department, may, consistent with the provisions of the act: (1) Permit marketings to be made by one allottee, or other person, within the allotment or portion thereof established for another allottee upon receipt of evidence satisfactory to him of a merger, consolidation, transfer of sugar-processing facilities, or other action of similar effect upon the allottees or persons involved, and upon relinquishment by one of the allottees of all or a portion of its allotment, and (2) permit, when approved in writing by him, the transfer of allotments made in paragraph (a) of this section, in whole or in part, to another allottee thereunder upon a showing that the transferee has processed or will process 1956-crop sugarcane because of inability of the transferor, arising subsequent to the processing of the 1955-crop, to process the tonnage of sugarcane which otherwise would be processed by him.

(d) Exchanges of sugar between allottees. When approved in writing by the Director of the Sugar Division, or the Chief of the Quota and Allotment Branch thereof, Commodity Stabilization Service of the Department, any allottee holding sugar or liquid sugar acquired by him within the allotment of another person established in paragraph (a) of this section; may ship, transport or market up to an equivalent quantity of sugar processed by him in excess of his allotment established in paragraph (a) of this section. The sugar or liquid sugar held under this paragraph shall be subject to all other provisions of this section as if it had been processed by the allottee who acquired it for the purpose authorized by this paragraph.

[Sugar Reg. 814.32, Amdt. 2]

PART 814—ALLOTMENT OF SUGAR QUOTAS

DOMESTIC BEET SUGAR AREA, 1956

Basis and purpose. This amendment is issued under section 205 (a) of the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended (hereinafter called the "act"), for the purpose of further amending Sugar Regulation 814.32 (20 F. R. 9853; 21 F. R. 2589), which established allotments of the 1956 sugar quota for the Domestic Beet Sugar Area totaling 1,800,000 short tons, raw value. This amendment is necessary to allot the increase in quota for the area established by Sugar Regulation 811, Amendments 2, 3, and 4 (21 F. R. 4653, 5709, 6009).

Omission of recommended decision and effective date. On the basis of the finding contained in Sugar Regulation 814.32, Amendment 1, and a showing in the record of the reopened hearing held in this proceeding that the same reasoning applies to this amendment (R. 43), it is hereby found that due and timely execution of the functions imposed upon the Secretary under the act imperatively and unavoidably requires omission of a recommended decision in this proceeding. It is hereby further found that compliance with the 30-day effective date requirement of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237), is impracticable and contrary to the public interest and, consequently, this order shall be effective when published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Preliminary statement. Pursuant to the applicable rules of practice and procedure (7 CFR 801.1 et seq.) allotment was made (21 F. R. 2589) of the quota for the Domestic Beet Sugar Area established in Sugar Regulation 811 for 1956 (20 F. R. 9848) amounting to 1,800,000 short tons, raw value. The 1956 quota for the area, in short tons, raw value, was increased to 1,863,731 in Sugar Regulation 811, Amendment 2, to 1,877,894 in Sugar Regulation 811, Amendment 3 and to 1,884,975 in Sugar Regulation 811, Amendment 4. Pursuant to the rules of practice and procedure, as amended (21 F. R. 4251), a notice was issued on June 28, 1956 (21 F. R. 4967) reopening the hearing in this proceeding in room 2W, Administration Building of the Department at 10:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., on July 16, 1956, to permit presentation of evidence relating to the allotment of the increase in quote established by Sugar Regulation 811, Amendment 2, or any subsequent change arising from actions taken pursuant to secs. 201 and 202 of the act, as amended. The reopened hearing was held at the place and time indicated in the notice.

Basis for findings and conclusions. The record of the hearing includes a schedule of allotments and method of distributing increases in quota unanimously recommended by all processors named in Sugar Regulation 814.32 (Ex. 6) for consideration by the Secretary. The data contained in Exhibit 8 indicate that the distribution of the quota proposed by the processors bears a relationship to processings from sugar beets to which proportionate shares pertained, past marketings and the ability of each processor to market the quantity allotted to him so as to reflect effective consideration to these factors as required by section 205 (a) of the act at any level of quota that may reasonably be anticipated in 1956.

In the reopened hearing the Government witness proposed that paragraph (d) of the order be amended so that the marketings of each allottee would be limited to 98 percent of his allotment during the first eleven month of 1956 in order to facilitate adjustment of allotments in case of a decrease in the quota during that period (R. 42). No exception was taken to this proposal either in testimony or briefs.

Findings and conclusions. In addition to the findings and conclusions made in Sugar Regulation 814.32, Amendment 1, and on the basis of the record of the hearing (including the reopened portion), I hereby further find and conclude that:

(1) The schedule of allotments unanimously recommended by all processors in the Domestic Beet Sugar Area constitutes the basis for a fair, efficient and equitable distribution of any quota in excess of 1,800,000 short tons, raw value, for that area and meets the requirements of section 205 (a) of the act.

(2) This order shall be revised, without further notice or hearing, to adjust allotments to take account of any change in the quota due to actions pursuant to sections 201 and 202 (a) of the act, on the basis unanimously recommended by all processors as set forth in Exhibit 6.

(3) Marketings of each allottee during the first eleven months of 1956 shall be limited to 98 percent of the allotments established for such allottee.

(4) The quota of 1,884,975 short tons, raw value, is equivalent to 35,233,178 one-hundred pound bags of refined beet sugar.

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter A—Marketing Orders

PART 922—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Notice is hereby given of the approval of the amendment, as hereinafter set forth, of the rules and regulations (7 CFR 922.100 et seq.; Subpart—Rules and Regulations) of the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, currently in effect pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 22, as amended (7 CFR Part 922; 21 F. R. 4392), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047).

It is hereby found and determined that the said amendment of the rules and regulations is in accordance with provisions of the said marketing agreement and order and will tend to effectuate the declared purposes of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and the said rules and regulations are amended as follows:

1. Amend § 922.110 Prorate bases and allotments by redesignating paragraphs (c) and (d) thereof as paragraphs (d) and (e), respectively, and inserting a new paragraph (c) reading as follows:

(c) Change in control of oranges occasioned by transfer of real property. In the event a change in control of oranges is occasioned by a bona fide transfer of the ownership of the real property on which such oranges were produced, the person gaining the control shall request the committee to make the adjustment prescribed in § 922.53 (e). Such request shall set forth the names of the parties to the transfer, and be accompanied by a legal description of the real property transferred, the name of the county, the book, page number and date showing that such transfer has been duly recorded. The request shall also set forth the name of the person losing control of the oranges. Upon determination by the committee that the change in control of the oranges has been occasioned by such transfer, the quantity of oranges available for current shipment of the person gaining such control shall be adjusted by adding thereto a quantity of oranges equal to the quantity deducted from the oranges available for current shipment of the person losing control of such oranges. Such quantity shall be added during the same periods in which the deductions are effected in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section.

2. Amend § 922.133 minimum quantities and types of shipments by adding thereto a new paragraph as follows:

(b) Any handler who desires to furnish at his own expense oranges controlled by him for exhibits or displays without regard to volume and size regulations then in effect shall make written application to the committee for exemption so to handle such oranges. Such application shall show: (1) The location and duration of the exhibit or display; (2) the estimated quantity of oranges to be so furnished for use in the exhibit or display; and (3) the disposition to be made of such oranges upon termination of the exhibit or display. The handler shall be notified in writing of the action taken by the committee on his application. Upon approval of the application, the handler may furnish such oranges at his own expense for the exhibit or display without regard to the then current volume and size regulations. This exemption shall not apply to sales of oranges made at a packinghouse.

It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date hereof until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that (1) shipment of the current crop of Valencia oranges is now in progress, and shipments of such oranges are currently regulated pursuant to §§ 922.51 through 922.64 of the aforesaid marketing agreement and order; (2) this document amending the rules and regulations prescribes a procedure necessary in the granting of exemptions from such regulation to handlers who wish to handle oranges for exhibit or display, and the opportunity for such exhibit or display is greatest at agricultural fairs and like places of exhibition at the present season of the year; (3) the document also establishes a procedure necessary to the making of adjustments affecting the volume of oranges which may be shipped by handlers; (4) such adjustment is required under § 922.53 (c) of the aforesaid marketing agreement and order, and to be of maximum benefit the said procedure should be established as soon as possible; (5) handlers have been notified of the proposed adoption and recommendation to the Secretary of the said amendments; and (6) the procedures established by such amendment of the rules and regulations will not require any preparation which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of August 1956, to be effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PART 922—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

LIMITATION OF HANDLING

Findings. 1. Pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 22, as amended (7 CFR Part 922; 21 F. R. 4392), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such Valencia oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

2. It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and this amendment relieves restriction on the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California.

Order, as amended. The provisions in paragraph (b) (1) (ii) of § 922.380 (Valencia Orange Regulation 80, 21 F. R. 5820) are hereby amended to read as follows:

(ii) District 2: 831,600 cartons.

[Lemon Reg. 653, Amdt. 2]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Findings. 1. Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 19 F. R. 7175; 20 F. R. 2913; 21 F. R. 4393), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

2. It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice and engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, is insufficient, and this amendment relieves restriction on the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona.

Order, as amended. The provisions in paragraph (b) (1) (ii) of § 953.760 (Lemon Regulation 653; 21 F. R. 5821) are hereby amended to read as follows:

(ii) District 2: 372,000 cartons.

Subchapter B—Prohibition of Imported Commodities

[Grapefruit Reg. 2]

PART 1068—GRAPEFRUIT

IMPORTATION INTO UNITED STATES

§ 1068.2 Grapefruit Regulation No. 2. (a) On and after the effective time of this section, the importation into the United States of any grapefruit is prohibited unless such grapefruit meets the following requirements:

(1) The grapefruit shall grade at least U. S. No. 2 Russet except that the requirements of this section as to the minimum juice content of the respective sizes of such grapefruit shall be as shown in the following Table I, and the requirements of this section as to the minimum ratio of the total soluble solids to the anhydrous citric acid of the juice of such grapefruit shall be as shown in the following Table II:

TABLE I

Size:	Minimum juice content
28	320 c. c.
36	280 c. c.
46	255 c. c.
54	225 c. c.
64	210 c. c.
70	185 c. c.
80	170 c. c.
96	150 c. c.
112	140 c. c.

TABLE II

Minimum total solids (percent):	Minimum ratio solids to acid
Under 8.0	7.00 to 1
8.0 to (not including) 9.0	6.50 to 1
9.0 to (not including) 9.1	6.45 to 1
9.1 to (not including) 9.2	6.40 to 1
9.2 to (not including) 9.3	6.35 to 1
9.3 to (not including) 9.4	6.30 to 1
9.4 to (not including) 9.5	6.25 to 1
9.5 to (not including) 9.6	6.20 to 1
9.6 to (not including) 9.7	6.15 to 1
9.7 to (not including) 9.8	6.10 to 1
9.8 to (not including) 9.9	6.05 to 1
9.9 and above	6.00 to 1

(2) All seeded grapefruit shall be of a size not smaller than a size that will pack 80 grapefruit, packed in accordance with the requirements of a standard pack, in a standard nailed box;

(3) All seedless grapefruit shall be of a size not smaller than a size that will pack 112 grapefruit, packed in accordance with the requirements of a standard pack, in a standard nailed box; and

(4) Each such importation is made in conformance with the general regulations (Part 1060 of this subchapter) applicable to the importation of listed commodities and the requirements of this section.

(b) Inspection by the Federal or Federal-State Inspection Service with appropriate evidence thereof in the form of an official inspection certificate, issued by the respective service, applicable to the particular shipment of grapefruit, is required on all imports of grapefruit pursuant to § 1060.3 of the aforesaid general regulations.

(c) Inspection certificates shall cover only the quantity of grapefruit that is being imported at a particular port of entry by a particular importer.

(d) The inspections performed, and certificates issued, by the Federal or Federal-State Inspection Service shall be in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Department governing the inspection and certification of fresh fruits, vegetables, and other products (Part 51 of this title). The cost of any inspection and certification shall be borne by the applicant therefor.

(e) Each inspection certificate issued with respect to any grapefruit to be imported into the United States shall set forth, among other things:

(1) The date and place of inspection;

(2) The name of the shipper, or applicant;

(3) The name of the importer (consignee);

(4) The commodity inspected;

(5) The quantity of the commodity covered by the certificate;

(6) The principal identifying marks on the container;

(7) The railroad car initials and number, the truck and the trailer license number, the name of the vessel, or other identification of the shipment; and

(8) The following statement, if the facts warrant: Meets U. S. import requirements under section 8e of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, any importation of grapefruit which, in the aggregate, does not exceed five standard nailed boxes may be imported without regard to the restrictions specified herein. The provisions of this paragraph do not supersede the restrictions or prohibitions imposed on the importation of this commodity under the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912 or any other applicable law or regulation.

(g) It is hereby found and determined that (1) imports of grapefruit are in most direct competition with grapefruit grown in the State of Florida, and (2) on the basis of information currently available, the requirements set forth in this section are comparable to those in effect for grapefruit grown in Florida (Grapefruit Regulation 246; § 933.798 of this chapter; 21 F. R. 3966), and it is not practicable for the restrictions in effect for the Florida-grown grapefruit to be made applicable to imported grapefruit because of variations in characteristics between the domestic and imported grapefruit.

(h) The terms "U. S. No. 2 Russet," "standard pack," and "standard nailed box" shall have the same meaning as when used in the Revised United States Standards for Florida Grapefruit, §§ 51.750 to 51.790 of this title (standard nailed box—inside dimensions 12 by 12 by 24 inches). All other terms shall have the same meaning as when used in the general regulations.

Termination of Grapefruit Regulation No. 1. Grapefruit Regulation No. 1 (§ 1068.1) is hereby terminated at the effective time hereof.

It is hereby found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective time of this regulation beyond that hereinafter specified (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that the requirements of this import regulation are imposed pursuant to section 8e of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), which makes such regulations mandatory; imports of grapefruit are currently regulated under Grapefruit Regulation No. 1 (§ 1068.1); and this regulation relieves restrictions on such imports.

AUTHORITY: §§ 104.1 to 104.12 issued under R. S. 161, sec. 205, 67 Stat. 234; 5 U. S. C. 22, 15 U. S. C. 634.

§ 104.1 Rules of procedure. The Small Business Administrator (hereinafter referred to as "Administrator") may, in accordance with § 102.3 (d) of this chapter suspend or revoke the right of any agent (hereinafter called "Respondent") to appear before the Small Business Administration of the United States (hereinafter called "Administration"). Proceedings for such purpose shall be governed by the rules in this part.

§ 104.2 Service—(a) Service of Notice. Notice of suspension or revocation of the right of Respondent to appear before the Administration, signed by the Administrator, shall be served upon the Respondent in the following manner:

(1) By delivering it to the Respondent personally, or

(2) By registered mail, return receipt requested; Provided, That, if an agent shall have signed and filed with the Administrator his written consent to be served in some other manner it shall be sufficient if service is made in that manner. Where the service is by registered mail, the return receipt duly signed shall be satisfactory evidence of the date of service.

(b) Service of papers other than Notice. Papers other than the Notice shall be served on the Respondent as follows:

(1) By delivering them to the Respondent personally; or

(2) By leaving them at his office with his clerk or with a person in charge thereof; or

(3) By depositing them in a United States post office or post office box, enclosed in a sealed envelope, plainly addressed to such Respondent at the address under which he is enrolled or at the last address known to the Administration.

(4) When the Respondent is represented by attorney, by service upon the attorney in the same manner as provided in subparagraphs (1), (2) and (3) of this paragraph for service on the Respondent.

(c) Service of papers upon the Administrator. Papers shall be served upon the Administrator as follows:

(1) By delivering them to the General Counsel of the Administration, or

(2) By depositing them in a United States post office or post office box, enclosed in a sealed envelope, plainly addressed to the General Counsel of the Small Business Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 104.3 Notice. The Notice shall set forth, specifically and in detail, the charges upon which the Administrator bases the suspension or revocation of the right of Respondent to appear before the Administration. The Notice shall also specify the date upon which the suspension or revocation shall become effective. Said effective date shall be not earlier than 20 days from the date of service of the Notice on Respondent.

§ 104.4 Extension of time. The Administrator may, in his discretion and upon appropriate application and showing by the Respondent, extend the effective date of the suspension or revocation.

§ 104.5 Answer and request to be heard. At any time prior to the effective date of the suspension or revocation, the Respondent may file a written Answer with this Administration, or request an opportunity to be heard in answer to the charges, or both. The Answer of the Respondent must be considered by the Administrator. If the Respondent files a written Answer or requests such a Hearing, the effective date of the suspension or revocation shall be stayed until the Administrator decides the issues as hereinafter provided.

§ 104.6 Request for additional information. If Respondent desires additional information as to the charges, he may present a request in writing to the Administrator asking that the Notice be made more specific and setting forth in detail the additional information requested. If the requested information is relevant and material to the charges, the Administrator shall furnish the Respondent with such information.

§ 104.7 Hearing. The Hearing shall be informal. It shall be held before the Administrator or an employee of the Administration duly authorized by the Administrator to hear the matter and shall be upon the charges and Respondent's answer thereto. Respondent may, in addition to filing a written Answer, furnish affidavits or produce witnesses at the Hearing in support of his Answer. Subject to this part, the Administrator, or the employee duly authorized to hear the matter, may determine the time, place and manner in which Respondent shall be heard, the form in which evidence shall be received, and may adopt rules of procedure and modify same from time to time as the occasion requires for the orderly disposition of the charges. Written notice of the time and place of all Hearings shall be given the Respondent in the manner provided in this part for the service of papers. No Hearing shall be held without reasonable notice thereof to the Respondent. The Administrator or the duly authorized employee may postpone or adjourn Hearings when necessary or desirable, on notice to the parties.

§ 104.8 Decision. The Administrator shall make the decision in the matter based on the entire record in the case. The decision shall be in writing and served upon the Respondent. If the Administrator determines that suspension or revocation is warranted, the decision shall set forth the reasons for the action taken and its effective date. If the Hearing is held before a duly authorized employee of the Administration, the decision of the Administrator will be based on the entire record in the case, including any findings and conclusions recommended to the Administrator by the Administration employee hearing the matter.

§ 104.9 Effect of decision. The decision of the Administrator shall, without further proceedings, become the final decision of the Agency.

§ 104.10 Reopening. Any agent who has been suspended or whose right to appear has been revoked may make written Application in duplicate to the Administrator to have the order of suspension or revocation vacated or modified upon the grounds of newly discovered information, or that important information is now available which the applicant was unable to produce at the original Hearing. Such Application must set forth specifically the precise character of the information relied upon in its support, and shall state the reasons why the applicant was unable to produce such information when the original charges were heard. The Administrator, after due consideration of the Application, may in his sole discretion, grant or deny the Application, or fix a time and place for a further Hearing of the Application and give due notice thereof to applicant. In the event the Administrator shall issue an order vacating or modifying the prior order to suspend or revoke the right of an agent to appear before the Administration, notice thereof shall be given by the Administration to all those to whom notice of the original order to suspend or revoke the right to appear before the Administration was sent.

§ 104.11 Immaterial mistakes. The Administrator shall disregard an immaterial misnomer of a third person, an immaterial mistake in the description of any person, thing, or place or the ownership of any property, a failure to prove an immaterial allegation, or any other immaterial mistake.

§ 104.12 Intermediate proceedings. In proceedings pending at the time of publication of the rules in this part, if in the judgment of the Administrator the procedure followed prior to publication of this part has been in substantial compliance with applicable rules as set forth in this part, the Administration shall continue the proceedings in accordance with the rules in this part.

This part shall become effective as of the date of the filing in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated: August 7, 1956.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

Subchapter A—Civil Air Regulations

[Supp. 21]

PART 60—AIR TRAFFIC RULES

TRAFFIC PATTERNS FOR TETERBORO AIRPORT, NEW JERSEY

The purpose of this supplement is to prescribe traffic patterns for Teterboro

Airport, New Jersey. At the present time there is no adequate prescribed traffic pattern established by the Port of New York Authority for air traffic taking off or landing at the Teterboro Airport, New Jersey. The increase of traffic at such airport makes it necessary, in the interest of safety in air commerce, to prescribe a uniform traffic pattern which shall be adhered to by all aircraft landing and taking off at the airport. The Civil Aeronautics Administration, with the cooperation and approval of the representatives of the Port of New York Authority, has established a traffic pattern which provides a uniform and safe procedure for the landing and takeoff of aircraft at this airport.

The traffic patterns appearing hereinafter are adopted to become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER in order to promote safety. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and therefore is not required.

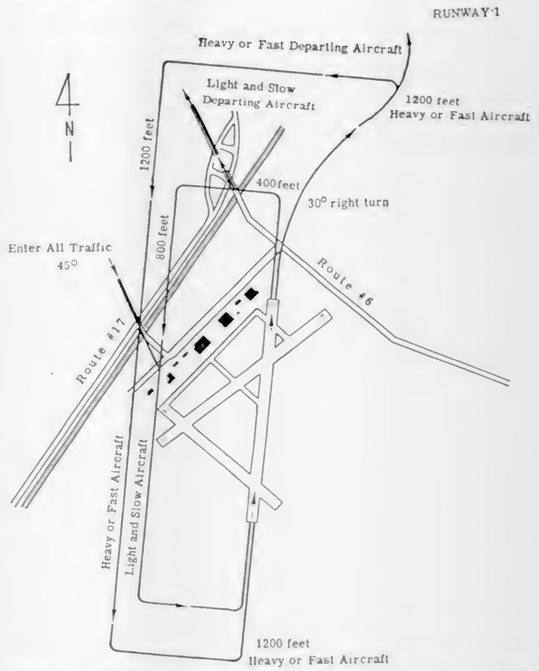
The following rules are hereby adopted:

§ 60.18-8 Traffic patterns for Teterboro Airport, New Jersey (CAA rules which apply to § 60.18 (d)). Operators of aircraft taking off from or landing at Teterboro Airport, New Jersey, under VFR shall adhere to the following traffic patterns and altitudes made a part thereof unless otherwise authorized or directed by Air Traffic Control. Heavy or fast aircraft, and light and slow aircraft, shall follow their respective patterns as indicated by diagrams in this section.[1]

(a) Definitions: (1) "Heavy" or "fast" aircraft. "Heavy" or "fast" aircraft shall mean those aircraft with a maximum certificated takeoff weight of more than 12,500 pounds or a stall speed of more than 60 miles per hour (52.1 knots).

(2) "Light" and "slow" aircraft. "Light" and "slow" aircraft shall mean those aircraft with a maximum certificated takeoff weight of 12,500 pounds or less and a stall speed of 60 miles per hour (52.1 knots) or less.

(b) General rules: (1) Flights over populated areas shall be at an altitude of 1,200 feet or above whenever practicable.

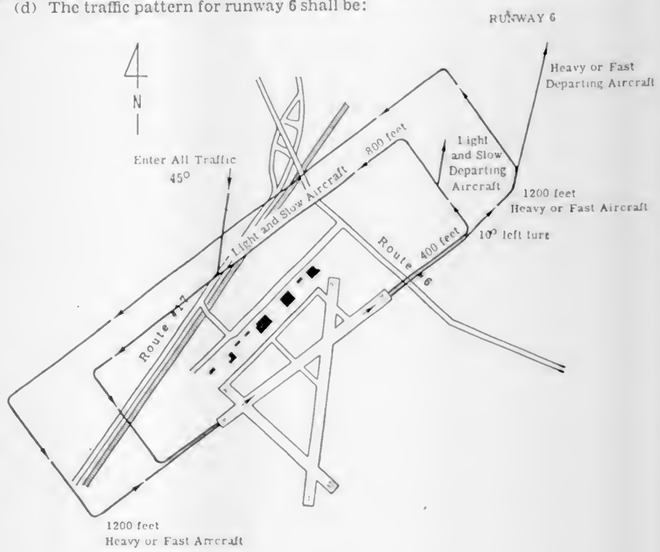


(2) Safe distances shall be maintained from all buildings, radio towers, and obstacles as well as from all other aircraft.

(3) The minimum traffic pattern altitudes shall be: (i) 800 feet for light and slow aircraft and, (ii) 1,200 feet for heavy or fast aircraft.

(4) Extreme caution shall be exercised in conforming to the flow of traffic as indicated by the diagrams set forth in paragraphs (c) through (h) of this section because of seaplane bases, obstacles, and high radio towers.

(c) The traffic pattern for runway 1 shall be:

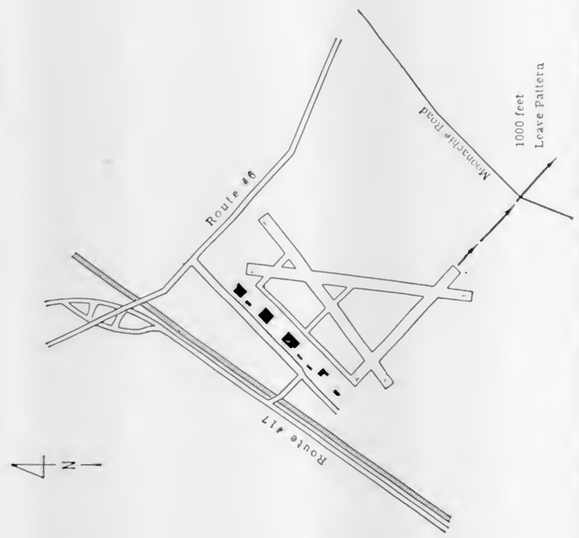


[1] Flight paths as shown on traffic pattern diagrams show flow of traffic only and have not been drawn to scale.

(1) Heavy or fast aircraft shall make a 30° turn to the right as soon as practicable after takeoff and follow the Hackensack River until an altitude of 1,200 feet is reached.

(2) Any aircraft authorized by the Teterboro tower to make a straight-in approach shall maintain an altitude of 1,200 feet as long as possible and consistent with good operational practices.

(d) The traffic pattern for runway 6 shall be:

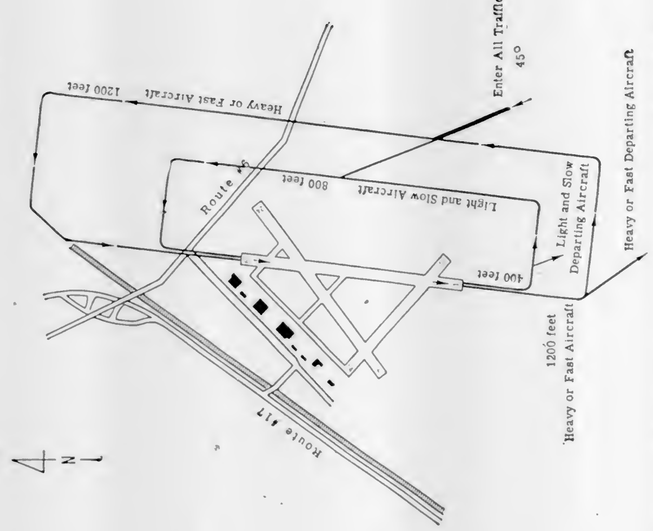


(1) Heavy or fast aircraft shall make a 10° turn to the left as soon as practicable after takeoff and follow the Hackensack River until an altitude of 1,200 feet is reached.

(2) Any aircraft authorized by the Teterboro tower to make a straight-in approach shall maintain an altitude of 1,200 feet as long as possible and consistent with good operational practices.

(3) Heavy or fast aircraft shall maintain an altitude of 1,200 feet until east of Route 17 on base leg.

(e) The traffic pattern for all aircraft using runway 14 shall be:

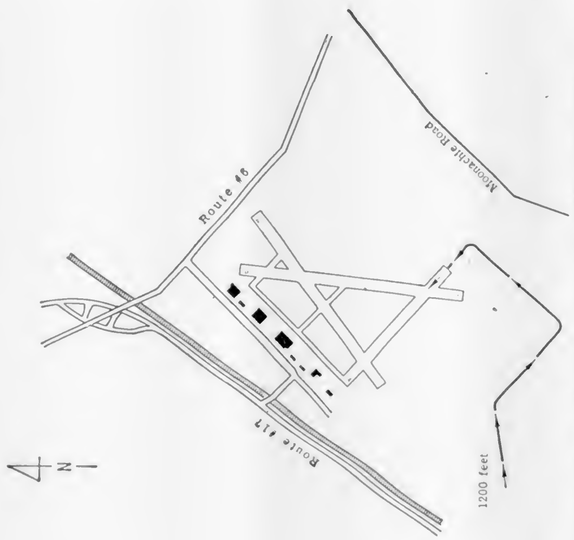


(1) All aircraft shall climb straight out until an altitude of 1,000 feet is reached before proceeding on course.

[1] The Airman's Guide may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., annual subscription $2.75, domestic; individual copy price varies.

(2) No landing authorized. Caution: Use of runway for night takeoff is restricted by airport operator (see Airman's Guide).[1] Extreme caution shall be exercised because of seaplane operations at 500 feet, east of Moonachie Road.

(f) The traffic pattern for runway 19 shall be:



(1) Heavy or fast aircraft shall climb straight out until an altitude of 1,200 feet is reached.

(2) Any aircraft, when authorized by the Teterboro tower to make a straight-in approach, shall maintain an altitude of 1,200 feet as long as possible and consistent with good operational practices.

(3) All aircraft shall avoid direct flight over hospital area 2 miles north of airport.

(h) The traffic pattern for all aircraft using runway 32 shall be:

(1) Aircraft on base leg shall remain west of Moonachie Road.
(2) Aircraft shall maintain an altitude of 1,200 feet until east of Route 17 on downwind leg of pattern.
(3) No takeoff authorized. Caution: Use of runway for night landing is restricted by airport operator (see Airman's Guide).[1] Extreme caution shall be exercised because of seaplane operations at 500 feet, east of Moonachie Road.

(g) The traffic pattern for runway 24 shall be:

(1) Heavy or fast aircraft shall make a 10° turn to the left as soon as practicable after takeoff and remain east of the ridge until an altitude of 1,200 feet is reached.
(2) Any aircraft, when authorized by the Teterboro tower to make a straight-in approach, shall maintain an altitude of 1,200 feet as long as possible and consistent with good operational practices.

EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Part 522 of Title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations provides general regulations governing the issuance of certificates under section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 1060, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 201 et seq.), authorizing the employment of learners at wages less than the $1.00 per hour required by section 6 of the act. Part 522 also provides supplemental regulations on this subject for several specified industries, but the industry producing small electrical products is not one of them. A number of applications for such certificates by establishments producing small electrical products has been received, and protests have been made concerning the action taken on several of these applications.

Accordingly, pursuant to authority under section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, and in accordance with subsections 4 (a) and 4 (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001) and the General Learner Regulations (29 CFR 522.12), notice is hereby given that interested persons will be given opportunity to submit oral and written data, views, and arguments before Harry Weiss, an authorized representative of the Administrator, in Room 5223, United States Department of Labor Building, Fourteenth and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., on September 11, 1956, on the question set out below, with a view to possible amendment of 29 CFR Part 522 to provide supplemental regulations for the small electrical products industry.

The question is the extent, if any, to which it is necessary, in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment, to provide for the employment of learners in plants manufacturing small electrical products, or parts or components thereof, at wages below $1.00 per hour, and what limitations as to time, number, proportion, and length of service should be prescribed incident to any such provision.

For the purpose of this notice the small electrical products industry is defined as the manufacture of such items as small switches, coils, relays, armatures, transformers, fuses, condensers, capacitors, radio speakers and antennas.

Written statements in lieu of personal appearance may be mailed to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division at any time prior to September 11, 1956.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 9th day of August 1956.

C. T. LUNDQUIST,
Acting Administrator.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[14 CFR Parts 4b, 10, 40, 41, 42]

[Draft Release No. 56-20]

SPECIAL REGULATIONS FOR TURBINE-POWERED TRANSPORT CATEGORY AIRPLANES OF CURRENT DESIGN

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the Civil Aeronautics Board has under consideration the adoption of a proposed Special Civil Air Regulation as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rules by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulation, Washington 25, D. C. In order to insure their consideration by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rules, communications must be received by October 15, 1956. Copies of such communications will be available after October 19, 1956, for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Department of Commerce Building, Washington, D. C.

Part 4b of the Civil Air Regulations contains rules governing the design of transport category airplanes. For a number of years, this part has established a level of airworthiness for this category of airplanes by prescribing detailed provisions to be met for the issuance of a type certificate. The part throughout the years has been subject to numerous revisions intended to keep it current with the state of the art for application to latest designs.

Until recently, the progress made by the manufacturing industry in improved designs of transport airplanes, although rapid, has not been so radical as to prevent Part 4b from being in step with respect to the newest designs being type certificated. The advent of turbine-powered airplanes (jets, turbo-props, etc.) has brought about considerably higher speeds and operating altitudes than was the case with reciprocating engine airplanes. These higher speeds and altitudes as well as certain inherent characteristics of turbine engines have introduced numerous new technical design problems and have necessitated a re-evaluation of many detailed provisions in Part 4b.

In recent years the Board has amended Part 4b by introducing numerous technical provisions more specifically applicable to turbine-powered airplanes. These were included in amendments 4b-2 and 4b-3 pertaining to structural, flight characteristics, powerplant installations, and other provisions. At the present time, consideration is being given to additional amendments to Part 4b in conjunction with the Board's 1956 Annual Airworthiness Review. It is believed that, when the Board resolves the various proposals now being considered, Part 4b will be quite complete in its applicability to turbine-powered airplanes, and that, from then on, further amendments to the part will be relatively minor in nature aimed mainly at reflecting the latest experience in the certification and operation of these airplanes.

As of this date, the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics has received at least 11 applications for type certification of turbine-powered airplanes, a considerable portion of which are from foreign manufacturers. The earliest of these applications was filed near the end of 1954. However, the so-called "non-retroactive" clause of § 4b.11 (a) does not make applicable to a particular airplane type any amendment which is adopted after an application is filed by the manufacturer for type certificate for that airplane. Thus, most of these airplanes are not now required to meet the presently effective provisions of Part 4b of the Civil Air Regulations unless the Board prescribes otherwise.

Unless appropriate changes are made in the regulations, the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics intends to apply, in the case of an individual applicant for type certificate, the provisions of Part 4b effective on the date of application for the type certificate and, in lieu of those provisions in Part 4b which are not specifically applicable to that particular type airplane, intends to prescribe, in accordance with § 4b.10, conditions of equivalent safety and such other conditions as he considers will assure that the airplane has no unsafe features. However, such an ad hoc application of equivalent safety provisions with respect to the various applications now pending is rather difficult under the circumstances because, in certain areas, the presently effective provisions in Part 4b, being detailed in their applicability to airplanes with reciprocating engines, do not clearly define a level of airworthiness appropriate for turbine-powered airplanes. This is particularly so in regard to the performance requirements.

With so many applications for type certificate on hand, it becomes essential for the Board to establish and to make effective to these applications a set of requirements more specifically and uniformly applicable. For this reason, the Board intends to promulgate at an early date a Special Civil Air Regulation to be effective with respect to all turbine-powered transport category airplanes. In essence, the Special Civil Air Regulation would prescribe a revised set of performance requirements and would make applicable also such of the provisions of amendments 4b-2 and 4b-3, and of any amendment to Part 4b stemming from the 1956 Annual Airworthiness Review, as the Administrator finds necessary to assure that the level of safety of turbine-powered airplanes is equivalent to that generally intended by Part 4b.

The Board has been advised that, pending adoption by the Board of more specific regulations such as now being proposed, the Administrator contemplates applying to airplanes now being type certificated a set of special conditions including the important provisions of amendments 4b–2 and 4b–3, and those which might stem from the 1956 Annual Airworthiness Review. For this reason, making effective these amendments in accordance with the proposed Special Civil Air Regulation would not, in fact, impose any undue hardship upon the applicants for type certificates and would contribute to a more uniform application of requirements to all airplane types.

In regard to performance requirements, pending formulation by the Board of specific regulations, the Administrator contemplates applying a set of conditions intended to reflect as closely as possible the level of performance implied in the presently effective performance rules. The present performance rules were promulgated over ten years ago to be applicable to airplanes then known. These rules have remained practically unchanged throughout the years and are considered by the Board to be in a form not conducive to direct application to turbine-powered airplanes. With this in mind, the Board has been studying a revised set of performance regulations in conjunction with the 1956 Annual Airworthiness Review and a proposal for amendment of Parts 4b, 40, 41, and 42 of the Civil Air Regulations was introduced in Appendix I to the proposed agenda issued on April 16, 1956, as Civil Air Regulation Draft Release No. 56–9. It was contemplated that Appendix I would be discussed at the Annual Airworthiness Meeting in September after which a formal proposal would be included in a notice of proposed rule making sometime in October of this year.

The Board now considers that it would definitely be advantageous to all concerned if a revised set of performance requirements were adopted in the form of a Special Civil Air Regulation to be applicable to turbine-powered transport airplanes currently being certificated rather than to revise the performance requirements now contained in Parts 4b, 40, 41, and 42. The adoption of such a Special Civil Air Regulation at this time would establish a detailed performance code considered by the Board to represent an appropriate level of performance for uniform use by the current applicants for type certificates. Thus, the applicants as well as prospective operators could make more precise analyses of the weight-carrying capabilities of the airplanes.

A point of considerable importance with respect to a revised set of performance regulations is the fact that the Special Civil Air Regulation would include not only the performance requirements necessary for the certification of an airplane, but also the complementary performance operating limitations. These two phases of any performance code are so interrelated that they cannot be treated separately. It should be noted that, whereas the Administrator has authority to establish equivalent certification conditions under § 4b.10, no similar authority exists for the formulation of equivalent operating conditions by the Administrator in Parts 40, 41, and 42. Without a revised set of regulations, the Administrator's equivalent safety conditions would have to be predicated to a great extent upon an assumption as to what performance operating limitations the Board might make applicable to turbine-powered airplanes in Parts 40, 41, and 42. Thus, the equivalent conditions for the Part 4b performance which the Administrator would apply, would not insure accurate evaluation of the weight-carrying capabilities of the airplanes.

In developing the proposed set of performance requirements contained in Appendix I of the Proposed Agenda for the 1956 Annual Airworthiness Review, the Board, in addition to its own studies, took advantage of recent work being conducted by the industry and the CAA in conjunction with the preparation by the latter of the "equivalent" conditions. After the publication of Appendix I, the Board received informal comments by various interested parties. As a result, the proposal contained herein consists essentially of material from Appendix I, modified to reflect the Board's latest thinking.

In the realization that the proposed revised performance regulations for turbine-powered airplanes require a thorough exchange of views between all interested parties, the Board, before adopting the revised regulations, is prepared to consider suggested changes in the proposal. In order to offer additional opportunity for exchange of views on the subject, the Board is placing the matter on the Agenda for the Annual Airworthiness Meeting which will commence on September 10, 1956. Discussions at the meeting, together with the written comments received on this notice of proposed rule making, will form the basis for the proposed Special Civil Air Regulation, the adoption of which the Board will consider shortly after the deadline date for comment on this notice of proposed rule making.

In view of the fact that the Board intends to take action on this proposal before any amendment stemming from the 1956 Annual Airworthiness Review is adopted, this Special Civil Air Regulation at that time will not contain any provision stemming from discussions at the 1956 Annual Airworthiness Meeting except those with respect to performance. When amendments are adopted in the normal course on the 1956 Annual Airworthiness Review, the Board will amend the Special Civil Air Regulation to include appropriate provisions.

The Board considers that the adoption of the proposed Special Civil Air Regulation will effectively complete the revisions of the airworthiness requirements to make them more specifically applicable to turbine-powered transport category airplanes. However, further changes probably will be necessary from time to time to reflect the latest experience in the design, certification, and operation of these airplanes. In particular, the performance requirements might be subject to change when results of their application to currently designed airplanes become known. It is the intention of the Board to make such changes in the Special Civil Air Regulation without delay. Only when the provisions of the proposed Special Civil Air Regulation are reasonably verified by practical application will the Board consider incorporating them on a more permanent basis into Parts 4b, 40, 41, and 42 of the Civil Air Regulations.

The Special Civil Air Regulation herein proposed is not intended to compromise the authority of the Administrator under § 4b.10 to impose such special conditions as he finds necessary in any particular case to assure equivalent safety and the absence of unsafe design features.

In view of the foregoing, notice is hereby given that the Board intends to adopt a Special Civil Air Regulation as follows:

Contrary provisions of the Civil Air Regulations notwithstanding, all turbine-powered transport category airplanes for which the original type certificate is issued after the effective date of this Special Civil Air Regulation shall comply with the following:

1. In addition to the provisions of Part 4b effective on the date of application for type certificate, such of the provisions of subsequent amendments of Part 4b up to and including an amendment which the Board may adopt as a result of the 1956 Annual Airworthiness Review, as the Administrator finds necessary to assure that the level of safety of turbine-powered airplanes is equivalent to that generally intended by Part 4b.

2. In lieu of §§ 4b.110 through 4b.125, and 4b.743, the following shall be applicable:

§ 4b.110a General. The performance of the airplane shall be determined in accordance with, and shall meet the minima prescribed herein. General conditions of paragraphs (a) through (c) of this section shall apply.

(a) The performance shall correspond with standard atmospheric conditions and still air, except in cases where temperature accountability or wind accountability are specifically prescribed and except for humidity accountability specified in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) The performance as affected by engine power (thrust), instead of being based on dry air, shall be based on a relative humidity of 80 percent at and below standard temperatures and on 34 percent at and above standard temperatures plus 50° F. Between these two temperatures the relative humidity shall vary linearly.

(c) The performance shall correspond with engine power (thrust) not exceeding the rated power (thrust) less the installation loss and less the power (thrust) absorbed by the accessories appropriate to the particular flight conditions. The rated power (thrust) shall be the power (thrust) within the approved limitations at the particular altitude.

§ 4b.111a Airplane configuration. (a) The airplane configuration (e. g. wing and cowl flaps, air brakes, landing gear, propeller setting, etc.), denoted respectively as the take-off, en route, approach, and landing configurations, shall be selected by the applicant.

(b) It shall be acceptable to make the airplane configurations variable with weight, altitude, and temperature, to an extent found by the Administrator to be compatible with operating practices.

§ 4b.112a Stalling speeds. (a) The speed, V_{s_0}, shall denote the calibrated stalling speed, or the minimum steady flight speed at which the airplane is controllable, in knots, with:

(1) Engines idling, throttles closed (or not more than sufficient power for zero thrust at a speed not greater than 110 percent of the stalling speed);

(2) Propeller pitch controls in the position normally used for take-off;

(3) Landing gear extended;

(4) Wing flaps in the landing position;

(5) Cowl flaps closed;

(6) Center of gravity in the most unfavorable position within the allowable landing range;

(7) The weight of the airplane equal to the weight in connection with which V_{s_0} is being used as a factor to determine a required performance.

(b) The speed, V_{s_1}, shall denote the calibrated stalling speed, or the minimum steady flight speed at which the airplane is controllable, in knots, with:

(1) Engines idling, throttles closed (or not more than sufficient power for zero thrust at a speed not greater than 110 percent of the stalling speed);

(2) Propeller pitch controls in the position normally used for take-off, the airplane in all other respects (flaps, landing gear, etc.) in the particular condition existing in the particular test in connection with which V_{s_1} is being used;

(3) The weight of the airplane equal to the weight in connection with which V_{s_1} is being used as a factor to determine a required performance.

(c) The stall speeds defined in this section shall be the minimum speeds obtained in flight tests conducted in accordance with the procedure of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) With the airplane trimmed for straight flight at a speed of 1.4 V_{s_1} and from a speed sufficiently above the stalling speed to assure steady conditions, the elevator control shall be applied at a rate such that the airplane speed reduction does not exceed one knot per second.

(2) During the test prescribed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the flight characteristics provisions of § 4b.160 shall be complied with.

§ 4b.113a Take-off; general. (a) The take-off data in §§ 4b.114a through 4b.117a shall be determined under the conditions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph.

(1) At all weights, altitudes, and temperatures within the operational range of the airplane established by the applicant.

(2) In the configuration for take-off (see § 4b.111a).

(b) Take-off data shall be based on a smooth, dry, hard-surfaced runway and shall be determined in such a manner that reproduction of the performance does not require exceptional skill or alertness on the part of the pilot. In the case of seaplanes or float planes the take-off surface shall be smooth water, while for skiplanes it shall be smooth dry snow. In addition, the take-off data shall be corrected in accordance with subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph for wind and for runway gradients within the operational range of the airplane established by the applicant.

(1) Not more than 50 percent of nominal wind components along the take-off path opposite to the direction of take-off, and not less than 150 percent of nominal wind components along the take-off path in the direction of take-off.

(2) Effective runway gradients.

§ 4b.114a Take-off speeds. (a) The critical-engine-failure speed V_1, in terms of calibrated air speed, shall be selected by the applicant, but shall not be less than the minimum speed at which controllability by aerodynamic means alone is demonstrated during the take-off run to be adequate to permit proceeding safely with the take-off using average piloting skill, when the critical engine is suddenly made inoperative. Such speed shall not be critically affected by wet or icy runways or by crosswind components of up to five knots.

(b) The minimum take-off safety speed V_2, in terms of calibrated air speed, shall be selected by the applicant so as to permit the rate [Alt. gradient][1] of climb required in § 4b.120a (a) and (b), but it shall not be less than:

(1) 1.2 V_{s_1} for two-engine propeller-driven airplanes and for airplanes without propellers which have no provisions for obtaining a significant reduction in stalling speed with power on (one engine inoperative).

(2) 1.5 V_{s_1} for propeller-driven airplanes having more than two engines and for airplanes without propellers which have provisions for obtaining a significant reduction in stalling speed with power on (one engine inoperative).

(3) 1.10 times the minimum control speed V_{MC} established under § 4b.133.

(c) If engine failure is assumed to occur at or after the attainment of V_2, the demonstration in which the take-off run is continued to include the take-off climb, as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, shall not be required.

§ 4b.115a Accelerate-stop distance. (a) The accelerate-stop distance shall be the sum of the following:

(1) The distance required to accelerate the airplane from a standing start to the speed V_1.

(2) Assuming the critical engine to fail at the speed V_1, the distance required to bring the airplane to a full stop from the point corresponding with the speed V_1.

(b) In addition to, or in lieu of, wheel brakes, the use of other braking means shall be acceptable in determining the accelerate-stop distance, provided that such braking means shall have been proven to be safe and reliable, that the manner of their employment is such that consistent results can be expected under normal conditions of operation, and that exceptional skill is not required to control the airplane.

(c) The landing gear shall remain extended throughout the accelerate-stop distance.

§ 4b.116a Take-off path. The take-off path shall be considered to extend from the standing start to a point in the take-off where the limit on the use of take-off and auxiliary power (thrust) is reached or where the transition from the take-off to the en route configuration is completed, whichever occurs later. The conditions of paragraphs (a) through (h) of this section shall apply in determining the take-off path.

(a) The airplane shall be accelerated on the ground to the speed V_2 during which time the critical engine shall be assumed to fail at the speed V_1 and shall be assumed to remain inoperative during the remainder of the take-off.

(b) During the take-off, changes in the airplane's configuration, in power (thrust), and in speed shall be in accordance with a procedure established by the applicant for the operation of the airplane in service. The procedure shall comply with the provisions of subparagraphs (1) through (3) of this paragraph.

(1) The Administrator shall find that the procedure can be consistently executed in service by crews of average skill.

(2) The procedure shall not involve methods or the use of devices which have not been proven to be safe and reliable.

(3) Allowance shall be made for such time delays in the execution of the procedure as may be reasonably expected to occur during service.

(c) The take-off path shall be determined by a continuous demonstrated take-off, or alternatively, by synthesizing the take-off path into segments. If a segmented flight path is used, its elements shall be clearly defined and shall be related to the distinct changes in the configuration of the airplane, in power (thrust), and in speed.

(d) The take-off path shall be determined on the basis of the take-off power (thrust) used for normal take-off operation. In addition, it shall be permissible to include standby power (thrust), in accordance with subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph.

(1) Standby power (thrust) available, but not to exceed 25 percent of the maximum take-off power (thrust) of any one engine, shall be included.

(2) The take-off distance (see § 4b.117a) determined with standby power (thrust) shall not be less than:

$$L_1 - 0.5(L_1 - L_A);$$

where:

L_1 = the take-off distance with one engine inoperative determined in accordance with the provisions of this section without the use of standby power (thrust);

L_A = the take-off distance determined with all engines operating without the use of standby power (thrust).

(e) The start of the take-off shall be at the weight for which the take-off path is being determined minus a weight of fuel approved by the Administrator representing the fuel normally used in service during the run-up of the engines and in taxiing prior to take-off. It shall be acceptable to determine the take-off path with the weight of the airplane progressively reduced by the consumption of fuel and other propellants.

[1] An alternative approach is being presented which would express climb in terms of gradients instead of rates of climb. Where applicable, the alternative wording is placed in brackets. It is intended that the regulations, if adopted, would be expressed only in terms of rates of climb or in gradients of climb, and not in both.

(f) The speed during the airborne portion of the take-off shall not be less than V_2.

(g) The slope of the airborne portion of the take-off path shall be positive at all points.

(h) The take-off path shall be so related to the weight of the airplane that the minimum climb provision of § 4b.120a (c) is met.

§ 4b.117a Take-off distance. The take-off distance shall be the horizontal distance along the take-off path from the start of the take-off to the point where the airplane attains a height of 35 feet above the take-off surface as determined in accordance with § 4b.116a.

§ 4b.118a Climb; general. Compliance shall be shown with the climb requirements of §§ 4b.119a through 4b.121a at all weights and altitudes within the operational range of the airplane established by the applicant.

§ 4b.119a All engines operating landing climb. In the landing configuration, the steady rate of climb in feet per minute shall not be less than $0.08\ V_{s_0}^2$ [Alt: gradient of climb shall not be less than 5 percent] with:

(a) The center of gravity in the most unfavorable position permitted for landing;

(b) All engines operating at the take-off power (thrust) available at the altitude;

(c) The weight equal to the maximum landing weight for the altitude;

(d) A climb speed not in excess of $1.4\ V_{s_0}$.

(e) The temperature equal to standard plus 25° F.

(f) The landing gear extended.

§ 4b.120a One - engine - inoperative climb—(a) Take-off; landing gear extended. In the take-off configuration at the point of the flight path where the airplane's speed first reaches V_2, in accordance with § 4b.116a but without ground effect, the steady rate of climb [Alt: gradient] shall be positive with:

(1) The center of gravity in the most unfavorable position permitted for take-off;

(2) The critical engine inoperative, the remaining engine(s) operating at the take-off power (thrust) and the standby power (thrust) available at the altitude and existing, in accordance with § 4b.116a, at the time the airplane's landing gear is fully retracted;

(3) The weight equal to the maximum take-off weight for the altitude;

(4) The speed equal to the speed V_2;

(5) The temperature equal to standard plus 25° F.

(b) Take-off; landing gear retracted. In the take-off configuration at the point of the flight path where the airplane's landing gear is fully retracted, in accordance with § 4b.116a but without ground effect, the steady rate of climb shall not be less than $0.036\ V_{s_1}^2$ [Alt: gradient of climb shall not be less than 3 percent] with all other conditions as prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section, except that the take-off power (thrust) and the standby power (thrust) shall be that power (thrust) on the operating engines which exists, in accordance with § 4b.116a, at the time the transition to the cruising configuration is completed.

(c) Final take-off. In the en route configuration the steady rate [Alt: gradient] of climb shall be determined at all temperatures within the operational range of the airplane established by the applicant, and shall not be less than $0.026\ V_{s_0}^2$ [Alt: 1.2 percent] at the end of the take-off path, as determined by § 4b.116a, with:

(1) The center of gravity in the most unfavorable position;

(2) The critical engine inoperative, the remaining engine(s) operating at the maximum continuous power (thrust) available at the altitude;

(3) The weights corresponding with those determined in accordance with § 4b.116a;

(4) [Alt: The speed equal to the best angle of climb speed.]

(d) En route—(1) Minimum climb. In the en route configuration the steady rate of climb in feet per minute [Alt: gradient] at an altitude of 5,000 feet and at the maximum take-off weight shall not be less than where N is the number of engines installed, with:

$$1.33\left(0.06-\frac{0.08}{N}\right)V_{s_0}^2;$$

$$\left[\text{Alt:}\left(3.6-\frac{4.8}{N}\right)\text{percent}\right];$$

(i) The center of gravity in the most unfavorable position;

(ii) The critical engine inoperative, the remaining engine(s) operating at the maximum continuous power (thrust) available at the altitude;

(iii) [Alt: The speed equal to the best angle of climb speed.]

(2) Flight path. The one-engine-inoperative net flight path data based on the conditions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall be determined in such a manner that they represent the airplane's actual climb performance diminished by the minimum climb prescribed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. The data shall include variation of the airplane's weight along the flight path to permit taking into account the progressive consumption of fuel and oil by the operating engine(s).

(3) Unequal power engines. If an airplane is equipped with more than two engines with unequal powers (thrusts), the value of N in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall be equal to (n_1+rn_2) where n_1 equals the number of engines of higher power (thrust), n_2 equals the the number of engines of lower power (thrust), and r is the ratio of the lower to the higher maximum continuous power (thrust).

(e) Approach. In the approach configuration such that V_{s_1} does not exceed $1.10\ V_{s_0}$, the steady rate of climb in feet per minute shall not be less than $0.044\ V_{s_0}^2$ [Alt: gradient of climb shall not be less than 2.4 percent] with:

(1) The center of gravity in the most unfavorable position permitted for landing;

(2) The critical engine inoperative, the remaining engine(s) operating at the take-off power (thrust) available at the altitude;

(3) The weight equal to the maximum landing weight for the altitude;

(4) A climb speed not in excess of $1.5\ V_{s_1}$;

(5) The temperature equal to standard plus 25° F.

§ 4b.121a Two - engine - inoperative climb. For airplanes with four or more engines, the two-engine-inoperative net flight path data shall be determined in such a manner that they represent the airplane's actual climb performance diminished by a rate of climb in feet per minute equal to $0.0133\ V_{s_0}^2$ [Alt: gradient of climb equal to 0.6 percent]. The data shall include variations of the airplane's weight along the flight path to permit taking into account the progressive consumption of fuel and oil by the operating engines. The conditions of paragraphs (a) through (d) of this section shall apply.

(a) The airplane shall be in an en route configuration.

(b) The center of gravity shall be in the most unfavorable position.

(c) The two critical engines shall be inoperative, with the remaining engines operating at the maximum continuous power (thrust) available at the altitude.

(d) The speed shall be selected by the applicant.

§ 4b.122a Landing distance. The landing distance shall be the horizontal distance required to land and to come to a complete stop (to a speed of approximately 3 knots in the case of seaplanes or float planes) from a point at a height of 50 feet above the landing surface. Landing distances shall be determined at all weights, altitudes, and winds within the operational range of the airplane established by the applicant. The conditions of paragraphs (a) through (d) of this section shall apply.

(a) The airplane shall be in the landing configuration. During the landing, changes in the airplane's configuration, in power (thrust), and in speed shall be in accordance with a procedure established by the applicant for the operation of the airplane in service. The procedure shall comply with the provisions of subparagraphs (1) through (4) of this paragraph.

(1) The Administrator shall find that the procedure can be consistently executed in service by crews of average skill.

(2) The procedure shall not involve methods or the use of devices which have not been proven to be safe and reliable.

(3) Allowance shall be made for such time delays in the execution of the procedure as may be reasonably expected to occur in service.

(4) The landing shall be preceded by a steady gliding approach down to the 50 foot height with a calibrated air speed of not less than $1.3\ V_{s_0}$.

(b) Landing distances shall be based on a smooth, dry, hard-surfaced runway, and shall be determined in such a manner that reproduction does not require exceptional skill or alertness on the part of the pilot. In the case of seaplanes or float planes the landing surface shall be smooth water, while for skiplanes it shall be smooth dry snow. During the landing, the airplane shall not exhibit excessive vertical acceleration, no tendency to bounce, nose over, ground loop, porpoise, or water loop. In addition, the landing distances shall be corrected for not more than 50 percent of nominal wind components along the landing path opposite to the direction of landing and not less than 150 percent of nominal wind components along the landing path in the direction of landing.

(c) During landing, the operating pressures on the wheel braking system shall not be in excess of those approved by the manufacturer of the brakes, and the wheel brakes shall not be used in such a manner as to produce excessive wear of brakes and tires.

(d) If the Administrator finds that devices on the airplane other than wheel brakes have a noticeable effect on the landing distance and if such devices depend upon the operation of the engines, the landing distances shall be determined by assuming the critical engine to be inoperative (see also § 4b.122a (a) (2)).

§ 4b.123 Limitations and information—(a) Limitations. The performance limitations on the operation of the airplane shall be established in accordance with subparagraphs (1) through (4) of this paragraph. (See also § 4b.743a.)

(1) Take-off weights. The maximum take-off weights shall be established at which compliance is shown with the generally applicable provisions of this regulation and with § 4b.120a (a), (b), and (d) (1) for altitudes within the operational range of the airplane (see subparagraph (4) of this paragraph).

(2) Landing weights. The maximum landing weights shall be established at which compliance is shown with the generally applicable provisions of this regulation and with §§ 4b.119a and 4b.120a (e) for altitudes within the operational range of the airplane (see subparagraph (4) of this paragraph).

(3) Take-off distances. The minimum distances required for take-off shall be established at which compliance is shown with the generally applicable provisions of this regulation and with §§ 4b.115a and 4b.117a for weights, altitudes, temperatures, wind components, and runway gradients within the operational range of the airplane (see subparagraph (4) of this paragraph).

(4) Range of operational variables. The range of operational variables of the airplane shall be established by the applicant for all variable factors required in showing compliance with this regulation (e. g. weight, altitude, temperature, etc.). (See §§ 4b.113a (a) (1), (b), 4b.118a, 4b.120a (c), 4b.122a, and 4b.123a.)

(b) Performance information. The performance information on the operation of the airplane shall be presented in compliance with the generally applicable provisions of this regulation and with §§ 4b.116a, 4b.120a (d) (2), 4b.121a, and 4b.122a for weights, altitudes, temperatures, wind components, and runway gradients, as these may be applicable, within the operational range of the airplane (see subparagraph (a) (4) of this section). (See also § 4b.743a.)

AIRPLANE FLIGHT MANUAL

§ 4b.743a Performance limitations and information—(a) Limitations. The airplane's performance limitations shall be given in accordance with § 4b.123a (a).

(b) Information. The performance information prescribed in § 4b.123a (b) for the application of the operating rules of this regulation shall be given together with descriptions of the conditions, air speeds, etc. under which the data were determined.

(c) Procedures. Procedures shall be given for all stages of flight, including airplane configurations, power (thrust) settings, and indicated air speeds, to the extent such procedures are related to the limitations and information set forth in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(d) Miscellaneous. An explanation shall be given of any significant or unusual flight or ground handling characteristics.

3. In lieu of §§ 40.70 through 40.78, 41.28 through 41.36d, and 42.70 through 42.83, the following shall be applicable:

§ 40.80 Transport category airplane operating limitations. (a) In operating any passenger-carrying transport category airplane certificated in accordance with the performance requirements of this regulation the provisions of §§ 40.80 through 40.84 shall be complied with, unless deviations therefrom are specifically authorized by the Administrator on the ground that the special circumstances of a particular case make a literal observance of the requirements unnecessary for safety.

(b) The performance information in the Airplane Flight Manual shall be applied in determining compliance with the provisions of §§ 40.81 through 40.84. Where conditions differ from those for which specific tests were made, compliance shall be determined by approved interpolation or by computation of the effects of changes in the specific variables where such interpolations or computations will give results substantially equaling in accuracy the results of a direct test.

§ 40.81 Airplane's certificate limitations. (a) No airplane shall be taken off at a weight which exceeds the take-off weight specified in the Airplane Flight Manual for the elevation of the airport.

(b) No airplane shall be taken off at a weight such that, allowing for normal consumption of fuel and oil in flight to the airport of destination, the weight on arrival will exceed the landing weight specified in the Airplane Flight Manual for the elevation of the airport of destination.

(c) No airplane shall be taken off at a weight which exceeds the weight shown in the Airplane Flight Manual to correspond with a take-off runway to be used, taking into account the effective runway gradient and the ambient temperature and wind component existing at the time of take-off.

(d) No airplane shall be operated outside the range of operational variables specified in the Airplane Flight Manual.

§ 40.82 Take-off limitations. No airplane shall be taken off at a weight in excess of that shown in the Airplane Flight Manual to correspond with a take-off path which clears all obstacles either by at least 35 feet vertically or by at least 200 feet horizontally within the airport boundaries and by at least 300 feet horizontally after passing beyond such boundaries. In determining the allowable deviation of the flight path in order to avoid obstacles by at least the distances prescribed, it shall be assumed that the airplane is not banked before reaching a height of 35 feet as shown by the take-off path data in the Airplane Flight Manual, and that a maximum bank thereafter does not exceed 15 degrees. The take-off path considered shall be for the effective runway gradient and for the ambient temperature and wind component existing at the time of take-off.

§ 40.83 En route limitations—(a) One-engine-inoperative. No airplane shall be taken off at a weight in excess of that which, according to the one-engine-inoperative en route net flight path data shown in the Airplane Flight Manual, will permit the airplane to continue flight from the cruising altitude to an alternate airport where a landing can be made in accordance with the provisions of § 40.84 (b), the flight path clearing all terrain and obstructions along the route within 5 miles on either side of the intended track by at least 2,000 feet. In applying this limitation, the provisions of subparagraphs (1) through (7) of this paragraph shall be complied with.

(1) The engine shall be assumed to fail at the most critical point along the route.

(2) The airplane shall be assumed to pass over the critical obstruction following engine failure at a point no closer to the critical obstruction than the nearest approved radio navigational fix, except that the Administrator may authorize a procedure established on a different basis where adequate operational safeguards are found to exist.

(3) The flight path, as shown in the Airplane Flight Manual, shall have a positive slope at 1,000 feet above the airport used as the alternate.

(4) An approved method shall be used of accounting for winds and temperatures which would otherwise adversely affect the flight path.

(5) Fuel jettisoning shall be permitted if the Administrator finds that the air carrier has an adequate training program, proper instructions are given to the flight crew, and all other precautions are taken to insure a safe procedure.

(6) The alternate airport shall be specified in the dispatch release and shall meet the provisions of § 40.390.

(7) The consumption of fuel and oil after the engine becomes inoperative shall be that which is accounted for in the net flight path data shown in the Airplane Flight Manual.

(b) Two-engines-inoperative. No airplane shall be flown along an intended track except in compliance with either subparagraph (1) or subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(1) No place along the intended track shall be more than 90 minutes away from an airport at which a landing can be made in accordance with the provisions of § 40.84 (b), assuming all engines to be operating at cruising power.

(2) No airplane shall be taken off at a weight in excess of that which, according to the two engines inoperative en route net flight path data shown in the Airplane Flight Manual, will permit the airplane to continue flight from the point where two engines are assumed to fail simultaneously to an airport where a landing can be made in accordance with the provisions of § 40.84 (b), the flight path having a positive slope at all points of the route 1,000 feet above the ground or obstruction within 5 miles on either side of the intended track or at an altitude of 5,000 feet, whichever is higher. In applying this limitation, the provisions of subdivisions (i) through (iii) of this subparagraph shall be complied with.

(i) The two engines shall be assumed to fail at the most critical point along the route.

(ii) If fuel jettisoning is provided, the airplane's weight at the point where the two engines are assumed to fail shall be considered to be not less than that which would include sufficient fuel to proceed to the airport and to arrive there at an altitude of at least 1,000 feet directly over the landing area.

(iii) The consumption of fuel and oil after the engines become inoperative shall be that which is accounted for in the net flight path data shown in the Airplane Flight Manual.

§ 40.84 Landing limitations—(a) Airport of destination. No airplane shall be taken off at a weight in excess of that which, in accordance with the landing distances shown in the Airplane Flight Manual for the specific altitude and wind conditions, would permit the airplane to be brought to rest at the airport of intended destination within 60 percent of the effective length of the runway from a point 50 feet directly above the intersection of the obstruction clearance plane and the runway. The weight of the airplane shall be assumed to be reduced by the weight of the fuel and oil expected to be consumed in flight to the airport of intended destination. Compliance shall be shown with the conditions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph.

(1) It shall be assumed that the airplane is landed on the most favorable runway and direction in still air.

(2) It shall be assumed that the airplane is landed on the most suitable runway considering the probable wind velocity and direction and taking due account of the ground handling characteristics of the airplane and of other conditions (i. e. landing aids, terrain, etc.). If full compliance with the provisions of this subparagraph is not shown, the airplane may be taken off if an alternate airport is designated which permits compliance with paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Alternate airport. No airport shall be designated as an alternate airport in a dispatch release unless the airplane at the weight anticipated at the time of arrival at such airport can comply with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, except that the airplane shall be brought to rest within 70 percent of the effective length of runway.

These amendments are proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. The proposal may be changed in light of comments received in response to this notice of proposed rule making.

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY WITH RESPECT TO CERTAIN DUTIES AND FUNCTIONS

The following is the text of Order No. 55628, dated May 17, 1954 (19 F. R. 3065), delegating certain authority to the Solicitor for the Post Office Department, as amended by Order No. 56175, dated August 7, 1956:

Pursuant to the authority of section 1 (b) of Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1949 (63 Stat. 1066) and of Postmaster General Order No. 55507 dated January 13, 1954, there is hereby delegated to the Solicitor (including the Acting Solicitor) for the Post Office Department—

1. Authority to execute and exercise in his own name the powers, functions and duties conferred upon the Postmaster General by sections 255, 256, 257, 259, 259a and 732 of Title 39 United States Code.

2. Authority to modify, suspend or rescind any action heretofore taken (including any order issued) or which hereafter may be taken by the Solicitor pursuant to the powers, functions, authority and duties conferred upon the Postmaster General by the sections of Title 39 U. S. Code set forth in paragraph No. 1 above.

3. Authority to publish, revise or amend the Post Office Department Rules of Practice governing proceedings under the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. Code 1001–1011).

4. Authority to execute and exercise in his own name the powers, functions, and duties conferred upon the Postmaster General by Public Law 821, approved July 27, 1956 (70 Stat. 699).

Decisions of the Solicitor made under the authority of this order shall be the final agency decision except that the Solicitor may refer any proceeding to either the Postmaster General or the Deputy Postmaster General for final decision.

Paragraph "1" of Postmaster General's Order No. 55510 dated January 14, 1954 (19 F. R. 361) is hereby rescinded.

EMPLOYMENT WITHOUT COMPENSATION AND STATEMENT OF PERSONAL BUSINESS INTERESTS

Pursuant to section 101 (a) of Executive Order 10647 (section 710 (b) of the Defense Production Act of 1950 as amended) notice is hereby given of the appointment of Mr. Benjamin B. Mathis on August 1, 1956 in the Department of the Army. Mr. Mathis is serving as Chief of the Springfield Ordnance District, Springfield, Massachusetts.

Mr. Mathis is presently employed by A. J. Stonina, Inc., Chicopee, Massachusetts.

Mr. Mathis' statement of his personal business interests is set forth below.

Dated: August 8, 1956.

JOHN W. MARTYN,
Administrative Assistant.

Statement of Personal Business Interests

The following statement lists the names of concerns required by section 302 (b) of Executive Order 10647, dated November 28, 1955 (subsection 710 (b) (6) of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended).

1. The names of any corporation of which I am, or within 60 days preceding this appointment have been, an officer or director;

2. The names of any corporation in which I own, or within 60 days preceding this appointment have owned, any stocks, bonds, or other financial interests;

3. The names of any partnerships in which I am, or within 60 days preceding this appointment have been, a partner; and

4. The names of any other businesses in which I own, or within 60 days preceding this appointment have owned, any similar interest.

Answers to foregoing questions:

1. List or indicate none: A. J. Stonina, Inc., president and director.
2. List or indicate none: Holyoke Water Power, Black Sivals, Bryson, New England Gas & Electric, Package Machinery, Kennametal Inc., Four Corner Uranium, Hancock Bank, Bates Mfg., Diversified Stock Fund.
3. List or indicate none: None.
4. List or indicate none: None.

Dated: August 1, 1956.

AUGUST 9, 1956.

I concur. The records of the Bureau of Land Management will be noted accordingly.

The lands are located in Ada County, Idaho, near Grand View.

No application for the restored lands may be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract, or any other nonmineral public-land law unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon the consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

Subject to any valid existing rights and the requirements of applicable law, the restored lands are hereby opened to filing of applications, selections, and locations in accordance with the following:

a. Applications and selections under the nonmineral public-land laws may be presented to the Manager mentioned below, beginning on the date of this order. Such applications and selections will be considered as filed on the hour and respective dates shown for the various classes enumerated in the following paragraphs:

(1) Applications by persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing laws, or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation will be adjudicated on the facts presented in support of each claim or right. All applications presented by persons other than those referred to in this paragraph will be subject to the applications and claims mentioned in this paragraph.

(2) All valid applications under the Homestead, Desert Land, and Small Tract Laws by qualified veterans of World War II or of the Korean Conflict, and by others entitled to preference rights under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284 as amended), presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on September 13, 1956, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such preference right applications filed after that hour and before 10:00 a. m. on December 13, 1956, will be governed by the time of filing.

(3) All valid applications and selections under the nonmineral public-land laws, other than those coming under paragraphs (1) and (2) above, presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on December 13, 1956, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such applications and selections filed after that hour will be governed by the time of filing.

Persons claiming veterans preference rights must enclose with their applications proper evidence of military or naval service, preferably a complete photostatic copy of the certificate of honorable discharge. Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims must enclose properly corroborated statements in support of their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

b. The restored lands have been open to applications and offers under the mineral-leasing laws. They will be open to location under the United States mining laws beginning at 10:00 a. m. on December 13, 1956.

Inquiries concerning the lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Boise, Idaho.

EARL J. THOMAS,
Acting Director,
Bureau of Land Management.

AJAX FORWARDING CO. ET AL.

NOTICE TO SHOW CAUSE WHY FREIGHT FORWARDER REGISTRATIONS ISSUED TO CERTAIN REGISTRANTS SHOULD NOT BE CANCELLED

Notice is hereby given that at a session of the Federal Maritime Board held at its Office in Washington, D. C., the 8th day of August 1956, the Board entered the following order:

Whereas the following registrants were assigned freight forwarder registration numbers pursuant to General Order 72 (46 CFR Part 244):

Name	Registration No.	Date issued
Ajax Forwarding Co. (New York) (Nathan E. Goldman, d. b. a.)	1815	Dec. 21, 1951
Ideal World Forwarding Service (New York) (Frank J. Gross, d. b. a.)	1842	Mar. 18, 1955
Korber Freight Forwarders (New York) (Stanley E. Korber, d. b. a.)	1857	Apr. 7, 1955
Ocean International Ltd. (Chicago)	1901	July 26, 1955
Pan American Freight Brokers (Miami) (Enrique Cartaya, d. b. a.)	1893	July 11, 1955
Venezuelan Mercantile Enterprises (New Orleans) (A. J. Gallard, d. b. a.)	1828	Feb. 1, 1955

Whereas the Board has by registered letters requested these registrants to furnish certain information in connection with their forwarding activities, pursuant to § 244.3 of General Order 72; and

Whereas registered mail sent to Korber Freight Forwarders, Ocean International Ltd., Pan American Freight Brokers, and Venezuelan Mercantile Enterprises has been returned by the post office as undeliverable, and the Board is therefore unable to exercise regulatory authority over them because their present whereabouts is unknown; and

Whereas the other two registrants named above have failed to respond to registered letters in violation of General Order 72; now, therefore,

It is ordered, That the above-named registrants show cause, in writing or at a public hearing to be hereafter set if requested by registrant, within thirty (30) days from the date of publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER, why their registrations should not be cancelled for the reasons above stated; and

It is further ordered, That failure of any registrant named above to respond as ordered hereby will result in automatic cancellation of its freight forwarder registration without further action by the Board; and that notice of such cancellation shall be sent to the registrant by the Secretary; and

It is further ordered, That a copy of this order be sent by registered mail to each of the above-named registrants at its last known address; and

It is further ordered, That this order be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated: August 10, 1956.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[Notice 125]

MOTOR CARRIER APPLICATIONS

AUGUST 10, 1956.

Protests consisting of an original and two copies to the granting of an application must be filed with the Commission within 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER and a copy of such protest served on the applicant. Each protest must clearly state the name and street number, city and street address of each protestant on behalf of whom the protest is filed (49 CFR 1.240 and 1.241). Failure to seasonably file a protest will be construed as a waiver of opposition and participation in the proceeding unless an oral hearing is held. In addition to other requirements of Rule 40 of the general rules of practice of the Commission (49 CFR 1.40), protests shall include a request for a public hearing, if one is desired, and shall notify with particularity the facts, matters, and things relied upon, but shall not include issues or allegations phrased generally. Protests containing general allegations may be rejected. Requests for an oral hearing must be supported by an explanation as to why the evidence cannot be submitted in forms of affidavits. Any interested person not a protestant, desiring to receive notice of the time and place of any hearing, prehearing conference, taking of depositions, or other proceeding shall notify the Commission by letter or telegram within 30 days of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Except when circumstances require immediate action, an application for approval, under section 210a (b) of the act, of the temporary operations of Motor Carrier properties sought to be acquired in an application under section 5 (2) will not be disposed of sooner than 10 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. If a protest is received prior to action being taken, it will be considered.

Chapter VIII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Sugar), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter F—Determination of Normal Yields and Eligibility for Abandonment and Crop Deficiency Payments

[Sugar Determination 847.2, Supp. 2]

PART 847—PUERTO RICO

LOCAL PRODUCING AREA FOR 1954-55 CROP; MAYAGÜEZ

Pursuant to the provisions of the Determination of Normal Yields and Eligibility for Abandonment and Crop Deficiency Payments for the 1950-51 and Subsequent Crops (15 F. R. 6490), as amended (20 F. R. 5963), the Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Caribbean Area Office hereby determines that two wards of the municipality of Mayagüez shall constitute one local producing area for the 1954-55 crop year, as follows:

§ 847.4 Mayagüez, Puerto Rico. For the 1954-55 crop year, the wards of Sabalos and Guanajibo of the municipality of Mayagüez, Puerto Rico, shall constitute one local producing area.

STATEMENT OF BASES AND CONSIDERATIONS

The two wards specified herein are adjacent to one another, and are designated as one local producing area for determining eligibility of sugarcane farms located therein for acreage abandonment or crop deficiency payments with respect to the 1954-55 crop of sugarcane as provided in the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended. Flood conditions in these wards reduced the yields of sugar below 80 percent of the normal yields for the farms whose harvested sugarcane acreage for the 1954-55 crop was more than 10 percent of the total sugarcane acreage of such crop harvested from all farms in such wards.

servation Caribbean Area Office hereby determines that two wards of the municipality of Añasco and one ward of the municipality of San Sebastián shall constitute one local producing area for the 1954–55 crop year, as follows:

§ 847.5 Añasco and San Sebastián, Puerto Rico. For the 1954–55 crop year, the wards of Rio Arriba and Corcovada of the municipality of Añasco, and ward Altosano of the municipality of San Sebastián, Puerto Rico, shall constitute one local producing area.

STATEMENT OF BASES AND CONSIDERATIONS

The three wards specified herein are adjacent to one another, and are designated as one local producing area for determining eligibility of sugarcane farms located therein for acreage abandonment or crop deficiency payments with respect to the 1954–55 crop of sugarcane as provided in the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended. Flood conditions in these wards reduced the yields of sugar below 80 percent of the normal yields for the farms whose harvested sugarcane acreage for the 1954–55 crop was more than 10 percent of the total sugarcane acreage of such crop harvested from all farms in such wards.

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

PART 910—VEGETABLES GROWN IN CERTAIN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN COLORADO

APPROVAL OF EXPENSES AND RATE OF ASSESSMENT

Notice of rule making regarding proposed expenses and rate of assessment, to be made effective under Marketing Agreement No. 67, as amended, and Order No. 10, as amended (7 CFR Part 910; 19 F. R. 3019), regulating the handling of vegetables grown in certain designated counties in Colorado, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER July 19, 1956 (21 F. R. 5419). This regulatory program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, which proposals were adopted and submitted for approval by the San Luis Valley Vegetable Committee, established pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order, it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 910.210 Expenses and rate of assessment. (a) The reasonable expenses that are likely to be incurred by the San Luis Valley Vegetable Committee, established pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 67, as amended, and Order No. 10, as amended, to enable such committee to perform its functions pursuant to the provisions of the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, during the fiscal period ending May 31, 1957, will amount to $1,650.

(b) The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler, pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 67, as amended, and Order No. 10, as amended, shall be sixtenths of one cent ($0.006) per bushel of peas or crate of cauliflower, or respective equivalent quantities thereof, handled by him as the first handler thereof during said fiscal period.

(c) The terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in Marketing Agreement No. 67, as amended, and Order No. 10, as amended.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 13th day of August 1956, to become effective 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

CALIBRATION OF ALPHA RAY SOURCES; DESCRIPTIVE LIST

In accordance with the provisions of section 4 (a) and (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, it has been found that notice and hearing on these schedules of fees are unnecessary for the reason that such procedures, because of the nature of these rules, serve no useful purpose. These schedules are effective from the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

1. A new schedule, § 204.902 Calibration of alpha ray sources, is added under Radioactivity to read as follows:

Item	Description	Fee
204.902a...	Calibration of alpha emitting standard supplied by customer.	$15.00

2. In § 230.11 Descriptive list, the schedule in paragraph (p) Standards for rubber compounding, is amended by the addition of a new sample to read as follows:

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

PART 14—PUBLIC FIXED STATIONS AND STATIONS OF THE MARITIME SERVICES IN ALASKA

Because of the number of outstanding amendments to Part 14 since it was last published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (May 24, 1955, 20 F. R. 3607), Part 14 is recapitulated as of August 15, 1956, to read as set forth below.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] DEE W. PINCOCK,
Acting Secretary.

Sec.
14.1 Basis and purpose.

Subpart A—Definition of Terms

14.2 General definitions.
14.3 Geographic definitions.
14.4 Definitions in other parts applicable.

Subpart B—Applications

14.21 Authorization required for operation of a radio station.
14.22 Application precedent to authorization.
14.23 One application for fixed and coast station.
14.24 Affirmative showing of need for service.
14.25 Rules in other parts applicable.

Subpart C—Station Authorization

14.61 License period of fixed coast and ship stations.
14.62 One authorization for fixed and coast stations.
14.63 Dispatch points.
14.64 Discontinuance of operation of a station on land.
14.65 Rules in other parts applicable.

Subpart D—Station and Operating Requirements

14.101 Priority of distress and other signals.
14.102 Practices concerning transmission of public correspondence.
14.103 Hours of service of fixed stations.
14.104 Coast station facilities for 2182 kc.
14.105 Fixed and coast station operating arrangements.
14.106 Documents required for fixed stations.
14.107 Documents required for coast stations.
14.108 Documents required for ship stations.
14.109 Fixed and coast station records.
14.110 Ship station records.
14.111 Coast station communication.
14.112 Coast station working frequency required.
14.113 Suspension of coast station watch.
14.114 Use of developmental fixed stations.
14.115 Rules in other parts applicable.

Subpart E—Standard Technical Requirements

14.151 Authorized frequency tolerance.
14.152 Authorized classes of emission.
14.153 Authorized transmitter power.
14.154 Modulation limiter for fixed and coast stations.
14.155 Rules in other parts applicable.

Subpart F—Assignment and Use of Fixed Service Frequencies

14.201 Cooperative use of frequency assignments.
14.202 Protection of government services.
14.203 Alternate transmission on same radio-channel.
14.204 Frequencies assigned for use in all zones.
14.205 Frequencies assigned for use in particular zones.
14.206 Frequencies for communication with ACS.
14.207 Use of United States Government frequencies.
14.208 Extended interim use of conditional fixed service frequencies.
14.209 Temporary frequencies for treaty implementation.

Subpart G—Assignment and Use of Maritime Service Frequencies

14.251 Cooperative use of frequency assignments.
14.252 Protection of government services.
14.253 Alternate transmission on same radio-channel.
14.254 Frequencies to be used for distress signals.
14.255 Ship station frequencies for use in all zones for telegraphy only.
14.256 Coast station frequencies for use in all zones for telegraphy only.
14.257 Safety frequencies for ship and coast stations in all zones using telephony.
14.258 Frequencies for ship-to-ship communication in all zones by telephony.
14.259 Frequencies for ship-shore and ship-to-ship communication by telegraphy or telephony in all zones.
14.260 Frequencies for ship-shore public telephone service in all zones.
14.261 Frequencies above 156 Mc for business and operational purposes.
14.262 Use of marine utility stations.
14.263 Frequencies for temporary use in all zones.
14.264 Frequencies assigned for use in particular zones.
14.265 Rules in other parts applicable.
14.266 Extended interim use of conditional maritime service frequencies.
14.267 Temporary frequencies for treaty implementation.

AUTHORITY: §§ 14.1 to 14.267 issued under sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interpret or apply sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303.

§ 14.1 Basis and purpose. (a) The basis for the rules following in this part is the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and applicable treaties and agreements to which the United States is a party. The rules in this part are issued pursuant to the authority contained in the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which vests authority in the Federal Communications Commission to regulate radio transmissions, to issue licenses for radio stations, and to regulate common carriers of interstate and foreign communication.

(b) The purpose of the rules and regulations in this part is to prescribe the manner in which frequencies may be made available for radio-communication, including public correspondence, in the maritime mobile service for the Territory of Alaska and between fixed points on land within that Territory.

SUBPART A—DEFINITION OF TERMS

§ 14.2 General definitions—(a) Alaska Communication System or ACS. The telecommunication system within Alaska and between Alaska and other areas which is operated by the United States Army Signal Corps.

(b) Public correspondence. Any telecommunication which the offices and stations, by reason of their being at the disposal of the public, must accept for transmission.

(c) Fixed service. A service of radio-communication between specified fixed points.

(d) Fixed station. A station in the fixed service.

(e) Alaska-public fixed station. A fixed station in the Territory of Alaska, which is open to public correspondence and is licensed by the Commission for radio-communication between specified fixed points in Alaska exclusively.

(f) Developmental fixed station. A fixed station operated for the express purpose of developing equipment or a technique solely for use only in that portion of the non-government fixed service which has been specifically allocated the authorized frequency (or frequencies) of the developmental fixed station.

(g) Point of communication. This term, when applied to an Alaska-public fixed station, means a specified fixed station or specified geographic location with which such station is authorized to communicate.

(h) Harmful interference. Any radiation or any induction which endangers the functioning of a radionavigation service or of a safety service, or obstructs or repeatedly interrupts a radio service operating in accordance with applicable laws, treaties, and regulations.

NOTE: Any radio service, the operation of which is directly related, whether permanently or temporarily, to the safety of human life and the safeguarding of property, shall be considered as a safety service.

§ 14.3 Geographic definitions—(a) Alaska area. For the purpose of frequency assignments to radio services and stations governed by this part, the Alaska Area is defined as follows:

The area bounded by a line extending due west—from the end of the southernmost boundary line between Canada and the mainland of southeastern Alaska—to 131 degrees west longitude, thence due south to 54 degrees and 30 minutes north latitude, thence due west to 142 degrees west longitude, thence due south to 50 degrees north latitude, thence due west to 165 degrees west longitude, thence due south to 47 degrees north latitude, thence due west to the boundary line between Regions 2 and 3 (as this line is established by the Atlantic City Radio Regulations, 1947), thence generally northward along this boundary line to 80 degrees north latitude, thence due east to 135 degrees west longitude, thence due south to 70 degrees north latitude, thence due west to 140 degrees west longitude, thence generally southwest to the northern end of the boundary line between the mainland of northern Alaska and Canada, thence following the boundary line between Alaska and Canada to the southernmost point of this line in southeastern Alaska.

NOTE: Reference hereafter in this part to the "Alaska area" includes all of the "Zones" defined in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Alaska zones. For the same purpose expressed in paragraph (a) of this section, the Alaska area is subdivided into six zones, defined as follows:

Zone 1. That portion of the Alaska area east of 142 degrees west longitude and south of 61 degrees north latitude.

Zone 2. That portion of the Alaska area bounded on the east by a line south of 61 degrees north latitude which coincides with 142 degrees west longitude, and by a line north of 61 degrees north latitude which coincides with the boundary line between Alaska and Canada, and by a line coinciding with 61 degrees north latitude which joins those two lines; and bounded on the west by a line south of 62 degrees north latitude which coincides with 149 degrees west longitude, thence running due south to 60 degrees and 30 minutes north latitude, thence due west to 150 degrees west longitude, thence due south to the southern limit of the Alaska area, and bounded on the north by a line coinciding with 62 degrees north latitude.

Zone 3. That portion of the Alaska area bounded on the north by a line which coincides with 62 degrees north latitude and extends eastward from 155 degrees west longitude to 149 degrees west longitude, thence due south to 60 degrees and 30 minutes north latitude, thence due west to 150 degrees west longitude, thence due south to the southern limit of the Alaska area, thence westward to 155 degrees west longitude, thence due north to 62 degrees north latitude.

Zone 4. That portion of the Alaska area west of 155 degrees west longitude which is bounded on the north by a line coinciding with 62 degrees north latitude extending due west to 164 degrees west longitude, thence bounded on the west by a line coinciding with 164 degrees west longitude extending due south to 58 degrees north latitude, thence bounded on the north by a line coinciding with 58 degrees north latitude extending due west to the western boundary of the Alaska area.

Zone 5. That portion of the Alaska area west of 155 degrees west longitude which is not included in Zone 4.

Zone 6. That portion of the Alaska area east of 155 degrees west longitude and north of 62 degrees north latitude.

NOTE: See Figure 1 following Subpart G of this part.

§ 14.4 Definitions in other parts applicable. (a) The definitions set forth in the rules and regulations governing stations in the maritime services (Subpart A of Parts 7 and 8 of this chapter) shall apply to stations of these services in the Alaska area so far as they are consistent with this part.

(b) The definitions set forth in the following sections of Subpart A of Part 7 of this chapter shall apply to stations of the fixed service subject to this part: §§ 7.2 (a) to and including 7.2 (o), 7.2 (q), 7.7 (a) to and including 7.7 (h), 7.7 (j), 7.7 (m), 7.7 (n) and 7.8.

SUBPART B—APPLICATIONS

§ 14.21 Authorization required for operation of a radio station. (a) Radio stations in the Alaska area required by the Communications Act to be licensed shall not be operated in the fixed service, in the maritime mobile service, or in the maritime radio-location service (including the maritime navigation service) except under and in accordance with a valid station authorization therefor granted by the Commission. Further, the operation of such apparatus shall be in conformity with the provisions of statute, international treaty or agreement, and the rules of the Commission relative to the licensing of operators.

NOTE: The Commission has exempted certain low power radio devices from its general licensing requirements. The extent of this exemption and related matters are set forth in Part 15 of this chapter, Restricted Radiation Devices. Licensing procedures and exemptions applicable to radio apparatus used for medical purposes, industrial heating, and other miscellaneous purposes not involving radio-communication are set forth in part 18 of this chapter, Industrial, Scientific and Medical Service.

(b) No license shall be issued by the Commission for the operation of any station on land subject to this part for which a permit for construction is required unless such permit has first been granted by the Commission upon written application therefor: Provided, That when applications for related construction permit and station license are filed under and in accordance with the provisions of § 7.39 (a) (2) of this chapter, a construction permit and station license for a fixed or coast station subject to this part may be granted at the same time.

§ 14.22 Application precedent to authorization. (a) Except as otherwise provided in §§ 7.26 and 7.41 of this chapter in respect to stations on land (including Alaska-public fixed stations), and in §§ 8.26, 8.41, and 8.42 of this chapter in respect to radio stations on board ship, no authorization will be granted for use or operation of any radio station subject to this part, nor for any change in station control, services, or transmitting apparatus, unless formal written application therefor in proper form first is filed with the Commission. Except as otherwise permitted by § 14.23 or by applicable rules in Parts 7 and 8 of this chapter (including such rule sections applicable to Alaska-public fixed stations as are designated in § 14.24), a separate application shall be filed in respect to each station and service subject to this part. Except as otherwise provided in §§ 7.32, 7.36 and 7.41 of this chapter in respect to stations on land (including Alaska-public fixed stations), and in §§ 8.35, 8.41, and 8.42 of this chapter in respect to radio stations on board ship, an application in writing should be filed at least sixty days prior to the earliest date on which it is desired that the requested authorization (or change in authorization) be granted by the Commission in order that action thereon may be taken by that date. Each application shall be specific and complete with regard to the information requested in the application form or otherwise specifically requested by the Commission.

(b) All applications, except those for renewal of station license, for authority to establish or operate stations (other than ship stations) in the Alaska area subject to this part, including correspondence relating thereto, shall be filed in triplicate with the Commission's Engineer in Charge at Seattle, Washington. The provisions of this paragraph shall apply to each application for construction permit, license, or modification of construction permit or license.

(c) All applications for renewal of station license (when continued operation without change is desired) shall be filed direct with the Commission at its offices at Washington 25, D. C.

(d) All applications for authority to operate ship stations, including correspondence relating thereto, shall be filed direct with the Commission at its offices in Washington 25, D. C., or with respect to applications for interim ship station licenses made pursuant to § 8.35 of this chapter, at a Field Engineering Office of the Commission. Unless otherwise specified in a particular case or for a particular form, each application shall be filed in original only. The provisions of this paragraph shall apply to each application for license, modification of license, or renewal of license.

(e) When an application for construction permit for an Alaska-public fixed station or a public coast station is filed by a corporation, a copy of the applicant's articles of incorporation certified by the Secretary of the State or Territory of the place of incorporation, or certified otherwise by an appropriate public official, shall, unless previously filed with the Commission, be submitted with such application.

(f) With reference to the provisions of § 7.25 of this chapter, applications for station authorizations submitted from any location in Alaska may be signed by the attorney for the applicant in case of (1) physical disability of the applicant or (2) absence of the applicant from Alaska.

NOTE: Standard forms are prescribed in applicable rule sections of Parts 7 and 8 of this chapter for use in connection with the majority of applications submitted for Commission consideration under the provisions of this part. These forms may be obtained without cost from the Commission at Washington 25, D. C., or from any of its engineering field offices. With reference to the required signature of applications under oath or affirmation, postmasters in Alaska are authorized by Act of Congress (Public Law 294, 76th Congress, approved August 5, 1939) to administer oaths and affirmations.

§ 14.23 One application for fixed and coast station. (a) In addition to the provisions of § 7.40 (a) (3), (4) and (b) of this chapter, one application may be submitted by the same applicant to cover an Alaska-public fixed station and a public coast station at the same location in the Alaska area in the following categories:

(1) Application for construction permit;

(2) Application for license;

(3) Application for modification of construction permit or license when the desired modification will apply similarly to both classes of station;

(4) Application for renewal of license.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section shall apply on condition that the respective fixed and coast stations covered by each application are clearly identified therein and all of the required information in respect to each class of station is included therein.

§ 14.24 Affirmative showing of need for service. Only one Alaska-public fixed or public coast station will be authorized to serve any area whose point-to-point or ship-shore communication needs can be adequately served by a single radio-communication facility, either government (ACS) or non-government.

§ 14.25 Rules in other parts applicable. (a) The rules relating to applications set forth in the rules and regulations governing stations in the maritime services (Subparts B of Parts 7 and 8 of this chapter) shall apply to stations of these services in the Alaska area so far as they are consistent with this part.

(b) So far as they are consistent with this part, the following rule sections contained in Subpart B of Part 7 of this chapter shall apply to stations of the fixed service subject to this part: §§ 7.23, 7.25 to and including 7.37, 7.39 (a), 7.40 (a) (3), (4) and (b), 7.41 to and including 7.45, 7.47, and 7.48.

SUBPART C—STATION AUTHORIZATION

§ 14.61 License period of fixed, coast and ship stations. Unless otherwise specified in the license, the normal license period (including renewed licenses) for each Alaska-public fixed station, each coast station in Alaska, and each ship station operated primarily in the Alaska area, shall be four years from the effective date of grant.

NOTE: The license period of the other classes of stations in the maritime services is designated in Subpart C of Parts 7 and 8 of this chapter.

§ 14.62 One authorization for fixed and coast stations. (a) Unless otherwise determined by the Commission, one construction permit or one station license may be issued to authorize the construction, or use and operation, respectively, of an Alaska-public fixed station and a public coast station in the Alaska area when—

(1) The licensee or permittee of each class of station is the same;

(2) The location of each class of station is identical;

(3) The conditions which establish and maintain control of each class of station by the permittee or the station licensee are the same.

(b) Whenever a single station authorization is issued in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, distinction will be shown in each such document as may be necessary in respect to the details of authorization for each service and each class of station except as these may be otherwise established by applicable rules and regulations of the Commission. Unless the station authorization provides otherwise, the same radio transmitting apparatus may be used for both fixed service and maritime mobile service whenever it is capable, by reason of frequency tuning range, technical adjustment, power, frequency stability, emission, etc. of being so used.

§ 14.63 Dispatch points. Any dispatch point in connection with an Alaska-public fixed station or a coast station in the Alaska area may be installed and used without obtaining any authorization from the Commission: Provided, That information relative to the location of each regularly used dispatch point, which is not located at an authorized control point and is located more than 500 feet from the authorized radio transmitting apparatus, shall be submitted by the station licensee to the Commission for record purposes at the earliest practicable date after such dispatch point is established.

NOTE: The term "dispatch point" is defined in § 7.7 (n) of this chapter.

§ 14.64 Discontinuance of operation of a station on land. (a) When the operation of a station on land in the Alaska area subject to this part, or Part 7 of this chapter, is permanently discontinued, the licensee shall, as soon as practicable, notify the Commission's engineer in charge at Anchorage, Alaska.

(b) If the station license covers authorization only for the particular station whose operation has been permanently discontinued, the licensee shall, without undue delay, forward the station license to the Commission's engineer in charge at Seattle, Washington, for cancellation by the Commission at its Washington, D. C., office.

(c) If the station license also covers authorization for a different class of station at the same location whose operation is not being permanently discontinued, the licensee shall, without undue delay, file with the Commission's engineer in charge at Seattle, Washington, a formal application for appropriate modification of license.

(d) With respect to stations on land in the Alaska area, including Alaska-public fixed stations, the provisions of this section shall apply in lieu of § 7.76 of this chapter.
